CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS SEEK SALVAGE OF PROGRAM

REORGANIZATION PLAN IS SUBJECT

Civil Service "Oar" and "Kitchen Cabinet" Main Wants of Leaders

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Congressional leaders sought today to salvage from the adjournment rush a part of President Roosevelt's government reorganization program—specifically those provisions relating to civil service "oar" and a White House "kitchen cabinet."

Disclosure of secret testimony before the joint congressional committee on reorganization contributed to their efforts. Dr. Charles E. Merriam, President Roosevelt's special assistant, testified that he believed democracy should be "stream-lined" to counteract the trend toward autocracy.

Publication of the testimony disclosed sharp divergences over aspects of the program.

White Cabinet Sought
Speaker of the House William B. Ewald and other leaders said they were anxious that at least some of the plan's reorganizational machinery be adopted this session.

The need of modernizing the government, especially through changes in control over the $7,000,000,000 in annual expenditures was stressed by Merriam, University of Chicago professor, who warned that dictatorial trends grow when democratic forms of government become unwieldy.

The proposal for a civil service administrator to take the place of the present civil service commission drew sharp criticism from House Assistant Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin today, and there were indications that a separate bill for the purpose would be approved by the house reorganization committee.

Martin charged that the proposal was a "deadly stab" at the civil service merit system.

The bill would place the entire federal machine of 600,000 men and women under the personal patronage of the president and his jobmaster general, Martin said.

MOVIE DIRECTORS CLIMB TO FAME

Survey Reveals That Many Famous Film Men Started At Bottom of Ladder

By ALEXANDER KARN

HOLLYWOOD, July 28.—The business world is not the only place where the office boy through hard work becomes the company's executive, for Hollywood loves to point to the humble workers who have risen to become leading directors.

In the film colony an Horatio Alcott hero may be a set sweeper, script clerk or extra before a turn of luck gives him a chance to become a director at a large salary.

Frank Borzage once toured western mining camps as a soap boy for a road troupe. Later he played cowboy parts in pictures and then graduated to directing.

Director Lewis Milestone was an assistant film cutter in the days when his name was at the bottom of their cutting with a broom.

Was Stagehand

Dorothy Arzner, leading woman director, started as a studio telegrapher, progressed to film cutter, scenarist and director.

The saga of Jack Cummings starts with the proverbial office boy job. In 14 years he worked his way up through every department of the studios.

Sigey Franklin was a film cowboy in the rough-and-ready days when the U. S. cavalry arrived in the state of films to save the hero from scalping. He later became a camera assistant. From that job he was graduated to directing and recently handled one of the leading pictures of the year, "The Good Earth."

Quintus Machaty boasts of an unusual start: fifteen years ago he was zoo keeper for Universal studios. Later he became a property man, then an assistant to Tod Browning.

Two Finishers

Art schools have contributed two prominent directors to the industry. George B. Seitz and George Fitzmaurice were students but did not want to work in motion pictures as scenario writers.

Robert Leonard came to the movies as an actor and was starred in comedies for many years. He turned to directing in 1917.

Joe Surtman was a publicity man for six years before being made a writer-director at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio.

Others who came to Hollywood as actors and later turned to directing are John M. Stahl, W. S. Van Dyke, Richard Thorpe, William Thiele and Edward G. Blumant.

Clarence Brown was an automobile engineer at one time, while Sam Wood was a real estate promoter. Both convinced studio executives they should be hired as assistant directors.

PARIS IN MIDST OF CONVENTIONS

150 Groups Gather in French Capital During Summer; 150,000 Delegates

PARIS (U.P.)—Paris is the world's stellar convention city this summer, with more than 150 conventions scheduled to bring a total of more than 150,000 delegates to the French capital by October this summer. The conventions coincide with the International Exposition of Arts and Crafts which opened in May.

The congresses form a galaxy of all subjects and groups throughout the world, dealing with almost every interest and occupation of mankind. An alphabetical list prepared by the convention bureau lists a dozen or more congresses for each letter. The letter P for instance is devoted to the following subjects:

Other Subjects

Peace, philately, the position, pedagogy, psychiatry, philosophy and parliaments.

Other subjects range from suburban gardens to underground urbanism, from the technique of stained glass to practical meteorology, from homopathic medicine to the practical use of Esperanto.

Among the first conventions was that of the International Confederation of Intellectual Workers.

There are international congresses devoted to wine, oil, cotton, rubber, railways, peace and architecture. The official list such organizations are listed as the International Association of Deaf-Mutes and the Association for the Christianization of the World.

Work Two Years

For more than two years, the convention bureau of the exposition has been hard at work, issuing invitations, arranging dates, finding headquarters for meetings, arranging agendas and so on.

One big congress was not to be held in Paris, though many of its delegates visited the exposition. It was the International Rotary Convention, which assembled more than 10,000 delegates in June at Nice.

GRAIN MARKETS

CHICAGO, July 26 (UP)—Hedging sales brought out by rising pressure of the new crop movement were heavy on the board futures today, sagging sharply in the absence of buying power. Extreme weakness at Winnipeg and an easier close at Liverpool also were depressing.
 At the close wheat was 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents lower, new crop 2 to 4 cents lower, old crop 4 1/2 cents lower and oats were 2 1/2 cents lower.
 Corn prices contracted with wheat, with the current contract conspicuously off. Locals and commission houses were on the buying side. Good weather for the new crop continued. World shipments of wheat for the week were 6,000,000 bushels, including 4,018,000 bushels from the United States. The new crop continues to be France, where harvesting is well advanced, is estimated at between 256,000,000 and 265,000,000 bushels.

WPA OFFICIALS MEET AT BUTTE

Montana Group Faced With Possible Shortage of Funds For Work
 BUTTE, Mont., July 26 (UP)—Faced with a possible shortage of funds due to difficulty of meeting July quota of 7,800 workers, Montana group progress administrators held a field office meeting at state headquarters today at state headquarters here to discuss the limitations of the program.
 "There is a reduction of 250 workers set work, our employment figure through July 21 show that 8,300 persons are still on the WPA program," State Administrator Joseph E. Parker said. "Unless we can immediately reduce the number, the WPA faces a real financial problem, as our funds have been allocated on the basis of only 7,800 workers."
 In addition to the employment reduction program, Parker said, state officials will utilize the next two days blasting up on new regulations and procedures in an ironing out other problems created by necessary elimination of the WPA's field offices, in the interests of economy.

Marriage License 'Emergency' Ends

The marriage license "crisis" was ended in Twin Falls county today.
 Supply of license "licenses" was temporarily revived when a Boise printing house rushed a supply of licenses over the county recorder's office until arrival of a new book of the licenses. The blanks received to-day had the name of the county printed on them and lacked some of the usual printing which had been but were regulation otherwise.
 One couple Saturday entered wedlock after purchase of one of the improved blanks which enterprising attendants made by use of typewriters. The couple was Kath Hutchins and Marie Tate, and their "emergency" license was just as effective as the customary engraved document.

Secretary Pleads For Insane Ward

BOISE, Ida., July 26 (UP)—A plea for an insane ward at the Idaho penitentiary was voiced today by Secretary of State Ira F. Maloney, who is a member of the pardon board now in session.
 Maloney made his appeal after a prisoner, apparently out of his head, collapsed at the prison Saturday after his appeal was denied. Another inmate case appeared before the board a few days ago, the applicant at that time being released to his family for care.
 Both cases caused trouble in the prison, Maloney said, and should have been isolated from the rest of the inmates.

LOYALISTS FIGHT DESPERATELY TO REPEL FURIOUS ATTACK

20,000 ITALIANS JOIN MOORS FOR MADRID BATTLE

Most Important Operation of Year of Civil War Is Directed by Franco

By HENRY T. GORRELL
MADRID, July 26 (Special)—The pick of the loyalist army fought desperately on the front west of Madrid today to check the most furious attack the nationalists have made in more than a year of civil war.

Twenty thousand Italian troops were reported to have joined Moors, foreign legionnaires and nationalist Carlist and Fascist troops as the climax of the battle neared.

Gen. Francisco Franco, nationalist commander-in-chief, was at the front personally directing the attack. The battle had developed into the most important that the war has produced.

Loyalist Position Serious
The loyalist position was serious. It was conferred today that the fate of thousands of the best men in the republican army, including members of the famous international brigades, hangs on the success with which reinforcements held back the insurgents.

Losses on both sides were frightful. Nationalist troops advanced with astonishing determination in the face of point blank machine gun fire to storm loyalist entrenchments.

In the blistering sun of midsummer, thousands of wounded lay without food or water among the fast rotting bodies of the dead. It seemed almost unbelievable that exhaustion had not brought both attackers and defenders to a halt. Since dawn Saturday when the nationalists subjected Brunete to a six-hour bombardment that all but pounded the village into the ground, the nationalists and loyalists had been attacking and counter-attacking. The dirt-caked infantrymen fought despite hunger, thirst and exhaustion, like cornered animals beyond surviving. As they fell back new men took their places.

Nationalists Attack
As the copying job today the nationalists were attacking at the southern end or tip of a salient which the loyalists drove into their front. The west of Madrid, in their recent offensive.

The battle, so important that no one on either side cared to forecast when the fighting would end, proceeded in a small triangle of territory, its apex pointing southeastward. Brunete was the apex. Quilichano, the nationalist headquarters, formed one base corner. Villanueva de la Canada, 4 miles north of Brunete, formed the other.

NATIONALIST ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN NAVALCARRERO, Spain, July 26 (AP)—Nationalists have inflicted a serious defeat on loyalists in the Brunete sector and captured great stores of munitions, it was learned today.

Nationalists said they captured 83 machine guns, 2,000 rifles, hundreds of boxes of hand grenades and tons of material.

Eight nationalist bombing squadrons, under protection of 80 fighting planes, gave the nationalists mastery of the air west of Madrid, it was asserted, and nationalists estimated officially that they had brought down 100 loyalist planes during the present battle.

Included in the plane estimate were 10 loyalist planes, entire fleet—which flew to attack Salamanca yesterday.

Loyalists said that they shot down five nationalist planes yesterday and lost one.

ARMY BENTS 'BATTLEFIELDS'
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)—War is getting more and more expensive every day, according to army officials at the Presidio here. Even to keep menbers for the 55,000 men of the 4th army, it was necessary to rent "battlefields" on which the troops could operate.

FORGETS BROKEN LEG
DENVER (AP)—A broken leg is no handicap to John J. Bonn in driving a car. Police who chased Bonn's car at 70 miles an hour before stopping him, were surprised to discover that his left leg was in a cast. He operated the clutch by hand with a broomstick.

University Head Describes Heaven As "Merry Place"

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Get the corners of your mouth up and learn to "swing it" if you want to feel at home in heaven.

That's the advice of Dr. John B. Delaunay, dean of men at the University of Portland (Ore.), who yesterday pictured heaven as a merry, not a dull, place where angels dance to music not unlike swing jazz.

Father Delaunay, who is chairman of the Oregon state welfare commission, said in a sermon at the solemn high mass in St. Patrick's cathedral that "we may safely smile and laugh because our Lord and his saints merrily did laugh and smile."

Christ, he said, had a keen sense of humor and enjoyed "a good joke," even if it were on himself.

"It is a comfort," Father Delaunay said, "to study the secret of the cheerfulness and unquenchable joy of the merry servants of a joyful God."

"POCKET PARK" LAID OUT
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The second "pocket park" being built in the neighborhood of Minneapolis by MWA workers has been plotted and landscaping is to start soon. The park, bordering part of a new highway, is only one-sixteenth of an acre in area.

1913 MODEL HITS IS
CLEVELAND (AP)—W. M. Cassin drove here from Cadiz, O., in a 1913 automobile and averaged 45 miles an hour. Operated by Cassin's father as a funeral car, it was the first closed "horseless" in Cadiz.

The fumes given off by certain puffins in burning, have properties somewhat resembling those of chloroform.

FORGETS BROKEN LEG

"...and take my advice, don't let them sell you an ironer unless it works at both ends."

—and that means Ironrite

For what this lady meant was not to buy an ironer unless it had TWO OPEN ENDS. Open ends and working ends mean the same thing. On all other ironers except Ironrite, one end is dead, that is it is obstructed by the rollers that hold the revolving roll in position. Ironrite doubles its utility with BOTH ENDS OPEN. Garments may be fed in to the roll at either end... an indispensable feature in the ironing of shoulders, plaids, ruffles, collars, etc. Anything that can be ironed can be ironed easier, quicker, and more economically with an Ironrite.
