

GRAND JURY INDICTS LOWE FOR PERJURY

Abendroth Case Loss Blamed on Nampa Physician

By DAVID N. JOHNSON
BOISE, May 19 (UP)—Dr. Charles R. Lowe, mental hospital superintendent whose testimony resulted in collapse of the state's embezzlement charge against W. Harry Abendroth, former Idaho purchasing agent, was indicted today by the Ada county grand jury on a charge of perjury.

Dr. Lowe, former supervisor of the Blackfoot mental hospital and present director of the state school and colony at Nampa, was charged in the indictment with giving false testimony under oath with the intent of "influencing the court and jury."

It was his complete refutation of testimony he had allegedly given the grand jury concerning the Abendroth case that broke up the prosecution charges and resulted in a directed verdict of not guilty. A dismissal of another embezzlement charge against the former state agent was also a result.

The state charged Abendroth with embezzlement on the contention he made an improper expense account claim for a trip to Idaho and supervised the purchase of 100 tons of hay for the institution.

This charge was based on Lowe's admitted testimony that he had supervised the purchase and that he had made a check for 100 tons of hay for the institution.

When called to the stand by the state as a witness for the prosecution, Dr. Lowe testified that he had supervised the purchase of 100 tons of hay for the institution.

His testimony was refuted by two members of the grand jury who called to the stand and testified to the contrary. The grand jury then returned a verdict of not guilty.

Dr. Lowe's original story, which was the basis of the prosecution, was that he had supervised the purchase of 100 tons of hay for the institution.

WALLACE LASHES FEDERAL JUDGES

By FRED HALEY
WASHINGTON, May 19 (UP)—The administration's attack on a caucus battle today to thwart a threatened court curbing the regulatory power of federal administrative agencies.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, designated as spokesman for the administration, issued a caustic criticism of judges who, "irrespective of their coordinate place in the government, have tried to dominate rate-making and regulation."

It was his fifth statement since April 25 which has attacked the supreme court decision invalidating the department of agriculture rate schedule. The former secretary of agriculture men because of "defective procedure" leading to the order in 1935.

Wallace's statement, issued at a press conference, was preceded by an April 25 radio address, a unprecedented letter to Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, a letter to the New York Times on May 8, and a summarized report of his position to congressmen on May 18.

Governor O'Connell said that the action of the supreme court in the case was "a gross violation of the constitution."

He indicated that he considered the Hughes' decision as an opening wedge in an attempt to direct administrative agencies of their jurisdiction. He declared that court "interference has not been nullified," and that he was well-founded and that could have been more strongly stated.

COAST SALESMAN ADMITS KILLING MOTHER-IN-LAW

LOS ANGELES, May 19 (UP)—Police said today that Vallan R. Rose, 30, an insurance salesman, confessed to slaying his wealthy mother-in-law last March and burying her body on the desert.

The mother-in-law, Mrs. Leona May Schmidt, 59, was reported missing by her sister April 23.

Rose, according to police, said he shot Mrs. Schmidt, a widow, during a quarrel that concerned his late father's estate.

Mrs. Schmidt's body was buried on the Mojave desert near Lancaster, Calif., but he is not sure exactly where, police said Rose told them. He spent several hours last evening trying to find the grave and deciding whether to return to California or the desert today to continue the search.

Clained Woman on Tour
"I'm glad to get this off my mind," Rose was quoted as saying to Detective John Fred Bray and A. E. Knepper after he had claimed for several hours that his mother-in-law was on a trip around the world.

Rose said his wife, Mrs. Schmidt's daughter, died in a Los Angeles hospital. He told no details of her death.

The slain woman was first reported missing by her sister, Mrs. Cora A. Miller. The sister expressed fears that Mrs. Schmidt had met with foul play.

Arrests Blazing
Rose, who had been living in his mother-in-law's home, first told police that she was on a world tour and had instructed him to dispose of the furnishings and rent her house. Detectives said he later changed his story and calmly admitted the slaying.

"To all suspicion," he had taken out a $5,000 insurance policy on Mrs. Schmidt's life with her sister, Mrs. Cora A. Miller, as beneficiary, police said Rose told them.

EDITORIAL

Although no definite action has developed from the Pomona Grange's efforts to secure a grand jury investigation of Twin Falls county government, the public's curiosity has naturally been aroused as to what underlies the apparent agitation.

In fairness to all concerned it would seem that such an investigation should be undertaken at once if there are known irregularities warranting such an inquiry. Or, if there is no justification for such action, the matter should be clarified at once to avoid casting any undue suspicions upon those who may not be involved.

Those advocating a grand jury investigation have not definitely disclosed the nature of the irregularities they claim to have uncovered. Whether there is anything of sufficiently serious nature to involve criminal charges, has not been divulged.

But nevertheless—even if a grand jury investigation never materializes—there are irregularities in our county government that not only need explaining, but correcting as well.

Those familiar with the workings of the courthouse know that the county commissioners—three in number, but largely one in effect—have usurped more power than is permitted by law.

Despite the fact that it is the duty of the county auditor or one of his assistants to sit in and record the minutes of all meetings of the board of county commissioners, he is not being given that opportunity. Instead the minutes are being written by the board itself for its own records and then submitted to the county auditor for his official signature. Obviously the auditor has no way of knowing whether the minutes are correct, complete, or whether some board action had been purposely delayed.

The reason for official publication of the commissioners' proceedings is to keep the public fully informed. That being the case, the omissions characteristic of the skeletonized minutes now being published by the commissioners will likewise raise a doubt which will bear explanation.

It is known, too, that while the board apparently quibbles over the smallest county expenditures, thus conveying the general impression that the commissioners are carefully guarding public funds, the county audit, made by a Boise accounting firm, costs more than twice as much as similar audits in such counties as Ada and Bannock, the county seats of which are Boise and Pocatello, respectively.

Investigation shows that since 1933, Twin Falls has been paying the same Boise firm $1,500 annually for its audit, while Ada county paid only $400 and Bannock county $500 for their complete audits last year; their hospitals included.

Why our county auditing expenses are so disproportionate, and why the Boise accounting firm continues to audit our books when other certified public accountants have offered to do so at much less expense, are other questions that might well be explained.

That distraint warrants are not being executed within 30 days according to law and that the county assessor has repeatedly urged the sheriff to execute them promptly is another evidence of laxity not in keeping with good government. That there are thousands of dollars outstanding in such uncollected warrants makes the laxity all the more significant, and a proper explanation all the more necessary.

Perhaps none of these irregularities justifies a grand jury investigation, but they are irregularities nevertheless that the public should no longer tolerate. It is not only the irregularities themselves, but the reasons why they are permitted that will be interesting.

Whatever becomes of the Pomona Grange's efforts, it is to be commended for taking the initiative in putting a stop to some of the practices now being employed by our county government.

Meet Death in Crash of New Airliner

Lockheed Aircraft officials today had been called to testify at a coroner's jury in the death of nine persons aboard a new plane en route from Los Angeles to St. Paul, Minn. Among those who met death when the ship crashed into a mountainside were Miss Lola Tolley, upper left, and Mrs. Carl Sauer, upper right, wife of the vice president of Lockheed corporation. Lower left is pictured Sid Willey, pilot of the ill-fated plane.

Lockheed Officials Called in Probe of Coastal Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES, May 19 (UP)—Coroner Frank Nance today summoned officials of the Lockheed Aircraft corporation and airport workers to appear at tomorrow's inquest into the deaths of nine persons in an airplane crash Monday in the Sierra Pelona mountains.

Nance sought to determine why it was that pilot Sid Willey was flying low through a heavy fog instead of high in the radio beam, where similar passenger planes were experiencing no difficulty.

Willey, a Lockheed test pilot, was at the controls when the new $80,000 plane rammed a mountainside and exploded 50 miles north of here.

Witnesses told me that the airplane was flying only about 600 feet above the ground," Nance said. "Under those circumstances, I believe it is proper for this office to investigate."

Inquest is Mortuary
The inquest, set for 9:30 a. m. will be held in a mortuary at San Fernando, where the bodies of three men, four women and two little children were taken after they were removed from the wreckage of the plane yesterday.

Nance said that he found the fog too thick as he flew through Mt. Canyon. Apparently he turned back and circled, seeking a nearby emergency landing field, and ended at the ship into the side of Mt. Stroh at 200 miles an hour. A wing tip hit first, indicating he had time for one last bank. The plane slid, bounced 1,000 feet and was wrecked. The occupants apparently died instantly, excepting a baby who expired and the bodies were buried almost beyond recognition.

Insurance Report Denied
The winter has been denied a report that the policy had required Willey to fly in sight of the ground. A. C. Harris, Pacific coast manager of the U. S. Insurance Co., said the policy only required Willey to obey the regular airline rules of the bureau of all commerce.

Robert E. Cross, Lockheed president, said "the preponderance of evidence clearly indicates that the cause of the accident was the sudden encounter with fog of unexpected density."

Funeral arrangements for the victims were delayed because of the inquest.

SENATE WILL GET AID BILL MONDAY

By JOHN E. DEAL
WASHINGTON, May 19 (UP)—Congressional adjournment by June 4 appeared nearer to realization today as plans were completed to send President Roosevelt's $3,154,425,000 recovery bill to the senate floor Monday.

Simultaneously, the house appropriations committee notified the budget bureau that further requests for deficiency appropriations would not be accepted after Saturday night. The committee wants to present the final deficiency bill next week.

"We don't want the appropriations committee to stand in the way of adjournment," one member said.

Under present plans each house will start the last lap of the current session with a major bill. The senate with the pump priming measure and the house with the wage and hours bill, favored by the floor next Monday by petition.

If house and senate can dispose of their respective major bills next week there still would be one week for passage of the deficiency bill and disposal of conference reports before June 4. A conference bill would be completely upset. However, if a senate filibuster develops against the house wage and hours bill.

SNOWS ISOLATE MONTANA CITIES

BUTTE, Mont., May 19 (UP)—The worst spring storm in 50 years lashed Montana today, isolating most of the state.

Outlying in Butte, snow had been falling almost continuously for more than 30 hours, and within a 10-mile radius of the city snow ranged in depth from 18 inches to three feet.

The house was forecast.

Telephone and telegraph service was uncertain and unavailable in many state areas, as the encroaching white frock under the weight. Helena, the state capital, was isolated. All sections of the state reported either rain or snow, and nearly three inches of precipitation had been recorded by this morning.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul trains were halted as power failure disabled their electric power. Other trains were delayed. Northwest Airlines was running on a slightly retarded schedule as the Helena as the blizzard was blanketed more than a foot and a half deep with soggy snow. Western Air Express canceled all flights north from Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Highways north were blocked, with emergency aid and snow-plowing attempts to clear the snow.

The travel, however, was reported moving south, east, and west.

PERIL EASES ON FRUIT DAMAGES

Threat of possible damage to fruit crops in the Twin Falls, Buhl, Hagerman and other south central areas had apparently been averted today after slackening in a predicted frost wave last night held temperatures above the freezing level.

Low temperature for the Twin Falls vicinity this morning was 33. The low of yesterday was 32, and the U. S. weather bureau at Boise had sent out warnings that if the mercury fell to 30 or below last night "extensive damage" would result to fruit yields.

The weather bureau predicted "warmer tonight" to ease fears of fruit men, although the forecast said that some early-morning frosts may occur. It was not believed, however, that this wouldumble throner. It was not believed, however, that this wouldumble throner. It was not believed, however, that this wouldumble throner.

Fair weather was indicated tonight and Friday.

Fairly heavy snow flurries in Twin Falls this morning brought a tough winter, but with only light mercury to dangerous levels. Yesterday's light snow and intermittent rains brought at a much needed respite to the U. S. bureau of entomology reported. High temperature yesterday in Twin Falls was 36.

Snow in the west and today was reported "spotty" with some areas in the Buhl territory receiving none at all.

NEXT HIX TRIAL TO BE DISCUSSED

BOISE, May 19 (UP)—William Hix, youthful prisoner whose sentence of death was lifted by the Idaho state supreme court when it ordered that he be given a new trial, will be taken to Mountain Home Friday for further proceedings.

The matter will be discussed by Attorney General Charles Stout, Judge Charles Ketchum and C. A. Burke, attorney for the defense.

Hix was accused of killing Frank Miller, elderly Mayfield rancher and hiding his body in a short distance from the crime scene.

The Hix trial was prevented by a decision that the presiding judge did not properly separate the jury.

BURLEY'S PLANE FIRST AT BOISE

Airmail from Twin Falls, Filer, Buhl and Kimberly roared away from the Twin Falls airport for the first time in history shortly before noon today as Lionel A. Dean, transport pilot, took his plane off the ground and headed toward Boise.

In the plane with Dean was O. A. Kolber, the Idaho Express carrier who will write an account of the historic flight for readers of this newspaper tomorrow.

The ship cleared low over Twin Falls, Filer and Buhl and then flew a course to the municipal airport at Boise which 18 other ships from eastern Oregon and southern Idaho also had as destination.

The Twin Falls hop was matched by similar airmail jaunts leaving Jerome, Burley and Gooding. The Jerome plane, piloted by Lamoine Stevens, carried mail back from the Jerome Express station at Gooding to pick up airmail from that area.

The Burley plane, with Vern O'Brien of Boise as pilot, carried Burley, Albert, DeLo, Albion and Oakley mail and was scheduled to make stops at Shoshone, Halley, Filer and from there west east and west to various destinations.

A committee from the Boise Chapter of Commerce greeted the pilot at the airport and refreshments were served.

This evening at the Boise hotel the flight will be guests at a banquet at which prominent speakers will be heard. Included among the speakers will be Col. Earl C. Papp, Boise Postmaster and speaker for the 11 western states, Bureau of Commerce.

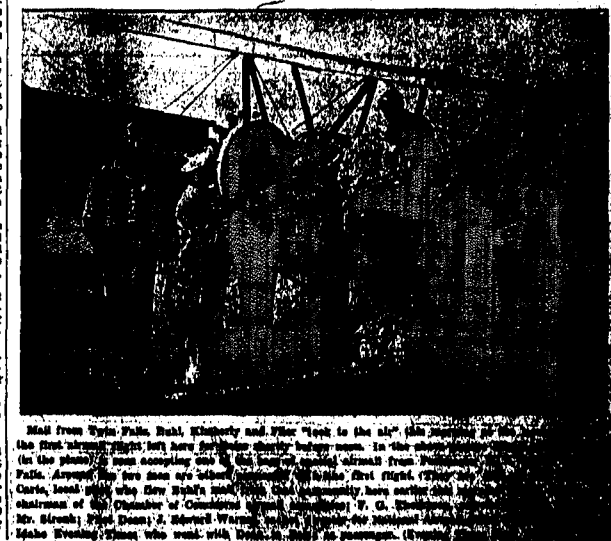

Dean's flight was reported today by the Boise Express at 8:30 a. m. to arrive at Boise along the way to pick up mail.

BOISE, May 19 (UP)—Planes from the various points in Idaho celebrating national airmail week, began arriving here at 1:35 p. m. today with their cargo.

First craft to land was that piloted by V. M. Oliver from Burley. He left at 9 a. m. and made several stops along the way to pick up mail.

Melting Snow Forces Air in Chill Wind

It will snow but not melt, Twin Falls and the surrounding area today. The snow will melt with strong, cold winds from the north, weren't melting yesterday in front of all participating schools. Starting with a heavy snow flurry, the day developed into a steady rain with some sleet of winter. But that didn't melt the merchants who had planned the show had day observations.

Forecast on being of show was a free show had will go to several who estimate closest to 500,000 the ice cakes will be melted in melt-stances. Estimates were coming in "fairly rapidly" at most of the.

TASK OF GUARDING HEALTH STRESSED AT P.-T.A. MEET

CLOSING SESSION LISTENS TO TALK BY 'HYGIEIA' HEAD

SALT LAKE CITY, May 18 (UP)—Dr. W. W. Bauer, associate editor of the health magazine, said today in an address at the Parents and Teachers congress that guarding health is a responsibility of both government and the individual citizen.

Dr. Bauer's speech was the principal one at the closing sessions of the 42nd annual congress.

The trend in public health has been toward greater extension of governmental activity," Dr. Bauer said. "Along certain lines this is necessary and desirable.

Advance Personal Health "However, only through individual vigilance may we hope to control tuberculosis, advance personal health through periodic health checkups, correct the physical defects of school children, and foster the cultivation of health habits."

Through community effort, he said, the objective of sanitation—pure water, safe milk, food inspection, contagious disease control, school sanitation and health education—are best achieved.

Dr. John A. Sesson, president, American Association of School Administrators, addressed a general session last night on the topic: "A Philosophy of Cooperation for American Education."

The problem of youth in America is primarily the problem of the local community, he said, suggesting that state agencies—the church, the school, the home and youth organizations—pool their resources in support of an active youth program.

"Society is just as responsible for the youth who is out of school as it is for the youth who is in school," Dr. Sesson said. "When we accept this responsibility we will begin real progress toward the solution of the problem of juvenile delinquency."

Dr. Caroline W. Woodruff, president of the national education association and head of the state normal college at Castleton, Vt., was the honored guest at a congress banquet which preceded the general session.

FERTILIZE POTATOES for Quality and Profits

USE ENOUGH POTASH

Potash plays a big part in growing potatoes at a profit, because consumers will pay extra for a product of good quality. Potash not only increases the yield of No. 1 potatoes, but rounds out the tubers into desirable shapes, makes the plants more resistant to diseases, and prevents sogginess and darkened color in cooked potatoes. Use at least 10% potash in your potato fertilizer applied at the rate of 800 to 1,000 pounds per acre. Potash may also be added to manure before planting or along the rows as a side-dressing at the rate of 200 pounds per acre. Consult your fertilizer dealer. You will be surprised how little it costs to apply the right amount of potash to make your potatoes pay profits.

Wings Offer New Horizon, Says Essayist

By PAUL W. LEIGHTON
(Editor's note: This essay from second prize in the Twin Falls air mail contest.)

Even as the setting sun of yesterday lured men on into a world of "Wings Across America" lure them today to still more vast horizons. The distant hum of motors and altitudes against the sky entice them to fulfillment of a dream of sea-flying.

Not only are men interested in aviation and sure, but they are interested in the wonderful advantages offered to the world. Those who can no longer "travel upward to a new land find inspiration, adventure, and satisfaction upstate."

New Fields Today flying offers openings into new fields. The air companies are guaranteeing awfulness and safety by putting into use every kind of invention and service. With the advancement of air travel and communication, youth may find of today may use that as their western field.

"Wings Across America" is the connecting link between our present and tomorrow. The ideas of air travel are bridging the gap between thoughts and methods of yesterday and advancement into a new day.

Great Inspiration The inspiration of flying is so great that it cannot be described. When man has learned the thrill of being master of a plane sweeping through the air, leaving one's everyday self and the humdrum of everyday life behind to travel through the sky like a god, of the comfort and serenity—then the trusted iron rails will give place to the tall beacons with their flashing beacons, marking the route of communication and travel.

Distance and time across continents have become negligible; yet the amount of communication and travel by air is small compared to what it should be. Not until men realize that air travel is safe, sure, swift, and a great inspiration will communication on ground, become a thing of the past.

MEXICAN LEADER, FEARING REVOLUTION, OUSTS GEN. CARDENAS

CARDENAS TAKES OVER COMMAND, ACCUSES CEDILLO

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mex., May 19 (AP)—President Lázaro Cardenas took personal command of San Luis Potosi today after publicly accusing Gen. Saturnino Cedillo, ousted military commander, of subversive activities against the federal government.

The president, told by a number of his supporters in this state that they feared attempts against his life, demanded that Cedillo surrender all arms in his possession. The general, retired from the army by Cardenas, was reported to have more than 1,000 armed followers.

Cardenas was understood to have ignored the advice of supporters who feared the possibility of assassination, deciding to remain here for more than a week to restore order among the disturbed population of San Luis Potosi state in which Cedillo has a large following.

Before he came into the city he told a group of workers, teachers and railway men who stopped his train and asked him not to proceed because they feared there would be attempts on his life, that "no attempt of this kind would be successful." He was confident that his newly-formed policies would win friends and that he already enjoyed national support.

With regard to citizen General Saturnino Cedillo, who is going to dedicate himself in accordance to what he expressed in his petition for separation from the army, to agricultural labor on his property, the president said, "the authorities will give him guarantees to which he has a right as a citizen on the understanding that he must abstain from forming armed groups."

Cedillo must place all the arms and munitions that he has in his power at the disposition of the headquarters of the military zone, realizing that the peasants of the whole state of San Luis Potosi enjoy the confidence of the federal government, and should continue contributing the auxiliary defense of the army, which, in accordance with the law, depend directly upon the headquarters of the military zone.

Give Rights to Citizen General Saturnino Cedillo, who is going to dedicate himself in accordance to what he expressed in his petition for separation from the army, to agricultural labor on his property, the president said, "the authorities will give him guarantees to which he has a right as a citizen on the understanding that he must abstain from forming armed groups."

AMERICAN LOOP, DOG-FIGHT, GRID SCHEDULE SPOTLIGHT

Cleveland Nears Top With Victory Over Athletics; Yanks Win

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—The American league commanded attention today with a dog-fight between four clubs for the pacemaker's role now occupied by the Boston Red Sox.

It's been so long since they've had a real "horse-race" in the American league that it seems like a typographical error when a look at the standings shows the second place Cleveland Indians only .013 percentage points behind the Red Sox.

Chicago's second-place position is a close one to the American league. The Chicago Cubs are to be the leading New York Giants in the National League. Both are 6 1/2 games back.

GIANT WATER LILIES
BURNED LANKING PLACES FOR BIRDS, WHICH WALK ABOUT THE HUGE SIX-FOOT-LEAVES AND RID THEM OF INSECTS.

IN THE MORMON TABERNACLE, SALT LAKE CITY,
A PIN DROPPED AT ONE END OF THE AUDITORIUM CAN BE HEARD AT THE OPPOSITE END... 2800 FEET AWAY!

IF AN INSECT COULD LIVE ON BREAD ALONE,
THE WHEAT CROP OF THE WORLD WOULD SUSTAIN ABOUT THREE HUNDRED MILLION PERSONS.

Those who have heard the great organ in the Mormon tabernacle realize the acoustical perfection of the building which was planned by Brigham Young long before the days of scientific wall insulation. The structure is 280 by 150 feet, and the great domed ceiling has no supports other than the outside walls.
