SENATE COMMITTEE DEMANDS REPEAL OF PROFITS TAX

REMOVAL CALLED MAJOR STEP FOR RECOVERY DRIVE

WASHINGTON, April 20 (U.P.)—The senate unemployment and relief committee today demanded prompt repeal of the undistributed profits tax and drastic modification of the capital gains tax as a major aid to economic recovery.

The committee called for speedy enactment of tax law changes approved by the senate and presented a comprehensive series of preliminary report of its study of the nation's economic life.

The committee declared the tax changes represented the one recommendation on which business representatives showed unanimity of opinion. It is the only one mentioned in a conference between the house and senate.

Administrative changes proposed by the committee were likely to receive immediate congressional attention in consideration of the President's spending-tending recovery program.

No sweeping change in present relief and recovery programs at this time because of the critical unemployment situation; continue a preliminary study with a view to comprehensive recommendations at the next session of congress.

NO INQUEST INTO DEATH AT FILER

No inquest will be held into the death of Levi H. Blair, 59, whose body was found in a well last night with a 20-gauge, one-shell shotgun lying behind him, it was announced this afternoon by County Coroner Dr. George C. Halley.

Blair, who has only one known relative, a niece, Mrs. Phoebe Peterson Copeland of Buhl, took his own life, it was decided after a thorough investigation conducted by Dr. Halley and Sheriff E. F. Prater.

He apparently had pressed the gun to a point just under his heart and pulled the trigger. The shot did not go through the body but he apparently died instantly. He slumped forward and fell on his left side, the gun falling behind him.

When the body was found by Alvin Moonhead, 14, Filer, youth, the man had been dead for more than 24 hours, Dr. Halley said. The youth discovered Blair's body when he went to his cabin to get a gun he was going to attend a funeral in Twin Falls, being conducted for a relative of the Moonheads.

Blair was seen Saturday evening by Mrs. Kitter Wike, who had done his laundry work for the past year. Sunday he talked with Wayne Heard, another neighbor. He was not seen alive after that time.

Neighbors heard "what sounded like an automobile backfire" Sunday at midnight he is believed to have taken his life at that time. First officer on the scene was David Hatch, Filer, who notified county authorities here. The body was found about 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

Lack of employment was believed to have been the reason for the suicide, according to opinions expressed by Halley and Prater. Blair was a laborer.

The body rests at the Drake mortuary. Funeral arrangements were still tentative this afternoon.

CONDITIONS GOOD ON EARLY LAMBS

BOISE, April 20 (Special)—The exceptionally favorable conditions that prevailed for early lambs in the principal producing states during January and February continued generally during March.

As a result, the bureau of agricultural economics reports that winter lambs continued to grow rapidly, and that weather during March made a favorable start. The weather during March was unusually mild and moisture was generally ample. Pasture and green feed conditions were generally favorable for ewes and young lambs.

Continued heavy rainfall in California in March tended to keep the grass rather soft and rank in the northern part of the state and to delay somewhat the finishing of the early lambs.

In the other Pacific states and in Idaho, too many wet, cloudy days, and rather cool weather late in the month, somewhat handicapped the growth of the lambs, but promised abundant, early range feed. In all other states, weather and green feed conditions were quite favorable.

Marketing of early lambs from Arizona and California got underway by the middle of March and nearly all the early lambs that were expected to have some lambs ready by the end of April with a heavy movement probable during May.

COLLEGE REGIME TRIED IN GRADES

DAWSON, Okla. (AP)—George Hooper, principal of Bryant school in a town of 700, has brought university teaching methods into the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades by a process which he believes may start a new trend in elementary education.

Hooper says the essence of his plan is to put youngsters of from eight to 12 years on the level of students of more advanced years by employing advanced teaching methods which encourage initiative and the student's creative ability.

Advanced Work
The young, red-haired principal who has made trips to Russia to study Soviet teaching methods, has found that many students are capable of doing advanced work. For example, one child may be doing fifth grade arithmetic while having ability to do eighth grade work. Thus, fifth grade work is easy for him and he is wasting his time while the teacher drills other pupils.

In Hooper's plan, if the youngster keeps up his classroom work, he may spend the 40-minute arithmetic period doing constructive reading in the library. The instructor believes that reading is the basic elementary school study and that too much emphasis cannot be placed upon it.

Careful Check
Under the plan, the librarian keeps a careful check on the pupil's reading and sees that too many pleasure books are not included, although Hooper believes that some pleasure books must be included. A pupil advanced in reasoning ability may remain in the library all morning or half the morning if he is ahead of the rest of his class in all his home room studies.

At the same time, the plan aids slower pupils, who then obtain more of the teacher's time and receive more individual attention.

Heiling Anschluss: Victory

If Chancellor Adolf Hitler seemed a bit absent-minded about his salute as he talked with Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Goebbels when this picture was made, it may have been because Der Fuehrer regarded the success of the German-Austrian plebiscite as a foregone conclusion. The two are pictured in the Sportplatz, Berlin, where Hitler's address was one of the series which whipped up an overwhelming vote in Germany and Austria for the Anschluss. Hitler has told interviewers he can hold his hand straight and high in the Nazi salute for two hours at a time.

Impressive Ceremonies Mark Rupert's Easter Observance

RUPERT, April 20 (Special)—Easter began in Rupert with a union sunrise prayer meeting at Minidoka dam sponsored by the Ministerial association, planned by the young people of the various churches, and led by Glen Turner.

At 6 o'clock, just as the sun rose over the snow-capped mountains beyond Lake Walcott, casting the shadow of a rugged cedar cross over the area where Captain Wilson and the CCC boys had arranged seats, the clear notes of Chester Talley's trumpet sounded the call to worship for more than 200 people.

This was followed by a piano prelude by Miss Margaret Moser; a song by the audience, led by O. L. Johnson, pastor of the Baptist church; vocal solo by Glen Turner, accompanied by Mrs. Shirley Pierce of Jerome; prayer by George G. Roseberry, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church; song by a male quartet composed of Earl Wilson, John Mitchell, Chester Talley and Paul Turner, accompanied at the piano by Miss Moser; prayer by O. L. Johnson; responsive readings led by Gay Mason; congregational singing, led by O. L. Johnson, with Mrs. Moser at the piano; address by Rev. E. Leslie Rolfs, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church; group singing, closing with the Lord's prayer by the audience.

Breakfast Served
After the open air service, Mrs. O. L. Johnson, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Shirley Pierce of Jerome, who is a guest at the home of her parents, entertained 24 members of the B.Y.P.U. and Dr. W. F. R. Hartley and Mrs. A. O. Turner at a waffle breakfast.

At 7:30 the Epworth league of the Methodist Episcopal church entertained 30 members of the Epworth League and Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church at breakfast. The committee of mothers, who assisted was composed of Mrs. J. L. Rush, Mrs. Dale Talley, Mrs. Warren Hollinger, Mrs. William Witherspoon and Mrs. F. H. Kenagy.

Church Services
Every church in town had special services, which, with flowers and special music, featured the resurrection of the Christ. At the Methodist Episcopal church the sacred ordinance of baptism was administered by the pastor, Rev. George O. Roseberry. Mrs. W. E. Harmon of Jerome brought the Easter message in sermon and Edith Hunter brought in a song to the members of the Christian church. The children gave a short program of song and story at the Bible school. Evangelistic campaign opened at the Pentecostal church with a musical program by the choir and a sermon by Rev. A. J. Johnson in the morning; and a sermon on "The Cross by the evangelist, Rev. J. L. Newgent, in the evening.

The young people's choir rendered two anthems at the morning service at the Baptist church and broadcast a 45-minute sacred concert over KTFI at 5:15 p. m.

Under the direction of George Morris of Burley, who also presided at the organ, the Trinity Episcopal vested choir gave a full choral communion service.

At 8 p. m. the united choirs of the Methodist and Christian churches, under the direction of D. L. Carlson with Mrs. W. D. Boydston at the piano, gave a sacred Easter cantata, "Christ Victorious," at the Methodist church.

Cantata Characters
Personnel of the joint choirs included D. L. Carlson, director; Mrs. W. D. Boydston, organist; Mrs. Wayne Newcomb, Mrs. Floyd Britt, Mrs. Clyde Front, Miss Edith Thomas, Mrs. W. C. The Easter story was presented in song, story and recitation at the three wards of the L.P.E. church by members of the Sunday schools and other auxiliary organizations, and at the Trinity Lutheran church in special floral decorations and an Easter message by the pastor, L. Westerkamp.

FLAX LOOMS AS CROP FOR IDAHO

MOSCOW (Special)—Possibilities of flax in Idaho and factors which may cause the crop to which there is a growing interest are discussed in a moving survey in a bulletin issued by the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station.

Flax is one of the few satisfactory crops grown in the United States. Dr. E. W. Klages, head of the agronomy department of the station, author of the bulletin, usually for a period of 30 years, consumption of flaxseed has exceeded net domestic supply.

The production of flax merits investigation. It may be used to diversify the crop-producing program of Idaho farms.

Flax can be grown in the irrigated areas of the state and in areas with 15 or more inches of annual precipitation. The publication covers the following phases of the flax crop: (1) Production in the United States; (2) Adaptation of flax to Idaho conditions; (3) Results of experimental work; (4) Soil and the substitution farms at Sandpoint and Aberdeen; (5) Soil and the substitution farms at Sandpoint and Aberdeen; (6) Place of flax in the rotation; (7) Varieties which have given best results in Idaho; (8) Seedling; (9) Irrigation; (10) Harvesting and threshing; (11) Flax of flax straw and (12) Marketing the flaxseed.

CANADIAN WEST FEARS JAPANESE

VICTORIA, B. C. (Special)—British Columbia officials are warning Canada that Japanese are in large numbers here that within the next 10 years it might be a predominantly Japanese province.

The immigration of Japanese into the province, their penetration into the business and industrial life, and the increasing number of Japanese immigrants from Japan, have caused a feeling of uneasiness among the British Columbia people.

Statistics of the economic bureau show that there is an almost even number of Japanese men and women, while there is only one female for every 10 Chinese males.

MARTIN'S ULTIMATUM RESTORES LABOR PEACE IN MICHIGAN

DUES-COLLECTION DRIVE IS HALTED AFTER CLOSINGS

PLINT, Mich., April 20 (UP)—An ultimatum from President Homer Martin of the United Automobile Workers Union restores labor peace to Flint today.

Settlement of a dispute which paralyzed production in a Fisher body plant No. 1 and on the Buick assembly line was reached at Martin's direction. He called off a union dues-collection drive which General Motors officials said prompted them to close the Fisher plant.

Buick's final assembly line was closed because of a strike in Fisher-built bodies. More than 5,000 employees were left idle during the two-day shutdown.

Reopens Tomorrow

Buick resumed production this morning and Fisher prepared to reopen tomorrow. Meanwhile UAW members in Buick and Chevrolet plants cast the first ballots in a strike vote. The balloting will continue until Saturday.

Union officials, who approved the strike, charge Buick and Chevrolet managements with discrimination and failure to abide by seniority provisions of a contract signed with the UAW after the 44-day General Motors sit-down strike last spring.

The Fisher plant was closed when company officials announced that the production schedule was disrupted because UAW pickets barred 400 workers from the factory. Martin said only 47 of Fisher's 3,700 employees were turned back at the gates.

No Further Excuse

In ordering Flint union officers to call off the pickets, Martin announced:

"The union had decided to give General Motors no further excuse for closing its plants and throwing men out of work."

Feasibility of further disturbances at the Fisher plant was seen in the reaction of Henry Wilson, chairman of the Fisher local, to Martin's orders. He said the union might carry on the campaign with "reverse English."

Since the company has expressed such concern that their slogan report for work," Wilson said, "we may see that they stay there."

"We may do our dues collecting after working hours at the gates."

Strikes Hit Plants

Meanwhile, strikes plagued employers at eight other Michigan industrial plants, including the Plymouth division of Chrysler corporation at Detroit.

Approximately 200 UAW members left the motor production line at the Plymouth plant in protest against treatment given to a union steward.

Herman Wecker, Chrysler corporation vice president, said the stoppage was caused by a UAW committee man who had been disciplined for repeated insubordination.

Three of Bohn Aluminum company's eight plants in Detroit were closed when approximately 900 men walked out. Strikes also closed Michigan Steel Casting, Detroit moulding, and Michigan smelting companies.

Susan likes rainy weather which is just as well this season in Hollywood. She likes to watch parades, and there are plenty of people parading this year, too.

She once threw something into the Grand canyon, which she had been told was reserved for old razor blades. She reads the last chapter of a mystery novel first plays with dolls when no one is looking and owns a gun which she can shoot.

Have you guessed that she is red-haired and freckled slightly and that her nose is tilted slightly and that she is part English, part Irish and a little French? And very serious-minded for a girl who is only 20 and just two years out of Commercial High School of Brooklyn.

PLANE SMUGGLING GANG BROKEN BY GOVERNMENT

LOS ANGELES, April 20 (UP)—Federal authorities believed today that they had broken up an organization smuggling fast American airplanes out of the country to be outfitting as bombers for the loyalist forces in Spain.

A purported loyalist agent, Fritz Bieler, is under indictment here but is in Mexico City. He is charged with violating the United States neutrality act by shipping four planes to Mexico for delivery to the fighting forces in Spain.

Wholesale Shipment

The four planes, authorities believed, were part of a wholesale shipment across the border. The pleasure planes are easily transformed into fighting ships.

The Spanish ambassador to Mexico participated in the deal, the indictment alleged.

United States attorney Benjamin Harrison said that the indictment was returned by the federal grand jury several weeks ago but kept secret until it was ascertained that Bieler had left the country. Bieler is a Mexican citizen of German extraction. Because the offense is not an extraditable one, he may escape prosecution.

Hires Star Pilot

Bieler is accused of buying planes in southern California, supposedly for peaceful purposes, and hiring such a pilot as Paul Mantz, movie stunt flier and advisor to Amelia Earhart, to fly them to Mexico.

Felix Gordon Ordas, Spanish ambassador to Mexico, was accused of paying storage on the planes at Veracruz until they were placed upon ships bound for loyalist Spain. Authorities absolved all parties on the American end of the deal.

BATTLE LOOMS IN CONGRESS OVER U. S. PEACE EFFORTS

ADMINISTRATION TO AVOID MOVES STIRRING FIGHTS

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Staff Correspondent.

America's role in efforts for world peace threatened today to tick up a new congressional controversy.

Three developments more or less related to Europe's new treaty barbed against the next war brought up again the question of United States foreign policy and indicated administration desire to encourage current efforts toward peaceful stabilization of international relations.

First, President Roosevelt, praising the peaceful methods of Great Britain and Italy in settling their differences by treaty, provided grounds for belief that the United States will avoid any more that might tend to stir up new irritations abroad. He declined, however, to comment on political aspects of the Anglo-Italian treaty.

Plan Blocked

As a result, it appeared likely that plans of a liberal bill in congress to get the state department to name Italy, Germany and Japan as aggressors in the world war, a measure to which the United States is a signatory would be frustrated. This was an abrupt about-face from congressional belief that the three aggressors would be named in response to a house resolution.

Second, the fears of congressional leaders were increased when Chairman David I. Walsh, D. Mass., of the naval affairs committee, told the senate that it was "positive" that the United States had a secret understanding with Britain. Recently similar suspicions aroused such a severe storm that Secretary of State Cordell Hull specifically stated there was no understanding or agreement with Britain in regard to naval activity.

"Attack 'Revised Edition'"

In this connection, however, the administration's senate foes have been planning an attack on Hull's policy of "revised edition" and in mentioning the same course as the United States in foreign policy. They contend that there cannot be parallel action without an alliance in practice if not in name.

Third, the whole question of foreign policy headed toward through debate in the senate, the president's $1,185,000 navy building program. The most vigorous critics of the administration's policy are the Democrats, who put into the background recently by the new European alignment—have taken a new line in their opposition to the program.

Need Naval Power

Walsh, arguing that the bill is essential if the nation is to continue as a naval power, indirectly brought out one of the most important factors behind the building program—the new strength it will give America's voice in international affairs. In practice, a diplomat's effectiveness is as strong as the battle fleet that backs them up.

In that connection, advocates of the navy program say the United States can best keep out of the next war by providing a war fleet that will command international respect for her neutral position and at the same time protect essential American trade.

Elsewhere on the international front:

Climatic Attack

SPAIN—Spanish insurgents opened a climatic attack on the city of Tortosa in an effort to complete the effectiveness of their drive splitting loyalist Spain in two. Other nationalists drove down the coast toward Castellon.

CHINA—Japanese claimed the capture of Linyi in two mass offenses on the long central China front where they recently had suffered major reverses. Major battles were reported in Shantung and Shanai provinces.

ITALY—Italian and French diplomats ruled preparedness for conclusion of a new treaty of friendship, possibly before the arrival in Rome early in May of German Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

GERMANY—Hitler celebrated his 49th birthday, was described by some as "the happiest man" in Greater Germany.

PLACING BUREAU AIDS 28 AT UISB

POCATTELLO (Special)—Twenty-eight students this year have taken advantage of the Southern Branch placement bureau, which is designed to aid prospective teachers in getting positions, according to Miss Ethel E. Redfield, professor of education.

The department forms a central clearing house where prospective employers can get a complete set of recommendations for candidates within a day or two of their reference being available at all times, even during vacation.

In addition to being a central clearing house for the distribution of credentials, the placement bureau is often influential in getting positions for students because superintendents and clerks of school boards frequently request the bureau to recommend candidates for vacancies in their districts, said Miss Redfield.

Many students continue to register with the placement bureau after graduation. Each year they bring their recommendations up to date and use the service to assist them in securing better positions.

A case in London's Old Bailey police court was delayed recently because the hearing was inadvertently locked in a cell while interviewing his client.

Kimberly Shooter "Bears Down"

As Roger Rathbun of Kimberly (smoking, right front) gets ready to shoot during the marbles elimination tournament at that point those looking on flatter up just long enough to see what the champion is doing. ## Harmon Park Named Site for Magic Valley Marble Finals

Harmon park, site of the municipal swimming pool and playground center for Twin Falls, this afternoon was designated as the point where Saturday marble champions from over the Magic Valley will gather in the first annual open championship tournament sponsored by the Idaho Evening Times.

Through efforts of S. Claud Stewart, city parks superintendent, the two clay tennis courts will be leveled and hardened and will be reserved all day Saturday for marble tournament play. Last year the city championships, also sponsored by this paper, were held at the same park.

Champs Compete

Although only champions from the various schools entered will be allowed to play in the finals Saturday, everyone is welcome to attend the tournament which will see the best marble shots in this section of the state in competition.

Tournament play here will get underway at 10 a. m. with local school officials and recreation leaders serving as judges.

Age Groups

Boys will play in four age groups, namely 8 to 9 years, 10 and 11 years, 12 and 13 years and 14 and 15 years. Girls will play in one group but may be from six to 15 years of age.

Prizes have been purchased (as announced on page one of this paper last night) and everything is "ready to go."

Jerome Fees Reach $1,513 for Quarter

JEROME, April 20 (Special)—The sum of $1,513.97 was collected through the offices of the sheriff, probate judge, and the auditor and recorder, for the quarter ending March 31.

Money received was collected from various nature.

From the office of the sheriff there was $327.77 collected; $144.50 was collected through the office of the probate judge and $1,041.70 through the auditor's and recorder's office.

Accident Death Toll For 1938 Reaches 35

BOISE, April 20 (U.P.)—Traffic accidents on Idaho highways have taken a toll of 35 lives for the first three and one-half months of 1938, the state department of law enforcement reported today.

The death toll was equal to that taken in the same period of 1937. Twelve lives of the 1938 toll were lost because of excessive speed, glaring headlights, and failure to observe bad road conditions, the department said in a special bulletin.

More than 1,000,000 new products have been placed on sale in retail stores in the United States within the last 50 years, the Department of Commerce reports.

OHIOAN HOLDS 2 DIFFERENT JOBS

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. (U.P.)—A power shovel operator in a slag pit by daytime and the manufacturer of violins by night, that's the strange combination of work done by W. L. Howell of East Liverpool.

Throughout the day Howell runs an electric shovel for the Standard Slag Company at the Pittsburgh Crucible mill in nearby Midland. Then at night in his modest little home here he sets about the delicate task of carving violins.

Howell started carving violins as a hobby in 1933 when he had an abundance of spare time. From that time he obtained all possible technical data on the subject and blended this with his own skill as a master mechanic.

In the past five years he has carved 16 violins, among which is a copy of the Dolphin Stradivarius, one of the finest instruments ever made.

Howell makes the backs of the instruments out of a supply of maple wood that has been aged for more than 50 years. The top sounding boards are made from spruce.

All parts of the violin are made by hand with the exception of the teak fingerboard, bridge and pegs.

Howell made all the tools he uses in the manufacture of the violin. The manufacture of a violin demands that its maker have an excellent ear for tone. Howell has this quality, but possesses no inclination to learn to play one of his instruments.

"If I were to play the violin as it should be played," he said, "I would have time for nothing else."

DEAN TESTS ARM ON CINCINNATI REDS TODAY

Red Sox Hurlers Hold Yanks to 7 Hits in Two Games Yesterday

NEW YORK, April 20 (UP)—Baseball's star act today shifted to Cincinnati when Dizzy Dean, the National League's most celebrated character, pilfers his $250,000 arm for the first time in half of his new club, the Chicago Cubs.

On the second full day of the season, Dean commands the center of the Hippodrome, a spot he adores with all his country heart. He pitches for the Cubs against the Reds and the nation's fans will get their first answer to—"Is Dizzy's arm dead?"

"Did Wiggley pull a boner by giving $185,000 and three players valued at $65,000 for Dean?"

"Will Dean and Hartnett team up to form the National League's greatest battery?"

Dean to pitch today means that Dizzy will be ready to take his turn again Sunday against his former nemesis, the St. Louis Cardinals. The seating capacity of Wrigley Field, Chicago, is 40,000 and that's how many fans will be in see Dizzy dust with the Chicago House gang.

Looking backward to yesterday's grand opening, we find these high spots:

Sex hurlers held Yanks. The mighty Yankees held to seven hits in two games by five Red Sox pitchers. Grove, Wagner, Marcin and DeLoach combined to pitch a combined 19-1 triumph.

The champion Giants slugging three Boston Red Sox pitchers for 16 hits in two games, and a crushing 19-1 triumph.

Albion Normal Cinder Team Works for Meet

ALBION, April 20 (Special)—Coach Orville Hult's Albion State Normal track team, intermountain junior college champs of 1937, although handicapped by adverse weather conditions, is making rapid preparation for the 1938 opening.

The season begins April 23 at Pocatello in a triangular meet with the University of Idaho, southern branch, and Ricks college being the other two competitors.

Each weekend thereafter Albion will compete in the following meets: Provo Relays, April 29 and 30; Intermountain junior college meet at Salt Lake City, May 6; Southern Idaho collegiate meet at Pocatello, May 17, and the National A. A. U. meet, the time and place which is yet undetermined.

The prospects of the state normal this year as contrasted with last year's team are not so bright. Such men as Arthur Judd in the middle distance and broad jump, Max Domina in the sprints, low hurdles, and pole vault, Cleo Short-house and Arthur Judd in the javelin, Norman McQueen in the 440-yd. dash will be missing from the squad through the graduation route. New recruits with considerable ability who show promise are Victor Becas in the javelin and high jump, Gene

Mac Considers First Game As Important as Last

NEW YORK, April 20 (UP)—I am not a subscriber to the belief that the first game of a baseball season carry no weight in the pennant race. To me the opening game is just as vital as one a month from now or the one on July 4th or even the final one.

CENTRAL GROUP VOTED TO HEAD PROJECTS DRIVE

Transferring active steps for development of the 20-acre recreation ground next to Harmon park, the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce today had set up a project committee to coordinate all phases of preliminary development.

The group was voted at a special meeting of directors last night in C. of C. headquarters.

Male Chairman
Stanton Hale was named chairman of the group, with chairman of the other subordinate committees elected to membership on the central project committee. Those members are:

W. G. Swin, secretary; Tom Peavey, chairman; Lionel Campbell, planning; Claude Dewarler, fund raising; Kenneth Scott, public relations; F. G. Thompson, Bickel school building removal.

Coordinating Unit
The committee will act as the coordinating unit in the immediate plans for facilities at the 20-acre area, with Hale keeping in close touch with other committee chairmen. The latter who will select their own assistants. Funds raised on the projects will clear through the Junior Chamber treasury, and promotion plans drafted by the project committee must be approved by the Jaycees board of directors.

The action was taken last night "because the Junior Chamber has the opportunity of adding several other projects immediately during the time when permanent development can be charted," President John B. Robertson said.

Permanency Later
The permanent development plans it was pointed out, must await completion of payment for the field and must also await return of expanded planning suggestions from several large universities. Request for advice on permanent lay-out of the 20-acre recreational site will be discussed at a meeting at the city complex a topographic map for the area.

Approval of an advisory board of prominent citizens is planned later, after the Junior Chamber has completed payment for the field," Robertson said.

The directors indicated last night, would assist on the program for permanent development. The plans outlined projects and means of raising funds to finish projects.

Payment Made
The Junior Chamber has just made a first payment of $1,000 has already been made by the Jaycees.

The various committee chairmen are: the project group and to select their jobs, to meet weekly and work on the first two listed projects—removal and bridge atop the Bickel school building, the structure included.

Eggs Safe

CHANDLER, Calif., (AP)—The driver of a truck here is convinced the way of the unbreakable eggshell is to be the "egg" of the future.

He created an abundance of a bridge, and a lot of $1,000 was broken. The bridge was a work of art, and the driver was being transported.

The driver of the truck was a dog.

Coast Lawmaker to Ask Bill To Protect Minor's Earnings

By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN
HOLLYWOOD, April 20 (AP)—Jackie Coogan got some sympathy today from Assemblyman Chester D. Gannon, who complained at the state capital that there should be a law to protect the money that children earn in the movies.

Gannon said he would introduce a bill, "with the situation which now faces Jackie Coogan" in mind.

Coogan earned a fortune as a child in the movies and now is being looked after by his mother, Mrs. Arthur L. Bernstein, for an accounting of it. She opposed the bill, but she said she planned to keep it all. In return for the money, she said she had given him money for a comfortable rearing and a good education.

Earnings $4,000,000
Coogan's parents estimated his earnings as $4,000,000, of which he got nothing, and asked a receiver and an injunction preventing his mother from disposing of any of it.

Gannon, commenting on his proposed bill, said: "California law has failed miserably in providing safety to the earnings amassed by minors. Bonded guardians must be appointed by the courts to safeguard their money under mandatory law."

Mrs. Bernstein's affidavit, filed in reply to her mother's suit, said that Jackie had earned $3,000,000 since he became of age, and that that should have sufficed for him and his bride, the blond star Betty Grable. She admitted that perhaps he had a right to some personal belongings in her home.

Leta B. Rolla Boyce
Jackie had listed two Rolls Royces among these belongings; he said the $30,000 he earned recently had been

Girl Acrobat Dies in Fall From Ladder 96 Feet High

HOLLYWOOD, April 20 (AP)—A girl acrobat was dead and one of her co-performers lay seriously injured today after a plunge from the top of a 96-foot ladder.

Eva Hudnall, 26, was killed, and Isabel Roberts, 21, was injured in the accident which occurred last night while the two were practicing a new act under klieg lights in the city.

As they were whirling around the top in their stunt, the base of the ladder split and the acrobats sank two feet into the ground. The job swayed the ladder and the girls were thrown from it.

Mrs. Hudnall's neck was broken. Miss Roberts suffered a fractured leg and crushed chest.

The other two girls in the act, Ruth Boling and Leola Vess, had performed and climbed down. William Vess, father of the troupe, and manager of the group, was tightening one of the guy wires on the ladder when it split, he said.

The girls were making preparations for a vaudeville tour scheduled to start soon in Massachusetts. They called themselves the "sky rockets."

As You Like It STATE COLLEGE, Pa. U.S.—Students at Pennsylvania State College take their physical education exercises any time they feel like it. This is an idea instituted by Dr. H. C. Davis, professor of physical education, to replace the former compulsory training which many students found objectionable.

Flow Gains at Mighty Falls

Water going over Shoshone falls is at a greater volume today than on Sunday, when 8,110 persons visited the park region at the falls. It was reported this afternoon.

Many tourists are among those viewing the revived wonder of the waterfall.

The pioneer resident of Twin Falls declared that the beauty of the sight now equals that of years ago, although the flow is still not so great as in halcyon days of the falls.

YOUTHS CONTROL HITLER'S POWER

men. He hated the Teuburg rule. He drifted in 1912 to Munich where he eked out a living, painting houses and, on the side, water color. When he came, he joined the 16th Bavarian Reserve and was in the first battle of Ypres. He served all through the war and received the Iron Cross and other decorations, even though he never rose beyond Lance Corporal.

Worker as Painter
The war over, he eked out an existence in Munich as a painter. One night he stumbled upon a tiny meeting of a tiny party—the German Workers. He joined it, becoming member No. 7. In that humble medium Hitler found himself. He learned that he had the qualities of a spell-binder and began to be the soap-boxer to the most superlative degree. He re-created the party and gave it a new name which was shortened in parlance to "Nazl." By 1921 it had 3,000 members in and around Munich and a paper—the Vöelkischer Beobachter.

Starts to Dream
Hitler began to dream great dreams and see visions. He hated everything he saw in Germany—the reckless war, the public humiliations of the Left in power, the submission to the Allies, the inferiority complex of the nation after its crushing defeat, the obedience to the Versailles Treaty.

In his speeches Hitler began to mould the masses as if they were wax in his hands. He painted a hymn of hate. He told the crowds that the German army had never been beaten. Germany had been beaten in the back by the Jews, Socialists and republicans. He gave the mob plenty of scapegoats. He who had once been thought weak of constitution, proved himself so tough of fibre that he could campaign days and nights on end, using his booming voice hour after hour. He grew until it became the strongest in the state and in the Reichstag.

Finally on January 30, 1933, the searle Hindenburg, President of the republic, named him Chancellor. And in five short years, Hitler has become the most powerful and most-feared individual in Europe.

English 'Air' Stressed

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP)—Victoria has asked gasoline companies to "prosper and accentuate" the English atmosphere of the city.

They proposed that new stationery be erected in the Elizabethan style of architecture. By the Union Jack and call their product "petrol," an English term, instead of gasoline.
