Hoover Leads New Political Coalition

Ex-President Seeks to Band Jeffersonian Democrats, G. O. P. in 1940 Campaign

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (UP)—Former President Herbert C. Hoover today criticized conduct of the 1936 Republican campaign and assumed leadership of a movement developing in 20 states to rally Jeffersonian Democrats to a G. O. P. coalition in the 1940 presidential wars.

Mr. Hoover proposed that the party meet officially next year in convention to draft a declaration of party principles. He announced his program in an article prepared for publication in the current Atlantic Monthly.

The project pointed Mr. Hoover and Gov. Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee, toward a possible contest for control of the party. Some details of the plan leaked prematurely a fortnight ago and had a cool reception from Landon. Chairman M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee and most partisans who commented here upon it.

Three weaknesses

1. Failure properly to defend itself against calumny.
2. Failure to draw youth in party coalition.
3. Failure to crystallize an affirmative and consistent body of principles in the face of existing conditions.

Mr. Hoover said "there is bound to be more discussion of a new program of the party, and the Jeffersonian Democrats." Party realignment, he continued, might be approached in any of three ways:

1. Creation of a new party.
2. Change the name of the Republican party.
3. A working Republican-Democratic coalition against the New Deal.

Proposes Convention

Mr. Hoover dismissed the first two as impracticable and proposed his 1938 convention program as the best means of attracting rank-and-file Democrats to a Republican coalition.

Mr. Hoover charged that the Roosevelt administration had discarded the three major safeguards of the bill of rights—judicial independence, independence of the judiciary and the balance of local government.

He implied that governmental coercion had infected industry to induce employers to utilize spies and shagmen and employees to invoke the all-out attack technique.

Nippons Plan New Battles In Shanghai

By H. R. EKINS

(Copyright, 1937, United Press) SHANGHAI, Friday, Aug. 20 (UP)—Chinese regained the offensive on one sector of the bitterly contested northern Shanghai front at 2 a. m. today.

After they had been driven back earlier by an intense Japanese aerial and naval bombardment, they reorganized their lines and drove forward in the Kungping road district.

The fought their way to Seward road and as this dispatch was filed were within two miles of the Garden bridge across the Adornal creek entrance to the Anglo-American defense area of the international settlement.

At 6:30 a. m. the Japanese dispatched more than a dozen tanks, armored cars and other reinforcements to the sector.

All of Kungping road appeared to be a roaring battlefield. The Japanese seemed to be starting a counter-attack in an effort to drive Chinese regiments which occupied a wedge in the Japanese lines in eastern Hongkew.

Heavy powder-burned, khaki-clad Japanese forces drove forward along a 30-mile front north of Shanghai and Vice Admiral Kiyohito Hasegawa announced that he expected this bomb-devastated district of 3,500,000 people to be freed of major military danger within 48 hours.

The Nipponese naval chief was quoted as saying: "We are gaining the upper hand," he said.

Town Front

This correspondent toured the front and cast fairly to the accuracy of the admiral's statement so far as the immediate situation is concerned.

Admiral Harry Yarnall and other foreign commanders and diplomats met earlier in the evening and were reported to have discussed a drastic program in event the reckless attacks by both sides in the vicinity of Anglo-American area of the international settlement continued to endanger thousands of Americans, Britons, and other Occidentals.

The warning of the representatives of the powers was reinforced by vigorous diplomatic representations in Nanking in which it was understood, Britain and France took the leadership.

There was a lull in the fighting as midnight approached. Chairman Cornell Franking of the municipal government of the international settlement believed that the worst might be over.

Command Air

Japan's unquestioned command of the air was said, made it almost certain that there would not be a repetition of the aerial bombings (Continued on Page 10, Column 3)

Critic

Herbert Hoover, ex-president of the United States, criticized the handling of the 1936 Republican campaign, and announced that he would become the leader of a coalition forming in 20 states to include "Jeffersonian Democrats and Republicans."

PORTUGAL, CZECHS BREAK RELATIONS

Repercussions Throughout Europe Expected By Diplomatic Move

LISBON, Aug. 19 (UP)—Portugal, aligned with Nazi Germany, and the Spanish civil war crisis, severed relations with Czechoslovakia today in a diplomatic move that was expected to have startling repercussions all over Europe.

The break was made on the ground that Czechoslovakia, under pressure from an unnamed third nation, refused to make good on a gigantic machine gun order for Portugal.

Just how big this order must have been was disclosed in an official communiqué which said that Czechoslovakia offered to deliver 600 of the guns for Portugal's army, including the air force, the cavalry and artillery, for a total of 30,000 men.

The long communique in which the break was announced said in substance that Portugal, "continuing its rearmament of the army," "refused to make good on the machine gun order of the Czechoslovak government."

It was commented that Czechoslovakia guns were preferred principally because of the time of delivery.

NORTHERN STORM HINDERS SEARCH

Alaskan Hunt For Russian Pilots Made Difficult By Rain, Clouds

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 19 (UP)—The third day of a northern storm kept rescue forces grounded today as they searched the Alaskan coast for a lost Russian airplane before it set down over the Arctic.

Dense clouds, intermittent rain and a strong wind, which was on the loose since Sunday, made the search difficult. The six fliers had been missing six days. They made their last report by radio two hours after crossing the north pole last Friday.

Jimmy Mattern and Joe Orosco, American fliers, were waiting out the storm here, ready to take out their two-motored planes at the first break in the weather.

They studied maps and estimated that the lost plane, which was en route from Moscow to the United States along the 140th meridian, was probably down on an ice flow 600 miles north of the Alaskan coast. The Russians had provisions for a 45-day encampment.

Another rescue plane, piloted by Bob Randall of Cape Mudge, Alaska, was grounded at Point Barrow. The Soviet government was reported to be preparing three planes for the search and the Icebreaker Krasin was due in the area to establish an airplane base on the coast.

Down Go ELECTRIC RATES!

while Other Living Costs Still Rise

• The cost of living is going up. The prices of necessities and luxuries alike are moving upward, always true in times of returning prosperity.

But one vital service, Electricity, continues to go down — PRACTICALLY THE ONLY ITEM IN THE FAMILY BUDGET THAT'S CHEAPER.

Increased Use by Customers
On August 16, we again announced a reduction of $128,000 a year in electric rates — the 21st reduction since 1927.

Our customers themselves have earned many of these reductions. Progressive Idahoans and Oregonians, realizing the benefits of Cheap Electricity, continue to use more of it. This helps reduce the cost of producing it.

Efficient Management
Taxes have been more than doubled in the last ten years. Wages and salaries have been increased to offset our employees' increased living costs. Materials and other operating costs are up. But new improvements, and economies in operating our system, have enabled us to keep giving our customers lower rates.

Keeping Faith With our Customers
It has always been our policy to pass on savings to our customers in reduced rates, and to maintain the lowest possible rates that will permit a high standard of service.

And that's why, with all other living costs going up, your electric rate is among the lowest in the nation and ELECTRICITY IS CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE!

10,000 VETERANS TO VISIT FRANCE

Dedication of Monument at Chateau Thierry Set For September

PARIS, Aug. 14 (AP)—The dedication of a monument near Chateau Thierry, France, commemorating the heroism of American soldiers will be an outstanding event in the "Third A. E. F." which is expected to bring 10,000 American veterans to Paris in September.
The monument, designed by Dr. Paul Cret, of Philadelphia, is a memorial to the bravery of 300,000 soldiers and the sacrifice of 64,000 who were wounded or killed. It was erected under the supervision of the Battle Monuments Commission, of which Gen. John J. Pershing is chairman. The monument is to be dedicated on September 14, 1937, the anniversary of the armistice.
The American veterans will be accompanied by the Unknown Soldier of France during their stay in France, and will be met by French soldiers at the historical Champs Elysees to the town square.

Visits to the American shrines, cemeteries and battlefields and a "Legion Day" at the International Exposition of the World's Fair, will be the main activities of the veterans. The former soldiers as guests of M. Edmond Labbe, general commander of the exposition, and other officials of the exposition, will be presented to the American veterans by the French government.

YOUTH MINUS LEG GAME
Vigorous Tennis Game
CLEVELAND—A 20-year-old, accomplished tennis player, who has been playing only one leg, but his ambition is to become a first-class tennis player, has been playing tennis for several years. He was injured in a street car accident 21 years ago, took up tennis in 1933.
Last winter he began taking lessons from Phil Greenstein, professional at the Indoor Tennis Club. "He's the only one-legged tennis player I know in this district," says Greenstein, "and the form and power with which he hits the ball would make many two-legged players envious." Hancock plays about the court with the aid of his crutch. He plays only on a private court.

Damages Asked
PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A suit asking $14,100 French "damages" was filed here by a finance corporation against a church school of the city of Paris. The suit was filed in 1932. The suit represents $1,877.80 in American money. The goods were bought from a French manufacturer.

WHEAT DROPS ON ACTIVE TRADING

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (AP)—The market closed lower. Wheat dropped three cents or more a bushel in active trading today on the Chicago board of trade, with prospects for large sales to foreign nations evaporated. The September and October contracts were 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 cents lower, corn was 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents lower, and oats were 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents lower.
Corn was steady for a while but turned down with wheat. Trading was more active with the September delivery meeting a good cash demand early. Additional rains over the western part of the belt contributed to the soft tone.

FAIR, STAMPEDE
SET FOR BURLEY

Colborn and Sorenson Rodeo
To Be Staged Under Flood Lights

BURLEY, Aug. 18.—A big event in southern Idaho this fall will be the Casita county fair and Old Oregon Trail stampede held in Burley on August 30-31 and September 1-2.

The famous Colborn and Sorenson rodeo will stage the Old Oregon Trail stampede under flood lights the nights of August 31 and September 1 and 2. New additions of livestock give them one of the best rodeo strings in the west. Many of the leading cowboys of the world will be present. Contests, stunts, world champions having already signed to contest. In addition to bucking, steer wrestling, roping, etc., free acts equivalent to those of any rodeo in the west will be presented. Some of these features are: Vern Goodrich, world's champion trick rider at Madison Square Garden in 1926 and now holds this title; Miss Carol Henry of Rupert, Idaho, and her trained wonder horse, Mammie Francis, the champion woman trick shot of the world, formerly with Buffalo Bill and the 101 ranch; Charles Frank Hally and his trained horses in several thrilling stunts and high jumping acts, and last, but not least, Jasbo Falkerson, the clown, with his many new tricks.

Monte Young's carnival, one of the biggest, cleanest, and best, will play on the new carnival grounds the entire fair week.

Many improvements have been made on the grounds and buildings. A new horse barn which will accommodate 80 horses has been constructed and is one of the largest and most substantial structures on the grounds. Four modern rest rooms have also been added. The carnival exhibit, and rodeo grounds have been put into greater to alleviate dust conditions and enhance the enjoyment of fair visitors. The seating capacity has been increased to accommodate 5000 persons.

The premiums offered are one-third greater this year and all exhibit buildings will be filled with first class exhibits. At least twelve attractive booths will make up the community exhibit. The forestry department promises a world wide exhibit. Another exhibit of unusual interest is that of wild life. This display will consist of a large variety of fish, many live birds and animals, and mounts including all wild animals of the northwest, freak birds, fossils, etc.

The afternoons of September 1 and 2 will be devoted to running horse races. Races will be open to all entries and from all indications the racing program will be one of the best ever staged in Burley. On the afternoon of September 1 the livestock parade will also be staged.

Sports Consciousness

PAUL ALTO, Calif. sportsman is more sports conscious than it is taste conscious, according to Dr. J. P. Blain of Hoover's Social Trends Commission. Even during the depression, he said, Americans continued extensively on food and clothing but patronized to a surprising degree prize fights, football and base ball games and movie houses.

DOINGS AT IDAHO
Rocky Mountain
CLUB
By WILMA KEEL

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Mahoney and family, of Miami Beach, Florida, moved into their new ranch Thursday. After spending two summers here at the club the Mahoneys liked this country so well they decided to build a summer home of their own. They bought a ranch eight miles west of Stanley and construction work on the cabins was started early this spring under the supervision of Raymond Pearce who was employed as a cowboy here the past two years. Mrs. Mahoney and her boys, Danny and Michael, have been with us since the early part of July, and will be greatly missed by all of us. They plan to bring to buffet suppers at the club each Sunday night.

Last Wednesday morning Winston Paul, New York, owner of the club, Charles D. Smith, of New York, Gillespie, club manager, and Lawrence H. Smith, fish culturist with the forest service, left on a two-day pack trip with Ed Fletcher, wrangler. They visited Tootway and Imogene lakes high up in the Sawtooths. Mr. Smith was interested in making a study of food and water temperature conditions for fish in that section. The party returned Thursday night, reporting an extremely pleasant and successful trip.

Surprise Party
Dinner Friday evening was in the nature of a surprise party for Miss Mildred Sheets on her birthday. All of the guests were seated at one long table, with Miss Sheets at the head. The huge birthday cake, a work of culinary art by Mrs. Emery, was cut by the guest of honor.

Mrs. Carl J. Austrian, New York, was stricken with appendicitis the first of last week. After being confined to her cabin for several days she was able to be up and about in time to attend the Sun Valley rodeo.

Mrs. Ray E. Fuller and Mrs. W. P. Poorman, Des Moines, Ia., were dinner guests at the club Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rockwell, Bellevue, and a party of friends from Wisconsin, stopped at the club for luncheon Thursday.

Monday of last week an all-day trip on horseback to the head of Gold creek, was attended by most of the guests.

Cox's Return Home
Mrs. James M. Cox, and daughters Misses Anne and Barbara Cox, returned to their home in Dayton, Ohio, Sunday, after a six-week stay at the club.

Miss Mildred Sheets, prominent New York interior decorator, who has been with us since early in July, returned to her home in New York Sunday. Miss Sheets has become a real winner this summer. Although she had never ridden western style before, she spent long hours daily in the saddle, and became an accomplished "cowgirl".

The club had a block of seats reserved for both days of the Sun Valley rodeo, and almost all of the guests and staff from here attended. Dick Coleman, one of our wranglers, pointed out that he really carried, by taking second prize money in the wild horse race Saturday.

One of the most cunning of all the wild tribe, the coyote, shuns traps and poison, and thrives on land opened up by the white man's ax.

Buhl, Aug. 19 (Special).—Plans today called for an annual West End 4-H club exhibit, following the first successful showing here yesterday at which an estimated 500 people attended, according to Earl Stansell, county 4-H director.
