Wages-Hours Supporters Threaten to Keep Congress in Session

HOUSE PASSAGE TO BE DEMANDED BEFORE JUNE 1

By REED S. DUNHAM
WASHINGTON, April 30 (UP)—Supporters of the administration's wage and hours bill threatened today to prevent adjournment of congress until the house passes some form of labor standards legislation.

Despite growing sentiment for adjournment by June 1, they declared that they had sufficient strength to hold congress in session until late in June to obtain at least passage by the house.

Chairman Mary T. Norton, D. N. J., of the house labor committee said the bill which the rules committee pigeon-holed yesterday, prepared to file a petition late next week to discharge the rules committee and force the bill to the house floor.

She accused the rules committee of employing "undemocratic procedure" in declaring that the bill will prevent adjournment until the bill is passed.

In a last-minute unsuccessful attempt to get clearance for her bill, she had pleaded before the rules committee, telling them she would like Roosevelt to express his approval of the bill. But the committee voted eight-to-six to refuse the bill a route to the floor.

Mr. Norton predicted that her petition would get the required 218 signatures within a few days after its introduction.

No Law This Year
But even if the petition succeeds and the house passed the bill, as many opponents concede, it would be doubtful that it could be enacted this year.

The flat wage "index" and housekeeping allowances is retained after senate and house conferees reconcile it with the divergent senate and house bill, passed last summer, a filibuster by southern senators demanding a wage differential is practically certain.

Bull Riders Resume Trip To New York

LAYTON, Utah, April 30 (UP)—The first transcontinental bull riding team today resumed an interrupted journey from Sun Valley, Idaho, to New York.

The Terry of Kalamath Falls, Ore., and Vick Lusk, Butte, Mont., arrived here from Phoenix, Ariz., to get their bull and two horses, which they left the farm to Arthur Green last November when they decided against trying to cross the continent in the mid-winter.

"One of us is on the back of the bull all the time," Terry said. "The youths, who are financing the journey by the sale of postcards and performances on the guitar and mandolin, anticipated their arrival in New York as a big thrill for the easterners."

Arata moved into the presidency from his former position as first vice president.

A. N. Moore of Idaho Falls was elected first vice president and John E. Brooks of Nampa took his place as second vice president.

Austin Anson of Nampa was retained as secretary of the association.

Boise, April 30 (UP)—Directors of the Idaho Growers and Shippers association today elected Frank A. Arata of Idaho Falls president to succeed E. S. Harper of Pocatello.

Biggest U.S. Navy Moves Near Goal On FDR Message

By HOBART C. MONTE
WASHINGTON, April 30 (UP)—The United States moved today toward a goal of the biggest navy it has had not only in peace-time, but in history.

President Roosevelt's message to congress asking for a deficiency appropriation of $2,587,000 with which to start immediate construction of two new capital ships and to improve ship building facilities was looked upon as a decided raise in the tempo of the navy.

It was considered significant that the President asked for money to improve and enlarge the government's shipyards so that even a greater rate of warship construction can be achieved.

This request reached congress as senate leaders cleared the way for passage on Monday of the President's $1,150,000 naval expansion bill. Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., virtually assured passage of the bill.

Naval officials believe that construction at this rate, if carried on for the four years, it requires, to build a battleship, will give the United States the most powerful navy afloat.

Leaders were confident that the authorization would be approved. Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., leader of the opposition, however, said that he was counting on between 37 and 41 votes.

Two ships for which the President requested funds would be in addition to the two new battleships—the North Carolina and the Washington—the two provided for in the 1937-38 appropriation bill, and the three that would be authorized by the naval expansion bill.

SOLOMON SEES NO EARMARKING ON BIG RELIEF FUND

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UP)—Chairman A. Woodrum of the house appropriations sub-committee working on the new relief bill, predicted today that attempts to earmark the $1,250,000,000 relief fund would be unsuccessful.

Woodrum said the bill which his sub-committee is drafting undoubtedly will carry provisions similar to previous relief measures, broadly assigning certain portions of its funds to various phases of relief.

But he said that any attempt to impose rigid restriction on the manner in which the new funds will be disbursed probably will be defeated if they actually materialize.

No Basis for Report
"There is no basis for any report of a movement in the sub-committee to earmark funds," Woodrum said, "and there'll be no special earmarking that I know of."

Previous relief measures have carried broad designations for spending, assigning certain portions of the money to highways, public buildings, white collar workers and other categories, with presidential approval a prerequisite for all projects.

Assignment Acceptable
Woodrum said such broad assignment would be acceptable, and expected that similar provisions would be incorporated in the new measure.

Pressure was being exerted from many directions to designate channels into which the new deal would be poured, but Woodrum said his drive against depression and unemployment.

Rep. Robert L. Cabon, R. N. Y., a member of the sub-committee, said the favored legislation restrictions on the spending rather than writing the appropriations as "blank checks."

2,000 SOLDIERS ARE LEFT DEAD IN HUGE BATTLE

By ROBERT BELLAIRE
SHANGHAI, April 30 (UP)—The Chinese have smashed a new Japanese drive and have retaken the city of Tancheng on the central front after a battle in which the Japanese left 2,000 dead on the field, it was asserted officially today at Hankow, the Chinese emergency capital.

Coincidentally, Chinese airplanes, in a raid avenging a terrible Japanese "emperor's birthday" attack on Hankow yesterday, raided Japanese held Wuhi on the Yangtze river and it was asserted, shot down three Japanese planes.

The Chinese reports of the battle of Tancheng made it appear that they had won a most important victory. The Japanese, under orders to take Hankow, junction point of the Szechuan-Hankow and Longhai railroads, by May 8, had started a vigorous offensive. They hoped to retrieve their recent defeat at Tancheng, the most severe in their history since the Chinese to expel the entire area.

Drive Begins
According to the official statements issued at Hankow, the Japanese, smashing with all their strength into the Japanese 70 miles northwest of Hankow, broke the drive against Tancheng.

Japanese army spokesmen had pinpoints of the situation except that their main drive was "attacking out" all fronts while reinforcements were up.

It was officially announced that the Japanese had captured the city of Tancheng. The Chinese reported that the Japanese would seek to honor their emperor by attacking the Chinese emergency capital. Hence all the strength the Chinese had mustered in the Hankow area, 12 anti-aircraft guns and pursuit airplanes was waiting.

Met by 70 Craft
Eighteen Japanese bombing planes attacked by 22 pursuit planes appeared in the sky over Tancheng. The Japanese planes and the air force of the Chinese and Japanese planes shot each other down and anti-aircraft fire was crashing to earth.

THROGS HURRY TO GET LICENSES

Throgs lined the counters of the county assessor's office this afternoon in a last-minute rush to secure 1938 automobile licenses before the deadline.

Although the total passenger licenses issued up to noon reached 1474, County Assessor J. D. Barnhart said that the 1938 mark is still "far behind" last year. At close of business last night, the current year lagged 100 behind 1937. Today's rush, however, helped slice that difference.

Throughout the morning and early afternoon, license applicants were two and three deep at the counter. The assessor's office was to close at 5 p. m., and motorists not having their plates by that time faced a stern state police warning of immediate arrest if they operate after the deadline expires for 1937 plates at midnight tonight.

MIDNIGHT IN LIMIT
BOISE, Idaho, April 30 (UP)—The deadline for 1937 automobile license plates expires tonight at midnight, the department of law enforcement announced.

Motorists driving after tonight without 1938 plates will be subject to arrest.

CLUES FOUND IN TEXAS MURDERS

ADMORHEA, Tex., April 30 (UP)—Discovery of a pair of rubber gloves wrapped in a San Francisco newspaper, a bundle of bamboo sticks and an El Paso receipt led sheriff's officers to believe today they had found new clues in the torture murder of Mrs. Weston G. Brown and her daughter, Nancy.

The articles were found by soldiers on maneuvers near a lake called Washington Tank, 14 miles west of here. The newspaper was dated March 20, The Berkeley, Calif., woman was slain March 30.

A new model Buick sedan was found near there, but officers believed it had been abandoned recently.

Sheriff Sherriff Sam Davis said the Tank probably would be dragged from traces of the Brown woman's luggage.

Mrs. Brown and Nancy were tortured and murdered on the desert near Van Horn while on a leisurely trip from Berkeley to South Carolina. No trace of the "slayers" has been found, and no motive has been established.

TACOMA, Wash., April 30 (UP)—Waterfront employers closed the port of Tacoma today because longshoremen refused to go through a sailors' picket line to work the Shepley pier, the legislature was notified because the actors would not withdraw their pickets.

Defense Road Sponsor Asks South Idaho Help

Because the sponsor of the proposed six-lane transcontinental U. S. defense highway has a route included southern Idaho on the suggested route, the man behind the movement had wired the "founder" of the Twin Falls tract today to seek support.

In two raids this morning, the Chinese reported, more than 100 were killed and 50 wounded. It was the first important attack since that of March, in which nearly 1,000 persons were estimated to have been killed.

Police said 29 dead had been counted definitely in the first raid, including four new cars in a motor car parked on a Twin Falls street.

The dynamite taken from the tunnel job, Mr. Roberts said, can be easily identified in case of attempted sale because the sticks are larger project in this area.

THIRD DYNAMITE THEFT REVEALED

City and County authorities this afternoon kept sharp eyes on the lookout for possible clues to dynamite thieves after it was revealed today that approximately 150 sticks of explosive were taken from a previously unannounced break-in at the state-fish hatchery tunnel project in Rook creek canyon.

Earlier this week thieves cut 350 pounds a considerable larger haul at the Shoshone falls park where a WPA improvement project is underway. The loot there also included 400 feet of fuse line.

Both dynamite robberies are federal offenses, since the explosives in each case belong to the government through WPA.

Last month approximately 30 sticks of dynamite were stolen by sneak thieves who broke into a motor car parked on a Twin Falls street.

5 PER CENT CUT ON SUGAR QUOTA

LONDON, April 30 (UP)—The international sugar council today announced a 5 per cent reduction in sugar production quotas, reducing the present total quota to 2,330,980 metric tons.

The comparatively small reduction came as a disappointment to the sugar trade which had hoped for more drastic cuts to bring world output into line with consumption. Official estimates place total consumption at about 3,200,000 metric tons.

The council announced, however, that it will meet again on July 5 to reconsider the situation and effect further cuts if warranted.

LEADERS APPROVE FDR REQUEST FOR PROBE OF MONOPOLIES

BORAH APPLAUDS EXECUTIVE PLAN OF INVESTIGATION

By JOHN E. KEAL. WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Congressional leaders indicated today that President Roosevelt's request for a $200,000 study of the problem of monopoly would get prompt approval.

Senators William E. Borah, R., Idaho, and Joseph O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., joint authors of a pending bill to require federal licensing of corporations, applauded the President's recommendations, but said that legislative action should not be delayed beyond next year.

"We have no objection to the investigation proposed in view of the fact that it will be very difficult to legislate before next session," Borah said.

O'Mahoney said that the President's message represented a "positive and direct" step and that he was ready to help.

O'Mahoney said that he was "ready to vote tomorrow" for the measure requested for study of the anti-trust enforcement. Both he and Borah emphasized, however, that they would continue working for passage of their Economy bill.

Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations, presented in a long-awaited message to Congress yesterday, were reported to embrace the views of Borah on the general theme of monopolies. The President proposed a comprehensive seven-point program, and for immediate action on these items:

1. A study of the monopoly problem by the federal trade commission, the justice department and the securities and exchange commission, headed by "not less than $200,000."

2. A deficiency appropriation of $200,000 to strengthen justice department staff for study of the present anti-trust laws.

HIGHWAY BACKER ASKS IDAHO HELP

(From Page One) highway north and south from Canada to Mexico, is viewed as a second line of defense road for the Pacific coast. Further, the Twin Falls locality is believed to have received war department backing for the Rocky Mountain airbase, since an airbase is insisted on for that second line of defense.

The northside highway from Rupert to Jerome already meets military specifications. These include requirement that a road must be six lanes and able to carry 30-ton tanks traveling at 90 miles an hour, and bridges constructed to hold 250,000 pounds.

It is believed highly improbable here that the U. S. bureau of public roads will assist on another road in this county in the future, but meeting military specifications. The war department states where it wishes roads for possible defense use, but the U. S. bureau of roads has final decision.

2 UNITS ADVISED ON WATER PLANS

Suggesting that the proposed 10,000,000 gallon reservoir for the city of Twin Falls be constructed in two units, each of 5,000,000 gallons, Claude Deweller, chairman of the city planning board, today had advocates of this method of assuring the city of a suitable water supply.

Deweller made the suggestion last night at the regular membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the city of Twin Falls.

As a method of raising the necessary funds it was suggested by Deweller that the charge per water meter in use be raised 50 cents a month. This raise, he pointed out, would produce approximately $150,000 a year, eliminating the cost and necessity of a bond election as well as providing a saving to the city inasmuch as no bond interest would be required.

The city planning board also pointed out that this method of raising the funds is the only one which would pay for the 5,000,000-gallon reservoir, termed as being vitally needed, within approximately a year's time.

Plans were outlined for a spring meeting of the city of Twin Falls, which will start Monday. Deweller, as chairman of the membership committee, will be in charge.

A report on the status of the completed recreation park adjoining the present Harmon park was made by Roy Hudson, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is in charge of the park, required the tract which includes 20 acres.

As a method of raising the necessary funds it was suggested by Deweller that the charge per water meter in use be raised 50 cents a month. This raise, he pointed out, would produce approximately $150,000 a year, eliminating the cost and necessity of a bond election as well as providing a saving to the city inasmuch as no bond interest would be required.

The city planning board also pointed out that this method of raising the funds is the only one which would pay for the 5,000,000-gallon reservoir, termed as being vitally needed, within approximately a year's time.

Plans were outlined for a spring meeting of the city of Twin Falls, which will start Monday. Deweller, as chairman of the membership committee, will be in charge.

SWEEP PIPE-DREAM FOR ALL MOTORISTS!

First Shot: I bought and applied to my car a gas-valve attachment. It was a sort of carburetor adjunct which was guaranteed to reduce gas consumption at least 50 per cent. Then I installed some scientifically constructed spark plugs. This was highly renowned as power-increaser-upper. Ralph DePalma and Barney Oldfield had used them, and so had Al Jenkins and Capt. Ernest Detering. So why shouldn't I?

Then I bought a new-type fan for the cooling system which was designed to do no other fan could possibly do—give any car what it needed: less and better temperature.

Next I invested in the very latest wrinkle in ignition. This included a more-than-super high-tension coil which was guaranteed to give spark that the lowest grades of gasoline were fired more efficiently than any of the highly advertised, high-priced, patented and median-sponsored gasolines—white, green, red or yellow.

There were a few other power-boosting get-things-going I bought, too. But I'm not boosting any old whineover, so we'll just pass 'em up.

Last Sunday I drove to Boise, and everything I had on the car. Before I reached Boise I had to shift to low gear from violating the speed law, and at Hagerman when I stopped for a glass of beer I was still going six miles an hour.

But that wasn't all. At the foot of Bliss hill I had to halt on 13 gallons of gasoline.

Today Looks Better

When we talk about the great triumphs of modern civilization—as we do, pretty frequently—we usually refer to spectacular things like airplanes, mass production lines or streamlined trains. These are the sign and symbol of progress, and we are proud of them.

But real progress is often a good deal simpler. Some of its by-products are actually more important than the headline attractions. The net total of human happiness in this world is increased by things that do not often get listed in the tabulation of scientific triumphs.

Some enterprising antiquarian recently dug back into old English records and come out with an account of the sort of doctoring that a man got when he was sick, back in the old days. The patient involved was no less a person than King Charles II, so you can be sure he got the best there was.

King Charles, it seems, fell ill, and the most learned medicos of the land were called to the royal bedside. After much conferring and wise head-wagging, they give his majesty the works.

As a start, they bled him, twice. Then they gave him a dose of antimony, followed by sacred bitters, rock salt, camomile flowers, linseed, cinnamon, fennel seed, powdered hellebore root, some white wine (which probably was a relief), powdered cowslip flowers, some absinthe, and a weird extract of thistle leaves, mint, rue and angelica.

Somewhat the king didn't seem to feel much better after taking on this load. So the doctors fixed up something new. He got black cherry waters, melon seeds, dissolved pearls, gentian root, nutmeg, quinine and cloves; and this was followed by 40 drops of an extract of powdered human skulls, topped off by a concoction of something called Raleigh's antidote, pearl julep and ammoniac.

Apparently the merry monarch lived through it, but he must have been perceptibly less merry thereafter. And when you read of that horrendous dosing, you can't help reflecting that modern progress has done most for us in the simple little matter of making a man comfortable.

For obviously, nobody ever gave a thought to a man's comfort in a day when doctors cooked up messes like that for their patients. A man just wasn't expected to be very comfortable then; the ill of the flesh were something he was supposed to take and like.

We hear a good deal of talk about the simplicity of life in the old days, the implication being that people really were happier then. That must be largely eye-wash.

The simple life may have been very well; but suppose you had a toothache, with no dentist in all the world? When the doctor's handbag contained things such as were inflicted on King Charles, a mild cold or a sprained wrist must have been a major calamity.

Some Work for Women

A British educator visiting in this country expresses the belief that in time to come the neglect of a person's figure will be a social crime. It's a social crime now, but it just hasn't been put on the statute books yet.

The Englishman recommends a nation-wide physical culture movement. The national movements of this kind in Germany and Italy come to mind, together with their incidental regimentation. The American imagination finds this not quite wholly attractive, but a certain gentle "pressure" movement directed against the American male might not be amiss.

The women are the ones to do it. In recent years their efforts to become as beautiful as possible have been directed especially toward the matter of good carriage, and you rarely see the "debutante slouch" any more. But too many American males walking down the street still look either as if they had a serious case of the "bends" in the legs or were the descendants of a duck.

Women, who are always talking about the vanity of the male, might do some worthwhile work by appealing to that vanity in the right way, just as their own has been appealed to. The results might be comparable. You never can tell.

It's nice to learn that plows are 40 per cent more efficient than they were in 1914. If world affairs keep heading in the same direction, boys all over the world are going to have so much more efficient plows not to be behind than they used to have.

A prominent orchestra leader has announced he intends to retire to a farm for a while to raise potatoes. He is going for a little hi-de-ho.

Some boys were smuggled recently in a shipment of goods which was not only a dope idea but

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

By Naomi B. Martin

It was two hundred and fifty-five miles to be exact when Joyce started down in front of the purser's office and counted it out. Joyce added her half of it, one hundred and twenty-seven dollars, to the remaining of her bing's winnings.

"I'm richer now by two dollars than when I came aboard," she told him brightly. "And I have a much better-looking pocketbook."

She smiled happily as she tucked the money away.

Dick leaned back against the wall and watched her with uncontented admiration, approving the quick responsive smile that lighted her face, the soft brown eyes, bright with sincerity and good nature, and the upturned nose, sprinkled now with a few sudacious freckles captured under a tropical sun.

"The smartest thing I ever did in my life," he said, approvingly, "was to bump into you that first night out."

Joyce dropped her eyes. "I'm rather glad you did myself," she admitted.

They were among the first passengers who picked their cautious way down the gangplank, eager to get ashore and into the new land, their eyes alive with expectancy. The wharf was crowded with native vendors.

Dick hurried Joyce through the alluring displays. "These things will all be here when we get back," he assured her. "You wouldn't start now to load me down with hats and bates and baskets, I hope."

They emerged from the merchandising chaos, ran the gamut of the native wares and selected appointed counters, and came at last to the main shopping district.

He was the same friendly, conservative atmosphere of Bermuda, the commercial importance of a metropolis. Here the slow padding of horse-drawn wagons and carriages was drowned in the hubbub of up-to-date trucking; lazy darkies, riding to town astride their mules, made way for motorcycle delivery carts.

They walked along, gazing at window displays of Bond Street wares. Kingston left no doubt in the visitor's mind that it was an integral part of the British Empire.

"What do we want first?" Dick inquired. "Scotch tweeds or London brooks?"

The pecked eye caught the beauty of crockery in a shop window. "Let's look at dishes," she urged. "I'd love to get some Wedgewood for Aunt Martha. Isn't it beautiful?"

He grinned. "Plates are plates to me. It's the food upon them that counts. But come on, you might pick out something for your mother, too. She's wacky over dishes."

"What do we want first?" Dick inquired. "Scotch tweeds or London brooks?"

The pecked eye caught the beauty of crockery in a shop window. "Let's look at dishes," she urged. "I'd love to get some Wedgewood for Aunt Martha. Isn't it beautiful?"

He grinned. "Plates are plates to me. It's the food upon them that counts. But come on, you might pick out something for your mother, too. She's wacky over dishes."

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By Rodney Ducker

Washington, April 30—The WPA, whose federal theater project has been quite widely spread attention, is likely soon to start producing a movie or two. Representatives of 14 labor unions, representing various trades, picture industry, were here recently to report that many actors, actresses and technicians were unemployed and that something ought to be done to keep them from starving.

Assistant Administrator David K. Niles told the union people to go back to Hollywood and submit proposals for possible projects. WPA will take the attitude that men and women who make movies when employed are as much entitled to work relief as actors, actresses and technicians who have been employed on special projects in the last two or three years.

No government-sponsored movie theater is planned, but a convoy films are in prospect. The productions are expected to be documentary films

GALAN AIDS CUBS WITH BRILLIANT HITTING

Track and Field Stars Qualify for Burley District Meet

NEW YORK, April 30 (U.P.)—Give a thought today to August J. Galan, little left-fielder of the Chicago Cubs, who is welding a potent bat and supplying a lot of the "kick" keeping the Bruins snapping at the heels of the pace-making Giants and Pirates.

You won't see Galan, called "Goo-Goo" by his teammates and "Augie" by the fans, among the leading hitters. His average is a mere .250 but in the runs batted in column only three players top him—Arky Vaughan, Pirates, with 14; Johnny McCarthy, Giants, 13; and Hank Leiber, Giants, 12. All of them have played in 10 games while Galan has batted in 11 runs in seven games.

When the Cubs won their last game in 1935 it was Galan's seasonal work which figured prominently. He batted .316 and led the league in runs scored, and in stolen bases. 22. He slipped in 1936 and 1937, batting .264 and .232, respectively.

Sparks Vetter Augie hit his second homer in two days, with two mates on, and a single which drove in another run. He did not play in the game yesterday, Dizzy Dean, who allowed two hits in a 3-3 inning, retired in the fourth with an "ink" in his arm. Manager Charlie Grimm said the injury wasn't serious and that he had removed Dizzy as a precaution. Jack Russell, American league outfielder, hit his first homer in a game yesterday. Gaby Hartnett and Tony Lameri hit homers. By beating Paul Derringer the Cubs routed a two-run Yankees team.

Brooklyn nipped the Phillies, 5-4, in 12 innings in the only other national league game. With two out in the eighth inning, the seventh batter Patcher Hal Kelleher, who had just come into the game, walked. In the ninth, Kelleher hit the winning run. It was the Dodgers' eighth straight win and the Phils' eighth straight defeat.

The Chicago Cubs increased their American league lead to a game and a half by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 7-2. Bob Puffer, who had pitched in the previous two games, pitched well in the first three innings and walked three. Hal Trosky and Ken Keltner led the Cubs' attack with three hits each. Puffer pitched a double and a triple and Keltner a homer. Keltner's homer drove in all three runs. The Yankees, led by Lou Lerner's homer, was forced to leave the game. Beau Bell hit three doubles for the Browns.

The Washington Senators, who have led the American league with the best record in the ninth, giving the Philadelphia Athletics a 7-8 triumph over Washington despite the fact that the Senators' home with a mate on base and Giusio Pedenberger's seven-hit pitching defeated Detroit's 5-1 victory over the Senators.

Successors by Bobby Doerr and Joe Cronin placed two men on base in the eighth inning, but were unable to give the New York Yankees a 6-4 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Johnny Murphy, rescued twice in the eighth, earned credit for the victory which lifted the Yanks back into fourth place.

Oakley Urges Lakes Region For Big Film

The beautiful Independence lakes region, near Oakley and the City of Rocks, this afternoon has been suggested as a location for the filming of "Northwest Passage," an epic of pioneer days which will be produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starting about June 1.

A letter, telling of the possibilities to be found in the lakes section for the filming of "Northwest Passage," was dispatched by the Oakley Valley Chamber of Commerce to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executives here this afternoon by Charles Brown, president.

GREAT BRITAIN INAUGURATES GIGANTIC AIR PROGRAM

STATESMEN PLAN 18,000 AIRCRAFT DEFENSIVE LINES

By WESLEY MILLER (Copyright 1938, United Press) LONDON, April 29 (Special)—Great Britain, firmly united with France in a new "London-Paris axis," inaugurated a gigantic air force expansion program today and prepared for diplomatic and economic action in central Europe to back up the strongest defensive alliance since the World war.

It was understood that the government aimed at a first line strength of about 3,000 fighting planes for the home defense forces alone, in addition to the planes of overseas units and the navy. It is realized that every first line plane is backed by perhaps five reserve planes, so that a total home defense force of 15,000 planes is being produced by attacking an enemy from the air of 18,000 planes.

Aviation experts estimate that it will take Britain until 1940 to match Germany's present strength, and that the United States will be able to produce an aircraft in 1939.

War Games Strenuous in Hawaii, Says Local Boy

Take it from Corp Cole Minnick, Twin Falls youth, the U. S. Army in Hawaii was a strenuous five days. Minnick was recently transferred from the military police company at Fort Shafter, Honolulu to Co. E, 19th Infantry, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. He is a Twin Falls high school graduate.

"Maneuvers are over, finish was written April 15, for the 1938 spring maneuvers, and I'm glad," he wrote to his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Minnick, Twin Falls.

"We (my company) covered 120 miles on an island 90 miles in circumference, in five days, and over 100,000 miles in the air. The south island in the Alibon and Oakley terrain, would appear as level rolling tundra. Did you ever walk into any tree chopping, then force yourself to go on and on, just because pride wouldn't let you drop? And then to top it off, when we arrived at our destination, we fought a mimic war, all night and the next day.

"I was with the Twin Falls unit of the national guard think their spring maneuvers are strenuous, they should follow our footsteps. We started with a full strength battalion, and at the finish had 146 men on their feet, or 26 over the amount of one company. Our battalion, incidentally, is composed of four companies."

"Swing it, Swing it," Young Minnick, now promoted to corporal, is taking over the machine gun instruction for the company, he took his parents. He has joined the steel and trap-shooting club at Honolulu, and is also shooting to make the snare shoot team. His average has been 342 out of 350, and he has an excellent chance to make the regional team for competition with civilian and national guard teams.

EDUCATED

NEW YORK, April 30 (Special)—The education of the four boys of New York aquarum class is now complete, Dr. Christopher W. Coates, aquarist, announced today. Never again will they molest another fish.

First came the rats. They sneaked in from boats in the night, ate the cat's food and balanced themselves on the tank tops and snatched out sick fish floating near the surface.

Dr. Coates imported the cats to eat the rats but they found the fish tastier. So the cats and the rats were exterminated.

Dr. Coates had an idea. He selected several snake-like specimens from a tank and put them in a cage. He called the cats. One by one the cats charged, to be knocked howling to their knees. They kept it up for hours until each cat was dizzy and subdued. Dr. Coates then put the creatures back in the tank.

Get far October. The all school play will be produced during October to allow time for the senior class play which will be given in late November or early December. The senior class voted to have the annual play during the first semester to allow more time for spring activities.

"Robinnood" was selected because of its educational advantage, its entertainment value and appeal, and the fact that it is a play of the past.

Offering at least 13 crash stunts involving automobiles and motorcycles, the Death Dodgers' thrill circus will start at 3 p. m. Sunday at the fair grounds under a big tent at the Twin Falls American Legion post.
