VAN VLACK SUICIDE; PROBE SET

ADVANCE NIPPON TROOPERS POUR INTO NANKING

Bitter Street Fighting Is Reported as Chinese Resist Invaders

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
 SHANGHAI, Dec. 10 (AP)—Shock troops of the Japanese army were reported to be streaming through artillery-battered walls and shattered gates of Nanking shortly before midnight tonight.

Reliable reports received here said bitter street to street and house to house fighting was in progress after the capital's ancient battlements had been battered for hours by terrific aerial and artillery fire.

The Chinese resisting the assault in the narrow streets which for centuries have known the clash of swords and rattle of musketry of invaders seeking rich loot in the capital of the Ming.

A spokesman for the Japanese army said the "final assault" had started at noon, and was making rapid progress, assuming that the great wall had been penetrated and that advance units were engaged in mopping up inside the citadel.

Units at Purple Mountain
 It was known, he said, that one unit had reached the southern slope of Purple mountain and was making rapid progress, assuming that the great wall had been penetrated and that advance units were engaged in mopping up inside the citadel.

A Japanese naval spokesman said that airplanes had bombed the capital intensively, including all gates and sections of the wall and Chinese concentrations inside.

The air officer he added, noted that heavy Chinese anti-aircraft firing came from within and near buildings lying around stages.

The Japanese leaders are expected to come on page 2, column 4.

Suicide Ends Controversy

Douglas Van Vlack, convicted wife killer, today had cheated the gallows of Idaho, as early this morning he leaped to his death 32 feet to the cement floor. The body today was en route to Tacoma for burial.

No Inquest Set in Accident Death Here

88-Year-Old Garden Valley Woman Dies After Being Hit by Car on Shoshone

No inquest is planned concerning the death of Mrs. Julia E. Mills, 88, pioneer resident of Garden Valley, Idaho, who was killed here late last night when she and three other persons were struck down by a car driven by Miss Inez McDonald, 26, at the intersection of Shoshone avenue and Sixth avenue north.

Announcement that no inquest is planned was made by Dr. George O. Halsey, county coroner who, with police and sheriff officers, investigated the tragedy.

Injured severely in the mishap was Mrs. Emory Miller, 44, Sixth avenue east, a daughter of Mrs. Miller. She is in the county general hospital suffering a badly injured shoulder, fractured leg and possible internal injuries. Attending physicians termed her condition this afternoon as "good," however.

Released from the hospital after treatment for bruises were John Miller, 16, son of Mrs. Miller and Robert H. Mills, 65, of the dead woman.

The fatality occurred, ironically enough, as the four women were en route home on foot after witnessing the high school production of "Death Takes a Holiday."

Investigation disclosed the four, walking in lines, were struck by the McDonald car which was being driven toward the downtown district. Three women were walking east across Shoshone street and had reached a point approximately 30 feet from the curb when the auto bore down on them.

Dead's Son Despondent
 Mrs. McDonald told police she failed to see the pedestrians before it was too late to avoid them although she swore the car was to the right in an attempt to pass behind them. She was driving between 15 and 20 miles an hour. Weather conditions were unfavorable at the time. The streets were wet and it was raining.

The car evidently hit the elderly Mrs. Mills first. The two men were brushed aside by the car but the two women were dragged, and rolled a distance of between 20 and 30 feet, police records show. It is believed that the car's wheels passed over both of the women.

At the scene of their investigation were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Apogon of Twin Falls and O. E. Knight, a farmer residing near here. All three were witnesses.

With Miss McDonald at the time were Miss Ione Smith, three three, (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Killer Breathes Last on Floor Under Dim Lights

Lies Nearly 5 Hours After Leap Off Beam

Lies Nearly 5 Hours After Leap Off Beam
 By J. J. MULLEN (Evening Times Staff Writer)
 BOISE, Ida., Dec. 10 (Special) — I saw Douglas Van Vlack breathe out his last minutes on a concrete floor under a dim light in state's prison.

I saw the man who cheated the gallows, lying broken and corpse-like, dying of the broken neck the hangman did not inflict.

He lay in a dim corner of the cell block that houses "death row." A few blankets were thrown carelessly over him. A tiny trickle of blood flowed from a small wound in the back of his head. His arms lay outstretched. His face was deathly pale.

At five minutes to eight light leaped fully 32 feet from a beam at roof of the cell block. He hurled past a partially outstretched fire net by two feet, narrowly missing one of the guards who held the net.

Sneaking Thru
 He crashed into the concrete floor, smashing with a sickening thud on the back of his neck and on his left shoulder. His head struck with the sound of a watermelon breaking.

At five minutes to eight light leaped fully 32 feet from a beam at roof of the cell block. He hurled past a partially outstretched fire net by two feet, narrowly missing one of the guards who held the net.

LABOR ELECTION CAPTURED BY CIO

Portland, Ore., Dec. 10 (AP)—Gov. Charles E. Martin called workers back to the lumber mills today, confident they are collecting for a gaining election, won by the CIO. The union, which has been fighting since last spring, has captured a majority of the 10,000 men idle for four months.

He promised state and local protection to returning workers.

O. I. O. spokesman accepted the election triumphantly, and hoped the governor would speed through the national labor relations board had failed. The N. R. L. board also certified the O. I. O. as a collective bargaining agent for the mill workers. But American Federation of Labor leaders rejected that decision and enforced the shut-down with a boycott against all mills where O. I. O. men might work.

No Comment
 A P. L. spokesman made no comment on the election after advising their men to vote. They said, unofficially, however, that the boycott remained in effect.

The 503 men who worked at the Imman-Pullen mill when it closed August 1, were the voters. The mill was one of those forced to shut down because of the A. F. of L. boycott.

There were 563 Imman-Pullen men who responded. One group of O. I. O. men marched from their union headquarters in a body. There were 559 good ballots cast. The count was for the C. I. O. 379 for the A. F. of L. 183. Three men did not vote on one cast, a blank ballot.

Nippon Leaders Propose to Keep on With War After Fall of Nanking

TOKYO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Japan will continue to fight against China even after the fall of Nanking, it was revealed today following a meeting of the cabinet.

Informal private sources disclosed that the cabinet, which met for several hours to discuss Japan's future policy toward China, had decided that the country will continue to fight against China no longer was anti-Japanese.

Government leaders were represented as being opposed to the continuance of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as head of the Chinese government.

They said they were willing to "assist China" in reorganization and reconstruction.

PHILIPPINE ARMY OFFICERS FOUND

Three Men Return to Manila After Three Days Spent on Small Island

MANILA, P. I., Dec. 10 (AP)—Three high Philippine army officers, including Brig. Gen. Paulino V. Santos, chief of staff, returned here in a U. S. army amphibious landing ship after three days on the island of Anitong, in the Polillo group, where they were forced away on a flight near San Juan province.

Until the U. S. army craft struck them up the three were the guests of the island inhabitants of the island, Nalita, near San Juan. General Santos said the island was so isolated that the Duranets never had been in contact with the soldiers of the commonwealth.

General Santos praised the skill of Lt. William Lee, in charge of the Philippine army air corps, in landing his bomber on a strip of land in Anitong which had weather throught the bomber's safety when it neared the island of Obed. The plane landed from Mindanao island, Lanson province, when Lee decided to land there.

They went to Mindanao to supervise infantry troops in an unsuccessful attempt to rout Moro outlaws.

SUICIDE LEAVES MANY QUESTIONS

Twin Falls County Delegation Points to Convenient Table; Eyes Mother's Share

BOISE, Dec. 10 (Special)—Three prominent questions were made of the Twin Falls county delegation that waited at state prison for hours last night and early today were questioned by the press.

Why was Douglas Van Vlack allowed outside his death cell to kill his mother, instead of his mother entering the cell?

Why was there a small table placed conveniently in front of his cell, ideal for Van Vlack's jump to the second floor?

Why was there only one guard on the death cell side of the cell block?

More than half a dozen Twin Falls county residents, including William Savage, Kimberly; St. Cliven, Kimberly; marshal and brother of Henry O. Givens, deputy sheriff lately in charge of the Pollock county sheriff, and several others, went to the prison to see the last act in the Van Vlack drama—his execution.

Instead, they met something more dramatic as Van Vlack jumped to his death from a prison room 32 feet high.

Mother in Plot
 Talk among the crowds waiting in the prison lobby asked pointedly, although there was no answer from Douglas Van Vlack, who was escorted by Mrs. Van Vlack with her own sister as witness to the state board's permission of Warden William O. Givens for Van Vlack to step out of his narrow cell to kiss his mother a final farewell.

And both Mrs. Van Vlack and her daughter saw the auto jump up the cell stairs and onto the roof beams.

They left after that, according to Rev. Arvid Ormahl and several others. They assertedly refused to return when guards asked them to.

The answers to those riddles, the Twin Falls group predicted, should be answered by the prison board, consisting of the same three men as the pardon board—probes into the suicide.

National Car Loadings For Week Show Increase

French Police Set Net to Capture Alleged 'Brains' of 'Murder Factory of St. Cloud'

PARIS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Police throughout eastern France were mobilized today in a search for the alleged "master mind" of the "murder factory" at St. Cloud, and his blond accomplice, who slipped through a police net at Naffius, near the Swiss border, after authorities thought they had been cornered.

An official announcement at St. Cloud today said the "murder factory" was resuscitated and it was admitted they still were fugitives.

Meanwhile, police got in the last-act search of the murderer, villed, convinced that Eugene George Weidmann, confessed slayer of Jean Dekoron, 23-year-old Brooklyn dancer, and four others, had killed other victims.

The fugitive sought as the leader of the murder ring is Roger Milton, 26, a warm-blooded blond, long known to police as a trafficker in women and drugs and anything else that would bring him in. He is young blond, Mlle. Collette, described by police as a "rampant" and a peasant youth, Jean Dekoron, a woman police believe may have been the foil of master men and with Milton and the woman.

Police revealed full details of the "murder for profit" group. Milton, they said, had dream-

STUDENTS FIGHT STRINGENT RULES

Idaho University Populace Presents Petition to Dale Against Dean of Women

MOBOWO, Ida., Dec. 10 (AP)—University of Idaho students today awaited President Harrison O. Dale's action on a 10-point petition protesting "too stringent" rules put in force by Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women, following their threat to strike yesterday.

President Dale averted the walk-out when he took the petition under advisement. Student Body President John Banks also was instrumental in persuading students to seek solution of their problems by diplomatic means.

In the petition, students said Dean Miller "has perpetrated her jurisdiction and shown poor taste in public reprimands."

They asked that women's honorable organizations be allowed to employ their members and/or have an official business to love and drive cars on the campus, and that houses be given permission to set their own penalties for lock-out and date-cutting and other minor offenses.

Breakfast Dale decided to allow 100 to attend two week-night functions.

Gess "Blamed Nobody" for Suicide Leap

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 10 (AP)—Warden William Gess said today he didn't blame anybody in particular for the suicide leap of Douglas Van Vlack.

"It apparently was one of those things that just had to happen," he said.

Gess said he would take no official action until it had been determined by the board of pardons what should be done.

Blade Found in Killer's Mouth

Pardon Board Schedules Probe Into Matter For This Afternoon

BOISE, Dec. 10 (AP)—It was revealed today that Douglas Van Vlack had part of a kitchen knife stuck in his mouth when he leaped to his death from a prison room 32 feet high.

The pardon board, which today had been broken off to form a small but deadly instrument.

The discovery was made by members of the funeral party to which Van Vlack's body had been taken.

It was reported to Ada County coroner by a witness who informed the state board of pardons.

The board of pardons scheduled an investigation of the affair to begin at the penitentiary later today.

There was grave suspicion that someone had smuggled the blade to Van Vlack to aid him in a suicide attempt.

Mrs. Van Vlack was not suspected, said board members. They said no board member should make definite statements until the investigation had revealed new evidence.

Extreme bleeding at the frontal portion of the mouth brought about discovery of the blade.

Italian Withdrawal From League Will Be Announced Saturday

ROME, Dec. 10 (AP)—Italy will announce the withdrawal from the League of Nations Saturday, it was reliably reported in diplomatic quarters today.

The withdrawal, it was said, will be the first step in a complete change in foreign policy, and will be approved at an extraordinary meeting of the Italian grand council Saturday night.

Premier Benito Mussolini was said to have decided that there was no further hope under the present circumstances of reaching an understanding with Great Britain, and to have determined upon a vast program to strengthen Italy's position in the Mediterranean for the expediency of an Italo-British war.

DAVIS EXPLAINS BICYCLE RULES

Superintendent of Schools Lists 'Do's' and 'Don't's' For Riders

Supt. Homer M. Davis yesterday distributed a list of "do's" and "don't's" for bicycle riders in connection with the safety program now in progress at the junior high school.

In speaking of the list he said: "More boys and girls are being injured by bicycles every year. Many of our students have been struck by an automobile during the last few months, and some of them have been seriously injured. Many of our students do not observe proper rules when riding a bicycle. For that reason I have drawn up some good regulations to follow."

Safe bicycle riders always do these things:

- Stop at all arterial highways, stop before leaving alleys; keep to the right near the curb and ride single file in traffic; turn only at street corners, signal before turning; carry headlights that can be seen 300 feet; carry red taillights or large reflectors that can be seen 200 feet; keep bicycles well oiled and check over all parts of bicycle regularly to be sure it is safe to ride; use clips or pins whenever necessary to keep clothing from catching in the chain; use the less busy streets; keep alert and watchful for danger; leave bikes in a safe place, under lock, and spaced so as not to interfere with other bicycles.

Safe bicycle riders don't do these things:

- Don't ride on sidewalks or over curbs; don't hang on to automobiles or trucks; don't zigzag at street corners; don't ride without using the handbrakes or do other stunts; don't ride when ill, tired or nervous; don't accept rides or take foolish chances; don't run races on the streets; don't carry passengers; don't lend bicycles to younger children; don't tamper with the bicycles of others; don't ride planks or ride through narrow places.

U. S. AID AGAINST SIT-DOWNS ASKED

Manufacturers' Association Requests Protection From Strikers

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers, representing a large part of American industry, today asked for government protection against "sit-down" strikes and urged drastic modification of the national labor relations act.

The recommendations were embodied in a report on "employment relations" drafted by the association's directors. It was adopted after a series of speeches in which Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Blue Corp. and others assailed the present Wagner act as conducive to labor strife. Weir said strikes were costing America $2,000,000,000 annually.

The report proposed that the Wagner act be amended "so that no employer could be penalized for failure to deal with any labor organization" supporting strikes which seek to compel establishment of the closed shop or the check-off, on which involve illegal occupation of the property of others.

The statement also condemned general strikes, compulsory arbitration in labor disputes, contributions by unions to political funds and limited liability of unions.

Wasted Life or Wasted Money?

Every once in a while the erratic progress of city life turns up something like that aged recluse who died in New York the other day, his apparent poverty contradicted by bank accounts totaling $92,000.

There have been a good many people like that; aging misers who lived timorously and doled out their pennies, fearfully denying themselves the comforts their money could buy them and carefully hoarding useless dollars in bank or strong box.

The old man wasted that $90,000 hoard of his just as truly if he had played ducks and drakes with it like the youth in the fairy tale.

The real riddle lies in the old gentleman's retirement from life. It is what he did with his last 16 years, rather than what he did with his concealed wealth, that constitutes the mystery.

Some of us may be a little confused about what happens after we quit this world, but we are all tolerably certain that we have but one life to live here, and that it behooves us to invest it in the best way possible.

They come like insignificant things—friendships, loves, the little unrecorded human contacts that drive away life's unbearable loneliness, the chances to do things for others, the comradeship that gives one a feeling of being part of an infinite and splendid progression.

The Real Spirit of Helpfulness

Transplanting Hate

Now that Germany's plea for the return of her war-torn colonies is beginning to get a sympathetic hearing in Paris and London, the Nazi government would do well to put a silencer on some of its over-zealous followers who are all hopped up by Herr Hitler's queer racial theories.

JAW CALLS STRIKE AT FORD KANSAS CITY PLANT

PICKETS PLACED AROUND FACTORY IN LABOR FIGHT

Union Men Claim Managers Discriminate Against Organized Workers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 10 (AP)—A strike of members of the United Automobile Workers at the Ford assembly plant here was called at 9 a. m. today. Union members who were working when the strike became effective will be permitted to work today but will not return to work tomorrow, union officials said. Pickets immediately were placed around the plant. The strike call was issued by seven officers of the UAW, a committee for industrial organization affiliate. They said the company was discriminating against union members in the employment of workers. Work was being resumed gradually after a six-week shut-down that followed labor disturbances in September and October.

350 Union Men. Union officials said that of the 700 men working at the plant, 350 were members of the UAW. The plant employs about 2,500 when working full shifts.

The strike vote was taken at a meeting last night. The employees on duty arrived at the plant today in several automobile cars. Troops at the plant had been feared and 25 patrolmen, in 24 automobiles, were massed at the plant.

No pickets were on duty when the workers entered. Union officials said, however, that within 15 minutes after the strike was called the plant was surrounded by men who had been waiting at union headquarters for the call.

The strike call had been expected for several days and full preparations had been made by the union. A head picket was set up near the plant.

Picket Line. Picket lines were placed around the plant, and union men were seen talking to men who were entering the plant.

Britons Hope 1937 'Peace Mission' to Reich Will Fare Better Than Parallel Trip in 1912

By MILTON BRONNER (NKA Service)

LONDON—Englishmen, remembering their country's story for the past quarter of a century, are anxiously asking themselves whether the recent mission of Viscount Halifax to Germany will be the prelude to the re-employment of workers.

Then, under a Kaiser, as now under a dictator, Germany was in a dangerous mood and had all Europe in a tension.

Then, as now, Germany, herself allied with strong military powers, was anxious to have England isolate herself. In 1912 Germany's allies were Austria-Hungary and Italy.

SEAPLANES SEEN AS AID TO TRADE

Well-Rounded Passenger Service May Coordinate Ships, Aircraft

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States face another important evolution in its foreign trade and merchant marine with the development of great flying boats, believes W. H. Coverdale, international authority on transportation.

He explained that the ocean vessel was in no danger of being replaced, but that a well-rounded transportation service would coordinate planes and ships, which would be improved and made more economical to use.

New Trade Possibilities Seen Overseas Flying in Coverdale's opinion, would become a definite stimulus to the merchant marine, and if it built on a solid foundation, holds forth tremendous possibilities for travel and trade expansion throughout the world.

When asked to describe a base on which a flying boat, the Curtiss (Atlantic) can be most economically built, Coverdale pointed to the existing steamship services operating over the American flag to virtually all the countries in Europe.

He said today in our merchant marine, "he said, "the most logical route to build is to build flying services across the Atlantic, and supplementary services operating in conjunction with American flag steamships flying between European ports.

JAPANESE ARMY LAYS SIEGE TO CITY OF NANKING

CHINESE PUT UP HARD RESISTANCE AGAINST NIPPONS

American Embassy Officials Propose 3-Day Truce to Save Lives, Property

By WELDON JAMES NANKING, Dec. 10 (U.P.—6 p. m. 8 a. m. M.B.T.) by radio to Shanghai.—The Japanese army laid siege to Nanking tonight from three sides. Furious fighting was in progress in every direction except in the north- and west- eastern sections near the Yangtze river.

The roar of the big guns grew louder and louder. Grenades and bombs were raining inside the city while Chinese anti-aircraft batteries and machine gunners atop the wall kept up a constant fire. Earlier attacks by the Japanese before heavy reinforcements were brought up, had been repulsed. American wirelesses in the neighborhood of this correspondent, then in Hsiao-kwan, across the Yangtze, that the Chinese were putting up heroic resistance.

Proposed Truce
American embassy officials proposed a three-day truce in order to save lives and property. Embassy attaches transmitted to the Chinese, through United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson at Hankow, the Japanese and the international committee a further humanitarian proposal.

During the three day truce the Japanese would be required to halt the offensive and the Chinese would be asked to withdraw their troops. Airplane bombs fell near the United States gunboat Fantasy of the Yangtze river patrol as it prepared to leave the river and retire to a position of comparative safety.

Nine Fires Burning
Nine high fires were burning in the northern section of the city. Half of Nanking was covered by blanket of smoke.

Chinese anti-aircraft batteries filled the sky with exploding shells the windows of the United States embassy. Japanese planes flew over the embassy compound and the "neutral zone" in the northeast section.

The planes went into power dives to drop bombs on these troops. Foreign observers estimated that scores were killed.

The Chinese appeared well prepared for further Japanese attacks. Machine gun emplacements were located at various points along the 32-mile long wall.

Boy Scout Heroism Revealed In Letter to Local Leader

Heroism of Boy Scouts in China was revealed here this afternoon with receipt of a letter from Scout Wang Tai, a student at the Catholic school located in Wuchang, Hpeih, China. The letter was received here by Amy Frederick, executive of the Snake river area council.

The letter, written in English, was mailed from Hankow and also bore the postmark of Canton. It was posted Nov. 6, taking one month to the day to arrive in Twin Falls.

Time of Danger
Enclosed in the letter was a picture of a Boy Scout aiding a young Chinese girl who had been wounded. The picture clearly shows that one leg of the unfortunate girl is missing—blown off just below the knee.

"These are times of adventure and danger for the Boy Scouts," Wang Tai writes. "The air raids have caused the killing and wounding of many thousands of poor, helpless people. After these raids the older Scouts go to the scene of the bombing with stretchers (stretchers) and first aid kits and have good chances to carry out the second oath of our promise—'to help other people at all times.' All of us in some way or another, visiting the hospitals with comforts for the wounded and writing letters for them.

All Boy Scouts
"I am sending you this letter because we are all Boy Scouts. We wear same Baden Powell uniform salute with three fingers and have exactly the same heart of saving mankind. I am 16 years old and a member of the Scout patrol of the last groups of the 787 troop of Chinese Boy Scouts," Wang Tai writes.

"This fine work being accomplished by the Red Cross is also told in the letter from the youth."

"But they need money or medicines and I am asking you to do a good turn by sending some to central China," he wrote.

This is the first private country of the Pacific Northwest. Ben Thompson is very favorably impressed with Sun Valley, deeming it one of the best spots in the country, and he should know, for it was only about four years ago that he quit romping around the United States as a first-class alumnus and downhill runner. Then, too, he has served as chief guide at Ranier and Mount Baker, was for some time the world sports director at Ranier. Aside from that, he has done much except graduate from university, he is a newspaper reporter, and he sports cartoons for the Hearst paper.

Manager Arrives to Assume Reins at New Challenger Inn
SUN VALLEY, Dec. 10 (Special)—Max Dean has decided to leave Sun Valley to take over the management of the new Challenger Inn. Ben Thompson has been in and around Sun Valley for the last couple of days. Ben is the vice president of the Anderson Thompson Ski company of Seattle, and a very interesting citizen on the whole. One of his interests in this visit to Sun Valley was to develop interest in the new lamination at which his company is manufacturing. Thompson's last visit to Sun Valley was in a more official capacity when last spring he came to lay out the courses for the downhill and alumnus races in the national open championship meet, for he is the official course setter for the Pacific Northwest Ski association. Ben is very favorably impressed with Sun Valley, deeming it one of the best spots in the country, and he should know, for it was only about four years ago that he quit romping around the United States as a first-class alumnus and downhill runner. Then, too, he has served as chief guide at Ranier and Mount Baker, was for some time the world sports director at Ranier. THE FISHER IS THE ONE ANIMAL THAT IS NOT AFFECTED BY PORCUPINE QUILLS. ALMOST EVERY MATURE FISHER CARRIES A NUMBER OF QUILLS IN HIS PELT.

One of the fisher's chief items of diet is porcupine flesh, and skilled though he is in dispatching porcupines, seldom does he escape entirely from the sharp, protecting quills. Many old-time trappers of the north have never seen a fisher, whose pelt did not contain at least a few.

What is Yule Without Cookies?

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX Everyone is supposed to like a child at Christmas. And as all children dote on cookies, cookies belong in the Christmas picture. As presents they are always welcome. Packaged in boxes that will be useful after the cookies have been eaten, in baskets that will hold sewing accessories and in almost any kind of useful container, they become even more welcome and express your holiday good will in a practical and friendly manner.
