

STAR FIELD WILL PERFORM IN SUN VALLEY SKI TOURNEY

Throngs of Fans Will Flock To Ketchum to Watch Aces

SUN VALLEY, March 10 (Special)—Ketchum and Sun Valley were ready today for invasion by thousands of ski fans expected to flock to this resort country to watch ace skiers of America and the world perform Saturday and Sunday in the Sun Valley international tournament.

With but a little more than a day to go, entries were still coming into this snowy realm to take part in the greatest ski season ever held in this country.

With official stamp of the Federation Internationale de Ski, highest international ranking body in competitive skiing, the Sun Valley meet is a clearing house for world files and records. The tourney slated for the week-end is drawn the creme de la creme of the snow fields all over the world.

Latest entries to register for the Sun Valley clash represent top in American skiing. Men such as Sigurd Wikland of Lake Tahoe, downhill and slalom champion of the California Ski association for 1937; Carl Bechtolt who placed second in the slalom in the California Ski association championship meet last year; Tom Souvleak, who placed third in the downhill and fifth in the slalom; and Martin Arrauge who finished second in the slalom of the same meet, have entered the meet here.

Robert Balch has been entered, card of the downhill champion title of the United States Western Amateur Ski association. Balch was second in the combined results of the championship meet of that association last year.

Earl Edmunds has signed up, slalom champion of the California Ski association. Edmunds, who was a senior skier for the University of Washington last year, took first place in the slalom and second in the downhill and jumping in the Pacific Coast Interscholastic Union championship meet arrived from Seattle in company with Len Robinson of the University of Washington, who placed high in all events of the Pacific Coast Interscholastic meet last year. Robinson has the added advantage of having competed this winter on the tricky Sun Valley race courses during the Washington-Dartmouth meet, in which he showed quite well.

Northwest Champion Also from the Pacific Northwest Ski association will come their downhill and combined champion, Elmer Hvan of the Cascade Ski club a man to be considered in the coming meet.

The new entries in the race to represent the Sun Valley Ski club are Al Lindley, former club president, and Carl Hockett, the club's downhill champ. Lindley is a resident of Minneapolis, and is very well known in Eastern skiing circles, having been a member of two U. S. Olympic teams. Hockett, the most recent skier to enter, will be a definite threat in the downhill sweep Saturday, judging by the sensational run he made down Proctor mountain a week ago to win the Sun Valley club championship.

Geoffrey Engl, reputed to be one of the greatest slalom runners in existence, who arrived here two days ago with Hannes Schroll from Yosemite, to represent Austria in the meet, will not be able to compete due to a slight ankle injury sustained in a practice run on Ruid mountain yesterday.

Bavarian Star Another entry in the week-end race that assures a wider scope of action than any other, because of the fact that it permits participation of amateur and teacher alike, Ulli Beutler of the Bavarian team, won the United States national amateur downhill and combined title at Stowe, Vt., Monday, adding another to his list of American and European honors. He won over Dick Durranne, favored entry in the Sun Valley International, and winner of last year's Sawtooth version.

Bigger Ruid, one of the most versatile performers in the history of skiing, will be on hand to continue his record of wins around the world. Last year, this marvel of the magic slalom competed something like 200 meets, of which number he placed in 190, and took first place in nearly 100 of them. This winter, his first visit to America since 1924, he has literally leaped from meet to meet, taking first place in all the jumping events across the nation, Lake Placid, Brattleboro, and all the rest.

Prager Is Threat Walter Prager, the charming young Swis who ably stepped into the shoes vacated by the great Otto Schnebe as coach of the Dartmouth college ski team, is not to be easily reckoned with in the forthcoming competition. Oiling for Switzerland in the Sun Valley International, this slightly built chap has quite an impressive record behind him. For instance: he was F. I. S. all-around champion in 1931 and 1932; Swiss junior champ in 1930; all-around Swiss champion in 1933; downhill and slalom champion in 1930 and 1932; Grison champion in 1932; Prager winter (4 1/2 mile downhill at Davos) in 1934; and second in slalom at St. Moritz, Switzerland last year; and third in downhill and third in slalom here at Sun Valley.

The Sun Valley International will commence with the downhill race about 11 a. m. Saturday over the difficult course on Durranne mountain which was named after the present holder of the Harriman cup, Dick Durranne, one of the greatest American contributors to the realm of skiing. The scene of the race can be reached by early arriving cars, but late arrivals will be prohibited from driving their cars to Durranne mountain, in order that traffic congestion may be avoided.

Slalom Sunday Sunday will feature the slalom race run in two heats down the face of Ruid mountain over a course de-

ADDED SNOWFALL FOR RESORT AREA

Additional snow in the Ketchum and Sun Valley area, as of last Monday, added to the satisfactory conditions expected for the international ski meet this week-end, according to interpretation placed by local ski enthusiasts on the weekly report by F. S. Moore, Sawtooth forest supervisor.

Ketchum had 39 inches Monday, a gain of one inch over the preceding week and fully 20 inches more than at this time last year, when the first open tournament was held.

Hailey showed 22 inches, unchanged from the week before. Other reporting stations in the Big Wood river watershed showed increases all the way down the line. Calena had 30 inches; Mascot mine 37 inches; old Baldy from 45 up to 85 inches at the three reporting points.

The Salmon river watershed showed a slight decline. Williams ranch reported 28 inches as against 30 the preceding week. Stanley had 16, compared with 18 a week ago.

On the Malad watershed, Fairfield showed 18 inches, unchanged. Soldier ranger station had 30, a drop of three inches, according to Mr. Moore's report.

Cumulative snowfall in the entire Hailey sector from last Oct. 1 widened its increase over 1937. The figure now is 99.25 inches. One year ago it was 87.25 and the average is 76.01.

We Need More D'Annunzios. Every country and every age needs a man like Gabriele D'Annunzio as a release from the humdrum and the prosaic, the routine and the inevitable dull monotony of everyday living.

His love affairs, particularly his famous romance with Eleonora Duse, were the vicarious joy of every honest Italian. D'Annunzio lived like a feudal lord in his villa Vittoriale, over the door of which was engraved "Per Non Domine".

Death is the most prosaic thing that ever happened to D'Annunzio. He courted glorious deaths, often talked of taking his own life in spectacular fashion as old age came upon him.

Life at 21. Twenty years mean many things to many people. To a New York mother and her son 20 years meant the difference between life and death.

Planes Aren't So Fast. Man is pretty smug with his air liners, his air speed and his predictions of stratosphere planes five times as big as any aircraft now in existence.

IT'S TIME FOR somebody to step into the breach and offer a set of blue-ribboned leadership.

HINTS TO TOURNAMENT. Never throw tomatoes at the referee. Almost always, he doesn't like tomatoes.

Always assume that the hand playing to cheer on the other team actually knows at least half the times it attempts. People who insist that one-fourth is the proper figure are breaking a strict rule of courtesy.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER. (Evening Times Washington correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The latest mail trail of "old bolshievnik" in Russia may remind you that the Soviet consulate at Washington has made clear in the first place. As it is, the delay in explanation has given the shipbrokers a chance to bid that their attacks forced a change of plans and public disavowal of a personal profit motive.

PLenty OF RED TAPE. After the heaviest diplomatic pressure, applied by the state department under White House orders, was the American charge at Moscow, Moscow was permitted to see Mrs. Rubens and identify her as an American citizen—and then under restrictions.

BY MYSTERY. Inquiries among army and navy officers for inside information about the "spy scare" centering on the arrest of three German spies in New York elicited little more than sarcasm.

Marian Martin Pattern

What could be easier... just six simple panels to cut and six long, easy seams and the shoulders to sew, add belt and buttons and turn up the hem... your dress is ready to put on! Now take a look at yourself! Aren't you delighted to see how much slimmer you look... here's the reason... Pattern 9636 calls for the look and center panels to be cut in one piece. This long, unbroken line adds height and the panel itself makes you look narrower, too. The belt, held by two buttons at each side, ties in back and keeps the dress smooth and flat in front. If you use a 36-inch girdle you can make the panel on the bias for still greater slenderness. Complete Marian Martin Diagrammed Sew Cards included.

TAYLOR STARS IN "YANK AT OXFORD"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer went to tremendous expense in sending Robert Taylor, Lionel Barrymore, Maureen O'Sullivan and a large technical crew 7,000 miles to film "A Yank at Oxford," which opened yesterday at the Opequon theater, but the results obtained have compensated the producers for their efforts. It presents Robert Taylor in his most thoroughly satisfying role to date. It brings to the screen an authentic and sympathetic description of life at Oxford and rural England that could have been obtained only in the actual locale.

A beautiful, athletic characterization on the part of Taylor, rounded and convincing performance by Lionel Barrymore and Maureen O'Sullivan, and fine costuming by a group of outstanding British players, make the film memorable. Particularly to be noted are Vivien Leigh as the "other" girl, Griffith Jones as Taylor's undergraduate enemy and Edmund Owen as the Oxford dean.

Jones Family to Return to Idaho

Assembling America's famous Jones family for each new picture in the popular Twentieth Century-Fox series presented a difficult problem to studio casting officials until they imported a novel contract plan.

Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane, Spring Byington, Russell Gleason, Kenneth Howell, George Ernest, Jimmie Carson, Florence Roberts and Billy Mahan all signed contracts, calling for their services in three pictures annually and specifying that the studio would give them thirty days advance notice of the start of each new picture.

Currently the family is starred in "Borrowing Trouble," their fastest and funniest hit, which begins at the Idaho theater Friday.

Minidoka Surveys Give Snow Depth

BURLEY, March 10 (Special)—Snow depth in the Minidoka forest is highest at Deadline Ridge, where it measured 48 inches, according to a recent snow survey. Water content of the snow is estimated at 14 inches.

While snow depths are below normal, irrigation prospects for farmers who use water from the Goose creek drainage area are good because of the high water content of the snow.

REBELS ADVANCE IN HUGE NEW OFFENSIVE IN SPAIN

400,000 TROOPS BATTLE ON LONG 110-MILE FRONT

By Harrison LaRoche
HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Front, March 10 (UP)—Spanish nationalists, undertaking one of the greatest offensives of the civil war, have driven back government troops in nine fierce battles along a 110-mile Aragon front, dispatches said today.

An estimated 400,000 troops, 180,000 on the insurgents' side and 220,000 on the government's, opposed each other along a line extending from Puentes de Ebro, just below Zaragoza, to Montaban on the north-eastern front.

The insurgents said that government lines had been broken in four sectors and that their forces had advanced an average of five miles along the entire line. Loyalist officials at Barcelona admitted that their troops had been forced back and that the nationalists had captured many villages.

Rebels Cut Road
 The road from Belchite to Montaban was cut by the insurgents early today just north of Segura, depriving the government army of direct communication between two strongest positions. Communications between the two forces must now be made by way of Alcaniz.

Immediate objective of Generalissimo Franco's nationalists appeared to be the recapture of Belchite and control of a strategic triangle area bounded by Pina on the north, Alcaniz to the east and Montaban to the south.

Success would further remove government pressure north of Teruel and enable the insurgents at the same time to strike down the Ebro river valley toward the Mediterranean, to drive a wedge between Valencia and Barcelona, and cut off Catalonia from the rest of Loyalist Spain.

The insurgents advanced to within six miles of Belchite in one of their strongest thrusts and latest advances said these forces still were progressing.

Radio Calls for Help
 The radio station at Madrid sent out repeated calls for soldiers, communications officers and officers of the 28th and 31st mixed brigades to return to their bases promptly, apparently for immediate transport to the front.

Simultaneously, the rebels began an offensive on the central front, capturing positions in the mountains of the Guadarrama mountains, in an apparent thrust to Madrid.

Before the insurgents can cross the mountain range toward the plateau of Guadalupe, to menace Madrid, they will have to dislodge government forces from three passes.

British, Dutch Plea to Land at Hawaii Rejected

Defense Plan Made Reason For Refusal

By SANDOR S. KLEIN (Copyright, 1938, United Press) WASHINGTON, March 10 (U.P.)—The government has rejected the reasons of national defense for the application of British and Dutch aviation interests for permission to establish commercial air bases in Hawaii, the United Press learned today.

The major reason for refusal was this government's unwillingness to expose its Hawaiian defense to view from foreign-flag airliners over which it would have little control.

British interests sought Hawaii as a stopping place on a proposed Pacific airline from Australia to Vancouver, B. C. The Dutch were said to be interested in extending an air service from the Dutch East Indies to Manila and then to the United States.

A government official explained that if permission had been granted there was a likelihood that other nations—specifically mentioned Japan—might seek similar concessions.

Pan-American Airways at present has a contract with the New Zealand government to carry the mails between Hawaii and that country. The contract contains a clause which would permit suspension of the agreement if the United States refused applications for British commercial air interests to utilize American Pacific island ports.

Another factor that was said to have prompted the rejection was the desire of officials to await the outcome of pending civil aviation legislation which will define among other things, the agency or individual authorized to grant landing certificates to foreign air lines.

Those who will undergo the rites are: Meris Orchard, Verne Bunne, Jeanne Robinson, Bert Tolbert, Virginia Ann Chase, Jean Jones, Jenn McClavin, Bill Peters, Harry Smith, Mary Wright, Leonard Fields, Harley Barnhart and Ernest Ostrom.

The McCarran bill, pending in the senate, also would establish a five-man commission but grants authority to the state department to pass on international phases of civil aviation.

Mr. Roosevelt is said to favor the Lee bill on the ground that it approximates the administration's wishes on civil aviation control more closely than the McCarran measure.

The President said at his Tuesday press conference that he knew the Lee bill met with the approval of the majority of the members of the aviation industry and that it followed the recommendations of his inter-departmental committee on civil aviation.
