Japanese Try To Transport Arms in Area

(From Page 1) trucks to pass but placed an armed officer aboard each vehicle. A French motorcycle escort led the way.

Planned Precedent

The incident attracted several hundred Chinese and foreigners. The Chinese were piqued with the results of yesterday's "victory parade" in which the Japanese were hailed by United States marines who were on the occasion of the American defense sector.

Foreign military observers believed that the object of today's move by the Japanese was to establish precedent for the transportation of military supplies through the French concession. It was emphasized, however, that the French probably would never permit the Japanese to establish such a precedent.

Invasion "Unintentional"

The Japanese asserted that the invasion had been "unintentional." A Japanese spokesman said, however, that the French probably have the right to march troops anywhere they may please in the settlement and that the British and United States equal partners in law are agreed to expel anti-Japanese agitators from their areas.

SIX CHANGES SET IN REVENUE LAWS

House and Ways Committee Drafts Plan to Simplify Administration

(From Page 1) more easily administered and also to provide the loophole which permitted a corporation to take a deduction for contributions which may have been promised but which never may be paid.

Business Expense

A provision preventing corporations from deducting as a business expense contributions to charitable, religious, scientific and similar institutions. Corporations still will be able to contribute to such institutions, but the deduction will be a per cent limit, but the deduction cannot be made as a business expense.

Gifts

A new base for gifts in kind. Gifts of this nature—stock, houses, etc.—may be deducted as a gift at the cost of the property in the hands of the donor, or at market value at the time of gift, whichever is lower. This also is a loophole-plugging provision since under the present law a taxpayer could give a $50,000 house to his son and take a $35,000 gift deduction.

FOREST RANGE PROSPECTS CHEERFUL, STOCKMEN TOLD

RAINS AND SNOW INDICATE BUMPER FORAGE FOR 1930

November Downfall Provides Deep Soaking; Christmas Trees Inaccessible

With beneficial November coming at an opportune time and snow now covering the entire area, prospects at the present time are that the Minidoka forest will be in a better condition than it has been in years when sheepmen and cattlemen start moving on the range next spring, according to Elmer C. Ross, United States forest ranger.

"The November rains soaked the ground deeper than two feet," Ross said this afternoon. "This action foretells of a bumper forage crop next spring. This alone should bring joy to the hearts of the sheep and cattle men who use the Minidoka range each summer.

Activity Ceases
"All activity, so far as the forest department, has ceased for the winter on the Minidoka with the exception of a forest patrol which will be maintained.

"By getting some work accomplished this winter, members of the CCC are expected to complete the Rock creek canyon road sometime next summer, giving citizens access to one of the most beautiful areas in the state. I am sure it will prove to be one of the most popular areas to be found in Idaho," Ross said.

At the same time he pointed out that, because the forest is now snow-bound, securing Christmas trees will be impossible this season.

Sheep Water
In summing up some of the operations which were completed in the forest proper (Cassia division) during the season just closed, Mr. Ross pointed out that five new water developments or structures were completed at a cost of approximately $350 each. Each "development" consists of a trough 100 feet long holding 1,500 gallons of water. Springs are drilled to fill the trough. Other construction included four cow troughs constructed at a cost of $50 to $100 each. Two other springs on the forest were repaired for stock watering purposes.

YOUNG PEOPLE END CONTESTS WITH BANQUET

As the climax to the two-month contest between rival teams of the Brethren Young People's department of the Brethren church in Twin Falls, a banquet was given by the losers for the successful team last evening at the church.

Thirty-four places were marked at nine quarter tables lighted by tapers. Theme of the affair was "Left Overs" and the motto for the night was "We may be left behind but we're not left over." The program was in keeping with initial letters of the titles forming the theme word.

The first song was "Lift Your Voices," led by Miss Mary Wright, a prayer, "Elevate Your Thoughts," by Rev. Van B. Wright; "Read Your Faces," by the group; "Miss Virginia Kerlin, Miss Julia Shepherd and Miss Wright, who sang "Alpha-bet Song" and "Field Not to Temptation." The second part of the program included an oration, "Verus Each Other," by Dwight Kerlin and Miss Isabelle Harvey, members of the winning and losing sides; "Everybody Happy," a solo by Ruth Adler and a reading by John Troxell. A song by the group closed the program.

Those in charge were Miss Evelyn Brewer, program chairman; Miss Marie Weaver, decorations; Miss Wright, food.

During the contest the two teams raised $70 by various projects.

Public Forum

Contributions from readers welcomed. Letters should deal with matters of general interest. Matter should not extend to more than 20 words and preferably should be confined to 100. No contributions considered unless signed, but initials will be used if specifically requested. All contributions should be addressed to Editor Idaho Evening Times and submitted through the mails.

Editor, Evening Times:
I have been interested in reading a couple of communications recently appearing in your columns, discussing a suggested change of the name of what is known as Bickel school. The first of these letters was evidently based on the assumption that the school was so named in honor of Paul S. A. Bickel as one who was entitled to such an honor because of his contributions to the service he had rendered. But that is erroneous. Aside from the fact that he had served on the board of trustees of the village of Twin Falls in his infancy Mr. Bickel did nothing to entitle him to any distinction above that of hundreds of others whose business in the early days made them residents of the town.

The school was so called, not because Mr. Bickel had done anything toward the erection of the building or in the promotion of the cause of education, but for the reason that he had attached his name to a tract of land lying across the boulevard from the school property and platted as Bickel Addition. It was quite natural when the school building was erected close to that property to refer to it as the one near the Bickel Addition, and then, later, for brevity's sake, to shorten the name to common usage. It was, however, the name of the Addition and not the personally or the standing of the individual who suggested the name which the school became known, and there was not originally any intention to honor Mr. Bickel for anything he had done or stood for.

Mr. Bickel was a good citizen and a competent civil engineer having come here under employment of the Twin Falls Land and Water company and served that company during the time of the construction of its canal system, but I am of the opinion, and I was here at the time, that aside from his having served as trustee of the village he rendered no public service and did nothing toward the building of our city or the development of our educational interests.

Now that a new building is being erected to take the place of the one under construction this is the time to give to the school a name that will mean something to the pupils attending it and to the public generally. It is not as if the building stands—the name of some noted and admired public character, as has been done in connection with two of our other schools.

Dobbin Lags On Two New School Jobs

Old Dobbin isn't what he used to be. At least he seems to be lagging behind so far as his use on construction of the Bickel school and the Lincoln school addition is concerned.

A survey yesterday afternoon disclosed six horses were being pressed into duty at the Lincoln site while at the Bickel site none were working although there was some evidence they might have been used for a small amount of the work.

Tractors are apparently taking the place of the once mighty horse in building construction even as the automobile took his place on the highways of the nation. So far as the horse is concerned it is just a matter of being slowly crowded out.

At the Lincoln addition site the horses are helping to dig out the basement which is rapidly taking shape under the watchful eye of Herb Feynert, Pockalski contractor.

At the Bickel foundation site the new structure is already taking shape. Concrete pouring has been started, and wooden forms to receive the concrete are now in place. Directing the work is Enoch Chytrouski, Salt Lake City contractor.

Doctors Work to Save Eight Babies Hit by Strange Malady

Chicago, Dec. 4 (U.P.)—Bacteriologists and pathologists worked untiringly today to save eight infants from a mysterious disease which has killed the lives of 10 others in the modern nursery of St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Four of the eight were reported to be seriously ill. The malady confines itself to the newborn and has baffled medical science since it first appeared in this country 23 years ago. Physicians admitted they know nothing of its origin.

Dr. Richard H. Jaffe, director of the Pathological Institute of the Cook county hospital, performed autopsies on the victims and could not determine the cause. He said the same virulent infection was found in each case.

WORK NEARS ON JEROME FACTORY

North Side City Will Get Plant for Bricks and Other Materials

JEROME, Dec. 4 (Special).—J. O. Sargent of the Pyramid Ceynam Company, Salt Lake, stated that actual construction of the new gypsum plant, where a new type of insulation brick and plaster, and other similar products will be manufactured, is to start soon.

Property has been purchased from the Galentine estate located east of the State Highway garage and west of the potato cellar. The plant will not only provide an additional payroll for Jerome but about 80 per cent of all materials used will be purchased from this locality in the manufacture of their products. Besides the manufacture of bricks the plant will make re-inforced concrete, ceiling, floor, insulating and acoustic plaster and other building materials.

The company has filed on property of the Craters of the Moon and plans to use the cinders from that place for the manufacture of its products. These cinders have been found to be most advantageous for use in that they are free from lava and are about 85 per cent suitable for brick manufacture.

The cinders from the Craters of the Moon will last for years to come. Sargent explained, and will be crushed into jagged.

Extensive laboratory tests have shown that cinders found in Southern Idaho in vast deposits have a high insulating value and when they are processed and are made into bricks, the material manufactured has a high tensile strength.

Brothers at Universities Talk Daily Via Radio

AUSTIN, Tex. (U.P.)—Dr. F. Burton Jones, instructor in pure mathematics at the University of Texas, and his brother, Wayne Jones, graduate scholar at Harvard university, have managed to keep in touch with each other daily despite the misty miles between Austin and Cambridge.

They communicate daily by short wave radio. Wayne's set has been installed on one of Harvard's buildings with permission of the university. Burton used to set the radio in Austin several years ago.

Frederick Bieseck, former University of Texas associate of the Jones boys, occasionally is included in the chat. His short wave set is installed at Brown university.

JOKERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (U.P.)—Things got so bad at the Roosa home today that Mrs. Roosa called the police to discover her telephone and peeked her bags for a week-end in the country.

The Roosas became the victims of scores of practical jokes—Roosa called them "wise guys"—after the news leaked yesterday that they had been sent Roosa's old telephone number and that it was rung by the company to discover the President or members of his family.

Mrs. Roosa always thought the Roosa's calls amusing because she's a fervent Republican, but the jokes overwhelmed her.

Minidoka Stake Has Regular Conference

SUPERTY, Dec. 4 (Special).—The first meeting of the regular quarterly conference of the Minidoka Stake L.D.S. was held this afternoon in the first ward chapel. POT SHOTS

The Gentleman in the Third Row. FARDON BOARD, PLEASE NOTE! I feel that anybody at 2 to 3 odds that Van Vlack not only won't hang, but will be governor of Idaho within 15 years.

IT HARDLY SEEMS LIKE ENOUGH! Dear Pot Shots: I'm all for this idea of a Santa Claus for grown-ups. I'm glad to know that this proverbial saint is really wondering who would be willing to play the part and foot the bill.

MORE FROM SLAM BOOKS. Here are a few more from the "slam books" current at the high school. Our score tonight on Wednesday was 10-0.

Girl B.—"Wow! Steer clear of the red and green coat." Girl C.—"Big slay." Girl D.—"Missus bound idiot."

They All Saw Red! Pot Shots: Have you heard about the gory affair over at Zip-Way? The policeman was talking to the lady and accidentally leaned against a display of rasp bottles.

Good Music for All. It is quite possible that the 92-piece symphony orchestra which NBC will put on the air this winter will stimulate a general public enthusiasm for music that all the existing orchestras have failed to do in a generation.

Famous Last Line. "Thank heaven, I'm back!" every festival you see. THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW.

People Should Decide on War. Divided on almost everything else, members of the present congress seem to be agreed on one thing: that above everything else the American people want to stay out of any and all wars that may come over the horizon.

People Should Decide on War. Divided on almost everything else, members of the present congress seem to be agreed on one thing: that above everything else the American people want to stay out of any and all wars that may come over the horizon.

In the first place, any president can, if he wishes, maneuver the country into a spot where war becomes practically inevitable. Wilson did it, unintentionally, in the World War; any succeeding president could do the same.

In the second place, it is congress that declares war. Susceptible to pressures of all kinds, congress might conceivably declare war when a majority of the people did not want war. It is still an open question, for instance, whether a majority of Americans wanted to go to war with Germany in the spring of 1917.

Every man in the nation will jump to arms in case the United States is invaded or threatened with invasion, says Senator Capper. "But when it comes to declaring war, the American people believe they have the right to say for themselves whether they shall send armies to fight overseas. The machinery to give them that right might as well be put in motion at once.

Crusade Against Death. A conference highly important to the well-being of the nation is the one which Katharine F. Lenroff, chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, was summoned to meet in Washington on Jan. 17 and 18.

For Next Season HUNT UNABLE TO HEAD '38 DANCES. Previous Business Prevents Chairmanship of F. D. B. Birthday Event. Pressing personal business this afternoon caused G. Kyle Bunn, owner of the Diamond hallways, to reject an offer to serve as chairman for the 1938 celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday at which time dances are held over the nation to collect funds to fight infantile paralysis. Mr. Bunn today received a telegram from George E. Allen, District of Columbia commissioner, asking him to accept chairmanship for the Twin Falls city and county. "I am sorry I could not accept the honor," Mr. Hunt said, "but business matters arranged prior to receipt of the offer make it impossible for me to serve. This celebration each year is one of the finest types of observances which have ever been arranged to aid in the fighting of a dread disease."

MONTAGUE CAN'T REMEMBER LOSING ROUND OF GOLF TO RUTH

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4 (UP)—John Montague can't remember ever having been beaten at golf by Babe Ruth, or of ever having lost a bet to Babe Ruth, but he is not willing to have Babe Ruth go about New York saying he beat John Montague three times out of four, and took his money.

That's what John Montague told me today over what once and a while ago was a newspaper clipping. He read them carefully, took a long breath and said: "You've got it all right, but I can't remember—always in a four-course—and I don't remember."

Terry, Grimm Match Wits in Trade Battle

By GEORGE KIRKSEY CHICAGO, Dec. 4 (UP)—The poker game that Bill Terry, Charlie Grimm and Burleigh Grimes are playing with Van Mungo, Brooklyn's star pitcher, as the high stake, was resumed on a new battlefield today as the major leaguers moved here from the minor league convention at Milwaukee.

Grimes, the stubble-bearded Missouri farmer in the sombre black suit, today said that Van is a temperamental artist and has openly declared he never tosses under baseball for the others as long as Burleigh manages the club.

That makes it imperative for Grimes to trade Mungo and Terry, blue-blooded pilot of the Giants, and Charlie Grimm, clowning boss of the Cubs, are the two fellows who want him most for their clubs.

In a separate deal the Giants bought catcher Tom Fadden from the Cardinals for $100,000. International league farm club Fadden has never played with St. Louis, having come to the Cards recently in the deal for an outfielder John Rizzo of Columbus to the Pirates.

Terry, in his bland way, continues to pool-pool the idea that he is desperately bidding for Mungo. But it is believed Pitcher Hal Schumacher is one of the men he will offer along with other players and cash for Mungo. Grimes has hinted that he'll accept no offer for Mungo that does not include Al Smith. If that's true, it seems hardly likely that Mungo will go to New York because Ott stays at the Cardinals.

Grimes, badly in need of a catcher, a hard-hitting left-handed outfielder and a first baseman, has his cards closely in an effort to swing the last available bit of talent for Mungo.

Another deal on the fire is between the White Sox and Washington. Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox has offered First Baseman Zeke Bonamigo to the Indians in exchange for the Senators for First Baseman Joe Kuhel and Second Baseman Buddy Myers. Thus far the Senators have been in the lead.

The first session of the major leaguers will be held Monday. Both the Cardinals and the Indians will meet in separate sessions Monday and Tuesday and then hold their joint meeting Wednesday.

Girls Practice for Do-Nut Hoop League

Preliminary practice by the feminine contingent of Twin Falls high school is being held nightly under the direction of Coach Mary Gillette.

FIRE KEPT ALIVE FOR 147 YEARS

Pioneer, Last in Family, Hopes to Arrange For Continuing Blaze
HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., Nov. 30 (AP)—In a tiny mountain cabin near here, alone except for his dog, Robert Morris, 77, faithfully tends a fire started by members of his family five generations ago. He hopes that before his death arrangements will be made to keep alive forever the flame that has been burning for 147 years.

The aged mountaineer in the last of the Morris family, descendants of brother of William Morris, who during the Revolution gave all his wealth to the colonies and died in a pauper's prison. He has never forgotten a "know" that when he dies there will be no one other relative to take over the task of keeping the fire burning.

The fire kept alive by more than 20 years ago, when his mother died. Her death-bed exhortation was to "keep the fire going," and he has carried out his duty.

Pioneers in Great Smokies
Ancestors of Morris were among the first white settlers of the Great Smoky mountains by Sir Basil Thomas. As an intricately plotted English countryside murder done in the best American Latin manner, the story was written by (Paisley), by Jennings O. Wise. Life and its responsibilities do not always flow like a man-of-war's youth and leave him a man-of-war.

"The Book of Wild Fowl" (Putnam), by Clifford B. Moore. If you want to make friends with anything from a bullsnake to a mountain lion, this book tells you how to do it. It is a book of life.

"Our G-Men" (Dodd, Mead), by Irving Grupp and John W. Newell. You want to make friends with anything from a bullsnake to a mountain lion, this book tells you how to do it. It is a book of life.

"The White House" (Dodd, Mead), by Ethel Lewis. All about the physical aspects of the Executive Office of the President of the United States and its most exciting adventures in tracking down desperadoes.

"These Slaves of 1877" (Doubleday Doran), edited by Harry Stanton. Twenty-one selected stories of the O. Henry Memorial Award for best short stories.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IN NEW MEXICO, THERE ARE POSTMASTERS WHO CAN NEITHER READ NOR WRITE ENGLISH.

BLUE IS THE ONLY COLOR NOT TO BE FOUND AMONG CARNATIONS.

ELECTRIC BARBED WIRE FENCES ARE BEING USED BY MANY FARMERS FOR TEMPORARY PASTURES.

Middle-western farmers have turned to electricity in marking off temporary pastures for their livestock. Although a low power is used, and the animal receives only a harmless shock, the fence is, nevertheless, most effective. A single battery will furnish current for 15 miles of fence.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople

OH, BEAT IT, YOU EGG! AND STOP MAULING THAT DOOR! I HAVEN'T BEEN IN THIS TUB LONG ENOUGH TO GET GOOSE PIMPLES YET—BEFORE I PULL THE CORD OUT OF THIS WATER BUBBLES YOU'LL HAVE TIME TO GO TEN ROUNDS WITH JOE LOUIS AND SHOW YOURSELF HOW YOU LAID JOHN L. GULLIVAN LIKE A CORNER STONE BACK IN 1899!

SPUTT-SPUTT-TT-FAF! EGAD, I'LL INVENT A COLD WATER SPRINKLER THAT WILL TURN ON AUTOMATICALLY AFTER TEN MINUTES AND SOUSE THE OCCUPANT WHO HAS BEEN WALLOWING IN THE TUB—HAY! BY RUNNING THE WATER THROUGH THE ICE BOX I COULD EVEN SPRAY HIM WITH HAIL! BY JOVE, I'LL APPLY MY GENIUS TO THE PROBLEM AT ONCE!

BOB-A-DUB-DUB, TWO MEN AND A TUB

OUT OUR WAY By Williams

WHY THAT POLECAT! HE LEFT THAT ON THERE SO TH' BOSS COULD SEE IT.

OH! SUCH A RAT! WOULDN'T EVEN WIPE IT OFF—WAITED FER TH' BULL TO COME BY.

IF YOU'D WANTED TILL TH' BOSS HAD GONE BY, TO HIT HIM WITH THAT TOMATO, HE'D OF HAD TO LEAVE IT ON MAYBE TILL TOMORROW, AND HAVEN BEEN A WORSE RAT.

THE SQUAWKER.

GEET WOTTA BON BON! AN! I CAN'T EVEN GET TO FIRST BASE.

NOBODY CAN! SHE'S THE STRICKEPST DAME I EVER SAW, SHE WONT SWIM, DANCE, OR EVEN TALK TO A GUY!

By Crane

SHE'LL TALK WITH ME.

I'LL BET A PINK COOKIE SHE WONT, HO HO! WOTEVER, GAVE YOU TH' IDEA THAT YOU'RE SUCH A RED-HOT ROMEO?

NOTHING! IT JUST HAPPENS, MY DUMPY COMPANION, THAT I'VE FOUND THE YOUNG LADY'S EVENING BAG.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

I DON'T UNDERSTAND—IT SAYS HERE THAT BROTHLY GOT A SETBACK IN THE STOCK MARKET AND WAS WIPED OUT—RUINED—AND HERE'S HIS PICTURE—OH!—WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

HOW SERIOUS IS STEPHEN?

I DON'T KNOW—PSHAW!

By Martin

HANG IT ALL! I DIDN'T WANT YOU TO SEE THAT TILL WE HAD THE FACTS, BOOTS.

YES! IT MAY BE JUST AN EXAGGERATION!

NO! I'VE FELT RIGHT ALONG THAT SOMETHING WAS WRONG.

NOW BOOTS—YOU SIMPLY MUSTN'T WORRY—

BILLY'S LETTERS HAVE BEEN FORCED—SO NON-CHALANT! I KNEW THAT HE WAS HIDING SOMETHING—THE POOR DEAR.

ALLEY OOP

HEY! WHAT'S THIS BLAH BOUT YOU BEING REIGNING MONARCH OF MOO?? WHAT'S COMING OFF AROUND HERE?? WHERE'S MY CROWN??

OH! SO YOU'RE IN AGAIN, EH?

WATCHA DOIN' UP THERE ON MY THRONE?

YOUR THRONE? SAY, JUST WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE?

YOU SEE, JACK—WHILE I WAS READING TO WILLIE, HE WAS SUBCONSCIOUSLY SCRIBBLING ON THAT SHEET OF PAPER—AND THOSE DOODLES YOU CALL THEM, REVEAL SOME INTERESTING MENTAL TWISTS!

BOY! I'LL SAY!

By Thompson and Coll

WHY THIS SHOWS THAT WILLIE HASN'T LOST A BIT OF THAT ENGRAVING SKILL WHICH MADE HIM THE MOST FEARED COUNTERFEITER IN THE COUNTRY!

AND REMEMBER, HE MADE THOSE "SCRIBBLES" WHILE I WAS READING ABOUT KING MIDAS AND THE GOLDEN TOUCH—

MISS NORTH—COMB QUICKLY! WILLIE'S SHOUTING FOR SALLY! HE MUST MEAN YOU!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

IT'S NONE OF YOUR BUSINESS, REALLY, WHAT YOU DO ABOUT FIRING OR HIRING A COACH— BUT I'D LIKE YOU TO HEAR MY STORY FIRST!

I'VE ALWAYS BEEN LED TO BELIEVE THAT WINNING FOOTBALL GAMES ISN'T AS IMPORTANT AS PLAYING THE GAME FAIRLY! OR ISN'T THAT THE RULE HERE AT KINGSTON?

WE TRY TO UPHOLD THAT RULE—YES!

THEN ISN'T IT YOUR COACH'S JOB TO GIVE, FIRST, THAT HIS BOYS ARE GIVEN THE RIGHT SLANT ON THINGS, TO FIT THEM FOR THE GAME OF LIFE?

YES—OUR FOOTBALL COACH SHARES THE LIVES OF MANY OF HIS YOUNG PLAYERS!

THEN FOR PETE'S SAKE, WHY ARE YOU MEN SITTING AROUND TRYING TO FIGURE WAYS OF BREAKING A SWELL MOLD?

NEGOTIATIONS NEAR COLLAPSE IN UNION MEETING

LABOR LEADERS END CONFERENCE WITHOUT TRUCE

Assumption of 2-Year Civil War Seen as Near, Lewis Finish

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—The virtual collapse of peace negotiations between A. Lewis and William Green pointed the committee for industrial organization and the American Federation of Labor toward a resumption of their two-year old civil war today.

The leaders of the rival organizations ended their personal meeting here today with a formula either for a truce or a permanent peace. Both Green and Lewis appeared ready to compromise their struggles for dominance of the labor union movement.

The failure of negotiations came in the face of rank-and-file pressure for some form of truce and a business recession which labor leaders said seemed likely to cause thousands of workers to lose their jobs.

F. F. A. EYES NEW MERIT PROPOSAL

Local Channing Ponder Plan For Changing Basis of Letter Awards

A new goal for the "selection of the best" in the F. F. A. is under consideration today by the agriculture classes of the Twin Falls high school.

The plan was advanced for use at the state teachers' meeting held recently at Boise and is favored by Principal E. D. Hatcher. Final decision of the adoption of the plan rests with the boys and will be announced following the next F. F. A. meeting.

Dean Sanner, Darrel Van Tilburg and Donald Nelson have been selected to suggest such class with the details of the plan.

If the new set-up is adopted it will eliminate the sending of letters to boys in the agriculture department and will reward those truly outstanding. The practice being followed at the time of the F. F. A. banquet, public speaking and judging.

Mann said the bird ate green and "wasn't" a bluejay.

Lady Godiva, Clad Mostly in Smile, Parades Los Angeles as Eyes of Policemen Bulge

By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4 (AP)—A bulging policeman rubbed his eyes today—you would have seen 'em!—and wondered how some law could stop a Lady Godiva, clad mostly in a smile, from prancing down Broadway on her horse.

It was a sight to see, as even the police would admit, because it isn't every day that a young lady, who is pink all over, climbs onto a big-eyed horse and clopping-clip across the city.

This real life drama of the law—and its shortcomings—had its beginning yesterday when Russell Birdwell, who functions as town crier for the movie productions of Selznick International, reminded the authorities that the 90th anniversary of Lady Godiva's famous ride through Coventry was at hand.

The police replied that horse drawn vehicles were illegal. "Lady Godiva's horse is no vehicle," retorted Birdwell. "Well, then, we'll run you in for violating the ordinance against permitless parades," the police said. "Lady Godiva and her horse were no parade," Birdwell said. The police took up the law, and sure enough he was right. A parade in Los Angeles consists of at least two vehicles, which certainly is not the definition for a goose-pioped boy on her horse.

Reluctantly the police gave up the argument, while Birdwell hastened to hire Miss Dorothy Fargo as his Godiva, and a white horse named Oscar, as her steed. Miss Fargo, who is a twin sister of Miss Fargo in a limousine to the corner of First street and Broadway. This would correspond to 2nd street and Broadway in New York, or State and Madison streets in Chicago.

Miss Fargo then played Lady Godiva in the movie which Birdwell was advertising, shucked off her hat, and revealed herself, clad in a pink leotard, which is considerably less than a bathing suit.

The horse wore nothing but rubber heels on his shoes and a turkish towel with a pink border. On this lower sat Miss Fargo. She wore also a pair of dancing pumps, a wig of yellow cellophane, and an innocent expression.

Upon its satin surface was embroidered the words "nothing sacred," which seemed to be the name of the movie Birdwell was publicizing because he cautioned her to hold it carefully so that all could see.

Pedestrians stopped. The streets were jammed with pedestrians and motor-touring places, but they all stopped what they were doing when Miss Fargo approached. It was a cool routine and she didn't have much to cover her except her nonchalance, but she bowed so gracefully as she could to every cop on route.

The father's hands were tied, legally, that is, so all they could do was mutter. After 12 blocks of lunging traffic at every corner and giving Christmas shoppers a sight they won't soon forget, the parade was sent, put on her bathrobe, and went home. So did the horse.

Birdwell hurried away too, but he didn't get far. After 12 blocks Los Angeles celebrated moving mountain, which has stopped moving and hence couldn't come to Los Angeles. The parade was the biggest billboard ever built. Thousands of people pass this mountain daily, but they can't look at it without looking at Birdwell's billboard. Two words are emblazoned on it. What they say is your guess.

No's for Nudes

Green opposed a truce from the meeting, and said that he and Lewis had had a general discussion but reached no conclusions although he seemed to report the committee to the full committee on Dec. 21.

Lewis, who left the conference early, said that he had the report to the peace committee would contain no decisions and no recommendations.

Capt. Ronald Boone Takes World Spotlight in China

In the thick of the Shanghai crisis today was Capt. Ronald Boone, Twin Falls high school graduate of 1918, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Boone, and brother of Hugh O. Boone, the head of the U. S. Marines intelligence service at Shanghai.

And today the ace of the intelligence service—agent of Japanese and Chinese—stood directly in the international spotlight after forcing the Japanese to recede from a stand that threatened to involve the United States. Boone and his commander, Col. Charles Price, drove up to the Japanese lines after the Japanese moved into a portion of the area under U. S. Marine control.

600 RANCHERS OF EAST END IN FARM LOAN CO-OP UNITS

Approximately 600 farmers are participating in local farm loan co-ops of eastern Twin Falls County. It was announced here this afternoon by J. W. McDowell, secretary-treasurer of the Twin Falls National Farm Loan Association.

Through the associations, because members took one of the largest cooperatives in the country, farmers are able to obtain loans at the lowest terms of agricultural financing. At the present time, Mr. McDowell points out, loans may be secured on good farm lands at four percent interest over a period of 36 and one-half years.

Such loans are made on an amortized basis whereby members pay off both principal and interest in semi-annual installments at the low rate of $27 per $1,000 every six months. It means members can pay off loans, including principal and interest, for about five per cent a year.

"Contrary to general belief," Mr. McDowell said, "those cooperative organizations are not a governmental group but act as agents for commission loans which are not government loans."

Juvenile Star Appears in '45 Fathers,' Tough Hit Opening Sunday

While 45 million club members try to give Jane Withers that finishing-school finish, she goes on a wild rampage of joy in her funniest Twentieth Century-Fox picture, "45 Fathers," featuring Thompson Beck, Louise Henry and the Hartmans which begins Sunday at the Idaho theater.

Jane studies Greek dancing with Sammy Cahery; to whom it's all Greek studying; she is in a hilarious situation, explaining that she would draw a salary of $25 a day instead of the usual $10 for dress extras.

James Quinn directed, with John Stone Associate producer. Based on a story by Mary Bickel, the screen play was written by Frances Hyland and Albert Ray.

Brunettes Okay, But Gents Still Like 'Em Blond

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4 (Special)—The West went blonde today. It was just a picture disguise, and although some of her friends tried to persuade her to go dark temporarily, "The Day" turned thumbs down on the idea.

Mae wore a raven wig in a sequence of her current Major Paramount picture, "Every Day a Holiday."

The effect was fetching, but as Mae put it: "Gentlemen still prefer blondes—especially if they ain't gentlemen."

"And why change a good thing? I ain't had any complaints so far."

Walt Disney Holds Record With 5 Successive Screen Academy Awards

There are no doubt a great many film fans among the millions who will seek out a Silly Symphony or a Mickey Mouse film who believe that a single man, Walt Disney, is responsible for the complete production of the complete animated cartoons.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4 (Special)—Beauty may be at a premium in Hollywood, but there's a pretty fair price paid for ugliness as well.

One man working alone would have to labor for several years to make one of Disney's cartoons. Experts estimate that the complete photographic processes would take a single cameraman six months or longer.

In view of these facts, Walt Disney still does not know whether the widespread legend that his picture is the fastest and super-naturally brilliant craftsman who conceives and executes unaided the 18 Mickey and Billie is a greater compliment than the fact that his productions for five successive years have won him the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for making the outstanding short subject of the year.

Most movie-goers have seen at least one of these blue-ribbon-winning Silly Symphonies. They are "Three Little Pigs" (1934), "The Tortoise and the Hare" (1935), "Three Orphan Kittens" and (1936) "The Cat in the Hat."

SMITHY MAKES HORSE SHOEING TRAVELING JOB

AMARILLO, Tex., (AP)—When the horse shoeing business slumps several years ago, H. J. Beeler of Amarillo packed his bag and became a wandering blacksmith. Today he says he is the only shoeer left in the Texas panhandle, and reports business good from Okla. Mo., to Kansas.

At one time I shoeed horses for $1 a head, but in recent years, because of the smaller number of horses and because there are few horseshoers left, the price is $3 now. Beeler is shoeing a horse, claiming about shoeing a horse is setting the hoof level at the right angle.
