Administration Forces Bottle Up War Referendum

SOUTH SENATORS CONTINUE BATTLE ON LYNCHING ACT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (UP)—Administration forces today bottled up the Ludlow war referendum amendment for the remainder of this session of congress.

While this action was being taken in the house by a vote of 209 to 168 against bringing the amendment to the floor, the senate continued in deadlocked filibuster over the anti-lynching bill.

The veteran Mississippi Democrat pleaded with senate Democrats not to "knife" the southern states before the consequences may be momentous.

In pigeon-holing the Ludlow amendment the house heeded a request from the president that the resolution would cripple the President in conduct of foreign affairs and lead other nations to believe they could better assert their rights with impunity.

Need of World Silver Agreement No Longer Exists, Says Authority

SEES NO CHANGE IN U. S. POLICY IN FOREIGN MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Terms of the international silver pact does not necessarily mean a change in the United States silver policy because need for such agreement "presumably" no longer existed, Handy & Harman, bullion dealer, said.

The review of silver, under the new pact, would be a complete one, it was said, but would not be more than a review of the amount of silver required by the United States purchase act.

Treasury officials, however, estimated at 317,300,000 ounces its holdings at the close of 1937 were estimated at 2,176,000,000 ounces, of which 1,111,000,000 ounces were required by the silver purchase act.

Figured at 45 cents an ounce, the treasury note for silver of foreign origin, the U. S. holdings at the end of 1937 were worth $376,665,000. The metal cost the treasury more, because the price paid for domestic refined metal was 77.57 cents an ounce until Dec. 31 when it was lowered by Presidential decree to 64.6 cents.

Fluctuation Narrowed

The review showed that fluctuation of the international United States silver price in 1937—2 cents an ounce—was the narrowest on record. In 1936, the authority said, the market was a colorful affair with the United States policy dominating the market and holding quotations steady.

While the dealers "hoped" that policy would be continued, the forecast from any attempt to forecast because the United States "admittedly" was on a 24-hour silver basis.

The official price of silver in 1937—that paid by the treasury for foreign metal—fluctuated between 46 1/2 cents and 48 1/2 cents and averaged 44 1/2 cents. The 1936 average was 45.97 cents, 1935 average 64.23 cents and the 1932 depression low average 27.82 cents an ounce.

Production Record

World production of silver for the year was reported at a new record of 216,000,000 ounces, against the former peak of 261,000,000 ounces in 1929. Of the total the U. S. produced 49,000,000 ounces; Mexico 88,000,000; Canada 24,300,000; South America 23,300,000; and all other countries 66,000,000 ounces.

The arts and industries in the United States and Canada used 31,500,000 ounces of silver during the year, an increase of nearly 20 percent. India absorbed 58,000,000 ounces, against 100,000,000 in 1935 and between 5,000,000 and 15,000,000 ounces each for the four preceding years. China exported 253,000,000 ounces in the first 11 months of the year, of which about 200,000,000 ounces still are in London for safe keeping.

W. W. Conner, Seattle, will be general chairman of the Northwest Aviation Planning council for its meeting to be held in Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 11 and 12. The meeting will be held in Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 11 and 12 and will be attended by aviation officials from over the United States and Canada with northwest states especially represented.

"Strict attention should be paid to the findings of these group meetings," Dean said, "and these same findings should be put into practice. The future of aviation depends on the cooperation received from officials such as attend these conferences."

Dean was one of the committee members of the last conference which was held in Boise last year. Several fliers from this section attended.

Appointment of W. W. Conner, Seattle, as general chairman was formerly vice president of the National Aeronautical association for the Pacific coast and at the present time is N. A. A. governor for the state of Washington.

It is possible, Dean said, that at least one flier from this section of Idaho will attend the conference although definite announcement will be made at a later date.

PILOTS URGED TO BOOST MEETING

Because aviation planning councils are as important to the promotion and success of aviation as the transportation of men and goods, Idaho pilots should do all in their power to make the coming winter meet a success, Lionel A. Dean, president of the Idaho Pilot's association, said here this afternoon.

The meeting will be held in Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 11 and 12 and will be attended by aviation officials from over the United States and Canada with northwest states especially represented.

RESCUE ATTEMPT ENDS WITH DEATH

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Idaho's second death to result from skating on frozen streams was reported here Sunday when Donald L. Letemendi, 23, drowned while trying to rescue two children who had gone through the ice in Julia Davis park. The two children reached shore safely, one of them by himself. The other was pulled out by his father.

Letemendi rushed to the aid of the children when the ice crumbled beneath them, and went through the ice himself. He was apparently stricken with cramps after plunging into the water, and disappeared. Artificial respiration was of no avail.

Charles Campbell, 18, of Nampa, drowned Friday in Lake Lowell after he went through the ice. His body was recovered Saturday in 40 feet of water.

Science Turns Normal Boy to Siamese Twin with Operation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—A 16-year-old boy allowed science to make him a Siamese twin today to enable a 13-year-old girl to become a normal human being.

An 18-inch tube of flesh made from Melvin Bonner and Clara Howard one individual. The operation linking the two Negro children, if successful, will enable surgeons to graft new skin on the body of the girl to replace flesh seared by a fire in North Carolina more than a year ago.

Watched Operation

Under a local anesthetic, the two children watched the operation. One end of John's flesh tube was severed from his body. An incision was made in the little girl's elbow. The fresh tube was inserted and their blood-streams intermingled.

Swathed in Bandages and Adhesive Tape

The children will be confined to bed until early next week. Then they will be allowed to leave their beds, but still will be joined by the tube of flesh. Perhaps in a few weeks, if the operation is successful and John's flesh joints that of the little girl, Dr. Moran will cut him loose.

Surgeons were able to replace a portion of the seared skin in grafting operations. But the major transfer of skin necessary to restore her to normalcy required linking her with a skin-donor to permit his blood stream to join with hers and enable a graft of 24 ounces of flesh.

Young Bonner volunteered. Since last November, the two children have been in emergency hospital preparing for the operation. Surgeons slit his side in a 18-inch cut, rolled the flesh into a tube and allowed the tube to hang loosely from his body, connected to his bloodstream only at its intermingling.

Searched by Fire

The girl was seared by the fire. Her flesh was burned so severely that doctors said she couldn't recover. She still received but the flames left her body a mass of scar tissue, so extensive that her right arm was joined to her body.

DO COW-PUNCHERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCO'S?

TED YOCHUM was born and raised in the cattle country. Speaking from personal observation, Ted says: "Cow-punchers are great Camel smokers. Seems like if a man smokes Camels once—he sticks to 'em. Come round-up time—I'm in the saddle for hours, and not sparin' myself, a Camel sure hits the spot then. I get a mighty pleasant 'lift.'"

Yes, and to America at large, Camel's costlier tobaccos have such a special appeal that they are the largest-selling cigarette in this country!

AUTO MECHANIC Al Peterson says: "In the garage business you can't have to catch your meals on the run. I find that Camels are so smooth the way for good digestion. The Mrs. Camels too!"

CHIEF SIGNALMAN John Geraghty: "You don't have to be a railroad man to know that speed and safety—our watchwords—call for healthy nerves. I smoke plenty. Camels don't jangle my nerves."

PERSONAL SHOPPER Irene Blaw-wood says: "I guess every woman knows how hectic shopping is. I'm up against that six days a week. When I'm fatigued, I light up a Camel. It helps me to snap back."

PHARMACIST J. E. Hayes says: "I get in a lot of Camel smoking. And when I say I never tire of Camel's taste—it's experience talking."

CHAMPION TYPIST Items Poulson: "I enjoy Camels from one end of the day to the other. And Camels are so mild, they don't irritate my throat."

Cupid Breaks Up Their Marriage

That there can be too much of even such a good thing as love was indicated when blond Mary Cady, left, 28, sued her husband, Glenn, 34, a sturdy Chicago bookkeeping instructor, for separate maintenance on charges that he was too affectionate, and sought kisses morning, noon, and night in the parlor, kitchen and even on a Florida beach. Cady denied his wife's charges and filed a cross bill for divorce. Both charged cruelty.

OFFICIALS FAVOR SAFETY PROGRAM

SAN FRANCISCO (Special)—The new year is ushered in with the governors, highway officials and school departments of seven western states in a concerted effort to advance the American Red Cross campaign to prevent accidents, thereby saving thousands of lives. A. L. Schaefer, Red Cross manager in the Pacific area, announced today.

Home from conferences with governors and other state officials, Mr. Schaefer said that he had found each state 100 per cent in its cooperation. There is a definite movement in the several states to have the highway patrols and the highway maintenance trucks and crews serve as Red Cross mobile first aid units, supplementing the hundreds of fixed first aid stations.

School authorities see the value of having the drivers of all school buses trained in Red Cross first aid methods to render greater service to the children during emergencies also, Mr. Schaefer said.

Ball in Fossil Area

COALINGA, Calif. (UP)—In a region here where skeletons of mastodons and other prehistoric animals have been unearthed, the strangest excavation has been made. It is a pool ball still bearing the number 14. It has been identified as coming from Coalinga's first pool ball some time before 1900.

Not Too Glad to Be 80—

Though recipient of a merry birthday embrace from Granddaughter Nancy Boatright Senator Carter Glass of Virginia wasn't too happy about reaching his 80th year. He announced that he regrets "having to see such revolutionary changes in the administration of a once democratic government." It was Nancy's birthday, too, and his daughter's wedding anniversary, jointly celebrated at their Washington home.

PENSION AT 21 URGED FOR ALL

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP)—Albert S. Falk says he has visited every state in the union except Nevada and Arizona, spreading the gospel of his plan for a pension of $20 to $50 a month for all persons 21 years of age and over.

Falk explained that his original plan favored the pension for unemployed persons only, but a survey of Tennessee and the south resulted in the conclusion that working people also need the money, due to the low wages.

He estimated the plan would cost $25,000,000,000, and perhaps more, annually. The money would be raised by the federal government through a 2 per cent transaction tax and additional income taxes.

My plan would put an end to breadlines," Falk said. He explained that his knowledge of breadlines was first hand, since he had been private secretary to the late James Eads How, "millionaire hobo," for more than a year.

The "pension-for-all" advocate journeys over the country in an old motor car arranged like a covered wagon. Falk has been a paperhanger, tailor, knight of the road, and light-rope and loose wire walker.

CANADIANS FIND TOURISTS 'DUMB'

VANCOUVER (UP)—Vancouver hotel clerks are of the opinion that Americans knew very much less about Canada than Canadians know about the United States.

Among classic examples is the story of a young and apparently well-educated American who, on booking a room here remarked to the man behind the desk—"You are English, aren't you?"

"No," replied the clerk. "What makes you think I am?" "You speak English remarkably well for a Canadian," he replied. "I thought all Canadians talked French!"

An American woman, staying at the same hotel, told the clerk that she had the whole afternoon to spare and was thinking of exploring the neighborhood. "As a matter of fact," she added, "I may pop over to see these Dionne quintuplets, but I must be back in time for dinner!" (The home of the quintuplets is more than 2,000 miles from Vancouver.)

"After the show," said a middle-aged American woman returning from the theater, "everyone stood up while the orchestra played a tune. It sounded like a hymn or something, but I couldn't understand why people should want hymns on a Monday." (She had heard "God Save the King.")

A man returning to Seattle from Victoria (the capital of British Columbia) referred to the parliament building as the finest town hall he had ever seen.

The pulse of an adult is 70-75 beats a minute.
