

TRANSPORT PLANE MISSING WITH 9 ABOARD

IN THE DAY'S PARADE

E. J. Margat, former town seal plan maker for California... His $150,000 bid against Dr. Townsend opened in San Francisco.

HARRY Weldon, movie actress... She flew to Washington to give Postmaster General Farley a model of the first transcontinental airmail plane.

David Warfield, famous one-time character actor... He spoke at the Greater New York fund show.

Gloria Swanson, glamorous star of silent movies... She left for Europe on vacation—older, but still an eye-ful.

Alexander Kerensky, former head of Russia's first revolutionary government... He sailed for Europe after touring U. S.

FDR ASKS DEFICIENCY FUND
WASHINGTON, May 17 (UP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today to provide $10,071,407 in deficiency and supplemental appropriations for the treasury department, including $5,170,000 for refunds on processing and related taxes in the 1939 fiscal year.

Relief Clients Hold Cleveland City Hall

1,000 Storm Offices Asking Additional Aid for Necessities

CLEVELAND, May 17 (UP)—Relief clients held the council chambers of city hall early today in protest against a situation they charged was depriving them of the necessities of life. The demonstration represented a climax to Cleveland's long developing relief crisis.

There were 150 persons bedded down in the chambers, sustaining themselves with coffee and awaiting developments. They were the "siege army" of 1,000 who stormed the council chamber last night protesting the inadequacy of weekly allotments provided them by this city of 1,000,000.

$50,000 Appropriation
The council had voted an $80,000 appropriation last night to care for the city's 75,000 relief clients for another week. The clients wanted a permanent relief program. They protested that the present food allotments provided only 12 cents per person per day. Some had no bread, no meat, no women, and many were children.

Their leaders said they would remain until the legislature enacted a permanent relief program. They said the present emergency food rationing was equivalent to "starvation."

Throughout the night the crowd was in good humor. There were eight or ten card games going most of the time. Some children slept on the benches.

Take-up Collection
One gray-haired old woman saw a man suffering from headache and passed a tin among the crowd taking up a collection to buy him aspirin. She had no cash, almost 50 persons before she tried five pennies.

The Ohio legislature was convened in extraordinary session yesterday to consider the relief bill, and the house passed a bill for $50,000 for the Toledo and Akron areas, the most populous. A similar but less critical situation prevailed in other Ohio cities as a result of the previous legislature's failure to pass an adequate program.

CHICAGO RELIEF FUNDS DEPLETED

CHICAGO, May 17 (UP)—The Chicago relief administration, its funds and supplies exhausted, arranged today to place approximately $200,000 ready for use on war-time rationing provided by the federal government.

City officials looked to a special session of the legislature, set to be called by Gov. Henry Horner, this week, as the only hope for funds to get relief machinery in working order by June.

Meanwhile the federal surplus commodity administration will supply foods that are available—rice, navy beans, dried apples, prunes, potatoes, oranges and perhaps butter. These must suffice for three meals a day, Relief Commissioner Leo M. Lynch said.

He made special credit arrangements with milk companies for supplying milk to the children of the 34,000 families which will receive no cash checks and orders this month.

Grand Jury Effort Termed "Not Dead"

Failure to achieve a majority on roll call vote for grand jury request to probe Twin Falls county government "does not necessarily close the action on the part of the Pomona Grange," E. L. Metz, Twin Falls, master of that body, told the Evening Times this afternoon.

Preliminary reports that the move to push the grand jury request failed by two votes to win a majority were erroneous, the Pomona chief retorted.

The Vote
"The first count of the roll call indicated the effort lost by two votes," he said. "After the meeting, however, it was discovered that the vote was a tie on the roll call."

The tie, however, still failed to give a majority.

Metz significantly pointed the way to possible further action by the Grange, whose investment committee allegedly found "irregularities" in several county divisions.

See Other Ways
"It is not intended," he said, "direct through other means, may possibly be further action taken. Furthermore, the Grange or any other body in parliamentary session can always overrule previous actions."

The Grange, at the Piler session, rejected the investigating committee's request to be discharged of its duties.

Headliners in Pennsylvania Election

George H. Earle, S. Davis Wilson, James J. Davis

GEORGE H. EARLE

S. DAVIS WILSON

JAMES J. DAVIS

Climaxing one of the most hectic primary campaigns in American political history, Pennsylvania voters went to the polls today to select Democratic and Republican nominees for governor and U. S. senator in the race for the Democratic nomination for senator, Gov. George H. Earle is opposing Mayor S. Davis Wilson of Philadelphia. Both are former Republicans. Governor Earle changed his politics in 1932 and Wilson professed to have become non-partisan after election to his present office on a G. O. P. ticket. State observers say probable nominee of the Republican party for senator from Pennsylvania is the incumbent Senator James J. Davis. He is a senate veteran and has long held a high place among the ruling powers of the party.

Pennsylvania to Test New Deal-CIO Strength

Eastern City Bombed in Mock Air Raid by Army

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., May 17 (UP)—The town of 3,500 people today was the first American town ever to weather an aerial raid—even a phoney one.

The raid, carried out by bombing planes of the army air force, was successful in more ways than one. The attacking planes theoretically reduced their objective to ruins while the townspeople carried out successfully the first "black-out" ever staged in this country.

Climax of "War Games"
More than 15,000 people clustered on highways and along the edge of the Farmingdale air field—the "objective" of the raiders—to watch two attacking squadrons drone over the darkened town shortly before midnight in the climax of the general headquarters air force mock "war games."

Anti-aircraft batteries and defending pursuit squadrons, guided by searchlights, intercepted the first of the raiding squadrons and shot them down at an altitude of more than 10,000 feet, was not discovered.

The assumption was that it bombed Beverly field, destroying the hangars and airplane factories.

The spectacle drew armies of pleasure from Major General Frank M. Andrews, commander of the G. H. Q. forces whose staff planned the maneuvers.

"It is the first time 'passive defense' has been attempted in this country," General Andrews said. "We are trying out every means of defense possible, and we are grateful to the people of Farmingdale for their help."

Col. H. W. T. Egin, commander of the 2nd coast artillery charged with locating the "enemy raiders," admitted that his searchlights and anti-aircraft guns failed to pick off the high flying bombers.

Rancher Claims Perjury in Mooney's Conviction

WASHINGTON, May 17 (UP)—Earl K. Hatcher, Woodland, Calif., rancher and former partner of Frank C. Oxman, star witness against Thomas J. Mooney, today told a house judiciary sub-committee that Oxman's testimony was "all perjury."

Oxman's testimony was instrumental in the conviction of Mooney for the Preparedness day bombing.

Hatcher testified that Oxman was in Woodland until after 2 p. m. on July 2, 1916—the day of the bombing. It was not until between 2 p. m. and 3 p. m. on that day that Oxman caught a train for San Francisco, Hatcher said.

Details which support his contention that Oxman was in Woodland on the day of the bombing, Hatcher said, he later burned a receipt for a telegram delivered to Oxman at his Woodland home on July 2, 1916.

Hatcher said he burned the telegram "out of a sense of loyalty" for Mooney. Mooney is serving a life sentence at San Quentin, Calif., for the bombing.

Hatcher said he had no conversation with Oxman on the day of the bombing, but that he later burned a receipt for a telegram delivered to Oxman at his Woodland home on July 2, 1916.

Hatcher said he burned the telegram "out of a sense of loyalty" for Mooney. Mooney is serving a life sentence at San Quentin, Calif., for the bombing.

Oddities

WIND
AMARILLO, Tex., May 17 (UP)—MARK Parker, Jr., son of a Puller county farmer, crashed in his automobile a mile from home during a 50-mile-an-hour wind. Young Parker decided to push the car face-about. This door he opened the door and let the wind push the car home.

ANIMAL?
SOQUEL, Calif., May 17 (UP)—H. P. Knudsen has something new in the way of animal life only he is not quite sure what it is. His "beast" is that it is the result of a cross between a dog and a pig. He says it is a new breed of animal. He doesn't know whether it will grow or lay eggs.

Ceremonial Funeral For Mexican Youth Who Died in Riot
MEXICO CITY, May 17 (UP)—Students planned a ceremonial funeral today for Somero Gonzalez, 16, member of the Socialist Youth organization killed in a riot yesterday. Gonzalez died of wounds last night. He and other Socialist students took possession of the preparatory school and the law school yesterday in a clash with other students. Police ousted the Socialist students.

Three Men, Four Women, 2 Babies Aboard Aircraft

LOS ANGELES, May 17 (UP)—Two searching planes, one piloted by Milo Burcham, famed speed flyer, took to the air today to fly over the mountains where a new transport disappeared yesterday with three men, four women and two children aboard.

On the ground, nearly 250 men and CCC youths sought the missing plane and nine aboard.

Burcham and Jim Barwick, both Lockheed test pilots, took off in the fast twin-motored search plane, which was being flown to St. Paul, Minn., for delivery to Northwest Airlines. They defied a low-hanging fog that kept 10 other searching planes on the ground.

Fears increased as the hour passed without word of the missing plane. Foot parties spread over the four mountains 50 miles north of Los Angeles where the ship vanished in a soupy fog.

Ronald King, a Lockheed associate, and the secretary, Miss Lolla Trolly, were aboard the ship, trudged at the head of one searching party.

The search was concentrated in Mint Canyon in the 40-mile-thick mountain district that separates southern California and the Mojave desert.

Natural Route
Various members of the searching party, however, were sent to the Soledad, Bogue and San Francisco canyons.

Officials of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., owner of the plane, said the most natural route for the airliner to have taken across the mountains was Mint canyon but that the other canyons were frequent alternatives.

The plane had been overdue and "worse news" than "worse news" which authorized officials reported it missing.

Nine persons aboard were employees of the Lockheed corporation, the Northwest Airlines and some of the latter.

It took off from Union Air Field at Burbank, near here, at 1:40 p. m. yesterday in charge of Pilot Sid Willey, 33, of Burbank, the Lockheed test pilot. Its first scheduled stop was Los Angeles, a distance of 264 miles which it should have covered easily in two hours. It never arrived.

Passenger List
Those on the plane in addition to Willey were:
Prof. Whittemore, A. G. St. Paul, vice president of Northwest Airlines.
Henry Salisbury, 39, of St. Paul, Airlines executive.
Mrs. Betty Carlisle Salisbury, 36, wife of Salisbury, and their two children.

MACHINE AGE IS TERMED PENALTY TO PARENTHOOD

SALT LAKE CITY, May 17 (UP)—The chief contribution of the machine age to the family is the penalty of sterility, Dr. Paul Popone, director of the Institute of Family Relations, Los Angeles, told the general session of the third congress of parents and teachers today.

"A premium of sterility is offered by the present erroneous concept of 'equal pay for equal work,'" Dr. Popone said. "It is not surprising that educated couples now have only half as many children as they want."

Dr. Popone said that the family wage was "economically sound, socially just, and eugenically necessary."

Speaking on "the changing family in a changing world," Dr. Popone stated that the family was the foundation of the society.

"It sets the pace for society because it furnishes the raw material of which society is made," he said. "The family of today should be a partnership. Instead, competition between sexes is taught children in schools, and competition leads to conflict."

"See especially, does not exist. The sexes are specialized and mutually dependent. Their functions should be not competition but cooperation."

Cast Ballots
Delegates today were casting their ballots for the uncompleted re-election of four incumbent vice-presidents. The election results will be on the air during the morning session tomorrow.

In charge of the election were Mrs. L. R. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. L. E. B. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. E. V. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. R. H. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. M. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. G. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. H. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. I. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. J. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. K. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. L. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. M. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. N. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. O. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. P. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Q. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. R. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. S. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. T. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. U. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. V. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. W. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. X. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Y. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Z. E. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.

Police Asked To Watch for Stolen Plane

ODDEN, Utah, May 17 (UP)—All airports in the intermountain area were warned today by police to be on the lookout for a standard Waco cabin plane stolen from the Ogden municipal airport this morning.

Police Detective H. G. Alread said the plane carried fuel for only two or three hours, and that he hoped that it would be discovered when it was used for more fuel.

The plane was taken from the hangar of a flying service operated by Winn Farren. A window had been broken and a lock broken on the huge hangar door. Police said the airport watchman did not hear the thief take off.

The pilot, who is reportedly in seeking Earl O'Brien, Preston, Idaho, for questioning in connection with the theft.

The pilot, who has apparently had a criminal record, has been taking flying lessons at the airport and could not be located today, police said.

BODIES HUNTED IN FIRE DEBRIS

ATLANTA, Ga., May 17 (UP)—Firemen and sanitary department workers dug through the ruins of the five-story Terminal hotel today where a fire killed at least 10 persons before dawn yesterday.

It is feared that more bodies would be found beneath the charred timbers, bricks and mortar. A search of hundreds watched the workers as they labored under the debris.

Fears of a mass killing of many people were dispelled when the first body was found in a room on the third-story window.

The search among the debris in the first section began at 7:30 a. m. and continued until 11:30 a. m. All of the 30 bodies were found and removed to the morgue.

3 MEN HOLD UP 40 CARD PLAYERS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17 (UP)—Three men who used women's silk stockings for masks were caught by police today for the helpup of approximately 40 patrons of a card-playing establishment late yesterday.

The trio escaped with a sum estimated at $5,000 to $6,000. They all signed one card player and forced all others to take their trousers and retire to the wash room.

VANDENBERG ASKS ABOLISHING OF FEDERAL RELIEF SET-UP

SUGGESTS PLAN OF NON-PARTISAN MONEY HANDLING

By JOHN B. BEAL
WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Sen. Arthur W. Vandenberg, R., Mich., today introduced an amendment to the administration bill for 1938 providing for a non-partisan board to be set up to allocate federal relief funds to the states. The allocations would be made on condition that the states contribute 25 cents for every federal dollar received and administered by the non-partisan board.

"The states would take the responsibility as to the method of providing relief and we would get more relief for less money," Vandenberg said.

Citing Camouflage

His program was generally similar to amendments unsuccessfully sponsored in the house by Rep. Bacon, R., N. C.

Vandenberg tabbed the President's estimate as to the needs for $1,250,000,000 for relief in the first seven months of the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1938. Vandenberg said: "That seven months' figure of course, is an attempt to camouflage the cost—another effort to make it palatable for the taxpayer. It figures out at $1,250,000,000 for 12 months. To this total, we have added $70,000,000 for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1938, on the basis of the administration bill, really $1,320,000,000 for the year."

Vandenberg said his amendment is designed to strike two of the administration's "pump and dump" devices—relief to the states and grants under the local administration of relief, which would require the public works administrator, who would be appointed by the federal government, to allocate to the states the total of $1,320,000,000 for the year.

Vandenberg introduced his amendment in the senate in the south by 60 yeas and 34 nays. He said he would introduce his amendment in the senate in the north by 60 yeas and 34 nays.

Seen Today

Man dodges revolving sprinkler on court house lawn—and runs smack into range of another, and squalls wet sprinkler. . . . Police scurrying around in search of airmail envelopes, which are getting scarcer than hen's teeth as the first local airmail flight nears. . . . Colorful pictures of New York world's fair of 1939 in preview booklet that must have cost a pretty penny to publish. . . . And boy carrying paper sack, from which came the "sheep cheer" of a tiny chick.

SERVICES HONOR MRS. PIEMEISEL

Ascension Episcopal church was filled with friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Ledia Piemeisel, wife of R. L. Piemeisel, who gathered to pay her final tribute at rites conducted at 4 p. m.

Rev. James E. Butler read the impressive rites of the Episcopal church. Mrs. Nellie Ostrom sang "Abide With Me" playing her own accompaniment.

The church was banked with floral offerings.

Funeral services were Everett Swezey, R. Lawson, Albert Murphy, Charles Shirley, J. R. Douglas, and David Fox. Interment was in Twin Falls cemetery under the direction of the White mortuary.

Mrs. Piemeisel, who died Saturday at the hospital from a heart attack following an operation, was prominent during her 10-year residence here in Twin Falls in civic, club and church activities of all kinds.

Before her marriage she was connected with the department of agriculture and was co-author of an expert study on prairie.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Dorothe Erickson, 345 Eighth avenue east, will entertain the Bon Ton bridge club.

K. OF C. GROUP CONFERS DEGREE

All persons desiring to send letters on the first airmail flight out of Twin Falls Thursday morning, this afternoon, were urged by postal officials to have these letters at the postoffice of the Chamber of Commerce by 5 p. m. Wednesday.

Officials said that, because of the special stamping which will be required on each letter, it will take hours to care for the anticipated last minute rush. For this reason the public is asked to cooperate by having letters in by 5 p. m. Wednesday.

The local plane will leave the municipal airport shortly after 11 a. m. Thursday.

Twin Falls Knights of Columbus degree team conferred first, second and third degrees on a class of about 35 southern Idaho candidates at ceremonies conducted Sunday in Boise by the Boise K. of C. council.

The degree team from here consisted of Lyons Smith, George Seidel, Frank E. Miller, Joe Wagner, Harvey Quenell, Jack McKinley and Harry O'Halloran.

The combined class of candidates was from councils at Boise, Nampa, Fossilville and Twin Falls. Boise council leaders turned the work staged by the Twin Falls team "the best degree ever put on in Boise."

Candidates received the degree at the I. O. O. F. hall in Boise. They were served breakfast at the Owyhee hotel after early mass at St. John's cathedral, and after degree work was completed, the candidates, the degree team and other Knights of Columbus were guests at a banquet at the cathedral.

Visit Relatives
Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fowell went to Ogden today to spend two days with Mrs. Fowell's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Macconchy, who are returning to Philadelphia from San Francisco.

2 CHARGED WITH SHOPLIFTING HERE

Robert Calvin and Cecil L. Lewis, both listed as transients, were being held in the jail here this afternoon to answer charges of shoplifting, police records show.

The two were arrested by local police late yesterday afternoon in a local store. They were scheduled to be taken before Justice of the Peace Guy T. Snipe either this afternoon or Wednesday morning.

BOGUS

The local municipal judge this afternoon had in his possession a sheet piece but he wasn't sure just what to do with it.

The money was given to the judge by some individual who was fined during the past few days.

This afternoon the judge admitted there was one thing wrong with the 50 cents—it is counterfeit.

MEXICO FEARS REBELLION

MEXICO CITY, May 17 (AP)—New troop reinforcements were dispatched today to the state of San Luis Potosi, north of Mexico City, where persistent reports said that Gen. Saturnino Cedillo, ousted military chief of the state planned a rebellion.

348 Miles Top Speed

The missing plane is of the same general design as a Northwest Air Lines plane that crashed near Rockham, Mont., Jan. 10, killing 10 persons. The Lockheed 14, or zephyr type, as this plane is known, was grounded for 10 days by the bureau of air commerce but was reinstated after its tail surface was redesigned and a stabilizer strut was removed.

The top speed of the missing plane was 250 miles per hour.

The Lockheed 14 is equipped with 600-horsepower Wasp engines. It is a low-wing, high-wing monoplane built to carry 12 passengers and a crew of three. It is the fastest plane of its type.

Planes of the same type are in general commercial use throughout the world. Three Polish aviators now are en route to Poland in a similar ship. Others have been sent to Holland, Rumania, Australia, the Dutch East and West Indies, and more recently to Poland and China.

COURT SUIT AIRS PROTEST ON FEE

Protests involving approximately $100 in attorney and administrator fees were presented in probate court today by six brothers and sisters objecting to the final report of another brother, Joseph Abbi, Buhl, in the estate of their mother, the late Mrs. Anna Abbi.

Judge Guy L. Kinley took the case under advisement after the hearing.

The estate in question is estimated at an aggregate of $40,000. It consists of real and personal property. Testimony and exhibits by the protesting heirs was centered on amounts assertedly agreed upon for the disbursements.

Harry Benoit represented the protesting members of the family; E. V. Larson was attorney for the administrator.

PROBE NOT DEAD, LEADER ASSERTS

grand jury action "carried by approximately a two-thirds margin on a hand-raised ballot."

Meigs corrected previous reports saying that Frank L. Atkins, Buhl, Twin Falls county representative and a member of the Orange probate committee, had opposed the grand jury vote. Atkins introduced the resolution for a roll call vote after the hand-raised ballot had approved the jury jury plan.

"Atkins, in making the roll call motion, was asked to put the vote definitely on record," Meigs said. "He was not opposed to the move as such. He simply wanted to make sure the thing was on solid ground and based on fact."

No outsiders

The Pomona master vigorously refuted Meigs' claim that "an outside source" had instigated the Orange's investigation.

"No outsiders started this movement," he said. "It was entirely a Grange matter from the first."

County divisions investigated by the six-man committee, according to the Pomona leader, included the board of commissioners, mileage of the probate officer, distraint warrant, personal tax collections, and non-collection of penalty and interest on delinquent personal taxes.

"This was just a small part of what the Grange thing was brought out in the way of irregularities if the grand jury had been called."

The investigation committee whose findings formed the basis for the Orange's probe effort consisted of four representative members, plus Meigs as Pomona master and Carl Leonard, Filer, Pomona secretary. The appointive group was Chairman Arthur Leonard, Buhl; George Baxter, Buhl; H. C. Cobb, Filer.

ENGLISH "PRESS BARON" SEES DEBT PAYMENT TO U. S.

URGES AMERICA, BRITISH TO DRAW CLOSE TOGETHER

Editor's note: Lord Beaverbrook (born Max Aitken in the village of Maple, Ontario, in 1879) is owner of the London Daily Express, which has a daily circulation of nearly two and three-quarter millions. His other two newspapers are the London Evening Standard and the Sunday Express.

By WEBB MILLER, United Press European News Manager (Copyright, 1938, United Press) Lord Beaverbrook, owner of the world's biggest-selling daily newspaper, predicted today that Great Britain would eventually liquidate her $5,000,000 war debt to the United States, and urged that Great Britain and the United States draw closer together because of the unsettled state of Europe.

"We shall one day reach a point where we can wipe out the deficit on terms satisfactory to American taxpayers," the famous British "press baron" said in reply to one of several questions submitted to him by the United Press at his country home here.

"Public opinion in Great Britain has never been hostile to the United States or critical of that republic," he said. "The war debt settlement strained our relations because of the opposition that sprang up in the press here against making the payments. That opposition was based on the knowledge, amounting to certainty, that we could not discharge the obligation. We knew we could not pay and the war debt settlement was not a war risk."

Regarding the prospects of war, Lord Beaverbrook said he believed "war risk" was remote at present, and that war in Europe would not necessarily mean a world war. "It is true," he said, "that British stands nearer to the danger zone. That is admitted. But submarines and airplanes are just as menacing to America today on account of the extension of their range of effectiveness as they were to Great Britain when the last war broke out."

"Britain, of course, should do everything possible to get into closer relations with the United States. It must be obvious that the United States will be strengthened in relations to the same menace (war in Europe) if there are closer relations with Great Britain."

Option Favors U. S. He said he believed the war debt question had no bearing on Anglo-American relations. "It is, of course, sometimes disagreeable," he said, "to hear denunciations of our country on this score. We do not like to be called wabblers. That is only natural."

Referring to the first 31 years of his life in Canada, Lord Beaverbrook said that he was still "American in outlook and viewpoint."

As one step toward promoting a freer trade on the part of Americans visiting England, Beaverbrook's newspapers have campaigned for abolition of customs examination of American visitors.

Labor Chief Lashes at Freight Rate Increase

August Rosqvist, Pocatello, secretary of the Idaho State Federation of Labor today said he could see "no reason" for the recent increase in freight rates under present conditions.

Rosqvist made his declaration in an exclusive interview with an Evening Times reporter. He left this afternoon to return to Pocatello after assisting in formation of a central labor body here last night.

In pointing out his belief that the freight boom was unnecessary, he also stressed the fact that private industry should take a more active part in employing more men.

Up to Private Industry "I can see no reason for the freight increase under present conditions," Rosqvist said. "In my opinion the only thing which will help the railroads and the farmers is for private industry to hire all the men now on the WPA and the PWA. This would raise the purchasing power of the nation and at the same time would naturally tend to make more business for the railroads."

"At the same time the union leadership pointed out the friendly relations which now exist between the Union Pacific railroad and also the trucking firms of Idaho, both of which are thoroughly unionized."

U. P. Friendly to Labor "Friendly relations exist between labor and the Union Pacific from the lowest foreman up to and including President William Jeffers," Rosqvist said. "We have received fair treatment from this road and any grievance is handled in a very speedy and efficient manner."

Oppose Labor's Foes The state executive council will meet prior to the primary election for the purpose of opposing those candidates who are not friendly toward labor and will also declare themselves again prior to the general election. This last declaration is affected at the state convention.

Local Man Fined for Violation at Jerome JEROME, May 17 (Special)—Ken Roundy, Twin Falls, was brought before Justice of the Peace John L. Gould, Friday, after being charged with running a stop sign. He was fined $2 and $3 costs.

Complaining witness was State Trooper Earle B. Williams.

4 UNIONS START LABOR'S COUNCIL Four local labor unions today had banded together to form a central labor council for Twin Falls, which is to be organized here during the history of local labor.

Leaders Speak Organization of the labor council was completed at a meeting held last night at the Ferrine hotel. Principal speakers included August Rosqvist, secretary of the Idaho Federation of Labor, and Thomas B. Brandt, Pocatello, vice president of the Third district for the state organization.

SOUTHERN IDAHO AIDS 'AG' EXHIBIT

MOSCOW, May 17 (Special)—Agriculture at the University of Idaho includes many south central youths who are handling important committee posts—will reach the climax of a successful year's work on May 21 by presenting the 15th annual "Little International."

The "Little International" is a miniature livestock show patterned to the last detail after the world-famous shows held at Chicago and Portland. For years, representatives of the breeders' associations have rated the Idaho "Little International" superior to any other in the Pacific Northwest.

SEVEN KILLED IN LONDON ACCIDENT

LONDON, May 17 (AP)—Seven persons were killed and many injured today in the crash of two subway trains between the Charing Cross and Temple stations in London's central district.

The transport board announced that a "great number were injured."

An official of the transport board said that all the injured had been removed from the debris. It was feared that some would die.

All traffic on the line was cancelled until tomorrow, pending removal of the wreckage.

There was no immediate way of checking the number injured, but at least 45 were taken to hospitals.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

Freedom's Defense is Truth's

Thomas Mann, exiled German author, has been saying a great many sensible things on his current tour of America; but nothing that he has said is much more worthy of our serious consideration than his recent remark in New York that freedom must learn the art of self-defense.

Freedom, as it exists in America, is a priceless thing. We who have always lived in it take it for granted, perhaps even fail to realize that it can conceivably be in danger. Mann, who saw freedom snuffed out in Germany, has a clearer appraisal of it; and his warning is something to ponder over.

That the ideal of freedom must eventually prevail in this world is, to Dr. Mann, something that goes almost without saying. But before it can prevail the race is apt to live through some dark and painful times, and those who know and love freedom must learn the art of defending it against its mortal enemies.

Now it is very easy to say that we must "defend freedom"; the trick is to learn just how the job is to be done. For freedom cannot defend itself by taking up the weapons of suppression. Those weapons cut both ways. Any free society which tries to use them will end up by finding that it has somehow ceased to be free.

It would be better, perhaps, to begin by understanding clearly just what a devotion to freedom implies. Such a devotion — when carried into practice through such instruments as democracy — implies, primarily, a belief that the great mass of human beings have in them the good will, the good sense and the common decency to handle any problem that can face them. In other words, it implies a broad, sustaining faith in the human race.

This, of course, is only a starter. For to hold such a faith, and to live by it, means that one can have no use for any form of obscurantism. It means that the quest for knowledge must go on endlessly, that the exact truth about any and every phase of life must be given to the people at all times, that the people must — as a great Democrat once said — have the right make their own mistakes.

All of this is the exact opposite of the faith that prevails in the authoritarian governments. It is, as a matter of fact, a broader faith than many of us actually live up to in America. And yet it is the only faith that can make freedom and democracy work. And to defend freedom and democracy, one must begin by defending that faith in season and out of season.

Viewed in that light, Dr. Mann's injunction is clear. Understand what freedom really means, and you can see how it is to be defended. Protect that broad faith which animates freedom, and freedom itself will remain alive.

Fighter's Death

A tough man is dead who had a tough time of it all his life. He had the misfortune to be an individualist.

He was Carl von Ossietzky, a German, winner of the Nobel peace prize in 1936. He was 49 when he died, and he had been fighting for the cause of peace since 1912.

He had been doing most of his fighting in Germany: But he had been fighting as Carl von Ossietzky. Not as a German, not as a Communist, not as a Socialist, but simply as one of the world's citizens. That in itself never helped him either with the Communists or the Socialists, or with Hitler, who lumped him with the others and jailed him with them. When he received the Nobel award he received it in a concentration camp.

He went from that camp to a hospital, and he died there. He had never been able to use any of the prize money awarded to him.

His was a tough life with a tragic end. It was tougher than it might have been because he stuck to being simply Carl von Ossietzky. And it kept on getting tougher on that account.

And other Ossietzkys are finding that in this increasingly regimented world being wholly themselves, and themselves only, keeps right on getting tougher.

Dear Sir: A riddle for you, my dear Colonel Pot Shot: What is it that looks big two weeks away, looks infinitesimal at time of arrival, melts away like the Arabs in the night, is a God-send in spite of itself and causes more family fights than anything except nagging? See answer at bottom of column.

—Terwilliger

THAT YOUNG MAN SHOULD GET AN 'A' GRADE!

Dear Sir: We got some young geniuses over at the local junior high school.

It seems in the general science class, in the work-books in which the pupils put their drawings, one bright young boy had drawn a snake in spite of the warning to draw a blank inside.

He had labeled this blank space "This is a picture of air."

—Finlay

has cropped up, and well suspend our Cranium Crackers puzzle contests for this week to branch off along the lines suggested in yesterday's column by a Jerome contrail. That member of the "Pot Shots" family formed herself into a delegation of one to ask us on behalf of the peanut brigade to coin a wisecrack to be used as a snappy comeback in place of the usual "oh yeah," "that's what you think," etc.

SO THE CONTEST for this week will be your original versions of the usual comeback. Give us what you think ought to be the current witticism to hurl at any and all times. We'll adopt your winning contrail, and keep it ready for use in those cases where that 50-cent pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, boys and girls.

TUSHI FIGS GET LOOSE ON CITY STREETS, TOO!

Pot Shots: Meh, meh, it tickles me when some of our Idaho towns make off to the city—and don't get away with it.

Which is why I chuckled and wrote the column I saw in your red pig running pell mell down your Main avenue, with a boy chasing it like a hot potato. He hopped at it, but the kid was kept steady by traffic lights and squealing as it ran.

I guess the kid finally caught it, but it sure reminded me of home, Idaho Hill BUMP.

Pot Shots: —Present at family gathering were four women, (one great-grandmother, one grandmother, one granddaughter, one great-granddaughter). Also much in evidence was a heated discussion of great-grandfather, grandfather, grandson, and great-grandson. Their merits and demerits.

Boris B—It depends, art it depends on the English clock, tea time. If it's grandfather's, old time. If it's bill billy's, mountain time. If it's my mother's, mountain time. If it's alarm clock, getting-up-time, which is a helvetic time. But for brother's sake let's just say it's 6 o'clock.

—Fire Spot

CRAWLING BACK! ALL MEN SHOULD RESIST THEM!

Dear Boris: The remark by Mac East in Pot Shots last week to the effect that the wife who isn't worried about her husband getting interested in other women is either a liar or her husband is a milk-toast.

Doesn't Mac East know that there's a virtue in the reputed ostrich crawling back if you want him. If you don't, that's something else again.

THE HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

As Glensced from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

MAY 17, 1923

Dr. E. A. Bryan spoke to a luncheon of business folks today at the Rogeron hotel and discussed Idaho's educational problems briefly. The luncheon was called by the Chamber of Commerce and was presided over by Supl. M. G. Mitchell. Dr. Bryan told of the great educational system in Idaho and how the educational system had been built up by co-ordination and elimination of schools. He pointed out that the education in Idaho cost less than any of the four surrounding states. He stated that the recent session of the state legislature had done a great injury to the educational system by its acts.

Dr. Bryan gives the commencement of the state legislature here in Twin Falls will give an account of the high school graduating class.

27 YEARS AGO

MAY 17, 1911

May 17 the Twin Falls baseball franchise was sold by original purchasers, Ed Farrell and C. P. Cooght, to C. A. Kruger, who will manage the team in conjunction with the Glendon club, which will be field manager, and the latter's ability in the field should be guaranty of the success of the team. The team gathered together by the former management will probably be retained to a large extent and further additions made to strengthen the weak places.

Opening of the season will be very satisfactory as far as fact but it is concerned, but the old management desired to get rid of the franchise for business reasons, and the transfer was made to Mr. Kruger.

BETTER BUSINESS CRUSADE WAPPED

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17 (Special)—Opening of the season will be very satisfactory as far as fact but it is concerned, but the old management desired to get rid of the franchise for business reasons, and the transfer was made to Mr. Kruger.

Called the National Statesman's "Mean Job," the movement was launched by George W. Mason, president, and other high officials of the American Olympic committee, who have selected Lincoln as the "American city" and hence ideal as a proving ground for their better business crusade.

Potatoes were introduced into the United States from England in 1620.

Dr. E. A. Bryan spoke to a luncheon of business folks today at the Rogeron hotel and discussed Idaho's educational problems briefly. The luncheon was called by the Chamber of Commerce and was presided over by Supl. M. G. Mitchell. Dr. Bryan told of the great educational system in Idaho and how the educational system had been built up by co-ordination and elimination of schools. He pointed out that the education in Idaho cost less than any of the four surrounding states. He stated that the recent session of the state legislature had done a great injury to the educational system by its acts.

Dr. Bryan gives the commencement of the state legislature here in Twin Falls will give an account of the high school graduating class.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY BUTCHER

Evening Post and Tribune Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17—Congress indicates every intention of going away without heading Mr. Roosevelt's plan that it stop the issuance of tax-exempt bonds.

"Tardiness of the request, which came late in the session after the long struggle over the pending legislation had reached a final stage, aroused sour comment among congressional and administration tax experts who had been worn down by a season of heavy work.

The President used to be able to pop a surprise into congress at almost the last minute and expect action. But not any more. Furthermore, the tax-exempt security issue is both complicated and important. No one knows how long it might take to draft an intelligent bill to cover the problem.

Nevertheless, the House and Senate, which believe the removal of tax exemption from public bonds has become more toward business men than the removal of the corporate surplus profits tax and the capital gains tax.

"Why don't you come, too?" Jackie asked on a sudden impulse, addressing Mrs. Melrose. She would show Roger that she did not care.

"I'd like very much to come," Beryl Melrose returned promptly in her smooth, effortless way. Her face looked into Jackie's, seemed, however, to see through the younger girl's pretense. "It is indeed nice of you to invite me."

"That's swell!" Roger said heartily. But he looked from one to the other of them in a sort of puzzled musing way. Perhaps he felt the undercurrent in the air. "You'll be glad to know," he said to Jackie, "that everything is hunky-dory—thanks to Beryl." His smile now was just for her. He looked at her a few moments, then he said to Jackie, "I will go out to the coast—that's all I can do for you now—and then for the flight I hope to do 450 miles, at least. There'll be a sealed baggage installed, of course, for recording. The seal will not be broken until I reach Washington. Doesn't it sound pretty thrilling?" Jackie? Aren't you pleased as punch?"

It sounded as though everything was very definite. Entirely too definite for anyone to put a stop to, even if he wished. And Beryl Melrose was to accompany Roger to the coast. While Jackie's home—doing nothing. "It sounds good," Jackie admitted, but try as she might she could not make her mind sound as though she really meant it now. "Of course I'm pleased," she made another attempt. What on earth was wrong with her? "You'll be glad to know," she said to Jackie, "that everything is hunky-dory—thanks to Beryl." His smile now was just for her. ## Eleanor Hollingsworth Has Church Nuptials

Marriage vows were exchanged this afternoon before a candle-lit altar at Ascension Episcopal church by Miss Eleanor Hollingsworth, and Frederick White Preston, Hollywood, Calif., in one of the most attractive weddings of the spring season.

The impressive ring ceremony was read by Rev. James S. Butler, rector of the church.

Wedding party approached the chancel, banked with white lilies, as Mrs. O. P. Duval played the wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" at the organ.

Eastern Outfits Hold First Division in American Competition

By GEORGE KIRKBY
NEW YORK, May 17 (UP)—Heavy firing along the international front was renewed today with the eastern American league clubs playing the west and western American league clubs swinging through the east.

The two big questions were: (1) Can the almost solid supremacy of the eastern American league clubs be maintained? (2) Can the western National league club slow up the Giants and prevent the race from becoming a rout.

Going into today's games three of the four first division clubs in the American league were from the east—Red Sox on top, Yankees third and Cleveland fourth. The only west coast supremacy was that of the Red Sox in second place, a game off the top.

Three of the league the Giants have made a step of the race so far, getting a five-game lead on the field, but the rest of the eastern league clubs are making a strong showing up the rear. Behind the Giants come the four western clubs: Pirates, Cubs, Reds and Cardinals.

Chicago took a 11-7 thrashing from the Phillies yesterday, the Philadelphia five-game winning streak. The Cubs, however, were held to a 1-0 loss by the Pirates.

Chickie Moore's double and Vince Mitchell's single drove in three runs in the eighth inning to give the Cubs a 3-1 victory over the Pirates.

As Mud-Daubed Dauber Wins Preakness

Galloping full-tilt deep in mud after rain turned the Pimlico, Md., track into a lake of grey grubs, Dauber, William duPont's 3-year-old colt, is pictured above as he slouched home in a break-taking finish to win the 6th running of the Preakness Stakes, carrying off $51,875, the victor's share of the purse. Dauber, as usual got into his stride late, but when he did go, he climbed from eighth place in the field of nine to head Cravat over the line by seven lengths. Cravat also came from behind to take second place, beating Meadow, seen running third.

Pen Mightier Than Sword—Especially When It's Waite Hoyt vs. McPhail

By HENRY McLEMORE
(Copyright 1938 United Press)
NEW YORK, May 17 (UP)—The pen is not mightier than the sword. Not then it's Waite Hoyt's pen, and Larry McPhail's sword, anyway, because with the ink scarcely dry on his magazine article lambasting the National league, Hoyt got chopped off the Brooklyn payroll by head-executive McPhail.

Hoyt's unconditional release was that Hoyt couldn't win. You can't argue with the reason, because it's true. He couldn't. My records aren't writ for him for his accuracy, but I believe Hoyt had started three times for the Brooklyn this season and lost three times for the Brooklyn. That's a perfect percentage, all right, but only for the opposition. My guess is that Hoyt's incoherence was his undoing. Hoyt, an underdog before he was pitching, did a pretty fair job of reading the National for his part in that article of his. He picked up where Tom Meany had left off—and Comrade Meany went steady fast—and proceeded to call the boys in the old-royed not only bushers, but starry-eyed bushers getting by with their own theories of McPhail's reason for handing

Gene Tunney Gives Joe Louis Advice: "Stop Attempting to Think"

By HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)
NEW YORK, May 17 (UP)—Gene Tunney was talking about the Louis-Schmeling fight. The ex-champion has not picked Schmeling, as you have repeatedly read, as his opponent. He wants to see both in training before making a choice.

"Schmeling has the advantage of having once knocked out Louis," says Tunney. "Max also has the immeasurability of spiritual inspiration. He feels himself to be the representative of a new worldwide racial movement. But all that can be crased with a single punch."

"And my advice to Louis is to unload his heavy guns early. The trouble with Louis is that he tries to think. I tell you that Jack Blackburn has a big help to the Negro. He undoubtedly is... in training."

"But, if I had Louis, I'd keep Blackburn out of his corner. Just Like Cobb."

"Blackburn reminds me of Ty Cobb trying to run the Detroit base. I don't think he can be able to do the things he did. He sent them out with that good a club as Blackburn was, but 'Chap'pe hasn't the keen fighting brain of a Blackburn, and when he stops to think his hands stop. I don't think he can be able to do the things he did."

"The spirit of the United States Marines," said Tunney. "With the spirit of the United States Marines," said Tunney. "The spirit of the United States Marines," said Tunney.

"What's the spirit of the United States Marines?" asked the Man Matter. "The writer, who happened to be a former marine, told him, as best he could, just what seemed fitful meant."

"Well, would you trade that for my left hook?" asked Dempsey. "But the writer took Tunney literally, and was one of a handful who picked him to beat Bronzed John, in Philadelphia."

CORRETT LEAVES SAN FRANCISCO, May 17 (UP)—Young Corbett II, recognized locally as "unofficial world's middleweight champion, and promoter Tony Palumbo, will leave by automobile today to meet Jack Brule, inter-mountain champion, on May 28, in a 10-round match.

Fourteen property owners in the Blue Lakes addition today had by signed petition, urging the city council to instruct the city attorney to defend an injunction brought by R. S. and Zona Toftiemme, husband and wife, closing the drainage ditch through the latter's property. A temporary injunction closing the ditch was secured recently by Mr. and Mrs. Toftiemme, 333 Locust, complained that water from the ditch, which flows but 20 feet from their home now under construction, was seeping into their basement to such an extent that it was damaging the structure, aside from flooding the basement floor.

The property owners signing the petition claimed that "continuation of the ditch, either open or through pipes, is a public nuisance in convenience" to the Toftiemmes. They further asked that the city take all necessary steps to effect discontinuation of the ditch, restraining order and to defend the injunction asked in the plaintiff's complaint. The closing of the ditch will "cause damage to the signers and add expense to the city in furnishing and repairing the drainage system now inadequate and overburdened," the petition read.

Members of the petition were Harvey Hill, Richard Hunt, Mary Humphrey, J. G. Roth, W. O. Davis, H. H. Hardy, F. O. Schenberger, Emma K. Blodgett, Ray M. Scribner, W. E. H. Kinney, Geo. L. Kinney, Geo. L. Kinney, Geo. Schiffer and Edward Guttery.

Street Exchange? The council last night also discussed the possibility of vacating that section of Commercial avenue which runs through the property of the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company. M. M. Danzels, manager of the company, suggested that the city vacate the section for which in turn the company would deed a right-of-way near the railroad tracks.

The petition was referred to City Attorney Harry Bennett and Street Commissioner Leonard Avant who will probably report their findings on the matter to the council on Monday evening.
