Bridge Company Seeks Condemnation Stay

STATE OPPOSING MOVE BASED ON BANKRUPTCY ACT

Argument for and against a motion to stay condemnation proceedings against the rim-to-rim bridge, latest defense move against the legal fight to have the bridge taken over by the state of Idaho, were being presented today before Judge J. W. Porter in district court.

Motion for the stay was entered by attorneys for the Twin Falls-Jerome Intercounty Bridge company on grounds that the concern's petition for reorganization under U. S. bankruptcy laws blocks the state's effort to condemn the canyon structure.

Arguments were expected to be completed this afternoon, after which Judge Porter may either act on the motion at once or take it under advisement.

In event the motion is denied, court attaches expected a move for appointment of bridge trustees would follow immediately. If the motion is upheld, attorneys for the state indicate their next move is still undecided.

Reflects Interference Marshall Chapman, representing the state in conjunction with Charles S. Stout, assistant attorney general, contended that the bankruptcy act does not interfere with exercise by the state of its right of eminent domain.

The state claimed, in brief, that the condemnation proceedings would have no effect on the bankruptcy proceedings.

Chims of the bridge firm, as outlined in the motion presented to the court, and emphasized verbally this morning by Frank L. Stephy, attorney for the company, against the motion, was that the bridge is on the fact that assets and property which the state seeks to condemn are actually in custody of the federal district court for the western district of Washington, at Seattle.

91 Saved as Fire Sweeps Ship; 2 Dead, 5 Injured

Stern-Wheeler Burns in Maryland Bay; Cause Unknown

BALTIMORE, Md., July 30 (UP)—The smoldering wreckage of the 26-year-old stern-wheeler City of Baltimore wallowed in Chesapeake bay today as officials counted two dead, five injured and 91 saved as a fire which converted the vessel into a blazing furnace last night.

One crew member, a fireman named Callis, reported himself safe at 7 a. m. today after being listed as missing throughout the night of the Baltimore fire.

Scores of rescue boats, many of which worked all night picking up survivors, still pined about the smoldering hull in an attempt to locate the two persons—one crew-man, one passenger—still unaccounted for.

Three naval ships at Annapolis made a survey flight over the scene shortly before dawn, but sighted no bodies or survivors. The pilots reported the City of Baltimore was destroyed, with only the blackened boilers and smoke-stack superstructure above the water.

The steel hull of the vessel, owned by the Chesapeake Steamship company, was aground near Pinehurst, on the bay shore.

The dead: J. S. Pollitok, 60, Aiken, S. C. Whelton.

The injured: H. P. Paley, a passenger. G. W. Hays, a sailor.

Five were injured. They were: Elizabeth Ramsey, Baltimore, second degree burns; Ernest Holsen, secretary (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

Wider Health Set-up Forecast by Hawkins

Expansion of the health program in this section of Idaho to include three more counties in the immediate future was announced today by Dr. James W. Hawkins, director of the Idaho division of public health, announced that approval of the department budget now makes the move possible.

Dr. Hawkins was here today from Boise conferring with the Twin Falls county commissioners and Dr. H. L. McMartin, director of the Boise county unit. He was accompanied by L. J. Peterson, state bacteriologist. Both left for Pocatello late this afternoon.

Chico, a County, in the three counties which will in all possibility be included in the expansion are Jerome, Cassia and Gooding. Dr. Hawkins said.

"Inclusion of these counties would not mean the establishment of a central health unit in each case," Dr. Hawkins pointed out. "Rather, it would mean that they would cooperate with the Twin Falls unit. In this manner the people of the three counties would have available part time services of a physician, dispensing nurse, technician, sanitarian and other health workers in addition to their own full time staff."

"All three counties have expressed interest in this type of health program and the way is now open, by reason of the approval of the budget, for them to cooperate."

Battles Dwindle To Minor Fights In Combat Area

Japanese Strut Proudly Through Streets of City

TIEN-TSIN, July 30 (UP)—Japanese soldiers, moving deliberately from house to house in native areas of Tientsin, mopped up the city today, searching for armed Chinese on whom they could wreak vengeance for north China's affront to the Imperial army.

BIG CHINA ARMY TRAVELS NORTH

I stood at the international bridgehead leading from the French railroad to the city and watched the Japanese mopping up squads as they moved westward. Chinese rifles from house to house in Chinese areas.

I saw the Japanese line up one group of Chinese in civilian clothes. Bound hand and foot, the Chinese were forced at the head of the line to march to the Japanese camp flag. Then the helpless men, shuffling because of their wounds, were marched away. I understood they were on their way to execution, charged with spying.

The Japanese army headquarters announced that Japanese troops had captured Taku, one of the two port towns at the mouth of the river where Japanese warships and infantry had battled Chinese for two days. They captured also a Chinese gunboat lying off Taku.

I watched Japanese military destroy the remainder of the Nankai university, south of the city, then march on to the next objective. I was forced to live when soldiers ransacked a nearby town.

The Japanese strutted proudly everywhere like conquerors. The Chinese found little hope in Chiang Kai-shek's statement that China would resist to the end.

The Japanese proudly hoisted their dead while Chinese corpses floated down the river. Chinese corpses lay unattended on the river bank in view of the French concession.

Douglas reported that the Japanese had captured Changchun, on the west side of the Tungting river. Three miles north of Peiping. Troops on the 20th Chinese army were reported fleeing to the south.

GERMANY, RUSSIA CLASH AT MEET

Von Ribbentrop Charges That Soviet Union Started Spanish War

LONDON, July 30 (UP)—Frisson between Germany and Russia flared into the open today at a committee meeting of the Spanish non-intervention committee.

Germany's ambassador, German ambassador, accused the Soviets of starting the Spanish war and also charged that Russia had destroyed the British plan to restore the wrecked non-intervention scheme.

"The government only, namely Soviet Russia, wrecked the British plan by rejecting one of its three fundamental principles," Ribbentrop said.

(Russia has refused to accord belligerent rights to the Spanish rebels.)

The reason for this attitude on the part of Soviet Russia is clear, Soviet Russia started the Spanish Civil war and would like to end it on her own way—that is, by Bolshevizing Japan.

SUGAR COMMITTEE MEETS WITH SECRETARIES HULL, IQKES

NO INDICATION OF AGREEMENT SEEN FROM GATHERING

Sen. O'Mahoney States 'I Think We Are Getting Somewhere'

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—The joint congressional committee on sugar met today with Secretary of Agriculture Harold Ickes and representatives of the agriculture and sugar interests, without any indication that an agreement had been reached to end the stalemate in sugar marketing legislation.

Conferees declined to discuss developments of the conference, but Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., said: "I think we are getting to get somewhere."

Early in the session the three departments recommended sugar legislation setting import quotas for Puerto Rico, the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines roughly the same as those in the present law. They also recommended that the quotas be permitted to fill their quotas by shipping in refined, rather than raw, sugar.

Continental interests objected and the house agriculture committee drafted its own bill, substantially the same as the Jones-Costigan measure was reported favorably but is now blocked by the powerful sugar interests.

No basis for compromise has been proposed yet, it was said, but it is hoped that an agreement can be reached.

PRICE CLARIFIES RATING ON MILK

Class D-Not Given to Pair Because of Bacterial Count in Product

"So that there will be no misunderstanding" in the minds of the general public, D. E. R. Price, city health and dairy inspector, this afternoon made a statement clarifying issuance of class "D" dairy ratings to two local dairies.

"I desire to state that in giving the milk from the Clover Leaf dairy, operated by V. W. Scribner, and the Jersey dairy, operated by H. G. Dietrich, a class 'D' rating, this classification was not given on account of the bacterial count of their milk. Such classification would be as soon as this done their milk will receive a higher classification."

However, under the provisions of the Twin Falls milk ordinance, the bacterial count of the milk is not the only factor to be taken into consideration in making the classification. It is necessary also to take into consideration certain physical aspects required of the dairymen in the maintenance of their dairies and it was on account of Mr. Scribner and Mr. Dietrich failing to meet the physical requirements of the ordinance that their milk received the class 'D' rating," Dr. Price said.

Get Higher Grade "Both Mr. Scribner and Mr. Dietrich have assured me that they will immediately conform with the physical requirements of the ordinance and as soon as this done their milk will receive a higher classification."

The city of Twin Falls, to insure clean milk to the people of this community, has seen fit to enact the milk ordinance and it is my intention to bring about a strict compliance with its terms to insure to the people that the milk they are purchasing is what it is represented to be," Dr. Price said.

Golis had been kept under observation at the prison hospital since his descent from the pole last Tuesday morning. Turning him a mental case but harmless, prison authorities released him from the hospital.

Today at 12:30 a. m. while waiting with a group of inmates to take a bath, Golis suddenly broke away, ran to the pole and alighted up to the top.

During his first stay-up strike, Golis demanded that he be "taken to the island"—any island—if he promised to come down.

Golis finally came down on the promise of Yard Captain Ralph New that he would not be placed in solitary confinement as punishment for his all-night stand on the pole.

Where Business Ends—And Law Begins

Every American lawyer and practically all American business men have a stake in a case now being considered by circuit court judges in Columbia, Mo. Very little has been said about this case, yet it looks like the most important development in years in defining the relationship between business and law.
The case grew up somewhat in this fashion: For years, mutual insurance companies in Missouri (and elsewhere) had been accustomed to have their adjusters and claimants together fill in blanks in liability releases.

PROMISING CHAPTER II

CHAPTER II
PROMISING CHAPTER II she would make his apologies, Judith held the receiver of the telephone in a frightened hand. She knew that he had no conference, no client, no business. He was taking Marta Rogers to dinner. She knew it, and yet she wanted to keep that telephone connection which bound her to her husband. When it broke, he would go back to the other woman.

There were photographs in the lobby and Judith posed while her frock was being photographed. Best dressed woman?

"A boy and girl from Pittsburg, walking together again. She thanked him as she turned off at the street which led over to the East river and her apartment. He would send two seats, of course. She had a premonition that she would be seeing the play alone.

Several years ago, the Bar association of Missouri began to complain that in the filling out of such blanks and signing of such papers, the insurance companies were practicing law.

This is a highly important precedent to every business man and every lawyer. Every business is continually adjusting disputes involving property rights with customers. It may be argued that every railroad or steamship ticket you buy is a contract. The casualty companies in the Missouri case maintain that 4,000,000 lawyers are engaged in practices of which the Missouri lawyers complain.
Much criticism was heard in Cleveland recently when the painters' union actually was found to be issuing "permits" allowing private citizens to paint their own houses. The painters argued that they had a right to try to stop the taking away from union painters of work to which they were entitled.

To fellow fishermen:
Now that the supreme court controversy is settled, we were all caught and primed for a nice little fishing trip. But before the paint is hardly dry on our collapsible, combination bed and table, along comes one (Mr. Halmos) with a lengthy article in the News setting forth monumental unpleasantries connected with a recent fishing expedition of which he appears to have been the star actor.
We do not claim authority on the habits of fish, but can guess pretty close as to what a trout would be doing when he is hooked, and saw where it was coming from.
If one is afraid of stamping his toe, of a few bumps in the road, or of being bitten by mosquito, and expects to charge all that against the dressed meat he can bring home, he might better buy cold-storage fish from his butcher, or in tin cans from the corner grocery.

"I go to hundreds of them. "Why do we do it?"
She answered, explaining it more to herself than to him. "My husband likes them. . . . the generally after the day's work. I like people but not in crowds. I feel that my thoughts are being stifled. "Have you seen my play yet?" he asked presently.

laura are those affecting the skin, the digestion and the nervous system. The cause of the disease is usually seen first on the backs of the hands, later involving the neck, the forehead and the feet. Damage to the skin may result ultimately in scarring.
The inflammation of the skin appears chiefly on those sections which are exposed to sunlight. This is also believed to be a factor.
The mouth, frequently, is inflamed and sore, and there is also a persistent diarrhea in 75 per cent of the cases. This diarrhea is caused by the absorption of fluid from the body and for the elimination of much of the food before it has been digested and before the body has been able to get its full value.
Along with the bowel disturbances, these people suffer with headache, dizziness, nausea, sleeplessness and sometimes with complete mental disturbance.
Pelagra should apparently not be thought of either to prevent or to cure.

Home-Made Vacation

There are always other details to be settled, but the big problem at vacation time always seems to simmer down to "Where shall we go?" For families debating this question, John T. Flynn, noted economist, has an answer in a recent issue of Collier's magazine.
He suggests that an American steel or textile mill, automobile plant or any other modern factory within walking or motoring distance of most homes afford sights more thrilling than foreign art galleries or museums.

Somebody should invent a car that steers itself when two people get the urge for a drive occasion. (Or maybe they should invent some way to make such folk stop their cars for such occasion.)
Somebody should invent a non-offensive five cent cigar.

The Family Doctor

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of the Medical Magazine.
Pelagra, the formerly a disease largely limited to the southern portions of the United States, pelagra has now been found in Minnesota and indeed, occasionally cases are found in every state in the Union.
This condition was first described by a Spaniard in 1718. Later it was seen in Italy. Now it is seen all over the world. It may affect people of any age, although the majority of the cases appear in people of about 30 to 40 years of age. Women have it more often than men.
In 1918, more than 10,000 people died of this disease in the United States and it has been believed in the past that hundreds of thousands were affected.
The symptoms of pelagra usually come out in the spring and new cases are rarely seen in the fall or winter. It is probable that the diet is deficient in certain proteins. The work of the celebrated Joseph Goldberger in the United States and his colleagues seemed to establish quite definitely that pelagra does not develop in people who take a mixed, well-balanced and varied diet.
During periods of depression when some people find it difficult to secure sufficient amounts of food of the right kinds, the incidence of pelagra rises.
Among the chief symptoms of pel-

BEHIND THE SCENES in Washington By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, July 30.—This is the best guess available at the moment, and please remember it's only a guess:
Solicitor General Stanley F. Reed will be appointed to the supreme court to succeed Justice Willis Van Devanter, retired.
Next best guess, perhaps, is Justice William C. Bradley, of San Francisco, or Justice Charles E. Hughes, of New York.
Stanley F. Reed states that any rate, the White House is hearing plenty from Bradley's backers. One of the worst critics of the New Deal ever known against the court said itself was the thing it did to the solicitor-general's office. Reed's appointment would have the effect of removing from office more than two years ago and has carried the brunt of defending the New Deal law before the supreme court, lately with conspicuous success. He argued the Wagner act as well as the AAA case and many others.

RAW WOUNDS

Don't fall too hard for these nice, pretty stories. How many of them are being sharpened as never before. If Roosevelt and his friends are anything to his New Deal law and other items of his program.
Even while Vice President Jack Clegg and his Democratic-Republican coalition seemed to rule the Capitol hill roost after giving the country a few months of grace, Roosevelt showed signs of trying to run the works by taking Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley under his wing. Barkley, who has close companions were the LaFollette brothers of Wisconsin, who came nearest to being prospective leaders of a new Farmer-Labor party.
Senator Ed Burke of Nebraska, opposition court plan leader, got to the Senate floor last week. He requested, assured the President that the senate judiciary committee would be ready to patch up a good bill and that there would be no hard feelings.
Roosevelt, according to an authoritative source, merely sat, listened and said nothing. He offered clearly smoke up into the air until Secretary Marvin McIntyre came in to announce the next visitor.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Every day the public brings pressure to bear to enforce the traffic laws and this department enforces them. That is all very agreeable until you have to live with a revolving end of a traffic ticket, then our police judge hears a different story. The courts something like this: "Why pick on me? Get the other fellow. I saw so and so run down a truck. I am a taxpayer and a law abiding citizen. This is an outrage, etc." The police judge is a man of patience for that is what his job requires. It is no pleasure for the officer to give out a traffic ticket. He remembers that if an amount of traffic law stopped for one month you would not be able to drive your car on any business street in this city.

THE SENATE FIGHT

Your correspondent may have erred in ascertaining recently that Senator Sherman Milton of Indiana would be the chief sponsor of the bill to amend the constitution. Senator Milton is a close friend of Senator Hugh Black of Alabama, who has been made an assistant to the chief sponsor. Senator Milton will become party whip.

Labor Dispute Violence

Contradictory testimony developed at hearings on Chicago's Memorial day strike clash and the overplus skirmish at the Ford Dearborn plant is full of the kind of material which may lead even the best intentioned individual far from the path of true logic.
Testimony on just how the 10 men were slain in Chicago has revealed such amazing extremes of opinion that it is doubtful whether the truth ever will be known. Much of the same kind of befogging evidence was offered in the Dearborn case.
At best, these two situations are simply horrible examples of what the public has a right not to expect from the disputing workman and the employer.
The average citizen is stretched enough by any ordinary labor dispute without having killings and sluggings piled on in addition. Employers and workers alike will be wise to share the responsibility for seeing that it doesn't happen again.

ADMINISTRATION TO STAND CLEAR OF WAR TROUBLES

FREEDOM URGED FOR ROOSEVELT, SECRETARY HULL

Pittman Says U. S. Heads Should Be Given Open Hand in Crisis

By ROBERT C. MONTEE
WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—The administration's determination to stand clear of war developments in the far east was emphasized today by a formal statement of Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, urging freedom of action for the President and secretary of state.

Pittman, Nevada Democrat, rebuked those persons who "are impatiently and unreasonably" urging President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull "to state what action will be taken under the neutrality act toward China and Japan."

"In so serious a matter while our government is making every effort to bring about cessation of the unfortunate situation and to protect the lives of our citizens in China through diplomatic conversations the impropriety and the danger to the best interests of our country of public discussions by the President and the secretary of state are obvious," he said.

Pittman's statement was issued while heavy fighting was reported still in progress at Nienstin, where some 1,500 to 2,000 United States nationals, including the officers and men of the 15th U. S. Infantry, are located, and as reports from Shanghai stated Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was dispatching his crack Nanking government troops northward toward the Japanese invaders in what military observers here said would constitute actual war between Japan and China.

The statement was believed to have been inspired by the White House. The statement was interpreted as a strong hint that President Roosevelt probably will evade invocation of the neutrality law as long as possible.

Mrs. Charlton is 71. She is a daughter of the late 3d Baron Ashinger.

South Idaho Business Is Cheery Spot On U. S. Map

This map represents business conditions as of July 1, 1937, as shown in "Nation's Business", official publication of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS AS OF JULY 1

June was a disturbed month in some industrial areas, northern Ohio, Indiana, parts of Michigan and west Pennsylvania. Strikes in the independent steel mills, begun late in May, involved one-third of the country's producing capacity. Strikes of transport workers interfered with loading and departure of vessels. Estimates placed the number of strikers at about 100,000. This was reflected in a drop in our lossings and bank clearings, the latter showing the first decrease in a year. Failures, however, were fewest since September and liabilities the smallest for more than five years. The stock market was quieter but showed underlying strength and rallied easily. The crop situation apparently held all its earlier promise. Record-breaking receipts of new wheat were reported in the southwest in June. Use of electric light and power rose to new all-time highs. Wholesale trade increased but retail trade slackened somewhat. Commodity prices, after several months' decline, turned upward.

THE MAP

Despite widespread labor disturbances and the normally seasonally lower trend, the decline in activity in June from the high level of recent months was only moderate.

THE BAROMETER

The barometer chart line for June shows a strikingly small downturn, and continues well above the level prevailing a year ago.

RUSSIANS READY RE-FUELING BASE

Soviet Technicians Work on Field at Fairbanks; New Flight Expected

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 30 (AP)—Two Soviet technicians worked hurriedly and secretly on an air-plane refueling base here today, presumably for another trans-polar flight from Moscow to the United States.

It was reported that a four-motored passenger plane was ready to take off from Moscow "with Sigmund Levanovsky, famous Russian flier, at the controls.

Michael Belakov, hydro-meteorologist for the Soviet government, came here by plane Thursday from Juneau, joining S. Smirnov, Russian radio engineer, who came from Anchorage after conferring with U. S. weather bureau and signal corps officials.

Belakov is a brother of Alexander Belakov, navigator of the first Russian trans-polar flight last month.

Smirnov said they were under strict military orders not to reveal any plans concerning flights. Belakov does not speak English.

Two landing fields are available here. At Seattle, Wash., weather bureau officials said they had been supplying reports to Moscow for two days. Prior to the other two Russian flights across the north pole, weather reports were sent from Seattle for two weeks before they took off the second flight. Early this month, ended near San Jacinto, Calif., near the Mexican border, it has been reported that the Russian are aiming at a non-stop flight from Moscow to Mexico City.

CROPS DAMAGED

AMSTERDAM, July 30 (Special)—While most crops in this vicinity look good at this time, with the available irrigation water almost exhausted, some damage and curtailed yields are anticipated. No second cutting of alfalfa will be made, as the fields were not watered after the first cutting. Several farmers report damage to beans by the white fly.

Rubber "Overshoes" To Be Used on Air Liners This Winter

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Civilian aviators and Airlines obtained permission from Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper today to put rubber "overshoes" on the wings of their planes this winter to prevent formation of ice.

Roper formally approved the use of the new type of de-icer, which will be attached to the leading edges of wings and tail surfaces of planes. The rubber "boots" are operated by compressed air supplied automatically from the power plant. Pulsations of air cause the overshoe to expand and contract, breaking up the ice so that it will be stripped off by the rush of air.

BURLEY FACTORY TESTS PRODUCT

BURLEY, July 30 (Special)—The Otato corporation factory completed its test run Saturday in the experiment of manufacturing flour from fresh peas, according to Fred Rousch, local manager.

To effect the test experiment, the corporation contracted 25 acres of peas from local farmers, furnished by compressed air supplied automatically from the power plant. Pulsations of air cause the overshoe to expand and contract, breaking up the ice so that it will be stripped off by the rush of air. The peas averaged about two tons per acre, although one yield reached a three-ton acreage average. The peas were delivered in the bins and sold by weight. After shelling, the peas were hulled. The pea process will not affect the Otato flour, according to the manager, who expects a good run on potatoes this fall and winter. Experimental runs have been made in the factory before on milk, beans, and grains. The Otato corporation believes that any vegetable may be powdered. William Spencer Brown, New Jersey, head of the corporation, will be here soon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Balent, 65 of Detroit, Mich., died on route to a hospital here last night after the car in which she was riding collided with one driven by O. A. Iverson of Grand Forks, N. D., traveling east. Iverson's injuries are so severe he is not expected to live.

In the machine with Iverson were his wife, their daughter, Mrs. Alice Williams and her two children, Beverly, 15, and Robert, 12. All sustained serious injuries.

Both automobiles were completely demolished.

YIP-PEE! RIDE 'EM, COWBOY. Today's Picture Story Here's Sport With a Kick, as Rodeos Unlimber

It's man against horse, the courage and skill of the rider against the almighty strength and lightning speed of untamed bronchos, when the western rodeo season gets under way. These unrequited rodeo action pictures were made for the Cheyenne, Wyo., Frontier Days rodeo. This rider is out of his saddle and seems about to go over the horse's head as the broncho gives his heels a triumphant flick.

This broncho has leaped straight off the ground almost as high as a man's head, then twisted his body in what is called "sunflashing." Note how the rider has leaped quickly the other way to maintain the balance. The broncho rider by the "bustlers" at the Cheyenne rodeo are deliberately chosen for their own wildness and meanness, and are drawn by the riders by the lot, so all may have an equal chance at prizes that mount into thousands.

"Ride 'em cowboy!" shriek the crowds, but this particular contest has gone to the horse, which by a sudden check and turn of direction, has flung the rider clear. Note how the expert rider is already trying to twist his body so as to land with the minimum chance of injury to himself. To be a good broncho buster you must know how to fall as well as how to ride, or you won't be a good broncho buster—for long.

They ride without bridles and with only rope halters for control. This cowboy has put the broncho into a vertical stand, a highly dangerous stunt, for it is not unheard of for the horse to lose his balance and fall over backward on his rider, which may mean serious injury. From Cheyenne, at the end of July, to Belle Fourche, Precincts, and a hundred other western cities, the rodeo season greets these breathless contests between horse and man.

Heat-Spell Sorcery

This may look cool as a cucumber, but it's really poached eggs resting on tasty slices of ham—served in a mold of aspic.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX (NEA Service)
The chef of a New York hotel has made a study of brightening the dull summer appetite. He insists that novelty alone is not enough. Good food, lots of it, but not too good to discourage the indifferent eye is the formula. He gives some of his recipes for readers of this column.

Cold Eggs in Aspic (4 servings)
Four eggs, 4 individual pieces of cold cooked ham, 1 envelope plain gelatin, 2 cups brown stock or 2 cups canned bouillon, parsley. Dissolve gelatin in a little cold water. Heat stock and add gelatin. Chill until it begins to set. Use a large attractive white dish or individual cups. Place a piece of ham on bottom. Poach eggs, and when cold, lay one on top of each piece of ham. Then pour gelatin mixture over eggs. Chill until firm. Garnish with parsley.

Mustard Sauce
Three teaspoons dry mustard, 1 jar blackberry jelly, 1 teaspoon black pepper. Mix ingredients thoroughly.

Summer Salad (4 servings)
Two cups diced cooked turnip, 4 head lettuce, shredded, 1 egg, 3 teaspoons olive oil, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, seasoning. Place diced turnips and shredded lettuce in bowl. Beat egg yolk. Beat white separately until stiff, add the oil and lemon juice gradually. Then add yolk, and continue beating until blended. Season. Combine with vegetables.

Deviled Chicken Mousse (4 servings)
One cup deviled chicken, 1 cup thin cream sauce, 1 envelope plain gelatin. Dissolve gelatin in a little cold water. Then add chicken to cream sauce, and beat in gelatin with beater until nearly stiff. Serve with mustard sauce.

Contrary to a popular belief, stone arrowheads were not made by dropping cold water on heated flint. The most common method is that of pressing a bluntly-pointed tool against the edge of a piece of flint, which causes it to flake off.

K. of C. Official Urges Christians to Crusade Against Communism

CALLS FOR NEW BATTLE AGAINST FOE OF RELIGION

San Francisco Man Points to Beds as Enemies of Government

Millant call for "a new crusade" by Christianity to fight "the foe of government and religion" has been repeated here today by Robert A. McKenize, San Francisco, regional special agent for the supreme office of the Knights of Columbus in the United States.

Addressing a broadside against Communism and at the Red campaign to remove the influence of its form in Mexico, McKenize told a Twin Falls, Buhl, Burrely and Rupert audience last night:

Mental Crusade

"The world needs another crusade—not physical, but mental—a combat successfully the increasing efforts of the enemies of government and religion."

Referring to the Christian knights of the middle ages who donned armor with the red cross to battle infidels, McKenize urged the new crusade against Communism to "go into battle with the utterance on our lips as did their early brothers—God is with God will win."

The fight against irreligion, the San Francisco man said, "should be nonpartisan and should embrace all Christian faiths."

Cited Godless Drive

He cited as the inspiration of the custom now in use in Mexican state schools.

"Pupils come in each morning," he said, "and greet their teacher: 'Good morning, teacher. There is no God.' The teacher replies: 'Good morning, pupils. There is no God.'"

McKenize spoke last night at St. Edward's parish hall at an open meeting arranged by Knights of Columbus and their ladies from the south central area. Following the open session, the supreme office representative conferred with Twin Falls council K. of C. officers and inspected the council's books and papers.

State Deputy John Leahy, Twin Falls, and District Deputy Joe Wagner, Twin Falls, also spoke at the open meeting.

Fight Obsolete Literature

McKenize told the Columbian crowd that the Knights crusade of last year is a "springboard" launching a permanent K. of C. program against enemies of religion. He said the permanent policy of the supreme council, and declared that under the Catholic Action drive the removal of obsolete and filthy literature from newspapers is one of the primary goals. Catholic study clubs this year, he said, will deliver copies into the hands of Communism as opposed to Catholicism and all Christianity.

Members of the Twin Falls council, he reported, are in favorable condition.

McKenize, on an inspection tour of western K. of C. councils, instructed the local officers in their duties at the special conference following the open session.

IDAHOANS DESERT WASHINGTON NOW

You'll Find Gem Staters on Vacation to Get Away From Heat

WASHINGTON, July 29 (Special)—If you were tempted to look up any of your Idaho friends or acquaintances here in the District of Columbia this afternoon, it would be much wiser to take up diligent watch out on the Wisconsin avenue highway leading away from the city to nearby all points west.

The wisdom in this is that most everyone is in a pantomime, either to get out of town and thereby escape some of this hot weather without being spotted leaving town by the bill collectors or for the early birds who left a few days sooner, to get back in again, still unbothered, after their little rest back in the Idaho mountains.

Gems Scorned

While Mrs. William Beery Howe (above) and her husband slept at their Brookville, L. I. estate, a burglar evaded the watchman and two dogs, clambered up a ladder to a second floor of the house and looted their rooms of $1,800 cash and three cigar cases but scorned $10,000 worth of jewels.

COMMUNISM HIT BY INDIAN MEET

Federation in Convention at Lewiston Names Collier As One of Leaders

LEWISTON, Idaho, July 30 (AP)—The first Americans today condemned the presence of subversive and seditious groups attempting to force upon American Indians a "program of Communism" without their consent. They named John Collier, U. S. commissioner of Indian Affairs as one of the leaders in the alleged movement.

Indians of 30 western tribes, meeting in the fourth annual convention of the American Indian federation, asked President Roosevelt and Congress to remove from office a group of officials in the administration of Indian affairs for alleged Communist tendencies.

They adopted a resolution accusing Homer L. Chillaux, director of the American Indian commission, and the American Indian Education Commission.

The convention voted against the Wheeler-Howard Indian reorganization act, which it termed an attempt to "drive the Indian back to his old life, which he does not want." Delegates favored repeal of the act.

The Indians expressed their desire to "be like other Americans, own our own homes, send our children to public schools, pay taxes, find a place in industry and support American institutions."

FOREST RANGERS CHECK ON FIRES

Major Blazes Under Control, But Men Fear 'Hangover' Flames May Re-Start

MISSOULA, Mont., July 30 (AP)—Although scores of hangover fires were under control or completely extinguished, forest service officials, nevertheless, today checked and rechecked additional blazes in the forests of western Montana and northern Idaho.

Forest officials were apprehensive of the possibility of another general conflagration as the men of hangover fires, started by terrific lightning storms earlier this week, will exist for at least another 10 days.

Much concern is being felt for many undiscovered blazes thought to be smoldering.

Additional men, held in readiness in the event of another major fire, were released today while the men of checking on "smoldering" fires, recorded by lookouts, was being carried on by the regular forest service crews.

Among other reasons, the purpose of the trip is that Olmstead is scheduled to give a speech at the Young Democrats' convention at McCall.

Joseph Anderson, produce broker, farmer, and businessman from St. Anthony, Idaho, represented the state of Idaho, at the invitation of Secretary Wallace, secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The convention consisted of 80 men from various agricultural sections of the United States. The matter of taken before the convention by Mr. Anderson, that of the Diversion of Potatoes to Other Uses, was presented in accordance with the $20,000 appropriation of the Idaho state legislature last year.

"We are very anxious in Idaho to have federal government cooperation with the state of Idaho in research work for the purpose of finding other uses for by-products from the Idaho potato; to eliminate so-called 'red-tape,' and to gain the services of government trained specialists, we hereby, on behalf of the vegetable and potato industry of the United States, recommend that the federal government take what so

FRENCH, BRITISH GATHER WARSHIPS

Twelve Craft Take Positions Outside Territorial Water Following Attacks

SAINT JEAN DE LUZ, Franco-Spanish Frontier, July 30 (AP)—British and French warships gathered off Spain's coast today following attacks on a Spanish merchantman by four submarines and capture of a French steamer by a nationalist cruiser.

Twenty-three of the merchantman's crew of 34 were killed in a battle off the French fishing port of Grau du Roi.

Twelve French and British warships took up positions a few hundred yards outside Spanish territorial waters, alert for any further attacks on freighters carrying their flags and running the rebel blockade off Santander and Gijon.

The Spanish loyalist merchantman, Andula Esmadi, a 2,900-ton vessel armed with cannon and machine guns, was conveying two freighters—Violeta and Zamora—from Barcelona to Marselles when the attack occurred. None of the ships was carrying cargo. They were en route to Marselles to fill their holds. The freighters escaped.

The French coastal steamer Riri was captured by the rebel auxiliary cruiser Canarias and taken to the Balearic island port of Palma, Majorca, where the crew were imprisoned.

ever action is necessary to carry out this work in Idaho and other localities in which potatoes are grown."

Mr. Anderson spent a few hours visiting his many friends here in Washington, and was cordially received by Senator Pope, Congressman Clark, and Sec. Walters.

Senator Pope returned to the district Monday, July 31, from Little Rock, Ark., where he was attending the funeral services of Senator Robinson.
