OCT. 29 SET FOR FRANCO VAN VLACK RETURN HERE

IN THE DAYS PARADE

In Feud

Nineteen Thirty Six Presidential Candidate Alf M. Landen today was reported in an undercover feud with Ex-President Herbert Hoover over leadership of the new Republican party that is expected to emerge from the special meeting set to be staged Nov. 5 and 6.

Romance?

Leopold Stokowski, famed concert orchestra leader, today was linked with Greta Garbo, star of motion pictures, following the removal of Mrs. Stokowski to Nevada—presumably to start divorce proceedings. Mr. Stokowski has been appearing in talking pictures in recent months and recently his name has been mentioned with that of Miss Garbo, below.

WITNESS NAMES MYSTERY GOLFER

Man Swears on Stand That John Montague Was in Robbery Party
ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—One of the four men who robbed Kin Hanna's roadhouse 1936 today said that John Montague, the mysterious master golfer from Hollywood, was a member of the gang that committed the crime. The witness was Roger Norton of Cleveland who served two years in prison for the robbery. Not a flicker of recognition came into Montague's face as Norton stood in the courtroom where the mystery man is being tried on charges of first degree robbery. Montague, dressed in a gray suit, sat quietly staring at the witness and deferring to him as "Laverne Moore," which was Montague's name before he found fame as a golfer in California. Earlier district attorney Thomas McDonald, in his opening statement, pictured Montague as a "mystery man" of the gang and a party who was the one they called when there was fighting to be done.

Franco's Rebel Troops Capture Loyalist Gijon

NATIONAL ARMY HOISTS UP FLAG IN COASTAL CITY

Unconditional Surrender By Defenders Announced By Victorious Leaders

By HARRISON LA ROCHE
HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 21 (AP)—The nationalist legions of Generalissimo Francisco Franco marched victoriously into Gijon today and hoisted their red and gold flag of the monarchy. The nationalist radio announced the capture of two shiploads of refugees from Gijon, including the entire Asturian government. The military commanders of the city, the last important loyalist seaport in northwest Spain, were reported to have surrendered voluntarily. The city, crowded with 130,000 half-starved refugees and thousands of retreating loyalist soldiers, would have faced destruction had not it surrendered.

Boy Offered $650 For Last of Old 'Liberty' Nickels

MEXIKA, Tex., Oct. 21 (AP)—The last of the 1913 Liberty head nickels was out of circulation today and the owner, 13-year-old Carroll Wade, was considering an offer of $650 for it. The boy had a hunch that his coin might be valuable because he had never seen one like it, and for a good reason. So he took it to a bank and asked the teller about it. Bankers recognized the treasure and called a numismatist in Fort Worth who promptly offered to pay 13,000 times the face value of the coin. The expert said only five 1913 "Liberty heads" were minted. Three of them were in the Metropolitan museum, one was lost at sea, and this was the last of them. Carroll received his nickel and took the offer under advisement.

CHECK-UP: FACES PSYCHIATRIST IN OHIO'S MYSTERY

Sheriff Holds Amateur Crime Detector For Further Investigation

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 21 (AP)—There are some things about Dr. Charles W. Owen, psychiatrist, scholar and amateur criminologist, that have to be checked before authorities will consider turning him loose to help solve the murder of Melba Moore, Sheriff William Hoeknick said today. The sheriff declined to say what "some things" were. Owen wiped his brow, stroked his Van Dyke beard and announced that he had no part in this "damned perfect" crime. He has made a study of criminals and their methods, though, and said he would be glad to assist the officers in solving the Hoeknick murder if he were permitted. Hoeknick ordered him detained, however, on an "open charge," without accusation. The sheriff called in Adolph Sloper, 20, and Charles Wyatt, 16, who were with Miss Moore when she was slain on a lonely country road Oct. 13. The youths said they could not identify Owen. They had only a fleeting glimpse of the slayer before they fled in their car.

ANTI-ROOSEVELT MEETING SOUGHT

Former U. S. Ambassador to France Urges Coalition Of Opposition

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—A proposal to summon a free-for-all anti-New Deal national political convention, which would spring came out of the conservative camp today. Former Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey proposed the maneuver in a letter to J. P. Fomeny, New Jersey Republican national committee man. The Edge conference would supplant the American Republican national convention sponsored by former President Herbert H. Hoover. Edge was the Hoover administration ambassador to France from 1920 to 1923. He suggested that the national committee select "30 or perhaps 75 outstanding nationalist" men, representative of every region of those who oppose the Roosevelt dictatorship.

DRUG ENDS LIFE OF 15TH VICTIM

Memphis, Tenn., Man Dies Of Sulfanilamide, Doctor's Report Shows

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21 (AP)—Authorities today attributed the death of O. W. Miller, 28, to an overdose of sulfanilamide, a drug used in combat certain types of infection. His became the 15th death within recent weeks attributed to the cause. Miller died yesterday afternoon. An autopsy showed trace of sulfanilamide in the blood stream. Dr. W. L. Smith, medical examiner of the Memphis and Shelby County medical society, said it was the same lethal preparation blamed for nine deaths in Tulsa and five in East St. Louis. The American Medical Association warned earlier this week against use of the drug and attributed the Tulsa deaths to its use. The federal food and drug administration then charged the Tulsa poisoner, a manufacturer, a Tennessee firm, had recalled all shipments previously.

Duke May Miss Hollywood on Tour of U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Hollywood and the motion picture stars may miss a glimpse of the Duke of Windsor, as he comes to their American tour because of the serious nature of the trip. It was believed today that the Duke's itinerary probably will be made public Oct. 25, according to reports here, but whether it will include a visit to Hollywood was said to be a point not yet decided.

No Trace Found Of Missing Boy

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—Authorities who have searched for 48 hours without finding a trace of three-year-old Timothy Michael Heer, feared today that he had been kidnapped by a stranger. Heer was last seen at the bottom of Chautauque lake in the vicinity of the Heer residence and found missing. Police, recalling that an eight-year-old girl had been asked last Sunday and attacked, rounded up all known degenerates for questioning.

Variety of Pets Proof that the pet parade will provide variety and excitement for a throng of spectators that may reach 10,000 persons came this afternoon as Chairman Bennett Hood surveyed entries at the Chamber of Commerce garage. Today department of commerce inspectors were attempting to find the cause of the biggest tragedy in the history of airplane transportation.

Japanese, Chinese Troopers Clash in Terrific Fighting

Defenders Hold Ground, Then Make Series Of Counter-Attacks, Says Spokesman
By JOHN R. MORRIS.
SHANGHAI, Oct. 21 (AP)—Fighting of extreme intensity broke out all along the Shanghai front today. Japanese shock troops were trying to break the Chinese front. But according to Chinese spokesmen the Chinese, not only were holding their positions, but began a series of counter-attacks. Japanese artillery in the Hongkong section and Chinese artillery in the Chupai section exchanged a terrific bombardment and fires broke out in both areas. Japanese forces in the North railroad station, in the Chupai section, through the raging flames of fires their artillery had started. One artillery shell, at least, fell south of Boochow creek, in the area defended by the international defense force including United States Marines. Gen. Iwane Matsui, commander in chief of the Japanese forces in central China, was reported to have gone personally to the front to direct operations.

Oddities

CLEARANCE WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The United States government has begun a slim clearance campaign for systems the public health service announced today. The government used $2,500 of WPA funds to build a shop for 30 years a fixture on Pennsylvania avenue, suddenly changed its name to the Chinese bazaar. The war and Washington reaction to the Far Eastern struggle, explained Mrs. Cohen and David Goldberg, owners of the establishment. They ordered the change, they said, when they observed a sale of their best items—Japanese tea sets—and failed to sell a single set.

WOMAN REPORTS RANSOM MONEY

Railway Clerk Turns in First Bill Glor to Ross Kidnapers
CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP)—O-men said today they had been advised a woman had found the first bill in the $50,000 ransom paid in a vain effort to obtain release of Charles S. Ross, 22, kidnaped Chicago, six weeks ago. Federal agents said Mrs. Clara Ludwick, 41, Blue Island railroad clerk, had found a $10 bill, bearing the number 027708A, one of the numbered bills given the Ross kidnapers. Mrs. Ludwick called a Chicago newspaper which had offered a $100 reward for reporting the first ransom note and O-men said the newspaper notified them. Details of where Mrs. Ludwick got the ransom note were withheld.

Judge Fixes Day For Re-Sentence Of Wife Slayer

Marks Third Time for Decreeing of Gallows

Douglas Van Vlack must return to Twin Falls on Friday, Oct. 29, for re-sentencing to the gallows, it was directed today in an order signed by District Judge J. W. Porter. The convicted wife-slayer's appearance here will mark the third time that he has stood before the district court platform as an impassively heard himself condemned to hang for killing his wife, Mildred Hook, Tacoma. Judge Porter, on application of County Attorney Edward Balbock, signed orders—once directing Van Vlack to be returned for sentencing of the execution date, and once directing Warden William Goss of the state penitentiary to bring Van Vlack to Twin Falls on Friday at 10 a. m. on Oct. 29. The order will be served on James P. Adams, Jr., counsel for Van Vlack; E. V. Larson, former counsel but no longer actively connected with the case; Warden Goss and on Van Vlack himself.

PARDON BOARD'S MOVE CAN BLOCK VAN VLACK HOPE

Clever Maneuver Will Check Any Chance of Prieve For Killer
BOISE, Oct. 21 (AP)—A clever tactical move by the state pardon board may block all further hope of a reprieve or commutation of sentence for Douglas Van Vlack, condemned slayer. It was revealed today that the pardon board did not want to take the conclusion of its last session. Under this condition, should Governor Barzilla Clark grant a reprieve to Van Vlack until the next session of the board, which convenes Jan. 5, the pardon board could immediately meet and consider the reprieve. The session of the board is commuted for Van Vlack would see the appeal denied.

Reopening Nears For Bridge Suit
Company Files Federal Court Report That Reorganizing Plans Completed
Resumption of the state's move to enforce the rim-stitch toll bridge moved a step nearer today as word was received in Twin Falls this afternoon that the Twin Falls-Jerome North railroad station, in the Chupai section, through the raging flames of fires their artillery had started. One artillery shell, at least, fell south of Boochow creek, in the area defended by the international defense force including United States Marines. Gen. Iwane Matsui, commander in chief of the Japanese forces in central China, was reported to have gone personally to the front to direct operations.

Test Reveals Girl Suffers Rare Illness

Guinea Pig Shows Results Apparently Confirming Rat Bite Fever
Organisms which "closely resemble" those present in a person or animal suffering from rat bite fever were found today in the body of a guinea pig examined at the laboratory of the district health unit here. Seven days ago the guinea pig was inoculated with blood taken from a 12-year-old girl, residing in this section. Physicians diagnosed her case as rat bite fever, termed "unlike" in this country. It was the first case reported in the history of the local health unit record show. The finding the guinea pig was chloroformed. Examiners found the peritoneal cavity filled with a pus-like liquid. The cavity is that where the intestines, stomach, liver and other organs are located. Also discovered was a clot on the left lobe of the guinea pig's liver. The fluid taken from the rodent was submitted to a detailed microscopic examination and the organisms which "closely resemble" those of rat bite fever were present. Other slides, stained, were also prepared. (Continued on page 3, Column 2)

BAROGRAPH MAY HOLD KEY TO PLANE CRASH CAUSE

INSTRUMENT CAN EXPLAIN IF SHIP WAS OFF COURSE

Department of Commerce To Hold Device For Investigation

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 21.—A recording barograph found in the wreckage of the United Airlines "Mainliner," contained the best evidence today of why the transport plane crashed in the Uinta mountains Sunday night with a loss of 19 lives.

The barographs, which chart a log of a plane's altitudes, were installed on all United Airlines planes a few weeks ago and now, for the first time, one of the instruments was available with the flying log of a wrecked airliner.

If the barograph was working properly, it showed how long pilot Earl Woodger had been flying at 10,000 altitude before he crashed into the mountains. That altitude was too low for crossing the mountain range and Woodger knew it. He was a veteran of the western route and he was known to be a high altitude flyer. That is, he always rose several hundred feet higher than necessary to clear the mountain tops, as an extra precaution.

May Prove Heightful
The recording barograph was expected to prove one of two things: If it showed a sustained low flight of 10,000 feet before the crash, that would indicate something was wrong with the altimeter, and Woodger thought he was higher.

If it showed a sudden drop to 10,000 feet just before the crash, it would mean either that the plane was caught in a down-draft of air and Woodger was unable to gain elevation to clear the mountain, or that some mechanical defect of the plane forced it down.

Department of commerce air inspectors had custody of the instrument. There is the job of determining the reason for commercial airplane accidents if possible, and the wreckage of airliners is theirs to dispose. They had gathered up the parts of the "Mainliner's" motors for their investigation, and planned to have the rest of the wreckage burned where it lay.

Meet Saturday
The federal agents will meet Saturday to decide the time and place for a formal hearing and the readings of the barograph may not be announced until that time. United Airlines technicians also will report on their investigations at a company hearing Saturday.

The formal investigation was expected to be completed as to whether the plane was still on its radio guide beam when the crash occurred. The beam ordinarily covers a 50-mile wide band.

United Airlines officials refused to comment on the subject, but they admitted that Hump Creek ridge, where the ship crashed, was near the extreme edge of the directional beam's scope.

High Altitude
Aviation experts pointed out that 10,000 feet of altitude would have been entirely safe down the center of the beam. The pilot would have been approximately 2,400 feet above the ground. Knight emergency airfield, directly on the beam, is 7,600 feet above sea level. South of the beam's center where the plane crashed there are high mountains, some of them rising above 12,000 feet.

They theorized that pilot Woodger might have found it difficult to rise above 10,000 feet because of "heavy" weather, and, believing he was on his course, had tried to get through at that height.

BRYAN APPROVES BURLEY AIRMEET

Aeronautics Director Stamps Official Approval on Big Oasias Event

Official approval to stage all listed events at the first annual air-meet sponsored by the Idaho Pilots' association and set for the Burley municipal airport Saturday and Sunday, had been given today after Ed Bryan, director of the bureau of aeronautics, conferred with officials here yesterday afternoon.

Announcement of the approval was made by Bryan after he had completed a survey of the Burley airport as well as the rules and regulations for the meet which were drawn up to conform to United States department of commerce requirements. Approval from the federal government to stage the meet was gained earlier in the week.

Association members have complied with all rules in this case," Bryan said. "and therefore official permission has been given to hold the meet as scheduled.

"There is no doubt in my mind but that this show will be the most efficiently managed as well as the greatest airmeet ever to be staged in Idaho. Entry lists, checked during my survey, show 20 planes are registered to participate during the two days," Bryan said.

The program at Burley will include races, stunting contests, balloon busting contests, spot-landing events, parachute jumps and passenger flights. The feature of the meet will be "Tommy" Thompson who will fly a special pair of wings, attached to his body and arms, as he leaps from a plane more than a mile above the earth. Thompson, nationally known as the "bat man," will jump in this manner both afternoons of the show. Prior to this jump he will drive a motorcycle, through an inch-thick flaming wooden wall while traveling at high speed.

Comp. Clark Attends
In approving the meet Bryan also announced Cong. D. Worth Clark will attend the two-day show, flying to Burley from Boise with the state director of the municipal department of Commerce, the municipal department has been completely graded and is reported by Bryan to be in "excellent condition." Other improvements on and near the field have also been completed.

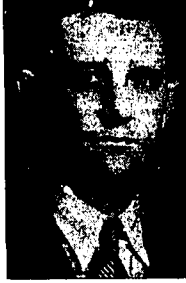

At least 10 members of the Boise chapter of the Northwest Flying association will attend the show, aiding in the flight ticket sales.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher
(Washington Times Washington)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Fraternal Republican politicians, who couldn't keep their minds off 1940 even if they tried, cast frequent glances at Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey is famous in the east as the special prosecutor who has been in the headlines for months in New York City. He is now running for district attorney of New York on the same ticket with Mayor LaGuardia. A spectacular reform district attorney in the metropolis would be an obvious good Republican bet for any national ticket. He has been as scarce as it is, and nearly any Republican governor of New York would be a strong candidate for a presidential nomination.

His Long Shot
All this would require some fast going, however, and Mr. Dewey is a long time in an obstacle race. Tammany still has many jobs and privileges and the nightmare of Dewey making hay from the wreckage of Tammany is calculated to bring all the bickering groups in this once royal city to get together in an effort to smother him. Dewey runs only in the Tammany stronghold of Manhattan and not in the city's vast suburbs. This he is considered to have a poorer chance than LaGuardia.

KLAN REVIVAL FLOPS
Any effort to build the Ku Klux Klan has gathered recruits in its reported membership drive of the last few months. The Ku Klux Klan is reported to be in the process of reorganizing its national committee, according to present plans. Meanwhile, reports on attempts to reorganize the Klan have been nothing to get excited about. The most conspicuous attempt, growing out of a local investigation in Akron, O., was a complete flop.

POT SHOTS

The Gentleman in the Third Row
CHAPTER XXXIX
T was the following Sunday. Cilly was preparing to see her apartment. She expected Sergeant Dolan and Jim, of course. But Jim lived here now. They had been married the previous afternoon, with Sergeant Dolan, his wife and the best man.

WHAT PRICE KISSES?
Pot Shots:
The co-eds at some of our big colleges are charging their boy friends a dime and twopence for good night kisses. They do it to help pay off the debt on the sorority houses.

TAKE IT WITH A GRAIN OF SALT!
Pot Shots:
Pardon me for making a wisecrack about your esteemed Evelines, but it seems you were being quietly excited this other day... or maybe you didn't know it.

THE LADY WHO FORGOT THE LAUNDRY TAG!
Pot Shots:
Well, I've waited quite a while to get one of that feminine contributor's letters, who gave you the squib about my finding a mouse in my street shoes when I got ready to go home one night.

There is another fact to consider. The Japanese campaign in China hits the British purse much harder than the American. America has something like $840,000,000 invested in China; Britain's investment is well above a billion.

THE CAT, MONKEY AND UNCLE SAM
Before we go much farther with this international co-operation idea, it might be a good thing for us to review the old fable of the cat, the monkey, and the roasted chestnuts.

Specifically, the danger arises from the fact that while our government is concentrating its attention on the aggression which is going on in China, the great democracies of Europe are much more worried about the aggression which is going on in Spain.

Spain is much nearer to France and England than China is. The military machines of Italy and Germany look much worse, in London and Paris, than the military machines of Japan. It can be taken for granted that neither France nor England will get more than knee-deep in any oriental commitment unless the affair of Hitler, Mussolini, and Franco is straightened out.

There is another fact to consider. The Japanese campaign in China hits the British purse much harder than the American. America has something like $840,000,000 invested in China; Britain's investment is well above a billion.

So it is quite possible that America would be encouraged to take the lead in action to restrain the Japanese and then be left all alone, way out in front, while England and France concentrated their attention on affairs nearer home.

Our statesmen at Washington can avoid that danger, if they are sufficiently cagy. They can swing this country's weight on the side of decency and fair play against international gangsterism without getting into a spot where we have to send out the fleet to make their words good—but they will have to be cautious.

The point to bear in mind is that the danger does exist. The chestnuts are on the fire, and there are plenty of people who would enjoy seeing Uncle Sam play the role of monkey. Caution ought to be the watchword in Washington from now on.

Copy Kansas City!
That the juvenile auto death toll in this country need not remain the insoluble problem it usually seems to be is amply proved by the experience of Kansas City.

No Threats Needed
An excellent sample of the kind of advice our government can get along without in the present troubled international situation is provided by the recent statement of N. M. Hubbard, president of the Navy League of the United States.

UNDEFEATED H. S. CLUBS HOLD SPOTLIGHT NAVY-NOTRE DAME BATTLE HEADS MID-WEST CARD

Burley to Play At Jerome; Buhl Battles Bruins

RUPERT INVADES NAMPA AS GOODING, WENDELL TANGLE

Although there is not an undefeated, untied major team left in south central Idaho, two clubs will enter the week's fray holding records of all wins with only a tie as a blemish. The Big Hurly Bobcats, held to a tie in their first game by the tricky Oakley Hornets, will travel to Jerome in the feature game of the week-end. Since playing their coach with the Hornets, Coach Pete Taylor's crew has come along fast, scoring successive victories over Filer and the Blackfoot Bruins. The Bobcats will be battling against one of the best passing attacks in Idaho when they face Jerome, and unless their aerial defense is somewhat better than strong, they are going to find the going tough.

Bruins vs. Indians
Twin Falls' vastly improved Bruins move to Buhl to take on the hapless Indians who have dropped three in a row—although three were to outstanding clubs. Buhl lost to the strong Gooding team last week which easily in the season was defeated by Coach Hank Powers' eleven on the local field. Past performances point to a win for the Invading crew. Last year the Indians downed the Bruins on the Twin Falls field and the chances are that Powers' youngsters will have their mind when they enter the game Friday.

Rupert, with a dismal record of three losses and a tie in its first four games of the season, can hardly expect for a win from a big Nampa outfit that last week romped through Filer. The game will be played on the Bulldogs' home field. Last season Filer downed a hitherto undefeated American Falls team in the Wildcat's first game. It gave much of a chance of duplicating the trick Saturday—even though the Damascians already have a narrow lead in the season. American Falls last week by a 7-6 score.

Wendell vs. Gooding
Over on the north side, a fine Wendell team happens to be unlucky enough to catch its two most important foes, Jerome and Gooding, with two of their best clubs. The Trojans, losers to Oakley and Jerome, tackle the Hornets Friday in a Class A game.

Oakley, a club that plays the razzle-dazzle style, and already holds two wins and a tie with Big Ten teams, will take on the Kimberly club that last week turned in the surprise of the day by holding Rupert to a draw.

Class B Game
Other games will find the powerful Class B team from Albion tangle the Hansen crew at the Green Wave's field. Richfield plays Fairfield at Fairfield; Dietrich goes to Hagerman; Castleford invades Eden; Glenn tangles the boys from Mountain Home club; King Hill entertains Hansen and Castleford Friday at Eden.

One or two additional ties, arranged at the last minute, may be played Friday although these were not scheduled when lists were originally drawn up.

Strikes to Spare

By FRED STONE

The Chevrolet certainly tramped on the ladies, taking all three games from Buhler's. Ray Preis rolled high single game score of 204 and high three of 54-2 a turkey in Ray's 200 score.

Cap Nelson got five in a row his first game but three errors and a split ruined a good game. A turkey his second and a double his third—52 for total wasn't so bad.

John Rogers doubted out to end his last one.

No, Joe Alsworth wasn't the dummy. They had a real dummy.

Mrs. Buhler was lops for her team, 187 for high single and 484 for high three.

She got two doubles her best game her first; also a double in her third.

Ruth Rogers got the only turkey for the ladies, starting her last game with three strikes in a row. She also doubled out to end her second game.

Mrs. Kircher and Mrs. Stone each collected a double.

National Laundry took it on the chin for three in a row from the Schiltz team.

A. L. Kircher joined the 800 club with scores of 214, 193 and 199 to add up to 606.

He got four in a row his first game; one double his second, and two in his third. Two errors and one split were his only open games all night.

Yours truly walked off with the high single of 216; ended that game, my first, with five in a row.

Roy Cubitt got a double his second, a turkey his third, but he checked in a little short his first game.

Brooks ended his first with three in a row; his second with two errors, and his third with a double and his first; just the double his third, but his second he got everything he shouldn't.

Art Wood topped the losers with 277. Art got a couple of doubles, but also got a few errors, something unusual for that big boy.

Al Puglianio got a lot of nice hits but left one pin standing. He also collected in two doubles.

Nary a double for Sprouts. In fact, he did not top any.

Louis Puglianio had another of those nights—only one double but nine splits. Do they hurt? Ask Louis.

Bill Ford got his double to start his first game. After that, he got exactly not much.

Nemaha county, Neb., once had a dog for a deputy sheriff; he attended all trials at the courthouse and once captured a jail breaker.

Highways High

CARSON CITY, Nev., Oct. 21 (UP)—Major highways in Nevada have 20 distinct summits that range in elevation from 8,164 to 8,293 feet above sea level. Highest road here is the state on the Mt. Rose summit near the California border on an alternate route of the Lincoln highway.

MAC FINDS HIS HOTEL TURNED INTO CONVENTION ON POLITICS

By HENRY McLEMORE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21 (UP)—If by English cousin are right, I find the only plausible excuse for sport in the world is politics.

I arrived at this conclusion this morning when I checked in at the Andrew Jackson hotel here and found it choked from potted palms to pent house with representatives, here for a special session of the Tennessee state legislature. When I first walked in the door I could have sworn that I was in the Nelson house at Monticello, but I was not. I found the Heidelberg at Baton Rouge after the Tigers had kicked Tennessee to 0, and the Brown in Louisville on Derby day.

"To Serve People"

You never saw so much fun in your life, as the representatives of the electorate were having. To clear their minds, and better serve the people, they were making their first cigars, and, in order to ready their voices for oratory, I suppose, many of them gargled with a clear white fluid, drawn straight from a cork-stoppered bottle.

Conversation flowed as readily ly as the larynx proctective. It was easy to see that these statesmen were prepared to serve the public on any matter, for they talked on just about anything. Football, the stock market, cock-fighting, the best material for making a suit, the right and wrong of putting sugar on turnip greens, more football, and occasionally—the unit voting plan which they had been accustomed to file on.

Everybody Happy

Everybody was happy. Just as everybody always is on political gatherings. I am not a political journalist, and never will be I guess, because I just can't wear a suit and carry a cane. Despite my ankles and I don't know what to do with a cane unless there is a picket fence handy to rest it on. But I have covered a few national conventions and joy reigns supreme. If you will, pardon a quick two phrase turning.

Now you take a caucus for example. Athletes never have parties but they even approach a caucus or fund-raising party after Chatterbox Horace, baseball players get legitimate, tangible players get peculiar behavior, cartoonists draw pictures both odd and even numbered, and ladies players get whacked over the tough with adult buttefly nets. All these items hurt. Never Get Hurts

But you never hear of a politician getting hurt. Not seriously anyway. Occasionally some will trip over one of his own feet about all they have to worry about is voting bill which in one way and another, will affect national affairs for years to come. They take their flight in stride. Even the presence of two United States senators, here to argue on opposite sides of the question, is not enough to stop the boys from having their children's hour every day, with their games of football and their handkerchiefs, and pin the tail on the donkey.

I hadn't been in the hotel long when I would have thought that I could pin the tail on twenty donkeys inside five minutes. And no peeping over the blindfold either.

Trojan blockers and tacklers were on hand at all times to stop Oregon ball carriers. Oregon's Robertson, shown getting away for 10 yards this time, but USC's McNeil (47) and Fisk (50) were on hand to stop any further gains.

With another bowler climbing into the 600 club, Schiltz keggers annexed three straight games last night in the National Laundry, 2-3, in the Commercial league match. A. L. Kircher turned in 608 total to lead the way to victory.

PORT QUIBBS

(By H. J. W.)

One more average into a big league manager's job closed yesterday when Oscar Vitt, the former Pacific Coast league manager, and more recently of Newark in the international league, was named to take Steve O'Neill's job as boss of the Peonungering Cleveland Indians.

Vitt, whom most Pacific coast fans know by sight, has had wonderful success at Newark. His Bears copping the International League championship by a record-breaking 25 games, then going on take the "Little World Series" from Columbus after dropping the first three games.

Mr. Vitt is going to find his troubles all ready-made for him when he steps into the Cleveland berth. For the last four or five years the Indians have been consistently picked to run one-two in the American League. Steve O'Neill might have been sitting on top of the world in Joe McCarthy's club. Vitt "it" that make most ball players—and the cards apparently were stacked against O'Neill.

There is one clutch—and that is Vitt is being handed nice group of ball players as there is in the league—and barring injuries (there's that "if" again) his club should finish in the one-two spot that has so often been predicted for the Indians of late.

Our high school guesses of the week:
Jerome over Burley, 28-23.
Twin Falls to beat Buhl, 13-9.
Nampa to run through Ripert, 25-9.
American Falls to down Filer, 20-10.
Gooding to win Wendell, 13-8.
Oakley to wallop Kimberly, 21-8.

That Burley-Jerome affair Friday night promises to be one of the best tilts of the year. The Tigers, with two of the best passers in southern Idaho in their backfield, are going to cause a few uneasy moments for any team they meet this week. Burley, with a record of two wins and one tie for the season, isn't anticipating having a Class A outfit step into, the Big Ten and score another victory.

We have seen surety play this year, but if they are a powerful ground club, they will be able to make yardage through the Jerome line. But at the same time, the Bobcats gear on the defense they are going to need an alert passing defense. Those Tigers never completely break every time they thought about it in the Bruin game, and with so much success under their belts via the air route, they are apt to continue to break, even if they find the ground an uncomfortable place to gain any yardage.

In the Twin Falls game, we believe that Coach Hank Powers has the strongest department of any club in this section—and probably in the state. The Bruins swept through the much heavier and more experienced Boise line for three quarters of a game here—and in last Friday night, they did the same thing against Jerome, only with greater ease. On the Tiger field the Bruins' line broke to break was good five yards on nine successive attempts. And end-around play was good both times used. And after that success, the Bruins are apt to stick pretty close to the ground for the rest of the season.

When promised to be a good club at Buhl has had the break against it all season, injuries and illness has slowed down some of their stars while a little more steady thinking in the backfield at times, would have spelled the difference between a loss and a defeat in two games this year, we are told by Buhl informants.

slightly per cent of business are now here. Compared to 1926, per cent in 1927, according to government figures.

Layden's Club Shows Little Fight in Last Two Grid Encounters

Middies Will Attempt to Capture Fourth Game in Five Starts With Ramblers

By STEVE SNIDER

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 21 (UP)—Notre Dame's Fighting Irish had not yet begun to fight Illinois tied them. Carnegie Tech pulled an upset that surprised even themselves. Now Navy, strong but not great, reigns as a favorite to whip the Irish Saturday for the fourth time in five years.

"Navy has a fighting tradition, too," Irish Coach Elmer Layden told his squad, "but they do something about it on the field. It's time Notre Dame began to fight."

Layden was aroused not only by the tie and defeat, unexpected as they were, but by a miserable showing of the varsity against the frosh. It took seven plays to punch over a touchdown from the freshman 20-yard line in the first drive and 12 more to pierce the green yearlings' line on the second attempt.

Same Line-Up

Unless Layden makes a last-minute switch to improve blocking and charging in the line, his starting eleven against Navy will be approximately the same one that expects Irish partisans expected to win a national championship despite one of the toughest schedules in history.

The answer to "what's wrong with Notre Dame?" probably is that murderous schedule which includes Navy, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Army, Northwestern and Southern California.

With such an array of juggernauts to be met on successive Saturdays, Layden could not afford to point for his early games—and both Illinois and Carnegie Tech could.

Middwest Headliner

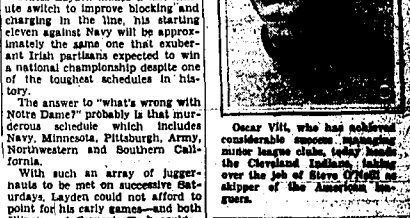

The Navy game Saturday will be the midwest's headliner. It marks a crucial point in Notre Dame's schedule—since the Irish are underdogs for the first time this year—and it affords a chance to avenge that fumbling 3 to 0 defeat by the Middies last season.

Navy is at least as strong as in 1926 last week the midwestern and Harvard played a scoreless tie without the services of young Bill Ingram, who sides the frosh against Notre Dame last year. Ingram will be ready for the Irish.

Notre Dame probably has lost Joe Reutz, a fine guard who returned to his old position after a fling as quarterback last year.

Severe cuts about the head forced Reutz out of the Carnegie Tech game. Jim McCordrick, a Junior from Philadelphia, will fill in for Reutz.

Jack McCarthy, number one left halfback in the first two games, has been restored to the first eleven but still Layden needs an accurate passer. McCarthy apparently is top material.

Oscar Vitt, who has achieved considerable success managing major league clubs, today heads the Cleveland Indians, taking over the job of Steve O'Neill as skipper of the American League.
