LEVY BILL RETURNED FOR CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE

LATE APPROVAL BY BORAH CUTS SECURITIES TAX

By ALLEN C. DIRBLE

WASHINGTON, April 11 (U.P.)—The bill returns to the house today with the undistributed profits tax repealed outright and the capital gains and losses tax modified drastically.

This was done to the bill by the senate after it had been approved by the house, and the house, jealous of its prerogative in revenue legislation, was expected to reject these changes and ask for a conference to reconcile differences.

An important new issue was injected by the senate with last-minute approval of an amendment by Sen. William E. Borah, R. Ind., removing tax exemption from future securities issues of the federal government.

To Cause Debate Approved, 34 to 23, despite the opposition of Sen. Pat Harrison, D. Miss., chairman of the finance committee, and majority leader Albert W. Barkley, D. Ky., the amendment will cause much debate in conference.

Administrative supporters were expected to oppose it by contending that it would amount to lowering the interest rate on federal securities, and giving government issues a lessened market since state, county and municipal issues will be tax exempt.

Opinion is divided whether a constitutional amendment would be necessary for the federal government to issue securities to state, county and municipal governments.

3-Day Approval The senate passed the tax bill in three days. Harrison, saying that the bill as rewritten by his committee would cause capital to flow into productive enterprises, obtained approval of the major revisions without a record vote.

But he faced the conference with little to use for trading. It was believed that he may have to accept the house form of the undistributed profits tax in order to retain the senate version of the capital gains levy which he considered the keynote of his version of the bill.

Tuberculosis Develops by Stages

Every person is born with healthy lungs. If later a person becomes infected again, the serious disease tuberculosis may begin. The germs that escape from the lungs are likely to infect others. Many of us become infected from other people as we grow up. If tuberculosis is not discovered early, the disease spreads. A hole (cavity) may form in the lung which is an incubator of germs that escape and menace everybody who comes in contact with the sick person.

ARMSTRONG TO EARN $200,000 IN 12 MONTHS

Negro Fighter Gets 2 Title Bouts in Year

By HARRY GRAYSON
Special Editor, NEA Service
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 11.—Eddie Mead says that Henry Armstrong will earn $200,000 and win two world championships within the next 12 months.

Mead is here with his feather foreman, who is preparing to fight Barney Ross 15 rounds for the welter weight at Yankee stadium, May 20.

Armstrong is beaten by both Ross and Ambers, but he still will be the feather ruler.

Ambers managed fighters these many years for these many years, but he is strong and can't lose. In case Ross wins, he will have a welter championship engagement.

Ambers is signed to fight Armstrong for the lightweight crown May 20.

Ambers will be the feather ruler.

Strong Track Squad Looms As Filer Stars Cavort

FILER, April 11 (Special)—Coach Jimmy O'Brien and his Filer Wildcats track squad were looking forward today to one of the most successful indoor seasons in years following the display of strength in the inter-class meet over the week-end.

The seniors won the event, with the juniors second, which was according to form, but power displays by Wayne Gentry and Krohn topped featured the day's performances.

Annexing three firsts, Gentry, also a star football and basketball player, stole the spot light from Krohn, despite the fact that the latter scored 204 points, including three firsts also. Gentry won first in the pole vault with an easy lead of 11.8, which is usually good enough to top the state event.

Krohn topped won both the high and low hurdle events, and the shot-put and also participated in the winning relay race, as did Gentry.

Other star men on the squad are John McKay, a half miler; Verd Hurlbert, distance man; Red Gilmer, javelin and Burnett, discus.

British suggestions to compete for the World Cup every two years instead of annually will not be listened to seriously at the meeting of sports nations in London this summer.

Lois Vines and Fred Perry never allow each other to lead by more than a match or two on their personal tennis tours.

Bill McKeehole, considered the master manager in the game today, is not expected to do too much with the Cincinnati club that finished in eighth place last year.

Following the interclass argument, the squad will be out to a workable size as preparative for the first annual interclass meet that already preceded the district and state tournaments.

Britain Requests Ethiopian Status

LEAGUE RECEIVES CALL TO DISCUSS ITALIAN VICTORY

GENEVA, April 11 (UP)—Great Britain today requested Joseph G. Avenol, secretary of the League of Nations, to put the question of recognition of the Italian conquest of Ethiopia on the agenda of the May 2 council meeting.

Ethiopia's status in the league has been in doubt for more than a year. At the league's session last May, Haile Selassie declared against sending a delegation. Thus the credentials committee did not have to consider his status.

Benito Mussolini on May 12, 1936, proclaimed that Ethiopia had been annexed to Italy. On the same day, Italian delegates quit Geneva because the league council agreed to keep the Ethiopian question on the agenda.

Since then Ethiopia's position in the league never has been discussed. Today's announcement indicated that Britain was determined to obtain a final settlement. Recognition of Ethiopia reportedly was part of present negotiations between Britain and Italy.

Although the league has never formally recognized Italy's Ethiopian empire, a number of nations which formerly belonged to the league, have.

A very fetching young lady is Miss Eliza Bowie, of Natches, Miss., a member of the famous Bowie knife family, and what she wants to do is to be a bigger market for the south's cotton. So she dons a pair of the new long staple hoes, perches up on top of a big bale of cotton, turns on a smile, and exhibits a pair of lovelies that she hopes will prove that legs can be beautiful sheathed in cotton. Well, what do you think?
