Death Ends Career of Harvey Firestone, Tire Magnate

VETERAN OF 70 FOUND DEAD AT FLORIDA ESTATE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7 (UP)—Harvey S. Firestone, sr., tire manufacturer, died at his winter home here today. He was 70 years of age.

Firestone was found dead in bed. He had been in apparently good health, according to members of the household.

The body will be taken to Akron, O., for burial. Firestone, who was born in Columbiana county, Ohio, Dec. 20, 1868, organized the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, his chief enterprise, in Akron, in 1900.

The firm began with 17 employees, rapidly expanding until more than a quarter of a century later it had more than 20,000 workers, exclusive of natives working on rubber plantations in Africa which Firestone developed as the rubber industry grew.

Firestone's death leaves but one survivor of the great scientific and industrial triumvirate that made economic history in America during the 20th century. Henry Ford, a close friend of Firestone and a member of that group, also survives.

Firestone was one of the last survivors of the industrial trio who built vast industries in an expanding America, and maintained individual control of their enterprises until they developed into multi-million dollar concerns.

HULL URGES PEACE THROUGH RECIPROCAL TREATIES

ASKS EFFORT TO CUT ARMS RACE BY ALL NATIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (Special)—Less than two days after warning that the United States will build larger battlefleets, if necessary, Secretary of State Cordell Hull proposed today that all nations make a "determined effort" to promote peace through reciprocal trade treaties and reduction of armaments.

Declaring that this country stands ready at any time to help bring about a general limitation and reduction of armaments, Hull, speaking over a nation-wide radio hookup last night, reiterated, however, that this nation would continue to "render adequate military and naval establishments."

The speech ostensibly was a defense of the administration's reciprocal trade treaty program which, Hull said, is a standing offer to other nations to join with us in a determined effort to promote an economic appraisal and security.

"Warned 'Have-not' nations—those not self-sufficient economically—they are being misled into attempting to secure by force of arms what, under stable world conditions, they would be able to obtain more fully through peaceful means."

Hull said that if the world "shuts its eyes to recent disastrous developments" it would be inviting a recurrence of the events of 1914 and 1929.

Hull abhorred the recent "alarming international" relationships, and said that the race to rearm can only result in further impoverishment of all nations. He added:

"While compelled, in a world in which increased construction of armaments is a regrettable fact, to render adequate military and naval establishments, we are ready at any time to join with other nations in a common effort to bring about a general limitation and reduction of armaments."

Contributes Leadership He said that the United States, by pursuing its policy of reciprocal trade treaties, is contributing its fair share of leadership in a movement "which may have a decisive influence upon the whole future course of civilization—a movement away from the gathering fury of international strife and toward general amity which is independent of the will being and progress of all nations."

The world desperately needs revitalization of international leadership, he stated, to contribute to the peace and stability and security.

Local Legion Opens Road Lighting Drive

The Twin Falls post of the American Legion this afternoon added a fifth point to the four-point highway safety program—that of eliminating the extra hazard of night driving by illuminating the highways.

W. W. Noble, post commander, this afternoon told the Evening Times the organization would vigorously press for appointment of a committee at the next session of the state legislature to study the problem of lighting Idaho's highways at night.

"It seems to me that any discussion of street and highway safety lends naturally into the subject of street and highway lighting," Mr. Noble said. "This is a highly effective measure which may be adopted to eliminate the extra hazard of night driving. Lighting the highways will bring about a marked reduction in the number of accidents and fatalities."

"It is known that with the coming of darkness, when highway traffic is only 25 per cent of the local traffic, the accident toll increases. While only 48 per cent of all motor accidents occur at night, the total of the accident accounts for 69 per cent of the deaths."

"Lighting of trafficked highways for their entire length and illumination of secondary roads at critical points where accidents are liable to occur is extremely important. In proof of this statement may be cited the experience of Detroit, which recently announced that $2,000,000 would be expended for improved street lighting to replace obsolete installations."

"This followed a test installation on three modern street lighting projects. Before the new lights were placed there had been 40 night automobile fatalities on these streets within a two and one-half year period. The record for the first four months after modern lighting was installed was completely free of night driving fatalities."

"Estimates are cited to show that adequate lighting of public streets and highways is not too expensive to consider from the viewpoint of its value as a definite public improvement, when it is realized that the economic loss attributable to automobile accidents each year runs into the billions," Noble said.

"He pointed out that much data is available from other states for a legislative committee in Idaho to study and would be easily obtained. He also stated the fact that Illinois is taking the lead in this state program, several main routes now being lighted their entire distance. In each case the death toll has been slashed until at the present time it is seldom that an accident is noted on these lighted roads."

"The state legislature may well consider the elimination of darkness on highways as an important item," Noble said.

The National Legion at present is promoting a nationwide safety drive with the Twin Falls post cooperating.

REG CARRINGTON ASKS COMMANDER ELLSBERG: "Can you tell a Real Difference between Camels and other cigarettes?"

REG CARRINGTON: "I see you're a steady Camel smoker, Commander. There really isn't any difference in cigarettes, is there?"

COMMANDER ELLSBERG: "You're dead wrong, Reg. The life of a deep-sea diver is tough on a man. Most of the divers I know use steady Camel smokers, and they know there's a difference. Take my own case. I've smoked Camels for ten years. They never get on my nerves. Smoking Camels, I feel that I enjoy life more. Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me."

JAPAN SAYS "PERHAPS" ANSWER WILL BE GIVEN U. S.

SPOKESMAN SEES NO REVEALING OF BUILDING PLANS

By Ray Marshall
TOKYO, Feb. 7 (AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today that "perhaps" Japan will answer within the next few days in the request of the United States, Great Britain and France, for specific information on Japan's naval building program.

But it was intimated in reliable quarters that even if an answer were sent by February 20, as requested, the government would be likely to say that it could not reveal its naval building program.

Foreign minister Koki Hirota, answering questions in parliament, said that consultations were proceeding on the notes and that no decision had been reached.

No Change
In Japan's fundamental naval policy announced at the time of the London conference, he said. This policy was that Japan must have equality of strength in principle.

There seemed to be some tendency to answer the note and to ally it as far as possible any suspicion that Japan is engaged in a program of super-ship building, but without disclosing information which the navy believes it must keep secret in the national interest.

The foreign office spokesman in a statement today said that Japan was planning 45,000 ton battleships. He continued:

"The only fundamental principle of Japanese policy regarding armament or disarmament is that of non-increase and non-aggression."

Same Answer
On the other hand the Japanese people have gained the impression that the principal naval powers already have committed themselves to a "no increase" plan.

The Doorn News Agency reported today that Japan would send a reply to the American, British and French notes by February 20.

The newspaper Hoshi reported that the government would reject the note and express resentment that it was thought inquiries were necessary.

U. S. LABOR MAN KILLED IN JUMP

WARRENTON, Ga., Feb. 7 (AP)—A broken airplane radio, a dense fog and a parachute that did not open were factors that explained today the death of C. G. Goldborough, United States department of labor conciliator.

Richardson jumped from a plane flying from Washington toward Miami and fell to his death in a swamp near here Sunday. Apparently he failed to pull the ripcord. The pilot, Maj. W. C. Goldborough, reached the ground unharmed.

Both "balled out" after flying for 10 hours in heavy fog. The radio failed and Goldborough was unable to determine his course. With the fuel supply running low Goldborough decided to abandon the plane.

He handed Richardson a note telling him they would have to jump. Richardson leaped first and Goldborough followed. The pilot landed safely in a tree.

Kansas City Pastor Urges Boys To Fight, Play Pool and Dance

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 7 (AP)—The Boy Scouts went right on helping elderly ladies across streets today, but between good turns some of them pondered a new code of moral standards offered to them by Dr. Burris Jenkins, a pastor who doesn't believe that the youth of the land is so bad.

"Play pool, learn to dance, and fight," he said in a sermon yesterday.

"Pool is good exercise and recreation," he said. "Dancing is instructive and ladies do it in church when they tap their feet to the tune of 'Brighten the Corner Where You Are.' Hitting the other fellow on the jaw in box fighting is a manly art and much less dangerous than football or baseball.

Dancing, he said, did not excite dangerous sex manifestations but was a means of expressing and getting rid of them. "Soft boxing gloves will keep us from fighting to the death in war."

Dr. Jenkins completed the rout of time-honored "vices" by telling the youngsters to forget about trying to love their teachers, to run away from home, get dogs for companions, go camping, and to live life positively by trying all things and holding fast what was good.

DR. TOWNSEND'S SENTENCE UPHELD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The U. S. court of appeals today upheld the conviction of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old age pension leader, on charges of contempt of a house committee investigating his activities.

Townsend is under sentence of 30 days in jail and a $100 fine.

He was cited for contempt of the house on March 12, 1937, after he stalked angrily out of a common hearing, investigating old age pensions.

Townsend suddenly interrupted the hearing, asserting he no longer would "tolerate inhumane methods" of members of the committee.

The circuit decision, written by Associate Justice Justin Miller, held that Dr. Townsend's act was deliberate.

A dissenting opinion was filed by Associate Justice Harold Stephens. He held the conviction should be reversed on grounds that Dr. Townsend had a right to use evidence showing "evil intent of the investigating committee."

The instrument is equipped to take pictures of fingerprints, night or day scenes. Pictures can also be taken of criminals without their knowledge. The camera is electrically operated by a battery of four small dry cells housed within the case. The instrument has a speed of 1-300 of a second.
