Proclamation Lowers Price 12.93 Cents

By SANDOR S. KLEIN WASHINGTON, Jan. 1 (U.P.)—The Roosevelt administration's domestic silver policy was drastically revised today by a presidential proclamation which may have serious political repercussions in the next session of congress.

The proclamation fixed the price the treasury will pay for newly-mined domestic silver during 1938 at 64.64 cents an ounce. It represented a reduction of 12.93 cents from the 77.57 cent price fixed by the proclamation which expired last night and which had been in effect since April 25, 1935.

In reducing the price, the President ignored the pleas of leaders of the powerful congressional silver bloc, who warned that such action would result in forcing numerous mines to close and increasing the federal government's relief burden.

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt compromised with business interests and some governmental officials who recommended that his 17.67 cent price represented an outright subsidy to silver producers who had little or no favorable effect on the national economy.

Senators Unavailable Most of the silver state senators were unavailable for comment today, but there was little doubt that their disappointment over the President's action would be keen.

Some observers feared that the President's action would be interpreted as a signal that the administration would attempt to force legislation directed by the President.

1937 High Spots For South Idaho

Here Are Highlights Picked From Busy Year's Happenings

With the events of 1937 now written upon the pages of history and today inaugurating the start of a new volume, that of 1938, the editors of the Evening Times this afternoon looked backward over a 12-month period crammed full with news from south central Idaho.

From this mass of information carried in issues of the paper they gleaned the most outstanding in eight divisions which constitute the fourth estate. Each story selected as outstanding in its respective division had to originate in south central Idaho and had to originate since Jan. 1, 1937, to be eligible.

SUPREME COURT MOVE PLANNED TO CLEAR "AD" L

NEW STEP MAY SPEED UP WORK TO AID GROWERS

Latest Maneuver Designed to Hasten Final Decision On Legality

National advertising of Idaho potatoes, onions and apples may get underway again within a few weeks through a new maneuver designed to hasten the final decision on the legality of the Idaho fruit and vegetable advertising commission, said here today.

The publicity campaign, designed to boost prices received by Idaho growers through establishing wider marketing outlets, is tied up at present by a second court suit. A first legal test of constitutionality upheld the act.

The new move would take the battered law to the supreme court on an outgrowth of the first test. And if the act is approved by the high tribunal before a decision is made in the second suit, now pending in district court at Caldwell, the step would make unnecessary any further legal action on the law.

It won't take very long this way to get the matter finally settled and, we hope, to allow us to go ahead with the plans for aiding Idaho producers, the "radio king" declared. "We just sit back and await outcome of the second test suit, it would be way long in the spring before we get a decision, and even then, that one could still go to the supreme court."

The newest maneuvers have been mapped within the last few days, the commission expects to get the suit to the supreme court by early January," according to Marshall. The legal situation, as explained to Marshall by Guy Graham, state commissioner of agriculture and chairman of the "ad" commission, is:

Judge Charles Koelsch, Ada county, would hold the law. The advertising commission asked a writ of mandate commanding State Treasurer Myrtle P. Eakin to pay its warrants. Eakin refused. A writ of habeas corpus was granted. A writ of mandamus was granted. A writ of mandamus was granted.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM BUSY 12 MONTHS

suggested as "necessary" by members of the school board of trustees. Construction started and local workers "brought home the bacon" as pay checks were distributed. The project is now underway in full blast.

SENATIONAL

The killing of Bill Slater, Hollywood motion picture worker by Paul (Red) Boyatt at Halley, Braggart, after the alleged killing, dragged his wife with him and attempted to escape. She broke from him, ran to officer. He gave himself up.
At his trial the wife testified in his defense, but to no avail. Boyatt was found guilty by a jury of 12, he was sentenced to serve from 20 to 40 years in the Idaho prison.

AVIATION

The Idaho Pilots' association first aimed at Burley, incorporated in the year the association is the first formed by Idaho fliers. Ann J. Burley, Burley city official and aviator in this state.
Twin Falls fliers conceived the idea, elected Lionel A. Dean president, and the Idaho Pilots' association began soaring, the President booked the domestic price to 71.11. Fifteen days later, he raised it to the 71.77 cents which prevailed until last midnight.

SPORTS

Inauguration of national ski competition at Sun Valley with resultant "up-shoot" in skiing interest locally.
"Big names" sliding down the natural runs at Sun Valley and thousands watching. National ski team, including the world champion, something new under Idaho's sun which proved to be catching and which spread over this section of the state. Ski runs "popping up" on almost every hill. Sporting goods merchants doing a good business.

POLITICAL

Sweep of the Twin Falls municipal election by a new ticket. Lem Chapin, mayor, Leonard Arvan, and Paul Taber, councilmen.
Early returns showed defeat for incumbents Duncan McD. Johnson, O. H. Colvoco, and Ritchey appointed councilman to fill unexpired term of Chapin, former finance commissioner.

IMPROVEMENT

Start of work on a 10-year program which will ultimately see the beautification of Shoshone falls park. A playground for Twin Falls and south central Idaho residents. More than 300 acres in trees and shrubs with winding walks, open fireplaces, benches, tables.
The start of a vision now. A reality 10 years from now as Twin Falls will have a park "second to none" in Idaho.

SOCIETY

Christmas dances with youth home from colleges over the United States. More dances, more parties than at any previous like period during the year. Everybody entertaining for someone and everyone having a good time.
Then the New Year, and back to books and studies as the old year dies.

Proclamation Lowers Price 12.93 Cents

the price of 71.57 per ounce retained.
"I'm not able at this time to figure what the difference between the new and old price will mean to the industry. Some of the mines work on close margins."
20 Cents Over

The new price compared with a world quotation of 1.92 cents and the New York price of 44.75 cents. Thus, even at the lower domestic price, United States silver producers will be receiving 40-cent bounty of nearly 20 cents over what it would cost the government to purchase the metal on the open market.

The London "anti-dumping" silver agreement of June, 1933, also expired last midnight with no effort by this government for any other signatories to extend it. Evidence that the administration intended to pursue a program of bilateral agreements in connection with its international silver policy was seen in the understanding reached during the past week with Canada and Mexico.

Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation was issued under authority granted in an amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Act, to "fix the domestic silver price as a step toward economic recovery. His first price-fixing proclamation issued Dec. 29, 1933, set the figure at 64.46 cents an ounce, a price to which he returned in his latest proclamation. Then, on April 10, 1934, the world price began soaring, the President booked the domestic price to 71.11. Fifteen days later, he raised it to the 71.77 cents which prevailed until last midnight.

Doesn't Effect Public
The shift in the silver policy will not affect the value of silver coins in the public's hands. The silver dollar will buy as much as it did before. Its only immediate effect will be that it will force thousands of miners into idleness.

The United States has purchased a two-fold silver supply since Dec. 29, 1933, when President Roosevelt embargoed gold and silver and exports. It calls for:
The price of silver in the open market until silver stocks have reached the point where their value is one third of that of the gold price. The price of silver will be one third of 29.00 an ounce. The secretary of the treasury is directed to issue silver certificates against the metal to the extent of not less than the cost of all silver purchases.

2. Rehabilitate the domestic output at prices in excess of world market quotations. This was criticized by financiers as a direct subsidy.
Total Silver Stock
Under this program the Treasury on Nov. 20, 1933, held 1,460,000 ounces of silver bullion, which, at the $1.29 monetary value, was worth $1,884,000.00.

With the $300,000,000 of silver dollars included, the nation's silver stocks on that date totaled $3,377,000,000. The cost of the metal to the treasury is not known, but silver certificates in excess of $500,000,000 have been issued against it.
Government experts despair of ever carrying out the congressional silver plan unless the inflow of gold to America ceases. Despite the heavy purchases of the white metal, it would have required an additional 1,701,000,000 ounces to reach the 70-20 gold-silver ratio on Sept. 30, 1937.

Few of Mr. Roosevelt's monetary or other reform policies aroused such hostile attacks from industrial and financial leaders as did the silver program. Critics labeled silver as a "dead" metal, warned that this country never would be able to sell to any other nation any of its hoard.

Visit Parents
Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bellamy, Nampa, are guests of Mr. Bellamy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bellamy.

BUSINESS FIRMS OBSERVE HOLIDAY

City and County Offices All Closed For New Year's Week-End

Business houses of Twin Falls and other south central Idaho communities remained closed today in observance of New Year's day following rush demand at food stores yesterday afternoon.

Banks and offices were also closed and city and county offices in which business was suspended included the city hall, the courthouse and the liquor store. The post office windows were closed although mail was delivered to the boxes.

The holiday followed a festive New Year's eve which ran out 1937. Dancing played an important part in the celebration with the annual Elk trolle taking front rank in the merry making. The Eagles lodge and the Tar Heel club were other organizations sponsoring dances and parties at dance halls, Radio and Shadowland were crowded.

Theaters with midnight showings were also filled to capacity.

LAGUARDIA TAKES 2ND TERM OFFICE

New York Mayor Sworn In By Judge; Dewey Also Given Oath

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Fiorello H. La Guardia took the oath of office today for his second four-year term as mayor of New York City.

La Guardia was sworn into office shortly after midnight by Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook, who administered the oath to the mayor in 1919 when he was elected president of the now-defunct board of aldermen and again in 1926 when La Guardia triumphed over Tammany hall in his first mayoral race.

The brief ceremony was held at the home of Samuel Seabury, special prosecutor whose investigations resulted in the removal of former Mayor James J. Walker.
Almost at the same time, Thomas E. Dewey, prosecutor-elect of New York county, was sworn in by Judge Charles C. Holt, jr., senior judge of the court of special sessions. Dewey, Michigan man who broke New York records as special prosecutor for the federal government, became the first prosecutor in 20 years to win an election as an independent.

At the Hospital
Darlene Werner, Twin Falls, was admitted to the hospital. Those dismissed were Irene Olson, Gooding; Sara Bradshaw and Leroy Johnson, Twin Falls.

TERMED MOST EXPENSIVE YEAR IN FILM HISTORY

ZOLA NAMED AS BEST PICTURE BY HOLLYWOOD MAN

Says Top Performance of '37 Was Given By Tracy in 'Captains Courageous'

By PAUL HARRISON (NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD Jan. 1—Figure it any way you like—1937 was a terrific and in some ways a colossal year for the movies.

Certainly it was the most expensive 12 months in flicker history. When a studio feels like spending $2,000,000 as Metro did on "Comque" to explain the relationship of Napoleon to his Polish mistress, you know that the days of Hollywood's fantastic profligacy are still with us.

It was the year in which Technicolor declared a dividend and David Selznick and Samuel Goldwyn said they'd never make an other black-and-white picture. Thus a bright (dimly bright) future is heralded for the screen.

Love Flew Out Windows Tender passion went out of style in 1937. It was the year of "Nothing Sacred," in which Fredric March hauled off and knocked Garbo Lombard as stiff as a poker.

This act was the climax of many slaps and kicks which romance has been receiving all over Hollywood. By and large, it was a year of better pictures.

Next March the Academy awards for 1937 will be voted by some 15,000 members of the Actors, Directors and Writers' Guild.

Harrison Chooses "Best" In making a selection of 1937 "bests," this correspondent will stick out his neck only far enough to try to guess the Academy prize-winners. For every selection, I expect to think of half a dozen alternatives and qualifications:

Best Picture of 1937: "The Life of Emile Zola," (Warner) Brothers. It has substance and power. It is so fine, structurally and technically, that it likely will draw individual prizes and honorable mentions to several of the people connected with its production.

Best Performance by an Actor: Spencer Tracy in "Captains Courageous." As Bastour, Paul Muni won this award last year, and he brings like-ly to capture it again with his Zola. Besides, there are many who consider the Zola role a natural. As Wang Lung in "The Good Earth," Muni did an infinitely more difficult piece of acting.

Only other performance likely to figure in the balloting is Robert Montgomery's lead in "Night Must Fall."

Best Performance by an Actress: Barbara Stanwyck in "Sicilia Dallas."

Most Beautiful Actress: Madeleine Carroll in "The Prisoner of Zenda."

Best Supporting Performance by an Actor: Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in "The Prisoner of Zenda."

Best Supporting Performance by an Actress: Andrea Leeds in "Blaze of Glory." This choice seems a certainty.

Best Direction: William Wyler, "Dead End." This is another long shot. Maybe William Dieterle will get the prize for "Zola," or Sidney Franklin for "The Good Earth."

Best Photography: Karl Freund, "The Good Earth."

Best Screen Play: Norman Krasna, "The Life of Emile Zola." Ever since the picture was released, most of Hollywood has raved over the brilliance of this script.

Best Musical: "On the Avenue," partly because of its Irving Berlin tunes, partly because the year brought few creditable tunes shows.

Best Screen: Spencer Tracy playing his peculiar first-cousin-in-law—either and telling Freddie Bartholomew about the special fishermen's heaven.

Mayo clinic and leading medical science laboratories and institutions of the nation will exhibit at San Francisco's 1938 Cotton Gate International Exposition.

Most Beautiful Actress

Chosen for a place of honor in the 1937 review of Hollywood is film actress Madeleine Carroll. Her role in "The Prisoner of Zenda," clinched her rating as "The Most Beautiful Actress."

I. B. Perrine Says Western Program Will Publicize Twin Falls Area

Program concerning Idaho and the development of the Twin Falls territory which will be heard on Pacific coast stations Sunday afternoon, Jan. 9, will "prove of much benefit to the state," in the opinion of I. B. Perrine, pioneer of Twin Falls and one of the founders of the tract.

The work in the early days of Twin Falls will play a featured part during the presentation, Mr. Perrine has been informed by officials of the Dan B. Miller Advertising company, program sponsor.

"Such advertising of this territory, with so many thousands of persons listening in, will prove of great benefit to Idaho and especially the Twin Falls section," Mr. Perrine said this afternoon. He has been invited to attend the presentation as a guest but today said he did not know whether or not he would be able to make the trip.

The presentation will be heard over the Don Lee broadcasting system Jan. 9 at 4:30 p. m. (AMST) and outlets will include KOI of Seattle and KING of Tacoma. It will originate in Los Angeles, being known as the "Reunion of the States" program.

Carl Bassett, evangelist, trombonist, chalk artist and world traveler, will lead a series of evangelistic meetings in the Buhl Baptist church starting Sunday, according to Rev. Earl R. Berg, pastor. Mr. Bassett will speak nightly at 7:30 p. m. except Saturday. He will play his trombone and lead his own song service. One colored picture will be a feature each evening, illustrating a gospel song.

90,000 PACK STANDS FOR ROSE BOWL GAME

Scalpers Ask $50 For Tickets to Pasadena Classic

California's Bears Fight 2 to 1 Favorites as Game-Time Nears

By HENRY McLEMORE

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 1 (UP)—Amidst pomp and pageantry the Golden Bears of California and the Crimson Tide of Alabama will meet today for the pelf and prestige that goes with the victory in the Tournament of Roses football game.

When the kick-off time comes at 3:15 (MST) a monster throng of nearly 90,000 will be packed in the Rose Bowl stadium, pitched deep in Pasadena's historic Arroyo Seco.

Every seat was taken even before the tickets were printed, and there was no public sale. Thousands of the gaily embossed pasteboards fell in the hands of scalpers, and today the speculators were demanding as high as $50 for a pair inside the 40-yard lines.

Gate receipts of today's game will approach the $200,000 mark, and win or lose, the combatants were assured of making a rich haul. It is estimated that the game will bring in $100,000 to $150,000 in its coffers.

The remainder of the intake will belong to the Tournament of Roses.

Betting Odds
The promise of fair weather had a decided effect on the betting odds. California, a 3 to 1 favorite as recently as two days ago when the forecast hinted that New Year's day might come up mud, was not better than 2 to 1 early today and probably will shorten to 10 to 1 before play begins.

Alabama is at its best on a lightning fast gridiron, and its worst in heavy rain.

One of the lightest teams ever to come to the Rose Bowl, the boys from Dixie place chief reliance on deception and forward passing.

Coach Frank Thomas is reported to regret the fact that he doesn't believe his men can more against California's line, and will throw the ball around.

California will go to the post with the same eleven stalwarts who have started all of its games this year.

These eleven rookies comprise what many critics consider the strongest first team ever produced on the coast, not excepting southern California's man-billies of the early thirties.

Teams at Top Strength
The teams will start at top strength. Each had an injured player a week ago, but the casualties reported ill for days today. Monksy, Sanna's crack guard who suffered a deep cut over his left eye in a scrimmage on route from Tusculona, will again be in shape.

White, the nation's No. 1 football ace, and Ken Ryan, also an All-American.

White's star track man in addition to his football prowess. He set the 440-yard R.M.C. record, and held the 220 all-time record at his school.

In Ag Honor
The new instructor is a member of the national honorary vocation agriculture fraternity. For the past three years he has been an assistant ranger at Estes national park.

REPEATED ROLE
Because she didn't want to hurt the feelings of Tommy Maxwell, Jr., her former playboy husband, Marjorie didn't play a part in the wedding of the actress and her new husband.

Buhl Cagers Win
BUHL, Jan. 1 (Special)—Staging a thrilling last period rally, the Buhl Collegiate defeated Castelford Americans here in a closely fought basketball game.

Mac Finds Sportswriting a Burdensome Job
By HENRY McLEMORE
PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 1 (UP)—Overwork of course, is the burden the Pasadena sportswriter has to carry. I don't suppose any profession, unless it be that of baseball umpiring, places such a premium on stamina and the will to carry on past human endurance. Sports writing is no exception.

Right behind overwork as a burden ranks friendship. Yes, friendship. Now I know that friendship stands high among man's blessings, and it is placed above scrambled eggs and bacon on some lists. Still, I find it burdensome.

Let me use today's Rose Bowl game as an illustration. Alabama is coached by Frank Thomas, an old friend of mine, and one of the sweetest characters you ever showed a guard how to guard, and a quarterback how to quarterback. I've played golf with Tommy, shot quail with Tommy, and he's a pal of mine.

But I have to be a sportswriter. I think I want to see Tommy's game. I don't want to see how much he wants a win, and how long that ride back to Tusculona will be for him.

But wait a minute—California is coached by Stubby Allain.

There's another right fellow for you. I haven't known him as long as I've known Tommy, but Stubby is the sort of fellow you want to be in a hurry. Sincere, honest, tolerant, and with a sense of humor that sees football for what it is—a great game for boys to play, and Stubby's team plays for fun as well as keeps. They like it, Stubby likes it, and that's what counts. That's why I like it, because there isn't a bigger game that a coach can win than that you play, but they'll tear you apart in the spirit and not the letter of the rule book, so you know what a sportswriter gets into.

I've talked to Tommy, I've talked to Stubby, I've talked to the Bears and I've talked to the Tide. They all want that game and after knowing them you want them all to have it.

Dartmouth Takes Slalom, Cross-Country Races

BRADLEY AND CHIVERS LEAD TEAM TO WINS
SUN VALLEY, Jan. 1 (UP)—Dartmouth's ski stars today held a solid lead over the University of Washington at the east-west collegiate ski tournament entered the downhill races and jumping events.

Stevie Bradley, of Dartmouth, dashed down the 1,600-yard Rund mountain slalom course yesterday to defeat four teammates and six Washington men. He took the course with its 700-foot drop twice in a total elapsed time of 3:43.8.

The cross country run today morning, in which all five Dartmouth men finished ahead of the four Washington entries, put the easterners into a lead they never relinquished despite the absence of Dick Durance, Olympic star, who was out with an ankle injury.

Pastest heat in the slalom event was by Warren Chivers, Dartmouth, who turned the awaiting course in 1:47.7. Otis Lamson, of Washington, was third in the total elapsed time down the 4 1/2-mile course.

In yesterday's cross-country event, back luck beset the Washington team. Walt Page, leader of the three teams at the Aggie institution, was held out of the race by a cramp.

Howard Chivers, Dartmouth, won the race in 45:27.02 for the nine-mile route with his teammates Dave Bradley and Warren Chivers, close behind.

60,000 to See East-West Benefit Game
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1 (UP)—Hand-picked college teams, representing eastern and western United States and including at least ten All-Americans meet at Kezar stadium today in the annual east-west Shrine charity game played for the benefit of San Francisco's crippled children.

Sixty thousand persons were expected to see the game.

The east team, co-coached by Bernie Bierman of University of Minnesota and Andy Kerr of Colgate, was favored over the west team, tutored by Bill Jones of Nebraska and Babe Hollingbery of Washington State.

President Roosevelt will give the signal for the game to start by touching a telegraph key in Washington, which will begin a 21-gun salute.

The east's team, dotted profusely with star from Fordham's and Pittsburgh's great squads, appeared a powerful, evenly-balanced eleven.

The west's backfield lineup brings together Joe "Grey Ghost" Gray of Oregon State, Alvin Popovich, majority of University of Montana's improved team, George Karamalis, Gonzaga's main spring, and Elmer Kolberg, Ory's running mate at Oregon State. Any of these boys might run away with the ball game.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman, General Motors Corp.-We are in recession in fact-indeed in both scope and magnitude. The situation may well develop into a depression, serious more from the standpoint of duration than amplitude.

Food Consumption
Clarence Francis, president, General Foods Corp.-Food consumption in 1937 shows approximately that of 1937. Correction of the tax situation, as indicated by the present pulse of congress, cannot but help all industry in 1938.

The present period of recession, permitting certain necessary corrections in commodity prices and inventories which grew too rapidly in 1937, may last through the first quarter, but no longer.

1937 GOOD YEAR FOR HOLLANDERS

Country United on Policy; Four-Year Economic Crisis Passes

AMSTERDAM (AP)—This year was one of the brightest for Holland since the end of the war.

After four years the economic crisis came to an end.

General elections showed that the country was being led by a government of economy inaugurated by Doctor Collin.

The country's trade balance became increasingly favorable.

The succession to the throne was assured by the marriage of popular Princess Juliana, only daughter of the late King Willem III, and Bernhard von Lippe-Biesterfeld on Jan. 7. Princess Juliana announced over the radio that she was expecting the birth of a child.

Army Needs Modernization

The black spot in the year was the need for the modernization of the army because of the rearmament of the major European powers.

The building of the Magnat line along the eastern frontier was being completed. Belgium fortresses right up to the most southeastern point of the Dutch frontier equipped. Holland's army was stationed for the immediate defense of the eastern frontier.

The air force was strengthened by 12,000 men and the latest Fokker fighters, while the ground force was equipped with Vickers-Armstrong anti-aircraft guns. The infantry was fitted out with anti-tank guns.

OUTLOOK IS PROMISING

In Furniture Industry GRAND RAPIDS GETS

The outlook in the furniture industry is the most promising in several months, according to Charles F. Campbell, president of the Grand Rapids Furniture exposition.

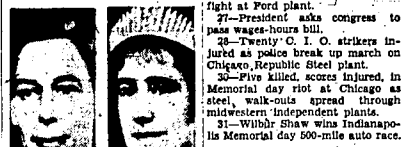

"Furniture business has been at a low ebb for many months," Campbell said. "The various recent furniture market was probably the poorest of recent years as far as order books are concerned. The people who attended the November show left the impression they would return in the January show to make heavy business."

No price increases are likely in the January market, Campbell said.

TEXAS TO HAVE MORE SHEEP

LUDBROOK, Tex. (AP)—A record number of sheep, probably reaching a total of 300,000, will be packed here by the Texas State Wool Growers' Association, according to county officials. Nearly 200,000 animals are being fed, and many more are not yet reported.

RUBINSON MONROE GOWAN MOSCOW 6/11/37—The Russian people mark the 42nd anniversary of the sports activities of the oldest Russian athlete, A. F. Pedersen, Lohse. He is 71 but he still takes part in contests.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

"WASPER" A BLACK BEAR AT COPELAND LAKE LODGE, ROCKY MT. NATIONAL PARK, DRINKS AS MANY AS THREE DOZEN BOTTLES OF POP IN A SINGLE DAY.

AN EARTHQUAKE CAUSES TREMORS OVER THE EARTH IN THE SAME MANNER THAT A STONE DROPPED INTO A POOL CAUSES WAVES TO TRAVEL OVER THE SURFACE.

STARCH, SUGAR, AND CREAM, USED IN MAKING ICE CREAM, ARE HEAT PRODUCING FUEL FOODS.

Earth-waves, set up by an earthquake, are of three types, two of which travel through the earth, while the third travels along the surface. Scientists know the speed with which these waves travel, and are able to determine the location of the quake.
