BOMB SHATTERS SHANGHAI CROWDS

12 Dead, 6 Missing in Fierce Wyoming Forest Fire

25 Fighters In Hospital, Many Critically Hurt

700 Battle Roaring Conflagration In Virgin Shoshone Forest Timber

CODY, Wyo., Aug. 25 (U.P.)—Forest rangers searched today for six men reported missing in a disastrous fire in the Shoshone national forest that already had claimed 12 lives and hospitalized 25 men.

A truck driver who rushed from the scene of the fire reported to forestry headquarters that the six were missing. A roll call was impossible, and it was feared that others might lie dead in the inferno.

Of the 25 injured, reports from Cody's three hospitals listed only four as being completely out of danger. Physicians said several of the charred victims probably would die.

700 Fight Blaze

Meanwhile, a force of 700 men continued to fight the fire which has ravaged the virgin timberlands for three days. If the wind quiets, rangers said the fire might be brought under control this afternoon.

The truck driver, whose name was not learned, said the heat at the fire scene was so intense that it singed hair on the bodies of fire fighters standing 150 feet from the flames. Many were overcome by smoke and fumes, but returned to the fight.

The victims who had been brought here were lashed to the backs of burros that were led through billowing clouds of smoke to the end of the tortuous trail, where ambulances waited at the highway. Some of the burned fell dead of suffocation on the way.

2,000 Acres Burned

The fire had charred 2,000 acres in a rugged, uninhabited area 16 miles from Yellowstone national park. Those burned were trapped in inflammable timber and brush by shifting winds.

The worst disaster occurred Saturday when a force of 50 workers was trapped in the black water rim rock. Most of the bodies did not reach here, 35 miles southeast of the scene, until last night.

A few bodies were nearly consumed and the only hope of identifying them was in finding locker keys, jewelry or trinkets in the ashes of clothing that clung to their forms.

40 Enrollees Trapped

In the trapped party were 40 CCC enrollees from the Thermopolis camp; nine bureau of public roads employes and Erl Davis, roads bureau foreman.

They were digging fire lines ahead of the advancing blaze when a sudden gust of wind sent fire whistling through the tops of pine trees, igniting the area on all sides.

Davis ordered the men to seek safety at the rocky base of the mountain, and to lie still under the boulders.

Several youth became terrified and dashed headlong into the fire, Davis said. Each time one youth ran, another attempted to follow him.

Caving Land Dams Stream At Buhl Farm

Forces of nature, on the rampage in the vicinity of Buhl's famous "sinking canyon" today had dammed the Salmon river at a point directly opposite the disturbance affecting the rich farm lands of H. A. Robertson.

The damming of the river at that point occurred early this morning just as Laming Stevens, in a Taylor Cub airplane, was winging his way over the area.

"Just as I was flying over the canyon," Stevens said, "a great mass of rocks and earth suddenly gave way and fell into the river. It was one of the most weird things I have ever seen. The backwater immediately started to form as the river's course was choked with the rock and earth."

15-Foot Wall

Stevens estimated the rock wall which had blocked the river was about 15 feet high. Other masses of rock, he said, are still moving toward the new dam, indicating that perhaps it will rise still higher as new disturbances occur.

The mass of rock which dammed the river was not the "moving wall" which has been threatening to do just that for sometime. It was a second wall located to the west of the "moving wall."

The upheaval of the earth in the main Salmon river canyon appears to be moving thousands of tons of rocks toward the river bed. The area is cracking up more each day, observers said, and the movement is continuing.

5 Feet Daily

At the same time observations made by C. L. Smith, engineer for the Twin Falls Canal company disclosed the main body of Robertson's sunken acres is continuing to drop further into the earth at approximately five feet every 24 hours.

Smith, with the aid of stakes, measured the drop over a period of three consecutive days. The area sank 15 feet in that time. Now the land is between 160 and 185 feet below its former level.

Oddities

BEES

MONTREAL, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Strikers at the Cote St. Paul mill of the Dominion Textile company today threw two hives of bees at police who were guarding the mill. The police battled the insects for several hours and finally called on the fire department. Streams of water routed the bees.

CHEAP

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Before 16 of 36 stolen typewriters were recovered here, police learned that the purloiners had sold most of the machines to merchants in suburban Garfield Heights for as little as $3 each, reciting that they wanted money to repair their truck.

LUCKY

BETHANY, Mo., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—For once Pat Beaver, grocer, was glad no one wanted macaroni, by mistake he left his store's front door open and customers helped themselves, leaving a note of what they had taken. No one looked in an open barrel of macaroni where Beaver had hidden $567.

PROPERTY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Charles Cummings, a WPA supervisor, posted property valued at $26,000 as bond for Willie Lugge.

"What?" Judge Darius A. Brown exclaimed, "a man with all that property on WPA? Well, that's not a matter for the court in this proceedings!"

SEARCH FOR SEX SLAYER WIDENED

6,000 Chicago Officers Lay Net For Murderer of Student Nurse

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Attacks on four more women and a Negro's attempt to date a pretty 19-year-old national beauty contest winner today spurred Chicago's 6,000 police in their search for the ape-like Negro who murdered and assaulted Anna Katchis, 19, a student nurse.

Miss Florence Swanson, night superintendent of nurses at Jefferson park hospital, was slashed by a man who invaded her room while she slept.

Mrs. Edith Reuter, 22, told police she was seized while walking and attacked by two men in an automobile.

Attack Reported

Mrs. Ruby Hoekel, 23, reported she was attacked by two men who forced her to accompany them in an automobile.

Mrs. Anna Hollender, 50, a domestic, was beaten by a Negro who tried to attack her on a lonely street.

Among more than 100 suspects rounded up by police was a huge Negro accused of passing a mash note to Michaeline Delna, 19, proclaimed

HIX TRIAL WILL START TUESDAY

Alleged Murderer to Face Charge in Mountain Home Case

MOUNTAIN HOME—Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Trial of William Hix, Idaho convict charged with first degree murder in shooting of Frank Miller, elderly rancher, will begin here Tuesday at 10 a. m. with jury selection.

Hix, who was object of an intense search for 10 months after he escaped from the Eagle Island prison farm in June, 1936, is alleged to have shot and killed Miller.

The body was found a short distance from Miller's crude ranch house near here.

It was badly decomposed and had a bullet wound over the heart.

Hix told officers that after he escaped from the prison farm he went to live with Miller. Subsequently, Miller disappeared, his farm and personal effects were sold, presumably by Hix.

Hix was arrested in March at Price, Utah, where he was driving a truck.

He has steadfastly denied that he killed the rancher.

YEAR'S IMPORTS DOUBLE EXPORTS

Unfavorable Trade Situation Is Result of Drouth in Middle West

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—The United States imported $2 worth of agricultural products last year for every $1 exported, the department of agriculture reported today.

Government economists predicted, however, that bumper crops this year would reverse the recent increasingly unfavorable American trade balance in agricultural products.

Agricultural exports for the year ended June 30, declined to $732,830,000. The value of imports increased to $1,539,220,000, leaving the nation a net deficit of $806,400,000.

Export Value

Last year exports were valued at $766,304,000 and imports at $1,130,040,000.

The department blamed the unfavorable trade situation on the drouth, which made it necessary for the United States to import record quantities of beef, pork, corn and other grains.

The estimated 2,593,000,000 bushel corn crop is expected to halt imports, which last year amounted to 77,947,000 bushels, mostly from Argentina.

Wheat Estimate

The wheat crop estimated at 800,410,000 bushels is expected to give the United States a favorable trade balance of 100,000,000 bushels or more. Last year wheat imports totaled 47,024,000 bushels, including flour.

The United States imported $102,472,000 worth of sugar, compared with $101,872,000 worth of a year earlier.

FRANCO TROOPS MARCH FORWARD

Nationalist Army Moves to Near Santander; 14,300 Prisoners Taken

WITH NATIONALIST ARMY, OUTSIDE SANTANDER, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's nationalist army moved down from the Reinosmez hills to within 15 miles of Santander today.

The insurgents met with little resistance and captured 30 more towns and villages, bringing the total number now in nationalist hands to more than 100.

Franco now controls more than 1,000 square miles of territory in Santander province, and during the week-long offensive has taken 14,300 prisoners.

At Torrelavega, 10 miles southwest of Santander, the loyalists are expected to put up their greatest resistance.

Between Franco's front lines and Torrelavega are powerful loyalist defense positions. The fall of Torrelavega would render Santander's position untenable as it would cut off the Basque capital from the Asturias.

Branch Out with Camouflage

Camouflage hasn't changed much since Shakespeare's day, but it has become increasingly valuable. Japanese troops in the advance on Tientsin hide from the eyes of Chinese aviators under a camouflage of branches that recalls the ruse in "Macbeth."

Promotion of State Is Goal of Jaycees

Idaho Falls Chosen for 1938 Convention by Close Vote; Winzeler Named President

Advertisement and conservation of the Gem state as an outstanding attraction for thousands of summer tourists was the theme of the third annual state convention of Junior Chambers of Commerce, closing here yesterday with election of Frank Winzeler, Boise, president and the selection of Idaho Falls for the 1938 meeting. On the first ballot, the choice was deadlocked, Jerome and Idaho Falls, the only applicants, each receiving 20 of the 40 official votes.

Caldwell held the balance of power, with two votes. On the first cast, one was given to each city, and on the second both went to Idaho Falls, giving that city the convention for next year 21 to 19.

Officers Listed

Other officers elected for the year include George Schneler, Burley, first vice-president; Elmer Kinney, Nampa, second vice-president; Tad Nelson, Jerome, treasurer, and Charles Schaffer, Caldwell, secretary. The board of directors, which includes the state officers and a director from each of the nine Junior Chambers in the state, will meet later at call of President Winzeler.

Marvin Hurley, executive secretary of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, discussed briefly the history and background of the organization and the broader aspects of the work done and the field for future work of the Junior Chambers. His address was the principal talk of yesterday morning's business session.

R. J. Schwendiman, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, pointed out the mutual benefit of close cooperation between the Junior and Senior Chambers, and also welcomed the visiting representatives to Twin Falls.

Chapman Presides

Don Chapman, Boise, retiring state president, was in charge of the business sessions yesterday morning following the convention breakfast at the Park hotel, headquarters for the meeting.

Reports from standing committeemen included Conservation, by Ira Anderson, Boise; Christmas "Kids Party" by Frank Winzeler, Boise; Uniform Constitutions, by Parish Martin, Boise; Highway Traffic, by Carl Gilb, Twin Falls; Lava Hot Springs, it. i. Kinney, Nampa.

2,000 Jobless Marchers Seek Reinstatement as WPA Workers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Two thousand jobless marchers, weary and dusty after a rainy night of sleeplessness in the open, today sought administration assurances that all dismissed WPA workers who have not found private employment.

David Lasser, president of the Workers' Alliance which sponsored the march, will present the demands at a conference with WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins today.

The marchers arrived in full strength too late to impress congress with demands for passage of the Schwellenbach-Allen resolution to open WPA jobs to all needy employables. But they had Hopkins' word that additional funds probably would be unnecessary and that those accepting temporary private employment would be taken back by the work relief agency.

The leaders of the alliance considered a "tremendous," if partial victory.

STEMMER PLANS HIGH COURT AID

Highway Director Will Take Suit to Supreme Judiciary In Taylor's Case

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 23 (U.P.) — Joe Stemmer, director of state highways, today said he would probably take a suit asking recovery by the state of $14,000 spent for a tractor on the lease-purchase plan to Idaho's supreme court.

While he cannot take the suit to the supreme court until judgment has been entered by Ada county district court, or until he refuses to plea further, Stemmer said final settlement of the case would do much to clear or convict his office of charges that it has illegally spent $1,000,000 in purchase of material.

Before taking the suit to the supreme court, Stemmer must:

1. Await delivery of judgment.
2. Refuse to plead further and base an appeal to the supreme court on a demurrer.

The attorney-general's office indicated it would seek final judgment Saturday. Judge Charles Koelsch has delivered an opinion to effect that Stemmer is liable for the $14,000 being sought by the state, but has not given the verdict in form of a judgment.

STATE AD PLAN TO BE EXPLAINED

Fruit, Vegetable Commission To Meet With Growers, Others Tonight

Explanation of the object of the state fruit and vegetable advertising program, methods of carrying out the plan and suggestions from consumers and producers will hold the spotlight of interest at the public dinner meeting of the Idaho state fruit and vegetable advertising commission at the Park hotel at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

Carl De Long, chairman of the commission, will be in charge of the discussions, which will take up the campaign from all its angles. Other members of the commission were expected to be speakers on the brief program.

The commission was in executive session here today, with the session running well into the afternoon before the group had attended to all the important business before it.

Growers, business men and any others interested are invited to the dinner meeting. Reservations may be made through the Chamber of Commerce office here.

CRIPPLED SON IS MOTHER'S KILLER

Attends Sunday School After Murder of Parent; Uses Heavy Setscrew

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Howard Finstead, 27, a cripple, who by his own confession beat his 65-year-old mother to death with a heavy iron setscrew and then spent the morning at Sunday school, was held today for arraignment on a murder charge.

Police quoted him as saying: "I slapped her two or three weeks ago. I killed her because I wanted her out of the way. I hated her domineering attitude. I knew what I was doing, all right."

After the killing, the youth went to a neighbor's house and announced there was "somebody dead at my house." Then he went to Sunday school where he spent Sunday morning.

Finstead was crippled several years ago by infantile paralysis. He said he had contemplated suicide or the murder of his mother for several months.

He told police that he first knocked his mother down, choked her until she was unconscious, then beat her on the head with the setscrew from a vice until she was dead.

He has two sisters and a brother. His father and mother were divorced 15 years ago.

AFL and CIO Are Asked to Unite

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (U.P.) The American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization were asked today to unite and form a third political party for the 1938 congressional elections.

The call was made by the national executive committee of the social Democratic federation, an organization of right-wing socialists who claim to speak for members in 10 states.

HEARING SET FOR KIDNAP-ROBBERS

Edwards Moved to Different Jail As Escape Talk Worries Officials

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Harry Edwards, alleged kidnap-robber, was arraigned in city court today on charges of robbing O. A. Brown, one of the victims of a string of holdups here last month.

Edwards' preliminary hearing was set for September 3 by Judge A. H. Elliott.

Edwards was transferred to the county jail yesterday to prevent him communicating with his partner, Elmar Johnson, who held up the kidnap-robberies. The two had been reported to have threatened to attempt to duplicate their escape from Grand Junction, Colo., when they escaped from officers who arrested them last week and then were forced to recapture them after they sawed their way from the jail.

Johnnson will be arraigned this week, court attaches said. The suspects are held under $20,000 bail each.

Between 300 and 700 Killed When Missile Explodes

MORE THAN 1,000 REPORTED WOUNDED FOLLOWING ATTACK

By H. R. EKINS
(Copyright, 1937, United Press)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—A huge aerial bomb crashed into upper Nanking road, between the big Chinese-owned Wing-On and Sincere department stores at 1:10 p. m. today and killed from 300 to 700 persons.

More than 1,000 were wounded including Anthony Billingham, a correspondent of the New York Times, and Miss Blanche Tenney, an American, born in Shanghai. Several Europeans were hurt.

Japanese said the bomb came from a Chinese plane which had been flying high over the city.

A second aerial bomb, 15 inches in diameter, crashed through the roof of the U. S. navy warehouse, adjacent to the U. S. and British consulates general, but did not explode.

It is in the hands of the U. S. naval authorities.

Huge Battle

While the bombings were going on Japanese threw more than 70,000 soldiers and sailors into a great offensive designed to crush more than 200,000 Chinese soldiers who have been besieging Japanese positions in this city for 12 days following the killing of two Japanese navy men by Chinese militiamen the night of Aug. 9.

Today's bombings brought civilian fatalities in the Anglo-American [illegible] to [illegible] more than 2,000 including three Americans who were killed a week ago, between the big British-owned Cathay and Palace hotels, and in the great world Chinese amusement resort at Tibet road and avenue Edward VII.

The Americans killed in the earlier bombings were H. S. Honigsberg, a Shanghai business man, Dr. Robert K. Reichschauer, of Princeton university and Dr. Frank J.

U. S. Casualty

Killed just two days before his 21st birthday, Frederick J. Falgout, above, seaman, first-class of Raceland, La., became the first American casualty among troops and sailors standing guard in the China war zone. He was struck by flying fragments from a shell of undetermined origin which hit the cruiser Augusta, anchored on the Whangpoo river in Shanghai.

Wenatchee Editor Gratifies Ambition To Be Circus Clown

SEATTLE, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Rufus Woods, publisher of the Wenatchee Daily World, gratified a lifelong ambition today and traveled with the Cole Brothers circus as a clown.

Woods played the "two-a-day" in Tacoma today and will go to Aberdeen with the show tomorrow.

He got one of the biggest laughs here when another clown drove him around the Hippodrome track in a pony cart and introduced Woods. In baggy, shabby clothes and putty nose as the mayor of Seattle.

"I think the circus business is a whole lot saner than the newspaper business," Woods told interviewers.

Search for Fliers Gets Renewed Hope

MOSCOW, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Hope that Sigismund Levanevsky and five companions, missing since Aug. 15 on a flight over the north pole to the United States, was renewed today after faint radio signals were picked up on the wave-length of his transmitter.

The signals were identified and the call letters were clear although the nature of the message could not be determined. Encouraged, soviet stations are broadcasting regularly to Levanevsky since it was believed his receiving apparatus is functioning. Plans to search the Arctic wastes for the fliers were pushed.

Jones Urges F. D. R. To Sign Sugar Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Chairman Marvin Jones, D., Tex., of the house agriculture committee, was disclosed today to have urged that President Roosevelt sign the controversial sugar quota bill.

It was learned that Jones made the suggestion to representatives of the departments of state, agriculture and interior.

JAPANESE STAGE NIGHT AIR RAIDS

Nanking Airdrome Target of Two Attacks; Bombers Driven Off

NANKING, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Heavy Japanese bombing planes, laden with tons of explosives, attacked Nanking twice last night and early today.

It was a clear, moonlight night. Six Japanese bombers flying in formations of three dropped more than a dozen bombs on the outskirts of the city. Their target was the military airdrome.

Searchlights spotted the bombers while heavy anti-aircraft fire kept them at a safe altitude. The damage was not estimated immediately.

Three Japanese planes reappeared over the airdrome at 1 a. m. today and dropped six bombs. Chinese military officials said the planes had missed their target.

Seven Chinese pursuit planes took off and patroled the skies after the Japanese bombers disappeared.

On the ninth day of the war the capital presented a picture of official calm and public terror.

As the result of an official order about two thirds of the city's normal population of 800,000 have left for safer places.

Authorities ordered business establishments to remain open, but most shop fronts are covered by shutters and are closed as soon as the air raid siren is sounded.

Mrs. Moody Files Suit for Divorce

CARSON CITY, Nev., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Helen Wills Moody, former premier woman tennis player of the world, filed suit for divorce from Frederick S. Moody, jr., of San Francisco, in district court here today.

The sealed complaint, which will end the court star's seven-year marriage to the handsome oil salesman and socialite, charged mental cruelty, the customary grounds for the six-weeks decrees of Nevada's famed "divorce mill."

Hearing on the complaint, expected to require only a few minutes, was set for 1:30 p. m., before District Judge Clark J. Guild,

HEARINGS ANNOUNCED FOR GENERAL U. S. FARM MEASURE

EARLY ACTION ON CROP CONTROL IS SEEN BY SOLONS

Idaho Meet to Be Held at Boise on October 4, 5 and 6

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Senate agriculture subcommittee heads announced today that hearings on a general farm bill will be held throughout the country until late October, indicating congressional action on a crop control bill is unlikely before January.

The indication of delay was regarded as important in view of frequent forecasts that President Roosevelt might call a special session of congress in November to take up problems.

Chairman Marvin Jones, D., Tex., of the house agriculture committee announced he expects to have his own draft of a general farm bill "ready the first part of next session."

Chairman Ellison D. Smith, D., S. C., of the senate agriculture committee, appointed Sen. George McGill, D., Kan., to head the senate subcommittee delegated to study the farm problems of the northern grain area. Smith took charge of the hearings in the south.

McGill announced an itinerary would extend from Spokane, Wash., Sept. 30 to Springfield, Ill., late in October or early in November.

Smith's plans at present tentative and subject to change, called for hearings at Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 18 and continuing in other southern cities to the end of the month.

Public Hearings

The hearings will be public and based on the farm bill introduced in the senate by Sens. McGill and James P. Pope, D., Idaho, and in the house by Jones.

The Pope-McGill bill embodies the views of the American Farm Bureau Federation regarding soil conservation, the ever-normal granary and production control when authorized by a two-thirds vote of producers.

The Jones bill differs from the senate measure in that it is based largely on theory of soil conservation and embodies a system of commodity loans safeguarded by a crop control plan. The Jones bill, however, is merely in a tentative stage.

Itinerary Announced

The itinerary announced by McGill, is as follows: Spokane, Sept. 30 to Oct. 2; Boise, Ida., Oct. 4, 5, 6; Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 12, 13; St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 15, 16; Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 18, 19, 20; Topeka, Kan., Oct. 22, 23; Dodge City, Oct. 25, 26; Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 27, 28; dates for hearings at Memphis, Tenn., and Springfield, Ill., are undetermined.

Jones said that he and his committee will "insist" that any comprehensive farm bill contain three features:

1. A provision for the reduction of benefit payments to large operators, so that funds available may be entered for the benefit of small producers.

2. A provision calling for a search for new uses, markets and outlets for farm commodities and their byproducts both foreign and domestic.

3. Removal of discrimination in freight rates against farm products.

BUILDING TOTAL CONTINUES GOOD

Building totals continued to swell in Twin Falls as the second half of the current year gets well under-way.

Most recent permits asked include those of H. C. Dickerson for construction of a $3,500 new private dwelling on Walnut street and that of Earl Maddy for construction of a new roof and interior remodeling on a home on Second avenue west at an estimated cost of $500.

Both permit applications will be among those coming up for approval at tonight's regular meeting of the city council starting at 7:30 p. m.

"CRAZY BIRD"

Because the young son of Tom Roberts, 1441 Addison avenue, left the family car to view a "crazy bird," reported by another youth, $2.30 is missing from Mrs. Roberts' purse, police were told late last night.

A youth approached the Roberts boy while the latter was seated in the family car in front of a local neighborhood store Sunday morning to purchase groceries for a picnic, police were told. The youth said a "crazy bird" was at the rear of the car so young Roberts got out to investigate.

When the picnic was all over that evening it was discovered that $2.30 had been taken from the purse which was in the car when it was parked in front of the store.

Police, and the Roberts, suspect the youth with the "crazy bird" story.

SCHOOLS REPAIRED

BUHL, Aug. 23 (Special) — The Riverside school south of Buhl has been painted and renovated in preparation for the opening of school on Sept. 6. Aug. 30 has been set as the day for the children to meet at the school house for book exchange. Willowdale school is now being kalsomined and cleaned in preparation for the opening on Aug. 30.

BOMB SHATTERS SHANGHAI STORES

Between 300 and 700 Are Believed Killed After Air Attack

(From Page One)

Rawlinson, veteran American missionary.

Gen. Kiyoshi Katsuki, at Japanese military headquarters in Tientsin, said a big battle which started southwest of Peiping on the Peiping-Hankow line, had been definitely won by the Japanese.

On the Peiping-Suiyuan railway, to the northwest of Peiping, Gen. Ishida's division reinforced by a mixed brigade and cavalry regiments, continued to batter its way deeper into the strategic Nankow pass while other units attacked scattered Chinese positions in mountain crags along the great wall.

Plan Cut-Off

The Japanese announced that a division of their troops from Manchukuo, based on Dolonor, was fighting its way across Chahar province, to cut the Peiping-Suiyuan railway behind the Nankow pass and occupy Kalgan, general headquarters for the Chinese armies defending Nankow and the great wall positions.

A battle had developed south of Tientsin, on the Tientsin-Pukow-Nanking railway, where Chinese divisions had advanced northward from Techow, in southern Hopei province, and were attacking the Japanese.

The roar of artillery fire was heard in the Tientsin British and French concessions where new preparations were made to prevent possible accidental aerial bombings such as those in Shanghai.

The Nanking road bombings here, from a foreign viewpoint, were the bloodiest developments of the day.

SUNDAY THIEVES STEAL REGISTERS

Two Local Stores Entered as Windows Are Broken; Two Held in City Jail

Two men were being held in the city jail here this afternoon during which windows were broken in two local stores and in each case a cash register carried away.

The two being held for investigation are V. E. Tadlock and Clyde Bess, police records show.

The break-ins occurred at the Hayes Hi-Grade hatchery on Maine avenue south and at the Eighth avenue market, located at the intersection of Eighth avenue and Blue Lakes boulevard.

At the market a large glass in the front door was broken to gain entrance and the register was carried, out the same door. It was dropped in front of the store and a quantity of pennies fell out and were found by investigating officers.

Entrance to the Hayes hatchery was gained by breaking a large front plate glass window. The crash was heard by a local citizen, not named by police, and he gave chase as the burglars sped away in a small car. Although he lost them on highway 30 he was able to furnish police with an accurate description of the machine.

This afternoon the two registers had not been located, police report.

Preston Men In Forced Landing

JACKSON, Wyo., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Twelve members of the Preston, Idaho, county fair and rodeo committee, were safe today after the plane they had chartered was forced down in a near-crackup 30 miles north of here.

Engine trouble forced the pilot to land his plane, chartered for a sightseeing tour, in a wooded area near Janny's lake. After landing, the plane skidded 400 feet.

Passengers included T. R. Bowden, Preston mayor; Chase Kearl, president of the Preston Chamber of Commerce and county agent, and Joe Johnson, athletic coach at Preston high school.

Petitioners Seek Property Decree

Petition by some of the heirs to decree certain real property of the estate of Harry Trimble West as bequeathed to them in the will, was taken under advisement by Probate Judge Guy L. Kinney this morning. The heirs offered bond to insure their proportionate repayment of any debt against the estate.

May Helen West is administratrix, represented by Frank Stephan of Twin Falls, and Chapman and Chapman represented the petition for the heirs.

Estate Is Entered In Probate Court

Ruth Yeamans, Buhl, asked to be appointed administratrix of the estate of Frances K. Forest, deceased, when the estate was admitted to probate court this morning. Friday, Sept. 3, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon was set by Probate Judge Guy L. Kinney for the hearing.

Real and personal property not to exceed $8,000 was the estimated value of the estate Harold L. Yeamans is attorney.

Flowers Heaped On Valentino's Tomb by Women

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23 (U.P.) — Rudolph Valentino had another day of glory today.

Women, who as romantic girls, mobbed the late "sheik" of the film two decades ago, heaped flowers upon his tomb on the 11th anniversary of his death.

Many of the flowers were ordered by telegraph from women in Austria, England, and all parts of the United States.

As usual, on the anniversary, crowds gathered at the cemetery to watch for a veiled blond woman who comes each year in a limousine and leaves flowers on the tomb. Valentino died in New York, Aug. 23, 1926.

Shower and Party Honors May Bride

RUPERT, Aug. 23 (Special)—Mrs. M. Christen and Mrs. L. F. Cardaux entertained Thursday at the Candaux home in honor of Mrs. Newell Fisher, who before her marriage last May was Miss Elma Kelley. The wedding has just been announced.

The afternoon was spent in playing games. The gifts, were arranged around a tiny bridal party before an altar of flowers placed on a table. The rooms were attractive with summer flowers, a color scheme of rose and white being carried out in asters and gladioli.

FAIR PLANS

BUHL, Aug. 23 (Special)—Circles 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the Methodist church held a joint meeting Thursday afternoon at the church with the following ladies hostesses: Mesdames C. M. Pickrell, Currington, C. N. Davis, H. S. Cunningham, Perry Howard, Paul Fingerson, George Wade and C. E. Ryan. Group singing and a piano duet by Misses Ines Rogers and Doris Venter were enjoyed. Plans were discussed and partial arrangements made for the four circles to serve three meals daily for the four days at the Filer fair. Mrs. Harry Wright is in charge of the arrangements.

SEARCH FOR SEX SLAYER WIDENED

6,000 Chicago Officers Lay Net For Murderer of Student Nurse

(From Page One)

"Miss America" in a Mardi Gras beauty contest at New Orleans three years ago.

Miss Deleau, appearing as "Miss America" at a downtown "art museum," notified police when a Negro handed her a note which read:

Gives Number

"I saw you this afternoon. I want to see you again. Please let me see you. I will give you anything you want if I can see you. Just say yes and call this number tonight at 1 o'clock. Drexel 7587. Earl."

Miss Deleau agreed to meet the masher half a block from central police station. She accompanied police to the scene and pointed out a Negro who gave his name as Ovell Jones, 28. Police said he confessed authorship of the mash note. He was held to be viewed by other attack victims.

Chief Takes Charge

Police Chief John Pendergast and Detective Chief John L. Sullivan took personal charge and ordered their entire forces to round up sex crime suspects after Miss Kuchta was slain in her hospital room.

Miss Kuchta had gone to her room for a two hour rest. She was beaten on the head with a brick and criminally assaulted. The body was found by her roommate, Miss Florence Palmowski, who saw a man climbing out of a window to the fire escape.

Three other similar deaths have been recorded during the last two years.

7 IDAHO FORESTS UNDER FIRE RULE

Campers Not to Be Admitted Unless Armed With Axe, Shovel and Bucket

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Seven national forests in Idaho today were under camping restrictions as officials in both regional and local forestry departments sought to minimize serious fire hazards.

Campers will not be admitted to Weiser, Idaho, Boise, Payette, Sawtooth, Challis, or Salmon forests unless armed with ax, shovel, and bucket, and persons may camp only at forest service camps or in limited zones.

Smoking in the forests, or while driving through them, is banned. If you wish to smoke, warned foresters, stop at a camp.

Restrictions will remain until explosive conditions in forests have been replaced by normal moist conditions.

One man was arrested for carelessness concerning disposition of a campfire.

A large fire near Riggins, in grass and scrub, was controlled Sunday by more than 200 men.

2 Cars Damaged In Sunday Mishap

One Minor Accident Noted on Police Blotter Here

Only one minor automobile accident was recorded in Twin Falls over the week-end, records at the police station show this afternoon.

Joint damages to the amount of approximately $50 were incurred as machines driven by Frank Horejs of route three and Harry Slatkin collided at the intersection of Second avenue east and Second street Sunday night.

INJURED MAN DIES

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—James Mullen, 75, injured when struck by a car at a street intersection here Saturday, died today. He tried to cross against the light.

SALE OF BICYCLE LICENSES STARTS

Norman Hollon Secures 'Tag' Number One, Records at City Hall Show

Bicycle licenses for the 1937-38 period went on sale this afternoon at the offices of City Clerk W. H. Eldridge, although they are not required on wheels until Sept. 1.

The licenses sell for 25 cents each and are required under city ordinance. Bicycles found without licenses are picked up and held until the owner secures the necessary tag.

This afternoon Norman Hollon became owner of license number one for the period. He was first in line today.

License number two went to Roy Fajen; license three to LeRoy Beck and license four to Verne Morse, records maintained by Mr. Eldridge show.

2 Paul Churches Are Reorganized

New Group to Be Known as Salem Church

PAUL, Aug. 23 (Special)—The two church groups, German Evangelical and German Congregational, which have held services jointly under the name Pilgrim Congregational church, have recently been reorganized.

Announcement is made of the purchase by the Evangelical group of all interests of the Congregational group. They have also secured the red brick church building east of Paul, where they will hold services in future under the name of the Salem church.

Officers elected include David Neiwert, president; David Sprier, secretary-treasurer; John Niewert, clerk; David Klauser, George Martin and Konrad Klamm, trustees.

Planes Attack Boat; No Damage Reported

MARSEILLES, France, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—The British freighter Nomeljulia reported by wireless today that it had been bombed 200 miles from Marseilles by two airplanes marked with white crosses in the middle of a black circle.

The ship said it had not been damaged and was heading for Port Vendres, France.

GIRL SOUGHT

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Police today were searching for 15-year-old Thelma Egbert, who has been missing for ten days and who is believed to have joined a circus. The girl, described as five feet and six inches in height and weighing 115 pounds, disappeared soon after a circus left the town.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS HOLD CEREMONIAL

Week's Outing Closed By Taking of Various Ranks And Program

Presided over by the camp director, Miss Georgia Mills, the climax to the week's activities of Camp Fire girls at their summer camp, near Easley hot springs, was the council fire held in camp Saturday evening. The event was attended by a number of parents and friends of the girls.

The fire lighting ceremony was conducted by Neoma Larrick, Beverly Woolley, Margaret Van Engelen, Ann Peavey, Virginia Ann Chase, Delores Campbell, and Jean Harvey. The Camp Fire song, "Burn Fire Burn," was sung by the group, with the Fire Lighters enacting the descriptive motions.

Swimming honors were presented by Miss Katherine Goff and Miss Mary Reams, including 77 pollywogs, 59 frogs, 6 fish, and 3 flying fish. A song to the swimmers followed, by the entire assemblage.

Miss Mills read a poem, "God When You Thought of a Pine Tree." Miss Margaret Davis presented campcraft honors to 17 Fagot Finders.

Activities

Camp activities were discussed by Doris McDonald, who told of nature lure practice; Betty Rae Harvey who explained the handicraft classes; and Delores Campbell who spoke on astronomy.

After the singing of a two-part round, "White Choral Bell," Mrs. J. E. Warner, representing the American Legion Auxiliary, presented the Poppy honors to 28 girls. Another song, "The Herdman," followed.

Ranks awarded by Miss Mills included 15 trail seekers, 9 wood gatherers, 10 fire makers, and 6 torch bearers. The torch bearer ranks were awarded to Patsy Warner and Neoma Larrick in handicraft; Ann Peavey, homecraft; Delores Campbell, music; Virginia Ann Chase, literature; and Mrs. Vida Campbell, social leadership. The group sang a cheer to the girls who had taken rank.

Seventy-seven good camper honors were also awarded.

Closing Ceremony

The program closed by the same girls who opened the ceremonies, and taps were sounded by Miss Margaret Davis.

In preparation for the affair, the fire was laid by Frances Reams and Charlotte Miller. Exhibits of handicraft and sketching were conducted throughout Saturday afternoon and evening, and also on Sunday. Two outstanding sketchers in the class conducted by Miss Nellie Ewer, were Katherine Conrow of the older girls' group, and Kathleen Orr, of the younger girls.

The camp, which proved most successful was officially closed Sunday noon, and was attended by approximately 175 Camp Fire girls.

U. P. Section Hand Is Killed by Fall

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah, Aug. 23 (U.P.) — Railway officials said today that a mangled body of a man believed to be a Union Pacific section hand had been found on the right of way here yesterday.

Tentatively identified as William Patterson, 40, the man was seen to fall from a gravel car in which he was riding with two other men. The body was dragged for a quarter of a mile, witnesses said.

He is believed to have been recently employed near Camas, Ida., by the Union Pacific.

BUHL FARM MAY SINK 20,000,000 YEARS, EXPERTS SAY

U. S. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY REPORTS LAND "SLIPPING"

Undercutting of River Given As Cause of Phenomenon In Salmon Canyon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Experts of the U. S. geological survey completed their study of the sinking Buhl, Idaho, farm today and gave an explanation of the phenomena which was anything but good news to Harley Robertson, who lives on the tract.

Robertson may not know it, but his land is "slipping," not "sinking." And that's not all—it may continue to slip for 20,000,000 years. At least, that's what the geological survey said.

This distinction, of course, is mere quibble to the Buhl irrigation farmer who has been watching his place drop from under him with subterranean rumblings and spurts of volcanic dust.

Photograph Examined

The experts of the geological survey examined the first official photograph of nature's sensational foreclosure, noted the cracks and contours and announced that the whole thing is just one big, lazy landslide. This is known to the scientists as a "landslip."

Because the region around Buhl has been built up by a series of lava flows, it was first thought the roof of a subterranean tunnel had tumbled in. Such tunnels were made when molten lava flowed away beneath a lava surface which had already hardened with the air.

That was the diagnosis of the strange decline and fall of the Robertson agricultural realm until Thomas R. Newell, the geological survey's district engineer at Boise, Idaho, sent the home office pictures and reports. Now the survey explains:

Wall Undercut

"The Salmon Falls river, southern tributary of the Snake river, has cut a rather steep-walled canyon into the silty beds of the Snake river plains. The river undercuts the canyon walls from time to time, and large masses of earth break away, some of them settling in the bottom of the canyon and others on the edges.

"The rocks that break off are of various sizes, and as they begin to break, cracks appear at the landward edges. In the case of large blocks, these cracks may sometimes be several hundred feet from the edge of the canyon. This appears to be the phenomena at Buhl."

Temperance Contest Winners Announced

BUHL, Aug. 23 (Special)—The Buhl W. C. T. U. poster contest closed last week with the following young people of the church winning prizes for their work: Miriam Cunningham, age 14, won first place; Barbara Allen, 10, took second and Robert Wood, 11, third.

The posters will be on display at the Filer fair in September. Forty posters were entered with the Nazarene church young people entering 17.

Poster judges were the Rev. Brooks Moore, Mrs. J. S. McHenry and Rev. J. D. Harden.

GOVERNOR HITS MEMORIAL IDEA

Tribute to Communists in Boston Is Claimed "Absurd"

BOSTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—On the 10th anniversary of the execution of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, Massachusetts' governor and Boston's mayor today rejected as "absurd" a proposal to establish on Boston Common a permanent memorial to the two Communists.

The proposal was made in an open letter by the Sacco-Vanzetti memorial committee, an offshoot of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee which ceased to function after the convicted slayers died in the electric chair.

"In my opinion the gesture is patently absurd," said Governor Hurley. "If I have final say on the matter it has no possible chance of acceptance," said Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield.

Sacco, a Stoughton shoe-maker, and Vanzetti, a Plymouth fish-peddler, were executed after a seven-year legal battle which had world-wide repercussions. They were convicted of murdering a paymaster and his guard in a $15,000 hold-up at East Braintree. The defense contended that their conviction resulted from their radical activities.

Stalks "Tiger"

Thomas E. Dewey, popular 35-year-old special prosecutor whose triumphant war on New York racketeers has been a nation-wide marvel, is agreeing to run on Mayor La Guardia's ticket, as district attorney, threatens Tammany hall control of another high office. Politicians even predict the death of the "Tiger" if she loses both these top civic offices.

SECRETARY ASKS STATE PUBLICITY

Ira H. Masters Requests Jaycees to Sponsor Advertising Plan

"I appeal to the Junior Chambers of Commerce as I would—as I could—to no other organization for the promotion of the state of Idaho as a tourist attraction, and to ask the state legislature at its next session to appropriate $100,000 for advertising and publicity," Ira H. Masters, secretary of state and a former Twin Falls publisher, told the third annual convention of state Junior Chambers of Commerce in the chief address of the convention banquet here Saturday night.

Masters reviewed similar projects in other states and cited the tourist business as an industry, rather than a sideline, and second only to agriculture in volume of money brought into the state.

"Everybody Gains"

"Everybody gains, either directly or indirectly from tourist trade," the secretary of state said, and explained the division of the tourist dollar to show that practically all lines of business are directly affected by the tourist income.

Masters suggested that the Junior Chambers become thoroughly acquainted with the vacation possibilities offered by the Gem state, then develop an educational program to appeal to those who have not definitely decided just where to spend their vacation. He indicated the possibilities for development of the tourist industry, which now is only in the "baby" stage, and said:

"I ask you in all candor and in all sincerity to nurture and feed and develop this infant in such a way that it may become one of the outstanding organizations of our great state."

Mayor Welcomes Guests

Mayor Lem A. Chaplin of Twin Falls welcomed the visitors to the city, telling them that "the fall is small, the judge kind-hearted—so enjoy yourselves."

Gov. Barzilla M. Clark sent greetings to the convention by telegraph.

Joe Blandford was toastmaster, introducing the speakers and prominent guests.

Following the banquet, the Jaycees were entertained at a convention ball in the Elks hall here.

Unwelcome Guest Of Old Faithful Inn Is Now Rug

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Yellowstone park's famed Old Faithful inn today had a new black bear rug, all because of an early-morning visit by a 250-pound brute.

Just as the sun was beginning to rise over the eastern hills early this morning, Tex Hammond, the inn's night watchman, peered through the dim light and saw the big bear padding up to the desk.

Mustering all his courage, Hammond sought to drive off the unwelcome visitor. Scampering about the lobby with Hammond at his heels, the bear suddenly wheeled and began to chase his pursuer.

Leaping over the table, Hammond managed to reach a telephone booth and hastily summoned a park ranger, one with a rifle or something.

In the meantime the bear had made his way to the fourth floor where he was nosing around when Ranger Leon Evans arrived. Evans aimed his rifle and fired a bullet squarely between the visitor's eyes. The bear dropped stone dead.

DROWNING ENDS PARTY ON LAKE

Hope of Finding Two Nevada Youths Alive Given Up By Searchers

BIJOU, Lake Tahoe, Calif., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Two University of Nevada youths were believed drowned when their rowboat overturned Sunday. Their companion was saved.

The missing youths were William Beardsley and William Noe, of Elko, Nev.

Searching parties recovered the rowboat from the windswept waters of the lake last night.

Morgan Mills, 23, university student from Sacramento, Calif., swam ashore, leaving his two companions clinging to the boat.

Both had life preservers but searchers had given up hope of finding them alive.

The youths, members of a Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity rush party, went on the lake during one of the severest windstorms of the summer.

The cheese consumption of Germany is 7.01 pounds per capita per annum.

SORRY OR SAFE?

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY TO GET GOLDEN PLY BLOW-OUT PROTECTION

... Ride on Goodrich Silvertowns!

● At today's higher driving speeds, even the most careful drivers run the risk of tragic blow-out accidents because of unsafe tires. And that does not mean that tires have to be badly worn or have broken casings for a blow-out to occur.

The truth of the matter is that many blow-out accidents are caused by the intense heat generated inside all tires at forty, fifty or sixty miles an hour. This heat may cause rubber and fabric to separate. A tiny, invisible blister may form and grow bigger and BIGGER until sooner or later, BANG! It's a blow-out.

When thousands are killed or injured every year in blow-out accidents, it's better to be safe than sorry. That's why safety experts advise motorists to ride on Goodrich Silvertowns, the only tires with Golden Ply Blow-out Protection.

This Life-Saver Golden Ply is a special layer of rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist dangerous internal tire heat. By realizing heat inside the tire the Golden Ply protects you against these dangerous high-speed blow-outs.

And here's real good news—in spite of the added safety of the Golden Ply, these long-wearing, extra-rugged Goodrich Silvertowns actually cost even less than other super-quality tires. Come in today and ask to see this life-saving tire.

What some of America's aquatic stars say about Camels

SPRINGBOARD ACE. Lovely Jane Fauntz Manske, of Chicago, says: "It's Camels for me! Good digestion is of prime importance to me. Tense competition and all the changes of diet when traveling are liable to upset digestion. But I smoke Camels at mealtimes and after and my digestion runs smoothly."

The best of meals tastes better and digests easier when you have an abundant flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids. Smoking Camels encourages this flow—helps you enjoy a sense of well-being. Steady smokers say: "Camels set me right!"

HAROLD ("DUTCH") SMITH, Olympic diving champion, would "walk a mile for a Camel!" "I find a great deal of pleasure in Camels," says "Dutch." "I long ago discovered that smoking a Camel restores my flow of energy after a strenuous meet—gives an invigorating 'lift.'"

THREE-TIME OLYMPIC WINNER in the high-diving event, Dorothy Poynton Hill, of Los Angeles—a steady Camel smoker—says: "I prefer Camels because they don't get on my nerves. And they have such a rich, delicate flavor and never tire my taste."

"PETE" DESJARDINS—another famous diver—speaking: "Divers like a mild cigarette that doesn't upset their nerves. That's why I prefer to smoke Camels."

ENJOY BENNY GOODMAN'S SWING BAND FOR A FULL HOUR! Tune in Benny's popular swingsters—hear his famous trio and quartette, Tuesdays—8:30 pm E. S. T. (9:30 pm E. D. S. T.), 7:30 pm C. S. T., 6:30 pm M. S. T., 5:30 pm P. S. T., over WABC-Columbia Network.

LENORE KIGHT WINGARD—a champion of champions in speed swimming, comments on smoking: "After an exhausting swim, I get a 'lift' with a Camel."

AQUAPLANE EXPERT. Miss Gloria Wheeden can do hand-stands on an aquaplane. Lunching on the speed boat, she says: "I get so much benefit smoking Camels at meals."

MILLIONS MORE FOR COSTLIER TOBACCOS

What About Meddling With F. B. of I.?

Recommendations by the senate's crime committee that investigating agencies of the federal government be consolidated in a single bureau will bear careful study and consideration before being acted upon.

The committee declared it had found a "general conviction that there has been a breakdown in our law-enforcement agencies and courts."

The senate committee's discoveries, surely, cannot have been based on a comparison of law enforcement in 1937, say, with law enforcement in the late 1920's and early 1930's. Does the senate committee forget the prevailing bank robberies and kidnapings of those years?

• • •

By all comparisons J. Edgar Hoover's Federal Bureau of Investigation agents rank as one of the most effective of law enforcement bodies in the world. When congress gave Hoover's men the right to carry firearms and make arrests, encompassing certain prevalent crimes under federal statutes, it started the G-men off an a crime corrective campaign which more than justified the drastic congressional action.

The Dillingers, the Floyds, the Kellys and the Nelsons passed out of the picture along with mass killings, quarter-million dollar ransoms and wholesale bank robbery.

There is no reasonable doubt but that the credit can be given to the F. B. I. and its young, trained and well-equipped personnel.

Politics has never played a part in Hoover's organization. Political connections, when they are sometimes brought to bear, usually turn out to be handicaps rather than aids. The agents are chosen from literally thousands of applicants. Each agent must either be a graduate lawyer or accountant (or have other qualifying attributes) for it is in these fields most of the F. B. of I. work lies.

There is no seniority system and men are promoted or demoted purely on merit.

• • •

The G-men are unique in this country, both in reputation and activity. And when the senate proposes consolidation of this group with other government law enforcement agencies, namely the Postoffice department, the Narcotic bureau, Treasury agents, the Customs bureau and the Coast guard, it would be well to look closely into the manner of consolidation.

If the high standards of the F. B. of I. are to be maintained and all other agencies brought to that level, it would be fine. If the proposal is a leveling off in the other direction, or an attempt at political maneuvering of the G-men, that's something else again.

What They Want

It is good to see foreign trade increasing. Not only is it profitable as an outlet for our manufactured goods, and thus translatable into terms of jobs, but it is generally true that normal trade relations throughout the world tend toward peace.

Figures just issued by a big eastern bank indicate that in the first four months of this year our foreign trade advanced 28 per cent, from $757,000,000 to $955,401,000. Interesting to note, however, are the particular classes of trade in which the advances were registered. Iron and steel exports were up 84 per cent. Farm machinery exports were up 59 and aircraft up 145 per cent.

It is splendid to see foreign countries buying more of our excellent farm machinery. But what in the world do you think they're going to do with all that steel and all those airplanes?

War preparation is a good big share in the answer. That takes a little of the joy out of expanding trade. For trade based on war or preparation for war can bring the world no solid benefits in the end.

Lost Money

Postal inspectors have cleared up another mail swindle which has bilked hard-headed business men, as well as the traditional widows and orphans, for years.

There was nothing new about this particular confidence game. It was the old "lost estate" trick that has been used and exposed again and again. A man named Baker was supposed to have died and left a will dated Dec. 27, 1837. The testament disposed of a large part of the land on which Philadelphia is built, not to mention various tracts of coal land throughout Pennsylvania.

Just why the will was allowed to kick around 100 years before being probated, the swindlers' prospectus didn't explain very clearly, nor the little matter of how title had been proved on this property during its frequent transfers in that 100 years.

But that didn't deter the "investors." They bit to the fine tune of several millions on the chance of being heirs. It took the government and 24 convictions to finally stop the flow of money that was much more completely lost than any estate could ever be.

BEHIND THE SCENES in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER

(Idaho Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—Friends and foes of Senator Hugo Black agree alike that the brief disturbance in the senate over his confirmation is likely to prove mere popgun stuff as compared with what may happen after he gets on the supreme court.

It is not necessary to impugn the "judicial temperament" of Senator Black, if any, in order to demonstrate the indubitable fact that Hugo has taken violent issue with the judicial attitudes of some of the sitting justices in the past or to arouse the horrid thought that he may introduce some of the rough-and-tumble practices of the senate floor to the supreme court's sacred cloisters.

One does not suggest that the distinguished whiskers of Chief Justice Hughes are in the slightest danger of being pulled by the aggressive senator from Alabama. Figuratively, mayhap, but never literally.

Justice Black has publicly charged that a bare court majority for "years has been assuming the right on their part to determine the reasonableness of acts of federal law. The constitution never gave that majority any such power." Since the senator was never meek-mouthed, the chances are that he will attempt, to wit and to say, to convince brethren of the court, both in conference and in his opinions, more bitterly than they have been slammed in years. Black, his friends and enemies figure, simply has to let off steam.

The conferences at which the justices air their views to each other in complete secrecy may never be the same again. One prominent lawyer, friendly to Black, suggests that the senator's opinions are as likely as not to contain references to things the chief justice said in conference. On the other hand, of course, Black may turn out to be at least as dignified and judicial as the average justice and perhaps more so.

MAY ATTACK APPOINTMENT

Another kind of trouble-making is in prospect through the likelihood that a 5 to 4 decision with Black on the majority side will sooner or later bring a legal test of the validity of Black's presence on the bench. You can't be sure, but it is considered fair bet that some litigant who comes out on the short end of such a decision will claim that Black isn't a justice and will then refuse to obey the law.

The prospect of fighting the validity of Black's appointment up through to the supreme court, where Justice McReynolds and perhaps others—possibly even a majority—might hold that Black had no business there is so bizarre yet far from impossible that the court's dignity might be seriously endangered.

That is why some lawyers predict that Chief Justice Hughes, whose great aim is to preserve the court's prestige, may make some public gesture to make Black's position appear solidified.

Arguments have been made that no vacancy existed in the court—a contention which was made no great dent in view of Justice Van Devanter's retirement—and that Black was disqualified because he voted for the retirement act, carrying retirement emoluments, under which Van Devanter resigned. That's a question for lawyers, however, and the senate—76 per cent composed of lawyers—has voted overwhelmingly to confirm the senator from Alabama.

HUGHES HOLDS SCALES

If Justice Hughes and Roberts keep voting for New Deal laws as they did this year, Roosevelt will have a "liberal majority" of 6 to 3 now that Black is to be a justice. But there is no assurance of that and if those twain return to the narrow interpretations they made in the 6 to 3 decision against AAA the conservative justices will outnumber the liberals by 5 to 4.

The one thing certain is that Black's appointment passes the scales of justice to Chief Justice Hughes, who will now be the man in the middle. Heretofore the question often has been whether Hughes could persuade Roberts to vote with him and the three liberals. Now, if Roberts rejoins the conservatives both groups will be pressuring Hughes to join them. Whether Hughes or Black will out-pressure the other is also an interesting topic for speculation.

FLOOD CONTROL SURVEY PLANNED

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The department of agriculture, in cooperation with army engineers, is planning a flood control survey on the largest scale ever undertaken in the United States.

Dr. A. L. Patrick, former professor at Pennsylvania state college, has been named chief of the survey division of the soil conservation service to direct a detailed survey of 222 watersheds, comprising one-fourth of the land area of the country.

Authorization for the survey was contained in the omnibus flood control act of 1936. Funds for starting preliminary surveys are contained in the army supply bill. The army and agriculture department will provide the $1,000,000 appropriation equally.

The preliminary surveys, which may take two or three years, are to be made to determine the feasibility of making later detailed surveys as a basis for erosion and flood control operations. Surveys will be made first on watersheds which have the most important bearing on floods.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

KATHLEEN O'HAN—heroine, writer of startling cave verses.

BOB McAVAIN—hero, detective story writer.

FAT—the janitor who played Cupid.

THE DUCHESS—patron of surrealist art.

PROFESSOR BRACEY—Egyptologist.

• • •

Yesterday, Bob checks with police on the identity of an Egyptian mummy expert who turned out to be chief. Can this be Professor Bracey?

CHAPTER X

FOR the next 10 days, the studio apartment house was buzzing with preparations and excitement. The Duchess' fancy dress ball was the subject of much comment in the papers and among the various art groups of the city.

"It's batty as a loon she is, and all the rest o' us'll be the same, I'm thinkin'," Pat told Bob one day. "We're all done up with wires and riggin' enough to drive anybody nuts that ain't already that 'way." Then he came closer and asked some out of one corner of his mouth, "Ye're goin', ain't ye?"

"She invited me all right," Bob answered, "and I'll be there, though not for the reason she thinks. I suggested she have my friend Steve Carnahan, from headquarters, and not tell anyone he's coming, if she's stuck to wear her famous emerald."

Pat nodded. "She'll wear the emerald, all right. Always does when she gives a big blowout. We'll likely be murdered in our tracks some day on account o' it. This Steve now?"

"He's a detective, and a good one," Bob pulled him inside the room and closed the door. "Say, you're helping the electrician, aren't you? Think we could fix it so that everyone would pass in front of a big light—to show off their costumes or something?"

PAT thought a minute, then he grinned. "Sure. Some o' thim dames would like nothin' better. I can put it up to the Duchess so she'll fall for it in a big way. Leave it to me. We'll rig up a regular shadow-box like's down at the jail, and give 'em the once-over in foine shape—or for foine shapes rather."

The night of the big ball, Kathleen listlessly put on her Irish peasant costume, and tied a green ribbon around her head. All the pleasure and excitement over the party had gone, because it was Professor Bracey who was to be her partner for the evening. Once or twice she had heard Bob and his dog pass her door and had hoped they would stop. But always they had gone on, while she reluctantly turned back to her desk.

Fittingly enough, Professor Bracey chose to come to the ball dressed as an Egyptian Pharaoh. Kathleen gasped with astonishment when she opened the door to the stately figure, whose black eyes only seemed to be alive. In his hand he carried a tiny statue of an Egyptian god.

"My!" she told him, "You actually gave me a start, you look so regal and—and so sinister."

"While you're so beautiful and young," he replied.

• • •

THE Duchess' huge studio had been transformed into a tropical garden, where brilliant birds fluttered among the palms and exotic flowers, and little fountains sprayed tinted jets of water. The soft music of stringed instruments drifted dreamily over the whole scene, weaving a magic spell of glamour that suited the fantastic, colorful costumes of the guests.

"Like it, Colleen?" asked the tall clansman coming up behind Kathleen.

For a minute she turned to him bewildered, then, "Bob! How glorious you look! With your kilt and sporran and Glengarry bonnet. You must look exactly like some of your ancestors. What did Schmatz think of you?"

"Not much of the smell of moth balls, which my clothes have been packed in. I knew they had these duds at home, so I sent for them. My family is certain now that I am crazy. Want to walk around and give this place the once-over? Yeah Pharaoh seems to be busy with the Duchess. She beckoned to him when you came in. Get an eyeful of that big emerald she's wearing. It's tops with jewel connoisseurs, I understand."

• • •

KATHLEEN looked at their hostess, then her eyes widened in astonishment. "Did you ever see anything so amazing? No wonder she came dressed like a queen. She's more beautiful than anyone in the room."

Kathleen looked again at the Duchess, who was sitting on a marble seat before a bank of roses. Professor Bracey was leaning over her, his smoldering gaze on the white neck and shoulders which her elaborate velvet costume displayed to the best advantage. Around her throat was a flashing necklace of diamonds, and lovely gems gleamed from the small tiara on her head. But the famous emerald surpassed them all. It hung from a thin chain low against her breast. Its magnificence was breath-taking.

"Not many men could resist her tonight, could they?" Kathleen asked a little wistfully. "And of course to a man of the world like Professor Bracey, she would be especially interesting."

Before Bob could reply, a swift dart of light came winging across the room from the bow of a huge electrical Cupid, which seemed to be hovering above the tall bank of ferns, and fell full on the Duchess and Bracey. This brought a burst of applause, and made the Pharaoh put up his hand as though to shield his eyes from the brightness.

"Pat—that's Pat up there," Bob told Kathleen. "He's working the beam from the Cupid's bow. Can't you imagine how that would appeal to his sentimental Irish soul? He was telling me about it yesterday. Since your other partner seems delighted, how about dancing?" He held out his arms and they drifted away to a dreamy waltz, weaving in and out among the crowd of gypsies, nymphs, cowboys, Indians, and harlequins.

• • •

FOR Kathleen all the months of heartbreaking work and worry were swept away and she was conscious only of a feeling of ecstasy that Bob's arms were about her, and his eyes were looking into hers.

"Cutting in, McTavish, and the queen orders you into her presence," said the Egyptologist's voice behind them.

Bob scowled and reluctantly relinquished his partner, made his way to the side of the Duchess, who held out her hand and drew him down beside her.

"I've been waiting all evening to hear you say you love me, Bob dear," she began with regal audacity. "Most of the other men have already told me, but you're the only one who could really make it mean something to me."

Here was a dangerous woman with wealth and beauty and position, actually making love to him, an unknown writer. It was too ridiculous, too—

"You see I can't possibly believe you, Duchess, because I'm in love with someone else," he said slowly as though just realizing for the first time that this was so. "I'm in love with a girl who doesn't love me," he added.

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

AUG. 23, 1922

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Ruth Way to Cass Figge of Twin Falls was made by friends of these young people yesterday. Figge left town Monday and will meet Miss Way in Salt Lake City on her way west from her home at Chillicothe, Mo. The ceremony will be performed this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Figge will arrive in Twin Falls soon to make their home. The bride has been the principal of Bickel school for the past several years and the groom is employed by the Boyle Commission company. They have each a host of friends who wish them happiness.

Daughters of the Rotary club members and daughters pro-tem were the guests of the club at noon today at Tom's cafe. Several Camp Fire girls provided entertainment and Miss LeNelle Breckenridge sang a solo. Margaret Scilley, speaking in behalf of the girls, thanked the club for the entertainment.

27 YEARS AGO

AUG. 23, 1910

Paul Smith and F. Schuster left Thursday evening of last week for Salt Lake City. They are delegates from the local aerie of Eagles to the tri-state Eagles' convention at which will be present Eagles from all parts of Utah, Wyoming and Idaho.

Mrs. W. H. Greenhow and daughter, Miss Nan Greenhow, returned this week from a few weeks' outing and visit with friends and relatives in and near Portland.

Miss Julia Hood, buyer for the Twin Falls branch of the Golden Rule Mercantile company, returned this week from a buying trip to New York City. Miss Hood was in New York the day Mayor Garner was shot and reports the excitement could not have been greater had the President been the victim.

Roosevelt Family Letter In Four Riming Lines

LEE, Mass. (U.P.)—One of President Roosevelt's memories of his father concerns an oddly addressed letter.

In a letter to Rep. Allen T. Treadway on the 85th anniversary of Lee savings bank, the President wrote that Alexander Hyde, one of the bank's incorporators, then Lee's postmaster, had handled a letter from a Roosevelt cousin, addressed:

"To Master James Roosevelt at Lee
This little missive send I thee.
In care of his friend, Dr. Hyde.
In whom all people much confide."

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

From 10 to 15 per cent of all people respond to the eating of certain food substances with constitutional reactions. The foods to which they are sensitive may be such wholesome articles of diet as milk, eggs or certain fish, or such appetizing luxuries as strawberries and shellfish.

As I have already pointed out, a baby who is sensitive to eggs can be made severely sick by eating an amount of egg that is too small to be weighed on a chemical scale. In fact he may be made sick by a kiss from his mother after she has just eaten some egg. A person who is sensitive to honey may be made severely ill not only by eating honey but by eating a piece of candy in which a small amount of honey has been incorporated. A person who is sensitive to cotton seed oil may be made severely sick by eating a biscuit baked in a pan that has been slightly greased with cotton seed oil.

The reactions in some cases are the eruptions that have already been mentioned. In other cases they consist of severe intestinal irritation with diarrhea and in still other instances they may be just a feeling of illness.

Nowadays the attempt to determine the nature of such sensitivities involve some scientific detective work. Here is a story of a typical case.

A baby girl, six weeks old, suffered with an unusual swelling of the leg for which no cause could be determined. The baby had received nothing but its mother's milk and had gained weight steadily until it was three weeks old. Then the swelling began. It lasted five days. Later the face and the right arm swelled.

In the next three weeks the swelling came and went in different portions of the body. Finally it was decided to study the mother's diet. She lived largely on pork and bacon, supplemented rarely with chicken, and the main source of her diet was corn bread and dried white navy beans. Occasionally she had potatoes, onion or canned corn.

Scratch tests were made on the skin of the baby, using its mother's milk and the milk of three other mothers. The baby reacted promptly with swelling where its mother's milk was injected but did not react to the milk of th other mothers. Then the baby was tested with the different foods which the mother had taken. The baby reacted promptly to extracts of navy beans.

The mother was put on a diet from which beans and corn were eliminated and within 36 hours the swelling disappeared.

An improved type of de-icer for aircraft, to be used by commercial planes during the coming winter season, has been approved by the United States bureau of air commerce.

You May Not Know That—

A $500 reward offered by the U. S. government for a cannon stolen from a pack mule on the Owyhee river in 1878 is still in effect. A company of Indian fighting volunteers were camped near Juniper mountain when the 'Hotchkiss' was purloined, presumably by Indian foes. Various clues arise occasionally as to the location of the gun, but so far all search has proved fruitless.

The Newest Books

"Small Talk" (Harcourt Brace), by Harold Nicholson.—A collection of essays rich in anecdotes that will be welcomed by all who read the author's "Some People."

"Guilty in the Tropics" (Sheridan House), by Edmund Whitman.—A rousing story of the clash of two races, white and black, who live by different codes.

"This Is the Town" (Appleton Century), by James Warner Bellah.—A fast-paced love story laid in New York, highly readable and concerning the story of a Southern girl who came to the metropolis for several reasons and found romance.

"Madame Flowery Sentiment" (Covici Friede), by Albert Cervalli.—A romantic novel of a Chinese lady of the not-too-old school and a French doctor.

"Eve's Doctor" (Harcourt Brace), by Signe Toksvig.—The woman patient falls in love with her physician, but it's an unusual story.

"Nightly She Sings" (Knopf), by Edwin Olmstead.—The mad tale of young love momentarily gone awry, with the action centering in a Manhattan "clip joint."

"Microphone Memoirs" (Bobbs Merrill), by Credo Fitch Harris.—An interesting story of the "wild and woolly" days of broadcasting told by a man who was among the earlier "radiocasters."

"Boss of The Rafter C" (Green Circle), by Jay Lucas.—A different western of wild, rough and tough cowboys who try to rule each other.

"Murder at Government House" (Harpers), by Elspeth Huxley.—An entertaining first-mystery novel with a mythical West African background.

"Background to Danger" (Knopf), by Eric Ambler.—International espionage and intrigue, involving London bankers, Rumanian oil, Soviet war documents and murder.

"Pastorial" (Doubleday Doran), by Eleanor Green.—A short but fascinating story of the growth of a man close to nature that is as penetrating as the author's earlier work, "The Hill."

"Sunset at Noon" (Lippincott), by Ruth Feiner.—A girl's struggle to success through masculine hazards, outstanding for its skillful characterization.

"Merry Mixer Cook Book" (Harpers), by Helen Roberts on.—Here are 240 pages for the bride and the groom. The recipes are easy to follow and the book makes dinner planning simple.

"Down Under" (Lippincott), by Percival Wentworth.—A blend of mystery and romance that makes absorbing reading.

"Pigeon Post" (Lippincott), by Arthur Ransome.—An excellent juvenile story of the adventures of Coot Club, the Swallows and the Amazons.

"Siege of the Alcazar" (Knopf), by Major Geoffrey McNeil-Moss.—The 70-day history of the famous siege written from diaries, reports and personal stories.

"Hunted" (Appleton Century), by George Gibbs.—The story involves a haunted mesa, archaeology, a society girl, Indians and a thread of romance with everything turning out all right.

"A Trojan Ending" (Ranndolph House), by Laura Riding.—A novel of the siege of Troy, which follows closely the events of the Iliad.

"Who Is Nemo?" (Lippincott), by Roy Douglas.—Dangaterism in an English setting, with plenty of blood and thunder. The action is fast and the plot is sufficiently compact and plausible to satisfy the chronic mystery fan.

"They Found Him Dead" (Crime Club), by Georgette Heyer.—The discerning reader can solve this one but it will keep you on your mental toes.

"Roundabout" (Dutton), by Benjamin Appel.—A story of hack politicians, with an exposition of the red tape in WPA.

"The Clue of the 14 Keys" (Crime Club), by Miles Burton.—Burton pulls the vulnerable punch until almost the last page.

THREE CONTROL RICH COMMODITY

Trio of Texans Administer Regulatory Laws For Oil Industry

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.)—Three men—members of the Texas railroad commission — who administer regulatory laws for the world's greatest oil supply, control probably the most valuable commodity in the world.

The three men are elected by Texas' 1,000,000 voters and the term is six years, although all have served more than a single term. The chairman is C. V. Terrell and members are Col. Ernest O. Thompson and Lon A. Smith.

Once each month they issue a general order, authorizing each of the state's 70,000 wells its pro rata share of oil to be produced during the following month. The estimate is based on market demand, as estimated by the U. S. bureau of mines and on the amount of oil in storage.

For July 1, and the next 30 days with minor adjustments, these three ordered a daily production of 1,385,478 barrels in Texas—one-fourth of all the oil produced in the world. If permitted to produce as they could, those 70,000 Texas wells could literally flood the market with oil ruining the market for a precious commodity.

The Texas conservation system has been developed in a little over four years, but already its efficiency has been proclaimed by the World Petroleum congress at Paris as "the greatest program of conservation by law, one that has not been approached anywhere else on the globe."

EFFORT MADE TO RAISE STANDARDS

Legislatures, Unions Join To Increase Southern Wage Levels

ATLANTA, Ga. (U.P.) — Labor standards in the South are being raised under the dual attack of legislative actions and unionization drives, a United Press survey reveals.

Wage levels in the South long have been substantially lower than those in the North.

Welcomed by small towns and cities which have granted free building sites, power, water and lights, and exempted the companies from taxation, sources of industries have moved southward. Mississippi's balance agriculture with industry" law is offered as an example of inducements tendered industries to establish plants in the South. Under that law cities are permitted to sell bonds with which to construct buildings and other inducements are allowed such as tax exemptions, free power and water.

Louisiana has a law which grants a 10-year tax exemption to new industries. Georgia recently ratified two constitutional amendments which permits the city of Waycross and Ware county to levy taxes for attracting new industries. Similar inducements have been granted in cities in Tennessee, Alabama and the Carolinas.

The word "and" is used 46,271 times in the Bible.

Convention Activities Climaxed with Dance

The Elk's hall was the scene, Saturday evening, of the convention ball, climaxing the day's activities of members of the Idaho Junior Chamber of Commerce and their wives, who were in Twin Falls attending the session.

Chuck Helm's Continentals furnished music for the occasion, and the highlight of the evening was a floor show presented by Marie Dunn Helm. Mrs. Helm, in a gold evening gown, acted as mistress of ceremonies and announced the various musical and dance numbers.

Students of Mrs. Helm taking part were Nola Jean Minchew in a novelty number, "Wake Up and Live"; Wayne Kenworthy, "Satan Takes a Holiday"; Betty June Tarr, rhythm tap dance; Miss Phyllis Robinson's number was "Carelessly"; June Morrison presented "Acrobatic Supreme"; and Muriel Pugliano a novelty number "How Could You." The final presentation was an American rhumba, deriving its name from a combination of tap and carioca, and entitled "Tapioca," by Wayne and Roberta, professional dance team from the coast.

Yesterday's activities included golf at the Country club, and various theater parties. Guests were also taken to points of interest in the vicinity.

AFFAIR FOR MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Mothers and daughters of the Twin Falls stake of the Latter Day Saints church were guests Saturday afternoon at a reception held in the garden of Mrs. Edna Stokes' home on Tenth avenue north. The garden was transformed into an outdoor living room, with attractive arrangements of lawn and indoor furniture.

The decorative note was further carried out in large baskets of flowers in the M. I. A. colors of green and gold. The lace covered table was centered with a bowl of flowers placed on a mirror base, and green tapers completed the color motif.

During the reception hours from four to eight o'clock, Ward Mutual presidents presided at the table.

Officers of the Young Women's M. I. A. stake board were in the receiving line, and the afternoon program was presented by members of the various groups attending, which included accordion selections by Mrs. Myrtle Rogers; an instrumental duet by Miss Ora Egbert and Miss Doris Egbert, Murtaugh; violin selections, Miss Evon McBride; and several vocal numbers by Mrs. Corless.

Others taking part on the program were Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. McFarland, Kimberly, who sang a duet; and Mrs. Ruby Henderson, Mrs. Bert Brown, and Mrs. Flossie Kirkman presented a trio.

Mrs. Sara Yates and Mrs. Norma Wilcken composed the invitation committee; Mrs. Melba Hall had charge of the receiving line; Mrs. Alice Richins, Mrs. Lorinda Phillips, and Mrs. Ida McBride, decorations and refreshments; Mrs. Stokes, Mrs. Rogers, and Mrs. Ruth Moon, program. Mrs. Belle H. Wilson was general chairman.

MARRIAGE VOWS EXCHANGED BY PAIR AT RITES

Following the church services at the Christian church yesterday, Miss Marian Lee, niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Whitzel, and Chester Eslinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Eslinger, both of Twin Falls, were united in marriage. Rev. Mark C. Cronenberger, pastor, read the ceremony.

Miss Fern Whitzel, Miss Wanda Haskins, and Miss Lucille Haskins, sang "At Dawning," accompanied by Miss Helen Slack. Miss Slack played the wedding march, as the wedding party entered the church.

The bride's gown was of yellow lace over satin in the same shade, made street length, and she wore a black velvet hat with short matching veil. Her flowers were salmon and white gladioli.

Miss Wilma Eslinger, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. She wore a black satin gown, also in street length. Marvin Eslinger was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Whtizel arranged a wedding dinner at their home, which was served immediately following the ceremony. Guests at the dinner were the immediate families of the couple, and Orvin Bland. the tiered wedding cake was cut and served by the bride.

The couple have left for a week's wedding trip in the mountains. They will leave the latter part of September for Denver, where Mr. Eslinger will resume his studies at Denver Medical school.

Mrs. Eslinger is a graduate of Twin Falls high school and Mr. Eslinger attended the College of Idaho and the University of Colorado.

ONE KILLED IN WEEK-END CRASH

17-Months-Old Infant Near Death as Result of Auto Accident

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—One person was dead today and a 17-months-old infant was near death of injuries suffered in week-end accidents in Utah.

Clair Hirschi, 22, Rockville, grandson of former State Senator David Hirschi, Hurricane, was instantly killed when his motorcycle left the highway near Zion national park museum in the park. He sustained a broken neck.

Dorothy Brown, infant daughter of Mrs. F. B. Brown, Salt Lake City, was in an American Forks hospital with a possible fractured skull and other injuries suffered when three automobiles crashed on the highway 20 miles south of here.

Police were seeking an intoxicated man driving a stolen car which crashed into a car driven by Mrs. Edna May Jacobson, Chicago, throwing Jacobson's car against the automobile in which Mrs. Brown and the child were riding.

Three hitch-hikers riding with the man were slightly injured. He stopped after the crash to let them out and then sped on, witnesses said.

TAXPAYERS NOTICE

The taxpayers who began to pay off their delinquent taxes of 1928 in 1935 and the 1929 in 1936, should pay 1930 taxes this year to keep property from going to Tax Deed.

The persons who only owe 1932 and following years should pay 1932 taxes this year and 1933 next year to keep property from going to Tax Deed. Therefore there is a time coming when the persons who began paying the first way, must pay two years in one, if they wish to hold their property. So they really should pay 1930 and 1931 this year and 1932 and 1933 next year, so they will get caught up.

RUDY YORK LEADS TIGERS TO DOUBLE WIN

Rookie Hits Pair of Homers; Yanks Beat Philadelphia, 4 to 1

Cubs Increase Lead Full Game by Downing Cincinnati Twice as Giants Are Idle

By LESLIE AVERY

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—The major leagues realized today that an unheralded rookie, Rudolph Preston York, was stealing the home run show.

Rudy, a 24-year-old Georgian who was voted the most valuable player in the American Association while playing with Milwaukee last year, is smacking four-baggers at a faster clip than any of the famous willow wielders—DiMaggio, Foxx, Gehrig, Greenberg and Medwick.

York, who has supplanted Mickey Cochrane behind the Detroit Tiger plate, has hit 23 home runs to date while playing in 67 games. DiMaggio, who is leading both leagues in circuit clouts, has hit 36 in 106 tilts.

Coming to the Tigers as a first baseman, York found big Hank Greenberg staging a miraculous comeback to hold his position. He was tried at third base where his 200 pounds spread over a six-foot, one-inch frame definitely did not fit. Cochrane's injury by a "bean ball" forcing him from the game, gave Rudy his big chance.

Two Yesterday

York hit homers 22 and 23 yesterday, clouting the first one as the Tigers crushed the St. Louis Browns, 11-3, in the opener of a twin bill. His second came in the ninth inning of the nightcap when Detroit made two runs to tie the score. Pitcher Poffenbergers grounder after singles by Laabs and Owen in the 10th gave Detroit the game, 4-3.

Detroit's double victory cut the Yankees' American league lead by a half-game. But the McCarthy men still led by 11 games by licking the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-1, in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader rained out after five innings of play. DiMaggio clouted his 36th home run.

Cleveland and Chicago divided a twin bill, the veteran Ted Lyons scattering five hits to beat Bob Feller and give Chicago a 5-2 decision in the first. Feller was wild and walked seven men. Earl Averill hit a home run in the eighth frame of the nightcap to win 3-2 for Cleveland.

The Washington-Boston games were rained out.

Cubs Gain

In the National league, the Chicago Cubs boosted their lead to four games when a twin win over the Cincinnati Chatley Root doled out six hits to take the first 4-1, Cavaretta hit a four-bagger. Tex Carleton scattered nine safeties in winning the second, 5-2.

Both New York's scheduled games with Philadelphia were postponed by rain and will be played today.

St. Louis Cards won a pair. Bob Weiland twirled a three-hitter, hit a home run and a single—driving in three runs—in blanking Pittsburgh, 12-0, in the opener. Dizzy Dean turned in his first win since July 4, and his 13th of the year, scattering 11 safe blows to down the Pirates, 9-7, in the finale.

Brooklyn scraped together nine hits in six innings to beat the Boston Bees, 8-1, before rain halted a scheduled double-header.

Amateur Golfers Get Wet Day For Start of U. S. Tourney

By JAMES S. SHERRY

ALDERWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Weather conditions and predictions were unfavorable today as 150 of the leading national amateur golfers opened their annual tournament here.

A meteorological prelude to the opening was marked by flashes of lightning and a cloudburst that left the course soggy and wet.

Despite weather conditions, however, the club swingers went into action and by sundown, or darkness if there is no sun, 30 of them will have been eliminated in the opening plays of 18 holes. Elimination plays of 18 holes will continue tomorrow and then the survivors will face ordeals of 36 holes.

Johnny Fisher, of Fort Thomas, Ky., defending title holder, was teamed with Gus Moreland of Peoria, Ill., yesterday against Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, Neb., and Fred Haas, jr., of Baton Rouge, La., national intercollegiate champion. Don Moe, of Portland, went around as the fifth wheel. Haas and Fisher both carded 71, or one under par. Moe marked 74, Goodman 77 and Moreland 79.

Sidney Milligan, of Eugene, Ore., and John O. Levinson, of Kennebunk Beach, Me., were marked down to open the tournament eliminations today. Thereafter twosomes will tee off every five minutes until 3:25 p. m.

The 64 club swingers making low scores today and tomorrow will continue their grind Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with the quarter and semi-finals on the latter two days and the finals will be held Saturday on 36 holes over a 6,992-yard layout.

SOLONS CAPTURE PADRE CONTESTS

Sacramento Crew Only Half Game From Top After Double Victory

By United Press

A program of 11 consecutive games between the two contenders for first place in the Pacific Coast league left the Sacramento Solons one half game closer to the San Diego Padres than when the long programs started.

By winning both ends of a Sunday double-header the Solons moved to within half a game of the pacesetters.

The double victory gave them the current series, four to three, and gave them also six games of the 11 played between the two clubs.

Freitas Wins

San Diego's nemesis, left-handed Tony Freitas, swing the balance toward the capital city club. Victorious twice and beaten once in previous starts against San Diego during the 11-game program, Freitas took the pitching peak in the second game yesterday, with the series even and the teams tied at five victories each, and hurled the route to a 2-1 win. San Diego was first to score, pushing a run across in the first frame.

Los Angeles and the San Francisco Seals remained in a tie for third as each split a double bill.

Double Bill Split

Los Angeles, beaten five times in a row by Seattle, put on a home run show to beat the Indians in the first game, 8-6. In the second game Seattle captured its sixth of the series with an 8-3 win.

The San Francisco Seals staged an eighth-inning rally to beat Will Ludolph and the Oakland Oaks, 7-6, in the first game of their twin bill. In the second game Floyd Olds of the Oaks blanked the Seals for a 5-0 win.

The Mission Reds scored one of their rare series triumphs in taking two games from Portland, giving the Reds a four-three edge in the series.

Trio Wins Prizes At Golf Tourney

JEROME, Aug. 23 (Special)—Mrs. Al Robinson, Mrs. O. L. Thoreson and Mrs. H. Maine Hinton, won prizes at the women's golf tourney last week. Following the games a breakfast was served at the Floyd Beds club house.

Other players were Mesdames Floyd Beddall, A. D. McMahan, Willah Spaeth, P. H. Beveridge, E. W. Sinclair, L. W. Greving, Charles Welteroth and Weil W. Wilson.

Ignorance May Give Farr Louis Victory

Challenger Does Everything Wrong—Which May Baffle Negro World's Champ

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—For the first time in the memory of the oldest old-timer a challenger for the world's heavyweight boxing championship is being given a chance of victory because of his ignorance of matters that pertain to the manly art of self-defense.

Tommy Farr of Wales is the challenger, and the only reason he is seen as a menace to Joe Louis' championship on Thursday night in the Yankee Stadium is that he is so awkward, so clumsy, so gauche. If Tommy were a little better boxer, a little more orthodox in his delivery of punches, Louis would be held at much shorter odds than he is today.

Many critics are inclined to believe that Farr's only hope of lifting the royal purple off Joe's seal-brown shoulders lies in his peculiar style of boxing. Which, to be truthful about it, breaks all the accepted rules.

Everything Wrong

Starting from the ground up and continuing to the top of his head, the Welshman does nothing along accepted lines. His footwork is as abandoned as that of a darky dodging through a watermelon patch. Not even Farr knows what he is going to do next with those No. 13 booties of his. He throws his punches just as weirdly. He may start his left high one time, and low the next. The same goes for his right.

One moment he fights from a stand-up pose, reminiscent of those old early sporting sprints. A round later he is just as likely to employ a Dempsey weave and a Greb shuffle. He is as uncertain as a snake on a hot rock or a henna-haired gal.

Strict Orders

Louis fights under strict orders. He has to, because it has been proven that Louis, when thrown out on his own, is likely to stage a one-man panic. Smacked with a solid punch, a damaging punch, and he begins to disintegrate. He forgets his letter of instructions.

There is a possibility that Farr's bizarre ring tactics may upset him mightily.

Farr is a cutey with his noggin. I watched him in two workouts, and his uppercut with the skull is a delightful bit of business.

I talked with one of his sparring mates, Abe Feldman, and Abe, no slouch of a workman himself, said he never had boxed with a fellow who was so baffling.

"He looks lousy from the ringside," Abe said, "but when you get in there with him he is tough as hell. He'll give Louis a full evening or I miss my guess."

JOHNSON BREAKS 100-METER MARK

Columbia University Man Sets New World Record at 'University Olympics'

PARIS, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—A new world record for 100 meters was claimed today for diminutive Ben Johnson, Columbia university Negro, who covered the distance in 10.2 seconds at the international "University Olympics."

Johnson's time cut one-tenth of a second off the recognized mark of 10.3 held jointly by Eddie Tolan, Ralph Metcalfe, Eulace Peacock of the United States, Percy Williams of Canada and Christian Berger of Holland.

Johnson also won the 200 meter dash. Other track victories were C. L. Belcher, Georgia Tech, 400-meters; Elroy Robinson, Fresno state, 800-meters; Jack Patterson, Rice Institute, 400-meter hurdles; and U. S. 1,600-meter relay team.

American field triumphs were registered by George Varoff, Olympic club San Francisco, pole-vault; Ken Carpenter, Southern California, discus throw; and Cornelius Johnson, high jump.

Runner-up honors were taken by Leroy Kirkpatrick of Los Angeles who ran behind D. Finch of England in the 110-meter high hurdles; and Ray Allee of the Olympic club, whose shotput was about six inches shorter than that of the Lithuanian entrant.

Palomino Horses

RENO, Nev. (U.P.)—The largest stables of Palomino horses in the world are located at the Nevada stock farm, historic breeding and training ranch for George Whitfield's famous race horses. The farm, now the state's biggest dude ranch, has 50 of the beautiful cream colored horses distinguished by their silver manes and tails. Thirty of them are registered animals.

The whelk, a mollusk found over most of the world, bores holes in the shells of other mollusks with its tongue.

BELL TOLLS DEATH

OSWEGO, N. Y. (U.P.)—A tolling bell announced the death of Mayor Richard C. Cullinan. The bell rang 72 times, once for each year of the mayor's life.

Mac Violates Confidence Of Pal; Spills Grid Dope

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—My original plans called for me to do an analytical essay on the Japanese-Chinese situation today, with especial emphasis on the Whangpoo river and its tributaries. But while I was polishing off a dish of chop suey to get in the right frame of mind, in came a letter from Rufus Stanley Woodward of the New York Herald Tribune, the country's best football writer.

At the risk of incurring Mr. Woodward's ire—for I am sure he meant me to keep the letter secret, I am going to print it. Here, in the same flowing Spencerian hand in which it was written, is the letter:

East Football Gentle

"Dear Henry:

"Perhaps you would be kind enough to tell your clientele in the temperate and intemperate zones about the Noble experiment which we are about to conduct in the town of New York. For some years it has been generally concluded, some think proved, that eastern football was definitely gentler than that which was played in the more naive sub-divisions of the country.

"Last fall, however, the eastern teams leveled their outland opponents in two-thirds of the intersectional games. The last touch was applied when Pittsburgh murdered great and good Washington in the Rose Bowl. You will remember that Dr. Jock Sutherland had to apply heavy pressure English to keep the Panthers from adding to an already lopsided score. After his boys had made 20 points, he weakened the team by substituting third stringers in strategic positions.

Idea Gets Around

"The general superiority of the east last fall bred the idea that a selected group of eastern players might be able to take down the hair of the professionals, something which none of Mr. Arch Ward's Chicago entourages has yet been able to do.

"Consequently we went out and engaged Yale's Larry Kelley, Army's Monkey Meyer and excellent supporting cast, recruited alike from ivy and poison ivy colleges. The group, comprising 31 men now is in training down in Jersey under Colgate's Andy Kerr. It will be turned loose on the New York professional Giants under Polo Grounds flood-lights the night of September 8.

"If the Giants, who are largely recruited from the south, southwest and middlewest can hang it on the combined academic power of the true east, the chauvins of this section will be, at least temporarily, silenced, if not, vice versa.

Customers Avid

"I have to confess it, pal, but the prospective game is proving the provincialism of New York. A year ago we brought Arch Ward's All-Americans to play the Giants. The customers, while giving the thing a fair play, were very much more apathetic about buying tickets than they are this year. The boys and girls seem to want to see the players they have always seen, and to hell with the Thinsleys, Widesths, Drakes and Baughs.

"Both college and professional factions appear to be well whipped up over the situation, so may I suggest that you bring your digitalis and pulmotor to the Polo Grounds on September 8 (8:30 E. D. T.)

"Solicitously yours,

"Rufus Stanley Woodward."

Game for Charity

Rufus Stanley, the old Amherst tackle, forgot to mention that the game between the eastern stars and the hired hands will be for the benefit of one of the swellest charities in the big town—the Herald Tribune fresh air fund. The money is used to take the girls and boys off New York's blistering, dirty streets and send them for two weeks in the country where the grass is green and a fellow can play a game of ball without stopping in the middle of his wind-up to dodge an automobile.

NET MEET SWEPT BY CALIFORNIANS

All Four Titles in National Event Go to Western Tennis Aces

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—A strong southern California tennis team left for home today after winning all four championships of the 15th annual public parks tennis tournament.

The final chapter of the tourney was written at South Park yesterday when the southern Californians annexed the men's singles, women's singles and men's doubles crowns after winning the women's doubles championship Saturday.

Lewis Welhereli of Santa Ana, Calif., retained the singles crown he won at St. Louis last year by whipping a fellow-Californian, Ronald Lubin, of Los Angeles, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Petite Mary Arnold, of Los Angeles, who eliminated defending Champion Elizabeth Dicke, of Pasadena, on Friday, was forced to the full three-set distance in defeating Mrs. Gertrude Docknader, also of Los Angeles, 0-6, 6-3, 6-2.

In the men's doubles, Willis Anderson, of Los Angeles, and Lubin overwhelmed the St. Louis team of Ward Packer and Frank Keaney, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4. Anderson played a superb game at the net and from deep court, while Lubin's beautiful lobbing and close net play kept the opposition on the defensive almost constantly.

Two Semi-Pro Baseball Clubs Still Unbeaten

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—The Enid, Okla., Eason Oilers and the Buford, Ga., club today remained undefeated in the national semi-pro baseball tournament.

The two clubs will meet Tuesday night in the feature match of the eliminations.

Buford defeated the Tacoma, Wash., team 11-8 in a slugging exhibition Sunday. Buford used four pitchers, Tacoma three. The Georgians drove in four runs in the first inning. Tacoma scored five times in the fourth but Buford rallied three in the fifth and four more in the seventh. Dormont, Pa., lost 2-3 to Enid.

Teeter Takes Every Race Event at Meet

900 Attend Outing at Salmon Dam; Scouts Present Life Saving Demonstration

Don Teeter of Buhl ran away with the lion's share of wins Sunday as members of the Southern Idaho Boating club staged that group's first annual regatta at Salmon dam reservoir, seven miles from Rogerson.

Rough water throughout the day caused curtailment of part of the program, according to Lud A. Drexler, president, who said the small speed boats could not successfully battle the whitecaps.

Teeter, in a utility boat powered with a 33 and one-half horsepower outboard motor, won all events from surf board pulling contests to the five-mile open race. The smaller boat owners had to content themselves with staying close to shore and hauling passengers.

Surf Riding Feature

A feature of the day was the surf board riding exhibition given by Ruth McRoberts, only woman to "skip the water" in that manner during the day although many men turned the trick over the choppy course. Miss McRoberts was undaunted after what was described as a "nasty" spill while traveling at top speed and returned to ride again.

So realistic was the life-saving demonstration staged by several Boy Scouts under the direction of Walt Williams that the hundreds of people crowding the shore believed it a real drowning. Several had to be restrained from entering the water in an attempt to rescue the boy who had purposely fallen from a speeding motor boat.

350 Take Rides

During the day, Drexler said, more than 100 persons rode in motor boats for the first time while a total of nearly 350 were carried as passengers on long and short trips.

No serious accidents were recorded during the day long schedule of activities although 10 were treated by Boy Scouts for minor cuts and scratches. Most of these were children, Drexler said.

By actual count, 274 cars carrying more than 900 persons were present during the regatta. Hundreds of this group took advantage of a fine beach to form family picnics.

Although they continue to grow for years, it is thought that whales mature at less than three years of age.

KIMBERLY WINS OVER BUHL, 15-14

Commercials Take 11-Inning Battle in Comedy Of Errors

BUHL, Aug. 23 (Special)—Errors played the most important part in the Buhl-Kimberly battle here yesterday as the visitors pounded out a 15-14 win in 11 innings.

Making an error for every two hits, the two teams piled up a total of 15 miscues and 31 hits for 29 runs scored.

Going into the ninth inning with a five-run advantage, the Kimberly defense cracked and two hits coupled with three errors resulted in the home team knotting the score. In the tenth, Lacy, first man up for the Buhl club got to third base, but he died there when the visitors played air-tight ball.

The Buhl team got 13 hits, as compared with 18 for the Commercials.

Next Sunday the local club will be host to the powerful Burley team in a return contest.

Wars On Crows

MT. CARROLL, Ill. (U.P.) — The crow population of Carroll County has been decreased by at least 555 since the county board established a bounty of 10 cents a head effective April 1. Hunters in eight of the 14 townships have turned in crows' heads and collected various sums, but the champion crow-killer was Orion Leavens, of Thomson, who killed 325.

"Setback" Will Not Discourage Premier

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Premier William Aberhart of Alberta, whose social credit banking legislation was vetoed by the dominion government at Ottawa "for the public good," said today he was not discouraged by this "setback" and planned to serve out the remaining three years of his term.

"If I have not obtained results by then," he added, "I will be glad to retire."

STRIKE AVERTED AT HAILEY MINE

Unions and Company Come to Terms After Meeting On Friday

HAILEY, Aug. 23 (Special) — A strike in the Hailey Triumph mine was averted yesterday by a compromise between the Snyder Co. and the workers' labor union. The proposal offered by the company at an all-union meeting Friday afternoon was accepted by the men with certain amendments made by the union committee.

Neal Snyder, representing the company, Mr. Freeman, union organizer and representative, and the workers' committee drew up the plan which was accepted by an overwhelming majority of the voting laborers. The proposition includes a top average wage increase of 58 cents per hour, time and a half pay for overtime work, and a recognition of holidays excepting for emergency work.

Mr. Snyder also agreed to consider the union committee at all time, and to obey the Wagner labor relations law.

The entire agreement is to be rewritten today. The details and particular exceptions in the wage scale, based upon the prices of lead and silver, are being withheld awaiting its completion.

Owner Claims World's Largest Porker

Pork is headed upward but this ponderous paradox of porcine pulchritude is staying down, declares Matt Shibles of Newburg, Md., owner of the living mass of 1,600 pounds of fresh pork, on the hoof. Ten feet long, and nine feet in circumference at the shoulder, the hog, and he really is a hog, requires 10 quarts of milk twice daily, with four or five dozen eggs tossed in occasionally as a tonic—A pulley and sling are used to lift, and hold him on his feet. Shibles' charges five cents a person for a glimpse of Goliath, and says he has collected $800 since the fame of his beast spread far and wide.

SNAKE DANCE OF WARRIORS ENDED

Thousands of Tourists Attend Ancient Indian Ritual Of Hopi Nation

WALPI, HOPI RESERVATION, Ariz., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—The Hopi nation, in a wierd ritual conducted by priests of the Snake and Antelope fraternities, prayed to the gods of the underground waters today to look out for their well being.

Thousands of curious white tourists gathered to witness the Hopi snake dance — oldest religious ceremonial in America — and prepared immediately to flee from the Pueblo to escape the torrential rains that almost invariably fall within a few hours.

Today's culmination of the savage, nine days rites began at dawn, to end at sunset when the writhing, hissing reptiles were released on the desert floor to carry the Hopi message to the gods.

This ritual, contrary to general belief, is not specifically an appeal for rain. However, since the Indian's subsistance on the barren, rocky desert wastes depends upon bountiful crops, they must have rain.

This was the ninth and final day of the ceremonial, origin of which dated so far back not even the Hopi knows its beginning.

NEW KIDNAPING STIRS SALT LAKE

Ogden Man Robbed, Thrown Into Reservoir By Hitch-Hikers

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Two youthful kidnap-robbers were sought today for the latest in a series of crimes which have already resulted in the arrest of Elmar Johannsen and Harry Edwards, former convicts.

Charles R. White, 23, Ogden, the victim, reported that two hitch-hikers he had picked up on the outskirts of Salt Lake City, robbed him of $65 and threw him blindfolded into the Pine View reservoir yesterday.

Before robbing him, White said, the two forced him into the back seat of his car, then drove for 10 hours, while one of them menaced him with a pistol.

They sped away in White's car after throwing him into the reservoir, and by the time he had removed the blindfold and struggled to shore they were out of sight, he said.

They offered him $5 to drive them to Ogden canyon, he told police, drew pistols when they arrived there and forced him to surrender the car.

LONDON (U.P.)—The leading shipbreakers and scrap metal merchants of the world have opened negotiations to form an international scrap metal ring, it is reported here. The European war scares and, rearmament programs have vastly increased the demand and price of scrap metal.

WHEAT DROPS ON CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Wheat futures stubbornly resisted the pressure of liquidation which forced new lows for the season on the Chicago board of trade today. Wet weather reports from Argentina and Australia, weakness in Liverpool and Winnipeg, and heavy domestic northwest wheat receipts, were depressing factors.

At the close wheat was ⅝ to ⅛ cent lower, corn was ½ to 2¾ cents higher, and oats were ⅛ to ¼ cent lower.

Evening up of open commitments in September corn was a feature of trade. Early liquidation caused a decline of a cent which was wiped out by buying from houses with eastern connections, pushing prices sharply higher.

WOOL

BOSTON—The quietness of demand for several weeks has not had an appreciable influence upon prices of domestic wools in the Boston market, the U. S. agriculture department reported today. Holders of wool are marking time. The first sales of the new season in Australia are scheduled to open next week. In view of the recent slackness of new business in wool goods and raw wools in this country, members of the wool trade were looking forward with keen interest to the opening of sales in Australia for whatever clues they may offer relative to the world demand for wool.

NEW YORK SILVER

NEW YORK—Bar silver remained unchanged at 44¾ cents a fine ounce.

LONDON BAR SILVER

LONDON—Bar silver today was unchanged for the fifth consecutive day at 19 15-16 pence an ounce. Based on sterling at $4.9905, the American equivalent worked out at 44.82 cents a fine ounce, compared with 44.81 cents on Saturday. Forward silver was quoted at 19 15-16 pence an ounce, unchanged.

Walks 250,000 Miles

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. (U.P.)—Alvin F. Bergman, 50-year-old "walking wonder," celebrated his 50th birthday with a 50-mile stroll. Bergman has walked a total of 250,000 miles on various trips in this country and other parts of the world.

STEEL DROPS TO NEW LOW PRICE

NEW YORK—Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Stocks today declined to new lows since mid-July, in the lightest trading since June.

Adjournment of congress, ordinarily favorable, had a reverse effect because of the prospect of a special session. Other adverse factors include uncertainties of the far eastern situation and fears inspired by last week's decline. The general tendency was to remain on the sidelines.

U. S. Steel led a late recession. It had touched 116⅞ early, when the whole market was firm, but sold off to 112⅞. The whole list went down with it. Moderate short covering brought prices back slightly from the lows.

All steel issues sold off despite favorable news. Business picked up with the nation's operating rate set at 83.8 per cent of capacity, a rise of 0.6 point from the previous week.

In rails, losses extended to a point in Atchison, New York Central and Southern Pacific. Car loadings for the week ended last Saturday showed a decline.

WINE BARRELS ARE WEATHER 'PROPHS'

VIENNA (U.P.) — When an Austrian peasant wants to know whether he can safely undertake some field work, requiring sunshine, in the next few days, he descends into his cellar and puts his ear to the wine barrels.

To him, wine is not a luxury. It is on his daily bill of fare, the laborers also receive their ration of wine with their dinner.

But wine is not only food and drink, and occasionally a banisher of care to him, but also a barometer which he considers infallible.

It is known that when the wine stands in blossom in the yards the wine in the barrels becomes restless in its cask and begins to sing. This phenomenon has not yet been explained. Nor does one know why, long before man and animal have the faintest presentiment of the coming event, the wine in Sicilian cellars becomes riotous and announces, thereby, the impending volcanic eruption.

A change in the weather in Austria invariably is preceded by bubbles rising in the wine barrels. They produce a faint noise which one can perceive by putting an ear to the wood.

RECORD SEEN AT LIVESTOCK SALE

Between 500, 600 Animals Slated For Auction Here Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday's sale of the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company will probably equal or exceed the record gross sale of $25,000 recently recorded, a representative of the concern said this afternoon.

Three individual herds of cattle being brought to the commission yards from the Shoshone basin are expected to boost the total number of animals to be auctioned next Wednesday to a figure between 500 and 600 pointing to a new record if high prices formerly received continue.

The auction, held each Wednesday at the commission yards located in the same area as the Twin Falls stock yards, attracts buyers from practically all of the nationally known meat packing plants as well as smaller concerns and individuals.

Mine Protects Rodents As Safety Measure

ROY, Mont. (U.P.)—Rats, usually hunted and destroyed by man, are protected carefully by operators of the mines south of here.

According to Jim Martenic, a miner, the formation in the mines is loose and cave-ins are common. The sand in the mines is the habitat for rats and many nests are located among the workings.

The management has instructed the men to protect the rats and their nests. The rats are valuable because instinctively they sense a coming slip of the earth long before the men notice the signs.

OZARK QUAIL PLENTIFUL

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (U.P.) — The Ozarks quail crop, reported already on the wing by sportsmen, will be large this year in spite of heavy rains during the hatching season, a survey indicates.

ARMY AIR BASE WORK SPEEDED

New Depot at Sacramento Is Located on 1,200-Acre Tract of Land

SACRAMENTO, Cal., (U.P.)—Work is being rushed here for the completion by January, 1939, of what will be one of the nation's most important military aviation centers.

When completed, it will be a base for the repair and maintenance of all army flying fields, planes and materials west of the Rocky Mountains.

The new Sacramento air depot will be located on a 1,200-acre tract of land seven miles northeast of the state capitol. It will include an amazing array of huge steel and concrete buildings, housing plane shops, warehouses, engine shops, aero shops, hangars, offices and many other structures.

Many Buildings

It will also have a military post, including a headquarters building, barracks, hospital, quartermaster's facilities, guardhouse, fire stations and quarters for officers and "non-coms."

More than 200 men are working on the base now and this number will be increased to 1,000 when construction is in full swing, according to Major Arthur W. Parker, in charge of the work.

For test flying, there will be a large, completely equipped airdrome with three concrete runways each 4,000 feet long and 150 wide. Leveling the field involves the movement of a million cubic yards of soil.

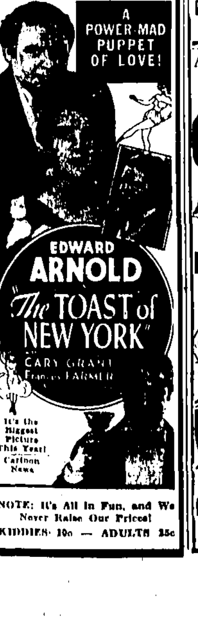
Employs 500

When finished and in public service, the depot will provide regular employment for about 500 civilian mechanics and a good sized staff of office workers.

Its military force will consist of from 25 to 40 officers and 150 enlisted men.

The outstanding feature of this great base will be the building which will house the engineering shop and the repair dock. It will be 900 feet long by 600 feet wide, or approximately three city blocks long and two blocks wide, covering nearly 13 acres.

The borough of Manhattan, New York, contains 27,000,000 tons of steel, of which 23,000,000 tons are in skyscrapers and other buildings.



TEN MILLION ON SUGAR PAYMENT

November Beet Cash to Be Largest in History of Industry

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 23 (U.P.) — Approximately $10,000,000 in initial payments will be made to intermountain region beet growers by Utah sugar companies—the figure representing one of the largest first payments in the industry's history—it was announced today.

The Utah-Idaho Sugar company will pay the largest slice of the initial payments with $5,000,000 paid in November for October delivery, and other companies will pay at least another $5,000,000 between them, figures released by company executives showed.

The states of Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Montana and Idaho will grow 20,000 more acres of sugar beets than they produced last year, it is estimated. Utah's increase will be 14,000 acres.

Beet crops are of higher quality this year, yielding an estimated 12 tons to the acre as contrasted to 11 last year, officials said.

The Utah-Idaho Sugar company plans to open two additional factories in Utah to handle the increased yield. One of the new plants will be at Spanish Fork and one at Brigham City. The company also plans to add a factory at Toppenish, Wash.

Of the company's 12 factories this year four will be in Idaho, four in Utah; two in Washington, one in South Dakota and one at Chinook, Mont.

Rumored Good Luck Only Pain In Neck For Park Rangers

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 21 (Special)—Rumored good luck for the motorist is only a severe pain in the neck for the Yellowstone national park ranger force, the superintendent's office said today.

"Somebody," Superintendent Edmund B. Rogers said, "got the bright idea that dropping sales tax tokens in Morning Glory pool would bring eternal good fortune. Since that time instead of seeing the beautiful green waters of the pool all the visitor notices is shiny coins staring one in the face."

"Several days ago the Old Faithful district ranger cleaned out the spring taking 110 assorted tokens and 51 pennies from the water. Now the pool is once more full. It has come to the point where the person tossing the coin to receive good luck will be invited to visit the U. S. commissioner at Mammoth Hot Springs. That may mean bad luck."

In starting their campaign to rid the park of the habit of cluttering up the springs and geysers, rangers last week arrested Albert Zehm, Gardiner, Montana, and Gomer Evans, Livingston, Montana, on charges of throwing beer bottles into Spa geyser. Each was fined in the commissioner's court.

Canada Aids Veterans In Rehabilitation Work

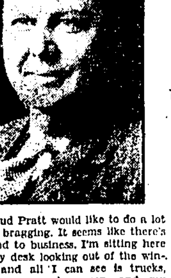
OTTAWA, Ont. (U.P.)—A $250,000 probational training scheme, designed to aid war veterans to reestablish themselves in the trades they were engaged in before the war, has been decided upon by the Canadian government.

The government will pay part of the wages of soldiers while they are "re-conditioning" themselves in industries with which they were familiar before they lost their jobs during the depression.

The scheme will embrace both Canadian and Imperial veterans who actually served in the war. It will be administered by the War Veterans Assistance Commission, the Employment Service, the Canadian Legion and, where necessary, other veterans organization.

CALIFORNIA HAS 900 NEW LAWS

SACRAMENTO (U.P.) — As a result of the 1937 session of the legislature, Californians have more than 900 new laws to observe.



Claud Pratt would like to do a lot more bragging. It seems like there's no end to business. I'm sitting here by my desk looking out of the window and all I can see is trucks, cars, men and women, and my clerks rushing about, draining cars, and greasing cars, filling oil cans, waiting on the gas trade and there's such a crowd in the grocery store right now that it's nothing but confusion. They've got Mac buried so it looks like he never will dig out. It's a kind of help yourself store. They just grab a basket and go after it.

Coming back now to this improved clear, Arkansas motor oil. The trade is gobbling it up just like an old sow goes after clabber milk. There is no better oil even if we do sell it for 15c a quart. It will outwear any 35c Pennsylvania oil in the State of Idaho. I give a line or so of my ad then I have to hesitate and answer some question or holler at one of the clerks, but that's the kind of business I like. I'd rather have fast dimes any day than slow pokey dollars. Say, do you know that I have a free trip down to El Dorado, Arkansas just as soon as I want to go, with all my expenses paid both ways? The Lion Oil Refining Co. of El Dorado wants Claud Pratt to see the new addition that is turning out this, clear, pure distilled Arkansas oil. We made another test Saturday with our oil against a germ treated oil and we used a heating device to heat both oils at a high temperature and our oil out-functioned the germ treated oil over 3 to 1. People often ask us the question if your oil will stand heat. Yes, it'll carry 16,000 lbs pressure on a Timken bearing under 400 degrees of Fahrenheit heat, while the other nationally known high priced motor oils will not stand 1-3 that much pressure either hot or cold. You hear man after man make the remark: "I wouldn't use any other kind of oil." Well I don't blame them. I'd be just like 'em. I would buy the best oil I could possibly get because oil is cheaper than machinery. We drain some of the finest models that run the roads. It is almost amusing. At first, people would come here with some old car and say, "Well, I'll take some of that cheap oil for this old car." That used to hurt Claud Pratt's feelings as I know sooner or later they'd find out that they couldn't buy a better oil at any price. And I hated to hear them call it cheap oil, even though I did sell it for less than half price. We work on a volume basis and sell a carload a month. In 30 gallon lots or more it'll only cost you 52c a gallon and single gallon or 5 gallons lots 57c a gallon.

BATTLE FOR CONTROL OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY IMMINENT

DISSENTION OVER NEW DEAL PLANS SOURCE OF SPLIT

President Roosevelt Ready To Go to People to Salvage Program

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Political warfare for control of the Democratic party was forecast today as a likely development of the bitter session of congress which scrambled through the wreckage of President Roosevelt's 1937 program Saturday and adjourned.

The New Deal has been weakened on both right and left wings.

A conservative, southern Democratic bloc began to emerge in congress this year, possibly to challenge New Deal forces when the party convention meets in 1940 to name a presidential nominee.

F. R. to Go to People

Mr. Roosevelt is believed ready to go to the people in protest against wreckage of his legislative program and possibly to contemplate a special November session of congress to obtain some of his 1937 objectives.

He already is booked for an address here Sept. 17 in which he is expected to continue his counter-attack on conservative opponents begun last week at Roanoke Island, N. C.

Congress adjourned Saturday after a bitter session marked by division in New Deal ranks and legislative refusal to enact several major proposals submitted by Mr. Roosevelt.

Court Bill Scuttled

The senate scuttled Mr. Roosevelt's supreme court reorganization bill. Both houses joined in passive resistance against crop surplus control legislation at this session.

The wage and hours bill designed to make good some of Mr. Roosevelt's campaign promises passed the senate but was buried in the house under southern Democratic opposition. Bills for reorganization of the executive departments and for nationally planned control of water power and other resources likewise were lost at this session.

But if a special session is called this autumn it would be primarily to obtain crop surplus control and wages-hours legislation. Mr. Roosevelt has indicated that he has not surrendered on some plan to deal with the supreme court.

Issue Postponed

But it is believed the New Deal would prefer to postpone that issue until after the 1938 congressional elections when voters have had an opportunity to pass upon the conduct of Democratic senators who opposed the President this year. Some rebels notably Sen. Frederick Van Nuys, D., Ind., Sen. Royal S. Copeland, D., N. Y., Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., and Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., already are convinced that the New Deal plans reprisals.

With some of these senators in the center of it, congress adjourned in clamorous political bitterness. Hopes for an early return of Democratic harmony were considerably diminished.

Nudist Convention Bothered by Flies

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Thousands of green flies and sightseers with binoculars pestered the 275 nudists attending the annual national convention of the American Bathing association today.

The address by the Rev. Robert Moore, of the Beulah park religious institution, frequently was interrupted by slaps against fleshy thighs. Moore, who was fully clothed, kept the insects away by waving his arms.

Most of the sightseers were in boats anchored on the Great Egg harbor river.

PAUL

Mothers and daughters from Paul, Eden, Hazelton, Rupert, Heyburn and Emerson attending the M. I. A. outing here Wednesday on the lawn of the Paul ward church. Each group presented a number on the program and a cafeteria lunch was served.

Mrs. Jessie Billington entertained a group of fifteen on Wednesday at a birthday social.

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Ivie and her mother, Mrs. Delia Neibaur of Logan, Utah, and Mrs. P. W. Wood, Hamer, Ida., spent a few days last week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Tanner.

The basement and foundation work on the new German Congregational church has been completed and work is progressing on the outer walls.

Mrs. Emily Hudson, Magrath, Canada, who has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Meacham, has gone to Salt Lake City to visit other relatives before returning to her home.

Fortune Awaits

A search for Winifred Sackville Stoner, jr., 35, above, was instituted after relatives learned that she had been named beneficiary in an old English estate, its value unestimated. Miss Stoner, thrice married and divorced, gained prominence a generation ago as a prodigy who wrote verse at 5, and spoke eight languages at 12.

Woman Believed Bridge Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Possibility that a woman had committed suicide by leaping over the rail of the Golden Gate bridge to the water 230 feet below was expressed today after police said a short fur swagger coat was found neatly folded on the pedestrian walk.

The coat was old but had been remodeled and refitted recently and contained no marks of identification.

Bridge attendants said a woman, between 20 and 30 years of age, wearing a coat similar to the one found, had started walking over the bridge but was not observed leaving it.

Hit-and-Run Driver Kills Dakota Hiker

GARRISON, Mont., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—A man tentatively identified as Victor Butler, of Mandan, N. D., was killed, police reported today, by a hit-and-run driver on the main highway near here.

His body was found alongside the highway by passing motorists.

In Chile, wild potatoes grow about as big as hazel nuts.

Sickness of Cow Deductible, But Wife's Death Not

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—If a man's cows is injured or becomes ill and it costs him money for a veterinary, he can deduct the expenses in his income tax return. If the same man's wife is injured or becomes ill, he can deduct nothing.

Thus spake Homer T. Bone, D., Wash., in a statement today.

"If the cow dies, the value of the cow can be deducted from taxable income," he continued. "If the wife dies, funeral expenses cannot be deducted. In the eyes of the revenue law, the cow has more value than the wife."

So Senator Bone introduced a bill in the senate to permit the deduction of medical and dental expenses from income tax returns.

LAST HONOR PAID COUNTY PIONEER

Final tribute was paid last evening to Edward Tilley, pioneer resident of Kimberly and Hansen, at services conducted at the Methodist church in Kimberly and attended by friends and relatives who gathered to honor the early resident.

Rev. T. W. Bowmar, pastor, conducted the services and music included "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "The Old Rugged Cross," sung by Mrs. A. A. Arnold and Mrs. H. A. Sanderson. Pallbearers were sons and sons-in-law of Mr. Tilley.

Interment in Twin Falls cemetery was under the direction of the White mortuary.

Mr. Tilley died Thursday.

Local Man Returns to Hollywood to Resume Career in Motion Pictures

Al Arp, Hollywood, Calif., who has spent the past three months on a vacation in Twin Falls, has returned to Hollywood to resume his picture career. Last summer and this summer, this unassuming young man has come to Twin Falls and worked in local business establishments with only a few knowing of his work under the klieg lights.

Saturday Arp received a telegram from Director Robert Lee ordering him to report to Paramount studios immediately for word in a show starring production this week. Working title for the picture is "Northern Wilderness."

A few years ago Arp was waiting at the studio gate for an interview with a man in the art department, where he had been employed, when a man walked up and asked him if he would like to act in the movies. When Arp had satisfied himself that it was not just a gag, he reported to the set where the casting of "College Holiday" was in progress. Out of 200 boys in the line-up he was one of three chosen for a part.

Since that time he has appeared in "Bing and Be Happy," "The Holy Terror," "They Gave Him a Gun," and is currently being seen in "The Road Back."

As soon as Al has finished work in "Northern Wilderness," he will attend the fall term of drama at the Pasadena playhouse, in order to groom himself for further roles.

Just before he left for the coast Al said he sure was coming back here next summer if it were at all possible, as he liked the climate and the friendliness of the people.

So goes the world, a rising picture personality comes and is gone before the fleshly being is recognized as the body of the shadowy screen luminary.

RITES HELD FOR ACCIDENT VICTIM

JEROME, Aug. 23 (Special)—Funeral services were held Saturday at the Wiley funeral home for John A. Brown, accident victim, Rev. Albert E. Martin of the Methodist church conducted the rites.

Miss Fay Overfield sang "Near the Cross" accompanied by Mrs. Owen Davis. Pallbearers were members of Boy Scout troop 30.

The boy was born June 10, 1922, in a suburb of Joplin, Mo.

Rancher Claims Bad Luck Record

HYSHAM, Mont., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Archie Buyse, rancher, today claims some sort of a record for bad luck.

Following is his record for one day:

1. Mired down in a slough near his ranch, one of his prize mares broke a leg as he tried to dislodge the "critter" with a tractor. He had to shoot her.

2. Disposing of the animal, he discovered that the tractor had sunk deeply into the quicksand, making it necessary that he drive to Hysham for assistance.

3. En route, a tire of his car blew out. The machine overturned. The windshield was shattered and the fenders and body were badly dented.

4. During the evening he lost a sum of money playing a friendly game of pitch with neighbors.
