DECAPITATED LEVINE BODY FOUND
150,000 Watch Annual 500 Mile Indianapolis Race

33 Entries Vie for First Place in 19th Indiana Competition

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30 (UP)—Every Spencer, 13, of Terra Haute, was killed today when he was struck by a wheel which flew off the racing car of Emil Anderson when he wrecked it during the 500-mile race.

Spencer was standing on top of a truck in the infield near the southeast turn when Anderson crashed. Anderson's car turned over three times and the wheel sailed into the crowd.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30 (UP)—Under lowering skies which held a constant threat of rain the 26th Indianapolis speedway 500-mile race got under way today at 10:04 a. m.

Thirty-three compact speed machines, three abreast in 11 rows were sent off to a perfect start by Seth Klein who fired his 19th consecutive speedway starting bomb.

An excited crowd estimated at upwards of 150,000 was present despite threatening weather. Most were Hoosiers, for the speedway race is Indiana's big annual sporting extravaganza, but no fewer than 15 states were represented by license plates of cars parked along the infield.

Thousands Stood in Line
Thousands of spectators had waited in line all night seeking vantage points near the turns, while hundreds had been parked outside the speedways for days.

K. of C. SESSION HEARS VIGOROUS BLAST AT 'ISMS'

With 23 candidates initiated and with a vigorous challenge against "isms" ringing in their ears, Idaho Knights of Columbus swung into business sessions of their 31st annual convention here today.

The exemplification of the first three degrees highlighted Sunday afternoon sessions and the call for Americanism as opposed to other "isms" was voiced by Harry Benoit last night as feature of the 1938 convention banquet.

Business meetings of the Columbian conference opened at 10 a. m. today with an address of welcome to delegates by Paul L. Kretz, grand knight of the host Twin Falls council.

Pay Tribute to Living, Speaker Tells Gathering

Twin Falls citizens paused in their work-a-day life today to join the nation in paying tribute to soldier dead, and hundreds gathered at the Twin Falls cemetery to hear Rev. James Butler of the Ascencion Episcopal church issue a challenge to make Memorial day as a moralize the living as well as the dead.

Similar observance was held in most communities throughout south central Idaho today, although several towns conducted memorial rites on Sunday.

Prior to the Twin Falls observance at the cemetery, members of local patriotic and other organizations paraded the downtown section at 10 a. m.

Forming at Fourth avenue north and Shoshone street and led by the municipal band, massed colors, color guard and Co. E. 118th Engineers, the parade included representatives of Spanish war veterans, their World War veterans, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish war auxiliary, American Legion auxiliary and juniors, V. F. W. auxiliary, D. A. V. auxiliary, Boy Scouts and Campfire girls.

Three Challenges
Speaking on "The Challenge of Memorial Day," Rev. Butler pointed out that today was the 70th such observance and started as a military order in 1881 primarily to memorialize the war dead of the Civil war.

Rev. Butler divided his address into three parts, each a "challenge to the people" in itself.

He pointed out that we today "should transfer our hero worship to those deeper, more permanent contributions of our leaders whether they be general in war or statesmen in peace."

"Sometimes, on closer investigation, we find that the deeds of the statesmen and others during war are much more far reaching than those who lead the armies," Rev. Butler said.

His second challenge was to make Memorial day, "as has been done to a large extent," a day for the memory of all our dead instead of the war dead alone.

Memorial Living
Third and stressed by the speaker as being the most important and "greatest challenge" of all, is to make Memorial day a time to recognize and memorialize the living as well as the dead.

"We should use the day to build on the standards, the ideals and the accomplishments of our fathers that we may stand on their shoulders in developing a nation and a people greater than in their day," Rev. Butler said.

He started his plea for the third challenge with a prayer: "Almighty God in whose hands are the living and the dead."

Rev. Butler divided his address into three parts, each a "challenge to the people" in itself.

REBELLION ENDS IN MEXICO WITH FALL OF REBELS

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 30 (UP)—The last strongholds of rebel Gen. Saturno Cedillo in the state of San Luis Potosi were in the hands of federal troops today and officials announced that the short-lived Mexican rebellion was practically at an end.

Federal troops occupied the towns of El Salto, El Mico and La Concepcion, the last centers of organized opposition. Gen. Cedillo was still at large but authorities predicted that the mopping up of a number of remote villages would bring the end of the revolt.

Authorities said that the surrender of about 100 men under Bruno Jasso, rebel chieftain, in the region between Cortes and Guadalupe, marked the collapse of organized resistance. Only roving bands remained to be subdued in the hills.

Cedillo was believed to be hiding in the hills in the northern part of the state. It was generally believed that the government would welcome his escape to the United States, removing the necessity of a trial and consequent publicity.

President Lazaro Cardenas, who has been personally directing suppression of the rebellion, announced that amnesty would be granted to rebel chiefs. The action was without precedent in the history of Mexican rebellions.

Meanwhile the government undertook measures to counteract the adverse effects of the uprising and economic difficulties caused by the expropriation of foreign oil properties.

Behind the Scenes In Washington BY RODNEY DUTCHER. WASHINGTON, May 30—Inner significance of the government's decision...

Soldiers, Not Conquerors, Count One need not be a militarist to feel that Memorial day is one of the most deeply significant of all our holidays.

For Memorial day, although it calls in review all of our wars and brings up again the record of our armies, it is no glorification of war and the spirit of war. It does not bring with it a celebration of "glorious victories," or seek to build up a spirit of martial patriotism.

Rather it is a day devoted to the soldier—the citizen soldier who has fought all of America's wars. Its flags are half-masted and its drums are muffled. Fundamentally, it is simply an expression of the nation's regret that so many men had to be killed.

It is very easy to forget what that word "soldier" means, as we use it in this country. The word does not carry the connotations it carries in other lands. It does not call up any picture of drilled automatons, of a proud officer caste, of a cult of glory, or of dauntless professional soldiers going out to prove their mettle.

For those things are absent from our military tradition. In their place we simply have the ordinary citizen—a young man from the farm, the shop, the school or the office, going off to a training camp because his country has asked him to, coping in inexpert fashion with the intricacies of military drill, getting herded at least to the battlefield and there doing his level best to give a decent account of himself.

And today, when we celebrate the American soldier's record, we are not concerned with the great deeds he did and the great victories he won; it is the fact that he went where his country's need required him to suffer, that is important. Today brings no pride of conquest—except for our pride in this soldier's eternal conquest of himself, his ability to beat down fear and the thought of self and go out to pay the final price on the field of battle.

We can hate war, hate its trampled-up glory and its eternal cruelty and injustice, and still give ourselves wholeheartedly to observance of this holiday which was born of many wars. Indeed, a true observance of the day would make us hate war all the more; for it is the sacrifice that we celebrate today, the loss of all the thousands of young men who were called on to die in order that their country might live.

Some day, people will be intelligent enough to conduct their affairs so that wars are not necessary. Can we give any thought to the innumerable graves that are to be decorated today without praying that that day may come quickly?

4.—Usually peaceable citizens come to blows over the merits of fly-fishing vs. bait-fishing, and over the merits of one kind of bait as against another kind. 5.—Exactly 4,916 Magic Valley husbands swear at 4,916 Magic Valley wives on discovering, at noon 30 miles from nowhere, that the 4,916 wives forgot to put bottles of beer in the lunch kit.

6.—While 78,451 trout hold a council of war, announce to each other that the suckers are headed up the hills, and solemnly sign a peace treaty, the 78,451 trout do not seem to be half as much in evidence as the trout (the trout) the day before opening day.

A's Cop 2nd Straight From Champs; Giants Increase League Lead

NEW YORK, May 30 (AP)—The New York Yankees went into the west on May 17 in third place in the American league, only 1 1/2 games away from the first-place Boston Red Sox.

Today they were back in Yankee stadium after a disastrous tour that dropped them down to fourth place, 3 1/2 games away from the pace-setting Cleveland Indians. They will be at home for 15 days and will have to do some tall stepping to make up for their road losses.

Five road out Double weather hurt the Yankees almost as much on the road as rival teams. They were scheduled to play 13 games, but five of them were washed out.

They won only three—one each from St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit—and were licked twice in Cleveland and twice by Philadelphia. They held the edge over only one first division club, Washington, which they have beaten four times in six starts.

The Yankees dropped into fourth yesterday with their second straight defeat by the Athletics in Washington, the only first division club to win, moved up with a 3-1 victory over Boston. Detroit held Chicago 7-1 and St. Louis whipped Cleveland 6-0.

The A's scored four runs in the seventh and beat the Yanks in a four-run game. Boston's home run was the only one. The Yankees were set for the Red Sox down with 10 hits as Washington won; Cletus Poffenberger pitched four innings for the Yanks and the Indians blew an early 4-1 lead, to lose to the Browns.

Yesterday's HERO Bob Welland, St. Louis Cardinal, pitched a 3-0 victory over the Yankees.

Giants Trip Phillies In the National League, all first division but the leading Giants were defeated. The Giants defeated Philadelphia 7-0 to increase their lead over second-place Chicago.

Bob Welland, St. Louis Cardinal, pitched a 3-0 victory over the Yankees. He was the first pitcher to throw a no-hitter since 1904. Welland's performance was a major factor in the Yankees' decline.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

STILL WATER DOES NOT RUN DEEP! IT DOES NOT RUN AT ALL.

IF YOU WALKED THE COASTLINE OF MAINE, IT WOULD MEASURE ABOUT 2,500 MILES, YET THE TWO ENDS ARE ONLY 225 MILES APART BY AIR!

TERMITES, FREQUENTLY CALLED "WHITE ANTS," ARE MORE CLOSELY RELATED TO COCKROACHES THAN TO ANTS, AND NOT ALL SPECIES ARE WHITE.

Termites may never lose their misleading title of "white ant" in spite of the fact that the two groups of insects bear no relationship, and are, in fact, deadly enemies.

Co-Op Institute Will Scan Problems Of Varied Types of Farm Industries

SESSIONS TO BE HELD IN NORTH

MOOSEW, May 30 (Special)—More than 80 separate meetings and conference groups with roster of 100 speakers and discussion leaders including many national figures in agricultural thought and action will feature the 14th annual session of the American Institute of Cooperation at the University of Idaho and Washington State college, July 11 to 18.

Information on the subject matter program for the first session of the institute to be held in the Pacific northwest has been received by University of Idaho officials from C. W. Holman, secretary. The first part of the session will be at the northwest campus and the closing half at Moscow.

While most of the program is devoted to the analysis of recent developments and forthright attacks on specific problems affecting farmers, business organizations, the economic and social philosophy of cooperation is not overlooked. Mr. Holman comments: "Three general sessions are devoted to the effect of the government's trade agreement program. The general session will be devoted to subjects of interest to all cooperative groups. The evening sessions will consider topics of more specialized interest, each group holding from two to five meetings during the week. The list of group conferences includes:

Varied Sessions
Cooperative poultry and egg marketing, farm marketing, fruit marketing, wheat marketing, marketing of small fruits and vegetables, livestock marketing, wool marketing, potato marketing, purchasing, nut marketing, membership services, publicity and cooperative house organizations.

Subjects for the general sessions include a daily series on "The Economic and Social Philosophy of Cooperation," "Development and Administration of Cooperative Marketing," "Cooperative Purchasing," "The Financial Structure of Cooperatives," and "Administering the Internal Business." An evening meeting will include a discussion of "Services to Agriculture of the Institute."

Among the features of general instruction outside the classroom and lecture program will be a visual education exhibit; a motion picture display for cooperative educational work; and the finals in a three-state oratorical contest in which 4-12 club and vocational agriculture students from Idaho, Washington and Oregon will speak on "Why Youth Should Be Interested and Active in the Cooperative Movement."

Burley Junior High Has Final Program

BURLEY, May 30 (Special)—The junior high student body observed the closing of school with a program and a theater party Wednesday afternoon. Blanche Brown, student body president, presided and offered an appreciation to the students and faculty.

The boys' quartet, Jim Roper, Golden Humphries, Morris Swanson and Harold Seeds, sang "Three Pale of Ours," and Phyllis Harrison read the class history. Margaret Pace and Phyllis Warren danced the "Dixie Doodle," followed by a reading by Adelle Hogan. Ezra Brown, dressed as a world traveler, read the class prophecy, and the girls' chorus depicted the faculty with aplomb. The play "The Old Refrain," and Merle Bulkley gave a reading. The class will be given by Bryant Irons.

The mixed double quartet, directed by Miss Helen Werner, sang "Anna Muler."

Jack Roper Takes Second in Contest

BURLEY, May 30 (Special)—Jack Roper, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Roper, placed second in the fourth annual James P. Pope oratorical contest held last week on the University of Idaho campus.

He used as his subject "Pump-Priming and Business" and won $18 as second place money. Roper is a freshman at the university and a member of the first class's debate squad.

City Growing, Visitor States

Twin Falls seems lively and "a lot larger than a year ago," in the opinion of an expert Los Angeles commentator.

He is M. J. Brown, domestic trade commissioner for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Brown was here over the weekend on his annual inspection and "contact" tour of Idaho and Utah. He conferred with Chamber of Commerce officials and with several businessmen, and went on Sunday to Pocatello. He will stop at Ogden, Salt Lake City, Provo and Cedar City. He visited Boise as first stop.

Surveying business conditions, Brown said he found that in Idaho the level is not quite up to last year's in spite of an unusually good Easter season. He found that even a moderate jump in farm prices would send Idaho business to a favorable ratio.

"Los Angeles county," he said, "is southern Idaho's best customer. The county buys $7,000,000 worth of Idaho products annually, and the bulk of this is dairy products, poultry and livestock."

Concerning his reaction that Twin Falls seems larger than when he visited here a year ago, Brown declared that the city's population increase of a jump to 13,000 population seems to be apparent. He said also that the growing district's shops appear to be more fully rented—with frequent evidence of improvements and modernization in building fronts.

JULY 15 SET AS LODGE REOPENING

Sun Valley lodge will reopen July 15 for a seven weeks' season extending to Sept. 6, according to word received here today.

Fishing, hunting, pack trips, golf and tennis will provide the major features on the lodge's summer program. Idaho field dog trials will be held at the resort, and a fly-casting tourney is now being arranged to bring together the best of Idaho.

The entire Sun Valley ranch is being landscaped under direction of Charles Davidson, Boise landscape architect.

The new Sun Valley golf course is now nearing completion, with installing of the underground sprinkling system still being worked on. Two fairways can be sprinkled at once under this plan. Completion is scheduled by the last of July or the first of August.

All roads on the resort property have been surveyed for hard surfacing under the plan of the roads leading to all mountains.

Ray Mark and Art Woods, Twin Falls, returned to the resort Saturday to act as fishing and hunting guides.

Challenger Inn had a substantial guest list today for the Memorial day week-end. Max Deane is managing the inn. Miss Woods, housekeeper for the Challenger and the lodge, has just returned from a month's vacation trip in the east.

Glenns Ferry Bible School Enrolls 36

GLENN'S FERRY, May 30 (Special)—Registration in the daily vacation Bible school being held at the Methodist church during the next two weeks has been reported as excellent by Rev. Mark White, with 36 enrolled.

The work is being supervised by Mrs. Marcia Brown, daughter of Rev. White, who came here from her home in Los Angeles to take charge of the work. She is active in church work and has had a great deal of experience in this field.

The church school was opened Monday morning with 36 enrolled but has shown a decided increase in the last few days. Ten persons are assisting in class work and supervision of the children.

All children regardless of church affiliations are welcome.

Heyburn Seniors Given Diplomas

HEYBURN, May 30 (Special)—Largest class in the history of Heyburn high school graduated Thursday when 32 seniors received their diplomas.

The program was:

Professional, high school orchestra; Invocation of James Leonard; "Lustful Overture," Keler Bell, high school orchestra; "International Problems of Youth," Max Warr; "O Sole Mio," Joseph Bailey; "Vocational Possibilities of Youth," Ruth Wilcox; "Harvest Tide," Kessifer, Edward Hollenbeck; presentation of class gift, Mollie Kraus; "Ma Linda Lou," Mero Moncur; "Social Problems of Youth," Charles Koenig; baritone solo, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," Carl Wilcox; presentation of national honor pins, Miss White; recommendation for graduation of senior group, Supt. J. M. Whiting; presentation of diplomas, J. P. Morgan; benediction, Evelyn Christensen; recessional, high school orchestra.

FLIERS

Most adventurous of the Idaho parents who attended the national convention of the Congress of Parents and Teachers last week at Salt Lake City were Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Dean, Twin Falls; the only ones who flew their plane to the sessions. It was revealed here today.

Total attendance of Idaho delegates was 85, Mrs. James Walton, jr., Pocatello, sponsor for Idaho, announced. Each of the six districts of the state was represented. At the Idaho luncheon 53 persons attended and represented 19 different communities.

FISHIN'

Some local youth was "out fishin'" today with a reel which hasn't, as yet, been paid for.

Local officers late Saturday evening, it was revealed by the police blotter today, were called to a local store. They went immediately—but too late at that.

The result of the investigation reads:

"Found that a boy got away with a fishing reel—and the boy

3. Mr. Dick Ballard for your instructor
4. The course to begin JUNE 1st

At the end of the 5 weeks, if you wish to purchase an accordion the $5.00 you have paid can be used as a credit on the purchase price. Or, if you feel you would like to continue for another 5 weeks we can make arrangements for you to do so.

Mr. Ballard has been instructing accordion the past four years at the Roberts Music Co., Clovis, New Mexico, also Ginsberg Music Co., Roswell, New Mexico. Mr. Ballard organized one of the first all girls accordion groups at Sterling, Colorado, for the Holthrop Music Co., of that city. He comes to us very highly recommended from some of the best and largest music houses in the country.
