NATIONALS START ADVANCE ON LOYAL HEADQUARTERS

WAR THOUGHT IN FINAL PHASE AS REBELS CLOSE IN

By HARRISON LAROCHE
RENDAZE, French-Spanish frontier, March 29 (Special)—Nationalist troops have started an advance on Renda, loyalist general headquarters on the Gibraltar front, north of Madrid, only eight miles away. The Spanish insurgent position to France asserted today.

From their front positions, it was asserted, the nationalists could see the towers of the ancient city.

Nationalist reports from the front related confidence that with the astonishing advance the nationalists had made in the northeast—70 miles in fact—the civil war was in its final phase.

Believed of Command
 A report published by the Daily Express in London alleged that Gen. Sebastian Pozas, loyalist commander-in-chief in the northeast, had been relieved of his command.

The loyalists reported a stiffening of their lines and a loss of 700 lbs of ground in the last 24 hours. It was admitted that positions changed hands frequently in the hands-to-hand fighting. But confidence was expressed that the main lines would hold.

Bridges Destroyed
 Though intimidation had been able to cross the Cinca river into Catalonia in force in the Fraga sector, the loyalists had blown up bridges behind them and at other points and the nationalists at some points had to build pontoon bridges for their artillery.

Loyalist reports that their strongest forces were massed in the Alcanis sector toward the south of the front. To resist the advance of the front were reported to include the Clark Lister and Campesino divisions and 11 battalions of the international brigade of foreign volunteers.

Boy Shot During Holdup Attempt

SALT LAKE CITY, March 29 (UP)—A 15-year-old "baby bandit," who told police he turned to crime because he was broke and hungry, was recovering today from a bullet wound in his shoulder at police emergency hospital.

The boy, George Williams, was shot down early today during the attempted holdup of a motorist, his second victim of the night.

Radio Patrolman Golden D. Holt, who had been furnished with a description of the boy, commanded: "Put up your hands and drop your gun."

Instead of complying with the command, the youth raised his nickel-plated revolver and Holt fired, wounding him in the left shoulder.

Williams was booked on charges of robbery.

The boy told police he was a native of France, but had lived most of his life in England, coming to the United States two years ago.

"My father was cruel to me, so I ran away on my own. I don't know where he is now. I was broke and hungry and so I did it," was the explanation George gave police.

Planting Shrubs and Trees

Shrub as it arrives from the nursery with bare roots. Cover the roots with soil until here is due for planting.

Plant same height as formerly. Prune off part of last year's growth.

By DONALD GRAY
 (Idaho Evening Times Gardening Columnist)

No. 4 in a Series
 A shrub or a tree when transplanted from one part of the garden to another is quite likely to live in its new location, but when plants are purchased from a nursery certain planting rules must be followed.

Buy plants from a reputable nurseryman. Avoid fly-by-night plant brokers. When the plant arrives from the nursery, it should be covered with earth until the hole is prepared.

Dig a generous sized hole. Don't spare a half hour's extra digging if you want the plant to flourish. Make the hole deeper than the depth of the roots and wider than the roots spread. Prune off all broken roots.

For large trees and shrubs provide some kind of drainage at the bottom of the hole if the soil is heavy. A drain tile can be placed in the bottom of the hole to carry away water from the roots.

Set the plant in the hole and fill in around the roots with good quality, fine-textured soil. Keep pulling up the tree or shrub as the earth is set. Make sure that there are no air pockets left around the roots. Tamp the earth in place with your feet.

After planting prune the tops of the shrub by taking about one-third of the last year's growth as well as any weak or broken stalks.

A large tree needs bracing with wires or a stake. Shrubs and trees that lose their leaves in the winter can be transplanted without a ball of earth around their roots, whenever there is no frost in the ground and until late spring when buds begin to swell.

Evergreens can be planted at any time but the roots must always be in contact with soil. That is why evergreens are purchased balled and burlapped.

$350 SAVED ON SEWER PROJECT

Showing a saving of approximately $350 in construction of the Five Points sewer, city officials today moved re-estimation of benefits in connection with construction of the line which is now complete.

When the original assessment roll was drawn up on the engineer's estimate, it was expected that the improvement would cost $3,800. Completion, however, found the cost down to approximately $4,500. The saving will be passed on to the property owners who were benefitted by the line.

In order to enable the distribution of savings, the city council in regular session last night passed a resolution authorizing the re-estimation to be made. A committee on streets to handle the work was named. This committee includes Mayor Lem A. Chaplin and Councilmen Leonard S. Arant and Paul R. Taber. They will work with City Engineer Pies B. Wilson in the matter.

More than 100 homes in the sewer district, which is officially known as number 68, were benefitted.

VAST HOUSING NEEDS
 Dear Public: As administrator of low cost housing for Idaho, I am writing you this letter which I hope you will publish in the program of this association and the job can be done, but it will take active interest and cooperation of the communities to do the necessary work. OPPOSES RANGE ACT - HINTS RUN FOR CONGRESS
 Editor, Evening Times: I'm writing you in regard to the Taylor grazing act, which I am absolutely opposed to.

I claim the Taylor grazing act will absolutely eliminate poor boys or my boys or any other man's boys from the public domain. And I mean in this direction if he hasn't got the money to purchase property with a commensability and a priority he is absolutely eliminated from the public domain. And eventually this public domain will fall in the hands of a few. So it's actually a big man's game.

The Taylor grazing representatives are advocated to protect the small man. And just who is the small man? It is the man with the few head of livestock from the use of the public domain who is endeavoring to make his livelihood.

It seems as though that every time our main Taylor grazing officials reinterpret the meaning of the bill, the bill has a different meaning.

I feel that if this bill continues to be in operation it will be highly destructive to the stock growers of this state. According to the rules and regulations of 1928 the grazing board of district No. 1 have ignored the measures of the bill. And I believe this is right.

And I further believe this bill should be repealed or amended to suit the success and welfare of the stock growers within the Taylor grazing district.

And if I should come out for United States congress this will be one of my platform issues—either repeal or to amend so that this bill might be interpreted so that the stockmen within the Taylor grazing district will know just what procedure they are confronted with.

FARMERS FAVOR CROP PUBLICITY

Reporting farmers over Idaho to be for rather than against the program which would advertise Idaho's agricultural products, Russell Merrill, field man for the agricultural trade relations bureau, returned today after discussing the advertising situation with more than 1,000 farmers.

He pointed out that a majority of the farmers of Idaho cannot understand why a small group from Canyon county can hold up the entire program for an indefinite length of time, although the supreme court of Idaho is expected to act on the matter within the next month.

The act establishing a small tax on potatoes, onions and apples in order that a fund might be realized to advertise these products throughout the United States, is the custom in many other states, especially Maine. The Canyon county group is seeking to have the law declared unconstitutional.

Tinting Problem In "Snow White"

Months of research were spent by the chemists in the Walt Disney studios to find new shades of color for the first feature-length animated picture, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," showing all this week at Uncle Joe-K's Roky.

As a result of the work involved, fifteen hundred different colors and shades of paint went into the making of the seven-reel Technicolor production.

The way the Disney pictures are colored is this: first the animating artists' finished drawings are traced onto sheets of transparent celluloid, and the tracing then outlined in India ink. From this point, the celluloids go to scores of young women who apply the paint to them. When the celluloids are all colored, they are sent to the Technicolor camera, where they are placed over water filter backgrounds and photographed.

In numerous instances, as many as twenty-six shades of paint were used on a single celluloid sheet during the making of "Snow White."

All of the paint used in the Disney productions is ground and mixed from secret formulas within his laboratories.

RADIO MAN TELLS OF OPPORTUNITY

Sherman Wright delivered the second in a series of vocational talks to senior English students at the high school yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Wright discussed the opportunities in the field of radio. He considered each of the departments, technical, announcing, advertising and entertainment. In talking of announcing he stressed the number of women now finding places in this work.

To students interested in announcing and advertising in connection with radio he urged the study of English, dramatics and speech courses. To those interested in the technical departments he recommended study of radio-electricity and chemistry.

Exhibition of three tubes, the largest one costing $250 and the smallest one "peanut" tube, interested the students present.

Examples of the salaries paid the various workers were also related by the speaker.

Next talk in the series will be given by Harry Benoit, local attorney, on "Requirements of Professions," in which he will stress law work.

THOMAS GIVEN LITTLE CHANCE AGAINST LOUIS

Brown Bomber Rated As 20 to 1 Choice In "Tune-Up" Battle

CHICAGO, March 29 (UP)—Only two of the 20,000 who will see the fight and the thousands who will hear it broadcast will give anything Harry Thomas much more than a 20 to 1 chance to defeat Champion Joe Louis in their 15 round title bout at the stadium Friday night.

One is Harry Thomas. The other is his manager, Nate Lewis, who once was matchmaker of the stadium, in which Thomas is scheduled to be Louis' last "tune-up" opponent in the Bomber's preparations for his fight with Max Schmeling next June 22.

Thomas and Lewis are the only ones who refuse to concede it's a tune-up match.

Thomas Good Hitter
"I think Harry has a good chance to win. He can hit," Lewis said. "Joe Louis isn't a great fighter when he's been hit hard."

Thomas, who said he sparred with Louis in 1935 and brought him down after three rounds, is confident he can score again.

"Pictures of the Natie Mann-Louis fight showed me a lot of things," Thomas said. "Schmeling put Louis covering up and closing his eyes under a rain of punches. He did everything but fight like a fighter."

Both Thomas and his manager make much of the fact that Schmeling's knock-out of Louis in the 11th round of the fight in the 1935 fight was a technical knockout after Thomas, on the floor several times, became blinded by blood from a severe gash at the corner of one eye.

Never Overcast
"Harry never has been counted out," Lewis said. "Schmeling put him down—and it took him longer with Thomas than it did Louis—but Harry knew what he was doing when he was hit."

Thomas is one of the least impressive opponents Louis has faced since he hit the top. In the ring he is a very smooth, unassuming wrestler compared to the smooth, perfectly timed motions of the champion. Thomas is a technical knockout by Schmeling and a defeat by Jimmy Adams of Detroit in his last two starts.

Strikes To Spare

Despite the great bowling of Al Timmons, the rest of the team, the Pavee company boys, dropped three to the Laundry team. Al scored 215 with only a few good marks.

Bill Ford, anchor for the Laundry, got a nice 544 total, far ahead of the rest of his team. Bill's best game was his first, 206, which was also his team's best stage.

Neal Maloney got 310, Louie Pugliano 214, Everett 201 of the Laundry, where Everett got the one) and Al Pugliano was it with 477.

The National Laundry got a little firm hold on first place. They have two more series to roll.

Franklin, in second place in City League, took two out of three to strengthen their hold on that place, but they have far from a severe grip on second.

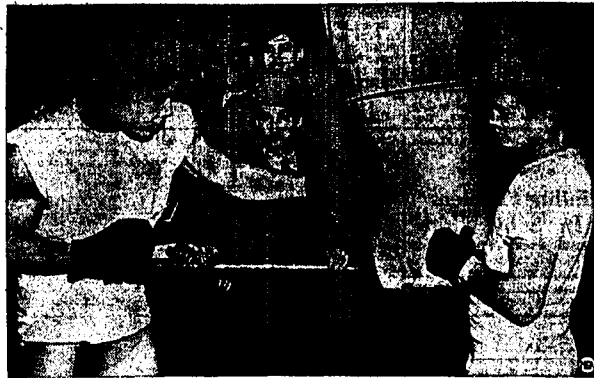

Cap Timmons led his team and in fact both teams with 229 for three games total. Bill Barfield, with 128, got the best single game for the Firestone.

Al Fillmore, with 495, topped the losers but his last game of 210 was the best for other City League team.

No game Friday night between Kimberly and the Emerick team will be picked up next week.

OKAY, CHAMP, LAY INTO IT

Success Story: Sammy Baugh Becomes Third Base Sensation of Camp

By HENRY MALMOBE
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 29 (UP)—It's a shame that Mr. Albert boy, Honolulu, is not here to write this story, because it is a beautiful piece of work. It's something that "From Bookback to Baseball."
It concerns one Sammy Baugh, who has been playing baseball since he was 12, in the short space of 18 days, moved from the unexciting position of the runner on the team to the hot spot in the regular third baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals. He has had the national league record of 100 hits in three weeks from now. He will be at third for the Cardinals, who have a game on Wednesday night. Reds to Return To Tampa Site

TAMPA, Fla., March 29 (UP)—The Cincinnati Reds will come here again next year for spring training. General Manager Warren Giles announced today. It will be the ninth straight year for the Reds in Tampa. Seeking their 12th victory in 15 exhibition starts, the Reds met the Boston Red Sox here today. They blanked the Washington Senators 3-0 yesterday.

The Sox fought an uphill battle, scoring five runs in the ninth, to down Toronto of the International league 13-9. It was Boston's eighth victory in 13 hits.

Lazzari Leads Cubs to Win

ONTARIO, Calif., March 29 (UP)—The Chicago Cubs broke up a eight-game losing streak by winning in the ninth inning, defeating Los Angeles 6-5 yesterday. A triple by Clark followed by Tony Lazzari, Reynolds, Triplett, and Meuser gave Chicago the four tallies. Lazzari had a homer, a triple, a single and a pass in four trips at the plate.

LOS ANGELES, March 29 (UP)—The Hollywood Stars, turning six walks into five runs in the sixth inning, defeated the badly hurt Chicago White Sox 11-9 yesterday. The original lead came in the sixth, but they were unable to catch the Stars in the last two innings.

LOS ANGELES, March 29 (UP)—Lubbock of the Chicago White Sox, who has not played in 194 games, hit .317 and drove in 77 runs last year, broke both bones of the lower right leg when sliding in the second base Sunday in a game with the Cubs. Dr. Robert W. King of the Golden State hospital said Appling would be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Country Club Opening Set For Sunday, April 3

Preparations today had been completed for the 1938 golfing season in Twin Falls, with the official opening set for Sunday, April 3 on the Twin Falls country club course—with the approval of the weather man.

It was announced today that no professional will be hired this year, and that Fred Stone, veteran local golfer, will serve as starter and will hold the club house concession.

According to Stone, all greens have been newly cut, rolled, re-surfaced and put in general good condition for the opening date when south central Idaho dirt diggers are expected to swarm over the course. Fairways, which were bare in scattered spots, have been seeded, and the long green distances are expected to be in better condition this year than ever before.

A change in the par holes has been made, according to Mr. Stone. The No. 5 hole, generally conceded to be the toughest on the course for a par four, has been lengthened from 415 to 540 yards, but will now be a par five hole—which is expected to meet with general approval of those who play the course.

AMERICAN ECONOMIC ILLS GREATEST DANGER, BORAH WARNS

VETERAN SOLON LASHES FOREIGN POLICY IN TALK

WASHINGTON, March 29 (UP)—Sen. William E. Borah, R. Idaho, dean of the senate foreign relations committee, warned today that hope for survival of democratic government lies not in international alliances but in the solution of America's economic ills.

"An advance, parallel or otherwise, between democracies that we may offer a solid front against dictators . . . seems unworkable," he declared in a counter-attack on the recent declaration of foreign policy by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

"Democrats are bleeding inwardly. The healing is not to be found in armaments, but in bringing contentment, happiness and prosperity to the harried, confused and discouraged citizen.

"There is a greater danger to our democracy in that vast army of unemployed . . . in men, women and children living in constant sight of the poverty line . . . than in any fleet of battleships which any nation or group of nations may choose to send against us. The danger is here in all its hideous ugliness eating away at the moral fiber of our people. These are the things which make for Communism and Fascism and which were war against every democracy.

Talks Over NBC

"If democracy cannot find a cure for the economic ills, it will talk of alliances or preparedness."

Borah's survey of foreign policy, broadcast last night on the national radio, was significant in view of impending debate in the senate on the administration's $1,200,000,000 building bill and the spread of dictatorial government abroad.

Without mentioning Hull, Borah criticized the theory that it would be possible to follow the secretary's policy of "parallel" action with other democracies without becoming enemies of the great dictators. He praised the words of Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy at London, who said that the United States would act independently and for her own best interests whenever action was necessary.

He said that the recent spread of dictatorship—including the German seizure of Austria—was the natural result of unjust terms of the Versailles and other World War treaties. But he went much further in elaboration of foreign policy.

Mississippi Theory

"The theory," he said, "that democracies because they are democracies can act together in the interest of democracy is only a misleading theory.

"It would be potent enough to get us into all kinds of involvements and into sticky entanglements with us. When the crucial test came, the question of democracy would give way to national interests or ambitions. We would be the first to make the world safe for democracy and we made it a breeding camp for dictators . . . and we quickly seized the bloody hands of those who assassinated liberty.

"If you study the signing of the Versailles treaty, that which happened to Austria would appear natural, logical, inevitable. If Hitler had remained a hot-carrier in his native village, Austria and World War would nevertheless have come together sooner or later."

He pointed to the failure of Great Britain to join with the United States in acting against the Japanese violation of treaties in the invasion of Manchuria as an example of how democracies will always put national interests first.

Democratic Dictators

He denounced all types of dictatorial government—Communism and Fascism—and the pending war profits bill which he said would lead, if enacted, to totalitarian government in the United States.

But, he added, any American move that might involve this nation in foreign alliances would be a blow to democracy.

War, he said, "is the eternal enemy of democracy, the father of Communism and the father of Fascism."

"Those who talk so glibly about our duty to crush Nazism. . . . But, if they should have their way, would plant the brutal thing in the very heart of the American republic."

A Trailer for Drunks

Citizens of Woburn, Mass., who stand in front of too many mahogany bars will find themselves behind plenty of steel ones when they are bundled into this wheeled cage and paraded before their fellow townsmen. The coop is the idea of Mayor William E. Kane, who is seen standing by while Ella M. Knowlton, president of the Woburn Unitarian Church General Welfare club, prepares to swing a baptismal bottle at the steel bars. What? Of COURSE it's water in the bottle!

TWO MISSING ON COASTAL FLIGHT

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 29 (UP)—Navy planes were ordered into the air at dawn today to search for two naval fliers missing since yesterday afternoon on a flight here from Palm Springs, Calif.

Those missing were Lt. Comd. Larue Lawbaugh and E. Key, second class machinist's mate, both of San Diego.

They took off from the Palm Springs airport at approximately 2 p. m. yesterday when flying conditions were poor.

A dust storm was blowing on the desert and low clouds almost closed San Geronimo pass, the March field army base reported. It was feared they might have crashed into the mountains while groping for the pass.

Putting a utility observation plane, the aviators went to Palm Springs to pick up a naval air officer. Bad weather delayed them and he already had left for San Diego by motor.

The flight is a little more than 100 miles and should have taken less than an hour.

Prays for Franco

While Pope Pius XI was protesting to Generalissimo Francisco Franco, head of the Spanish insurgent army, against his bombing of open cities, 70-year-old Cardinal Hayes, above, told reporters in New York that he was praying for Franco to win the civil war. The hour-long interview, his first formal press statement in more than six years, was given on the 14th anniversary of his elevation to the College of Cardinals.
