IN THE DAY'S PARADE Coast Triangle

JOHN B. KIMMEL

Death of Wayne Hildebrand, 13, who died Wednesday evening shortly after the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car driven by Alan P. Senior, planner Twin Falls resident, came as the result of an "unavoidable accident," a nine-man coroner's jury decided this morning.

PAUL A. WRIGHT

Crushed by remorse, Paul A. Wright, president of the Union Air Terminal, Los Angeles, is in jail charged with the fatal shooting of his young wife, and John B. Kimmel, his "best friend." Wright said he shot both when he found his wife and Kimmel embracing following a drinking party. Wright is pleading guilty by reason of temporary insanity.

Survey of Opinion Shows Belief Probe Will Air Petty Grievances.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 13 (UP)—A survey of opinion among minor state officials and employees revealed today that it is considered a grand jury investigation of state business would show numerous technical violations of the law, but would bring to light "nothing serious."

CORONER'S JURY TERMS ACCIDENT AS 'UNAVOIDABLE'

Inquest Into Death of Boy Here Finds Driver Not at Fault

Death of Wayne Hildebrand, 13, who died Wednesday evening shortly after the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car driven by Alan P. Senior, planner Twin Falls resident, came as the result of an "unavoidable accident," a nine-man coroner's jury decided this morning.

The inquest into the boy's death was held at the Twin Falls mortuary from when the services for the youth will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. Roy Barnett, pastor of the Baptist church officiating. The body will be taken on Monday to Brice, Mo. for burial.

Four Men Testify
Jurymen heard the testimony of four men, two of them including Mr. Senior, being eye witnesses. The other eye witness to testify was Don Kirkman. Others giving testimony were Dr. Robert S. Westphal, who administered emergency treatment to the youth and Chief of Police Howard Gillette who led the investigation.

Kirkman told the jury the mishap occurred between 8:05 and 8:10 p. m. on Wednesday. He said he did not see the Hildebrand youth until he rode into the rays of Mr. Senior's headlights. He said he saw the boy's bicycle hurtle through the air. He stopped his car and assisted Senior in carrying the boy to the nearest car. Senior, who was driving west on 1st street, was charged with the fatal shooting of his young wife, and John B. Kimmel, his "best friend." Wright said he shot both when he found his wife and Kimmel embracing following a drinking party. Wright is pleading guilty by reason of temporary insanity.

Chief Gillette testified it was an unavoidable accident. He said the curb line on Fourth avenue east. He said Senior had applied brakes shortly before he permitted the car to roll of its own momentum for (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

APPROVAL GIVEN TO WATER FILING

City of Buhl's Application on Clear Lake Upheld by Paris

Application of the city of Buhl for 1,000 second feet of water from Clear Lake in Gooding county, to be used as a power source and also for domestic water supply, was approved by H. W. Paris, Idaho commissioner of reclamation, Judge James J. Wright said today after he had reviewed the approval papers.

Judge Bothwell was one of the attorneys representing the city of Buhl at hearing held in Boise in August before the commissioner after protests against the move had been filed by the Idaho Power company and O. P. Syster and Mary E. Syster, husband and wife, late in June of this year.

The grounds of protest were that the survey to secure the information necessary to make the application was made under duress, and that the map accompanying the application was not properly certified, and also that the original application was modified and changed when returned to the office of the commissioner. Evidence was offered on behalf of the Idaho Power company and the Systers in support of their protests.

Death Takes Man Who Once Rested on Throne of China

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., Nov. 13 (UP)—Jack Hanifan, 57, soldier of fortune, who liked to boast that he once sat on the imperial throne of China, died of heart disease here late last night. Hanifan, 57, was a veteran of the Boxer rebellion, in which he was wounded, the Spanish-American war, the Philippine insurrection and various irregular campaigns in Mexico and Central America.

"I'm the guy that once sat on the imperial throne of China," Hanifan liked to boast to anyone willing to listen to his exploits of prowling in strange places. The episode took place after American soldiers were sent in to Peking during the Boxer uprising. Hanifan drew a rebuke from the American army command for his act and Chinese were horrified at his "sacrilege."

When he finished his war-like romances, Hanifan came here to prospect for gold and settled in a cabin on the eastern fringe of the famed Comstock lode. The prospector will be given a military funeral Sunday and will be buried in the windproof Nevada city graveyard, said Captain Storey, famed Nevada Indian fighter for whom Storey county was named.

Hanifan is survived by a sister, Mrs. M. Murry, of Butte, Mont.

Nazi Chiefs to Ask Return of Colonies

Lord Halifax Visit to Germany Will Bring Three Important Points to Front

By FREDERICK G. OEHMSER
BERLIN, Nov. 13 (UP)—Germany intends to raise the question of colonies when Viscount Halifax, lord president of the council in the British cabinet, visits Berlin next week, it was said today in well informed quarters.

Lord Halifax, on an "unofficial" visit to an international hunting exhibition, is expected to arrive here Wednesday and to remain four or five days. It is probable, informants said, that he will see Fuehrer Adolf Hitler Thursday.

German leaders, in talks with Lord Halifax, foresee three subjects as the principal point of discussion, it was said:

1. A western European peace treaty.
2. The necessity, as it is regarded here, of allowing to Germany some at least of the colonies created for her under the Versailles treaty.
3. The far eastern situation, which Germany and Italy, said informants from Berlin, would like to see handled by a four-power combination, including Germany, Britain and France, to make secure the peace of western Europe, and specifically excluding the Soviet union.

The conspicuous lack of success in past conferences is prominent in German minds. Nevertheless, a disposition is shown to look favorably on the prospect for success of the talks which Lord Halifax is to engage in.

It was expected, that, in talking of any move toward revivification of European peace, German leaders would emphasize that the restoration of colonies must be an essential part of any agreement.

2 MINERS KILLED IN SHAFT BLAST

34 Others Imprisoned for Three Hours in Bottom of Indiana Pit

PRINCETON, Ind., Nov. 13 (UP)—Two miners were killed and a third burned seriously by a gas explosion which exploded through the shaft of a Princeton company mine early today and imprisoned 34 other workers for three hours.

The survivors groped their way two miles through lethal fumes and debris-strewn corridors to the shaft and safety.

Kegs of U. S. Gold for France

These little barrels which look like kegs of nails are really kegs of gold—$10,258,000 worth being loaded on the S. S. Normandie, which may be seen in the background, and is the first gold to be shipped out of the U. S. in years. That stern gentleman at the right is a treasury agent and he doesn't have his hands in his pockets just to keep them warm. The gold is being shipped to France.

Koelsch Declares Fruit, Vegetable Measure is Valid

RULING MAKES PAYMENT OF "AD" GROUP'S CLAIMS GOOD

By DAVID N. JOHNSON
BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 13 (UP)—District Judge Charles Koelsch ruled today that Idaho's controversial fruit and vegetable advertising act, created by the last legislature, was valid.

His ruling made good a petition for an alternative writ of mandate ordering State Auditor Harry C. Parsons to pay claims submitted by the advertising commission.

Parsons refused to pay the claims, on the ground that the bill was unconstitutional, was the basis for the test suit on the measure.

Atty.-Gen. J. W. Taylor, whose office instituted the suit, the request of G. H. Graham, commissioner of agriculture, said he did not know if the decision would be appealed to the state supreme court.

"Koelsch's decision affirmatively protects the officers involved in administration of the act," he said, "there will be no appeal. We must, however, carefully consider the decision."

Judge Koelsch took advantage of the decision to blast the legislature. He ruled the bill for "dumping so poorly constructed a statute into the lap of the courts of this state."

When he ruled the suit valid, and said that certain portions of the measure claimed to be unconstitutional would not affect the validity of the entire act, Koelsch said:

"Language of certain parts of the act is so slovenly and careless as to invite lack of consideration and to justify the state's contention that the legislature enacted such a law."

Rules on Important Points
Koelsch ruled on the most important controversial points of the act, omitting others. He asserted counsel that the points not treated had been carefully considered, and found not incident to the validity of the bill.

He ruled the bill in this respect was not unconstitutional because it did not serve a public purpose, but was personal in application.

Koelsch said the nature of the tax levied to advertise and promote Idaho produce, was public, and was therefore valid.

Break Termed as Most Important Victory of War

Factories Reopen in Shanghai For First Time in 3 Months

By JOHN R. MORRIS
SHANGHAI, Nov. 13 (UP)—Japanese troops have smashed through the Chinese defense lines 15 miles northwest of Shanghai, it was announced today, it was believed that the Chinese would be forced to withdraw westward all along the northern part of their line.

The move was the second phase of the Japanese drive to isolate the Chinese from their country's commercial life. Japanese troops advancing from the north and south to the Chinese "Chiang Kai-shek" line at Kiating, 15 miles northwest of Shanghai at the strongest points. Tanks entered the city first. A Japanese spokesman asserted, and the infantry consolidated the capture.

Burgess Victory
The victory was regarded as one of the biggest since the Shanghai campaign. Kiating has a strong wall and is bounded on three sides by deep creeks.

Chinese admitted that at the south end of their long line, in the Sunkiang sector northwest of Shanghai, their main line of defense was drawing westward to the hills where they might retreat to better effect.

Japanese victory was bringing normally to Shanghai today. In the suburbs, United Press correspondents found the streets and fields dotted with bodies of Chinese soldiers and farmers. Many lay in ditches. The number of guns was fairly high in the suburbs, but in Shanghai proper there was no sound of the war that had raged continuously for more than three months.

Small boats remained on the water in the Yangtze river. The Japanese had the advantage of the high ground in the suburbs. 3 NATIONS ASKED TO BE MEDIATORS

United States, Mexico and Cuba May Act in Orissa on Haitian Island

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (UP)—Haiti today asked the United States, Mexico and Cuba to act as mediators in composing a dispute which has arisen between the Dominican and Haitian governments over the island of Orissa.

Haiti officially charged that Dominican troops were slain on Orissa in the summer of 1936. The Haitian request, contained in a telegram from President Steno Doussan to President Roosevelt, reached the White House today.

The governments of the United States, Mexico and Cuba will accept the invitation, the United Press learned authoritatively.

Preliminary explorations between Haitian officials and Mexican, Cuban and United States officials disclosed a willingness on the part of all three governments to make the tender of good offices.

Dominican President Rafael Trujillo also was reported to have given informal assurance to U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull that Trujillo said the Dominican government would accept the good offices of the United States.

JAPAN DECLARES "OUT OF STEP" WITH REST OF WORLD

CHINA INVASION HIT IN DRAFT BY THREE COUNTRIES

By WALLACE CARROLL BRUSKES, Nov. 13 (AP) — A draft declaration saying that Japan is out of step with the rest of the world and that the far eastern country will envisage stronger measures if she refuses to make peace with China was submitted to the conference today by the United States, Britain and France.

The declaration was preceded by a speech of delicate balance by the United States, including Norman H. Davis of the United States, who warned Japan that it was to her own most interest to co-operate in ending the war with China.

Common Attitude After expressing hope that Japan would change her attitude, the draft declaration said: "However, this proves not to be the case. The common attitude in a situation where one party to an international treaty is in breach of its terms of all other parties, that which is to be taken does not include the one who is in breach of the treaty which the other parties hold to be operative in the situation."

Arguing that Japan's declaration is a violation of the spirit of the League of Nations, the declaration stated that Japan is trying to establish the spread of communism. The declaration also stated that Japan is trying to establish a political system which is a threat to the peace of the world.

School Group Fairs Exhibits for 1938 Fall

Preliminary planning for the rural school displays for the 1938 Twin Falls county fair was underway here today at meeting of the fair committee of the Twin Falls County Teachers' association.

Members of the fair committee, which met in the afternoon at the school, were: Mrs. M. A. Klein, chairman; Mrs. G. M. Klein, secretary; Mrs. A. M. Klein, treasurer; Mrs. W. B. Cox, reporter.

Man, Walking on Road, Hit by Car

Believed to be George E. Larsen, a man of more than 70 years of age, was "fair" condition at Twin Falls county general hospital this afternoon after being knocked down by a motor car last night two miles south, and three and a half miles west of Twin Falls on highway west of Kimberly.

Although questioned by State Patrolman "Doc" House after the accident, the man was in an unconscious condition and could give no definite assurance as to his name, the state officer said this afternoon.

The man was knocked down by a car driven Frank G. Johnson, Twin Falls. Johnson and a nearby rancher placed the man in Johnson's car and the driver brought him to the hospital.

When questioned by Patrolman House, the man mumbled assent to series as to whether his name was Johnson or not.

House said. The pedestrian was knocked to the roadway, his head hitting the pavement.

Two Youths Get Parole

Local Pair Found Guilty in Killing of Dog; Ordered in Parents' Care

Found guilty of intoxication and of maliciously killing the puppy pet of a 3-year-old youngster, two prominent Twin Falls boys were paroled to their parents on condition of good behavior by Probate Judge Guy L. Kinney today.

The boys, one 16 and one 17, appeared for juvenile hearing this morning before Judge Kinney. They admitted they had drunk a "fifth" gin between them before last Friday's football game, and had stomped the dog to death after the game.

One of the boys has been dismissed from the high school, and the other was suspended but is expected to reenter next week.

The guilty verdict against the youths holds good until they reach 21, and could be invoked by Judge Kinney for more serious penalty if the boys fail to observe their parole by obeying all laws of Idaho.

$11,500 DAMAGE ASKED IN WRECK

Leaders of Florida Magazine Crew Sued by Pair of Mexican Laborers

Two damage suits totaling $11,500 had been filed in district court today by a pair of Mexican laborers against three Florida residents involved in an auto smash-up near Hansen last Sunday night.

Manuel Jimenez asked $10,000 and Felix Lezaun sought $1,500 in the actions, filed against Israel Alterman, Mrs. A. Farmer and Victor Johnson, co-partners in a magazine subscription business.

Johnson was driver of the car and trailer which was involved in the collision with the machine driven by Lezaun.

Five persons, including the two claimants, one other farm laborer, Albert Hansen, and another member of the subscription crew, were taken to the hospital for injuries sustained in the wreck.

Jimenez and Lezaun, in the actions filed today, claim the car driven by Johnson swerved across the center line and hit the path of their machine, Jimenez claims extensive injuries, and Lezaun claims injuries and damages to his machine.

Alterman was in the first car of the two-car Florida caravan. He is chairman of the Florida participation in the festival for the claimants.

ABDUCTION GANG HELD IN PRISON

Retired Prospector, Aged 79, Escapes from Jail in Coal Pit Bottom

Booth once rented an apartment from Beder and had become friendly with him. On one occasion, G-men said, Booth told Beder to vouch for a $30 check which subsequently bounced.

Booth went to Beder's home here with a $40 check to cover it and asked the aged man to step outside to an automobile, which belonged to Booth's father, to meet some friends.

Atkins and Travis were alleged to have been waiting in the car. Beder was forced to enter it and was driven to the abandoned coal mine seven miles from Wayne, Va.

There, the aged man, he was imprisoned in a cold, damp chamber 30 feet underground.

He managed to crawl out under the ground, he said, and was found lying exhausted near the entrance to the mine. His clothing was covered with blood and he had received numerous scratches and bruises.

GRANGE DISPLAY STANDS ERECTED

Booths Set Up in Building for Farm Exhibits in Festival Here

Work was started in the Koto building here today on erection of display stands for the Grange and women's club exhibits which will form the rural feature of Twin Falls Harvest days Nov. 18-20.

Stands were being set up on the west side of the building for the Grangers, and on the east half for the women's clubs. Both groups will exhibit on all three days of the festival.

Seven of an expected dozen Granges had definitely entered the festival list today, it was announced by the merchant's bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. The seven are: Elmore, Hansen, Kamsack, Fairview, Mountain Rock, Northview and Twin Falls. Harvey S. Hale, county agent, is chairman of the Grange participation in the festival.

STANFORD-WSC CLASH TOPS COAST CONTEST

Cougars' Win Would End Hope of Redmen For Rose Bowl Bid

California Plays Oregon and Oregon State Meets Battered U. S. C. Gridders

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Pacific Coast conference football teams neared the completion of their 1937 conference schedule in today's quartet of games, of which the clash between Stanford and Washington State had the most significance.

For all the eleven except U. S. C. and U. C. L. A., today's combats were the next to the last on the conference schedule, which virtually winds up next Saturday. The two Los Angeles team meet Dec. 4 in their annual game.

Stanford was the only team considered having any chance of disputing California's claim to championship and Rose Bowl honors as the Indians squared off against a resourceful Washington State team at Pullman. A victory today, and one over California next week, would put the Redmen on even terms with the Golden Bears.

NEWS REPORTERS TIRE BILLY ROSE

Refuses to See Men at Stop in Ogden; Will Reveal Plans on Coast

Ogden, Utah, Nov. 13 (AP)—It was past midnight today when the train bearing Billy Rose, the showman, and Eleanor Holm Jarrett, swimmer and actress, reached this city and the waiting delegation was rebuffed at Rose's locked stateroom door.

Rose, who is in the city on his way to the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, refused to see the news reporters until he reached San Francisco tonight, and to the mayor's agent, who came to ask whether Rose would promote a "center day" celebration here in 1947 commemorating the 100th anniversary of the arrival of the Mormon fathers. Rose shook his head.

His showman's plan to divorce Arthur Jarrett, orchestra leader, from whom she has been estranged several months. The showman was indignant at being awakened on the train. He would not open the door. He said that when he and Miss Holm arrived in San Francisco "we may have something to tell you about our plans."

Miss Holm did not reply to knocks on her stateroom door.

The event, sponsored by the All-American Athletic association with Miss Irene Stodmyer as president, saw girls from south Idaho participating in - day of games, relay races, volleyball, and folk dancing.

A demonstration of badminton, paddle tennis, and archery was given in the afternoon by girls of the Normal. Other high schools in the south central area also sent delegations to the play day.

MYSTERY GOLFER PLAYS TOMORROW

Montague to Take Part in Charity Match Held in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—The last shred of mystery surrounding the prodigious golfing feats attributed to John Montague, recently revealed, is that he will be lifted tomorrow when he tees off with Babe Ruth, Babe Dridgson and Solva Amberg in an 18-hole exhibition match for charity.

This Paul Bunyanesque figure of the links will play with Mrs. Annenberg, women's champion of Long Island, against Ruth and Miss Dridgson, longest driver in the feminine ranks. The match was arranged by Sports Writer Bill Corum to aid Mayor LaGuardia's fund for underprivileged children. The gallery will be limited to 6,000.

In a practice nine-hole round yesterday, Montague and Al Cederer defeated Ruth and Henry Clue one up. Montague and Al Cederer had 35, Ruth had a 37, while Al's brother was low with a 34.

'CASCABELITO' IS RACING FAVORITE

Joe E. Brown's Horse Seen Winner of Closing Event at Bay Meadows

BAY MEADOWS TRACK, SAN MATEO, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)—Cascabelito, weight of 118 pounds, owned by the Argentine invader recently purchased by Joe E. Brown, was expected to go to the post the favorite in today's Tanforman Fair handicap, closing the Bay Meadows season.

However, Cascabelito, an unknown quantity, may make use of the favorite's role to Marnell, a sturdy mare with a good record in soft going. She carries only 103 pounds to the post.

Following today's final Bay Meadows program, the horses move up to the penultimate Tanforman annual 30-day fall meeting will open Tuesday, Nov. 16.

McLEMORE CERTAIN PITTSBURGH WON'T BE ASKED TO ROSE BOWL

By HENRY McLEMORE
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 13 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh will not be invited to the Rose Bowl this season. Even if they go through their rigorous academic and athletic requirements, they haven't a chance to be in Pasadena on New Year's day.

I first heard that Pittsburgh was not on the list of eligibles when I passed through the city. I was the closer I moved to the coast the more I heard that the Panthers would not be considered. I heard it in Colorado, Utah, Montana, Idaho, Washington and finally—lowest of all—here in this neighboring state of Oregon, where university team sports plays California, the eleven almost certain to be the coast representative in the January extravaganza.

Scores of Hunters Take Part in Cache Elk Shoot

100 Idahoans Eligible To Enter Forest For Sport

Scores of south central Idaho big-game hunters will hit the trail on Sunday for Pocatello and the Cache national forest game preserve where they each will be allowed to bag one elk—providing they can find it.

Exactly 100 Idahoans were allowed permits for the hunt, which opens Sunday and extends up to and including Nov. 20. Of the 100 lucky persons, drawn from a list of over 4,000 applicants, most of them are from this section.

Purpose of the hunt, according to State Game Warden W. R. McInyre, is to thin the ever-increasing herd in the Cache forest—thus making it more profitable for the remaining animals.

Prospects for bagging an elk are excellent, according to word received from the forest warden. The only drawback, it was pointed out, is that in event of snow in the forest lands, a majority of the elk migrate to the Pocatello-Pocatello preserve, where hunting isn't allowed.

U. S. and Siam Sign 'Commerce Treaty'

BANGKOK, Siam, Nov. 13 (AP)—An agreement to draw the United States and Siam was signed today by Edwin L. Neville, American minister, and Foreign Minister Luang Pradit of Siam.

The agreement is called a "treaty of commerce and friendship." It formalizes certain negotiations and trade formalities between the two countries.

And California will have the right to name its opponent. In an effort to draw the reports concerning Pittsburgh, which I know to be false, I sought out the man who is best qualified to opine on the situation. Ken Priestly, graduate manager of athletics at California, and I asked him point blank how his school felt.

Scholastic Standards "That is something I can hardly answer," Priestly said. "After all, I haven't been asked to advise myself. But I will tell you this, though it may not have any bearing on the matter, if California takes the bowl bid, we will try to get an opponent the team of a school which we feel has the same scholastic standards and the same athletic ideals as California. As you probably know California is very anxious to see football in this section operated on a plan similar to that which was recently formed in the east with Big Ten of Princeton, Michigan, and the one which the Big Ten had for years. California believes that 'free' should play 'free.' This is that academic should be drawn up which puts these schools of like standards, both academically and athletically."

Senators Score 7-0 Win in Last Period Of North-Side Game

Berg Club Held at Bay for Three Quarters by Crippled Hornet Gridders

GOODING, Nov. 13 (Special)—The Gooding Senators held the Bay football crowd today following their rout of the invading Hornets of Oakley yesterday by a score of 7-0. The win stopped Coach Monroe "Dode" Cranney's club from coping the title for the fourth time in a row.

The fighting Hornets, badly crippled by the loss of Ellison and Martin, veteran end and back respectively, put up a fine defensive battle, and it took a blocked punt in the final period for the powerful home team to break through for the winning score.

Gooding threatened time and again throughout the game, only to be held for downs when inside the 20-yard line. The score came when the charging Senator line blocked a Hornet kick and Forrest Wright covered on the 20-yard line. Bob Vaughn, all-around Gooding athlete, who was doing the signal calling for Coach "Ap" Berg's club, loosed a pass to Bird on the 10-yard line for a first down. Vaughn then failed on one around-end attempt, but using the same play around the other side, he raced over the goal line for a first down. Coach Proctor blocked over the extra point.

Oakley Holds Before that Gooding had reached the Oakley 20-yard line after recovering a fumbled punt in the third quarter. From there they advanced to the Oakley 12 where they were held. Oakley punted out to the Gooding 40. Here Gooding slashed his way up to the Oakley 12 again, only to be held again after two passes failed to connect.

Crutchfield, Hornet fullback, electrified the crowd midway in the final quarter when he intercepted one of the Senator serial attempts on the 40-yard line and raced to the Gooding 25-yard mark before he was finally hauled down. But Gooding held for downs here, and an attempted field goal by Oakley was missed.

Senators Make Yardage Gooding badly outplayed the visitors in yardage gained, collecting 125 yards from scrimmage to the Hornets' 27. Coach Berg's club tried 10 Green's Ice Cream delivery to Green and Gooding's milk night for a 10c service charge, 31 orders delivered free. Call 234-1414.

ROSE BOWL BID REPORTS DENIED

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)—Reports that invitations to the Rose Bowl football game had already been proffered earlier in readiness were discounted today by Chairman C. Hal Reynolds of the Rose Bowl committee.

Reynolds pointed out that invitations at this time were impossible because the eastern representative is selected by the western team chosen by the Pacific Coast conference from within its ranks. California, Stanford and Oregon State are still eligible.

JACK WENTWORTH, Jill's son.
WILLIAM SUTTON, old friend.

Yesterday, Allice leaves Allice's studio after describing his part in the picture to the studio manager for England and Allice leaves for the studio in the morning. Jill had copied his work!

CHAPTER XX

The soft closing of the front door behind Jill had not disturbed John Wentworth, who sat in a deep chair by the fire in his study. It had not disturbed Barry, who had gone back to the music room when Jill had gone upstairs, and now was spreading a cushioned divan in the music room.

John Wentworth had been sitting there, his eyes on the fire, since the close of a second and briefer conference with Oscar Montague.

The second conference had been very different from the first. In the first he had pitched his wits against a man who had once been his friend, a man who had turned suddenly into an enemy, determined upon his ruin.

And then, Jill had come in to announce her engagement to Oscar Montague's son. There had been a second trial of wits, and every moment startling than the first. Everything had been sweetness and light.

And he had gone back to the study from the ballroom. He and Montague.

"I've been wrong," Montague had said gruffly. "I had become frightened, I suppose by the changing aspects, affecting big business. But families must hold together. I'm going to stick with you, of course, John. I'm sure I can swing the other side back to line. The loan will go through, of course, though it's a bigger loan than I would expect any other man at this time."

But winning the battle had brought no glow of victory. It was humbling to see Montague, through which he was holding his immense investments was a sheer economic halting; and that the loss of one second trial of wits depended on the chance that his own power, personality and business acumen had kept in its present position.

He was tired. Infinitely weary of the strain. And there would be months of wary watchfulness and conciliation before his business would swing clear again—business what he now saw was a victory over his friend. He had put himself in this plight by depending too much on the friendship of three men. And friendship had failed.

Or rather, it would have failed him if Jill had not become engaged to Allice Montague. He was troubled and sad. He had never cared anything for Jill. Could it be possible that she had realized the strain being put upon him?

Jill could not bear to think that. It couldn't be true that Jill had sacrificed herself for him. She had done it for Oscar and for Allice. He hoped she was not dazzled by Allice's great wealth.

He got up suddenly, glancing at the clock. Twenty minutes to six. He had been sitting there for hours getting nowhere beyond the fact that his business trial was over, for now he had to keep my family from worry."

"You don't get anywhere talking depression stuff," Barry growled. "I know your 'loosey' with money now, but I'm a beggar, I suppose your 'loosey' is gone."

"All I could ever want in a son," John Wentworth spoke fervently. "I suppose you're planning to leave him a big slice, and cut me out."

John Wentworth spoke heavily: "Your mother came to me about the will, also, Barry. I told her I would be glad to leave her a big slice, but I didn't tell her what I planned to do. I'm going to change my will. I think the fairest thing to you would be to have your share held in trust for some man of your choice. If in five years after my death you're proved—"

Barry, his hand still clutching the ready-made newspaper, had leaped to his feet. His voice rose in a vicious shout. "You couldn't get away with it. I won't let you."

He rushed toward his father, his hand still raised.

John Wentworth rose to his feet, putting a hand up as though to ward off a blow. His pale lips moved, but no words came.

Before Barry reached him, he had crumpled suddenly, his head striking the andirons on the hearth.

Suddenly sobered, Barry lifted his father up.

"Oh, isn't something about the still, white face. In horror, Barry placed his father back on the rug, and got to his feet. A cry was stifled on his lips.

People Who Sweeten Life

The last will and testament of the late William M. Carson contains a neat and painless little sermon for all of us.

Mr. Carson was a wealthy San Francisco business man who, when it came time for him to die, had neither chick nor child to leave his money to. He owned some $1,800,000 worth of this world's goods, and he didn't quite like the idea of handing it all in a lump to some impersonal philanthropic organization.

So when he sat down to make out his will he simply wrote the names of everybody who had been kind to him, everybody whose courtesy, efficiency or helpfulness had made his life a little pleasanter—and divided his bequests among all of them.

34 people who worked for him all got bequests. Maids, janitors, bellhops, waiters and elevator boys at his hotel got bequests; so did the employees of the country club where he had played golf, people in the hospitals where he had been a patient, the church he attended, the university from which he had been graduated, and so on.

Altogether, more than 100 people were named in his will, for amounts varying from $500 to $10,000.

There is a sort of moving picture romanticism about his will, of course, and earnest thinkers will no doubt say that the money would have "done more good" if it had all gone to some worthy cause.

But there is a lot to be said for the idea of doing something to repay all the people who had helped to make life run more smoothly and happily.

For all of us, as we travel on toward the graves that await us, carry with us debts just like those which this millionaire paid in his will. We don't often stop to think about them, but they exist. It's a good idea to stop and tabulate them once in a while.

Life consists of an infinite number of small human contacts. A man may consider himself utterly friendless and alone—yet his ability to get his work done, to sleep well at night, to maintain a smooth temper, even to enjoy his meals properly, depends in no small measure on the people with whom he makes these contacts.

Imagine what a miserable day you would put in, if some morning, you would find all of these people falling down on their jobs; if their pleasant efficiency should be replaced by grumpiness, slovenliness and laxity.

Corner cop, street car conductor, filling station attendant, phone girl, hunchroom waitress, man-at-the-desk, apartment house janitor, mailman, store clerk—all together, they could ruin your day beyond repair in a week they could drive you crazy.

We don't have millions to give away when we die, and even if we did few of us would give them as this San Franciscan did. But it won't hurt us to remember that we carry those debts with us.

CRANIUM CRACKERS

1. What is the highest point on earth?
 2. Who was both the son and father of a President of the United States?
 3. Are there any free citizens of United States who are not entitled to vote?
 4. What part of the human body is sometimes designated as the "location of the soul"?
 5. What's the most widely spoken language in the world?
 6. And what is the Apocalypse?

FOR EXPLAINING JUST what the difference between the old and the new west, Windy Bill, from Burley (we think), was the 100 cents in our pocket. "Shoddy" Thanksgiving decorations go to Timespeakers, whose entry was the shortest one of all. And next mention goes to Frank Bink, Highhawk and Old Trille, Berkeley.

THANKSGIVING ISN'T too far off now, with the big holiday dinners that cause more indignation than any other single item in the calendar. So our contest topic in this issue is for the Pot Shots 20 cents in our pocket. "Shoddy" Thanksgiving dinners be abolished for the good of the human race!"

YEP, MEN ARE UNDISPUTED TENANTS THERE!

I don't think the style has been questioned in Idaho yet, but I understand a new fad of the ladies is to wear brass-banded "fat collars."

"They may wear 'em, but you can bet your bottom sack you can't get your bottom sack of eggs that will retain possession of 'em!"

—Ben the Ex-husband

COMMON SLOOD PROBABLY WOULD BE BETTER!

Pot Shots:
 There has been a lot of advice given about the use of the bottom sack, but I don't think he has been warned to be careful about accidents if he ever gets to the U. S. If he should get hurt and it was because of the bottom sack, I would like to see a blood transfusion, we might not be able to find royal blood for him.

Today's Answers to CRANIUM CRACKERS

1. Tush, this was easy, Mount Everest. In Asia, is the highest point on earth. Its 29,141 feet high—or else our geography lied to us.

2. John Scott Harrison, born 1804 at Vincennes, Ind. was taken over by William Henry Harrison, ninth President, and the father of Benjamin Harrison, third President.

3. The "forgetting thing" are the ladies' bad gents who live in the District of Columbia. Why, we dunno. But if they haven't another legal residence, they can't vote in national or municipal monkeybusiness.

4. Some people call the place called "soul" the seat of the brain. The location of the soul, Ancient Indians used to think it was in the heart or liver. Personally, I don't see the location of the soul of the only soul of a modern folk here.

5. The far east usage says, Chinese speak the most widely spoken language in the world. Most of the Chinese words, spoken to Japan in no uncertain terms. English is the most widely spoken in the world, in point of distribution, English covers a greater area.

6. The year Sunday school teachers will be forgetting this. The Apocalypse is the last book in the Bible; also known, we're told, as the book of Revelations.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

"I don't know, and I can't see why," said the gentleman in the third row.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

Medieval "Progress"

An interesting sidelight on the state of modern civilization is provided in a current bulletin published by the Building Trades Employers' Association of New York.

Discussing structural design for New York buildings, this bulletin remarks that architects henceforth must take into account the chance that their buildings will be subjected to airplane bombings. New buildings must have stronger roofs—both as a defense against bombs, and to serve as mounts for anti-aircraft guns in case of need.

The Association is undoubtedly correct in saying that this is a factor no New York architect can afford to ignore in the future; but what a commentary on the way in which modern civilization falls to provide ordinary peaceful security! We seem to be back in the middle ages once more, when houses had to be built for defense as well as for shelter. It is a profoundly dismaying thought.

How College Helps

Harry E. Fry, editor of the American College Year Book, is now inviting university and college presidents to help him uncover America's future leaders by assisting in the selection of their outstanding senior students; and as he does so, he comments that America is more and more turning to her college graduates for leadership.

For example: 59 per cent of the people represented in the Hall of Fame went to college. Seventy-seven per cent of the people currently listed in "Who's Who" are college graduates. Eighty-one per cent of the members of the 75th Congress hold college degrees.

It is a young person of outstanding ability eventually finds a place for himself in the world, of course. But he will be immeasurably helped if he has the advantage of a college education. The lack of it is a depressing handicap these days.

John Wentworth closed the door and motioned to a chair across from him. "Sit there," he commanded.

Barry slumped into a chair, his eyes filled with malicious light. He lit a cigarette and began to smoke. He had been toying with the heavy marble paperweight that held down some papers on his father's desk.

"And then maybe I'd do some talking. I'm sick and tired of being treated like a beggar in this family."

"That's what you are!" Mr. Wentworth's voice was unexpected, if not violent. "I've tried to be lenient and patient with you, Barry. I've waited to see some signs of sense. Now you've kept on spending, wasting, drinking. You're a grown man and yet you've never earned a nickel in your life. All you do is whine and complain. You don't know how to get on. You're a beggar, I suppose your 'loosey' is gone."

"All I could ever want in a son," John Wentworth spoke fervently. "I suppose you're planning to leave him a big slice, and cut me out."

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

This is the nineteenth of a series of articles in which Dr. Morris Fishbein discusses diseases of the skin.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Simply because there are so many different causes for warts the epidemic of warts which is now being reported is not a new disease in the sense of a new germ. It is a new epidemic because of the serious consideration to the removal of warts.

One of the most famous foreign authorities wrote: "It is a general belief of the people of all nations that warts are curable by suggestion. There is hardly another disease in which the belief in the value of suggestion is so strong. There is no doubt that warts of many years duration can disappear overnight, spontaneously."

While there has been a great deal of scientific study, it is true that suggestion alone may cause the removal of the wart, there is also much doubt as to the evidence.

However, in addition to the fact that warts frequently go away without any treatment whatever and in association with various superstitious notions, it has been found that a lot of drugs and, in fact, any drug may be associated with relief of warts.

Warts are studied scientifically they are found to be growths of the skin. Many physicians believe that they are infectious. Warts can produce any symptoms except when they are on the soles of the feet, in which case, of course, they may become calluses.

It has been found that picking of warts and spreading of the blood or material from the wart over the body is not a safe method of multiplication of the wart. It is better, therefore, not to attempt to treat them unscientifically.

When, especially in diseases of the skin is called upon to treat warts, he applies any one of a number of methods. The most direct method of removal is by the use of the wart, therefore, not to attempt to treat them unscientifically.

BURLEY HOST TO GIRL RESERVISTS

Magic Valley District Meets at Bassett; Each Group Aids in Program

BURLEY, Nov. 13 (Special)—Girl Reserve delegates from Burley, Kimberly, Burley, Hazelton, Salt Lake City, Piler, Eden, Twin Falls and Pocatello, comprising the Magic Valley district, met at the high school here today for the annual fall conference.

With Miss Ruth McManline, district secretary, in charge, girls from each club in the district had a part in planning the program featuring the theme of "World Through the Ages."

Opening With Mixer
Beginning at 8 a. m. all Girl Reserve girls gathered in the gymnasium for a mixer planned by members from the Hazelton club. The general meeting convened in the auditorium at 10 for a worship service planned by the Eden group. Miss Bernice Johnson served as the leader and led the ceremonial.

Worship address was delivered by Miss Adele Dillingham, district president.

Feature of the morning's program was the address by Grace Vetter, minister of the Methodist church at Pocatello, on "The World Today."

An address of welcome was given by Mrs. Harold Morrison, most excellent speaker at the home of Mrs. F. A. McEachern, chairman.

Later the group was entertained at cards at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hendershaw, president.

Those in charge of the entertainment were: Mrs. E. H. Hendershaw, president; Mrs. Anna Winans, and Mrs. Coertzen.

THIS CURIOUS-WORLD

By William Ferguson

ONE MAN, A DEAN LINDSAY, OF OCILLA, GEORGIA, HOLDS ORIGINAL CLAIM AND GENERAL WARRANTY DEEDS TO THE SUN, THE MOON, THE STARS, AND ALL PLANETS, EXCEPT OUR EARTH!

GIRAFFES ARE OORLESS, WHICH MAKES IT DIFFICULT FOR CARNIVOROUS ANIMALS TO FIND THEM.

HIGH GRADE POPCORN, WHEN BEING PROPERLY POPPED, SHOULD INCREASE ITS VOLUME AT LEAST TWENTY TIMES.

A. Dean Lindsay of Ocilla, Ga., claims the title of "World's Richest Man," with deeds to all the bodies of the solar system, excepting the earth, and even the earth depends upon that which is his—the sun.

BOY CONFESSES MONEY DEMAND

Michigan Youth Admits He Attempted to Get $1,000 from Marion Davies

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 (AP)—A 20-year-old Michigan farm youth admitted today, according to the sheriff's office, that he had written a letter demanding $1,000 from Marion Davies, motion picture star.

The boy, who was identified as John Timmer, was jailed on an extortion complaint filed by federal agents.

Timmer readily admitted writing the note, when arrested in front of a downtown hotel, deputy sheriff said, and declared he would plead guilty to federal extortion.

The note was reported to have been a demand that the money be delivered in his person by Marion Davies, who was to wear dark glasses and meet him in front of a South Main street theater.

800 U. S. Infants Smother in Year

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (Special)—The United States smothered 800 infants in the United States are smothered to death, according to the statistics of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

The total fatal accidents to these infants during the 1938 period took a toll of infant life greater than the combined mortality in this age group from measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria in any average year.

ROSA TENTON TO BEGIN CONCERTS

Metropolitan Opera Star to Open Association's Winter Series

First of the season's programs sponsored this winter by the Community Concert Association will be given by Rosa Tenton, American soprano, on Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. at the Methodist church.

She became famous overnight when, in February, 1934, Toscanini chose her to sing under him in Beethoven's Ninth symphony.

That was the beginning of a rising career. The next two years she sang the young soprano part in operas at the New York Stadium.

Her program will be as follows: O Bozza Dolores, Sibella; To Anna Statini; "Don Giovanni"; Mozart; Der Nussbaum; Schumann; Die Schatzkammer; Schumann; Amantia; Mendelssohn; Brahms; Veronique Stauden; Brahms; Aria; Un bel di vedremo (from "Madama Butterfly"); Puccini.

Piano solo: Les Abelles (The Bees), Theodore Dubois; Jardins sous pluie (Garden), Maurice Debussy, played by Adelaide Anderson.

Night has a Thousand Eyes; Nageman; Vinton; Siders; Bach; Chanson Norvegienne; Four-drain; Serenade Francaise; Leporello; Remond; Retreat; La Forge; Let My Song Fill Your Heart; Chanzas; Le Dana (Tarentine); Napoléon; Brahms; Adelaide Anderson is accompanied.

RAY MILLS' NEW SENIOR PRESIDENT

Ray Mills is the senior class president for the remainder of the year at the high school. He was elected at a meeting held at Twin Falls high school yesterday.

Art Tramer was selected as senior representative to fill the vacancy vacated by Mills, when he was advanced to the presidency. Freshman students chose Jack Threlkeld as class representative.

DEATH SUMMONS EX-U. S. SENATOR

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18 (AP)—Former U. S. Senator C. F. Kemmerer, known internationally as procreator of the Teapot Dome oil cases, was dead today.

Kemmerer succumbed to bronchial pneumonia, of which he had been ill two weeks. He was 73.

Although a Democrat, Kemmerer received the highest vote from two Republican presidents. President Coolidge assigned him to proctor the oil cases, which led to his case. President Hoover appointed him to head the reconstruction finance corporation. He served in the senate 12 years.

Fomerele left public life shortly after President Roosevelt's inauguration, when members of congress felt that the chief executive should have control of R. F. C. activities, unhampered by the opinions of hold-over officials.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Mothers of members of the Net-opp Camp Fire group met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. G. Wadsworth, Mrs. W. A. Van Enger, and Mrs. W. A. Van Enger.

The meeting opened with a turkey dinner, followed with a cup dance. Mrs. Wadsworth, Mrs. Van Enger, Helen Tinker, president, and Helen Tinker, Janet Pink, Lucille and Pat Grier, Camp Fire girls.

Later the group sang accompanied by Marjorie Lash. The girls served refreshments.

Embarrassing Moment

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 (AP)—In "Bluebeard" Eight Wives, Gary Cooper went through a difficult moment several times. Finally, after about the sixth wife, Director Ernest Lubitch, exclaimed, "That's perfect! That's it!"

But the sound man said it wasn't perfect; someone had slipped a chair over the camera. "That's perfect! That's it!" said the assistant director.

CHANGE ORDERED FOR SUBDIVISION

Councilmen Refuse to Accept Land Plat Unless Alley Width Increased

Revision of plans for the subdivision of lots 36, 37 and 38 of the Buena Vista addition at Twin Falls was underway today after city council members had voted to accept a copy of the plat because it called for a 12-foot instead of 20-foot alley.

The plan of the plat was presented to the city council last Monday night, by Jack Dennis, Councilman, and explained that with the 12-foot alley a 20-foot alley would be assumed up to a driveway where it would be almost impossible for the equipment to enter.

The survey and plat was set over the Shoshone street bridge and to the east. Two new driveways will be added for public use, the two to be known as Bell street and Canyon View avenue.

Dennis will make the necessary changes between now and Monday, at which time it will be again offered to the council for approval.

Returns of the recent election on city bonds, which were 33 to 1 in favor of the bonds, were canvassed by the council. Official number of voters was determined at 1,065.

Minidoka Grange Conducts Session

REPORT, Nov. 18 (Special)—Fifty-six members of the Rupert Grange took the fifth of a series of five programs to a joint meeting held at the Grange building at the Hoopwell school Tuesday evening.

The opening number was the singing of "America" by the assembly. This was followed by a reading, "A Letter from the American Grange," two vocal duets, with guitar accompaniment, by Grace and Lola Jensen; a reading, "Waiting for the Sun," by the Grange; a solo by Vaona Schofield, a male quartet by Ross Woodford, L. A. French, L. V. Carpenter and George Brock; a solo by the Grange; a solo by the Grange; a solo by the Grange.

The program is completed with Willie Howard in "The Smart Way" of singing by the Grange.

Run of Irrigation Water Scheduled

SHOSHONE, Nov. 18 (Special)—A domestic run of water that part of the project irrigated from the Milner-Shoshone canal will start today at 10 o'clock, it was announced by E. T. Bae, manager of Big Wood Canal company.

The runs will be on a basis of 30 per cent head and will continue for 10 days.

SHORT TAKES from HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 (Special)—Short takes from the production is at an all-time low for this time of year because executive shakeups and business reversals are expected momentarily at almost every studio.

"Why should I start a picture now?" asked one man. "A new set of gears will be running the place next week."

A dance director who knows all the odds and ends of the business is telling his people just what he thought of the rehearsal. A little chorus girl slipped out of line and said, "I'll 'Ya' can't see such profound language in front of me!"

Quip-of-the-week: Robert Montgomery (reports) the Hollywood Reporter said that Bob Benchley looks like an unmade bed.

Glenn Blondell, sister of Joan, is waiting at Warner's. Blondell is waiting at Warner's. Blondell is waiting at Warner's.

Universal was able to hire the French star, Danielle Darrieux, only by engaging her husband, acting by serving by her daughter, Mrs. Ray Barrymore largely by the desperate strategy of giving Elaine Barrie a $50,000 advance.

OPERATIC TENOR ON ROXY SCREEN

Nino Martini, Joan Fontaine Star in "Music for Madame"

Jail is an unusual place for the beginning of a romance, but that is where Nino Martini and Joan Fontaine first met in the "Love Train" in RKO Radio's romantic comedy, "Music for Madame," at the Roxy Sunday.

In the course of the picture the distinguished tenor sings six numbers ranging from opera to light ballads, written by Rudolf Friml, Guy Kahn, Alio Wargil and Einar Magnussen.

A strong cast includes Alan Mowbray, Bill Gilbert, Alan Hale, Lee Patrick, Eric Rhodes, Grant Mitchell and Romeo Vinook.

DANCE STAR IN IDAHO FEATURE

Eleanor Whitney and Johnny Downs Team Together in "Blonde Trouble"

Eleanor Whitney and Johnny Downs, who are just as much that way about each other as they are on, are the featured players in "Blonde Trouble," the gay comedy romance which opens Sunday at the Roxy.

The cast also includes Lynne Overman, Benny Baker, William Demarest, Terry Walker and Ed Brendel.

The program is completed with Willie Howard in "The Smart Way" of singing by the Grange.

Run of Irrigation Water Scheduled

SHOSHONE, Nov. 18 (Special)—A domestic run of water that part of the project irrigated from the Milner-Shoshone canal will start today at 10 o'clock, it was announced by E. T. Bae, manager of Big Wood Canal company.

The runs will be on a basis of 30 per cent head and will continue for 10 days.

SHORT TAKES from HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 (Special)—Short takes from the production is at an all-time low for this time of year because executive shakeups and business reversals are expected momentarily at almost every studio.

"Why should I start a picture now?" asked one man. "A new set of gears will be running the place next week."

A dance director who knows all the odds and ends of the business is telling his people just what he thought of the rehearsal. A little chorus girl slipped out of line and said, "I'll 'Ya' can't see such profound language in front of me!"

Quip-of-the-week: Robert Montgomery (reports) the Hollywood Reporter said that Bob Benchley looks like an unmade bed.

Hollywood Finds Manville Too Generous With Ex-Wife

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 (AP)—The trouble with Tommy Manville, Jr., the movie discovered today, is that he's too generous with his ex-wife.

The multi-millionaire asthetics heir, while halved playboy and 43-year-old co-hairer of blond wives, settled so much cold cash upon the golden head of Mrs. Manville number four—just in time—then that she still liked Tommy, but that her heart love for him had faded.

Liked Reno She also said she liked her experience in Reno, where the severing of her marital ties was made as painless as possible.

Tommy also revealed, does not like pennant. Then Mrs. Manville downed d'Alquiri II, took another look at the studio where Mrs. Bluebeard VIII was being filmed, and went all stockpiling shopping. She already had her $125 worth of perfume and place tickets for herself and dog.

She would reach New York late tonight, but she's not going to see Tommy. She said she's not even going to give him her phone number.

Lubitch, who injects sex and fruff into his movies, has made, had offered the fourth Mrs. Manville the opportunity to play the part of the second wife, who is introduced in the film, "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife."

When the ex-Mrs. Manville—once had been a New York Vanities chorus as Marjorie Edwards—turned him down, Lubitch paced the plush carpet on the Bluebeard set, and led into his unlighted dollar perfect and muttered.

"I think I do not understand it," said Lubitch, "but in my career have I seen a girl refuse, so quick, so cold, a chance to play the part of a woman who is introduced in the film, 'Bluebeard's Eighth Wife.'"

Tommy Generous with his girls," she said, slipping a check number eight, while Mrs. Manville said she was generous as some people would think. I have read that he has given each of his former wives $200,000, but I can state that he settled no such sum on me.

"Of course I am comfortably off, but it is one reason I do not want to be in a picture. Another reason is the nature of the picture. It seems to me that it is a duplicate of Tommy's career, with all those wives and all, and if I were to play in it, he would go wild. "He may go wild anyway. He
