GRAND JURY PROBE OF PENITENTIARY ASKED

'Provisional China Government' Proclaimed

Japanese Announce New Ruling Body to Administer Control

No "President" Named as Old Five-Barred Flag Replaces Red and Blue Banner

PEIPING, Dec. 14 (U.P.)—Japanese authorities and Chinese cooperating with them today proclaimed a "provisional government of the Republic of China" and advanced it as the new ruling body of the country.

It was announced that the "government" would exert authority in all areas from which Chinese government troops had been driven and would "assume responsibility" in all affairs that might arise between China and foreign governments.

The proclamation was issued at 11 a. m. Foreign embassies were not immediately notified formally, but since dawn the old five-barred Chinese republican flag had been flying on official buildings.

This flag had been supplanted by the red and blue flags of the present day.

No New "President" For the present there was no effort made to name a "president" or other chief executive. The "government" was being operated by councils for the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the regime, with ministries of administration, public safety, education, justice and reconstruction functioning under them.

The capital of the "provisional" or "temporary" republic purports to be Peiping, now renamed Peking as it was in the days of the Manchurian emperors, by its Japanese conquerors.

There have been long conferences by night between Japanese and pro-Japanese Chinese officials here, under the sponsorship of a specially organized military department.

Difficultly Encountered There seemed to be some difficulty in reconciling the differences between the Japanese and the Chinese in the regime. It was forecast that if the central government came to terms with the northern regime, the Japanese would seek to perpetuate the northern regime as having complete control of northern provinces.

ITALY AWAILS ACTION ROME, Dec. 14—Italy will await United States action in the Japanese attack on American ships in the Yangtze before deciding what to do about Sanjo Shandi, Italian war correspondent who was one of the known dead, it was indicated today.

Cities Snowbound as Cold Wave Sweeps Nation

Blocked streets and highways, buried automobiles and scenes of winter's beauty marked the sweep of a cold wave across the United States, bringing sub-zero temperatures and heavy snows to northern states. In the Great Lakes area and New England, falls of eight to 24 inches were piled into huge drifts by a sharp wind. Even the Deep South suffered as thermometers dropped to near-zero levels, endangering crops. City and highway travel was slowed almost to a standstill in many districts. Typical of scenes in northern states was this above, of snowbound Buffalo, N. Y., where a 3-foot snow buried the city, stalled motor cars and paralyzed business. Some drifts were 30 feet thick. See story page 10, column one.

Workers Recover Body of Third Snow Slide Victim

Harold Brown, 24, Bellevue, Found Beneath Heavy Debris

MULDOON, Dec. 14 (Special)—The body of the last of three victims of a giant snowslide was found today shortly before 6 a. m. by searchers who had hunted all night. The body was that of Harold Brown, 24, Bellevue. Working throughout the night in the glare of carbide lamps, the rescue workers finally managed to break through debris and piled snow to find the youth's body.

Other victims of the slide which roared down a precipitous mountain slope near the Garfield Silver and Lead company's mine were Leonard Gravati, 26, Carey, and Ward Daggett, 42, Nampa. Bodies of both were found Sunday.

Funeral services for Gravati were held at 2 p. m. today at the Carey L. D. church. Rites for Brown were being arranged by members of his family this afternoon. He is survived by his parents and seven brothers and sisters.

The long hunt for Brown's body was assisted when the rescue crew managed to uncover and repair the "bulldozer" tractor with which the three men had been clearing snow from the mine road. The rescuers used the tractor to clear away rocks, trees and the new snow and earth covering Brown's body.

Prater Named Warden to Succeed Gess as Head of State's Prison at Boise

Successor for Prater Chosen; Name Withheld

Selection Depends on Sheriff's Next Move

Named Warden

Although Sheriff E. F. Prater had not yet definitely accepted the post as warden of the Idaho state prison this afternoon, the Twin Falls board of county commissioners today announced that his successor here has been decided upon if Sheriff Prater elects to take the stormy position at Boise.

Name of Prater's successor, however, will not be made public until the sheriff "shall arrive at a decision," Chairman James L. Barnes said.

Prater was appointed yesterday by Attorney General J. W. Taylor and Secretary of State Ira H. Masters, forming a majority of the state prison board. Governor Barzilla Clark has refused to act in the controversy arising over Douglas Van Vleck's suicide.

The joint statement issued by County Board Chairman E. Hart and Robert Rayli this afternoon said:

Has Picked Successor "The board of county commissioners today announced that Sheriff Prater shall arrive at a decision as to what action he will take, and submit his resignation from the office as sheriff of Twin Falls county."

"In case he decides to accept, the board has already decided on the individual it will appoint in the sheriff's place. However, no official action has been taken and no publicity will be given as to whom the appointee will be until such time as Sheriff Prater shall arrive at a decision as to what action he will take, and submit his resignation from the office as sheriff of Twin Falls county."

Prater has served here since 1928 and in elections since that time has never been crowded in his race to retain his office.

All told, Prater has had approximately 10 years' experience as a police officer. From 1922 to 1929 he was a deputy under the late Sheriff M. E. Finch. He succeeded Finch in 1928.

Numbered among the notorious cases he has handled during his career are the cases of the late Sheriff M. E. Finch in 1928.

Farm Leader Leads Wallace Opposition CHICAGO, Dec. 14 (U.P.)—President Edward A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation led his organization today on a course in Chicago to oppose the Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace in regard to pending farm legislation.

O'Neal aroused tense discussion among the 3,000 agricultural leaders attending a three-day conference when he said that the federation had "fought with all its power to have amended so it would be workable" the major farm bill now before the senate.

Best Peace Officer In speaking of Prater's appointment, Mayor Chapin termed the sheriff as "the best peace officer this county ever had."

"Prater is the best peace officer this county ever had and is respectively among the best in Idaho," Mayor Chapin said. "What is a (continued on Page 3, Column 2)

U. S. REFUSES TO WITHDRAW SHIPS SHANGHAI, Dec. 14 (U.P.)—Admiral Harry E. Yarnall, commanding the United States fleet in China, declared emphatically today that the United States would ignore any suggestion that it remove its ships for safety, and that the navy would stay as long as is necessary to protect American life and property.

A Japanese navy spokesman had said previously that the United States and Britain had been warned that it would be advisable to withdraw their ships for safety's sake. Later, through the Dornier News agency, correspondence was asked to withdraw the statement and kill all references to it.

Denise Statement Admiral Yarnall today announced "With reference to a reported statement by a Japanese naval officer that American naval vessels proceeding to the Yangtze river at the request of Japanese authorities, the commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet denies any suggestion that it remove its ships for safety, and that the navy would stay as long as is necessary to protect American life and property."

It would not have been approved if it had been made. Vessels of the United States navy now in the Yangtze will remain there for the protection of United States nationals as long as the necessity exists. The United States navy is not going to bring survivors of the U. S. S. Panay to Shanghai at any other vessel is available. She will return here (continued on Page 3, Column 2)

Lighted Decorations Bring Christmas Spirit

If you want your holiday home to glow as though it belonged on a Christmas card, it will light within and without. Somewhere has no place in the gayest season of the year. That's why the Evening Times and the Twin Falls News are offering you $50 in cash prizes in the 1937 Christmas home lighting contest. There's no surer way to bring the Christmas spirit to Twin Falls than to make the city glow with Yule lights on large and small residences. Eight cash prizes await householders who decorated this season—$25 grand prize, $15 second award, $10 for third and five $1 prizes. Elaborate nature of the display, and expensive lighting arrangements, aren't necessarily decisive the winners. A clever idea using inexpensive lights stands just as much chance. Decorations must be exterior and visible from the street. Interior lighting, also visible from the street, will help the general effect. The Times and News are sponsoring the contest with cooperation of the Twentieth Century club, which will aid in the judging. The club has been conducting the contests for the past few years in conjunction with the Red Knight club, which aids in the decorations. The contest is open to all residents of the city. If you're a householder anywhere within the city limits, clip the entry coupon printed elsewhere in today's Evening Times, and mail or bring it to "Yule" news offices. Entrance deadline is Dec. 20 at 6 p. m. Thereafter, your decorations should be kept lighted each night until 10 p. m. to permit judging between that time and New Year's. The principal idea in outside Christmas lighting is to make the most of your house. Women with imagination no longer string colored bulbs on a front yard and call it Christmas. They are mixing imagination with lighting—and the result is as charming as a Walt Disney version of Christmas. If you live in a house with gables, try outlining the gables and eaves with lighted festoons. Strings of outdoor lights are used for this purpose, and you will, the wiring of the lamps can be concealed by evergreen roping. If you live in a house to light a whole house is by hiding a few flood lights behind shrubbery, and directing them toward the house, whose windows are made gay with holly wreaths. Holly wreaths are significant as well as beautiful when placed in a strategic position. They represent the Trinity. The center of the triangular wreath is round, signifying the interminable circle of eternity. Bringing out the beauty of your house as a decorative scheme applies to the inside as well as to the outside. A built-in bookshelf is a small table in the hall or living room, or a mantle can be made a Christmas beauty spot. You'll want a tree, of course—whether there are children in your house or not—and you might try lighting it with a combination of amber, yellow, and white bulbs. The effect is beautiful, and a pleasing contrast from the combination of all the rainbow hues used for so many years. The tree must be used for a while; so that it can be seen from the outside and can increase the beauty of your exterior decorations. Or you might prefer a snow-white tree lighted with all blue bulbs and hung with real pine cones which have been silvered you can easily do it yourself! With aluminum spray the polka of which represent the Trinity. The center of the triangular wreath is round, signifying the interminable circle of eternity. Bringing out the beauty of your house as a decorative scheme applies to the inside as well as to the outside. A built-in bookshelf is a small table in the hall or living room, or a mantle can be made a Christmas beauty spot.

JURY PROBE OF PRISON SOUGHT

Gess' Attorneys Ask For State Investigation of Penitentiary

The prison in some cases else's care until accounting had been rendered for men and materials under his supervision.

There was no excitement at the prison. Routine duty was carried on as if nothing had happened. Gess went into the yard for the morning inspection and attending to minor office duties.

He said he and his wife were all packed and ready to go, the moment he got a receipt for the money which would effectually clear him out under his bond.

Refuses Receipt The board of prisoners refused to give such a receipt, and cited the contract of the board's attorney, Karl Evans, director of short-account, was at the prison today, continuing a check of supplies and books in order to turn over an itemized list to Gess' successor.

There is no certainty, it was revealed today, that Prater will accept the post. He was ready to take it last night, but when Gess refused, he went to Twin Falls to "talk it over with the wife."

Governor Clark applauded Gess for his stand, and said he didn't think Prater had been properly removed from office. The governor was not in favor of the investigation which followed the Van Vlack death here.

Rules Not Enforced "The board can't just walk around with a red-headed geyser (prison board secretary) and stand down anywhere for meetings," he said. "I didn't call any meeting. They just walked into my office and took a solo."

The board maintained that Gess had not enforced the rules of the institution, and said the absence of proper guarding of the death cell was responsible for Van Vlack's obtaining two razor blades.

The attorney-general said, "there has been no report of a financial report made concerning the institution, and affairs there are muddled."

SUCCESSOR FOR PRATER NAMED

Name Withheld Until Sheriff Decides Whether to Take Post as Warden

Considered an expert marksman, Sheriff Prater has served as head of the Idaho Sheriffs and Police Officers' association, his ability to talk the bull eye back to the time he served with the Oklahoma state militia almost 30 years ago. While a member of that body he attended the national rifle shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio and won second place in national competition.

COUNCIL PRAISES SHERIFF PRATER

City Chiefs See State as Beneficiary in Choice of New Warden

For the same time Councilman W. K. Taylor said he was gratified that Prater's ability had been recognized.

Law to County Councilman O. P. Hillier, who is also police commissioner, expressed the feeling that the move would be a loss to the county.

"He is a very efficient officer and this move will prove an extreme loss to the county. He is a true friend," Avanti said.

Prater was described as a "fine fellow" by Councilman Paul Taylor, 212 S. 2nd, who said he and he wife to lose him. He is a fine fellow and a very good officer," Taylor said.

Seen Today

Friends congratulating Sheriff E. F. Prater on his appointment as state prison warden, although the news was delayed a week, grin accepted the congratulations with a bit of self-pending time. Warden Gess finally received his self-fulfilling wish of driving small coupe and stretching his neck several ways in effort to catch sight of light above center of intersection. Spectators making grimaces as truck full of beet pipes passes by. Man still trying to find out where the big fire, murders, etc. were Sunday after all those sirens screaming (but it was just toy collection drive). And among boys taking repair his own toys for him instead of giving them to somebody else.

HOUSING SURVEY UNDERWAY SOON

Inadequate Dwellings Will Be Tabulated; Council Approves

A housing survey, designed to determine the exact number of persons residing in inadequate dwellings as well as the number of such dwellings, will get underway in Twin Falls early in January, it was announced this afternoon by the American Citizens Protective association.

Permitting to conduct such a survey was given McDougall by the city council at regular meeting last night. Surveys have been conducted in Burley and Teton and will get underway in Rupert today.

McDougall told councilmen. The local survey will start at completion of the work in Rupert.

Data derived from such a survey will go toward an attempt to obtain federal funds, through the United States housing act, to do away with every inadequate home in Idaho.

A preliminary estimate by the leader shows between 400 and 500 families in Twin Falls are now residing in inadequate buildings.

If the association is successful in obtaining federal funds, McDougall pointed out, it will be necessary for local residents to have resided here at least five years before they will be allowed to participate.

"Such a rule will tend to avoid an influx of outside residents should the program contemplated should be successful," McDougall said.

Department Head To Visit Chapter

Jack Musser, Boise, commander of Idaho department, Disabled American Veterans, is to speak this evening at a meeting of the local Striving chapter and its auxiliary at Legion Memorial hall.

MOTHER CLEARED IN DEATH CHARGE

Mrs. Anna McDole Freed in Connection With Passing Of Own Daughter

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14 (UP)—Mrs. Anna McDole, mother of six, was at liberty today after remaining three days in jail under suspicion of having caused the death of her daughter Eileen, 15, who was an epileptic.

The district attorney's office said there was not sufficient evidence for prosecution. Coincidentally, it was indicated the girl may have died a natural death despite a coroner's jury verdict that she died of strychnine poisoning.

The county chemist told police that strychnine found in her stomach was not sufficient to have caused death. He said that a tonic the mother had been giving the girl contained a derivative of strychnine and this might have accounted for traces of the poison.

Eileen was found dead in bed Oct. 31.

Names Asked For Yuletide Aid Projects

Seeking to make sure that no local family goes without Christmas cheer, the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce today appealed for lists of names of needy persons.

Kindly-hearted neighbors have been turning in names for the past week, but more complete lists are needed to make sure no child or family is missed.

The youngsters will be taken care of with toys by the Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas project, by which more than 2,500 old toys have been collected. These are being repaired by city firemen.

The underprivileged families will be cared for by other agencies, including Salvation Army, civic clubs, women's groups, high school and junior high students and fraternal organizations. The chamber will act as a clearing house for these organizations, to prevent duplication and to see that Christmas baskets are spread as widely as possible.

GOAT

It takes a policeman to smother a goat. And so yesterday a brown goat was tied to a stake on the street from the police station.

It was brought into the station by Tom Carroll who reported finding the animal "wandering around."

Because a goat is a goat, police decided to tie it outside. As last report the animal had been returned home.

Underdog Takes 3 of First 4 Rounds in Bruising Go

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (U.P.)—Methodical Max Schmeling, as deliberate as a farmer blasting stumps from a field, detonated one charge of right hand dynamite after another on Harry Thomas' chin last night to clear the stout Minnesotan boy from the road to the heavyweight title.

A crowd of 15,125 that paid $74,103.23 to see Maxie oil up his rusty ring weapons on a practice target, roared its approval when Referee Art Donovan humanely stopped the fight near the end of the eighth round. Thomas had been floored six times.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (U.P.)—Maxie Schmeling, a former college football player for Germany, again after falling through Harry Thomas, ragged heavyweight from Minnesota in a "warm-up" bout before his championship battle next summer.

Max Schmeling, veteran German title contender, leaves to Germany for a vacation after falling through Harry Thomas, ragged heavyweight from Minnesota in a "warm-up" bout before his championship battle next summer.

As they came out for the eighth, Schmeling exploded another right to the chin that sent Thomas sprawling to both knees. But he was up chasing Maxie before the count reached two. Another chopping right topped him a second time, but after the fifth straight knockdown he only managed to stagger to his feet.

Veteran Star Leads Winter Brigade on Move to Nassau Street
By STUART CAMERON
CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 14 (U.P.)—Johnny Revolta, Chicago professional, was in the pilot house today as the nation's tournament brigade moved towards Nassau and the second event of the winter golf campaign.

Revolta had started his final round with an aggregate of 208. This was one stroke under Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-On-Delaware, Pa., and Dick Metz of Chicago. Revolta, in the final round, passed the turn in 18, while Thomson and Metz, preceding him, had posted 37 and 36, respectively. Coming back, however, Revolta trapped second shots at the 11th and 12th, then birdied the 15th. A "bogey" nibbed at the 16th cost him another stroke, and the same weapon took further toll at 17. After smashing out two long woods he put his "bogey" nibbed at the 16th cost him another stroke, and the same weapon took further toll at 17.

Rupert Resident Paid Last Rite

RUPERT, Dec. 14 (Special) Funeral services for Harlow Redfield Hoopes who died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edna Hoopes, near Rupert were conducted Friday in the first ward L. D. Gardner chapel.

Other speakers were John W. Hyman, Dean D. Hammond, R. C. May, president of the Methodist church and Herman A. Johnson. The grave in the Rupert cemetery, where, under the direction of the Goodman mortuary, the body was laid to rest, was dedicated by John T. Sparks.

Music was furnished by Mrs. A. C. O'Connell, Zillah Humphries and Mrs. George Catmull who sang "O My Father," "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." A number of her children were present. Mrs. Duffin sang "Perfect Day."

Mrs. Hoopes was born in Rupert, Idaho, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoopes. She was married to Harlow Redfield Hoopes in 1908. She was a member of the Methodist church and was a devoted mother and wife.

Strikes to Spare

By FRED STONE

A very fine exhibition of how this game should never be played was put on by the Barnard Astor team and Dell's Cigar store.

All take part of that back—Call Fargo did knock those pins for a 333 total, the best for both teams.

Walt Riggert got the best single game 202. But Walt really made some good errors.

Leo McCracken got himself a turkey. John Fox didn't get so hot. Walker Bertrich was the great—eight splits his bowleg.

Charley Bruggemann was tops for the cigar store boys with 811. N. O. Johnson and Rolly Jones cooled off during the night. And how! Errors plentiful for both. Art Bringer and Bill McDonald got one double each.

In the City league, Twin Falls Lumber took the odd game from Kimberly.

John Klimes and Mike Riicks tied for high on their team.

Bill Smith got the best single game for the Lumber crew, 190. Cheney, a new bowler did a very good job for his first time.

Halter couldn't get started.

Leslie Denton was top bowler for both teams with 815. His first game of 191 was best for both squads. He ended it with five strikes in a row.

Doubles were rather hard to get for all, but in both leagues. Must have gotten most of the strikes out of the pins in that doubles tournament Sunday.

CLOCK IDEA UPSET

PHILADELPHIA JUP—Electric clocks "will hardly ever come into general use and will always be a costly novelty for those who desire them." Louis Speller told the Franklin Institute—back in May, 1882.

WHAT D'YA MEAN "NEVERSHED," HARRY?

All right, it's just this—Mr. Vance is right in this respect: that most trees that are pecked light in care do "heat" and lose their needles between Christmas and New Year. But our "NEVERSHED" come from the Glacier National Park where the nights have been cold for several weeks and then the tree is cut—and the needles seem to be set.

We truck them down before the snow closes the roads in the rough mountain country of Montana and so they are really fresh and green when they arrive here. Another reason we get them from Glacier National Park is that we will round tree up there—not a one sided one or what we call a "wall-model".

I inform my men to sell everyone who comes to our store a perfect tree. It's not the profit we are after—it's getting you folks into and through the most wonderful merchandise market of which we are very proud and which you folks have helped to build.

We have on display one of last year's trees—dry as tinder but the needles still hang on. Seeing is believing.
