Senate Hurries Work on Administration Farm Act

IN THE DAY'S PARADE Halts Plan

Sen. Charles McNary, senate minority leader, today had ended proposed plans for a coalition of Republicans and Democrats to "lend down" the New Deal. He said he was "not impressed" by a proposed "address" story page seven, column one.

Webbed Toes

Two webbed toes on her left foot constitute one claim of 18-year-old Freulona Mary Gray, sister of Indianapolis, to the $50,000 estate of the late John H. Geraghty of Chicago. The girl, shown as she testifies in a Chicago court, claimed Geraghty had webbed toes and offered to exhibit here to prove he is his natural daughter. She was reared by Geraghty's former wife, but lacks records to prove relationship or adoption.

Plot Feared

Nationalist supporters today feared a plot that "would eliminate" planned to assassinate the leader, Gen. Francisco Franco, would be the closing of the frontier. See story page nine, column one.

Chiefs Doubt Bill Passage By Christmas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—The senate set to work today on the farm bill with the admonition of Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley that unless it approves the measure today it is doubtful a complete farm measure can be sent to the White House before Christmas.

Another night session was in prospect. After discussing remarks of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace concerning a trend toward fascism in crop control legislation, the senate defeated 56 to 20 a proposal by Sen. Joseph Lee, D. Okla., to substitute a demerit allotment plan for the cotton section of the bill pegging the domestic cotton price at 20 cents a pound. Wallace's remarks had been viewed by some senators as opposing such measures as the Lee amendment.

Grateful for Warning "I am grateful to the secretary of agriculture for the warning he is giving the country," Sen. Joseph W. Bailey, D. N. C., said. "I am anxious that while not long ago there was comment on the alleged radicalism of Secretary Wallace the secretary is now warning us. I am happy to join with the senate in congratulating him for his warning. And I think the warning comes from the man it should come from."

President William Howard Taft's influence in the opposition of the wage-hour bill when he called on the house of representatives to reconvene the administration measure because "it is objectionable to the membership of the federal reserve board" telegram was sent to every member of the house which last night defeated an effort to substitute the Federal Reserve wage-hour bill for one drafted by the house labor committee.

Add Amendments The house banking and currency committee added several amendments and then reported favorably the housing bill recommended by the committee. It also reported favorably the bill to amend the Federal Reserve Act, which would take up the bill Saturday. Committee amendments to the bill included: Reinstatement of the FHA's authority to insure loans up to $10,000 for repairs; provision for insurance (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Late FLASHES REPORT CONTINUED WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today announced that official dispatches from American government representatives on the subject of the German submarine reports that the gunboat was machine gunned by the British surface vessels after the ship had been bombed from the air.

LOYALISTS CLAIM VICTORY PARIS, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—The first important loyalist victory in the Spanish government today with a rapier-like thrust at the Argon front which isolated the nationalist base at Teruel by cutting the Naragosa highway and railroad.

SUICIDE PRISONER SEEN BOISE, Ida., Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Attorney-General J. W. Taylor said today that the county grand jury would investigate circumstances surrounding the death of Van Vlack to make it a leap the night of his scheduled execution.

CONSPIRACY SEEN TO ASSASSINATE GENERAL FRANCO

Reported 'Foreign Element' Plans Attack to Kill Nationalist Head

LONDON, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Reports were published here today that the closing of frontiers by Spanish nationalist authorities had been due to a "vast conspiracy by foreign elements" to attack the nationalists and assassinate Generalissimo Francisco Franco, their leader.

Both the Exchange Telegraph and the Daily Mail received the report from their Lisbon correspondents. There were no details and no explanation of the manner in which "foreign" elements might attack nationalist territory which borders on France and Portugal. But it was evident that something was happening in Spain that might again make the Spanish civil war a matter for world interest.

SPUDMEN GIVEN FULL DIVERSION

South Idaho Producers Will Be Allowed Total Amount Applied For

South central and Twin Falls county potato growers will be allowed to divert the full amount for which they applied under the federal apud diversion plan for livestock. It was announced here today by Harvey S. Hale, county agent.

Granting of the full applications, he said, comes as a result of the fact that the Idaho allotment for stock feed has not yet been filled. The Idaho quota was 158,000,000 pounds, or 2,800,000 bushels.

When the state's allotment is exhausted, indications now point to the fact that an additional quota will be granted because the national allocation for stock feeding has not been completely taken. Word that an additional allotment loans came from J. W. Barber, Pocatello, in charge of the diversion plan.

Under the program, growers will receive 25 cents a hundred pounds for diverted apud, which must be No. 2 or better in grade.

NO HANBY ACTION LONDON, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Britain plans no hasty action in reinforcing her eastern fleet, but if circumstances permit might send ships, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was said reliably today to have informed Washington.

Victims and Scene of Snowslide

These exclusive Evening Times photos are the first published pictures of the victims and the scene of the disastrous snowslide at the Garfield Lead and Silver company mine near Madson. Top, the crew and chief owners of the mine, including two of the three men killed in the slide. Second from left, Harold Brown, 34, Bellevue, whose body was last to be found. Ward Daggett, 42, Nampa, another victim, is standing in front of the tractor, hands partially in trouser pockets. Leonard Gravit, third man killed, is not in the picture. Below, the mine headquarters building and in background the road which the slide caught them. Tractor in foreground is the machine the trio was using, said to the mine operators by Howard-Cooper Corp. Twin Falls. It was pulled 1,000 feet by the slide, but was still running after crash, according to evidence taken by rescuers. The machine was dashed and rolled to piecemeal through to Brown's body.

Gess Still Remains In Charge of Prison

Warden "Stands on Rights" of Staying Until Check is Made of Supplies, Materials

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Warden William Gess—still standing "on his rights," as he put it—remained today in charge of the Idaho state penitentiary.

He reaffirmed his intention not to move out until a check of supplies, materials and cash on hand had been completed and a receipt in full handed to him.

At the statehouse, it was said that Attorney-General J. W. Taylor intended to ask the state supreme court to take original jurisdiction in the matter and issue a writ of mandamus ordering Gess to remove himself.

No Action Seen It was understood, however, that Taylor would not take this action unless it became imperative to remove the warden.

Tuesday, Taylor gave Gess 24 hours to leave the prison, but he insisted that he be cleared out under his bond.

SHOTS FIRED AS FORD MEN PASS THROUGH PICKETS

Unionists Hurl Bricks at Carloads of Workers in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Shots were fired today from automobiles carrying workers to the Ford assembly plant in reply to barrages of bricks hurled at motor car caravans allegedly by members of or sympathizers with the United Automobile Workers who called a strike at the plant.

No one was reported hurt in the exchange of shots and bricks. Police arrested 12 UAW men for questioning in the brick-hurling incidents and began an investigation of the shootings. The union men charged that Ford service workers accompanying the employes as bodyguards, fired the shots.

It was the first outbreak of violence at the plant since the strike was called. The union men and children pickets had tried humorously with the police as an attempt to maintain the picket line. About 200 workers had been arrested and released.

N. Y. SALESGIRLS START PICKETING

250 Wear Plaques Wreathed in Holly—in Front of Five-and-Ten Store

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Salesgirls with pickets wreathed in holly picketed a Woolworth five-and-ten cent store today as the opening move of a strike which union officials said would extend to all parts of the city in New York.

The developments came a few hours after the Countess Huguette-Revillon, the former Barbara Hutton, Woolworth heiress, sailed for Europe. She arrived from England on Tuesday, saying at that time she was here for the Christmas holidays. She gave no reason for her abrupt departure.

A spokesman for the Woolworth company denied that any employees had walked out or that business had been interrupted.

Miss Michelson said the union had doubled its demands from the 10 per cent increase to 20 per cent and now wanted a 40-hour week.

WELCOME HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Only three women were among those who crowded around Joliet Taylor when he stepped from an airplane early today. They were satisfied with a handshake, Taylor practically was mobbed by women in the car and abroad on the trip from which he just returned.

CHECK TYLER, Tex., Dec. 16 (U.P.)—An old man whom she had met when he said that he was hungry and broke, left Mrs. Louis Mirard, wife of a cafe proprietor, expecting to find him today. Her banker was trying to learn if a $5,000 check which the old man left under his plate, was good. It was drawn on a New York bank.

Reparation for Panay's Sinking Seen in Recall

REAR ADMIRAL MITSUNAMI MAY BE TAKEN FROM POST

By EDWARD J. BEATTIE SHANGHAI, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Rear Admiral Tezoz Mitsunami, chief of aerial operations of the Japanese forces in China, was ordered home today in Japan's first move to make reparation for her aviators' attack on the United States gunboat Panay and three Standard Oil steamships.

Admiral Mitsunami was ordered to return to Tokyo at once, and it was understood that on his arrival he would be removed formally from his post, one of the most important in the entire Japanese military set-up.

The recall of the admiral was frankly described as a move, the first, in pursuance of the Japanese government's pledge to the United States, to punish the men responsible for the attack.

There was interest here on what might happen to any other individuals who might be penalized not only for the Panay attack but for attacks on British warships which have caused in Great Britain anger much hotter than that of Americans.

Private Japanese sources say that Mitsunami's recall is a "disappointment" with a "swallow" would be almost automatic for men involved.

Sent Home in Disgrace A Japanese navy spokesman disclosed that some pilots, involved in previous attacks on foreigners, had been sent home "in disgrace" and that others had been "disgraced" published.

It was assumed that some of these men might not be sent, either. Survivors of the attack on the Panay and the Standard Oil ships were on their way down the Yangtze River to Hankow, where they were recovering from wounds received in the attack. Jim Marshall, Seattle, writer for Collier's weekly, suffered wounds from bomb fragments to the neck, chest, shoulder and abdomen, and an operation was planned. His temperature was 102.4.

Blame Assailed C. O. Vinay, Honolulu, Va., employed by the British-American Tobacco company, was reported to be "fairly comfortable at the country house."

Viper principal wound was in the hand and surgeons feared that a tendon had been severed.

John L. Hodges, Etowah, Ala., storekeeper of the Panay, was the third of the survivors brought here. His head was gashed and his leg lacerated. But a reported to Admiral Harry E. Yarnall, commander-in-chief of the American navy in Chinese waters, and remained aboard (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

Autograph WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Martin W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, today received an autographed photograph from Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., chairman of the senate rail inquiry committee. Wheeler said he was "glad to see you" and "wishes you would like one."

STATE'S AUDITOR STILL UNWORRIED Parsons Says Purchase of Machine is Budgeted Into Appropriation

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 16 (U.P.)—State Auditor Harry C. Parsons remained unworried today by charges that he had overdrawn his 1934-35 appropriation by the purchase of a $2,000 bookkeeping machine.

The charges were made by F. C. O'Malley, former head of the state insurance fund, who was ousted when the supreme court concluded that he had overdrawn his own allotment of governmental funds.

O'Malley noted that the attorney-general intimated disqualification proceedings against Parsons.

Parsons said the attorney-general would not, and explained that the bookkeeping machine had been budgeted into the next biennium's appropriation, similar to the procedure followed when the state purchase license plates.

SHERIFF'S MOVE UNCERTAIN HERE Prater Makes No Decision To Announce; Friends See Rejection

Sheriff H. F. Prater, growing more inclined to doubt the attractions of the state prison warden's post, had made no decision this afternoon as to whether or not he will accept the job.

The sheriff said he was waiting until the tangled Boise situation is cleared. Warden William H. Gess, fired by two members of the three-man prison board, still held possession of the prison today but is expected to leave as soon as a financial accounting is given him.

Although Prater has apparently rejected Gess, friends here were of the opinion that he may "very possibly" turn down the warden post. Prater, however, said he had "no decision to announce" thus far.

Stage Set for Turkey Carving Demonstration

"Men Only" Sign to be Hung for Friday Night Event

Final plans were completed today for what is expected to be a rush for turkey carving demonstrations at the Sun Valley hotel on Friday at 8 p. m. Friday, Dec. 17.

There will be no admission charge, and the "men only" sign will greet those who turn out to see the world-known maître d' hotel display just what's right in an art that's too often butchered by periphrastic heads-of-families.

The demonstration is sponsored by the Sun Valley Turkey Carving Club in cooperation of Idaho Power.

Mrs. Amy Villa, cooking expert for the Power company, prepared the turkey for Mr. Butler, and will arrange a complete family service on the "stage" on which the Sun Valley club will work.

POTATELLO, Ida., Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Hoofbeats of potatoes will be continued in Idaho on an offer and acceptance basis, R. A. Patel, field representative of the Federal Food Administration, said today.

"Offers of potatoes in line with actual market conditions will be accepted so far as distribution outlets are available through relief channels," he said.

It will be required that accepted shipments from shippers and handlers be made within 24 hours, and within 72 hours from growers, he explained.

JAYCEES ACT ON ICE-SKATING SITE

Committeeman Will Attempt To Secure Use of Bände's Ponds Outside City

Concerted action toward securing adequate ice skating facilities for Twin Falls came today as the Junior Chamber of Commerce moved to seek a skating site outside the city.

The chamber will investigate possibility of securing the former ice ponds north of the hospital, it was announced. The ponds and adjoining land are property of A. M. Bände, and were formerly used in cutting of natural ice for the Twin Falls Feed and Ice company.

Warner Committeeman

Bob H. Warner was named committeeman to contact Mr. Bände in connection with the ice skating project.

Twin Falls Recreation association workers will put the ponds and banks in shape provided use of the area is granted. Water could be turned into the ponds in a short time if arrangements are completed, it was indicated.

City Water Too Warm

Decision to seek an ice skating area outside the city came after committee was placed on the fact that sites on vacant lots inside the city are impracticable because water from city mains is warmer than the frozen ground in winter. Securing of uniform, consistent ice was said to be difficult.

The recreation group, under Don Spaugy, WPA recreation director, has been conducting a survey to find available lots within the city. The survey is expected to continue.

Gold Coin of '35 Revealed By Pair Here

Another gold quarter-dollar, about the size of the blunt end of a lead pencil, was unearthed here today—nine years older than the one first mentioned in the Evening Times Tuesday.

This miniature coin is also a California state coin, its present owners, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Endicott, Twin Falls, said this afternoon. It was minted in 1850, and has the words "California Gold" stamped on the reverse side. An Indian head is imprinted on the face, unlike the coin in possession of James L. Barnes. That one has a Liberty head.

Mr. and Mrs. Endicott collect coins as a hobby. They found the 1850 California quarter-dollar on a stepkin imbedded in the ground at the Endicott cabins here.

Diversion Instructions Sent To South Idaho Potato Men

Instruction to potato diversion applicants were being mailed out today along with diversion authorizations from the county agent's offices here. Similar documents are also being sent to growers by county agents in the other south central Idaho counties.

Producers will be paid 25 cents per hundredweight on all potatoes of No. 2 grade or better diverted to feeding of livestock, or sold for such purpose.

The instructions were prepared by J. W. Barber, Peacelike, marketing specialist placed in charge of the diversion program in southern Idaho by the Idaho potato control commission.

The instructions follow:

Authorizations

Diversion authorizations are now being prepared and will be mailed within a few days.

Inspection

1. Before potatoes are diverted they must be inspected by a federal state licensed inspector.
2. An inspection application is enclosed with the diversion authorization.
3. When potatoes are sorted and ready for diverting, fill out the application and hand it to your county agent or the secretary of your county agricultural conservation association.
4. In the larger counties arrangements may be made for you to turn your inspection application over to an authorized person in your own district. Your county agent or secretary will notify you if such arrangements are made.

Sorting

1. Any potatoes to be sold for human food should be sorted from the diverted potatoes.
2. Diversion potatoes need not be sorted from culls.
3. If potatoes are not sacked they should be in bins that can be measured.

Dyeing Diversion Spuds

1. All diversion potatoes must be dyed with methyl violet dye at the time of inspection.
2. There will be no charge to the producer for inspection service or dye material.
3. The inspector will furnish the dye and supervise its application.
4. The producer must furnish sufficient help to do the dyeing.
5. The producer should also have tubs or similar utensils available for mixing the dye. Also there should be eight gallons of water at the cellar for each 100 sacks of potatoes to be dyed.
6. Remember in providing water for the culls and diversion potatoes are together, the whole lot will have to be dyed.

Payments

As soon as potatoes are inspected and sold, applications for payments will be made out and submitted for payment.

Police Ask For Aid of Drivers

Engineering Phase of Traffic Protection Complete, Officials Say

With the engineering phase of traffic enforcement now an established fact in Twin Falls, local police officials this afternoon called on citizens to supply the "much needed" human side of the drive to eliminate accidents.

Courtesy, the officers stressed, is one of the more important items which a driver should practice. At the same time such drivers should obey all stop signs and traffic signals.

"The engineering phase of our local program is complete," one official said, "and now it is up to the individual driver. Some seem to think the law does not apply to them but they will soon find they are mistaken, probably much to their sorrow."

"Cooperation in the safety drive is essential not only from the standpoint of the driver but from the standpoint of the other motorists and pedestrians who must be on the street at the same time."

OFFICIALS VISIT YOUTH PROJECTS

Condition Satisfactory; Work At Gooding School Termed Outstanding

Condition of National Youth administration projects over this section of Idaho were termed satisfactory this afternoon by L. W. Folsom, area supervisor with I. Q. Wood, Boise, district supervisor, who just completed an inspection tour of the area.

Folsom reports that practically every youth on the projects is taking some vocational training in addition to the regular work. This section, he pointed out, is in line with the new purpose of the program which is that each youth must put in the same number of hours in some sort of vocational training as they do on their work projects.

Gooding Project Best

Most outstanding project in the district, Folsom said, is the recreation program being carried on at the state school at Gooding under sponsorship of Supl. Briggs. The work is being done by students attending Gooding college.

These students handle recreation as well as boys and girls activities for the deaf and blind pupils. Gooding college students also direct children's play and all leisure time activities as well as coach basketball.

"This work at the Gooding school would not have been possible but for the NYA program," Mr. Folsom said, "herefore the children of the school were not supervised at all times and had no program because of the fact the faculty had so many other duties."

Prairie Albion, Burley

Two other projects which deserve mention, Folsom pointed out, are located at the Albion State Normal school under the direction of O. E. Elmonson and at the Burley public school, sponsored by George Demman, superintendent.

At Albion all telephone and light wires are being put under ground as part of a grounds beautification project. At Burley the NYA students handle motion picture machines and films in connection with the school system's visual education program.

Christmas Fund Donations Total Reaches $25.95

Collections Through System Of Milk Bottles Will End Dec. 24

Contributions toward the purchase of candy, nuts and oranges for needy children of Twin Falls for delivery Christmas eve by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce this afternoon reached $25.95, it was announced by Rulon Dunn, chairman in charge.

The contributions toward the fund come from milk bottles placed in various stores, cafes and shops in the downtowns district. Collections from the bottles will continue through Christmas eve, Dunn said.

The bottles will be distributed to the children at the same time as toys, repaired by the firemen and collected through Junior Chamber activities, are delivered.

Latest collection of milk bottle donations was made yesterday afternoon.

Watch Repairer, 90, At His Bench Daily

FREMONT, O. (U.P.—Frank W. Merriam, reputedly the oldest watch repairer in Ohio, was too busy to celebrate his 90th birthday.

He walked in good health from his home to his shop—dozen blocks or more—saying he "would not know what to do with himself" if he didn't keep working.

Merriam was repairing watches in Warren, O., before he was 20. He came to Fremont in 1885. In 1904, he opened his own shop.

A few years ago he decided to give up the jewelry business and devote all his time to optometry and watch repairing.

The painstaking, eye-straining business of watch repairing hasn't prevented Merriam from carrying on his work. He never misses a day at his shop. And he walks to and from work.

POT SHOTS

WITH
The Gentleman in the Third Row

MAYBE SHE COULDN'T HAVE HIT HIM, ANYWAY!

Dear Mr. P. Shod:
There's a rumor circulating that the cute little "red-head" at King's almost committed manslaughter (no killing). Here's how it happened—so they say: The boy friend doesn't think much of her when they go partying, so he always "rubs it in."

You can't really blame the girl for just laughing and "rubbing" when her "sweetie" yells, "Watch out! You'll shoot a man," because she knew all the time it was a big piece of sage brain, the distance that she was trying to hit.

The tale ends with the young gentleman knocking the gun from the innocent young thing's hand in the nick of time on account of there really was a MAN.

Yep, that's what's being whispered, Pot.

How to Figure Your City's Assets

A group of researchers from Teachers' College of Columbia university put 309 American cities under the microscope recently to learn what it is that makes the difference between a good and a bad city.

Cities have characters, just like people. There are busy, prosperous cities that nobody likes because they are so obviously on the make; there are down-at-the-heel places which somehow manage to be friendly and appealing; there are in-between towns that don't look like much at first glance but that are nice when you get to know them.

What is that elusive something that sets such cities apart? The Columbia savants wanted to know; so they began a complicated but eminently sensible examination to discover what it is that a good city has which a bad city has not.

When they got through they announced that it is the character of a city's inhabitants, rather than the city's economic advantages, that makes for civic "goodness"; and before you say that you knew that in the first place, look how they used to figure it out.

In studying a given city, the university investigators asked questions like these:

What are the general and infant death rates? How much money, per capita, is spent on libraries, on education, on recreation? How common is extreme poverty? What percentage of the people own their own homes? What percentage own automobiles? How many doctors, nurses and teachers are there, in proportion to the population? What are the per capita expenditures for highways, for light, for sanitation, for police, fire and health departments? What is the homicide rate? How much unemployment was there in the census of 1930? What is the average income of the citizens?

Answer all of those questions—and a lot more along similar lines—and you get a pretty fair picture of a city. Furthermore, you get a picture which is not necessarily the same as the one you would get simply by adding up the city's tangible, visible assets—its transportation facilities, its industries, its natural resources and so on.

Which leads one, then, to the conclusion that there are civic assets and civic assets. The man who insists on putting through a program for decent municipal playgrounds, for instance, may be doing more for his home town than the go-getter who brings in a new factory. A good public library may be worth more than a new railroad terminal. A first-rate superintendent, or health commissioner, or police chief, can be a civic asset of incalculable value.

Those things are obvious, to be sure—so obvious we usually fail to think about them. We try to assess a city's advantages in terms of dollars and cents, and it just can't be done. For a city, after all, is a place where people live; and this infinitely complex network of things which determine whether their lives shall be pleasant or not can't be expressed in a financial statement.

Limiting Auto Speeds

The chief trouble with automobile traffic these days is that the automotive engineer has gone too far ahead of the highway engineer—to say nothing of the average driver.

So says J. M. Gentry, Oklahoma state safety commissioner, in a plea for a national agreement among auto manufacturers to limit car speed to 70 miles an hour.

As things stand, Mr. Gentry points out, the average auto will go much faster than the average road can safely accommodate it, and also much faster than the average driver can safely guide it. A speed much above 60 miles an hour should be entrusted only to highly qualified motorists and confined to specially designed and built roads.

Whether such an agreement as he suggests can ever be obtained is, perhaps, doubtful. But his proposal does touch on one of the most important aspects of the highway safety problem.

Incidentally, how many are living up to Idaho's new 50-mile-an-hour law?

Francis Doolan, columnist for Newsdom magazine, says: "If citizens of this country ever take an active interest in government, the battle will be won. But citizens hate to think. It might wake them up. It's much easier to dream one's life away."

Perhaps Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh could be bothered less by the publicity hounds if they did not invite it with their game of hide and seek. If they mixed with the public they might soon be forgotten.

After digesting one of our Republican friends' denunciations of the going on of the present state administration, a comedy of errors.

LOOT KINGDOM

By OREN ARNOLD, Copyright 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

Her brilliant gasolene lanterns illuminated really joyous reunion there.

"There was much talk," Lisa thought as she saw the Indian's face show such animation. Suddenly she felt a surge of pity for Honey Bee; the poor fellow, Lisa suddenly remembered. In that instant, oddly enough, Lisa's mind skipped back over the 300 miles of New York City, back a few days, to single out a statement made by a university professor whom she had greatly respected. "Life has only one real tragedy," the professor had said. "It is unrequited love."

"Lisa said herself to be cordial to Honey Bee, but she cordially was not reciprocated. Apparently only Bob noticed the red girl. Bob didn't notice the light.

"Did you tell the others?" "I don't know," he was demanding. "Did you tell the others?"

"No," she shook her head. "They think you were the other way, maybe back to town. Hell, my son is gone."

"Gone where?" He did not say where.

"And Hades Jones?" Bob was intent on his questioning.

"He's too crazy almost, looking for you."

"I'll bet," snapped Bob, grinning. "Good old Hades. Well, look, Honey Bee, you're great, not tell. I'm sure glad, because it didn't pain you anyway, I mean, the cave is not a gotten lost in it, we'd have to find that same afternoon. And it was—"

Bob had to think fast. He hadn't expected to meet Honey Bee or anyone up here, and he hadn't fully prepared the tale he must tell.

"You see, I ought to be kicked, but the fact is, Honey Bee, I lost my pack, and my sandwich and two, in my pockets, and had the canteen, or we'd have been out of luck enough. You just found the pack a while ago. And we're staved, too. There wasn't much food in it, you remember."

"What about the total height of the squaw was literally mad, insane."

"Lisa hurried down," Lisa urged, happily. "Come on, dear. Let's go. Lisa stepped into the first ladder, as customary, and waited for her there, his hand held up to assist her. It was, however, quite a long climb down, 20 feet nearly to that first narrow ledge. Caution was essential. Lisa remembered the total height was 600 feet, and it looked 6000.

Above on the rim, Honey Bee stood glaring. She was still glaring, when Lisa stepped onto the ladder.

Suddenly the Indian girl saw her chance for a pen-up fury in his came to life.

TUSH, BING, YODLI START AN INDIAN WAR!

Dear Pot Shots:
I've been wanting to sit me down and bang this out on my typewriter ever since last week, but I'm just getting around to it now.

If you're interested in this, please ship a copy of it to Bing Crosby at Hollywood.

On his radio program last week, the Hon. Crosby gave us a little bit of song and dance about a fellow who walked on one end of the country to the other. When he got to Pocatello, Idaho, he slept on the courthouse steps and in India's FROM THE NEZ PERCE RESERVATION, says Bing.

You should tell him he'd better get out his geography, or have his men do it, and read up on the Nez Perce and the Bannocks.

He only missed it by a small matter of something over 400 miles.

TO ALL LADY CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS!

If I may say so, and I intend to, I'm not 'fopped up.

A slight touch of philosophy has cropped up. It's something for male optics. It is being said.

Not to mention being slightly crazed at.

The female of the race is called the weaker.

(I also call the female of the race the weaker.)

But all this talk of weakness now is shown.

To be an error; in fact, to bite it.

If you'll just watch a woman as she goes shopping.

And ponder on the pugnacious way she goes hopping.

Through the crowds, tossing and turning, and pushing.

While male shoppers stand abashed in timid fright—

Just give an eye to this and you'll declare.

That talk of weaker sex is just a lot of foolish talk.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

(Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—Even the uninhabited island seem to remember when Vermont was particularly influential in national politics, but now that she stands as one of the two states which voted against Roosevelt last year, her workers "had a right" to a large part of that surplus, explains, because they had created it.

WANTS G. O. P. LABOR POLICY

Mason adopted the five-day, 40-hour week as a condition for his name. His plan is not unopposed because, he says, his union aren't interested—but he thinks that if and when the Republican party adopts a labor policy its leaders ought to sit down with William Green and John L. Lewis and discuss how near they can come to a meeting of minds.

Mason, a director of public utilities, would like to see industries most concerned establish a fund to study and experiment to learn how cheap housing could be built. He thinks the public utilities industry needs a G. O. P. or a K. M. Landis.

G. O. P. VOTE "HELPER STATE"

"You are now leaving the United States," said signs put up by the Big Wagon crossing the Vermont line. He was built. He thinks the public utilities industry needs a G. O. P. or a K. M. Landis.

VERMONTERS MORE LIBERAL

Few have expected any strong liberal influence to emerge from among Vermont Republicans, but Allen and Mason are distinctly less conservative than those elements which continue to control party machinery. The latter group has accepted in general the social aims which the opposing party has had the wisdom to adopt.

Allen, who operates a large wholesale shoe business in Brattleboro along lines which appear to be unusually progressive, has been unusually active in health insurance. Seven years ago he undertook a home town scheme by which about 7000 families (100,000 people, for kids) and in return get $300 worth of hospital service and surgeons.

LOCAL UNIT WINS PRAISE FOR CCC

Department of Assistance Is Laudied For 'Careful Selections'

Local members of the department of public assistance and also the field staff this afternoon had been complimented by Neal Guy, national field representative of the department of labor, Washington, D. C., for "excellent work and personal interest in selecting young men for civilian conservation work in Idaho."

"Idaho ranks high in the nation in the careful selection of young men who are going into the CCC. This fact is brought out by the interest these young men take in their work and the large percentage of them who are going into the CCC. This fact is brought out by the interest these young men take in their work and the large percentage of them who are going into the CCC. This fact is brought out by the interest these young men take in their work and the large percentage of them who are going into the CCC."

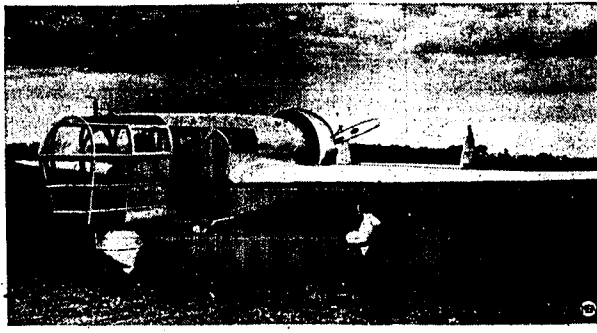

At the present time, Mr. Guy pointed out, there are 4,406 Junior enrollees in 49 camps throughout the state. Of the total number of Idaho enrollees, 49 per cent come from families receiving federal, state or county relief or assistance. The national average is 33.47 per cent. Twenty-two per cent come from families who are eligible for relief while the national percentage is 29. Only 25 per cent come from families who are not eligible for relief. The national average is 33.67 per cent.

"Idaho's young men assume more family responsibility and are more saving and frugal than the average American youth enrolled in the CCC. Eighty-six per cent of the Idaho enrollees allot $25 per month to their families. The national percentage is 74.38.

Monthly Savings
"Fourteen per cent of the Idaho youths makes a monthly savings deposit of $2. The national average is 3.76 per cent," Mr. Guy said.

Mr. Guy's findings were released here by Robert Hampton, county head, after a communication had been received from Boise. Mrs. Kay Frazee handles CCC enrollment applications for the county. The next enrollment is scheduled for duty on Jan. 6.

Glass-Nosed Plane Built for Aerial Mappers

Designed for aerial mappers, the unusual, glass-nosed plane, shown above during initial tests at Marshall, Minn., eliminates many of the limitations which have confronted flying surveyors in the ordinary type tractor planes. Constructed on plans drafted by Talbert Abrams, aerial survey company official, the ship affords unobstructed forward and downward vision for pilot and photographer, stability and long cruising radius. Moving the motor to the rear of the cockpit necessitated use of a pusher propeller.

Missing "American" Couple Under Arrest In Russia for Anti-Government Complicity

By NORMAN B. DEUEL
MOSCOW, Dec. 16 (UP)—It was announced officially today that a man and a woman who entered Russia with fraudulent American passports are under arrest, suspected of complicity in an anti-government conspiracy.

The couple, traveling with passports issued in the name of Donald Louis Robinson and Ruth Norma Robinson, are held for investigation. But officials said that a formal charge of involvement in a conspiracy of the Trotskyist movement might be brought against them. This charge is about as serious as one as could be brought and could entail the death penalty.

Maintained Silence
Ever since the disappearance of the "Robinsons" last week officials had maintained rigid silence as to their fate. The American embassy vainly sought information. But the announcement of the American state department that the couple obtained their passports "on the books of documents belonging to other persons who are now deceased" broke the silence here.

The newspaper Ivestia, official organ of the government, published today the news that the couple were under arrest. In its story, discussing statements of American followers of Leon Trotsky, exiled war lord, that the "Robinsons" were not connected with the Trotskyist movement, Ivestia said:

"It is noteworthy that American Trotskyists, somehow implicated in this affair, now hasten to cover up the tracks and are denying a connection here.

Early last week "Robinson" disappeared, Dec. 8 the woman asserted that he had gone to a hospital because he had a fever, and that in the hospital he had contracted pneumonia. She seemed nervous, Dec. 10, she disappeared.

Typically American
"The ballyhoo concerning the 'Robinson' couple is a typical example of the sensationalism of certain American newspapers.

"The declaration of the state department (that the couple obtained their passports fraudulently) leaves no doubt that it is a question of certain sinister elements trying to pass as Americans."

couple are, why they came to Russia, how they were arrested remained a mystery.

"Robinson" Disappeared
On Nov. 6, "Donald L. Robinson" and his woman companion, "Mrs. Ruth N. Robinson," arrived in Moscow. The man was represented to be a writer of New York City. They did not, like most American visitors, get into contact with the American embassy and they did not, apparently, associate with American residents here.

Early last week "Robinson" disappeared, Dec. 8 the woman asserted that he had gone to a hospital because he had a fever, and that in the hospital he had contracted pneumonia. She seemed nervous, Dec. 10, she disappeared.

PLAN SUGGESTED ON CARD MAILING

Hand Them in Early With Delivery Date Noted, Stronk Says

Plan by which Twin Falls post-office patrons may mail their Christmas cards at once for local delivery, and have them delivered on a specific date, was announced today by Postmaster M. A. Stronk.

Procedure is to hand the cards in at one of the post office windows with a notation as to the date on which it is desired delivery be made, Mr. Stronk said. Cancellation of the stamps will be made in advance and the cards held until delivery day.

The last three or four days prior to Christmas several hundred thousand cards are mailed resulting in the post office force being taxed to the limit and necessarily delaying delivery of late mailed cards. This can be avoided by mailing early, he indicated.

Christmas parcels for delivery to mid-western states should be mailed by Dec. 25 and for western states by Dec. 21 to be assured of delivery before Christmas day.

Hagerman Resident Sells 11 Holsteins

HAGERMAN, Dec. 16 (Special)—John Sanborn sold 11 head of good grade Holstein cows the past week, averaging $50 per head, to G. J. Dejong, cattle buyer from Modesto, Calif. Mr. Sanborn stated he still has 30 Holsteins in his herd, after selling the 11, and that he had raised all of them.

Dejong, according to report, bought three carloads of cows throughout Idaho, which he shipped to California. The buyer, according to a statement made to Sanborn, prefers Idaho cows as they have a reputation in California of being sturdy and strong.

Mr. Sanborn recently added two registered Holstein heifers to his herd, a one and a two year old. The two-year-old is a blue ribbon heifer, having taken first prize for two-year-olds at the Boise state fair. He bought them from Chester Eggers of the Black Kat Holstein farm in Meridian.

"Alcatraz" Will Play at Orpheum

The picture opening this coming Sunday at the Orpheum theater, "Alcatraz," has its background in the Alcatraz prison. The tale has to do with a racketeer—played by John Lill—who is, in his way, fairly decent. He'll take all the money he can get but won't countenance murder. Because of the latter tenet, he is framed by underworld associates and sent to Leavenworth on an income tax evasion conviction. Here he's framed again, made to appear like an incorrigible, and sent to the Big Rock.

"Alcatraz Island" is a complete novelty as a movie, and has a smashing climax which straightens everything out in a logical manner. John Lill, Ann Sheridan, Dick Purcell, Mary Maguire and Gordon Oliver have the leading roles.

WEATHER LET-UP SEEN FOR NATION

Ice Covering Middle West Gradually Disappears; Rains Cease

(By United Press)
A slippery glaze of ice that covered a third of the nation, crippling traffic and communications, disappeared gradually today with slowly rising temperatures.

The ice sheet extended from Nebraska to Pennsylvania and from Kentucky to the Great Lakes region, U. S. Forecaster C. A. Dornel said. Intermittent, freezing rains over the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri valleys have ceased except in scattered localities, he said.

He predicted further increases in temperatures throughout the week.

Automobile and pedestrian accidents attributed to key pavements covered during a week-long campaign of cold and snow to 124. Few deaths reported included four in Kansas City, two in Idaho, two in Detroit in Chicago, and one each in Oklahoma, Albany, Cleveland and Montana.

Sixty persons were under treatment at the Cook county (Chicago) hospital for injuries suffered in falls. Other Chicago hospitals reported scores of minor injuries from falls. At St. Louis physicians attended 56 cases of fractures and 140 minor injuries to hazardous walking conditions.

In western Oklahoma, 77 crews were repairing telephone lines snapped by the weight of ice. The broken communications and perilous driving conditions virtually isolated 45 Oklahoma towns.

Santa Claus Holds Yuletide Open House

By MARIAN YOUNG
(NEA Service)

NEW YORK—There's no place like home if, on Christmas morning, it houses some of the newest household accessories, bits of furniture and kitchen gadgets from leading stores or from members of the family.

A modern living room lamp with a walnut base, a set of colorful towels, beautifully monogrammed and boxed attractively, printed silk sheets for the guest room, handsome aluminum-ware for the kitchen, a desk for HER, an armchair or smoking stand for HIM, a down-filled satin quilt for the baby—all of these, and many more, are beautiful and smart and sure-to-be-appreciated by almost any family you know.

For anyone who has a desk... engagement pads and perpetual calendars in sumptuous leathers and gleaming metals are useful and welcome gifts.

For mother, smaller ones in dark blue and white stripes for the children and an array of guest towels in blue, darker blue, yellow and white. If you want to be ultra generous, throw in a shower curtain, bath mats and bath rug sticking to the general color scheme, of course.

For Other Ladies
There are black silk sheets (and a matching bedjacket) for the slimmer girl in your life. And rare candlesticks in bronze; a copper roll warmer; a hollow glass doll to hold flowers; a pewter cigarette box with a jewel button; charming modern lamps in every wood under the sun; a pair of tiny china dolls holding an ashtray.

For a more practical woman (we didn't say she lacks glamour), you might consider: white wool blankets, soft and warm as a summer breeze and bound with shining white satin; a hard carved maple fruit dish with black candlesticks to match; an aluminum jam jar with glass bottom and pear-shaped stem; an English kidney desk of burl walnut (something the children will hand down to their children).

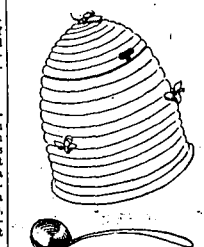

Decorative Ideas
You might give your favorite homemaker a gift order on an extra special decorating establishment where she can go and order new draperies or have a chair re-upholstered. Or one on a shop which is noted for unusually handsome glassware.

A modern blown glass dresser set includes lotion bottles, powder dishes (plural, we said), and pin and puff trays, with amethyst tops. A set of crystal flower vases, in an interesting combination of transparent and opaque effects, consists of three containers for flowers—a bowl for pansies, a small vase for daffodils and a giant one for chrysanthemums.

red glass handles, all on a silver tray? Or a star-finder globe of the heavens and a globe of the world to match?

Nothing makes the average man so furious as clocks which do not keep accurate time. An electric clock is the answer. The newest model which tells the exact time in various spots all over the world as well as local time, will please the short-wave radio dialer.

Boys! Oh, Boys!
Your daughter's closet probably is a thing of beauty, completely equipped with hat stands which match clothes hangers and so on. But what have you done about the place your young son keeps his clothes? Wouldn't he like some velvet-covered, broad-bladed hangers that will keep his coats in fine shape? Also several hat boxes of transparent film, special shoe and tie racks to go on the back of the closet door, a few cellophane garment bags in which to keep his dress

Natural walnut and bright chromium make this lamp lovely.

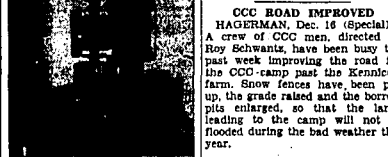

Doo-Dads for Den
For a man's den there is a wonderful array of waste baskets, ash trays and desk accessories with various sports motifs. Black ducks soar across the side of a parchment waste basket. An ashtray rests on a standard of saddle leather with stirrups at the bottom. Another has a yacht for a base, and there are ropes, stars and a few other bits of nautical insignia on the parchment shade.

If Dad never has had one corner of the living room he could call his own, he'd appreciate an arm chair of rich, dark red leather. Or a huge modern club chair (for his den) with clothes? And a small chest of drawers that will fit against one wall of the closet to hold sports accessories which he uses infrequently?

Also nice for a boy are: a desk set of hand tooled leather which simply won't wear out; a dictionary and a few reference books in a leather case to match the desk set; a new bed table with a radio in one drawer, and enough top space to hold a few magazines and a book as well as a good reading lamp. Boys will read in bed regardless of propaganda put out by various would-be eye-savers, so you might as well see that your son is comfortable while doing it.

Nursery Fixtures
Gifts for the corners of the home which most delight the youngest members of the family are more interesting than ever. They are charming little cabinets in which small toys can keep their blocks, little tools, and odd butterfly wing or whatever. Desks for children's rooms are simply stunning. One sturdy number, of golden maple, is an exact replica of a grown-up desk, complete with a typewriter, a desk, and a chair.

Valley Church Has First Conference
HAGERMAN, Dec. 16 (Special)—District Supt. W. H. Hertog of Twin Falls, was present and presided at the first quarterly conference held at the Methodist church, Friday afternoon. Members of the board and the church building committee were also present. Regular routine business was taken care of during the conference business session. Fred Roberts was appointed trustee, taking the place of Hobart Huffman. Miss Beulah Talbot was approved as Epworth league president. Following the conference action the meeting was turned over to the building committee for discussion of plans for the new church. J. W. Jones bought four lots recently on State street just north of the Ross Finch residence from James Durfee and has donated them for the building site of the new Protestant Community church.

Small work bench and tool box for Junior to keep in the basement; a portable typewriter table (with drawer space) for the aspiring young author in your midst; and, of course, play furniture of all types.

CCC ROAD IMPROVED
HAGERMAN, Dec. 16 (Special)—A crew of CCC men, directed by Roy Schwartz, have been busy the past week improving the road for the CCC camp near the Kennecott farm. Snow fences have been put up, the grade raised and the borrow pits enlarged, so that the lanes leading to the camp will not be flooded during the bad weather this year.

SKINS FOR THIS YEAR
Annual U. S. imports are somewhere in the neighborhood of $18,000,000 worth of karakul fur. The karakul is the only sheep that produces broadtail, Persian lamb, karakul, and Astrakhan fur. The wool of the karakul is used in making Bokhara, Afghan, Persian and other fine Oriental rugs. Karakul pelts are produced from the lamb being taken at birth.

skins for this fur can be taken up to the tenth day, but from one to five days is best for the finer, plier quality in the fur. Pelts taken from lambs at birth are considered on a par with Hudson seal, silver fox, mink and are classed above beaver.

Mr. Fairchild stated he thought Hagerman valley ideal for wintering his herd.

Karakul Herd Is Being Wintered On Valley Farm

HAGERMAN, Dec. 16 (Special)—Seventy head of karakul sheep, headed by a registered buck, are being wintered on the Guy Lemmon farm. The owner is Ben Fairchild, who came here about a year ago. Mr. Fairchild said that he started his herd six years ago with 32 ewes purchased from Judge A. G. Cranget, secretary of the National Karakul Sheep organization, Kadoka, S. D.

There have been four direct imports into the United States. The first sheep imported from their native country, Bokhara, by Dr. C. Young, cost $5,000 each. Mr. Fairchild says: "Annual U. S. imports are somewhere in the neighborhood of $18,000,000 worth of karakul fur. The karakul is the only sheep that produces broadtail, Persian lamb, karakul, and Astrakhan fur. Buhl Chamber Votes To Provide Lunches

BUHL, Dec. 16 (Special)—The Buhl Chamber of Commerce voted at their recent meeting to repeat its aid to the Buhl schools during the coldest part of the year. The arrangement was to serve a hot dish to children who bring their lunch to school. Parents may contribute 15 cents a week, or send vegetables or nothing, if they feel unable to help. The city will also assist with the program.

AVOID NEEDLESS CHANCES
PROVED WAY TO TREAT COLDS
Doubly proved—in world's largest colds-clinic, and by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind. No "doping." Just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Relief begins almost at once. And long after sleep comes, VapoRub keeps right on working. Its potent—and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation and coughing, helps break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Here's More Than "Bread and Butter" Business for Food Stores!

Preparing three meals in the housewife's daily duty. But kinds and quality of food served depend upon the dollars.

Each month, Twin Falls families spend $130,583.00 for foodstuffs. Compare this with $44,374.00—the amount expended by the same number of average families in Idaho. In this classification of business—Twin Falls' extra buying-power is $86,209.00 per month, or $1,031,508.00 per year.

This means money for the necessitation—plus demand for the dainties. Feature complete food assortments in your newspaper advertisements. You'll receive substantial orders for the extras as well as the ordinaries.

Help the housewife—by making new menu suggestions for delicious, nutritious meals. Your store is the point of sale—but most shopping lists are prepared at home—from your newspaper.

This is the second advertisement in a series to inform advertisers on Twin Falls' Buying-Power in important classifications of business. Read and keep these advertisements.

Annual retail sales in Twin Falls exceed $2,716,000.00. In the state of Idaho, the average amount is $2,767,486.00 for the same number of people.

Let newspaper advertising build more than 'bread and butter' business. In this city of super-sales, there's ample funds for the better things of life.

GOP Suspicion Strands Proposed Coalition to 'Tone Down' New Deal

SEN. McNARY NOT IMPRESSED WITH FAMED 'ADDRESS'

Plan Would Have Brought Coalition of Bourbons and Republicans

By LYLE C. WILSON
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (Special)—A movement for a formal Republican-Democratic congressional coalition to swing the Roosevelt administration to more conservative channels appeared today to be stranded on the shoals of C. C. P. suspicion.

Senate Republican leader Charles L. McNary advised his colleagues upon inquiry—that he was not impressed by the proposed "address" to the people of the United States.

The "address" was prepared as a charter of joint Republican and Democratic aims and objectives to remain a rare first edition.

One of the quickest desertions of a ship on record took place as McNary and several other Republican senators refused to come aboard either as seamen or as officers of the line. After 24 hours of premature publicity the coalition movement appeared to be left in the hands of its promoters, most of whom were said to have been Democrats.

No Sponsor?

No senator would admit sponsorship. Sen. Peter G. Clark, D., of Oregon, who has been off the New Deal reservation for some time professed interest but no knowledge of reports that a coalition movement was under way.

Usually reliable sources reported that the movement was conceived at select senatorial dinners at Gerry's home in the capitol's embassy district. Others reportedly participating in the preliminary discussions were addressed to the people of the United States were Sens. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., one of the standouts for the 1940 Republican presidential nomination; Sen. Edward R. Burke, D., Neb.; Josiah W. Bailey, D., N. C., and Harry F. Byrd, D., Va.

Sen. John Townsend, R., Del. was close to the inner circle and offered a copy of the address for scrutiny of some colleagues. Sen. Millard E. Tydings, D., Md., had a copy as did Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, R., Mass. When McNary was consulted by Republicans who had been invited to sign, the minority leader snorted that every man whose name appeared on such a manifesto would be set down as a "liberty leaguer."

The whole "coalition" incident appeared today to rile senatorial tempers. Some were angry because of premature publicity and the probability that the project had died on their hands.

Movement Ended

Most observers believed the formal coalition movement was ended today, at least for the time being.

The address to the people set forth that the recession demanded instant attention of all persons in responsible positions. It then developed a 10-point program, stated in general terms.

It proposed to revise the capital gains and undistributed profits tax without reducing revenue; make a steady approach to a balanced budget; assure just relations between capital and labor; discourage unnecessary government competition with private enterprises; promote

Landowner Dies In Eastern City

Death of George Conover, 82, who made final proof on land east of the Maroa school on the Twin Falls project, has been learned by friends in this section. A son, Charles S. Conover, Hansen, went to his father's home at Maron, Ill., for services.

The aged man, an Illinois banker, retained extensive property interests in this area. He made annual visits here for many years.

Program Features Scouts' Magazine

A story from Boy's Life, official publication of the Boy Scouts of America, will feature tonight over the regular KTFF program of "Over Boy Scout Trails" which is scheduled for 8:15 p. m.

O. A. Kellner of the Idaho Evening Times is acoustamer of the air for the series of programs.

Reasonable Returns on Investment; Maintain the American Capitalist System

Referring to labor-capital relations, the manifesto said:

"We insist on constitutional guarantees of the right of persons to property; the right of the worker to work; or the owner to possession of and of every man to enjoy the fruits of his own labor."

Bills Spread of Prices

"The spread of prices paid by farmers and price paid farmers is notorious," the document said. "There ought to be a reduction in the tax burden, and if that is not possible, after three decades of service, no further tax increase.

"National standards are difficult to fix in so large a nation as ours. We favor vigorous maintenance of states rights, home rule and local self-government.

"We propose there shall be no suffering for food, fuel, clothing and shelter. This must be done economically with a view to encouraging individual self-reliance, local responsibility and without political favor.

"Pledging ourselves to these principles, we summon our fellow citizens without regard to party to join us in advancing them as the only hope of permanent recovery and further progress."

SAFE CHRISTMAS URGED BY GROUP

Council Opens Campaign to Reduce Number of Deaths From Accidents

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Application of the holiday spirit of good will toward reduction of traffic accidents was asked today by the National Safety Council in launching a campaign for a "safe and sane" Christmas.

Traffic accidents took 4,200 lives—more Americans than were killed in the Revolutionary war—in December last year, the council reported.

Co-operation of public officials in rigorous and impartial enforcement of traffic laws; churches, schools, fraternal and civic organizations in spreading the message, and individuals in personal care was asked in a resolution adopted by the council.

As a vital step in overcoming those conditions, the council demanded that the police and courts "temper sentiment with sanity, replace indifference with indignation and interpret the Christmas spirit of good will in concrete terms of protecting life and limb on the highways."

Buhl Pastor's Play To Be Presented

BURLY, Dec. 16 (Special)—"The Return of the Christmas Spirit," a play written by the Rev. Leroy Walker of the Buhl Methodist church, will be presented by the children and young people of the Sunday school at 8 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Jess Parsons is assisting Mr. Walker in directing the play. Mrs. Everett Mullins is directing the musical part of the production, and Mrs. Enoch Wall has charge of the elaborate costuming.

During the morning services Sunday, Dec. 19, the annual Christmas musical service will be heard. The choir will sing a number of Christmas anthems and there will be other special numbers. There will be an opportunity for the christening of infants and the reception of new members into the church, and the pastor will bring a brief Christmas message.

The annual Christmas party and tree with distribution of treats will be held on Thursday evening, Dec. 23.

GEORGE PALMER PUTNAM TO LEAVE ON TROPICAL CRUISE

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16 (AP)—George Palmer Putnam prepared to sail today on a tropical cruise, his first exploring trip since he began staying at home while his wife, Amelia Earhart, was crossing the oceans in airplanes.

He and Tex Garnett, globe-trotting movie director, are heading an expedition in Garnett's yacht, the Athene, to collect beata, reptiles and birds for the California Zoological society's zoo in Los Angeles.

They will visit several Mexican islands and the Galapagos group off Ecuador. Putnam said there was no possibility that they would sail southwest to that part of the ocean where Miss Earhart vanished last summer while on a round-the-world flight. Putnam has abandoned hope that his wife might still be alive on some island.

Putnam has directed several expeditions into the Arctic, but this is his first tropical venture. His party will visit Charles Island in the Gallapagos, he said, to investigate the stories of the idyllic life of Baroness Elosa Bosquet von Wagner Wehborn, Viennese adventurer, and her many lovers there. There were stories of a series of mysterious deaths on the island several years ago.

tree with distribution of treats will be held on Thursday evening, Dec. 23.

Burley Teachers Resign Positions

BURLEY, Dec. 16 (Special)—Meeting in regular session Monday night, the school board of directors accepted the resignations of Miss Verma Olowaski, Miss Ruth Meligne and Miss Jane Dawn, teachers in the elementary grades who resigned to be married. To replace these teachers, Miss Clea Day of Burley, Miss Freda Belle Kelly of McCall and Miss Maxine Almonds of Albion were elected by the board.

The board also announced that vacation for Christmas will begin after class Dec. 22 and will end Jan. 3. Annual inspection of the school property by the board will be held next Monday.

UNKNOWN MAN LEAPS TO DEATH

Visitor, Believed Montanan, Jumps From Snake Bridge In Idaho Falls

IDAHO FALLS, Ida., Dec. 16 (AP)—Police today sought the motive behind the suicide of a well-dressed man temporarily identified as John Watson, about 30, who jumped from Broadway bridge into the Snake River.

It was believed he might have been a resident of Montana.

It was the second suicide victim claimed by the river within the month.

Officers identified the body through an army serial number tag, two of which were found in the clothing.

Two witnesses watched the man lower himself to an under rod and burle 50 feet to the surging water below.

Two stage tickets, purchased Monday in Denver, Colo., with routings to Butte and Warm Springs, Mont., were found on the body with $150 in cash.

Fingerprints were sent to the war department for further identification.

Paroled Convict To Face Charge

PAUL, Dec. 16 (Special)—Carl McKay, admittedly on parole from Arizona, faces trial in district court for the attempted robbery of the Reed Arthur pool hall here early Saturday.

He was apprehended by Benton Pylon, town marshal, who had been stationed all night in the pool hall to watch for burglars as the place had been robbed several times in the past few months.

Entry was made through a window and on his arrival into the establishment McKay found himself covered by Pylon's gun. During a scuffle which took place as the marshal attempted to telephone the county sheriff, McKay was knocked unconscious.

On questioning, he informed officers that he had come in a freight train from Pocatello that night and had first tried to rob the Comstock Mercantile store.

Officers identified the body through an army serial number tag, two of which were found in the clothing.

Porcupines Killed In National Forest

BURLEY, Dec. 16 (Special)—Three federal workers have been shooting porcupines on the Minidoka forest this week and distributing poison for their extermination. By Tuesday 83 were shot by the men.

This action is being taken before the snow becomes deep enough to drive the animals from the rocks to the timber. When food becomes scarce, porcupines eat the tender top shoots of trees.

Sen. John Townsend, R., Del. was close to the inner circle and offered a copy of the address for scrutiny of some colleagues. Sen. Millard E. Tydings, D., Md., had a copy as did Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, R., Mass. When McNary was consulted by Republicans who had been invited to sign, the minority leader snorted that every man whose name appeared on such a manifesto would be set down as a "liberty leaguer."

The whole "coalition" incident appeared today to rile senatorial tempers. Some were angry because of premature publicity and the probability that the project had died on their hands.

Movement Ended

Most observers believed the formal coalition movement was ended today, at least for the time being.

The address to the people set forth that the recession demanded instant attention of all persons in responsible positions. It then developed a 10-point program, stated in general terms.

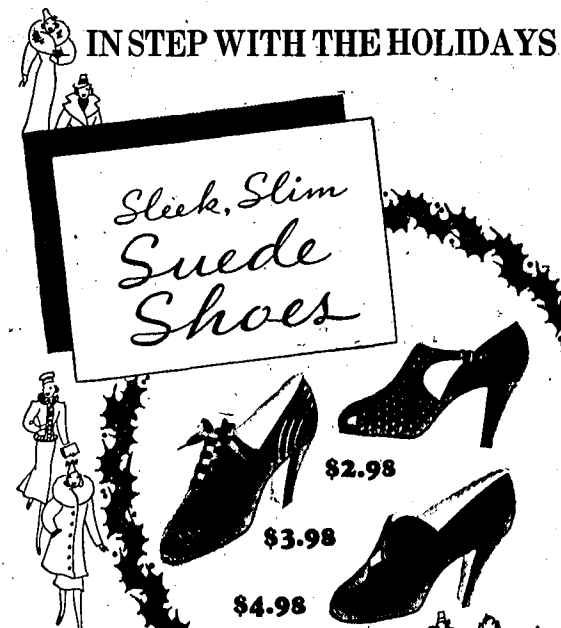

It proposed to revise the capital gains and undistributed profits tax without reducing revenue; make a steady approach to a balanced budget; assure just relations between capital and labor; discourage unnecessary government competition with private enterprises; promote

GREENBERG CAPTAINS RUNS-BATTED-IN TITLE

Slugging Detroit First Baseman Tops Junior Loop

Star Player Comes Back After Year on Sidelines to Cop Crown

By HENRY SUPPER NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (U.P.)—Hank Greenberg, Detroit's slugging first-baseman, came within one run of tying the all-time record for runs batted in during one season, official American league averages for 1937 revealed today.

Coming back after being out most of last year with a broken wrist, Greenberg named 183 runs across—just one less than the major league record set in 1931 by Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees.

Greenberg, seventh on the batting percentage list for the season just ended, might have shattered Gehrig's mark if he had no light slump during June. Aiding his cause was a total of 60 home runs.

Jones Names Club for Pre-Holiday Jaunt

Seabiscuit and War Admiral Top Weighters

By JACK QUENTHER ARCADIA, Calif., Dec. 16 (U.P.)—The scant margin of one pound apiece separated the weights allotted Seabiscuit, War Admiral and Rosemont, who were posted today for the fourth running of the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap, the world's richest horse race.

Following in the trail of two great names in modern turf history—Seabiscuit and Discovery, who carried the peak in former years—Seabiscuit headed the list of 63 nominees with the maximum impost of 130 pounds. The Admiral came second at 129, and Rosemont, last year's winner, third with 125.

The weights of the "big three" agreed with precedents of horsemen for the past several weeks, and formed the basis of the first future book quotations, which were being drawn up today. Nearest horse to the trip was diminutive Top Row, the 1937 winner, who was placed five pounds down the line at 123, indicating that to the handicapper at least, the March 5 classic shaped up as a three-horse race.

War Admiral's record was just as strong as Seabiscuit's, but the Samuel Goldfisher-trained colt, who defeated as a 3-year-old and victor in the Kentucky derby, was a year younger than his rival, and merited a pound more weight. In certain quarters, however, it was believed that 129 pounds was too much, and might cause Riddle to slip the coil, to Florida in the winter challenge cup race at Hialeah.

The winners poured it on in Twin Falls bowling last night. Both Elks and Log Tavern captured clean sweep victories in the 1000-point Zip-Way three in a row, and the Tavernites thumping Post Office by the same margin.

The triple set-back for Post Office knocked the mail crew out of first place in the City league after a long stretch as unduped leaders. Championship honors went to Elks as a result. Log Tavern, last year's City loop champions, stepped up to a tie for third place.

Californians Boast Wonder Team—But Offer No Odds

By HENRY McLEMORE SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 16 (U.P.)—How much better is a "wonder" football team than just an ordinary football team whose members put their pants on one leg at a time, eat the regulation ham and eggs for breakfast, and think Zane Grey our greatest novelist?

In my travels about this sun-kissed state I have been trying to find an answer to this question, because it won't be long before California and Alabama meet in the Rose Bowl and an answer will be a very handy thing to have around. As you know, California has a "wonder" team this year. Every native son agrees on that. At one time or another in the past month I have read word pictures of that team which, if swelled in the trenches and boosted with the customary dusting of salt, could lead one but to one conclusion:

That a California varsity is a combination of the Three Marys by moonlight, sunset on the bay of Naples, mother love, Kretser playing football, and the hundred-yard dash between the married and single men in an Elks picnic.

Ten Chosen for Nampa And Caldwell Trip

Turner, Tramer, Hartruff, Alquist, Waite to Be in Starting Lineup

Coach R. V. Jones, accompanied by 10 court artists and Bruin Manager Art Frantz, will leave here Friday noon on a trip to the western part of the state that will see them take on two of the tougher teams in the state on successive nights in pre-holiday games.

Making the journey will be Wayne Turner, Art Tramer, Maurice Hartruff, Wendell Alquist, Johnny Waters, Ira Cartney, Dale Waite, Bill Floss, Bill Peters and Bob Sutcliffe.

The team will get its first test of strength when it takes on the Caldwell club, playing at the Canyon county seat, and then moves over to Nampa for a Saturday evening. The two games are expected to draw a following as fair as of just what to expect from the club in the 1938 race.

Four Veterans In the starting lineup Coach Jones will have four veterans—three regulars from last year's one-look-unsuccessful quint and one man up from the frosh-soph club.

The veteran regulars will be Tramer, Art Tramer, at center and Turner at forward. Alquist, who saw considerable service, and who played in nearly every game last year, will probably be at the other guard post, with Dale Waite at forward.

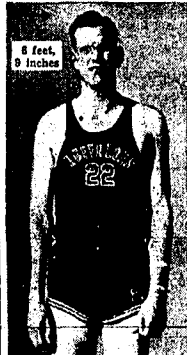

Waite, one of the high scorers on the 1937 frosh-soph club, has looked exceedingly good in workouts, may prove to be the third scoring threat Jones has been looking for to go with Turner and Hartruff.

No Predictions "I'm not making any predictions on the outcome of the game," said Coach Jones this morning. "Because we've been handicapped by a lack of time to practice. We held our first scrimmage of the season Tuesday night—and that's not much time to develop team-work."

Two transfers from other schools, Peters from Kimberly and Floss from Boise, both show potentialities. Floss looks like good material if he settles down, while Peters has the speed and ability—but a lot of faults to overcome.

The 12 men will make the trip in two automobiles, returning on Sunday. The opening game of the home season will be played on Jan. 7 against Caldwell.

Big Help

8 feet 8 inches tall, 180 pounds, this young man is a big help to the team. He has shown great promise in his early career.

Strikes to Spare

The Elks had their night, taking the Zip-Way boys all three games. George Hof was the best for both crews with 516 for his share, and a middle game of 233 for tops.

Ory Coleman got 531 despite seven splits. He carried two to his split into spares. Bill Bailey had a nice third game, with every frame filled up.

Bill Towan fell one pin short of the 500 mark. He saw four splits; also a few errors.

Play in last night's games were: Brain Trusters: Paul Leighton, Paul Wright, E. Hutchinson, E. Benoit, G. Browne, A. Wilson, B. Wilson, Anderson; Backbones: Hays, and Black Legion vs. Thunderbird.

STIFFENING OF U. S. PROTESTS TO JAPAN FORECAST

LEADERS AWAIT LAST REPORTS ON PANAY BOMBING

State Department Builds Up Extensive Record on China 'Incident'

By ROBERT C. MONTEE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (UPI)—Suffraging of already indignant U. S. protests became possible today as the state department awaited official reports on eye-witness stories that Japanese naval surface craft machine-gunned the U. S. S. Panay while it was being subjected to an attack by aerial bombs.

Awaiting the next move by the Japanese government on the protests lodged this week and President Roosevelt's request that Emperor Hirohito be informed of his "concern and shock" at the Panay destruction, the state department was building up an extensive official record of the incident.

They were especially interested in reports from Shanghai that Admiral Tetsu Miyamura, chief of Japanese aerial operations in the Sino-Japanese hostilities, had been relieved of his post in that field.

No Formal Report
This action by Japanese naval authorities was generally considered in line with the Tokyo government's promise to "deal adequately" with the official responsible for the Panay incident.

The state and navy departments have not received the formal reports of their senior officers aboard the Panay when Japanese bombing planes attacked and sank it.

These are expected within the next day or two, or as soon as George Atcheson, Jr., senior diplomat agent aboard the Panay, which was virtually a floating American embassy at the time it was sunk and Lt. Commander J. J. Hughes, "captain" of the gunboat, arrive at Shanghai. They were en route to the latter city aboard the United States gunboat Oahu and expected to arrive Friday.

Seek Definite Information
From Atcheson's and Hughes' reports officials hoped to obtain definite information regarding the deliberateness of the bombing attack, concerning which official suspicion has been growing steadily.

If unofficial eye witness reports, that Japanese naval surface craft joined in the attack on the gunboat, substantiated in its attack, are substantiated in the official versions, it is considered certain that this government's attitude will become even stiffer than it has been heretofore.

Although the Japanese civil government must be held responsible for the acts of its military and naval forces, officials here realize the civil government has little or no control over the military and naval forces.

Officials, speaking privately, indicated they were inclined to accept as face value the Japanese civil government's plea that the Panay attack was "an accident," or a "stupid blunder." The intention of the Japanese military and naval commanders in China, however, were frankly suspected as being something different.

Grace Moore Offered $2,000 To Tell Her "Quack" Story

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16 (UPI)—Grace Moore said today that a radio company offered her $2,000 to broadcast that "quack, quack" story.

It's the story that caused a New York night club brawl wherein gentlemen in the opera singer's party lost a couple of teeth.

"The story," Miss Moore said confidentially, "is about a farceur who did not have a daughter. But he had a magical duck—"

"And it must be a very good one," she said, "because I was offered $2,000 to go on the radio with Lawrence Tibbett and tell it."

Tibbett told her the story originally, Miss Moore indicated, however, that she will not pass it on to her radio public.

Miss Moore was reciting the "quack, quack" tag-line when someone mistook her to be hectoring gentlemen in the opera singer's party lost a couple of teeth.

"It was all in fun, even with the injury to Mr. May. I was only making a couple of quacks. Why, I don't even know what a Bronx cheer is."

YULE THEME FOR JUNIOR HI MEET

School Program Next Week Will See Christmas Play Offered

Christmas theme and program is to be followed in the presentation of the Junior high school assembly next week, teachers in charge announced today. Music is to be furnished by the Junior high choruses under the direction of Harley B. Smith and Miss Elizabeth Smith and group singing of the assembly.

Featured on the program is to be the annual Christmas play presented by the speech students, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Wuster.

"Once in Bethlehem," the play tells in old-world fashion, the story of the birth of the Christ Child.

Students participating in the play and the character played by each are: Shmuel, an inn keeper, Archie Weber; Nathan, a stable boy, Betty Shepherd; Sarah, daughter of Nathan, Dorothy Ann Nealey; Zimri, a merchant, Betty Bergen; Joan, a poor traveler, James Ford; Jahnsel, a rich traveler, Delman Greer; Joseph, Leo Singleton; Mary Betty Jean Sommer, the beggar, Mariah Dunn; three lodgers at the inn, Harriette Aleman, Marguerite Larkins and Marian Dunn; three shepherds, Dorothy Matoughlin, Norma Stokesberry; other travelers, Nentley, Doris Ann Sherwood, Esther French and Norma Dickey.

Announcer for the play is to be Gwendolyn Helfrecht and the prompter will be Edna Signor.

Texas Solon Explains How Grammar In "Congressional Record" is Good

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (UPI)—A question that may have puzzled the constituents of some congressmen in moments of extreme leisure was answered today by Rep. Murray Maverick, D. Tex.

The question: How can a man who uses "expressions like 'I ain't got' and 'the done went'" in campaign talks and make speeches in the house that read in the Congressional Record like the product of a statesman and a scholar?

The answer: The official reports and the Congressional Record proof-readers correct 'em.

This was a thing Maverick never knew till just now. He found it out when he made a floor speech referring to "David's coat of many colors."

David, you remember, was the lad with the sling shot.

Maverick was delighted to have his error corrected.

"I asked," he said, "for a report, and which was sent to me."
(Editor's note: The Congressional Record proof reader would have caught that "and which" hairy.)

WRAPPING RULES TOLD BY STROK

Good Paper and Heavy Twine Urged For Packages Sent Through Mails

Strong paper and heavy twine should be used as the basis for wrapping Christmas packages. It was pointed out this afternoon by Postmaster M. A. Strook who said waste can be avoided by mail carriers in acceptable condition.

Packages insecurely wrapped cannot be accepted at the postoffice, the official stressed.

"It is better to have packages securely wrapped in the first place than to spend a long period in line and then have to return home or to a store to wrap the article over again," Strook said.

Here Are Rules... Postoffice rules for wrapping are listed as follows:

1. Sharp pointed or sharp-edged instruments or tools must have points and edges fully guarded to prevent injury to clerks in handling, or damage to other mail. Care must be taken thoroughly and wrap so that they cannot cut the wrapping.

2. Books must have the edges well protected with strong material and packed in a wooden or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard box, double lined with tissue paper.

3. In all cases articles easily broken or damaged must be plainly marked "Fragile."

4. Full particulars of various rules which must be followed in mailing can be obtained at the postoffice by asking any clerk for a copy of the general regulations for preparation for Christmas Mailing.

Hagerman Turkeys On Holiday Market

A large percentage of the turkeys raised in the valley have been put on the Christmas market. Included in this shipment were 2,000 raised by Scott Bower and 400 by Guy Lemmer, a large crew of turkey pickers were busy four days last week picking turkeys at the Guy Lemmer farm.

Special numbers between acts included a trombone solo by Earl Turner, vocal solo by Miss Moore, and piano playing by Lily Lee Sawyer, Miss Gladys, Beatrice Eric, Joyce Humphrey and Maxine Bostwick.

Services Conducted For Utah Resident

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning for Mrs. Esther Ann Crowther Yates, who died Friday at her home at Twin Falls following a lingering illness.

Born at Richfield, Utah, September 18, 1888, the daughter of Richard and Mary Ann Yates, she is survived by her husband, Hyrum O. Yates, a daughter, Dorothy, and a foster son, Edward Hoffman.

Services were held at Yates under the direction of the Payne mortuary.

GOLD FOUND IN WELL

SPARKS, Kan. (U.P.)—Residents of Sparks and Fanning, Kan., have become so aroused over the finding of gold in a well near here that they are considering the organization of a joint stock company for further prospecting.
