WEDNESDAY SET FOR HEARING ON PLEA BY PHELAN

BOISE, Ida., March 7 (UP)—Plea of Tony Phelan, former chief clerk of the state penitentiary, to two indictments held by Judge C. E. Winstead, charging embezzlement and misuse of prison funds, today was postponed until Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Phelan was to have appeared today to plea to the indictments. He was held in lieu of $10,000 bail. The hearing was held by Judge Charles E. Winstead.

Winstead will rule at the same time on a request for a writ of habeas corpus. Phelan's attorney, J. N. Leggat, Phelan's attorney, to get aside the indictments on the grounds that presence of Attorney-General J. W. Taylor in the grand jury room was illegal. Judge Koelsch heard the motion Saturday and denied it, stating that in the interests of the public service, the attorney-general's presence was permissible.

'Rivers' of Sunny Southland Show Their Teeth

For many years the "rivers" of Southern California have been the butt of dry jokes. But they showed their teeth when, fed by 11 inches of rain in six days, they burst from banks, inundated lowlands and washed out many steel and concrete bridges. This picture shows why traffic in the Los Angeles area was paralyzed. What remains was the Barnham boulevard bridge between North Hollywood and Burbank. The debris at left was a part of Warner Bros. motion picture studio.

Probe Starts on Method, Cost for Airport Survey

Two important steps to clear the way toward state acquisition of the Twin Falls-Jerome inter-county toll bridge were taken today at Seattle, Wash., according to a long distance telephone communication to the Evening Times this afternoon.

The moves were these:

1. Officials and attorneys of the Twin Falls-Jerome Inter-County Bridge company declared they are now willing to negotiate with the state for an acceptable price on the bridge.

2. Federal District Judge John C. Bowen cleared the way for resumption of the Twin Falls district court suit looking toward state acquisition of the bridge and removal of the toll.

Judge Bowen denied the petition presented by a three-man Idaho delegation seeking renewal of the state court suit, but denied it "with prejudice" in event of the motion on June 1 to renew that the company's federal bankruptcy proceedings are not completed by that date.

The bankruptcy reorganization proceedings under section 77-B of the federal bankruptcy law, have forced the barrier to the state condemnation action here, since the suit was under federal jurisdiction and Judge J. W. Porter ruled that the state court here had no right to proceed.

Psychiatrists to Study Boy Who Stabbed Mother

CHICAGO, March 7 (UP)—Theodore Danforth, Jr., 16, faced examination by psychiatrists and the grand jury today, unremoved by the announcement the state will not attempt to send him to the electric chair for killing his mother.

"The crime was not premeditated," the assistant state attorney, Morris Myers said. "The boy is not a hoodlum. The case is not one that requires the death penalty."

The blond youth who stabbed his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Danforth, 47, with a butcher knife after an argument over his truancy at school, appeared more calm than any time since his arrest Friday.

Mass Funerals Held For Flood Victims in Southern California

LOS ANGELES, March 7 (UP)—Mass funerals were begun today for the many scores who died in the southern California flood. The mourners passed along streets half buried in mud and debris, where groups of grim and weary men still searched for the missing, five days after the disaster.

There were 139 persons listed as dead in the 30,000 square mile area and it was estimated that 200 or more had died.

To seek out sightseers and looters during the rehabilitation work, national guardsmen were on patrol at Anaheim; sheriff's men blocked the roads in San Bernardino county; mounted posse guarded the banks of Lytle creek and Santa Ana river in several counties.

Nine more men were added to the death toll last night when a haggard party of two women and four men emerged from Tujunga canyon, and reported that nine of their companions had been drowned when a torrent swept down upon a construction camp 50 miles northwest of Los Angeles. For five days the surviving six had been without food. They had lived on water and coffee. A rumor of their plight had preceded them here and three boys climbed a precipitous trail to assist them. The boys carried one of the survivors, who is a paraplegic.

Nine more men were added today at Anaheim. Most of them were drowned in the Atwood and La Jolla area nearby, when the Santa Ana river left the banks and took a new course down the main street of Atwood. It is a Mexican community.

Five Suspended From U. of I. for Tabloid Edition

MOSCOW, Ida., March 7 (UP)—Five journalism students were suspended from the University of Idaho today for alleged "bad taste" in the publication of a press club edition of the college newspaper, the Anahim. It was reported more other students might be suspended.

William Ash, Boise; Jack McKinney, Salmon; Gordon Smith, Boise; James C. Yoder, Nampa, and Fred W. Swank, Portland, Ore., were suspended by a faculty-student disciplinary committee last Saturday. It was reported two student members of the committee voted against the suspension.

All five students were prominent campus leaders. Ash was the paper's tabloid with sensational headlines and stories. Reported as most objectionable to the committee were letters to the editor for sex and social news, classified advertisements and a feature story, "He Done Me Wrong."

Twenty students were members of the Press club, which said only three or four had no part in publishing the disputed edition.

3 MEXICANS DIE IN GUN BATTLE

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex., March 7 (UP)—A gun battle between two forces of peace officers, in which three men were killed, was a byproduct of a feud between two Mexican families, who have been fighting among themselves while serving as officers of the law.

In the past two years, the feud has cost the lives of six men. The bloodiest incident occurred Sunday on the old military highway outside El Paso, where a peace officer, deputy sheriff and two former deputies were slain by five deputy constables.

Both sides were armed but the constables' force suffered no casualties while the sheriff's group was annihilated.

The feud was Deputy Sheriff Juan De La Cruz, 34; Elbio Elizondo, 40, and Jose Cantu, 40, former deputies.

Constables listed:

The constables were: Amado Vera, Elia Solis, Martin Solis, Benito Saenz and Benigno Ramirez. They were a feud between the boys of A. P. Vera, Jr., and La Grulla, where the battling families live.

The survivors' version was that they, the constables, were trying to arrest Elizondo for disturbing the peace. Elizondo ran and boarded a school bus owned by Cantu, in which he was a passenger. The bus started down the road, the constables' car in pursuit. Outside of town, the bus was crowded from the road. The constables' car sprang from all her with guns blazing.

Feud Since 1934

The constables surrendered to sheriff's men in the county and Octavio Sanchez, chief deputy sheriff, was ordered to investigate the case.

Help Pledged For Monument At Rock City

Sen. William E. Borah and Cong. D. Worth Clark this afternoon helped themselves to work for the establishment of a national monument at the famed City of Rocks region in the state of Idaho.

Word to this effect was released by Charles Brown, editor of the Oakley Herald and president of the City of Rocks association, which organization is working for the federal designation of the area.

In a letter to Borah, Senator Borah said in part:

"I am enthusiastic for your plan and you can count on me to be of aid to you in every way possible. It seems to me we ought to make the movement a movement of the people."

In another letter, also received by Brown, Cong. Clark said:

"Let me assure you that I am heartily in favor of the plan and will do everything within my power to bring it to a successful culmination. If I can get the National Park Service to support the City of Rocks as a desirable national monument, I think we can get it created either by presidential proclamation or, if necessary, by an act of congress."

In his letter Clark also said he has given the matter up with the park service and has been assured that it will have an investigator make a survey of the proposed park site.

This afternoon Brown pointed out that the entire area now known as the City of Rocks is not contemplated in the National Park Service's plan. A unique and scenic portion would be included.

Levine Asks Kidnapers to Get Ransom

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 7 (UP)—Murray Levine, increasingly worried for the safety of his 12-year-old son, Peter, who was kidnapped 10 days ago, has asked kidnapers today that the way was open for him to negotiate safely with them.

The attorney telephoned to newspapers a statement that he was directly an appeal to the kidnapers to hurry and collect the $30,000 ransom that he is ready to pay. Levine has heard nothing from them for a week. Nevertheless he clung to hope that the boy is still alive and at his request the police and federal agents still kept out of the case.

Republicans and Minority Demos Join in Attack

WASHINGTON, March 7 (UP)—An Ohio congressman today led the attack of a coalition of Republican and minority Democrats in an attack on the administration's proposed tax on closely held corporations as the house neared the end of general debate on the revenue act of 1938.

The bill was near its first major test of an amendment aimed at the undistributed profits tax.

Rep. Arthur P. Lamson, D. O., charged that the tax on closely held corporations would be a double tax in accordance with ability to pay. Rep. William L. Nelson, D. Mo., adding the bill was a "tax on the answer to loud lamentations" of his business against government as the figures on 1937 profits and those of 1932.

House minority leader Bertrand H. Snell said in a speech on the floor of the house that latest developments in the fight against the Tennessee Automobile Finance bill, which requires the need of a comprehensive inquiry into TVA operations. Among Levine's developments was the refusal of American Electric Power Co. to resign as suggested by his co-director.

Rep. Charles McNary, D. Ohio, interrupted questioning by Walter W. Reuther, executive vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who had introduced a bill to amend the National Association of Manufacturers' civil liberties committee to warn that the N. A. M. might destroy itself by uncompromising resistance to American peace and economic evolution. The committee is inquiring into the N. A. M.'s public relations service which had led to the loss of American jobs.

WASHINGTON, March 7 (UP)—The supreme court today specifically reversed itself in two long-standing landmarks of tax law, ruling that profits derived by private companies from state-owned oil lands operated under lease are subject to federal taxation.

The tax decision approving levies by the internal revenue bureau against the Mountain Producers corporation was expected to have far-reaching effects.

It was reached by a 5-to-2 vote of the court and its importance was emphasized by a strong dissent by Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes. He stated in his decision that the court was expressly overruling principles laid down in the Helge vs. Chlorine and Barnett vs. Colorado Oil & Gas companies cases which have controlled major phases of tax law.

ROOSEVELT ADOPTS HANDS-OFF POLICY ON CONGRESS

EMERGENCY HAS LESSENER, SAY FDR ASSOCIATES

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Close associates of President Roosevelt said today that he had adopted a hands-off policy toward congress because of a conviction that the pressure of emergency had lessened sufficiently to make such a policy possible.

That explanation came in the midst of substantial reports that congress would meet under less favorable conditions and a disposition to oppose New Deal measures would compel Mr. Roosevelt to withhold "reform" proposals from this session.

There are indications also of uneasiness within the cabinet. That uneasiness is based on the wisdom of methods which after years of application still have not disposed of the unemployment problem nor the strong pressure of strikes against violent business recession.

Conflicting Advice The president is receiving conflicting advice from within his own cabinet. His Secretary of State, Cordell Hull, is urging a more active role for the government in the economy.

Mr. Roosevelt insisted that the people had shown in the elections of 1932-34 that they were in favor of their congress and that congress in behalf of wage-hours legislation nor to seek anti-monopoly action.

President's associates who have discussed these new White House tactics explain that there has been a change in the mood of the president's associates. He has said that it is strictly a matter for congress to decide whether the legislation will be passed.

There is no agreement in the cabinet as to what should be the change of tactics in dealing with congress. There is an accumulation of persuasive circumstantial evidence that Mr. Roosevelt will be recognizing the inevitable in giving rebellious legislators an easy ride.

FOOD VICTIMS GIVEN FUNERALS

(From Page One) under each arm and struggled on with them. Twice floating planks struck him a stunning blow. Each time he knocked a chip from his head and added another death to the toll. Ritano alone of the family survived.

Anahelm, a few miles down the river from the flood, was a desolate place today. Thick, sticky mud filled the streets. Broken timbers and driftwood lay in heaps in every direction. There were rain odors and a stink by the receding waters dried quickly and was whipped up as dust by every breeze.

Search Ruins Mexican families plodded along silently looking in the ruins for missing relatives and relatives who worked doggedly without a word. National Guardsmen walked the streets. The only music came from the church organ.

The scene was similar at La Jolla, a Mexican settlement five miles east. Men there were ripping buildings apart bit by bit in their search. Inside and under houses they found carcasses of animals left to die because of the danger of epidemic.

The chugging of caterpillar tractors silencing the wailing of the streets and a rooster, were the only sounds at times in the once bustling town of San Mateo.

Strict Regulations Three companies of National Guardsmen enforced strict regulations almost everywhere. They checked hundreds of farm animals and pets. Drinking water was boiled and families were ordered to submit to typhoid, cholera and malaria tests.

For 40 miles along the Santa Ana river banks, sheriff's men searched for bodies. They ripped apart flood-damaged buildings and dug through wreckage drifting bodies might have been caught. It was a foregone conclusion that some had been carried down the river and never been found.

Upstream, at Riverside, workmen dug into the mud that obliterated a farm house. They were unable to within six inches of the tops of cars. The river, in changing its course, swept directly through the town. Sheriff Carl Rayburn said probably 15 or 20 more people had been killed.

Sections Isolated Stern warnings were issued against looting. Some sections still were partially isolated, and people could not get out without food. A coast guard amphibian plane was brought inland to help in the search for bodies.

While waiting for his second murder trial, Elizondo was accused of murdering Turibio Solis, another victim of the feud, who was shot Feb. 4. He was free on bond in the second murder case.

Deputy Sheriff Sanchez, starting his investigation of yesterday's fight, said he had found two shotguns, three rifles and a pistol in the constable's car, and two revolvers in the school bus.

Through discussion of veterans' legislation and on disabled veterans' affairs will be conducted at 8 p. m. today at the meeting of the Stradley chapter of Disabled American Veterans of the World, war officers announced this afternoon.

Hart, is past department commander of Idaho's 13th district committee and past judge advocate. Post officers said that Mr. Rayburn is "well known in veterans' affairs throughout Washington to the local units," and will answer queries on difficulties of disabled vets.

All possible sign-up of membership was urged today to combat what officers termed "renewed campaigning by the Economy League."

Installation of new district post officers will also be carried out tonight, with a new staff headed by Commander William J. Walters taking office.

The auxiliary will furnish entertainment and refreshments. All disabled veterans and their wives were invited, whether or not members of the local post.

Two local residents, Carl Putzler and Ben Munpower, were recovering today from minor injuries sustained last night at 1:30 p. m. when their car overturned five times and was completely demolished.

The accident occurred when the pair was reported to be traveling at 40 miles an hour on the north side of the bridge. Putzler was thrown clear of the wreck and Munpower was imprisoned in the machine with the door jammed by the impact.

They were aided by a resident of the neighborhood.

mappe of the region and elevation every 100 feet must be made. The Snake river canyon and on the rim-to-rim bridge Saturday as local auto dealers sent five used cars crashing to the canyon floor.

Spectators were banded along the rim east of the bridge, hundreds jammed the bridge itself and others lined the north side from which the five cars were sent over the rim. Parked machines filled every space within hundreds of yards of the area.

Drivers Leap The five old machines were driven over the canyon edge under their own power, with drivers leaping to safety after starting the cars. One auto went over every three minutes. Second machine to hurtle out into place was blazing; the third car was also set afire and exploded as it hit the rocks below.

The machines shattered into small pieces as they struck. Three rolled into Snake river far below. The vehicles plunged about 300 feet before hitting the out-jutting rocks, then rolled another 300 feet to the bottom.

After the crashes, the thousands of people who had gathered to see the event were disappointed because of the small pieces into which the cars had shattered.

Some Churn Down One adventurous group of spectators climbed down on outcropping rocks, and used movie cameras and spy glasses.

PROBE OPENS ON AIRPORT SURVEY

(From Page One) Principal speakers at the meeting yesterday, Rep. Cavanaugh read a telegram which he received from H. G. Boonstra, Salt Lake City, assistant western division manager for United Airlines. The telegram stated that at least a flag stop is assured for Twin Falls if the field is developed. Boonstra said such action by the airline would naturally lead to regular passenger, airmail and express service for Twin Falls.

Principals speakers at the meeting yesterday, over which Cavanaugh presided as chairman of the chamber aviation committee, were Ed Eby, Boise, state director of the Federal Aviation Administration, and Raymond Briggs, Boise, WPA engineer who handles airport projects.

Tells of Requirements Bryan told those present of requirements which the division of aeronautics would require. He stated that the number of preliminary plans in development of the field. He also stressed the fact that the aviation industry was no longer a "plaything" but rather a business and the fast growing industry in the United States today.

He cited figures to prove his point as follows: passengers carried on regular airlines in 1928 numbered 8,276 while in 1937 there were 1,347,000 passengers. In 1927 there were 1,300 airplanes against 9,000 today (1938 was 250,000 planes against 1,000,000 in 1937 against 3,000 today; 55,208 miles of airways today over which planes fly 190,257 miles each way today against 10,000 in 1927 against 32,000 in 1928; 1,500 licensed pilots in 1927 against more than 100,000 today.

Mr. Briggs told of WPA requirements and also previous plans which have been submitted for the field. He also read detailed requirements of an acceptable field and told of the procedure necessary to obtain a set of plans.

Cites Fund Lack Mayor Lem A. Chapin said the city was "anxious to cooperate in any way possible" in the project but that the limited budget under present operating conditions makes it impossible for the city to give any funds toward the survey at this time. Twin Falls operates on a budget which is set for a year in advance and, under law, officials cannot spend more than the budget calls for. The next fiscal year does not start until June.

Because of the lack of funds in the city budget at the present time, the committee was named to investigate means of raising the funds which would be from $25 to $100,000 depending on the development of the survey maps which would take about 30 days to complete.

3 MEXICANS DIE IN GUN BATTLE (From Page One) seven wounded. Those slain that day were Pablo Solis, a kinsman of the two Solis brothers in the constable's party yesterday, and David Gomez. Elizondo and Cantu, two of the men slain yesterday, were to have gone to trial today in Alice, Texas, on murder charges resulting from the Memorial day battle. Elizondo had been found guilty once of the Memorial day shooting, but his sentence had been reversed on appeal.

While waiting for his second murder trial, Elizondo was accused of murdering Turibio Solis, another victim of the feud, who was shot Feb. 4. He was free on bond in the second murder case.

Deputy Sheriff Sanchez, starting his investigation of yesterday's fight, said he had found two shotguns, three rifles and a pistol in the constable's car, and two revolvers in the school bus.

3,000 Watch Old Autos Go Over Rimrock

Approximately 3,000 persons lined every possible vantage point along Snake river canyon and on the rim-to-rim bridge Saturday as local auto dealers sent five used cars crashing to the canyon floor.

Spectators were banded along the rim east of the bridge, hundreds jammed the bridge itself and others lined the north side from which the five cars were sent over the rim. Parked machines filled every space within hundreds of yards of the area.

Drivers Leap The five old machines were driven over the canyon edge under their own power, with drivers leaping to safety after starting the cars. One auto went over every three minutes. Second machine to hurtle out into place was blazing; the third car was also set afire and exploded as it hit the rocks below.

The machines shattered into small pieces as they struck. Three rolled into Snake river far below. The vehicles plunged about 300 feet before hitting the out-jutting rocks, then rolled another 300 feet to the bottom.

After the crashes, the thousands of people who had gathered to see the event were disappointed because of the small pieces into which the cars had shattered.

1 EVENT DROPPED FOR TRACK MEET

Senior girls' high jump was dropped today from the annual Twin Falls county rural grade school track meet and a tentative move was made to award individual medals instead of a district trophy.

The actions were taken at a meeting in Idaho Power auditorium Saturday, attended by 50 teachers and parents in rural schools. The session, called to consider complaints in connection with the annual meet, discussed abandonment of the county event in favor of district meets and also considered possible substitution of softball for the track program.

Oppose Softball Smaller schools opposed the softball proposal because of difficulty in forming teams with limited funds. The plan was to take on the plan to use district meets only this year, and it was decided to go ahead as scheduled with the 1938 county-wide event at Filer fairgrounds on May 6.

Ralph Brown, Poplar Hill, chairman of the board of athletic control for the Twin Falls county Teachers' association, presided at the meeting Saturday.

Eliminations by April 22 The board will work out district areas and other details, and eliminations are to be completed by April 22. Other board members are A. N. Kleinjohn, Pleasant Valley, and J. A. Miller, Washington, Idaho.

The plan for individual medals instead of the district cup was not formally adopted but may be utilized if decided on later.

Flood Discloses Specks of Gold

POLICE WAR ON BICYCLE THEFTS

Local police this afternoon announced that in the future all juveniles arrested on charges of stealing or molesting bicycles will be taken before J. M. Shank, juvenile officer.

Bicycle thefts have been numerous in the police office the first of the year, police officials point out. Nearly every one of the wheels taken have been recovered in another section of the city, the person taking the wheel evidently using the same for transportation purposes.

Because of the numerous thefts reported, they said, the captured offenders will be taken before juvenile authorities.

SERVICES TODAY FOR R. P. SCRIPPS

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 7 (AP)—Private funeral services for Robert P. Scripps, controlling stockholder of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, will be held at 4 p. m. today at his ranch, Miramar, near San Diego.

Dr. Howard Bard will officiate. The family asked that no flowers be sent. Burial will be on the ranch.

Roy W. Howard, chairman of the executive committee of all Scripps-Howard publications, arrived by plane yesterday to attend the services. George B. Parker, editor-in-chief of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, and J. L. Cauthorn, general business manager of the Pacific Coast Scripps-Howard newspaper, moved to the ranch from Los Angeles.

Scripps died aboard his yacht, the Novia Del Mar, off the tip of Lower California. The body was transferred at sea to the liner Pennsylvania, and accompanied by Parker and Cauthorn, who had been guests on the yacht, arrived at Los Angeles Saturday.

Mrs. Scripps and Robert P. Scripps, Jr., left for New York aboard the liner California when notified. They disembarked at a Mexican port and arrived in Mexico City where they took the plane for San Diego.

Paul Patterson, controller of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, was scheduled to arrive in San Diego today from Cleveland.

CLARK APPEALS FOR SAFETY AID

Gov. Barzilla W. Clark, through local law enforcement officers, this afternoon appealed to citizens of this section of Idaho to support the state safety council and also county safety organizations.

"The Idaho safety council is a statewide organization to coordinate and assist all communities in safety work," Clark wrote local officers. "It presents an intelligent attack on the problems of highway accidents. It is worthy of every man and woman within our borders to join the council in this work."

He pointed out that the people of Idaho are becoming more dangerous in the reduction of highway accidents, as shown by the decrease in fatalities for last year.

"If this attitude is continued throughout this year we can expect to see the Gem state's fatalities cut down to less than 100 deaths," he said.

"Ride" Victim Dies on Coast

Galuzo, a 35-year-old bartender, was kidnapped and shot because, apparently, he was believed to have information about the murder of Les Bruneman, gambling czar, last fall.

Three men abducted him from a crowd in front of the downtown Bartender's Union hall, drove to the outskirts of the city, and shot him seven times. They told him "you know too damned much about the Bruneman case." They threw him in a rain-filled gutter where he nearly drowned.

Bruneman was slain in a gambling war. Three killers pumped 11 bullets into him as he slipped beer in a cafe, Galuzo, before lapsing into unconsciousness, denied having knowledge of the Bruneman killing.

L. D. S. LEADER MAPS PROGRAM

SALT LAKE CITY, March 7 (AP)—Designed to aid farmers in overcoming economic difficulties is an expanded program of education and research announced by Dr. John A. Widtsoe, member of the council of 12 apostles and agricultural adviser of the church security program.

2. Development of new outlets, more efficient marketing through better grading, and better planning. It was announced contracts have already been made for marketing five carloads of celery to be raised on security projects of 1938.
4. Correlation of agriculture and industry.

Dr. Widtsoe said representatives "in the near future" will visit the power alcohol plant at Atchison, Kan., to study possibilities for construction of similar units in Utah.

The L. D. S. leader said the Atchison plant has proved the feasibility of power alcohol manufacture from farm products.

UBEGS FARMERS TO REJECT FEDERAL MONEY

Editor, Evening Times:

Often times I have thought if there is room among our statute books for one more law it might be well to enact one to encourage the extermination of solicitors. We are constantly being solicited to subscribe for this, that and another thing, and to refuse brands us as a piker. After refusing contributing until it hurts I read in Saturday's Evening Times an editorial asking for contributions to its Public Forum, stating to choose our own subject and go to it. Somebody may get shot, but here goes:

If the post office at Point Barrow, Alaska, should be robbed of as much as a postage stamp we could expect a squad of men to rush in with orders from the department of justice to bring the culprit in dead or alive. At the same time the United States treasury is being robbed of millions of dollars—the chief executive and his subordinates sanction it with a smile. Under the charge of the New Deal, the strain of conscience is being developed which allows one to rob the government of as much as he can.

Obviously the door has been torn from its hinges or some irresponsible party has a master key. I have no quarrel with anyone who helps wretched people when in distress. Those farmers in the dust bowl who haven't raised a crop for four or five years have reached the limit of human endurance. They should, and must be helped, and the government in the logical agency to do the job if it is to be humane, wise and not to add strength to a political machine.

Simply because those unfortunate farmers receive aid while in dire need is no reason why we farmers on the Twin Falls tract, where crop failure is unknown, to grab an equal share of the money to be handed out. Remember this: To those people and their descendants, the same as to us and ours will fall the burden of paying back to the government every cent (with interest) that we accept in the form of soil conservation, soil depletion, and other checks. Are we helping them or are they helping us?

Some of us who have boasted so loudly about the wonders wrought by this valley may some day feel woefully humiliated if our friends in the dust bowl mention the fact that during the Roosevelt administration we, too, took aid the same as they. Can't we show them that we can still make a living on our own power? Or if we cannot fall checks are they intended as a vote catcher that the ante is too small.

Yours truly,

Temperatures Stay Over 14 For February

Continuing to be classified as "most unusual," temperatures in Twin Falls during the month of February failed to fall below the 14 degree mark and on the last day of the month soared to 59 above, records prepared for that period by J. R. Douglas of the bureau of entomology, showed this afternoon.

Low temperature for the month (14 above) was recorded on the 18th while the next low readings came on the 25th and 26th and was 19 above in each case.

Pressing on the heels of the month's high was the reading of 69 degrees above zero taken on the 11th and again on the 21st.

Only five times since records have been kept here (1909) has the temperature gone above the 59 degree mark which was recorded during February of this year. This temperature was exceeded in 1907 when 60 above was reached; 1915 when 61 above was registered and in 1926, 1930 and 1934 when readings of 62, 66 and 65 respectively were recorded.

The records show numerous instances when the temperature failed to go below the low of 14 which was recorded for the month just passed.

Youth Shoots Self After Accidentally Wounding Friend

KALISPELL, Mont., March 7 (AP)—John Chapman, 18, was near death today because he shot himself through the abdomen after he accidentally shot his best friend, John Talmadge, 18, as Talmadge held a bottle for Chapman to shoot at with a target pistol.

Chapman's shot at the bottle struck Talmadge in the arm, inflicting a superficial wound, but Chapman was critically wounded. Physicians said a delicate operation was necessary to remove the bullet which lodged near Chapman's spine.

SHOOTING VICTIMS' RITES CONDUCTED

Two services were held over the week-end for two victims of shootings, Gordon St. John, 20, killed by his father, Harry Edward St. John, who in turn died from police officer's bullet.

Many flowers and a number of friends and relatives marked the child's rites at the Drake chapel yesterday afternoon. Rev. H. G. McCullister, pastor of the Methodist church, read the service.

Mrs. Russell Foster sang a number playing her own accompaniment. Her selections were "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Somebody We'll Understand." Interment was in Sunset Memorial park.

Gravestone services were held on Saturday for the elder St. John with Rev. Roy Barnett, Baptist pastor, in charge. Interment was in Pioneer cemetery by the White mortuary.

JAPAN SUGGESTS COMMUNISM FEAR

TOKYO, March 7 (AP)—When the American people awaken to the dangers of Communism, Japan may open conversations with the United States on the question of Korea, a foreign minister, said in the diet today.

Replying to questions in the lower house as to whether Japan has been negotiating with the United States regarding Communism and its dangers, Hirota said the American people apparently are not aware of the evils of Communism, although American capitalists oppose it.

When the American people awaken to this evil, he said, Japan may start conversations with the United States, Great Britain, the Netherlands and other nations looking toward "diffusion of the anti-Communism spirit in all nations."

Hirota told the diet that Japanese-American negotiations in regard to Bristol Bay (Alaska) fishing questions were making progress but a statement on the subject would not be timely at the moment.

In regard to Soviet relations, Hirota said the Soviet authorities at Leningrad recently arrested 28 Japanese nationals. He said this hindering complete readjustment of relations.

HERE'S MISS REED'S ANSWER: "Yes, indeed, I certainly love Camels. Camels are distinctly different in so many ways. Going through my stunts over and over is a severe test of healthy nerves. I smoke Camels all through the day, and my nerves 'ya' feel the least bit frayed. Being so mild, they're gentle to my throat too. After a meal, I enjoy Camels—for digestion's sake. You see—in so many ways, Camels agree with me."

BOHRAH SIGNALIZES BATTLE ON NAVY BUILDING PROGRAM

HOUSE PREPARES FOR FIGHT WITH 'ISOLATION' MEN

WASHINGTON, March 7 (Special)—As the house made preparations today to consider President Roosevelt's billion dollar naval bill a pre-view of the expected bitter battle on the measure in the senate was given by Sen. William E. Borah, R. Idaho, senior member of the foreign affairs committee.

He described the bill as an unjustified step toward "the beginning of another world war." He criticized expenditure of such a huge sum "at a time when the people are in sore distress to find means to carry on," and he charged that "something more is contemplated" other than national defense if the program is judged on the basis of recent hearings before the house naval affairs committee.

Forerunner of Battle

Borah's remarks were interpreted as the forerunner of an attempt in the senate to curtail the bill, and expected expenditures for additional fighting ships. It was believed that there would be a concerted attempt by "isolation" senators to substitute a program for more airplanes and coast defenses for the present plan which would increase the navy by 47 fighting ships in all categories.

"To add far over a billion dollars to the regular naval appropriation with full knowledge that it is but the beginning, when in connection with what other nations are doing, is a long step towards world bankruptcy and possibly world war," Borah said.

"Such a program is not in the interest of peace. It is not for the welfare of our people."

"All for Defense"

"It is said of course that this is all for national defense," Borah said. "Every navy ever built by any nation was for national defense, or so-called defense. Our modern wars are in national defense. Japan tells us that she is waging war against China in national defense."

"I do not believe this huge spending program can be justified upon any reasonable conception of national defense."

"The navy bill may get to the senate by the end of next week. Present plans are for calling it up in the 'Thursday' period. A sharp fight was predicted by the house floor not only on the bill itself but on various proposals for legislation to take the profits out of war."

Rep. Wright Patman, D. Tex., announced he would offer an amendment to the most limiting sure in eliminating private profits of all war manufacturers — from bullets to battleships — in time of peace as well as war.

Would Reduce Limit

Patman's announcement came as some house members hoped to eliminate from the pending legislation the present clause limiting private profits on a naval construction contract to 10 per cent. However, Patman hopes to reduce that limit to one half of one per cent or some equally nominal figure.

The house military affairs committee already has reported favorably a bill that would authorize conscription of men and industry and give to the president authority to place a ceiling on prices in event of a declaration of war. But Patman believes that the country should not wait for war.

"The people who talk about taking the profits out of war are sincere," he said, "why can't we start in time of peace?"

Page Harry, Hopkins! Here's Five Snow-Shovelers for WPA!

QUINTS APPLAUD MOVIE CARTOONS

GALLANDER, Ont. (AP)—So enthusiastically did the Dionne quintuplets respond to the first moving picture they saw, one of Mickey Mouse's adventures, that plans are underway to furnish them with their own projection machine and several more of Walter Disney's animated cartoons.

Frank Donovan, director of a newsreel crew which spent some time here filming the quints, said the picture was run for the girls in the Dionne nursery.

"Marie was the most selective in her applause, and Emilie the first to respond to the songs," he said.

"The quints, except Emilie, who made a pretty steady noise with her applause throughout the picture, were spellbound for the first few minutes. They soon began cheering Mickey and his dog Pluto but Marie was the last to respond. She was the most selective in her applause, she nodded, but when some scene really took her fancy she stood right up and yelled."

The sisters did not show much sympathy for Pluto when a flock of ducks grabbed him by the ears and flew away with him. Donovan said, "In fact, they thought that was about the funniest scene of all. They also liked the spot where fleas jumped off Pluto's back when he was in the air, and floated to the ground again parachute."

He said when the ducks flew across the screen Emilie and Marie stood up and waved their arms in imitation.

When the film was being rewound, the five girls showed absolutely no interest, but as soon as it started off again the night they began applauding loudly, Donovan said.

Nature's Herbs Are Used to Relieve Catarrh

It can be safely stated that one of the most annoying and obnoxious maladies to which the human race is susceptible is catarrh. A disease though comparatively painless, presents so many repulsive features as to make it one of the most noteworthy in the consideration of disease. A trouble not only localized to one particular place, but one which, if allowed full sway, will crawl as a venomous serpent from one locality to another, poisoning the victim and ultimately, if not killed, undermining the health of the most robust individual.

This disease usually starts as a simple "cold in the head" and if not checked, will in time transmit its inflammation to the deeper structure, affecting ears, eyes, nose, throat, lungs, stomach and causing a general breakdown of the patient.

Are you a victim of this repulsive disease—CATARRH? Try our herbs. If you could see the letters of gratitude which we receive daily from people who have suffered for years and at last when on the verge of despair regained their joy and happiness of health through the use of our remedies, you could no longer doubt the efficiency of them.

PORTLAND MISS BOWS IN OPERA

ALESSANDRIA, Italy soprano—Rose Colombi of Portland, Ore., soprano, will make her grand opera debut as Nedda in "Il Pagliacci" at the Municipal theater here the night of Tuesday.

Miss Colombi is one of the 12 girls who were selected from more than 500 singers in a nationwide contest last September. The auditions were held by the government's Theater Inspectorate in an effort to discover new and young vocal talent in Italy. Despite the fact that Miss Colombi is a foreigner, she was selected as one of the lucky twelve.

Alessandria is considered to have one of the most critical operatic audiences in Italy. Two Americans who have made good in local debuts and went on to world renown are Franca Squitzi (Marion Clarke of New York, now singing at Rome's Royal Opera) and Giuseppe Bonolis (Joe Bonni of Gayle, Okla., now at the Metropolitan).

Miss Colombi, who has been preparing for such an opportunity during the past year, may be given operatic roles this summer at Milan's Musio Festival. # LOYALS JUBILANT AFTER TORPEDOING REBEL CRAFT

BRITISH WARSHIP RESCUES 400 OF NATIONAL CREW

By IRVING R. PFILAU

BARCELONA, March 7 (AP)—Jubilation in the British navy was reported today as they celebrated their little fleet's torpedoing of one of the two rebel cruisers in the nationalist navy.

Not only did they destroy the cruiser—the Balares or her sister ship Canarias, each of 10,000 tons—but their airplanes bombed other ships in the nationalist fleet.

The cruiser Balares still smoldering in her blackened hull, was foundering off Cartagena while two British warships made for a nationalist port with approximately 400 survivors of an estimated crew of 765.

Brave Loyal Attack

The British warships braved a nationalist airplane attack on the nationalist fleet to rescue the survivors. The British ships were the fleet leader Kempfenfelt and the destroyer Boreas. Able Seaman George G. Long of the Boreas, was fatally wounded by bomb fragments.

Loyalist authorities were overjoyed and Defense Minister Indalecio Prieto intimated to the United Press that he planned offensive warships off the east coast to break the nationalist blockade which has cut off important supplies of war materials from loyalist ports.

Prieto, at a press conference last night, showed aerial photographs of the nationalist cruiser as it burned off Cartagena. It was attacked Sunday morning by three loyalist destroyers, all of which fired torpedoes into it. At 7 a. m. loyalist warships were firing over the rebel cruiser, photographed as it burned.

Bridge Washout Disrupts Train Service

California's southland suffered its worst flood in 61 years—11 inches of rain fell during the four-day washout, washing out railway bridges (see above), highways, flooding airports, homes and doing damage estimate at $25,000,000. Service on transcontinental planes and trains was disrupted for 36 hours.

Idaho Aviators Stress Need For More Airports in State

Need for more airports in Idaho as well as improvement work on many of those existing at the present time was stressed Saturday as members of the Idaho Pilot's association and the Three Point Flying club met at Boise in planning conference.

More than 10 fliers from this section of Idaho, 47 members of the Idaho Pilot's association, attended the meet along with 30 members of the Boise group. Planning speakers were heard during a banquet at the Boise hotel after which members of both groups were guests at a dance sponsored in the hotel by the Northwest Women's Flying club.

Dean Cities Need

Speaking for the association, President Lionel A. Dean, Twin Falls, pointed out need of more adequate fields in this section of the state. He also told of work being done by Chamber of Commerce officials and others in attempting to obtain an airport suitable for Twin Falls.

"Air transportation cannot be developed to serve south central Idaho until airports keep pace with plane development," he said. "The fields we now have, and which were adequate in the early days of the industry, are now sadly lacking in facilities to care for the large ships now being used. In many cases it would be dangerous as it is in the case of the Twin Falls field, for the larger planes to land unless they had no other choice as in the case of an emergency."

Penn Stohr, Boise pilot who flies the mail twice weekly into Atlanta, a mining community, pointed out need of adequate fields in such areas which would tend to bring in eastern and far western sportmen.

Speed Possibilities

"Hunting and fishing possibilities for such sportmen are attractive if they can get within a few miles of them," Stohr said. "But a pilot does not like to fly 200 miles to hunt and then take three or four days to travel from the nearest field to the hunting ground. Rather such fields should be constructed within a few miles of such centers. They would also serve as emergency landing areas in sections where no other landing spaces would be available."

Stohr told of forest service aid at Atlanta and was high in praise for the lead the service was taking in forest airports.

Dr. I. W. West, president of the Three Point club presided and introduced the visiting pilots.

He complimented Boise city officials in taking the lead which will result in a new flying field for that community. The field will provide the longest surfaced runway in the United States, a distance of between 2,000 and 3,000 feet. The old Boise field, now in use, is inadequate for the large planes which United Airlines will put in service before June 1 on the line which follows along the Old Oregon trail.

Feature of the dance following the banquet was a demonstration of the Idaho Spud dance, a "take-off" on the big apple, as given by a group of Boise high school students.

F. F. A. TITLE GOES TO PRESTON BOY

Don Nelson, Preston, captured the state public speaking championship of the Future Farmers of America organization at the state finals held at Piler on Saturday evening. By virtue of his win over the five other contestants Nelson will represent the state in the regional contest, which will probably be held at Reno.

Second place in the event went to Duane Crooks of Shelley. Marvin Jagels of Buhl was third. Other contestants were Max Hansen, Ammon; Harry Stewart, Caldwell, and Keith Carlson, Moscow.

Following the speaking event which was sponsored by the Piler Grange and held in the high school auditorium a picture of the F. F. A. national meeting in Kansas City was shown to the 100 assembled by William Kerr, head of the department of vocational education at Boise.
