SEABISCUIT IN FINAL HANDICAP "PREVIEW"

Track Men to Make Assault on World's Marks Tonight

Howard Entry Will Carry 130 Pounds

By RONALD WAGNER
 ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 26 (UP)—Seabiscuit, Charles H. Howard's sensational money horse, went to the post in the $7,500 added 'San Antonio' handicap at Santa Anita today to match stride with a dozen or more leading contenders for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap on March 5.

Seabiscuit, second to Rosemont in last year's handicap, was rated a heavy favorite in the San Antonio, a mile and a furlong gallop heralded as the final "preview" for the rich horse.

The big Howard horse will be ridden by Raymond (Sonny) Workman, who was named yesterday after Howard had pondered long over his choice to replace "Red" Pollard, Seabiscuit's regular jockey, who was injured last Saturday while riding "Pete" in the San Carlos handicap.

Tied Ride
 Howard said that the ride Workman gave Seabiscuit this afternoon will determine if he will have a leg up on the favorite on March 5. Jockeys Harry Richards, Albert Robertson and Wayne Wright, now in Florida, were said to have applied for the Seabiscuit assignment which went to Workman.

Fourteen names were sent through the overnight box for the San Antonio and it was believed that at least 12 were sure to start. Besides Seabiscuit, those named were: Indian Broom, Whitechee, Limpio, Gosum, Sahrl Zed, Today, Calumet, Dixie, Blue Bird, Woodpecker, Prexy, Over the Top, and Grey Count.

Imported Horse
 Limpio, a horse imported from the Argentine, was to run as an entry with Seabiscuit, while Indian Broom and Whitechee were an entry from the A. T. C. stock farm. Gosum and Sahrl Zed, a mare from Chile, were listed as the Nelson A. Howard and Lawrence entry.

Seabiscuit was to race under near-handicap conditions since he carried 130 pounds today, the same as the weight assigned to him in the Santa Anita.

Seabiscuit's long absence from the track after several months' scratches during the current meet here, had little effect on the public's regard for the horse, which with Wayne Wright in the money bracket of the American turf, odds on Seabiscuit to win the San Antonio were expected to be at even odds or thereabouts, when the barrier is sprung at approximately 4 p. m. (PST).

80,000 Will Witness Coast Ski Events

By JACK GUENTHER
 LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26 (UP)—Tomorrow under a typical California sky will be the world's greatest ski jumpers will glide down a make-believe mountain on make-believe snow and drop in the stadium where, for five years, the University of Southern California has exhibited make-believe football teams.

The event is the first southern California open ski meet, to be held at memorial stadium. It is Hollywood's way of showing up Mohammed and the mountain as a pair of wishful but unresourceful "pickers. Hollywood is manufacturing this mountain—along with necessary snow, public interest, and a gate of 80,000 persons.

On the west end of the coliseum, towering high above the rim, has been constructed a giant web of steel. This supports a long, wooden runway, which spills to the turf in two graceful curves, over the goal posts of the U. S. C. players have been missing for years. Down this 165-foot structure—high as a 10-story building—the jumpers will streak.

Today today a queer machine with a mouth bigger than Martha Raye's will be fed ice chunks being missing for years. The machine was first used for a small

Senators Termed Team to Beat After Bruin Win

Stanford and California Remain in Deadlock; Idaho Meets WSC Club

GOODING, Feb. 26 (Special)—Gooding's powerful Senators were termed the team to beat in south central Idaho today after drubbing the invading second-place Twin Falls Bruins here last night by a score of 26-12. The game was slow, with the strong Gooding defense tactics holding the invaders to four field goals during the entire game.

led by Capt. Kenneth Webb, who played an outstanding floor game, besides chalking up eight points, the victors headed Coach H. V. Jones' crew to the top of the mountain. It was the fourth loss for the Bruins, three of the game conference title, but they still hung on second place in Class A standing.

Bill Folsom scored first in the game to put the Bruins ahead on a set-up. Webb tanked one for the Bruins in the second quarter, but it was Coach AP Berg's outfit ahead. The score was tied at four-all, but at the quarter the Senators led 5-4 on the strength of Alexander's gift shot. The lead changed hands on every shot in the second quarter, but just before the half ended, Bob Vaughn tossed his second field goal to give the Gooding outfit an 11-8 lead.

But from there on, it was all Gooding, with the powerful defense giving the Bruins only one field goal and a pair of gift shots in the last two quarters. Meanwhile, Webb shot the three field goals, Alexander two, Proctor a goal, and free shot and Vaughn a two-pointer to tuck the game away.

Lineups:
 Gooding: F. Schow; Forward: F. Williams; Guard: C. Gibson; Wing: G. Johnson; Substitutions: Gooding—McCoy, Voyle, G. Brewer

TWIN FALLS

Kimberly Meets Gooding

Oakley Scores Narrow Win

KIMBERLY, Feb. 26 (Special)—Coach Louis Denton and his Kimberly Bulldogs were back in town today—all set for one of their scheduled toughest boxing matches of the season against the Gooding mitt-tossers here tonight.

The Bulldogs athletes left here Thursday morning for Boise, where they will attack the classic fight scene at Madison Square Garden.

Sixteen titles will be at stake in the only major meet of the season. The world will witness three Olympic records will be set for one of the 16 championship records.

Two Other Factors
 In addition, two other factors support the record theories:
 1. The field includes holders of 21 world and three Olympic records, 17 American records, and 16 championship records.
 2. The athletes have been so successful in yardage distances thus far this season that the metric marks, all comparatively new, should be easy to lower.

Dash Record to Toppie
 In the 60-meter dash, where the record of 6.6 seconds is shared jointly by Jesse Owens and Ben Johnson, it seems likely that Johnson will retain the championship with record performance. He already has halved two-tenths of a second from the 60-yard mark this season and hopes to put a tenth off this metric equivalent.

In 100-meter hurdles, where the record of 8.8 was set in 1933 and equalled in 1935 by Percy Beard, two men are favored to lower the mark—Percy Beard (Spokane) and Allan Tolmich of Detroit. Both either have equalled or broken yardage marks every time they ran this season in the Garden. Beard, of Oklahoma, the defending champion, isn't expected to do better than third.

Hazelton Tips Murtaugh

HAZELTON, Feb. 26 (Special)—Hazelton and Murtaugh battled in a nip-and-tuck affair here tonight, with the home club coming out on top in a low-scoring game by a count of 16-15.

The Murtaugh club led at the half time 9-5, but the locals applied the pressure in the second half to annex the thrilling victory. A long shot by Worthington in the final few seconds of play put Coach Cecil Platino's club ahead.

In the preliminary tilt the Hazelton sextet scored another close win over the Murtaugh maidens by a count of 25-23. Deweliver of Hazelton was high point getter for the evening with 20 points.

Lineups:

Star Athletes In Fiftieth National Meet

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (UP)—Seven world records probably will topple tonight when America's outstanding athletes compete in the 50th national indoor track and field championships at Madison Square Garden.

We're moving and we're taking the Pot Shots week-end will be taken up with such matters as toasting trunks, book-cases, etc. But here are the week's answers, anyway:

THUMB-NAIL MYSTERIES SOLUTIONS

1. Buch: Finnegan. Although Buch was wearing the doctor's white coat and trousers, the guard knew the figure retreating down the hall wasn't a doctor because it wore no shoes. Buch, when he leaped from the hall had taken only his victim's coat and trousers. So he fled in bare feet.

2. Buzz: Brannigan. His ad for "For Sale—Faint, hood grapes for wine," told the gang to meet him in Portland, Me. "Lard" and "Wine" (Fart) were the code words. And Portland, Me. is the only town by that name north of Boston.

3. The Indians: They had no horses until they got them from the Indians. So "Visit" before the day of Columbus couldn't possibly have been greeted by mounted Indian warriors.

MR. PRATT'S LINGO WILL SMOTHER ANY FIRE?

Pot Shots: The Pratt Sales company had a fire early Wednesday morning. It smoked up the paint house pretty bad.

AE, CLASS WILL TELL:

Pot Shots: The public must certainly be told of the high achievements of Mr. Fred (Schuhling) Sanger. Fred went skulking up at Sun Valley, Idaho, up on Dollar Mountain, they were short of skiing instructors to take care of the beautiful eastern debutantes. So they hired Fred. He collected an all-day instructor's pass on the ski lift.

Pot Shots: A short time ago I read an article by Asst. Postmaster Thompson about the bee bugs that did not belong to the bee but were county bugs.

Now maybe Mr. Thompson will come out and tell us all about the bee bugs that he had while he was in the sheriff office.

What's the matter with that?

I'll say you lo to I he never got any complaint from the meat.

—Ims Blond Chaser

BEANS AGAIN

Dear Pot Shots: I note you say there are plenty of bean taters being sold as if they are being sent to "big boys" who afford to buy beans. I imagine they are A-1. Why not give this surplus to the needy? I have had to scowp up now—if any—account of the typhoid germs that seem to sometimes float around the Maglo city. I have had to have my kid hold them with that would make another somewhat of a puzzle.

POLLY CHELSEA, secretary stranded in London was won by JERRY WHITEFIELD, hero, the man who saved her life. GABRIEL BANKS, privateer captain.

CHAPTER XVII

THE BRITISH ship, British war sloop, spent several days cruising between England and the Netherlands without sighting any foreign sails worthy of her attention. She headed then for the Atlantic by way of the Strait of Dover.

"A Ramsgate, a port at the Strait's eastern entrance, the Sunline put in for fresh water and supplies. This was fortunate for local farmers and produce men. Bumboats carrying fruits and vegetables, fowl and even live stock swarmed around the ship's hull like dirty underzuckled ducks around a swan.

During their exercise period on deck the two American prisoners noted these things, though the presence of their guards prevented their discussing it. It was not until they were in the prison hold again that Cabell Banks confessed: "This is one thing I don't like. But none of your leg-over-the-fairfall stuff in broad daylight."

"Not that again," Jerry agreed. His back had healed, thanks to youth and good blood, but caution had laid hold of him. He was determined to escape if his heart continued to beat in his body, but he would not again lose precious time in abortive attempts. He now asked Cabell Banks, "Ought we to try to get together?"

"What have you worked out?"

"A couple of well-placed blows from your fist will bring Jerry crying for course. How much money have you got on you?"

Jerry emptied his pockets and found that he had less than four dollars on him. "That's all," Jerry said. "I was all for punching their noses when Cabell stopped him and drew him out of it."

"You've got a sense enough to come in out of the rain," he muttered. "Can't you see a female in distress without getting involved?"

HISTORY OF Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

FEB. 26, 1923

The Kiwanis club voted today to place a big signboard on the main traveled highway leading from Boise to Twin Falls with an arrow and a lamp in the center, pointing in the direction of Twin Falls by the distance marked plainly. Markers will also be placed on various roads in this county and from points leading to this section of the state.

The above was some of the recommendations of the public affairs committee of a series of Civic Club luncheons and sponsored by him and L. B. Chase in address before the club.

Other speakers were John W. Ferguson and Theo Barracough, both of Boise.

27 YEARS AGO

FEB. 25, 1911

The people of Greeley are evidently not satisfied with the way the Twin Falls county is a potato country, as the Twin Falls Commercial club this week received a letter from a Chicago business man, stating that he had recently returned from a trip to Greeley where he learned that a potato starch factory was contemplating for the Twin Falls, white factory proposition. It is still in embryo, it is possible that something may develop along this line, and the secretary of the Commercial club has written the Chicago man for further details.

Any readers of this paper who might be interested in a factory of this nature, or a series of Civic Club luncheons with the secretary of the Twin Falls Commercial club.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER (Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—In case in 1928, Roosevelt's remarks in his remarks as to prices and recovery it may or may not be more illuminating to reveal what the administration economists told him in their preceding huddles.

There had been heavy kickbacks on previous Roosevelt statements, especially the one about cutting steel prices and maintaining steel wages, and an increasingly vociferous demand for a definite statement of business policy.

So Roosevelt called in the economic soothsayers and asked them to figure out just what they were sure of as to the recession—past, present and future.

Everyone agreed that out-of-balance price relationships were a prime recession factor. Such economists as Leon Henderson of WPA, and others from his private studies at Johns Hopkins hospital, and Dr. I. L. Horowitz of the bureau of labor statistics had been talking in that direction for a long time. Either they didn't speak loudly or distinctly enough or the President was hard of hearing.

DEPENDS ON BALLYHOO

Now, however, the world is informed that the administration has a real business policy. In addition to the campaign to lower some prices or monopolistic prices on the high side of the price level after the manner of Robert H. Jackson, emphasis is to be placed on the need of raising prices driven far down on the low side in the current recession.

The campaign to lower some prices and raise others is for the maintenance of ballyhoo and psychology.

The economists brought their fever charts to the White House by royal command and cited one outstanding parallel in event leading up to the Hoover depression of 1929-33 and those preceding the Roosevelt depression of 1927-38.

Each time, they said, raw materials had jumped out of bounds.

They had reached their destination, pushed back to the deck's outer edge. A bombast of unchopped fowl was about to move off from the brig's stern. They saw over the railing and Cabell hailed to the four men at the oars.

"Wait there! There's others can't fowl besides the commissary! We marines want six ducks for our mess! We're coming down!"

The men were looking up, their oars barking water. Cabell said to Jerry's ear, "Slide. Then jump. Make the boat!"

Without more ado, what appeared to be two very pranking young British marines, one large and well built, the other as wisecracking as a counting-house clerk, grasped the cathead and slid down the anchor cable until they could drop into the bumbust.

Chickens cackled and geese honked and the marines' shouts faded the matter ceased to be of interest to the crowd on board the Sunline.

CABELL BANKS said to the gaping produce man in charge of the bumbust, "We want to get ashore for a few hours. We've been confined to quarters. You wouldn't begrudge an evening's fun, would you, to a couple of His Majesty's finest, about to go off and fight the Americans for you?"

"You'd say now?" spoke up Jerry urgently.

"You said you wanted six ducks," grumbled the disappointed poultry man.

"No," he replied Cabell with a wink. "We can keep them for our 'How much?'"

"Three crones," gave you got it on you?"

"Yes And a little over for a celebration ashore. . . . Pull away. We don't want to be caught."

The man gave orders to his helpers; the bumbust put awkwardly about and made for the shore. Arrived there, Cabell drew out four silver crowns from his ill-fitting trousers and gave them to the poultry man. "One over," he said, "for good measure. Feed those ducks of yours. We'll want the eggs to throw at Americans."

"You're drunk, both of ye," said the man, blinking the coins and ducking his head in his pocket. "Look sharp, or ye'll get for back to the brig tonight."

"You don't think we'd do that, do you?" Jerry asked, in a softened voice. He and Cabell Banks, laughing hysterically, put their arms about one another and went ashore.

"SKID CHAINS ON YOUR

Editor, Evening Times:

I notice that most of the public forum letters are more or less directed against someone's hide. I don't know whether this will qualify or not.

I think it would be a good answer to about 80 out of the next 100 letter.

Sincerely,

Twin Falls, Feb. 23.

1. Keep skid chains on your tongue; always say less than you think.

2. Make promises sparingly and keep them liberally.

3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging thing to or about some one.

4. Be interested in others; interested in their pursuits, their welfare, their homes and families.

5. Be cheerful.

6. Be open and open mind on all debatable questions. Discuss, but don't argue. It is a mark of superior mind to disagree and yet be friendly.

7. Let your virtues speak for themselves and refuse to talk of another's vice. Discourage gossip.

8. Be careful of other people's money.

9. Pay no attention to ill-natured remarks about you. Simply live so that nobody will believe them. Discovered errors and bad digestion are common causes of backbiting.

10. Don't be too anxious about getting your just dues. Forget self and you will be respected.

Opportunities in Used Cars

There is no use overlooking the fact that automobile dealers are again being harassed by that increasingly perplexing problem—the used car. In fact, the moguls of the automotive industry are getting their heads together in an effort to find a way out—not only for themselves, but for their dealers the country over.

Consequently, during March, the American people may witness the greatest campaign ever undertaken to dispose of worthwhile used cars. And these same American people who are in need of better cars will do well to avail themselves of this opportunity, for there is no telling what course the manufacturers might follow after the present surplus of used cars is reduced.

One thing sure, there was never a better selection of used cars from which to choose, and consequently never a better opportunity for one to get even more than his money's worth.

Those driving dangerous, broken-down jalopies can ill afford to continue doing so under present circumstances in the used car market. Those who want and can afford a better car than they are now driving might likewise profit by investigating current used car bargains.

While there is no definite assurance that the day is fast approaching when "wrecks" will be taken out of circulation and the industry itself will control absorption of used cars generally, it appears that such steps are close at hand.

That being the case, those in the market for a used car may never again see such opportunities as are now being presented as a result of the problem reaching its climax.

Visit the used car lots in Twin Falls! See for yourself what the dealers are offering. Maybe then you will realize that it's no longer economical to drive your present automobile.

Postal Problem

Most everyone admits the United States postal system is pretty wonderful, even if it isn't exactly solvent, but some of its hard and fast rules cost Mr. Farley's department lots of business in time. Take the case of the New York business man.

He wanted, for business reasons, to send a ledger, cash book and check book to his auditor in Long Island. He wrapped these articles up in a heavy paper, left the parcel unsealed and took it to the postoffice. There he told the clerk of the package's contents and was informed that because his bundle contained writing it would have to go first class. The postage would be $3.27.

The business man took his parcel over to the express company where a clerk sealed it for him, insured it, gave him a receipt, promised prompt delivery—all for the price of 41 cents.

The postoffice has to have rules, but it also apparently, has competition on its hands.

Bright Spot

Contrary to the natural assumption that children of the country's poorer classes went through terrible privation during the depression, Dr. Albert Graeme Mitchell declares that children in the United States are better off physically because of the lean years. Dr. Mitchell is head of the Children's Research foundation of Cincinnati, and explains this seeming paradox as follows:

"Poor children have had much better care during the last few years than at any other time during their lives. The spotlight has been focused upon their condition and society as a whole has come to their aid, bettering their circumstances more than their parents would ever have been able to do unaided."

Federal, state and local relief agencies, continued Dr. Mitchell, one of the country's leading experts on child disease, is assuring the nation of a harder race.

Farm Security Administration working on low-cost steel housing, might popularize their product with the slogan "A steel at $2,000."

Criminal in a traffic accident begs police to take him to jail where he can be safe. And leaves poor law-abiding citizens to take the rap at the street crossings.

TWIN FALLS BEET MEN REFUSE TO SPLIT

GROWERS REJECT SECESSION FROM STATEWIDE BODY

By an unanimous standing vote, more than 300 members of the Twin Falls County Beet Growers association today were on record as opposed to breaking away from the state organization. Heads of the Idaho Beet Growers association this afternoon termed the action a "major victory" in their efforts to keep the state group intact.

The local grower action was taken at a mass meeting held in the I. O. O. F. hall in Twin Falls yesterday afternoon and called after two hours of discussion regarding alleged "misrepresentation" of growers in this section as regards representation in affairs of the state organization.

Cobbler Makes Fiea

Making a strong plea for continuation of the state group as it is now formed, George W. Cobbler, first vice president, pointed out the value of mass formation in "getting things done."

"What is going to be your influence, your strength and your financial situation if you break away and set up an organization of your own?"

"The thing which has broken every farmer organization in the past has been politics and it is nothing more than that which is, at the present time, attempting to break the Idaho Wool Growers association. But I can tell you the same thing if you break from the parent organization it will still go on."

"Men who cannot be president of the state group, what do they want they should get mad from the inside out and the first thing they want to do is break away," Cobbler said.

He pointed as to the advisability of the county group remaining with the state were carried throughout the meeting by John S. Feldhusen, former member of the state group and district througher. Through his talk, however, Feldhusen made it clear that he was "not in favor" of breaking away although "if some of the things which I have heard that in the past few weeks are true that it is time we do break away."

He called for more representation for growers of this section and said "this is more or less what we have objected to at the state meeting. You boys up there can tell us what to do if you want to because you have more representation."

Answers to "frustration" that K. G. Barlow, Burley, was underpaid when he served the parent organization and that a check which was "no good," Alma Lindholm, Idaho Falls, secretary-treasurer of the state organization, read from audited records, no pay for the year 1937 had received $2,657.72 since Jan. 1, 1934, including $2,018.44 he received in 1937.

"Also," Lindholm said, "regarding that check I might say that it would be good and would be paid if it was ever presented for payment."

State Chief Speaks

Many of those growers present entered into the discussion during the meeting. Included among them were Preston Lawlor, Lewistown, state president. He expressed his appreciation for the action taken here and said that the one object in view of the state group was the betterment of the beet growers of Idaho.

At the same time A. A. Blich, Rupert, told of the "real" real methods which were used at Burley when state officials tried to speak to the growers at the meeting in which that body formed a group of their own.

"Jealousy was the reason for that break," Blich said, "but this organization is larger than any one man and I am glad that the Twin Falls growers see just that."

Payments Explained

Presiding at the meeting was Carl Leonard, president of the Twin Falls Beet Growers association. Harvey Hale, county agent, explained government beet payments before the formal business session got underway.

Contract discussion and outlining of the beet labor situation was also on the program.

The refusal of the Twin Falls group to "secede" followed by one day similar action by the Minidoka growers, who unanimously decided Thursday night to remain in the Idaho association.

On Tuesday evening, Kay Goff won first place in the drama division, June Jensen, second and Margaret Eigenbaum, third. Others entering were Connie Clark, Ruth Eoff, I. L. Goodman, and Edna Strickland.

In poetry, Louise Fenwick placed first, Bonnie Heath, second, and Vivian Massey, third. Kay Goff and Elsie Ward also competed. In the humorous division Guy Hugh placed first; Irene Esten, second, and Dorothy Maurer, third. Pined Brown was also a contestant.

Recreational Center Moves Step Nearer

Establishment of a recreation center for Twin Falls, planned on democratic principles, was a step nearer realization today after nearly 100 persons attended a meeting held last night at which W. S. Olanberg, Portland, area executive for the Y. W. C. A., was chief speaker.

Present at the meeting were representatives of local churches, civic and service clubs, fraternal organizations, schools and other interested individuals.

Site Foretold

Announcement by Claude Detweiler that the Junior Chamber of Commerce expects to gain title to 20 acres of land adjoining Harmon park within the next 30 days, indicated the possibility of having a recreation building on that site.

Said from Mr. Chambers, other speakers included Caroline Dudley and Robert Doos, youthful leaders who brought Twin Falls' lack of facilities to public attention through forum articles in local newspapers; Mrs. I. E. Joslyn, president of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers, who pointed out that local youth has "no place of recreation excepting that which they can find on their own accord"; Mrs. C. K. Knobel who spoke of Y. W. C. A. activities in this city at the WPA center, and Don Spauzy, WPA recreation leader.

Urges Investigation

In the principal address Mr. Chambers pointed out that, no matter what form of recreation unit is established locally, a complete investigation should first be made. "Establishment of a Y. M. C. A. in Twin Falls would not necessarily call for a building costing in the neighborhood of $10,000," he said. "Rather it is quite possible that it could be carried on by the use of existing facilities with a trained leader."

"In this manner a complete program could be arranged at a cost of approximately $4,000 a year," he pointed out. "Local governing boards set the membership costs and that the national association dictates no policies along this line."

"In most communities where a 'Y' is established," he said, "fees are reasonable. In some cases boys, and in the case of the Y. W. C. A. the girls, are admitted free if under 18 years old. However, when only a leader is furnished the program is free for anyone wishing to participate."

Church in Action

He termed the association as "not a church but the church in action." "We feel that it is not enough just to keep the youth busy and occupied but also turn to bring out the belief in Christ to religion and their ideals."

Speaking briefly, Mr. Spauzy told of activities of the WPA group here. He listed the aims and objectives of the recreational association he represents to be (1)—Find competent persons among the unemployed to place these people on various recreation programs throughout the state; (2)—to promote pre-service and in-service recreation training in order that the workers may be further trained in leadership; (3)—to develop leaders for present and future community recreation programs; (4)—to assist communities.

PRIZES ARE SPUR FOR TAX INQUIRY

Announcement of substantial awards in the tax survey under the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in the 11 western states spurred the local chamber today in its cooperating research program.

To the community taking first place for adequacy of its tax-dollar inquiry will go a double award, it was announced by Twin Falls C. of C. officials. Chairman of the winning organization's tax research committee will receive a free trip to the 1939 convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington, D. C. Chamber secretary of the winning group will be given board, room and tuition for the 1938 session of western commercial secretaries.

Twin Falls is one of the four Idaho communities taking part in the survey intended to show whether adequate value is received from the tax dollar. Others in Idaho are Caldwell, Idaho Falls and Moscow. Three Utah cities are participating—Ogden, Price and Salt Lake City. In all, a total of 60 communities is carrying on tax research in the west.

Present status of the Twin Falls survey, according to Secretary F. G. Thompson, finds preliminary research on city taxes completed, and the chamber now working on county and school district tax figures.

With the possible trip to Washington as a goal, chamber directors today issued a call for a "tax-minded" local businessman to assume chairmanship of the research here.

Communities taking second and third prizes will receive a cup (or plaque) and a scroll. Seven cities will receive honorable mention.

ANSEL FISH, 86, PAID LAST HONOR

Friends and relatives gathered at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel yesterday afternoon to pay final honor to Ansel Fish, 86, pioneer resident of this section.

Services were conducted by Rev. E. L. White, Methodist minister, assisted by Rev. H. G. McCallister, pastor, Miss Mabel Case and P. L. Latham sang "City Poursquare" and "Asleep in Jesus."

Buhl Grange Honors Memory of Member

BUHL, Feb. 26 (Special)—Mrs. Margaret Burrows (a special member of the Buhl Grange was given a special memorial service observance at the meeting of the Grange this week in the city hall. Mrs. Burrows died last week at her home here.

During the business meeting the Grange went on record as volunteering to sponsor the Future Farmers and the 4-H club work next year.

E. R. Bennett, state horticulturist gave a talk on the value of landscaping. He stressed the fact that homes should be framed with shade trees, the lawns should be kept free and open. All shrubs should be close to the house. The most important thing is not the kind of trees and shrubs but the beauty of their proper use, he stated.
