Posse Searches for Missing Publisher

R. L. Cornwell, Jerome Editor, Young Son Lost in Stanley Basin

JEROME, Oct. 27 (Special)—Intensive search for R. L. Cornwell, 45, publisher of the Jerome County Journal, and his 10-year-old son, Dean, missing in the Stanley basin wilderness, was being pressed this afternoon as fears for the pair increased.

A posse was organized last night when authorities were notified by Mrs. Cornwell that the two had planned to return Sunday from a deer-hunting trip undertaken on Friday. The searchers were accompanied by Mrs. Cornwell, who had become alarmed when her husband failed to return for last evening's meeting of the American Citizens Protective association of which he was a local leader.

Search for Car

The party of four searchers indicated discovery of the Cornwell automobile in the Stanley basin and afterwards an attempt would be made to trail the missing hunters.

Blaze Damages Oakley Theater

OAKLEY, Oct. 27 (Special)—Considerable damage was being done by a fire that started in the Oakley theater today following a fire which completely destroyed the projection room equipment last evening. Loss is covered by insurance.

Five miners escaped after the blast, he said.

Louissou reported that the six bodies recovered were so badly mangled and burned that he doubted if they would be identifiable. He said that the fire was extinguished late last night but that the mine suffered heavy damage. The cause of the explosion was not learned.

First reports of the accident came from Harry Drake, mine foreman, who telephoned here asking that nurses, physicians, and medical supplies be sent to the mine. A rescue crew went to the mine in two gasoline-powered railway cars.

The mine, producing soft coal, sells its product to the Alaska railroad.

POT SHOTS

WITH
The Gentleman in the Third Row

HEY, OUR CONTRAST BARS THAT KIND!

Dear Pot: What do I like to hunt best: pheasants, ducks or deer? Well, I'll tell you. My mother always told me that honesty is the best policy—even if your other readers don't follow that trend.

S-I'll just say this:
D-E-H-A-R-A.

—Don Herald

RELIEF FOR OVER-WORKED COWS!

Dear Pot: I realize I am being heckled by a jealous relative in law Grandfather Oodietstone, but I has always been my creed that a man must rise to heights above his critics. One day I was out with my rifle before sunrise, so I go away on my way, confident that my constituents are not misled where they belong. My heart beats free for humanity, to save some poor souls from a life of toll so they may go on government relief where they belong. Even dumb animals can be relieved by the ingenuity of man from a life of drudgery.

I am perfecting a glass clipper much like a pair of hair clippers to be fastened on a cow's nose that will cut the hair and trim the grass and all the cow has to do is lick it up out of the grass.

The device will be operated by a small dry cell battery tied snugly behind the cow's ear.

I have tested this out and find that the cow will lick up the hair and more milk and their teats stay good much longer.

Yours
—E.H. That F. Puddles (Who believes the government should be the post, always)

THE WIVES ARE WORKING ALREADY, BEY?

Dear Pot: I hear there are rumblings already, and half a dozen wives have laid down the law to some of our local Jaycoes.

About making too merry with the various blond, brunette and red-head beauties whom the Jaycoes are supposed to adore, the teachers' institute dance Friday evening.

One day, I'm told, will have string tied around two fingers on one hand. One will remind him (the other wife's hope) to be a perfect gentleman; the other will signatively scowl at him with the same look as home right after the dance.

But I'm a bachelor, so beware, teachers!

—Mr. Bones

MUCH ADO OVER ONE GRAPE!

Pot Shooter: Can you believe it? The grocer in the city is the girl clerk, who, in his right mind, is a cent's worth of grapes, took one grape off the scale to balance the scale.

The purchaser, a young high school grad, could think a little faster. He saw the grocer's hand covered a potato in front among the goods so returned and asked for a good one in exchange. Hope the clerk felt put in her place.

—Mabe

WHEREUPON STAN'S FACE GOT REDDISH!

Pot Shooter: And Mrs. Flood, the mother of Leona Flood, the young vixen who played in Twin Falls last week, had it out straight to the shoulder to Stan Hall, chairman of the Junior Chamber directors.

"—well, it was a concert was going on about the time I left from being what Leona's affair is warranted. And Mrs. Flood observed me about the situation."

"And to think you boys took me out phasing hunting when you should have been selling tickets!"

Ouch!

—General B.

OUR BURLY FRIENDS WILL SKIN YOU ALIVE!

Dear Pot: Concerning the "Olent Aircraft." They had it at Burley so it wouldn't go any farther. The pilot took THE airplane back to Wall Lake about 2:30 Sunday and the army bombers—high, high, they had been cancelled—nobody saw them.

If you want to see some about flying, go out to the local airport and see the local "Wild Bill" Why? he could beat that and not even I.

CHAPTER V
PATTY'S blue voice, which somehow matched her blushing red, answered Jill's one morning over the telephone.

"Hop over," she said. "I want you to bring me some flowers. It's not much to ask."

"You'll find me two streets south of Miss Lancaster's terrace," Patty went on. "You remember the place? If you drive a straight line from Miss Lancaster's you'd bump into the old brick place with a stone stoop and grillwork. There are windows boxes with flowers in them. You can't miss."

Miss Lancaster's terrace appeared unchanged, as Jill's tan roadster bore past. Inside, she unlocked the heavy clatter of the going on. But there was a patriotic place at the rear with flagged flooring, a white trellis covered with ardent vines, and waitresses in crisp white and green moving about.

Jill drove two blocks south and turned the two corners she was driving stopped over the tops of buildings to settle down on the stone stoop of an old red brick building of the 1890 type. There were windows boxes with flowers bloomed feebly in weatherproof green window boxes.

GUIDED BY her mental line, Jill parked and got out. She stepped into the dark hall. The door to the room on the left was open, and voices came from the room. Jill went in and curiously stirred by memory. She walked slowly toward the stairway that spiraled upward.

A voice with a giggle in it came through the open door. "I'll leave you one of the Blue Danube!"

"I've never seen the Blue Danube." A cool, deep, aloof voice.

Jill went about and went back to the door.

Directly in front of her on an old marble mantel was a picture of an ancient galley. And in the ancient thing on the wall, a person—a very stoulish person. None other than Jill's own Miss Benedict, her big leather purse.

"The glow was still on Jill when she reached home and gave an excuse for arriving home when she should have been at the party. Mrs. Wentworth welcomed the signs of romance. "She probably met some attractive man at the party."

"That was nice. When girls didn't marry young, they started picking themselves a career."

"It would be awful to have Jill be a career girl. It would mean having her at her heels always."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Duttler

Washington, Oct. 27.—There is a serious feeling within the Republican party, of which the disagreements between ex-President Herbert Hoover and ex-Candidate Alfred M. Landon present a conspicuous phase.

It would be neither so curious nor so complicated except for the fact that Mr. Hoover is a far more potent force in the party machinery than Mr. Landon. Recognition of this fact probably will make the meaning of recent and forthcoming events in the O. C. P. plianter to the outside observer.

The Republican national committee due to meet at Chicago Nov. 8, Landon timed his radio attack on Roosevelt for little more than two weeks earlier as a means of reasserting himself as the party leader.

Mr. Hoover sought to demolish the party. There is excellent reason to believe that Landon also suspects Hoover, despite all that Mr. Hoover is a far more potent force in the party machinery than Mr. Landon. Recognition of this fact probably will make the meaning of recent and forthcoming events in the O. C. P. plianter to the outside observer.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Huffman have returned from Wallace where they attended grand lodge of Rebekahs and Odd Fellows.

S. H. McClinton, who spent 10 days in Flint, Mich., and points in Ohio has returned home.

Martha school boys and girls defeated both the Washington school teams at their games on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Huffman, Brigham, Utah, have returned to their home after spending a week at the B. C. Huffman home.

Mrs. E. H. Huffman entertained at the Maroa Sewing club at her home on Friday. Ten members and their guests were present.

Mrs. Cecil Hamilton entertained at a birthday surprise party for her husband on Saturday with 50 guests at the home of Mrs. J. M. Jamerson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Huffman, Brigham, Utah, have returned to their home after spending a week at the B. C. Huffman home.

HOOPER MORE POWERFUL
Theoretically, a party's last presidential candidate is regarded as its "lifer" leader. But the hard, cold fact is that Hoover is a far more potent force in the party machinery than Mr. Landon. Recognition of this fact probably will make the meaning of recent and forthcoming events in the O. C. P. plianter to the outside observer.

WERE ONCE KANSAS RIVALS
And that brings us to Hamilton himself, and to recent reports planted by friends of the former Kansas governor that Landon desired to get Hamilton out of the national chairmanship.

Despite the fact that Hamilton was Landon's pre-convention campaign manager last year and also his choice for national chairman, there is no doubt at all that Landon is a rival. Friends and advisers of Landon represent him as annoyed by the working arrangement appearing to exist between Hamilton and Hoover.

FAIRVIEW
A large crowd of their friends are to be attracted at a wedding dance at the Fairview hall this evening by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kulk, who were married last week. George Lath attended the grand lodge meeting at Wallace last week. The R. D. Whitakers have moved into their new seven room log house.

The Family Doctor

This is the fifth of a series of articles in which Dr. Morris Fishbein discusses diseases of the skin.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

There are three different diseases of the skin which may be seen in the region of the beard in men. Most of them are packed up in unsanitary barber shops. Impetigo has already been described.

The condition commonly called barber's itch is known scientifically as acyclos vulgaris. It represents an infection of the hair follicles by a germ known as a form of the staphylococcus. The areas chiefly involved are the upper lip and the beard. It is usually seen in the eyebrows and eyelashes as well as may be involved by the infection.

Women are seldom attacked by barber's itch because the hair on the bodies of women have been affected. When the skin germ gets into the hair follicles, the hair appears which soon becomes filled with infectious material and which may then burst. When the infection is not so deep into the skin as that which is caused by a crust. The disease is extended by spreading of the pus-infected material.

Frequently after the condition develops, there is burning, itching or pain in the skin. Sometimes the infection gets so deep into the skin that it is difficult to control by the ordinary antiseptics.

When this condition occurs, it may be distinguished from impetigo from impetigo and also from the ringworm infection of the beard area which it sometimes resembles. Like impetigo, it is usually seen in the beard area, but it is usually seen in the beard area which it sometimes resembles. Like impetigo, it is usually seen in the beard area, but it is usually seen in the beard area which it sometimes resembles.

HISTORY of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Piles of The Times

15 YEARS AGO
Oct. 17, 1922
Government expenses are piling up in the state of Idaho and in the nation at a rate which will bring both to verge of ruin, if not checked. Sen. W. E. Borah told an anxious audience at the Laveing theater last evening.

He pointed out that the taxes of Idaho increased from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 a year from 1916 to 1922. He said that the state is in a worse condition than it was in 1916. The abolition of one-third of the officers in Idaho would mean the saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars in taxes to this state, he said.

He also said that the Republican party in this state in convention and committee is dominated by the interests of the coal and oil industries. He said that the Republican party they will be some other party and should be.

27 YEARS AGO

Oct. 27, 1910
Agent D. E. Sullivan of the Oregon Short Line, is out after scalps owing to what he claims are false reports circulated in the Twin Falls area about the general decline of coal. Sullivan is very emphatic in stating that at no time in the past month has anyone been turned down when applying for cars. He said further that he stated every day more cars have been on the siding here than have been used by the coal companies.

Sullivan invited inspection of the records to support his statement.

Friends of Attorney General D. C. McLaughlin are being warned and mystified as to what possible use he could put 500 pounds of snow-white rye, which he recently ordered for the general decline of coal. Sullivan is very emphatic in stating that at no time in the past month has anyone been turned down when applying for cars. He said further that he stated every day more cars have been on the siding here than have been used by the coal companies.

L. D. S. LEADERS TO VISIT BURLEY

Meeting Friday Part of New Program to Bring About Scouting Increase

In an endeavor to motivate the Boy Scout program in all parts of the Mormon church, five high L. D. S. officials from Salt Lake City, dubbed the "flying squadron" will hold a special session Friday night at the Burley tabernacle for those having any connection with church troops. It was announced in Twin Falls this afternoon through central offices of the Boy Scouts of America.

Members of the "flying squadron" will include Elder George Albert Smith, of the council of 12 Apostles and a member of the executive board of the National Boy Scout council; Elder Melvin J. Ballard, member of the council of 12 Apostles and member of the executive committee of the church; Elder George Q. Morris, general superintendent of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement association; Elder John D. Giles, member at large of the national council and the field supervisor of Scouting for the Young Men's M. I. A.; Elder Oscar A. Kirkham, executive secretary of the Young Men's M. I. A. and association regional executive of Scout region 12.

Series of Meetings
Meetings similar to the one scheduled for Burley Friday from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. are being held throughout various sections of Utah and Idaho. They are part of a "new church program of organization, motivation and supervision being inaugurated by the Y. M. M. I. A. for the avowed purpose of bringing every L. D. S. member from 12 to 18 years old into the Boy Scout program.

A part of the program includes a survey of every stake and ward in the church which will be used as the basis for an intensive supervision plan which it is believed will motivate Scouting in the L. D. S. units to an even greater position than it has occupied in the past.

Subjects Listed
At Burley the church officials will speak on the following subjects:
Elder Smith: "The Church and Scouting"; Elder Ballard: "Men for Scouting"; Elder Morris: "Scouting in the Y. M. M. I. A."; Elder Kirkham: "Scouting and Religion"; Elder Giles: "The Y. M. M. I. A. Plan of Organization, Motivation, Supervision and Correlation."

The program includes both Scout and Explorer programs and detailed attention will be given to the Burley meeting, local Scout officials announced.

JEROME

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Gould and children, Peggy and Ronald, have returned to their home in Paonia, Colo. Mrs. Gould is Mrs. J. O. Lee's daughter and has been visiting here with her mother for the past three weeks. Dr. Gould arrived here Sunday to take his family home.

Monday Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Melvin A. Bishop. Prizes were won by Mrs. A. E. Gould, Mrs. Ida Gerboth and Mrs. Clyde Jenkins, a guest. Three tables were in play. A dessert luncheon was served to those present, and the Hal-loween motif was carried out in refreshments and decorations.

Mrs. Mary Long, Rupert, and Eugene Rice, Seattle, daughter and son of Mrs. William Rice, were called here last week to be with their mother, who is ill.

Mrs. Oliver Hem, mother of Mrs. Nelson A. Pierce, left today for her home in Aurora, Ill. Mrs. Hem arrived here last week to attend the funeral of Mr. Pierce.

Chief of Police Harry Finch, Salt Lake City, and Tom Gardner, also of Salt Lake were in Jerome over the week-end and enjoyed hunting with Sheriff Davis and other officers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thamm are parents of a son born last week.

Dolphin society of the Wendell and Jerome chapters met together for a no-host luncheon at Wood cafe Monday. The ladies held a joint meeting after the luncheon.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. Pennington, Portland, were guests at the Ross Updegraf home Monday. Mr. Pennington has property in Wendell and was a former Jerome resident.

Laughs at Zero

Sung as the proverbial bug in the rug will be the girl who takes this new cold weather bag along to football games. The rug, of black waterproof fabric lined with flannel, is cut like a loose gunny sack. You simply slip your feet into it, zip yourself in, then tie the waist. Slip hands into the deep flannel-lined pockets—and there you are.

Violations Fined by North Side Court

JEROME, Oct. 27 (Special)—Persons brought into court for committing offenses this week-end were: Carl Mathis, Hazelton, fined $25 and $10 court costs on drunk and disorderly charge; John Magnell, fined by Judge John L. Gould $5 and $3 court costs for speeding within the city limits; Raymond J. Preis, Twin Falls, fined $5 and $3 court costs for speeding inside school zone; Mike Mathis, Piler, intercepted here Monday upon complaint of Brownie Hartman, that he was driving a tractor with cleaned lugs, and was trailing a threshing machine within the city limits, fined $10 and $3 court costs. After Mathis failed to pay the fine, the separator was held.

An investigation is being made here by authorities for a stolen automobile which disappeared early Sunday morning in front of the Jerome hotel and belonging to Lyle Sprague, Shelton, Wis. The car, a 1936 model Ford V8, is a grey color.

Nebraska Conquests Due to Fast Acting Of Thurston Phelps

Faculty Generalship Termed Cause of Early Season Defeat of Minnesota Club

By GEORGE KIRKBY
CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—The lads who can think fast in pinch, execute "snappy" decisions rapidly are becoming the men on the nation's gridirons. More and more games in a midwest are hinging on quick thinking at critical mo-

Coch Biff Jones of Nebraska offers the Cornhuskers' quarterback, Thurston Phelps, an outstanding example. Phelps was thinking even faster than Coach Jones when Nebraska beat Missouri last Saturday, 7-0.

Phelps had a tackle to tell him on second down after he was told to take the tackle forward to the line. Phelps said: "That's the way we just scored."

Most of the sporting gentry around and about the country are happy that John Montague, alias the alias Laverne Moore, was acquitted in his robbery trial.

As far as we are concerned, we are glad to see a selfish angle, and we just about believe it's the same with the rest of our citizens. Montague may, or may not, be guilty of a robbery seven years ago. But that doesn't enter into consideration of most of us. Our reason is we've heard so many fabulous stories about Mr. Montague that we'd now like to see him perform some of those super-tricks he claims he has done.

What we would like to see him do—and what the rest of the world would probably also like to view—would be for Montague to enter a major golf tournament and there, before the eyes of the populace, really "go to town."

It is claimed that Montague once had a $100,000 bet on an amateur golf player for a side bet of $10,000 on a Los Angeles course.

On four successive days preceding the match final, he is reported to have gone around the course in six under-par—turning in a 63 on a par 88 course.

The race for the Class A championship at the present time has narrowed down to Gooding, Oakley and Jerome—Wendall and Kimberley being pretty much eliminated.

Unless there is a round-robin at night when the two past-tensing clubs from Jerome and Oakley tangle on the Hornet field.

Gooding's club, possessing the best record in the Class A ranks, will probably be the favorite, retaining the title.

The real of the argument will be settled on the two successive weekends when the traditional Jerome-Gooding battle takes place on the Senators' field on Nov. 5, and the following Friday when the Hornets and Gooding tangle on the field.

World's Amateur Star Goes To Sleep While Driving To Los Angeles

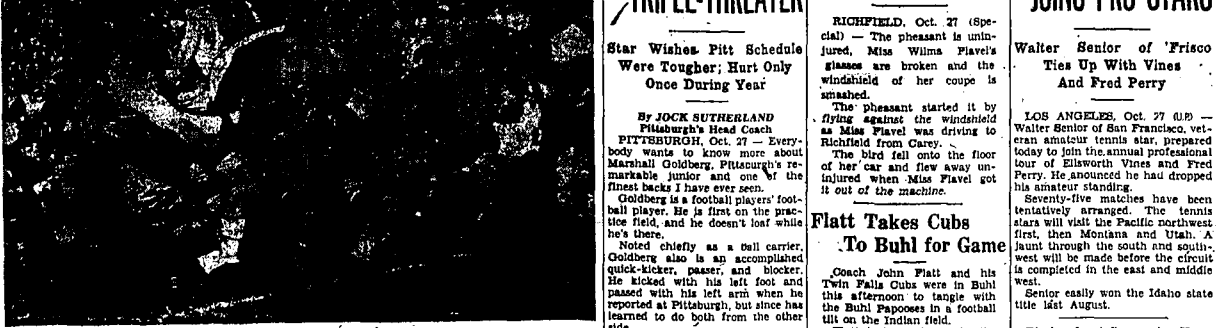

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Donald Budge, the world's ranking amateur tennis player, was nursing a cold and heavy sleep when he was found when he was to sleep at the wheel of his automobile and it overturned three times.

He refused medical treatment when he crawled from the wreckage but later complained of aching limbs.

Red-haired tennis star was driving from Oakland to Los Angeles to meet Ellsworth Vines in a series of exhibition matches. The accident occurred nine miles north of Bakersfield.

Return of Davis Cup to America Deals Blow to Plans for Open Tennis Tourney

By HENRY McLEMORE
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—The return of the Davis Cup to these shores after a 10-year absence dealt a knockout blow to those gentlemen who had sought a national open tennis championship.

If you don't believe that's right, just look back in the files and glance over the field that competed in the recent tournament at the Greenbrier Country club in White Sulphur Springs. This tournament was in the nature of a "mobile experiment."

Spponsored by men who withdrew from the U. S. L. T. A. when that body refused to allow the Greenbrier club to stage exhibitions by professionals on its courts, the tournament was an open one, with substantial cash rewards for the pros, and gleaming silver for the amateurs.

But it didn't lure the amateurs. Only nine amateurs-pures sent in their entry blanks, and not one was a nationally known player. They were strictly "rabbits," meaning the type of players who get into the second round of the big tournament only if they are fortunate enough to draw boys. The name players stay away, frightened by the rules that govern the U. S. L. T. A. Clause A reads:

"An amateur lawn tennis player is specifically prohibited from accepting any prize or reward in a tournament with or against any person other than an amateur."

The Greenbrier sportsman were unhappy in their choice of a time to start an open tournament. A few years ago, when our chances of star regaining the Davis cup appeared extremely slim, and interest in tennis in this country was at a low ebb, and lodging money would have had a much better chance. It is possible that the holy U. S. L. T. A. might have considered an open tournament would have had a much better chance.

These days are gone and they'll stay gone as long as the cup remains on this side of the Atlantic. The cup is a hypo-dermic. Already its magic stimulation has been felt. Tournaments that lost money last year and the year before that, cleaned up this season. The eastern grass courts championships at Rye was one; the nationals at Forest Hills and the doubles at Longwood in Boston, others.

Next year tennis will come close to reaching an all-time high. The Australians will be here. The Japanese will be here. And their matches with our cup forces will be played before sold-out crowds. Then there will be the challenge round, and after that the nationals, with a brilliant international field. And all these for the players will be available for money tournaments at lesser clubs. Loser will be plentiful, and fancy traveling and lodging money will be given him with a liberal expense account—they are not going to be interested in an open tournament.

I, for one, regret the lack of an open championship. It would make for a tremendous show, just as it does in golf, polo, and other sports. But it's a long way off.

ELKS NOSE OUT ZIPWAY PINMEN

Take 3-1 Win With 3 Pins Total Margin; Tavern Trims Parliam

Although holding only a three-pin margin in total score, Elks bowlers, competing in the Zipway Commercial league last night by a 3-1 margin.

Log Tavern, bowling with two men absent, conquered Parliam Laundry three in a row.

Hugh Boone topped the Commercial league with 536. Les Coward had 216 for High Zipway, and Joe DeLo of the Tavernites led the city league with 577. Jim Thompson's 201 was high game for that loop.

Strikes to Spare

By FRED STONE

Elks' took the odd game from the Zipway boys, only after a very close battle; in fact, only three pins difference in total.

High Boone led both teams for total score, California, downed three left-handed doobies.

Bill Towan got a couple of turkeys, the only ones made by a Trojan. Another man, Bill Bailey got himself three doubles but lost his team. Rained his total—also his good average.

Les Cowan, an anchor for the Zipway boys, was high toler-up-af for his gang. His 216 was best in Commercial league; in fact it was high single for both divisions. After that one he was all walked up.

Al Pillsmore, a new bowler for Zipway, got three doubles his first night. Bill Parliam and Al Westergren got turkeys, at Al also got four doubles. He was certainly "bunching 'em."

Log Tavern had only three bowlers but had a clean sweep over Parliam Laundry agency. The winners were led by Joe DeLo, who got 227 for tops, good enough for both teams.

Jimmie Thompson got a turkey to end his last game. That gave him 301 for high single, and he headed his team.

Mike South, who handles those sacks, soaked up a double, the only one he got.

HOOVER CALLS REPUBLICANS TO 'MORAL LEADERSHIP'

FORMER LEADER SAYS HE IS NOT SEEKING OFFICE

Urges GOP to Prepare for Day People of U. S. Meet With Disillusionment

BOSTON, Oct. 27 (Special)—Herbert Hoover, declaring that "I do not want any public office," called upon the Republican party Tuesday night to supply the "moral and intellectual leadership" which the people will require when "the inevitable day of disillusionment comes to them."

Hoover told the Massachusetts Republican club that he was not a "fighting cause; it must have an affirmative program; it must present effective means to its end; it must have a forward purpose; it must have idealism; and it must be responsible to the needs and crises of the people."

"We are concerned," he said, "with service in a national crisis. Our country must have satisfaction from the moral degeneration of current government methods."

Early in his address Mr. Hoover defined his own position.

"Before I go further (not that it is of any importance but just to clear the air) let me repeat once again that I do not want any public office."

To continue fighting

Bull, he added, "I shall keep on fighting for those things vital to the American people."

Mr. Hoover said it was essential that the party go out to the voters before 1940 and not be content to operate on the theory of "give the other fellow enough rope and he will hang himself."

"If the Republican party has not learned the lesson that it must present principles and programs clearly and firmly and not be misled by the 'against' and 'for' of the day," he said, "it has not read history."

Republican party needs the needs and aspirations of the people who are opposed to the New Deal. It will fuse and cooperate and not before.

"They only join in the march if they know where we are going."

Mr. Hoover started by asserting that "the party must have new faces and new blood." He proposed the task of bringing "freshness and reform to destructive fiscal and economic policies which undermine the standards of living of the great economic middle class of our country."

He asserted his own lack of desire for public office and added:

"There is no form of words that will convince a suspicious politician that any man under 88 can have any other purpose for interesting himself in public office. The question of seeking office seems to be the highest intellectual level to which the opposition can rise with the most comfortable by argument and new proposals."

Five Great Issues

He said there were five great categories of national issues:

"First are issues of moral integrity in government. The second are the vital issues of personal liberty and its safeguards. The third are those financial and economic policies which affect the standards of living of the people. The fourth are the humane issues of security and aid for the less fortunate. The fifth are our relations to other nations."

The national question, he said, is not "where are we going?" but "where do we want to go?"

He ended the suggestion that the party select a "policy committee" of its most distinguished men and women to draft a "platform," a courageous declaration of convictions, of positive principles, and of forward action concerned over details," he said, "I am deeply concerned that people who are losing their way should be given a banner of moral and intellectual leadership around which they can rally as the inevitable day of disillusionment comes to them."

Four Out of Five Idaho Students Residents of State, Survey Shows

MOSCOW, Oct. 27 (Special)—Four out of every five students attending the University of Idaho this fall are residents of the state, the registrar's office reports.

Total enrollment on Oct. 9, 1937, the first day of classes, reached 2815, a new all-time record. Out of that number, 575 are from states other than Idaho, and 16 from foreign lands outside the borders of the United States. Nearly half of the out-of-staters, or 220, are registered in the school of forestry.

39 States Represented

Thirty-nine states other than Idaho and the District of Columbia are represented on the campus. Neighboring Washington contributed 190 students and California 86. Other states rank as follows: New York, 31; Illinois, 28; Wisconsin, 25; Minnesota, 24; Utah, 20; Oregon and North Dakota, 17; Ohio and South Dakota, 15; Minnesota and New Jersey, 12; Massachusetts and Missouri, 10; Iowa and Pennsylvania, 9; Indiana and Wyoming, 6; Kansas and Nebraska, 4; Louisiana, Maine and Michigan, 3; Connecticut, Florida, Nevada, New Hampshire, and daughters, Jean and Avis, will sail today from New York on the Aquitania for England. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Smith's parents, whom she has not seen since she left of the World War. They will be gone until the middle of the summer.

Matt Costella has returned from Denver where he has been with his mother, Wilfred, there for medical treatment.

Officers of the Epworth league, following an election held Sunday are Margery Agard, president; Doris Walton, first vice president; Teddy Merrill, second vice president; Carol Jean Miller, third vice president; Margaret Lee, secretary-treasurer; Clara Rae Jones, pianist; Len Baldwin, sponsor. Installation services will be held soon.

RICHFIELD

The car belonging to Jack Flavel, Carey, was nearly demolished recently when it was borrowed by three Richfield men working for him in order to visit their families. The machine skidded in the gravel on the highway hill one and a half miles north of here and crashed into a power pole.

The high school is closed this week so that the students may help with beet topping and potato plucking. Only four days of classes will be missed as the teachers will attend the I. E. A. institute on Friday.

Mrs. Anna Walton has returned home from Pullman where she attended the bookish assembly.

The P. E. Byrnes family has moved into the apartment over the bank which was recently vacated by the Len Kumamoto.

Mrs. Ed Piersol and baby son have returned from the Patrick nursing home.

First Shakespearean Comedy Tried Here Will Start At 8 P. M.

First presentation of a Shakespearean play ever attempted in Twin Falls high school and a feat very seldom attempted by such a school group is scheduled for 8 p. m. today in the high school auditorium. Presented as the all-school play for 1937-38, "Taming of the Shrew" is under the direction of Miss Florence M. Rogers.

"A comedy, a psychological presentation of a theme that will never grow old, is guaranteed to provide many a laugh," says the director as she lists a few of the things that take place during "Taming of the Shrew."

Armour Anderson and Theodor Knight, as Luciano and Tranio, actually trade clothes while on the stage. Merle Orchard falls in love at first sight. Ed Benoit, student body president, hides under a bush. Paul Leighton wears a musical instrument for a collar and Merle Orchard wins a dignified schoolmaster in a cap and gown. These and many more things may be seen as Petruchio cracks his whip, Grumio holds a sleeping boy and dishes, and other properties are thrown to the winds by the Shrew and her lover.

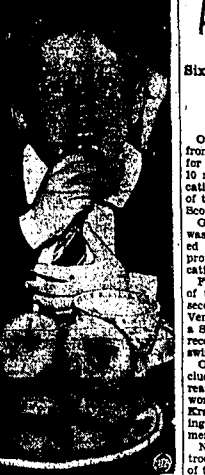

The leads in this evening's performance are portrayed by Jeanne Robinson, Esther Wilson and Merle Orchard.

RUSSELL LANE

D. L. McClung has gone to Lewiston to attend the state Orange convention as a delegate of the Butte-Pomona Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Balls and children, Marjorie, Marvin and Fred, have left for Waverly, Neb., where they will visit Mr. Balls' parents and other relatives. They will also visit in Iowa before returning home.

Proves Capacity

Martin Narva, 7, can go 'round and around better and faster than any other cast side New York youngster. He's proving it above, eating his way around the hole in a doughnut that became the doughnut dunking champion of the Boys club. He put away four more "slinkers" than his nearest rival.

CUB NEWS ISSUE PLACED ON SALE

First issue this year of the junior high school publication, the Cub News, was on sale today. Initial features a football and fall theme. The cover, drawn by a sixth grader, Charles Keim, pictures a football player in full uniform. Sponsor M. R. Throckmorton reported that the results obtained in the first issue gave great promise for a fine year of papers.

The entire publication is replete with the happenings of the school to date, editorials, poetry, jokes and features.

Staff of the Cub News is: Editor-in-Chief, Martin Sweeney; assistant editor, Tom Jones; literary, Doris Ann Sherwood; Erna Lee Skinner and Gerald Klein; school news, Dorothy Ann Neely and Janet Pink; boys' sports, Glen Terry; girls' sports, Dorothy Van Engelen; humor, Pat Graves and Peggy Serra; features, Connie Jean Cochran and Lucile Thomas; reporter, Mary Jane Howell; cartoonist, Charles Keim; publicity and printer, Frank Bracken; business manager, Dick Belladay; assistant business manager, Virginia Weller.

Claude C. Bowers, newspaper man and author of several books, is the Ambassador to Spain from the United States.

7 SCOUTS EARN AWARD APPROVAL

Six Buhl, One Local Youth Successful in Seeking Advancements

One boy from Twin Falls and six from Buhl today received approval for three rank advancements and 10 merit badge awards after applications were reviewed by officials of the Snake River area council Boy Scout office here.

Gilbert Field, member of troop 68, was the lone Twin Falls Scout listed on the report. He received approval for his second class application.

From Buhl, Hugh Law, member of troop 4, received approval on a second class application while Gene Venter of troop 1 was approved for a Star rank application. Venter also received merit badges in safety and swimming.

Services Pay Honor To H. Reilly, Buhl

BUHL, Oct. 27 (Special)—Last rites for Harry J. Reilly, resident of Buhl since 1917, were conducted Monday at 2:30 p. m. from the Evans and Johnson chapel here. Father J. C. Dolan of the Buhl Catholic church read the service. Miss Vivian Swiger sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. O. C. Dolan.

Palbearers were Carl Curtis, Jim Grow, Walt Moore, Roy Stiekman, Harry Wilson, and J. C. Hamilton. Interment was made in the Buhl cemetery under the direction of Evans and Johnson.

Harry Reilly was born in Antioch, Calif., in 1876. He moved to Buhl with his family from Sumner, Ore., in 1917.

He passed away Thursday morning at the Providence hospital in Seattle.

The surviving relatives are his wife, Mrs. Reilly, and one daughter, Mrs. John Briggs, Seattle, and a son, John Reilly of Midland, Mich., and one brother, J. P. Reilly of Landauk, Mont. All were here to attend the funeral service.

Date Changed for Session at Buhl

BUHL, Oct. 27 (Special)—The date for the Twin Falls subdistrict Epworth League institute has been changed from Nov. 12 to 14 to Nov. 6, 7 and 8. The sessions will be held at the Buhl Methodist Episcopal church with Elsie Wait a subdistrict president and the Rev. Leroy Walker as the dean. The date of the meeting was changed because of the conflict with the Girl Reserves conference at Burley.

This institute will open with a banquet Friday evening and classes will continue over Saturday and Sunday and closing session Sunday afternoon, will be in the nature of an impressive communion service in recognition of international Methodist Communion week.

Parochial P. T. A. Names Officers

Officers were elected last evening by St. Edward's Parent-Teacher association and room mothers were named. Will Maters succeeded John Day as president and Joe Pahan was named vice president.

Room mothers are: First grade, Mrs. Gaudin; second grade, Mrs. Amy Carter; third grade, Mrs. Pink; fourth grade, Mrs. Frank Kleffner; fifth grade, Mrs. George Thomas; sixth grade, Mrs. Dorothy Kleffner; seventh grade, Mrs. Joe Leclair; eighth grade, Mrs. Hicks.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Dave Lopez and Mrs. George Erland, state publicity chairman, installed the officers and spoke. The group was also addressed by Mrs. Howard Burkhart, president of the state association, and Mrs. Ray Evans, junior-senior president. Mrs. S. M. Sweeney spoke on the history page.

Program numbers included waltzes by Raymond Mills and John Waters, accompanied by Mrs. Paula Ostrom; saxophone duet by Jerry Ostrom; saxophone quartet by Mrs. Ostrom; piano solo by Mrs. Ostrom; and violin and cello duet by John Kindler and Harold Ganser, accompanied by Mrs. Ostrom.

At the close of the meeting the officers served refreshments.

MOSCOW EXTENDS SUBWAY MOSCOW (UP)—Construction is beginning on the third section of the Moscow subway. Two miles will be built. In the center of the city passengers will be able to transfer from the new line to trains going in other directions.
