other four and one-half million bushels.

Large Tote

"These seven counties would have sufficient livestock to consume approximately 8,000,000 bushels. The balance of the state, producing the other 25 per cent of the potatoes, could certainly feed 2,000,000 bushels, for the ration of livestock to potatoes is much greater in those counties."

"We have considered many of the livestock within the principal potato producing areas and still we have a potential consumption of approximately 10,000,000 bushels. This amount should be more than sufficient to correct the market conditions in such years as we are experiencing now," he continued.

Three Main Points

In summing up the feeding of potatoes, the superintendent stressed three points. They were:

- 1—Feed only potatoes free from rot and mildew.
- 2—Feed in moderate quantities.
- 3—Feed them in such a way that they will be cleaned up in relatively short time after feeding.

Tells of Phosphates

Turning to experiments with phosphate fertilizer he told of work along this line at the station.

"Our phosphate experiment in 1932 showed results so definitely as to leave no doubt about the requirement of many of our soils. Contrary to our policy of obtaining data for a number of years before releasing the information to the public, we decided this information immediately."

"Clover seed yields were doubled and alfalfa yields were increased 40 per cent. As a result of this experiment as well as a number of similar experiments conducted by the farmers who were assisted by the county agents, phosphates are now generally used in most irrigated sections of Idaho," he said.

"The use of phosphate, he stressed, was encouraged by the sugar beet companies. He said that phosphating of potatoes depends on a lot of factors such as: does a phosphate deficiency exist?"

Not for Potatoes

He also pointed out that in experiments at the station in Aberdeen "we have never found it profitable to use phosphate on potatoes."

"The station discourages the use of lime ground raw material, because that any crop increase is only slight. Triple super-phosphate was recommended. Application of the phosphate should be from farm to farm and will depend largely upon the extent of the phosphate deficiency. Soil that is extremely low in phosphate will require a higher initial application and more frequent applications. Experiments along the lines mentioned are being continued," he said.

Urges Annual Congress

At the session this morning, held in the Orpheum theater, R. S. Tolmie, local publisher, presided. He expressed the hope that the congress would become an annual affair in Twin Falls and urged appointment of a farmer committee next year to assist, pointing out that in this manner the farmers could have "just what they wanted on the program."

This afternoon F. G. Thompson, secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, urged farmers in small in questionnaires which were distributed during the program today. The questionnaires ask farmers specific questions as to the form the program should take and whether or not it should become an annual event. Space is also provided for comments and suggestions.

These should be mailed to the chamber office in Twin Falls, Mo. 18.

5 U. S. BOMBERS END LONG FLIGHT

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 18 (UP)—Five giant United States army planes known as "Flying Fortresses" roared across the Andes and the Argentine pampas today and landed at this capital, completing a 5,300-mile flight from Miami, Fla.

The first of the silver squadrons came down at the El Palomar airfield at 1:10 p. m. (11:10 EST). This was 54 hours and 15 minutes after the bombers left Miami, including a six-hour stop at Lima, Peru.

A huge throng was at the airport, including high officials and representatives of the American embassy, to greet the fliers, who came here in connection with the inaugural ceremonies of President-elect Roberto M. Ortiz next Sunday.

The sixth plane of the squadron was delayed at Lima by propeller trouble, but Major Vincent J. Meloy, commander of the ship, radioed that at 10 a. m. EST he was about 775 miles southeast of Lima.

As they approached Buenos Aires, one of the ships sped directly to the airfield, while the other four circled over the city. All came down to perfect landings by 1:20 p. m. (11:20 a. m. EST.)

KIWANIANS STAGE FARMERS' NIGHT

Farmers of this section were guests of Kiwanis members last evening at the annual Farmers' night dinner held at the Park hotel with 108 present. The affair was under the direction of J. A. Cedergren, head of the agricultural committee.

The farmer guests were welcomed by Judge O. P. Duvall, Utah-Idaho governor of Kiwanis and the principal address was by W. H. Detweiler, Hazelton, former state representative, who discussed the new farm bill.

During the evening the farmers wore sun helmets and their hosts were given straw hats.

An unimpeachable source revealed that Grandi told the British ministers he was unable to discuss Italy's attitude on the Austrian situation at present.

SEVEN ENTOMBED MINERS RESCUED

JENESVILLE, Pa., Feb. 18 (UP)—Seven miners, trapped 500 feet below the surface of Slope No. 1 of the Jenestown mine, were rescued today and an eighth was found dead.

The body of Paul Kurtz, 40, of Hazleton, was found under debris and muck.

The others were suffering from shock and exposure. They were given first aid at the mine's entrance.

Those rescued were Paul Molinar, 31; Michael Olexa, 35; Stephen Stephaniak, 29; Joseph Sedlak, 44; John Algonaki, 37; and John Harvitta, 50, and William Davis, 43.

They had been trapped since 12:15 p. m. yesterday when a strapping operating machine recoiled and flooded the shaft. Throughout the night shafts of 25 men dug through the muck and mud, hoping that their fellow miners had escaped the suffocating waters and sought safety on a shelf.

of sparsely settled areas, occupied mostly by trailer houses and small squatters' shacks.

Within 300 yards of the main business district, it tilted back into the sky, to descend again beyond the town, in the surrounding piney woods.

It bounced back to strike an oil camp five miles north of town and farther on at Capps City, in Miller county, Arkansas, from where there were only meager reports to indicate what damage it caused.

Here, the whirling wind caught men at work, famblers in their homes and children in their beds, without a moment's warning. The town was immediately plunged in darkness as the power plant and power lines were destroyed.

Followers Cheer, Weep; Townsend Leaves for Jail

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (UP)—After a cheering, weeping send-off by a crowd of several hundred elderly followers, Dr. Francis E. Townsend was en route to Washington, D. C. today to serve a jail term for contempt.

The old-age pension leader was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 for refusing to testify before a house investigating committee. He told the crowd at the Santa Fe station last night that "I refuse to give the feds, and I suppose that will mean more time in jail."

He will be completed a book called "If They Don't Muzzle Me" which tells his philosophy and views of world affairs.

No Organized Authority

This is an unincorporated town, with no organized authority, and until state police arrived there was turmoil.

Calls for help were sent to Vivian, Atlanta and Shreveport. There were no ambulances and few doctors available here immediately and the injured were loaded into cars and taken to these towns. Many died on the way. Those found dead were left here for several hours while the injured got their attention.

It was not until 4 a. m. that emergency crews had restored power lines and the lights went on in a few sections of town. Most of the families sat up by lamp, lantern and candle light all night.

The wrecked gas well was on the Atlanta-Rodessa road, and when petrol stopped traffic on it and marked a detour across a muddy side road, it was virtually impossible to travel between the towns.

The town was unusually quiet when the storm struck. Lights gleamed in some of the shacks, where wives waited for their husbands to return from work at midnight, and those where men lived alone, were mostly dark. Walters lounged in the taverns waiting for the midnight rush at the change of shifts of working drillers.

Felt Light Rumble

Most of the survivors described a light rumble as their first sensation of the approaching destruction. Then the lumber and sections of sheet iron wrenched from the warehouses filled the air.

"Homer Brown, a southerner, said: "I was walking along the gravel road near the Arkansas Fuel company discovery well when I heard the rumble. I saw a board fly over my head and the top of the derrick ahead of me began to crumble. I began to run. I can't remember where I went or what I did. I know I saw the derrick fall. I looked behind me and saw two negroes running. The next time I looked back they were gone. I came to lying in a ditch. I don't think I was knocked out, just scared."

I. B. Brooks, supply house employee, said he noticed the approaching tornado when he tried to close

Funeral Home Owner Tells of Twisted Wreckage at Disaster

(Editor's note: N. P. Hanner, owner of the funeral home at Atlanta, Tex., was visiting last night in Rodessa, La., and left there in his automobile, driving back to Atlanta, five minutes before a tornado struck. He sped back to the town to aid in rescue work. Today, 10 of the dead were in Hanner's funeral home. He gave the United Press the following description of the stricken town.)

By N. P. HANNER

As Told to the United Press

ATLANTA, Tex., Feb. 18 (UP)—I had just left Rodessa in my car and was barely outside the town when I saw the storm.

At first I noticed heavy clouds, lightning and strong winds. Then in the distance I saw the twister coming down in a funnel shape through the black cloud.

It was focused along a path about a quarter-mile wide, where it was sweeping away everything, and on both sides, along a four-mile strip, it was causing great damage.

There wasn't any warning for the people in Rodessa, and before they realized what had happened it had passed on.

The cloud dipped down several times, hitting here and there, and every time it came down it swept the ground clean.

Along the road, as I hurried back to town, there were steel oil derricks, twisted and fallen in heaps. I saw large warehouses made of sheet metal turned over on their sides. There was a large oil truck in the highway almost bent in two.

I ran toward a wrecked house where a family by the name of Crowder lived. Their heavy sedan had been blown out of the garage and was lying 70 feet away, a mass of twisted metal. The family died when the home collapsed.

The wind blew a derrick from a gas well beside the Rodessa-Atlanta road and the gas ran wild. Traffic had to be detoured down a muddy side road.

It was impossible to say how many dead there are in the section. I

20 ACCUSED FOR SHEARER RIOTING

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—A felony complaint on file today accused 20 men of rioting in an alleged effort to organize a group of Organized Labor and Shearers Union of North America.

A. A. Evans, president and secretary of the union, and John Doe Patterson, reportedly a Butte, Mont., organizer for the Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate, were the only men named in the complaint to escape arrest immediately.

The 20 men asserted they were in a band of 50 which attacked a shearing plant near Glendale Tuesday and subjected to violence former Deputy Sheriff Hance Coor, Leonard Vondrich, shearer foreman, and Jose B. Ortiz, a shearer.

Coor had been hired by Mike Obach, owner of the plant, to protect his crew against trouble he expected. The rioters stormed the plant despite resistance and forced those shearers who did not try to accompany them, the complaint said.

Secretary Jerris W. Lee of the Arizona Wool Growers association said shearers' union representatives had been at the shearing plant to force a hike from 10 cents to 12 1/2 cents per head in sheep shearing fee. Local shearers earn $10 to $15 daily, he said.

No Dispute
"We have no dispute with organized labor and are not concerned with whether the shearers belong to a union," Lee said. "It is purely an economic problem with us."

Lee said Harry Bridges, west coast director of the C. I. O., had notified him his workers would not handle Arizona wool unless the agitator was recognized. Lee said he replied this state's wool would be shipped by railroad.

In honor of the 57th birthday of Christian Endeavor the local group entertained with a covered dish banquet for their parents Sunday in the newly reconditioned Grange hall. Fifty guests were present. During the banquet speeches were made by Lewis Post, Vernon Havenscroft, Rosetta Ross, Orville Miller, and Mary Ellen Chapman, who acted as toastmaster. The five tables were decorated in green and white and five cakes were used. The devotional service was led by Mary Ellen Chapman on the topic "Mary, Yes One." The history of Christian Endeavor was given.

Try These Fresh Berry Dishes —Even When "Out of Season"

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
(NRA Service Staff Writer)

Splash your winter desserts with the fresh brilliance of summer. Blueberries and raspberries will color your ice and gooseberries give it even greater novelty. Long ago, when birds sang "In the Sweet Summer Time," these unsuspecting berries were caught in their dew-loueliness and presto—quick freezing kept them that way. So there they stand in your grocer's frozen-food refrigerator, without cell broken, without a bimodal, fresher almost than fresh, waiting to gambol into pies and puddings and even play the little fool for you.

Gooseberry Fool
(Serves 4 to 8)
One quart quick-frozen fresh gooseberries, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup stout custard, 1 cup whipped cream.
Toss gooseberries in package. They will defrost in 15 minutes. Place in from 3 to 6 hours. Moisten the sugar with very little water. Place in saucepan with the gooseberries. Simmer over very low fire for about 15 minutes. Keep mashing the berries as they simmer. Then press juice and pulp through fine sieve and chill. To the chilled gooseberry mixture, add the unflavored stout custard. Mix well but gently. Whip cream and pulp through fine sieve and chill. Staffed Fresh Figs
(Serves 4 to 6)
Eight quick-frozen figs, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts, 1/2 package cream cheese, enough cream to soften.
Thaw figs, cut down with sharp knife to form 4 petals. Mash cheese, smooth with cream and add chopped nuts. Have the consistency smooth and moist. Place a little in center of each fig. Chill and serve on a tray covered with green leaves.

Fresh Raspberry and Peach Compote
(Serves 4 to 6)
One pint quick-frozen raspberries, 1 pint quick-frozen sliced peaches, 1/2 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons liqueur (maraschino, amaretto or kirsch).
Thaw raspberries. Thaw peaches. Add sugar to peaches and place in freezing tray of automatic refrigerator or in ice packed in ice for 12 minutes. Then add the cold raspberries. Mix very gently. Four liqueur over the fruit and serve.

SALE OF TIMBER LAND INCREASES

BOISE, Ida., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—W. E. Talbot, state land commissioner, today reported that proceeds from sale of timber on state lands in 1937 amounted to $27,584.84 as compared to $13,743.24 in 1934.

The year 1934 was used for comparison, Talbot said, "since it was the beginning of a recovery that has steadily increased since then."

The commissioner reported that a "great deal" of timber has been sold in evidence during 1937, the state selling 200 tracts of land in comparison with 103 in 1934.

A perpetual fund for school purposes was raised to $13,527,866 during 1937 as compared to $12,388,718 during 1934, and was built up by a decision of the land board not to sell recreational areas but to lease them.

Such income is turned over to the fund, making a perpetual income. The fund itself is not apportioned but interest is dealt out to the various districts.

Land held for public school purposes exceeds 3,000,000 acres, Talbot reported.

BOISE'S AIRPORT SEEN TERMINUS

BOISE, Ida., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Boise's new municipal airport, nearing completion, will be the terminus for minor air lines connecting Nampa, Caldwell, Moscow, Twin Falls, McCall and Intermountain cities. Postmaster Harry Yost predicted today.

Yost, returned from the northwest regional air planning conference held at Victoria, B. C., said that a "great development" in northwest air commerce was forthcoming.

Meanwhile, however, a serious threat to extension of United Airlines mainline service to Boise was seen in the fact that the airport is not complete.

Mainline mail will go into service between Salt Lake City and Portland in 60 days, Yost said, but it was not expected that finishing touches to the airports giant runway would be completed until near the end of May.

Unless the runway and lighting meet specifications of larger ships will not stop. The present municipal airport will handle only the smaller Boeing transports now being used.

Bottle Psychology
WORCESTER, Mass. (U.P.)—Because the housewife wants to see the amount of cream on top of each quart of milk, Yost, a 21. President of the state dairy industry department believes it will be many years before paper containers replace the glass milk bottle.

NO RELAXING OF PRESENT MONEY AGREEMENT SEEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—A firm congressional "no" was heard today to have crushed a war debt payment proposal from an un-

Official sources refused to confirm this report. Denials ranged from unqualified assertion that war debts had not been discussed.

It was believed possible that a small debtor might undertake to make a scale-down of lump-sum or other debt agreement with the United States which would become a precedent for other debtors.

PLAY ADVANCES IN GOODING OUTLAW MEET

Burley, Murtaugh, Jerome, College Quintets Favored

Pocatello Outlaws, Meridian, Hollister Fail to Arrive for First Games

(Results of this morning's games will be found on Page 2) GOODING, Feb. 18 (Special)—The Gooding Outlaw tournament, oldest meet in Idaho, looked more than ever today to be a wide-open affair, with teams from the Snake Valley dominating competition.

Burley Elks, Murtaugh Savages, and Gooding college clubs retained their favorite positions—but the strength of Caldwell Frosties and Emmett from western Idaho was still to be viewed by local fans. The Emmett crew, leading the Boise Valley league, was considered the dark-horse of the tournament—and a good bet to reach the finals. These two clubs and American Falls got into the second round yesterday by drawing byes.

The tournament was in sort of a struggle for a while as Meridian and Pocatello clubs were scheduled to play Emmett and Caldwell Frosties, respectively, failed to show up. American Falls was scheduled to battle Hollister, but the latter crew was unable to attend following a car accident while en route to the meet.

Savages vs. Emmett In this morning's game, the power-housed Murtaugh Savages, champions of the Snake Valley Outlaw tournament, tested the strength of Emmett cagers in an 8 a. m. game. At 9 a. m. American Falls played its first game of the meet in a 10 with the Gooding Legion quint. Jerome Jayces and Burley Elks renewed an old rivalry in the next contest, with the Savages the underdogs after three defeats at the hands of the Cascade crew already this season. At 11 a. m. Link's Business college advanced on a forfeit from the Hollister team.

Afternoon contests pit Moscow G. Club against Hagerman, Boise State and Burley Elks. The winner of the Murtaugh-Emmett tilt will be the winner of the Jerome-Burley battle. At four p. m. Wendell battles Buhl and at five, Elms vs. Buhl.

King Hill vs. Shoshone At 7 p. m. King Hill meets Shoshone, and from then on games will be determined by winners of title bouts earlier in the day.

King Hill started off the tournament yesterday by downing Wendell 21-20. Boise S. M. won over Elms 21-18. Elms vs. Buhl, 21-18. Wendell vs. Buhl, 21-18. Wendell vs. Buhl, 21-18.

Gooding Legion trounced Link's Business college of Boise 31-23 in an afternoon tilt, and then the Jerome Savages won over Buhl 21-18, a surprisingly strong Moscow G. Club, 24-20 in the best game of the day's play.

Burley Advances Burley Elks advanced into the second round by beating the champions of Hagerman and Elms was the first team to fall into the discard when it lost to the Wendell club by a score of 21-18. The Elks, who were the Snake Valley champions, was the No. 2 club to be eliminated when it encountered its second loss of the day to Buhl, 21-18.

Boise T.M.D. chalked up its second victory when it turned back King Hill in a close game, 21-20, and then the powerful Gooding college quintet, dubbed the Shoshone Reddies, last year's Gooding Outlaw champions, 40-20.

Strikes to Spare By FRED STONE This 1938 edition of the Snake Valley Outlaw tournament showed its power by coming from behind to take the title two games away from Elms.

Max Epner, anchor for Studebaker, was top for winners with 54.1. The first of this was No. 1 team with 54.1.

Art Boone, with 21.0, got credit for the single Flyer strikes in the first round. He was the only one to hit with Art got 22.0. The Elms collected 51.0 and George Buller 50.0. Protection substituted by Bob McCracken and did a right good job.

9 Marooned Deer Slowly Starve To Death on Old Baldy Ledge

By J. P. GALLAGHER SUN VALLEY, Feb. 18 (Special)—Nine deer are slowly starving to death today on a little promontory no bigger than a tennis court, half way up on the face of Old Baldy mountain. The deer have been marooned there for almost two weeks, without food and constantly mulling about in the confined compound they have worn in the deep snow. The animals were trapped there during a series of small slides on the face of Baldy during the heavy snow. Surrounded on three sides by a precipitous drop of hundreds of feet, and on the fourth side by a deep overhanging snow cornice, the deer are lost and befuddled. Unaccustomed to the high country in the deep snow, for most of them are quite young, they can find no escape from their plight of cold and starvation. Sun Valley guests look at them through field-glasses and wonder why something isn't done about it.

According to the game department and forest service, it is well-nigh impossible for a human to reach the spot through the deep snow on the steep incline. The plight of the deer is the eternal result of years of intrusion and encroachment by man and his development of land, converting into farm land the low country that was once the winter grazing land of magnificent elk and deer antelope and other foraging wild life. Now there is but little feed on the low land ranges, and that little bit is denied the deer due to their timidly and innate instinct to refrain from coming into the vicinity of humans.

These nine of ten dazed and starved deer will perish in a matter of a few days because it is the order of nature and man is now established. There is little that can be done about it now, but it is hard to watch them die.

Vandal Boxers Win Six Fights with San Jose

Seabiscuit, Pompoon Will Battle in "Tune-Up" For $100,000 Handicap

By JACK GURNTHER ARADIA, Calif., Feb. 18 (Special)—After a housewife after losing the grocery budget, Seabiscuit and Pompoon were touched up with curly combs today and announced ready for the most important preview to be held at Santa Anita track this year.

The preview is the $100,000 San Carlos handicap which is scheduled tomorrow at a mile and 1/16—the final practice spin for more than a dozen of the crack races which will constitute the field of the $100,000 handicap here March 8.

Sparked by a series of fast workouts during the past two weeks, Seabiscuit and Pompoon will go out to prove they are the logical favorites to capture the fourth running of the world's richest horse race. Other horses are entered in the San Carlos, but the attention of the turf world will be directed to these two.

The preview is the first time since winning the Riggs handicap and Phipps Nov. 8, the first against his most formidable rival—Pompoon. Carrying top weight of 130 pounds—the identical impost assigned him in the big handicap—Seabiscuit nevertheless is expected to rule a slight favorite tomorrow.

Adamick Better Than Dempsey, Says Tutor

By HENRY McLEMORE NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (Special)—Don't look now, but that blabbering scoundrel who is being flogged in the corner with a bow of chills is the one who is going about town telling everyone he meets that Dempsey is a better fighter than Jack Dempsey ever was.

No, there's no guard with him. He's not a scoundrel. In fact, he's entirely lucid. He is just telling you what he's got to say. He is better than Dempsey and he is better than Dempsey.

An Adamick charge of affairs Kearns has the right to exalt the Michigan lumberjack power to the limit. The truth is, it is the manager who doesn't rate his fighter as an equal measure of the little the Hun, two setting him a tiger with an impaled wisdom tooth, and three of the four horses, which is looked upon with suspicion.

Formula A So, when the good doctor said that Adamick, in his fight with Harry Thomas in Madison Square Garden tonight, will show the customers more than Dempsey did against Phipps, everyone understands that he is just telling you what he's got to say.

Hard Schedule For Athletes At Kimberly

KIMBERLY, Feb. 18 (Special)—In the eighth day Kimberly athletes will go through one of the most strenuous periods in the history of Bulldog athletics, with basketball and boxing holding the spotlight.

Saturday night Coach Louis Denton's court squad ends its regular home basketball season when it takes on the tough Castleton Wolves, powerful Class B aggregation.

The boys will rest on Sunday and Monday, but Tuesday they travel to Murtaugh for a cage game. Thursday Coach Denton and his gang of mitt-swingers journey to Boise where they meet the Boise high school Y. M. C. A. fighters in a return match. In the first contest between the two schools, the Bulldog battlers will attempt to gain revenge for an early season one-point defeat.

Saturday, Feb. 20, the boxers swing back into action when they journey to Gooding for a series of bouts with the Gooding fighters. Last year the Senators had the toughest squad in south central Idaho, and Denton expects his hardest battle of the season when the north siders move into the ring against his team.

War Admiral to Race Saturday MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 18 (Special)—War Admiral, great son of Man o'War makes his first start as a four-year-old tomorrow in the $7,500 McClenan memorial handicap at Hialeah park.

The decision to start "the Admiral" was announced after a conference of trainer George Conroy and owner Samuel D. Riddle, despite Riddle's criticism of the weight allotted to the unbeaten three-year-old champion of 1937.

The McClenan will provide a tune-up race for War Admiral in preparation for the $50,000 added Widener cup race at Hialeah March 5 for which War Admiral has undergone careful conditioning. It also will show his reaction to the heavy impost of 130 pounds, the largest he has been assigned. He was allotted 130 pounds for both the McClenan and the Widener.

Wen First Rounds Thomas won four of five of the earlier rounds against Schmeling last December, and Maxie had to drop him to the canvas a half dozen times before the referee stopped the bout in the eighth round. Thomas will have a sizeable pull in the weights tonight, scaling around 195 against 180 for Adamick.

Several "experts" have gone overboard for Adamick after watching his gymnasium workouts. They consider him an awkward boxer, but believe he will beat Thomas to the punch.

Gomez Rejects Yank Contract RENO, Nev., Feb. 18 (Special)—Vernon Gomez, veteran New York Yankee pitcher, has turned down an $18,500 contract for next season, he said today. He reportedly is holding out for $20,000.

However, Gomez said he would accept the contract if he were to be traded to the Yankees' spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., not later than March 1. He intimated that he believed the contract difficulties would be ironed out satisfactorily when he talks with Col. Jacob Ruppert at the camp.

Gomez came here to establish residence for the purpose of divorcing his wife, June O'Dea Gomez, New York singer. The six weeks expired several days ago, but he has not yet declared his intentions regarding the divorce.

Murtaugh Wins Two Games

MURTAUGH, Feb. 18 (Special)—Murtaugh's special basketball team chalked up a double victory over the invading Castleton club last night.

In the feature event of the evening, the local boys ran wild to hand the fourth defeat of the season as 16 stars to the Wolves by a score of 30-21. Count at the half time was 15-11.

The two girls' teams played a nip-and-tuck game all the way, with Anderson leading the final count in scoring with 22 points. Final count of the game was 32-26.

Schuschnigg to Resign as Chancellor of Austria

REPORT CLAIMS NAZIS TO HAVE FULLEST POWER

By Ferdinand C. M. Jahn
 VIENNA, Feb. 18 (AP)—Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg intends to resign soon after a speech he is to make to the federal parliament next Thursday, a usually reliable source said today.

Schuschnigg may resign before the end of next week, it was said.

His resignation would be the occasion for a new organization of the cabinet, it was understood, so that Austrian Nazis would have even greater representation.

In reorganization of the cabinet, it was regarded as likely that a Nazi would be made minister of national defense.

It was learned today that in a speech at a secret meeting of the government fathersland front's storm corps Wednesday night Schuschnigg said:

Continue Work

"When in the near future I shall continue to work in the fatherland in other places and capacities. We will not leave of forsake our country. I know you all, despite changes, will remain true and loyal to the fatherland."

Fuehrer Adolf Hitler is to address his German Reichstag at 1 p. m. Sunday. The speech to be made by Schuschnigg to the diet will complement, as from the Austrian side, the declarations to be made by Hitler in both instances the same topic for the special sessions is to hear the leaders' speeches.

Thus it was indicated that Austria and the world would have to await not only after Hitler's but Schuschnigg's speech to find what Austria really faces under the dominating shadow of Germany.

Before Schuschnigg speaks, it was reported today, police presidents from all districts of the country will be summoned to the capital to receive instructions. The newspaper Freie Presse understood that Dr. Arthur von Seyns-Inquart, Nazi minister of interior and public security, who is now in Berlin, would participate—a hint, presumably, that the instructions will come from him.

Who All Points

There were strong indications that the Nazis—and the German Nazis—had won all immediate points in their program. There was noticeable lessening of tension.

There was little active opposition. The failure of Great Britain and France to take action, and particularly the silence of Italy, indicated a feeling generally that opposition was hopeless. What bitterness there was seemed aimed largely at Italian, and Austrian, rivals in the old saying "Do not expect faithfulness from Italians."

A United Press canvas of the pressroom showed that the Nazi press was increasingly popular day by day, and in the last few days large shipments of German flags had been distributed throughout the country.

Amnesty Completed

Preparations for the amnesty were part of the Nazi agreement were completed. About 800 of the 820 state prisoners were released last night. Administrative prisoners, mainly in police jails and correction camps, were to be released today.

Few persons even noticed that the amnesty was being effected. Every precaution was taken to avoid demonstrations. Releases were made singly at odd hours, and in only a few cases were friends or relatives of prisoners waiting outside the prison gates.

The amnesty of men in prisons, fortresses and concentration camps was extended last night by a decree of the ministry of education providing amnesty for all students and pupils who had been expelled from schools and universities for political activities—almost exclusively Nazi political activities.

Heads Felt

Obviously by government order, newspapers obtained today from comment on the Austrian-German situation.

Leaving no doubt that he was really taking direct charge of police, Seyns-Inquart sent orders from Berlin that Vienna police must no longer carry their rubber blacksticks. Seyns-Inquart was reported to have said they were used anyway, against "German folk and comrades only."

Also in his telephone instructions, the Boen National Zeitung was reemitted to distribution in Austria. The newspaper, personal organ of Field Marshal Hermann Goerring of Germany, was seized from Vienna stands yesterday because of its remarks on the Austrian-German situation.

Ring committee of Twin Falls Girl Reserves met Thursday with Janet Fitzwater presiding. Work on ring requirements was discussed by the members representing the three clubs.

Work on the Girl Reserve dance is progressing as committees were busy completing details this week. The program committee headed by Verna Simms met Thursday evening to work out designs following a St. Patrick's day theme. Ticket sales will be started the first of next week. The committee headed by Shirley Hutchinson announced.

Adult council of the Twin Falls Girls Reserves met Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. J. D. Barnhart, who also led the devotionals. Mrs. F. W. Slack, Mrs. R. V. Jones, Mrs. R. L. Reed and Mrs. F. R. Tabor were named on a committee to work on the arrangements being made for a Y. M. Y. W. meeting place composed of Mrs. Roy Painter, Mrs. C. H. Krenge and Mrs. William Baker was also named.

Other business at the meeting consisted of discussion for a Y. W. C. A. membership luncheon to be held in March.

DEFENSE SET-UP TOLD TO LEGION

National defense, including an explanation of the present set-up so far as activities of reserve officers is concerned, was featured in a talk given last night at the American Legion hall by Lionel Campbell, first lieutenant in the army reserve corps, 114th artillery.

Campbell spoke at the special meeting aimed to entertain members of the Kimberly post, 10 Legion men from that point being present. Fifty-six members of the local post attended.

Before the business meeting started two vocal solos were given by Art Francis, accompanied by Mrs. W. W. Franks. Trombone solos and duets also featured. George Chiro was in charge of arrangements for the meeting with W. W. Noble, Twin Falls post commander, presiding.

Pinochio concluded the evening with the local post emerging as victors. During a previous meeting, held at Kimberly, that post was declared winner of the games.

Weiser Fire Victim Dies

WEISER, Ida., Feb. 18 (UP)—Roy Handley, 44, of Ellings, Mont., died here last night as result of burns suffered in a fire which destroyed the Washington county courthouse.

Handley, convicted of a petty forgery offense, was serving a 90-day term in the county jail. When the fire broke out, he was released but ran back into his cell.

Permanently lame again, he wandered outside and then returned to the burning building a second time. Sheriff Frank Kennedy said Handley was a victim of shell-shock during the World war.
