Growling Dictators Afraid to Bite

The look of things in Europe is more warlike and threatening, these days, than at any time since the World War. Yet a betting man might very well feel inclined to gamble that there won't really be another world war, after all. The situation probably looks darker than it really is.

The most encouraging factor is that underneath their bluster and big talk, the statesmen of Europe are scared to death.

For one thing, the memory of 1914 is too close. The jar that sent the world sliding into war in that year was actually much less severe than some of the shocks Europe has had lately; but while today's statesmen may play with the word, "War," he knows from actual experience what the word really means—something which his predecessors of 23 years ago did not know. It makes a world of difference.

The Europe of 1914 had not seen a large-scale war for more than 40 years. There had been time for a romantic and unreal idea about war to be built up. The horrible calamity that war brings had grown hazy and indistinct in men's minds. Europe slid into war easily because no one really knew just what war was going to mean.

It's different now. The dictators may fume and bluster and strut, their massed troops may be cheered to the echo by hysterical throngs—but down underneath all of them know precisely what is involved. Not while the World War generation are still alive will any European nation go to war as blithely and irresponsibly as the nations went in 1914.

There is another thing—the specter of revolt, which has a way of materializing out of the smoke and darkness of a long war. No dictator wants that specter raised; no dictator can forget that war is likely to raise it. Kings and emperors lost their crowns because of the World War; would dictators be apt to fare any better in another world war? They would not—and they know it.

And if that thought holds back the dictatorships, it also holds back the democracies. For democracy, like monarchy, showed a tendency to collapse during and after the last war. It might survive another such strain and it might not. No democracy is likely to take the risk if it can possibly avoid it.

On the surface, these fears do not seem to have much effect. The Japanese are involved in war in China, and the Germans, Russians, and Italians are playing with fire in Spain. The Mediterranean "anti-piracy" naval program offers innumerable chances for war-making accidents and collisions. Warlike talk was never more common.

But down underneath there are these restraining influences—unseen but powerful. They explain why the momentous events of the last two or three years, which looked so much like war, did not actually bring war. And they give one reasonable grounds for hoping that what is happening now will not actually mean war either.

Europe simply cannot afford another war. And Europe knows it.

Masaryk's Contribution

Few post-war statesmen have left brighter records than did the late Dr. Thomas G. Masaryk, first president of the Czechoslovakian republic, who died the other day after an extended illness.

Masaryk was largely responsible for his country's independence. He was largely responsible for its continued existence as a nation during the confused and chaotic post-war decade. And he was largely responsible for keeping the flames of democracy burning brightly in it, at a time when they were flickering and going out in all the countries round about.

There was a time when we believed that the World War was fought "to make the world safe for democracy." As far as Thomas Masaryk was concerned, that slogan was really true. In Czechoslovakia, the war really did advance democracy. Because of that, Masaryk left the cause of freedom deeply in his debt.

Film Patrons' Protest

The sturdy people of Little Rock, Ark., seem to have started something—at least many will hope they have—with their newly-organized Boating club.

The Boating club goes to movies as a body. It keeps the peace all through the program until the advertising film begins to appear; then it booms—loudly and lustily and at great lengths.

This idea fills, as they used to say, a longfelt want. The ordinary film fan, it is safe to say, has few crosses to bear which are any heavier than the one which takes the guise of the advertising film. The thing is a nuisance pure and simple, and until now there was nothing the poor patron could do about it.

But this Boating club—well, it looks as if Little Rock had an idea that would be copied far and wide.

If war, as some claim, unifies a people's philosophy, then all should be Confucian in China.

BURLEY

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Parke and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lynch spent Sunday in Burley.

William R. Thompson, retiring Grand Master of Idaho Masons, returned Sunday from Wallace, where he presided over the Grand Lodge held there.

Mr. Lorin Lewis, Mrs. Grand Brooks and Mrs. J. W. Green spent Monday in Twin Falls.

"Evidently not. And Miss Amy's been giving you a cook-and-bull story about her relatives. Now, why, I ask you, why did she have to do that?"

"I don't know," Cilly said wearily. "I'm sure I don't know. The whole thing is mysterious. Whatever I'll do now? There aren't any other relatives. I'm sure. Amy mentioned a soul except her Aunt Harriet."

"That's a funny one, all right. If she spoke so much about her aunt, why didn't she tell you that she was dead? Where she been keeping herself for the past four years, eh? Guess I'll have to do a little checking up in New Hampshire. Dolan made some more notes in the little black book. Now about these young men who were visiting you last night? He proceeded: "What can you tell me about them?"

"I can tell you about Mr. Kerrigan, because I met him very early in the morning. He was Amy's friend—I know for the first time last evening."

"Was Amy in love with him?"

"Oh, I don't think so," Cilly answered quickly. "She was going to befriend Amy's memory by letting the police think she was the victim of a one-sided love affair. That's what Harry Hutchins had in her father's chain stores, would certainly not admit being in love with him."

"How long had she known him? Where did she meet him?"

"She knew him before I met him. She met him in a train, in the dining car. They were both coming to New York and so they met in the dining car. Hutchins had been out of town for a while."

"No, I think he's lived in New York, on and off, for many years. He has a great many friends here."

"What does he do for a living?"

He writes. Trade Journal articles, general business management and economics."

"What's the name of the paper he writes with any paper. He free lunches."

Sergeant Dolan's shrewd eyes narrowed.

"And you don't like him."

"I don't say that at all."

"You don't sound very enthusiastic about him."

"I didn't like the way he played bridge," Cilly offered. "But certainly I have no reason either to like or dislike him."

"I see. Don't think he measured up to the friend of yours. Mr. Kerrigan. Is that it? What's his business?"

"No, I haven't," Cilly replied. "The Mid-West Review. He has a small office at 190 West 42nd."

"The sergeant made a note of that."

"Have you gotten in touch with the young men yet?" he asked.

"No, I haven't," Cilly replied. "I'm out of town. I don't know exactly where. He mentioned something about it last night."

"Why haven't you told Hutchins about it?"

"I haven't. I'm interested, don't you think?"

"I meant to phone him the first thing this morning. But Mr. Corbett awakened me. And you arrived as soon as I'd finished dressing."

"Dolan reached for the phone. 'Hello, Mr. Hutchins. What's the number, do you know?'"

"Here it is," Cilly pointed to a tiny phone pad on the desk. "Marlborough Hotel. Endicott 6-0808."

"Sergeant Dolan dialed the number. 'Hello, Marlborough? Let me talk to Mr. Hutchins, will you? Oh, say a minute. Give me the desk first. Hello. This is the police, Sergeant Dolan talking. Special investigation. Can you tell me in last night's party, what time was it? Wait a minute, let me get that number... Yeh. That's all right, now connect me with him, will you?'"

"Cilly waited while Sergeant Dolan told Harry about Amy's tragic death. He finished up and did not mention the fact of her being murdered. He did not ask Cilly if she wanted to speak to Harry. He finished speaking and replaced the phone."

"Looks as if Hutchins is O.K.," he said. "Desk clerk didn't see him in last night's party. —he was off duty—but there's a record of a phone call he made at 12:20. He must have gone right home. Oh, let me hear at 11:30. Takes a good 40 minutes on the subway over to the Marlborough. You're sure it was 11:30 when they left?"

"Cilly nodded. 'Exactly. By the banjo clock there.'"

He looked in his black book and found the entry. "That's just about the time Miss Kerr was killed, isn't it? Yeh... 12:20."

"Cilly remembered that the little clock in the vicinity said 12:20 when she had first gone to bed. And they always kept that clock a few minutes fast."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

This is the fifth of six columns by Rodney Dutcher on the President's "Brain Trust."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—Men closest to the Roosevelt "throne" always are subject to shooing-off when they do not close, but wishing they were.

Embittered ex-members of the inner circle constantly snipe at the President's "Brain Trust." They are powerful outside opposition forces which find it easier to shoot at the President indirectly with the hope of wounding those advisers and aides who remain.

Conservative boomers, frosted by the departure of a Roosevelt "shift to the right" promptly, however, it became obvious that Roosevelt was cooking up the most radical of his programs—the Supreme Court change plan.

And it took time for the opposition, the would-be favorites and the ex-favorites to get their fingers crossed. They were: Thomas C. Corcoran, 38, and Benjamin V. Cohen, 43, "Tom and Ben" are the opposition's recent candidates for the sausage-grinder.

Neither functions as a general adviser of the Tugwell or Moley type. But the scalps, however, who would strike at Roosevelt, are well worth getting. Corcoran, 38, is a former Wall Street lawyer, a lobbyist for the stock market, and the president's favorite trouble-shooter, liaison man, co-ordinator, conciliator, ghost-writer and sales-people.

Cohen, his teammate and roommate, has drafted laws—none of which has been found vulnerable by either Wall Street lawyers or the supreme court.

Both have been dragged unwillingly into the limelight. Cohen is naturally a recluse, but Corcoran was called by Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes "the most able man I have known." Both were considered "genuses" by their professors. Both have been exposed to the Brandeis-Frankfurter function time.

Corcoran was secretary to Justice Holmes and four years with a Wall Street law firm. Cohen was with Brandeis in the Zionist movement.

INCLUDES BOB AND BILL

Actually the "Tom and Ben" team also includes a "Bob and Bill" Assistant Attorney General, H. Jackson and SEC Commissioner William O. Douglas.

These four liberals, all promoted from obscurity in New Deal ranks, because of jobs well handled, are expert in certain fields—Jackson on taxation, monopoly laws and successful argument before the supreme court; Douglas in corporate finance, reorganizations and other Wall Street devices; Cohen in local draftsmanship and Corcoran in many fields, especially that of generalship behind the scenes. All three had extensive experience outside the New Deal.

Corcoran and Cohen rank as special assistants to the attorney general, in addition to important legal jobs under RFC and the national power policy committee respectively. They seem to get the toughest White House assignments.

Much of the anti-Corcoran and Cohen attack is based on an assumption that they were responsible for the badly liked, perhaps fatal, court plan. Attorney General Cummings plotted that one exclusively.

CCC ENROLLEES LEAVE

HAGERMAN, Sept. 23 (Special)—Sixty-six Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia juniors from the CCC camp here, en route to Alaska Friday for discharge at Fort Knox, Ky. Replacements are expected at the camp here in October.

The Family Doctor

This is the sixth in a series of articles on cancer in which Dr. Morris Fishbein explains the methods of prevention and cure of the disease.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEGIN, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

It is a fact that cancer is associated with the production of cancer which indicate ways of prevention. For years it has been known that the cause of cancer is the virus. Certain unusual types of cancer seem quite definitely to be inherited.

One family had 10 out of 10 children who developed a certain unusual form of tumor of the retina—the tumor of the optic chiasm.

Studies were made of 38 instances in which twins have been involved by tumors. In 36 cases, both members of the twins had tumors. Those of each couple were in general of the same type, affected the same organ and appeared at approximately the same time.

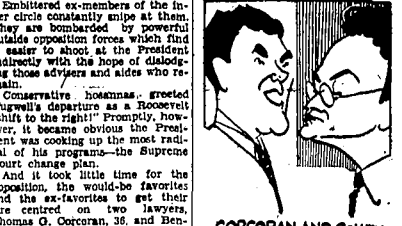

However, there is encouragement in the fact that cancer tends to break out of one race. The evidence now brings the question of heredity is not one that can be easily controlled.

In general it is safe to say that the cancer itself is not inherited, but that the liability or susceptibility to cancer may be inherited in certain cases.

Two people may marry, both of whom have a susceptibility to cancer of the stomach. In such cases, the children will inherit it the kind of a stomach which is likely to be susceptible.

There are, however, many families in which both parents have had the same kind of cancer, but in which none of the children die of cancer.

Insurance companies have, of course, been particularly concerned with this question of inheritance of cancer. The price for life insurance has not been sufficient to cause any insurance company to refuse insurance because one of the members of the family died cancer of the stomach. It has been found that an increased premium because someone in the ancestry had cancer.

CORCORAN AND COHEN

speakers and arguments, recruited speakers, trained witnesses and collaborated with members of Congress. Later command of the fight was taken over by the Justice Department and then by Senator Joe Robinson.

AFTER THE BEST FAILED

In the first instance, Corcoran, Stanley High and Judge Sam Rosenman—who were on the present team—were collaborators on Roosevelt's campaign speeches in the previous administration. Corcoran and Cohen had fought the lobbies of the stock market, investment bankers and public utilities.

Roosevelt had given them the securities, stock market and public utilities side to draft after other men had failed to produce what he wanted. He ordered them to nurse these bills through congress, cooperating with members in order to prevent emancipation by the lobbies.

These four liberals, all promoted from obscurity in New Deal ranks, because of jobs well handled, are expert in certain fields—Jackson on taxation, monopoly laws and successful argument before the supreme court; Douglas in corporate finance, reorganizations and other Wall Street devices; Cohen in local draftsmanship and Corcoran in many fields, especially that of generalship behind the scenes. The men, mostly from Ohio and Kentucky, had been here in the Minidoka forest during their assigned terms. SHE WON'T STOP by shouting Whoa!

Driving on today's crowded streets and highways doesn't give a man any sense of security. He's a "Whoa" either — when he has to stop in a hurry. Good brakes are the only thing that count then.

It pays in more ways than one to have your brakes checked. The safest plan is to have your brakes inspected every 3 or 4 months. A simple adjustment of the brake shoes will bring you many thousands more miles.

STUDY OF TAXES SCHEDULED HERE

Chamber of Commerce Plans To Cooperate With National Organization Survey

Chamber of Commerce directors today had been asked to "carefully study the expenditure of the tax dollar in this district, in line with a report on the tax situation of the western states which is being prepared by Howard H. Mylander, field secretary of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Mylander spoke to the board of directors of the local Chamber at a special meeting which was held last night at the Park hotel.

The field secretary's report will be titled "Where Does Your Tax Dollar Go?" and in line with this the local group was asked to complete a 15-page questionnaire which deals with the expenditure of city and county taxes. Other information supplied members in order that their report, which will be included in the western states report, will be more complete.

"A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE"

SUB-WAY SERIES SEEN AGAIN FOR NEW YORK

Melton Pitches Giants to 6-0 Win at Chicago

GOTHAM CLUB BOOSTS LEAD TO 2 1/2 GAMES; PLAY AGAIN TODAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (U.P.)—Another "subway" world series was in prospect today with the Yankees needing only one more victory to clinch the American league pennant and the Giants once more in the driver's seat after cooling off the Cubs in the National league.

The Giants regained their 2 1/2 game lead yesterday by clobbering the Cubs 5-game winning streak, 6-0, before a crowd of 41,876 at Wrigley field. Hero of the Giants' victory was Cliff Melton, 6-foot 5-inch southpaw.

Cliff Melton had beaten every club in the league except the Cubs in the first inning of the box in the first knock-out by the Cardinals on Monday, and what he faced the Cubs Bill Terry didn't know how long he'd last. But the southpaw left the Cubs down with 6 hits, and no Chicago runner got far beyond second base. It was his 18th victory.

It was a pitcher's battle until the Cubs were taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth. The Giants scored three runs in the ninth with Curt Davis, winner of the straight, and Hal Schumacher, who hasn't beaten the Cubs all season.

Back Doyle, Broadway prizefighter, quoted the Giants 1-3 to win the pennant, and explained that the reason the probability of a shorter was because of a schedule which calls for four New York doubleheaders in four successive days the last week of the season.

The Yankees clinched a tie for the American league pennant by blasting St. Louis Browns twice, 4-1 and 11-0. The Yanks won the opener on a hit, including the runner who scored on a homer by Kemp.

Manager Joe McCarthy hopes to talk down the first in today's game with the Browns, using his right-hand son, Red, as a pinch runner. McCarthy said a pinch runner will clinch the pennant for New York.

Chicago won his 15th game as Detroit defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4-3. Rudy York hit home run, 38th out in the close American league games the Chicago White Sox trounced the Athletics, 9-3, and Washington won from Cleveland, 4-1.

JEROME GRID CLUB MAY PROVIDE UPSETS

Idaho Hopes to Move Out of 2nd Division in Coast Grid Standings

Bank Has 20 Lettermen In 1937 Outfit

By FERRY GULF MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 23 (U.P.)—Little University of Idaho, stepped on every year by other-Pacific coast conference football teams, will strive again this season to fulfill its avowed, but seldom realized, giant killer role.

Coach Ted Bank, who was brought here from Tulane two seasons ago, watched the biggest squad in Idaho's history work out on the university practice field today. From those 90 men Bank hoped to fashion an eleven that would turn the trick.

"We've got some good boys out there," Bank said. "I think we'll have a surprise for the rest of the conference."

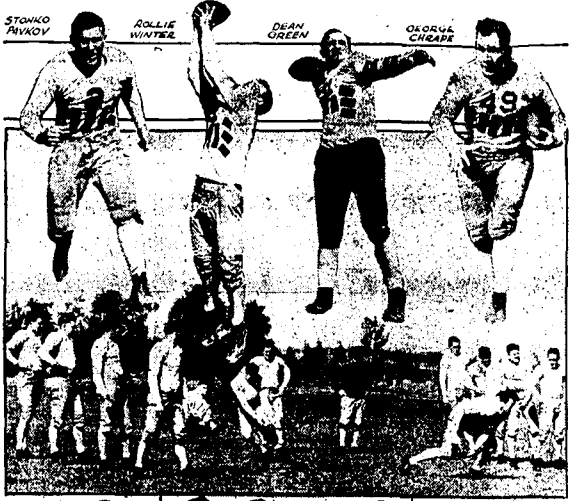

This fall should see some of the fruits of Bank's labors. He came here to pull the Vandals out of the second division.

Bank has a good-sized nucleus of 20 lettermen.

Some "good boys," Bank mentioned were Maurice Young, winged little halfback from Deliance, Pa.; Stonko Pavkov, 165-pound tackle from Georgia; and George Thiesen, another 220-pound tackle from Lewiston, Idaho; George Chrape, 180-pound fullback from Buhl, Minn.; and George Thiesen, Moscow, and a pair of speedy ends, Roland Winter, Appleton, Wis., and Tony Knop, Milwaukee.

Much of Idaho's offense will be through the air. Besides Rose, Bank has two top-notch passers in left-halfback Episcopus, Milwaukee, and Merle Stoddard, Coeur d'Alene. Knap and Winter, ends, have hands that nearly cover a football.

Bank's defense is well equipped with a line of blockers, ranging end from Boise, will handle the punting. Last fall the Vandals lacked the final punch a few yards from the goal line. Bank's defense was made over from a tackle.

1890 1937 Primed for the annual University of Idaho homecoming, the above Vandal football players have been working on MackLean twice a day since September 9, building a better Idaho team.

Idaho's schedule: Sept. 23—Oregon State college at Moscow. Oct. 2—Washington State college at Pullman.

Oct. 15—Utah State college at Boise. Oct. 22—St. Mary's college at San Francisco, Calif.

Oct. 30—University of Washington at Seattle. Nov. 13—Gonzaga university at Moscow. Nov. 20—University of Montana at Moscow.

Star Fight Carnival All Set for Tonight

Four Champions to Risk Crowns in New York Ring Circus; Big Gate Seen

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (U.P.)—Promoter Mike Jacobs presents tonight the carnival of champions—"most colossal, most stupendous show in the history of pugilism."

Four kinglys of the ring, ranging from bantam to middleweight, will risk their titles against the world's foremost challengers—"all for the price of one admission, folks."

Not since the New Orleans extravaganza 40 years ago when three title fights were staged on successive nights, has such a sparkling card been offered.

Two of the champions: Ross and Escobar, were favorites. Ambers was quoted at even money, and Montez at 10 to 1. The underdog, Success of the program already is assured with nearly $200,000 in the ticket to meet a cash guarantee of $100,000 to the eight principals. While "Uncle Mike" predicted the gate might hit $425,000, conservative estimates placed the figure at $350,000.

One of Heaviest Outfits in South Idaho Works for Norby

JEROME, Sept. 23—One team of which there apparently hasn't been a lot of talk this year is the Jerome Tigers—and thereby hangs a tale with a world-beater of a Coach John Norby.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS ON FRIDAY

12 Teams Will Battle on Six Fronts at Start Of Year's Play

South central Idaho football will get a partial start tomorrow as 12 clubs swing into action on six fronts.

Other contenders include the Declo-Dietrich battle at Declo, Eden at Glens Ferry and Hallett at Shoshone.

Helping Hottelbaugh in the backfield will be Dave Hamlett at the fullback post and Charles Platingo, a freshman, Jim Washburn, a sophomore, Roger Jorgensen at the halfback spots. All weigh in the neighborhood of 150 pounds.

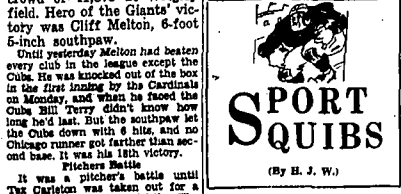

For a Class 'A' school, Jerome will be playing just about as tough a schedule as most of the Big Ten clubs. Norby has four Big Ten titles listed on an eight game program, the rest all being Class A contests except Shoshone.

The complete schedule is as follows: Oct. 24—Wendell at Wendell. Oct. 31—Shoshone at Shoshone. Oct. 15—Twin Falls at Jerome. Oct. 22—Burley at Jerome. Oct. 29—Oakley at Oakley. Nov. 5—Gooding at Gooding. Nov. 12—Halla at Gooding. Nov. 19—Filler at Filler.

Thompson Leads Acc Golf Field

BELOMONT, Mass., Sept. 23 (U.P.)—A dwindling army of shot-makers fixed their sights on a pay-off round of the final qualifying berth of the $12,500 International Open golf championship got under way.

Thompson fashioned a record-breaking 65 to take the lead in medal honors. "The and" are the most commonly used words in writing.

Several hundred college football teams throughout the country will swing into action tomorrow as first games will be played and most of the players will see their first real action of the season.

Of course there are such regional favorites as Minnesota and Northwestern in the Big Ten, Pittsburgh in the east, Louisiana State in the south, Utah in the Rocky Mountain and Washington in the Pacific conference—but the betting is no better than fifty-fifty that any one of the teams will finish at the top of their division.

But—let's be "too good" as we are again going to "pick the winner" for our readers, offering very little if any reason for our particular selection.

Our choices for this week-end will run something like this: U.C.L.A. to beat Oregon, 13-7. Stanford to down the Santa Clara Broncos, 12-0. Southern California an easy winner over Pacific College, 23-0. California to down St. Mary's, 13-0. Cornell to top Penn State, 13-7. Illinois to nose out Ohio U., 12-0. Indiana to drub Cent., 24-6. Minnesota over North Dakota, 20-0. Ohio State taking Texas Christian, 31-13. Purdue to scound Louisiana, 30-0. Pitt to trample all over Ohio Wesleyan, 48-0.

The result is that all to a good year by beating Columbia, 30-13. Navy to outscore William and Mary, 39-11. Vanderbilt to edge Kentucky, 7-0. Temple to down Y.M.I., 16-0. Wake Forest to beat Wake Forest, 14-0. Albion Normal over Boise college, 7-0.

Coaches from the Twin Falls area gathered here last night to wrangle and discuss the various and sundry new changes in the Idaho association.

"Biggest trouble for the so-called 'drug-store' experts who have been following the game for years in Idaho is the fact that the Idaho association has changed over from NCAA rules to the National Federation. The result is that there will be more new changes this season than in the average year, according to W. V. Olds, who is in charge of the coaching schools here at Gooding, and tonight at Burley.

HUNT THREATENS NAZI TENNIS AGE

Two-Headed Joe Formidable Menace to von Cramm's Climb to Finals

By JACK GUENTHER LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23 (U.P.)—The fourth competitive meeting of the world's two greatest amateur tennis players today was impeded only by Joe Hunt, two-headed Californian who in little more than a year has won all the top ground court to national ranking.

While international champion Donnie Budge of Oakland is expected to vanquish Davis cup doubles partner, Gene Macko, for one final position of the Pacific Coast tennis tour, the supply stood as a formidable foe to Cliff von Cramm, the German baron and world No. 2 player.

The young national cup court champion, coasting on the impetus of four successive victories, was the right to meet von Cramm by eliminating the second seeded foreign opponent in as many days. He defeated Charles Hare of England yesterday, 6-4, 8-10, 8-6, while von Cramm was out of action.

Montez, the little man from Puerto Rico who packs the terrific punch, took a 10-round decision from the 135-pound champion in their only previous meeting last spring. The fight was an even money bet.

Ambers Has Long Odds Ambers, however, is great on endurance, and is one of the most trusted fighters in the game.

Barney Ross, 147-pound boy from Chicago commanded odds of 13-5 to punch out his third win over Garcia. Filipino challenger of the dynamite punch. The previous decisions were over the 10-round route, but in their first engagement Ceterino felled Barney, the closest he ever came to being knocked out.

Escobar, clever and speedy Puerto Rican, is an 8-5 choice over Jeffra, although the Baltimore challenger holds two 10-round decisions over him.

GREATEST SHIPMENT OF CATTLE LOADS SUNDAY IN IDAHO

100 CARS WITH 3,000 HEAD TO GO TO MARKET

Circle O Sends Biggest Load In History of Union Pacific Railway

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 23 (Special)—One hundred cars of western-bred and range-fattened cattle were loaded at the railway stockyards of New Meadows, Ida., next Sunday, Sept. 26, by the big "Circle O" ranch for shipment to the eastern market, announces R. H. Rutledge, regional forester.

Sunday's shipment, which will total nearly 3,000 two-year-old steers raised on surrounding national forest ranges, is the largest ever to leave this valley, which is one of the oldest stock-raising centers in Idaho. The shipment is also the largest ever handled by the Union Pacific railroad in its 70 years of operation in the western cattle country. The forest service is interested because most of the stock was grown on the Weiser and Nerpee national forests.

Valuable Equipment
The value of the shipment is believed to be approximately a quarter of a million dollars.

The story of the founding and development of the "Circle O" ranch is a saga of the western cattle country.

Back in the year 1880 Charles Campbell and his brother, William, were traveling through Idaho en route to the "big bend of the Columbia river" to start a cattle ranch.

Started with 3 Cows
A man whom they met on route told them of the New Meadows country and spoke so warmly of its opportunities that they turned in that direction and presently arrived with a 4-horse wagon team and one saddle horse. This was all the stock they possessed.

Charles Campbell did not carry on the cattle business which he and his wife had built up over a half a century. The younger, bolder and brighter-eyed and still keenly interested in the livestock business, lives in the big modern ranch, some miles from the site of the old log cabin to which the same came as a bride in 1880.

The two daughters, both married, live in the nearby town of Pocatello.

NEW STATION MANAGER
HAEREMAN, Sept. 23 (Special)—Oral Price, a former Union Pacific employe, has taken over management of the Swift cream station here following a visit here this week of D. A. Parrott, Twin Falls field man for Swift and company. The station was formerly operated by Jack Whorton for the summer.

View of the new auditorium and stage containing a model kitchen which was to be opened to the general public with an open house program today and Friday from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. The hall is on the second floor of the Idaho Power company building on Main avenue.

LUND IS ELECTED LABOR PRESIDENT

Former Leader Named at State Convention in Pocatello

POCATELLO, Idaho, Sept. 23 (UP)—E. V. Lund, Pocatello, a former president of the Idaho federation of labor, was elected again to that office yesterday at the closing session of the federation convention here.

The federation's executive council will choose the site for the 1928 convention. Lund is president of the Pocatello central labor council.

Absence of controversial state questions at the convention was due, Lund implied, to absence of C.I.O. delegates who were foremost in presenting such issues at last year's meeting.

Requester Renamed
August Requester, eight year holder of the office of secretary-treasurer, was re-elected.

Birthday Dinner Planned by Elks

Arrangements were underway here this afternoon for the "birthday" dinner of members of the local Elks lodge whose birth anniversary falls in September. It was announced by lodge officials.

The dinner will be held at the lodge rooms on Sept. 30 and will feature special entertainment which is being arranged.

Oppose Erb
R. B. Erb of Lewiston was the subject of a resolution opposing his election as governor in event he enters the campaign. He was charged with opposition to organized labor.

Approval of the resolution by unanimous vote was reported.

The convention passed a motion that financial support be forwarded to mine workers in north Idaho following report by Carl Ruddle of union activities in the district.

Talks were given by Mrs. H. I. Hansen of Nampa and Mrs. Harold Ferguson of Pocatello. The latter reported that Pocatello employs 95 per cent union clerks.

DROWNINGS SHOW STATE INCREASE

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 23 (UP)—Deaths from drowning in Idaho increased almost 50 per cent during the first eight months of this year as compared with the same period in 1926, the state bureau of vital statistics reported.

Sixty-eight drowning fatalities were listed up to Sept. 1 this year. Only 35 were recorded for the same period last year.

The bureau also recorded young of the month as a girl of 14.

Governor Files for 5,000 Feet of Water From Snake River
BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 23 (UP)—Governor Barilla Clark today filed for 5,000 second feet of Snake river water in the name of the State of Idaho.

It was the third such filing by the governor, who wishes to conserve for state development suitable hydro-electric power sites.

The governor filed on an site at Eagle Rock, 10 miles below American Falls. He listed a proposed 21,330 horsepower development for electric power, under a 47-foot head. No cost was listed.

Harmon Pool Tops Recreation-Set-Up

(Editor's note: This is the second of two installments giving the verbatim report of the recreation director as submitted to the Twin Falls Recreation association.)

By LARRY LUNDIN (Director of Recreation)

The WPA leaders, have, for the most part, performed their duties diligently. Mrs. Olive Dolley was made foreman at Drury and played her best game. We regret her loss when she went to Washington to care for her ailing mother. George Smith also was especially effective and capable at Drury. Other WPA leaders were Eugene Bredette and Hope McGreevy.

At Harmon park Mrs. Bertha Babcock was foreman and was very capable in her work. Mrs. Maude Moore, Curtis Ruesseger and James Crane were other WPA leaders. Mrs. Moore was transferred to the City Park when it was found that a number of children were playing each day. Bus Montague and John Holton were recently added to the staff.

Several WPA boys were employed at Harmon to do odd jobs and to help whenever needed. They were Warren Anderson, Frederick Louder, Robert Praeger, Byron Ruesseger and Advin Schwab. Bob Praeger spent a week at the Campfire Girls camp at Pocatello.

The most popular single item on the program was the swimming pool. It was opened on June 6. Every precaution was taken to insure it with the greatest degree of safety to the public. It was cleaned every week with but few exceptions and tests were continually made of the water. Residual tests for chlorine were made at the pool several times a day by the guards but there were no serious accidents. However, they did have to use First Aid methods often in treating cuts and scrapes. I would not hesitate to recommend any of them for reemployment.

600 Take Lessons
During the Red Cross Swim Campaign over 600 people were given lessons with a daily average of over 400. One hundred and ninety-two awards were made by Mr. Tom Gill, Red Cross field representative, who conducted the campaign. Perhaps 50 other beginners and swimmers were made besides these to people meeting the requirements during the morning classes.

A swimming meet sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was conducted in August. Invitations were sent to all towns in southern Idaho. The meet was won by Caldwell. Other entries were Twin Falls, Buhl, Filer, Jerome, American Falls and Blackfoot.

A Boy Scout swimming meet was also conducted with Troop 65 winning. Over 50 Twin Falls District Scouts participated.

The program for the summer was much improved over that of a year ago. More special events and championships should be included to stimulate competitive games and activities. Such activities would cost some money for prizes and awards. Since our budget was limited this year such activities were passed over for more general ones.

A great many things were left undone this year that mean much to such a program. Nothing was done to

Girl Injured In Fall From Auto

POCATELLO, Idaho, Sept. 23 (UP)—Verna May Call, 5, cried lustily Tuesday when Zimer Tracy, state parliamentarian, dressed some bad cuts she sustained near the Portneuf entry station.

She was lucky to be crying. She was pulled from an automobile when she opened the back door as the car was hitting a 50-mile clip.

She fell to the road, rolling over and over, coming to rest on the shoulder of the highway. She was still crying when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Call of Buhl, continued the trip to Salt Lake City.

The University of Paris, Italy, was founded in 625.

EYSTON PREPARES FOR RECORD RUN

Englishman Will Attempt to Make New Speed Marks With Huge Racer

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 23 (AP)—Capt. George E. T. Eyston, British driver, made final preparations today for trials in his racing car, "Epos of the Winds," in which he will attempt to break the 13 records set by Ab Jenkins, who completed a 24-hour endurance run yesterday.

Eyston will send his 350 horsepower, front wheel drive machine over a newly constructed 1 1/2 mile circular course tomorrow. Jenkins drove a 750 horsepower, rear-wheel drive Morgan motor.

Jenkins is recovering today from injuries suffered when fragments of a blow-out tire pierced his arm. He was forced to cut his proposed 48-hour run at the 24-hour mark when his course became too soft for continuous high speed driving.

The 4000 pound machine blew out two tires when it was struck off its spots. The last blowout injured Jenkins. He continued driving despite a useless arm.

Jenkins' average 172.25.

The Meteor had covered 3,774.45 miles at the end of its run. Its average was 248 miles over Jenkins' hour was 3.46 miles over Jenkins' former world record.

Captain Eyston will also try to better Sir Malcolm Campbell's endurance mile record of 301.13 miles per hour when his straightaway machine arrives here from England next week. Eyston said he hoped to begin trials Oct. 3.

EYSTON PREPARES FOR RECORD RUN

Englishman Will Attempt to Make New Speed Marks With Huge Racer

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 23 (AP)—Capt. George E. T. Eyston, British driver, made final preparations today for trials in his racing car, "Epos of the Winds," in which he will attempt to break the 13 records set by Ab Jenkins, who completed a 24-hour endurance run yesterday.

Eyston will send his 350 horsepower, front wheel drive machine over a newly constructed 1 1/2 mile circular course tomorrow. Jenkins drove a 750 horsepower, rear-wheel drive Morgan motor.

Jenkins is recovering today from injuries suffered when fragments of a blow-out tire pierced his arm. He was forced to cut his proposed 48-hour run at the 24-hour mark when his course became too soft for continuous high speed driving.

The 4000 pound machine blew out two tires when it was struck off its spots. The last blowout injured Jenkins. He continued driving despite a useless arm.

Jenkins' average 172.25.

The Meteor had covered 3,774.45 miles at the end of its run. Its average was 248 miles over Jenkins' hour was 3.46 miles over Jenkins' former world record.

Captain Eyston will also try to better Sir Malcolm Campbell's endurance mile record of 301.13 miles per hour when his straightaway machine arrives here from England next week. Eyston said he hoped to begin trials Oct. 3.

HAZELTON CLUB'S OUTLOOK IS DARK

Only Three Letterman Return To Form Skeleton For Playing Season

By CLAYTON NUTTING
HAZELTON, Sept. 23—Loss of nine lettermen from his 1937 playing machine brings from Gene Plasting, Hazelton high school coach, the statement that the outlook is pretty dark this fall.

Three regulars, returning to the squad, form the skeleton around which Plasting will fashion the team which will carry the Hazelton colors throughout the current campaign.

A report from the Hazelton mentor emphasizes the fact that rebuilding a club with only one-fourth of the original membership for a nucleus is no snap.

Regulars who were lost from the club through commencement last spring include Louis Webb, Norman Drake, Tom Howard, Tom Hohenhorst, Doc Christopherson, Dale Hawkins, Bob Finkenburg, Jim King and Dick Vance.

Included in the trio of returning lettermen are Vernon Clough, 152-pound fullback; Jack Cochran, 135-pound elusive quarterback; and Keith Wickham, 150-pound end.

The complete lack of seasoned guards and tackles makes the construction of a forward wall probably Coach Plasting's biggest problem this year.

Likely Material
Some likely looking material has been seen in Jim Worthington and Dick Dickinson, ends; Jay Klein and Russell Berkenmeier, tackles; Orval Christopherson and Neph Douglas, guards; Oscar Finkenburg, fullback for the center assignment while Jim Southworth and Jack Adams at halfback and Vaughn Murphy, fullback here, provide additional possibilities for the backfield.

Hazelton's schedule lists six games. Half of these will be staged on the local gridiron.

Schedule:
Oct. 5—Hansen at Hazelton.
Oct. 9—Castletford at Hazelton.
Oct. 15—Kildon at Hazelton.
Oct. 22—King Hill at Hazelton.
Oct. 29—Report reserves at Hazelton.
Nov. 5—Eden at Hazelton.

The movement to establish Twin Falls University was started by a group of Harvard University graduates.
