INTERPRETS FDR MESSAGE TO ASK CHANGE IN LAW

Says Act Should Place Great Responsibility on U. S. Labor Unions

By C. L. SULZBERGER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—Senate Minority Leader Charles L. McNary, Ore., said today that he believed President Roosevelt's message to congress had implied desire to amend the Wagner labor relations act and to place greater responsibility upon labor unions. His interpretation of the President's message coincided with moves to change the disputed statute. It also revived threats of further party schism and a legislative battle between the forces of the American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization.

Sen. Royal S. Copeland, D. N. Y., announced that he would introduce a series of amendments to the Wagner act "within a few days." They will recommend a federal law requiring incorporation of unions.

Chairman Elbert D. Thomas, D. Utah, of the senate labor committee, said that he would oppose any attempt to amend the Wagner act. McNary based his interpretation on the President's address upon the following excerpt: "The ownership of vast properties or the organization of thousands of workers creates a heavy obligation of public service. The power should not be sought or exercised unless the responsibility is accepted as well."

McNary said that he thought Mr. Roosevelt implied the Wagner act should be amended in order to make employers and employees equally responsible.

The Contradictor McNary Contradicting McNary, Thomas said: "I did not understand the President in that way at all. I am very much against amendment at this time."

"There is nothing given to labor under the law which industry has already got."

"This is a very trying situation for a new institution and I think it would be much wiser to wait and see how it works out at the present time. It would be very unwise to amend the law right now."

Chairman Mary T. Norton of the house labor committee, said she would not oppose amending the act if it would strengthen it.

"The only objection I have heard raised to the bill is that it should have some provision for a fair hearing of both sides of a case," she said.

Wool Growers to Discuss Treaties, Rail Increases

BOISE, Ida., Jan. 4 (UP)—Relation of trade treaties and cost of transportation increases to Idaho's wool industry will be presented to growers at their 45th annual convention here Jan. 6-7-8, the Idaho wool growers bulletin said today.

The bulletin, official organ of the sheep industry—one of Idaho's largest endeavors from the financial and acreage points—said that "certain treaties" confronted the industry, meaning a probable increased production cost of from five to 20 cents per head.

At the convention, committees will be organized, each to study a certain phase of the industry in an effort to compile information and statistics which would bring about single analysis of the various problems said to be confronting sheep growers.

The "Sheep Operations" committees will study general operations, freight rates, marketing and promotion, cost of production, forest and Taylor grazing, wool marketing and advertising, and sheep diseases.

Speakers listed included E. R. Greenleaf, chief of range surveys for the grazing division of the Department of the Interior; W. E. Meyer, president of the federal intermediate credit bank; and R. C. Rich, national president of the Wool Growers' association.

In its current issue, the bulletin said that it was understood "reciprocal trade treaties will be considered not only for Great Britain but for the Argentine and Australia in the near future."

The bulletin urged unified support of western agriculture against such treaties, claiming that, since the Argentine had Australia has "nothing much to offer except wool and livestock," such commodities would be introduced in a manner which would strike at the "prices received for our livestock."

The bulletin said, "lower prices caused by importation of these products from foreign nations would mean the putting out of production in the state of Idaho conservatively half the land acreage paying taxes."

Concerning freight cost increases, the bulletin said, "there is no justification for our industry to stand additional freight charges now."

JAPAN REQUESTS AREA'S CONTROL

Officials Ask For Highest Positions in Government of Settlement

SHANGHAI, Jan. 4 (UP)—Japanese authorities demanded controlling positions in the municipal government council of the international settlement today because of repeated anti-Japanese terrorism.

Four Japanese officials made a strong protest to the council, attributing new attacks on Japanese soldiers by Chinese "red terrorists" to the inefficiency of settlement police.

A spokesman for the Japanese embassy said that the council promised to increase its efforts to curb anti-Japanese and agreed to take "the consideration and study of the Japanese request" for large representation in that body.

The embassy spokesman said that no similar request had been made to officials of the French concession which has a different legal status.

A request for control of Anti-Japanese newspapers referred to foreign-owned language as well as vernacular newspapers, he added.

Heicho Okamoto of the Japanese embassy pointed out, the spokesman said, that the "matter is of serious concern and regard that peace and order of the settlement was disturbed Jan. 1" by incidents similar to others in the past.

"Chinese soldiers and three Chinese civilians were injured Saturday when terrorists threw five hand grenades at a Japanese military procession and at Japanese soldiers guarding cotton and weaving mills."

PHEASANT CROP WORTH MILLIONS

South Dakota Reaps Total Of $25,000,000 in Birds From $20,000 Start

NEW YORK (Special)—Pheasants worth $25,000,000, wholesale price, have been harvested in South Dakota in the last seven years.

Returns from the 1937 shooting season, received by Fred Jordan, director of National Wildlife Restoration week, show how an original investment of $20,000 created a major industry in South Dakota.

Hunters take 2,000,000 pheasants annually in the state, and the cash value of the birds, set by commercial game breeders, represents a small part of the total annual income from sportsmen hunting the birds on South Dakota farmlands.

"Wildlife has three separate values," says Jordan, who is lining up an army of volunteers for National Wildlife week in March. "It is valuable as a source of recreation as an index to the condition of the land and as an immediate source of profit."

"There are 40,000,000 licensed sportsmen in the United States, according to government figures.

"Where wildlife flourishes, the land is not in danger. Exploitation of natural resources is invariably marked by the disappearance of wildlife."

Bower birds of Australia build playhouses and decorate them with sticks, picked flowers, bones, and shells. The different species of these birds show varying preferences in color schemes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—The federal communication commission's report to congress on the investigation of the five-billion-dollar American Telephone and Telegraph company may be submitted within the next three weeks, it was learned today when the commission reported on its activities for the last fiscal year.

The commission revealed that in the year ending last June 30, it forced 357 radio stations to discontinue operations because of lack of licenses.

WANTS CLEAN BILL GIVEN FOR WORK AT FEDERAL PROJECT; HITS NORRIS ACT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—Rep. A. J. May, D. Ky., of the military affairs committee, announced today that he planned to introduce a resolution in the house authorizing a congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

His statement followed the introduction in the senate yesterday of legislation by Sen. George W. Norris, Neb., "father" of the TVA, which would authorize the federal trade commission to conduct an inquiry into the work of the TVA and the reported dissensions among its directors.

"Senator Norris' resolution," May stated, "is a red herring across the trail of a smoldering scandal."

The cloak of secrecy that has hidden all the policies and actions of the TVA since its inception must be torn aside.

"TVA is on a hot spot. It is on the verge of unsavory disclosures. Sen. Norris' resolution would again pull the curtain of secrecy upon that scene."

HE SELLS 20 MILLION POUNDS OF TOBACCO A YEAR

Bob Cooper—tobacco auctioneer—tells why he, and other tobacco experts, prefer Luckies...

"I've been auctioneering for 20 years," says Mr. Cooper, "in Georgia, North Carolina and Tennessee... and I've seen the tobacco Lucky Strike buys at auction after auction. It's the best in smoking quality."

"Luckies suit my throat, too, as well as my taste. Even after trying out bids 7 hours a day, Luckies never bother my throat in the least." (Reason: the exclusive "Toasting" process expels certain irritants found in all tobacco.)

"In every section of the Tobacco Belt where I auctioneer," Mr. Cooper adds, "I've noticed tobacco men smoking Luckies."

Are you benefiting by the experience of the tobacco experts? Sworn records show that among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice, yes—twice, as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes combined.

1940 IS SET FOR BUDGET BALANCE

Last Year of Roosevelt Term Seen as First Possible Time to End Deficits

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—President Roosevelt has now set the last year of his second term as the earliest time in which the unprecedented series of deficits can be checked and the federal budget finally balanced. He will submit his 1940 budget to congress tomorrow.

There is an assurance of budget balance even in 1940. It appears reasonably certain now that the purely fiscal record of the two Roosevelt administrations will be an unprecedented series of treasury deficits.

Former President Hoover's administration started the treasury into the red in 1931. There have been deficits every year since then and Mr. Roosevelt informed congress yesterday that he had abandoned hope of balancing the 1939 fiscal year budget.

Mr. Roosevelt proposes now that the nation shall accustom itself to annual federal expenditures of approximately $7,000,000,000. He believes existing tax structures, even assuming modification to relieve business, easily would raise that sum and provide not only for all federal expenses but for debt retirement, as well.

That belief is predicated on Mr. Roosevelt's confidence that his New Deal policies will increase the national income, upon which taxpayers pay taxes, from the current $68,000,000 to $90,000,000, or $100,000,000. On the basis of the higher national income tax revenue easily would aggregate $7,000,000,000.

Souvenir Garters

DURHAM, South Africa—Many South African girls are wearing souvenirs of the British navy in the form of garters bearing names of units of the fleet. A sailor aboard the Amphion, which recently visited Durban, is responsible for the new fad. He made the garters out of talley ribbons and sold them to his mates, who gave them to girls.

H. S. Fully Accredited

Davis Answers Inquiries By Several Residents

"Twin Falls high school is a fully accredited high school with the state association, and the Northwestern association of secondary and higher schools," Supt. Homer M. Davis said today following inquiries made by interested citizens.

Graduates of Twin Falls high school, providing they have purchased the proper courses and have met the necessary scholastic standards of a "C" average are eligible to enter any state school and private institutions without taking an entrance examination. The only exceptions to this rule are those which require that all prospective students take a college board examination and a few special and technical schools that require special specifications.

In speaking of the accreditation Davis said these are the only rating agencies in this district and serve the same as the other state associations and in cooperation with the five other grading districts in the United States.

...goes with IRON FIREMAN Automatic Coal Burner

There is something about an "original" or "genuine" article which in itself inspires pride of ownership. Iron Fireman is such an article. It is the machine that made coal an automatic fuel. It is the pioneer in the industry; the outstanding leader, the standard of value wherever automatic coal firing is considered. The strong manufacturer which makes Iron Fireman and the trained dealers who sell and service it, consider that their relations to users has only begun when Iron Fireman is installed. This service responsibility added to Iron Fireman reputation for performance, gives owners a real basis for the pride of ownership which they feel.

WHEAT GAINS ON FOREIGN MARKET

CHICAGO, Jan. 4 (UP)—Sensational advances at Liverpool, Winnipeg and Buenos Aires credited bullish enthusiasm on the Chicago board of trade today and when futures advanced.
At the close wheat was 2 1/2 to 3 cents higher, corn 1 1/2 to 2 cents higher, and oats 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher.
Prices fluctuated in a fairly narrow range after opening 2 to 2 1/2 cents higher. Broader outside interest in the early session here buying absorbed professional selling in the May contract, but there was profit taking on the bulge.
Volume increased an early activity. Overnight export business in excess of 1,500,000 bushels ended the early session.
Corn prices advanced in sympathy with wheat. Cash interests solid and pressure tended to swell when resting orders were met near the top.

BLOC PLANS LEGISLATION TO BOOST PRICE OF SILVER

McCARRAN HOPES TO SET COST AT $1.29 PER OUNCE

Pittman Sees Relief as More Expensive Than Bonus on Western Metal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., today announced preliminary plans for the congressional silver bloc to inaugurate legislation for reauthorization of silver at $1.29 an ounce. McCarran said that the bloc probably would meet shortly as a result of what he termed the "unwarranted and excessive" reduction of the price paid by the treasury for domestic silver mined after from 77.57 to 64.94 cents an ounce.

McCarran and Sen. Key Pittman, D., Nev., expressed fears that the reduction would put many miners on relief. Pittman said "it could have been worse" and that the President would raise the price if, as he believed likely, the reduction costs the government more in WPA expenditures than would be saved by the reduction.

"The reduction means a saving of 17 1/2 per cent of the $12,000,000 annually which the program has cost," he said, "for about $30 per miner per year. On relief, it would cost the government around $600 per miner per year."

McCarran said that the action ordered by the President would "not only jeopardize the mining interests but business as well. It is not action that is conducive to better business."

"The cut of 13 cents an ounce was discouraging and it is discouraging when that which should be a monetary metal is being made into a commodity."

"We expect soon to call the silver bloc to congress together and, in my opinion, we should have an out and out bill for reauthorization at $1.29 an ounce, that would be beneficial to the industry."

Pittman said that if the previous price of 77.57 cents an ounce was considered a bonus "it was the cheapest price that was ever offered off the relief rolls."

McCarran said that the silver proclamation could have been "in fact" that there could have been certain destructive of many mining operations. The only question now remaining is how many mines that are barely making expenses and depend upon the value of the silver associated with lead, copper, and zinc in the rock will be kept open or closed by reason of the reduction in the price of the American produced silver.

"It recalls that the inducement to the President to place the price of domestic silver above foreign silver was to end the London agreement. The London agreement expired at the end of last year and that inducement expired with it."

McCarran said that the President has established the new policy of continuing to coin American silver at a price to the American miner above the world price. He is happy that he has established the policy of giving protection to American miners the same as he has been giving it to agriculture and industry.

"It is possible that the experts of the treasury department were influenced by the violent eastern propaganda against what they called a bonus to silver. They seem to forget that the bonus to industry is the form of tariff, to agriculture in various forms. They fail to take into consideration that foreign silver in its production employs no American labor, buys no American material, and pays no taxes to local state, and federal government."

McCarran said that the action ordered by the President would "not only jeopardize the mining interests but business as well. It is not action that is conducive to better business."

Wedding bells were to ring in the New Year for Uldine Wiley, now 25, who won fame as a girl evangelist 10 years ago, above Eugene Langrop, of Oage City, Mo., with whom she is pictured above in New York City, courted her to matrimony. In 1923 she had confessed: "Marriage? If I were a man I wouldn't marry a woman preacher. They declaim too much."

Enough to Float a Warship— That's Domestic Water Here

Twin Falls Used More Than Billion Gallons During 1937; July Was Tops

Enough water, figuratively speaking, to float a couple of battleships and have plenty left over to give all the people of Twin Falls during 1937, water which totaled exactly 1,134,733,000 gallons, according to the yearly report of L. O. Satterlee, superintendent of the filtration plant.

The more than one billion gallons of water used during 1937, Satterlee said, went for every conceivable use and ranged from a high consumption of 129,801,000 during July to a low of 46,629,000 during December.

January Surprises
One interesting item on the report, Satterlee points out, is that total amount of water used during January ran extremely close to the amount used during each of the summer months.

During January of last year local citizens "drank" 101,160,000 gallons, despite the cold weather and resultant lack of lawn or garden sprinkling. Partial reason for this, it is believed, is that persons left faucets open each night in order that pipes would not freeze.

Following is the official water consumption, month by month, for 1937:

Month	Gallons
January	101,160,000
February	86,180,000
March	75,190,000
April	62,280,000
May	102,291,000
June	127,844,000
July	129,801,000
August	121,920,000
September	109,276,000
October	77,858,000
November	70,121,000
December	46,629,000

KANSAS CITY TIMES: By contrast with some of the temperate liturgies from New Deal sources in the last few days, President Roosevelt's address to congress was mild in manner and content. . . . But when he comes to a diagnosis of the existing depression and methods to bring us out of the slump into continued and gratingly, he certainly lets the people down. . . .

CINCINNATI ENQUIRER: The President's message to congress, apart from an admirable survey of foreign affairs quite unrelated to its main content, was essentially a clarification of the viewpoint he has maintained for five years. . . . The sober Blaine could not fail to realize that the administration will be pointed toward a repetition of the disastrous experiments of 1933 and 1934.

REBEL OFFENSIVE ON TERUEL HALTS
Grim Battle at Salamanca As Point of Exhaustion Ends Advances

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, Jan. 4 (UP)—The grim battle between Spanish nationalists and loyalists for the city of Teruel reached a momentary stalemate today.

Dispatches indicated that the nationalist offensive had stopped. For six days the pick of the nationalist and loyalist armies had fought in snow and ice, ill-fed, ill-clothed, and with the risk of death from artillery, machine guns, and airplanes. It was indicated that the point of absolute exhaustion was reached yesterday and that fresh troops must be sent into the line to carry on.

Reports seemed to feel that even if the nationalists did succeed now in recapturing Teruel, which was taken from them a few days before Christmas, the long-held plans for a gigantic drive to cut Valence, from Barcelona, and Madrid from both, must be abandoned.

The drive by winds that shrieked through the hilly country, turned the roads to slush and ice, and added to the misery of the men in the front lines. They could not find fresh horses and the few would be targets for artillery. They could get food only haphazardly.

2ND OF CONCERT SERIES IS JAN. 6

Dorothy Crawford to Present Impersonations; Pianist To Assist

Dorothy Crawford, brilliant character impersonator and Marcus Gordon, pianist, will be heard here Thursday evening in a program opening at 8:30 p. m. at the Methodist church as the second of the Community Concert association series of the winter. Doors will be open at 8 p. m.

Born in Portland

Miss Crawford was born in Portland. Her early schooling in San Francisco brought out unusual writing ability, and later she went to New York to develop under the tuition of Rubin Goldmark her very marked talent for dramatic composition. It was when she was engaged to direct the music for a group in experimental acting that she discovered her dramatic gifts.

She played many roles, ranging from the heaviest of tragedy to the lightest of comedy, with equal success. After this her ultimate career seemed to unfold and her writing, her music and her acting converged into a unique one-woman entertainment.

10 Characters
She played 10 widely different characters the night of her debut and the San Francisco critics were unanimous in their praise. But the young artist was anything but satisfied and mapped out for herself certain months in which to fill recital engagements, leaving others free for study, research and writing.

Miss Crawford has, up to this season, confined her appearances mainly to the Pacific coast on account of the many demands for her services there, including return engagements. For instance, she has the distinction of having appeared for one organization in Oakland, Calif., five times.

Program Numbers
Program numbers will be: "Schatz-Waltzer" (Sweetheart Waltz), Strauss-Dohnanyi; "Mr. Gordon; Home from the Front," Miss Crawford; "Widmung" (Dedication), Schumann-Liszt, Mr. Gordon; "The Music Teacher," Miss Crawford; "Nielsen, Händeliana," arranged by Marcus Gordon; "Coffee in the Drawing Room—1800," Miss Crawford; Intermission.

"Ballo del Ballo-Notturno," Turina-Respighi, Mr. Gordon; "Fisherman's Wharf at San Francisco," Miss Crawford; "Island Oriental," "Ave Maria," Schubert, Mrs. Whyatt; "A Studio Evening," Miss Crawford.

Unusual Program
Dorothy Crawford, who will present original character sketches assisted by a concert pianist Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at the Methodist church. The program is the second of the winter's series sponsored by the Community Concert association.

In the evening a union service will be held in which all evangelical churches of Rupert and the Methodist church of Burley participated. With Mrs. T. R. Nelson, teacher of the Pipe Organ; by Mrs. T. R. Nelson; vocal solo, "Not a Sparrow Faleth," Gilbert, George Catmull, head of the music department in the local high school; organ solo, "The Pilgrim's Song of Hope; Battie, and "Largo," Mrs. T. R. Nelson; short talk on "The Origin and Growth of the Pipe Organ" by Mrs. T. R. Nelson; vocal solo, "Calvary," Rodney, George Catmull; violin solo, "Meditation," Massenet, Renaud Nelson; benediction, Dr. Hertzig.

A voluntary offering of over $100 was given at Sunday's services.

RUPERT CHURCH INSTALLS ORGAN
Impressive Dedication Rites Conducted By Methodist Congregation

RUPERT, Jan. 4 (Special)—With Dr. H. W. Hertzig, Twin Falls, district superintendent of the Methodist church, giving the main address, the new Kimball pipe organ, recently purchased by the local Methodist Episcopal church, was formally dedicated Sunday with impressive services. Special music was provided in the morning by the reformed choir and by Mrs. R. D. Armstrong, soloist, with Mrs. W. D. Boydston at the organ.

In the evening a union service was held in which all evangelical churches of Rupert and the Methodist church of Burley participated. With Mrs. T. R. Nelson, teacher of the Pipe Organ; by Mrs. T. R. Nelson; vocal solo, "Not a Sparrow Faleth," Gilbert, George Catmull, head of the music department in the local high school; organ solo, "The Pilgrim's Song of Hope; Battie, and "Largo," Mrs. T. R. A voluntary offering of over $100 was given at Sunday's services.

Old Coins Again Arouse Interest
After a lull during the holidays, coins again seem to be coming to the fore in local interest and this afternoon J. M. Todd, Twin Falls, showed several more or less rare pieces to the Evening Times.

Included in Mr. Todd's display was a three-cent piece dated 1879 which shows the head of Liberty facing the opposite direction from present-day coins. Also, Liberty has long hair when she appears on a half-cent piece dated in 1854. On the reverse side of the same piece are the figures one two-hundredths.

An 1846 penny, an 1875 20-cent piece and an 1858 half-dime were also displayed by Mr. Todd.

PER CAPITA FIRE LOSS GOES DOWN
Blazes During Past Year in Twin Falls Cost $8,875, Chief Reports

Figured on a basis of the present estimated population of the city, Twin Falls' per capita fire loss for 1937 amounted to approximately 74 cents, figures compiled by Fire Chief Fred Perry show. The per capita loss is several cents below that of 1936.

Actual fire damage during the year, the chief's report approved last night at the regular city council meeting shows, amounted to $8,875. All but $350 was covered by insurance. Number of fires during the year totaled 68 while 3,500 inspections were made and nine fire drills were held in each school of the city.

During December, a monthly report submitted by the chief reveals six alarms were answered.

About the time of Charles I, a huge quaking custard was placed on the table at feasts in England. A jester, upon signal, jumped into the custard first, splashing it into the faces of the astonished feasters.

During a 1931 Ohio hallstom, doubts fell to earth, and scientists have been unable to figure where they came from.

For six days the pick of the nationalist and loyalist armies had fought in snow and ice, ill-fed, ill-clothed, and with the risk of death from artillery, machine guns, and airplanes. It was indicated that the point of absolute exhaustion was reached yesterday and that fresh troops must be sent into the line to carry on.

Reports seemed to feel that even if the nationalists did succeed now in recapturing Teruel, which was taken from them a few days before Christmas, the long-held plans for a gigantic drive to cut Valence, from Barcelona, and Madrid from both, must be abandoned.

The drive by winds that shrieked through the hilly country, turned the roads to slush and ice, and added to the misery of the men in the front lines. They could not find fresh horses and the few would be targets for artillery. They could get food only haphazardly.

2ND OF CONCERT SERIES IS JAN. 6

Dorothy Crawford to Present Impersonations; Pianist To Assist

Dorothy Crawford, brilliant character impersonator and Marcus Gordon, pianist, will be heard here Thursday evening in a program opening at 8:30 p. m. at the Methodist church as the second of the Community Concert association series of the winter. Doors will be open at 8 p. m.

Born in Portland

Miss Crawford was born in Portland. Her early schooling in San Francisco brought out unusual writing ability, and later she went to New York to develop under the tuition of Rubin Goldmark her very marked talent for dramatic composition. It was when she was engaged to direct the music for a group in experimental acting that she discovered her dramatic gifts.

She played many roles, ranging from the heaviest of tragedy to the lightest of comedy, with equal success. After this her ultimate career seemed to unfold and her writing, her music and her acting converged into a unique one-woman entertainment.

10 Characters
She played 10 widely different characters the night of her debut and the San Francisco critics were unanimous in their praise. But the young artist was anything but satisfied and mapped out for herself certain months in which to fill recital engagements, leaving others free for study, research and writing.

Miss Crawford has, up to this season, confined her appearances mainly to the Pacific coast on account of the many demands for her services there, including return engagements. For instance, she has the distinction of having appeared for one organization in Oakland, Calif., five times.

Program Numbers
Program numbers will be: "Schatz-Waltzer" (Sweetheart Waltz), Strauss-Dohnanyi; "Mr. Gordon; Home from the Front," Miss Crawford; "Widmung" (Dedication), Schumann-Liszt, Mr. Gordon; "The Music Teacher," Miss Crawford; "Nielsen, Händeliana," arranged by Marcus Gordon; "Coffee in the Drawing Room—1800," Miss Crawford; Intermission.

Old Coins Again Arouse Interest
After a lull during the holidays, coins again seem to be coming to the fore in local interest and this afternoon J. M. Todd, Twin Falls, showed several more or less rare pieces to the Evening Times.

Included in Mr. Todd's display was a three-cent piece dated 1879 which shows the head of Liberty facing the opposite direction from present-day coins. Also, Liberty has long hair when she appears on a half-cent piece dated in 1854. On the reverse side of the same piece are the figures one two-hundredths.

An 1846 penny, an 1875 20-cent piece and an 1858 half-dime were also displayed by Mr. Todd.

Blazes During Past Year in Twin Falls Cost $8,875, Chief Reports

Figured on a basis of the present estimated population of the city, Twin Falls' per capita fire loss for 1937 amounted to approximately 74 cents, figures compiled by Fire Chief Fred Perry show. The per capita loss is several cents below that of 1936.

During December, a monthly report submitted by the chief reveals six alarms were answered.

About the time of Charles I, a huge quaking custard was placed on the table at feasts in England. A jester, upon signal, jumped into the custard first, splashing it into the faces of the astonished feasters.
