WORTH CLARK'S BILL ASKS PERMANENT WEED CONTROL

IDAHO WILL GET IMMEDIATE HELP, SOLON DISCLOSES

Hearings on a bill introduced by Rep. D. Worth Clark, and designed to create a permanent noxious weed program, will be held in the immediate future in Washington. Clark revealed this fact to the Evening Times in an exclusive interview in which he also forecast his plans during the coming campaign in his race for the senate seat now held by James P. Pope.

The bill, which would appropriate $25,000,000 in government funds, would put weed control measures on a permanent basis with the department of agriculture. Under the proposed setup Idaho would be able to qualify immediately for the permanent program.

At the present time, Clark pointed out in the interview, the weed program is carried on through WFA and will be continued under the same direction this year. Idaho was the only state two years ago with a noxious weed program made possible under Clark's efforts in congress since that time more than half a dozen states have followed Idaho's lead.

"But now the problem is to put the weed program on a permanent basis," Clark said, "and to this end I am pushing my bill on which hearings will be held soon."

This County Leads Records for Idaho show that at the present time 1,200 men find employment in the various industries of which Twin Falls county has the most extensive.

Turning to the coming campaign, Clark pointed out that he supported Roosevelt on a vast majority of his measures "but have disagreed with him on two or three fundamental issues."

"I propose to support those issues which are good for the country and come out against those which are detrimental regardless of the sponsorship."

Rape Entanglements "I do feel very keenly about one issue, and that is the attempt of Europe to lead us into foreign entanglements. I am definitely opposed to the world court and to the League of Nations as well as any other off spring designed to involve us in European intrigues and wars," Clark said.

He declined to comment on other issues, saying they will develop as the campaign progresses.

Senator Pope, his opponent on the Democratic ticket, has previously been termed as not being in opposition to the court and the league.

Clark left this afternoon by train to return to Washington.

BOOST FOR WOOL HINGES ON PACT

Renewed buying of wools by big mills, with resultant increase in price to Idaho and other wool producers, hinges on the pending reciprocal trade agreement with Great Britain and its dominions, directors of the Pacific Wool Growers were told by General Manager R. A. Ward, according to County Agent Harvey S. Hale who returned this week from the meeting at Portland.

Buying by mills is being kept at a minimum pending announcement as to whether or not the tariff on wool will be slashed, Ward told the session.

"Vacuum" Seen Hale, who is a member of the board of directors, said that the gathering was advised that any general climb in business conditions will mean better prices for wool growers because a considerable volume of buying will be needed to make up for the "vacuum" created by tight purchasing in the past six months.

Although Mr. Ward had no additional material to offer the meeting concerning the $50,000,000 Commodity Credit corporation loan to wool men, he pointed out that co-operators will hold an advantage. The co-op units, he said, will speed up receipt of the wool pending appraisal by federal inspectors.

Advance 70 Per Cent Seventy per cent of the loan value will be advanced at once by co-ops pending official appraisal of the wool.

The Pacific board passed resolutions against the 1.2 cents per pound processing tax on burial and the increase of 1.2 cents duty on burial above the present one-cent duty. That would increase cost of bags to Idaho growers by about 10 cents per bag. On grain bags and similar size bags for all farmers, the boards would be about two cents per bag.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER (Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

Washington, April 14.—The war between the government and the Associated Gas & Electric companies will be resumed very shortly.

Some companies will be "good" now that the supreme court has compelled them to register with the securities and exchange commission under the holding company act.

Not the famous so-called "death sentence," but the act's provisions covering "interlocking services" charges will be the next battlefield. These charges, levied by holding companies upon operating companies with "interlocking services" have been the device by which certain holding companies are alleged to have profited consumers of billions of dollars.

Service at Cost: E. G. Hopson, head of the huge Associated Gas & Electric company, who gained great notoriety during his hide-and-seek game with the senate lobby committee, is expected to be the forefront of users' activities resisting application of the service charge provisions.

Simplification: No one knows which of about 130 holding companies already registered are seeking to comply with the law. A 30-day expiration after registration under the law the service will be furnished at cost during that period.

Company Revolt: Already Mr. Hopson and SEC officials are mutually interested in a curious case in an early Virginia, acts the Virginia Public Service Co. operates as an A. G. & E. subsidiary with headquarters at Washington, across the river from Alexandria.

President Alexander Spier of the subsidiary company has refused to obey A. G. & E. orders which he said would mean the "milking" of his company by the A. G. & E. The Virginia state corporation commission has forbidden A. G. & E. to discharge Spier pending an inquiry. And A. G. & E. has gone to the courts seeking an injunction against the commission's order.

Spier says upper-layer A. G. & E. companies tried to extract unjustifiable service charges from the subsidiary company, sought to enforce policies which would cause the operating company's service to de-terminate and told him that the interests of the holding company were paramount.

REMOVE CONTROL: The Spier case is unique and SEC officials have kept it close tucked with it. A. G. & E. which spend hundreds of thousands of dollars fighting the holding company act, has subsidiaries in 28 states.

It has been shown to have as many as 10 layers of holding companies between Mr. Hopson's top operating company and certain home town operating companies. The act would permit but one holding company between the controlling concern and the operating subsidiary. (Copyright 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Easter Cruise

CAPT. OF CHARACTERS: JOYCE MILLNER, heroine; she is the "Easter Cruise" girl; she is "The Easter Cruise" girl; she is "The Easter Cruise" girl.

Yesterday, based on her past history of being a "Easter Cruise" girl, she was "The Easter Cruise" girl.

CHAPTER II: THE Emperor proved her path through the midnight waters, her decks cleared, the lights in her deserted public rooms turned low, her corridors quiet.

In Suite A-14, observed for a Mr. and Mrs. Timothy O'Hara, a pudgy, red-nosed man lay on his lute bed and snored in colorfully oblivious abandon.

Across the room a stern, sophisticated woman surveyed him with contempt and foreboding as she placed them in the alligator bag.

And strange! In the thought of the attractive girl in the black Cossack hat whom her husband had greeted so flatteringly the moment he set his unsteady feet on board.

One deck below, in Room-and-Bath B-114—recently assigned by the purser to Mrs. Gladys Porter, cruise heiress, and daughter-in-law, a blond-looking woman, with carefully coiffed and hennaed hair, stood up and down impatiently.

Richard Hamilton, Richard Hamilton III, then, she would glance back at the list, as if to assure herself that the name was still there; perhaps to make doubly sure that there was no "Mrs. Richard Hamilton" listed beneath it.

"Richard Hamilton III. Oh, where is Isabel? Where is she?" Presently Isabel appeared, and her mother pulled her quickly into the stateroom, shut the door tightly after her.

"Isabel!" she demanded, "where have you been until this hour?" Isabel, delicate, pale blond, and sophisticated, stifled a yawn.

"What is the matter with you, talking in the lounge until the steward put out the lights?" A gleam of hope brightened Mrs. Porter's eyes. "Who was this man?"

Isabel shrugged. "I don't know. His name was Gregory. He wasn't bad. I asked him to sit at the table with us."

"Wall, it's always handy to have an escort on tap from the beginning." Mrs. Porter wrinkled her brow in exasperation.

"Richard Hamilton III. The son of the president of National Rubber." "Don't nag!" Isabel implored, pouting.

"Not at all," Joyce cut in abruptly. "After all, it was an accident. I gave the man a ride because you were so light of my loss."

"But I didn't mean to do that. I was so glad to discover that it was an amount which I could replace."

"Not at all," Joyce cut in abruptly. "After all, it was an accident. I gave the man a ride because you were so light of my loss."

Remember the Shades of Easter When You Plan Spring Wardrobe

By MARIAN YOUNG (NEA Service Staff)

NEW YORK—After the Easter suit what?

Don't buy a thing—not even a pair of gloves—until you have thought out the answer to that one carefully and have made a list. Because the shopping trip immediately following the tour which cleared up the spring-suit-and-its-accessories situation is where you're likely to fall down on your resolutions to have everything exactly right this year.

If your budget is pretty limited, and your Easter suit is navy blue, you had better not run into a shop and run out with a black dress, flattery though it may be. That is, you better not unless you're prepared to pick and pay for a second set of accessories. You pass up the black—what you do—and find instead a navy, gray or creamy sheer or a print with blue the outstanding color in it.

There are wonderful rayon prints in smooth, dull as well as rough, pebbly weaves. And the rayon crepes which look like lovely sheer wool have that certain exclusive snap which the smartly dressed love.

If you have elected some kind of ensemble rather than a separate dress as number one on your after-Easter-suit list, consider a silk sheer in a color which which the full accessories go nicely and a separate wool jacket. If you are a determined shopper, you'll find one with a jacket that can be worn with the suit skirt. And over other dresses, too.

As a matter of fact, experts agree that separate jackets solve in handsome manner the wardrobe problems of the budget-minded. Two evening dresses and a couple of jackets provide an ample formal and semi-formal wardrobe for the average woman. Two or three jackets plus two perfectly plain, well-tailored street dresses take care of the daytime situation.

Once you have assembled all the items necessary to happy dressing for late spring and the summer months, stop at the store every temptation to get just any little number that strikes your fancy at the moment. Hit and miss buying is the cause of all the budget headaches that get from the knowledge that you own several things you never get money's worth out of.

For the first spring outfit or the one that you get a few weeks after you have picked your spring suit, either of these ensembles would be ideal. At the left is a short, fitted wool jacket in golden beige over a black silk crepe dress with high neckline and pleated spring skirt. The other, right, includes a crabspring print silk frock and a fitted wool coat with collar and lining to match the dress.

PUPILS CAN TRY BOTH FESTIVALS

Students who enter the south central Idaho district music festival at Burley may also compete in the state speech festival here this week-end, stop at the school building on the schedule at the hour set for their entry, it was announced today by Gerald Wallace, president of the district declamation group.

Inquiries from coaches who have students wishing to compete in both events occasioned today's announcement.

Farmers Await Crop Allotments

JEROME, April 14 (Special)—According to local committee members of the A. C. U. they are still awaiting word from the state headquarters as to what the potato, wheat, and total soil depleting bases will be for the Jerome county for 1938.

Until such information is received the committee will be unable to set the individual allotments and the local farmers will plant their crops with no knowledge of what goals will finally be set for the farms.

In view of this situation, committee members suggest that farmers go ahead with their plantings, keeping in mind that potato allotments will be set and that marketing quotas for potatoes might be established.

CARDS PICKED TO WIN NATIONAL LOOP RACE

Cubs, Giants Will Give St. Louis Club Hard Battle

Power, Pitching, Speed and All-Around Strength Given as Reasons for Choice

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, April 14 (UP)—A mystery team in April, the St. Louis Cardinals will be National league champions in October. The gas house boys seem equipped with enough power, pitching, speed and all-around strength to fight off the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants in another red-hot National league finish.

Those three clubs seem to be the class of the league. The champion Giants may seem to hold the whip hand now, but everyone knows that Bill Terry's team is set up for tight, defensive games and isn't likely to be able to beat back a challenger with as many potential weapons as the Cardinals seem to possess. As for the Cubs, they could win the pennant the last two years with the best club and the parade is likely to pass them again.

The middle three clubs appear to be Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Brooklyn in that order. As always, the Pirates have a good club but their April hopes always turn to October sales. The Reds will move up fast under Bill McKechnie, one of baseball's outstanding pilots. The Dodgers, with a classy infield, lack of power may drop the Boston Sox, strong in defense and pitching, to seventh. The Phillies have some wonderful pitching, but lack of power to the outfield, especially since the Cubs or Giants are likely to try loose one of Jimmy Webber's winding ones with ease.

We find the Cardinals loaded with question marks but we also find that for every problem facing Manager Frankie Frisch he has two or three solutions. His riddles seem to be: 1. Dizzy Dean. 2. Shortstop. 3. Catcher. 4. Young pitchers.

Dean Must Come Back
Dean must come back for the Cards to win, but there's every reason to believe that old Dizzy will be a 20-game winner. He looked great in spring training and he conducted the Chicago White Sox in their final exhibition game today. The Pirates look an 8-2 decision yesterday with their victory against the Cardinals. After tomorrow's game at Springfield, the Cards will go home for their regular two-game intra-city series with the Browns.

PHILLIES BEAT WHITE SOX
KANSAS CITY, April 14 (UP)—Pittsburgh's Pirates sought their second victory in their final exhibition game today. The Pirates look an 8-2 decision yesterday with their victory against the Cardinals. After tomorrow's game at Springfield, the Cards will go home for their regular two-game intra-city series with the Browns.

CUBS LOSE NINTH
MOLINE, Ill. April 14 (UP)—The Chicago Cubs made their last road stop of their exhibition tour today when they lost to the Cardinals. The Cubs dropped a 7-4 decision to the St. Louis Browns yesterday. It was Chicago's ninth loss in 24 starts.

TIGERS 11, ATLANTA 3
PORTSMOUTH, N. C. April 14 (UP)—Detroit's Tigers joined the Cincinnati Reds here today for the fourth of their seven exhibition games. The Reds now hold a 2-1 series lead. The Tigers won their 17th game in 22 spring starts when they licked the Atlanta Crackers 11-3 yesterday. The Reds were beaten by the White Sox in their 10th setback in 26 games.

PHILLIES WIN 9-1
THOMASVILLE, N. C. April 14 (UP)—Jimmy Wilson's Philadelphia Phillies sought their seventh straight victory against minor league opposition today. Carolina Thomasville's North Carolina State League. They ran their winning streak to six with a 9-1 victory over Lexington yesterday.
