MURDER CHARGE TO BE FILED Startling Disclosures Loom in Murder Mystery

2 HUGE ARMIES GIRD FOR MAJOR BATTLE OF WAR HONG KONG, June 4 (AP)—Unconfirmed estimates put the number of dead and wounded at 1,000 in a Japanese air raid on Canton today. It was asserted that the Japanese planes bombed extensively in all parts of the city.

Cash Abandons Hope For His Stolen Son

By THOMAS F. REYNOLDS PRINCETON, Fla., June 4 (AP)—James B. Cash, sr., said today he has abandoned hope that his kidnaped son Jimmy still is alive. He said he feared it might take a week or 10 days to find the body in the tangled Everglades of southern Florida.

Hollow-eyed and weary after a week spent in frantic efforts to locate the blue-eyed 5-year-old boy, Cash said he has resigned himself to the conviction that his son is dead. During the hectic days since the boy was kidnaped and the $10,000 ransom was paid, the father had clung to the fading hope that he would see his son alive once more.

"I have now given up all hope of finding my son alive," he said this morning. "Espects to Find Body The small town businessman whose son was kidnaped from his baby bed one week ago tonight, was convinced the body will be found. His views were in contrast to those of many searchers who participated in the most extensive manhunt ever undertaken in Florida.

If the body is in this area, they believed, it never will be found. Cash talked with newspapermen today for the first time since the abduction. He displayed obvious indications of the strain under which he has lived since the kidnaping. Mrs. Cash, near prostration and under care of a physician since loss of her only child, appeared with her husband.

The father told of his conversation last night with J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation who is leading G-men in the hunt for the kidnapers. "Mr. Hoover visited us last night and said he naturally expects to solve this case," Cash said. "Both Mr. Cash and myself want to express our deepest and most sincere thanks for the hundreds of people who have dropped their work and jobs to come to our assistance in the attempt to find little Jimmy and the kidnapers," he said. "We are very grateful."

It was Cash's second appearance outside his apartment since the kidnaping. Yesterday, he rushed to a flooded rooftop near Homestead in response to one of many false reports the body had been found. Weary after the frantic week, he returned to his home, reviewing the situation with his wife, and resigned himself to the belief his son is dead.

Evans, discharged by Governor Barzilla Clark as the result of a disagreement over an audit of the pension fund which was submitted to the Ada county grand jury, did not say what office he sought. The number of petitioners he secured are requisite for a state office.

It was said he would seek the office of state auditor. Henry Parsons, incumbent auditor, obtained nominating petitions yesterday but would not say whether he would seek reelection or run for Democratic nomination as second district congressman. The later possibility has been widely rumored.

40 Hours Before His Arrest

This picture of Duncan McD. Johnston, ex-mayor of Twin Falls and local jeweler, was taken by the Evening Times staff photographer only 40 hours before he was placed under arrest in connection with the Olson murder here. It was the last picture to be taken before his arrest. With William LaVonde, his employer, he will face charges of murder Monday. Johnston posed for the picture in front of his jewelry shop in the downtown section. "I am very busy," Johnston said, "but I suppose I can do it. I don't like to pose out on the front street and I wouldn't do it for anybody else," he told the Times photographer.

Johnston, LaVonde Complaint Monday

Possibilities For Scene of Murder Shift

Investigations by police into the George L. Olson murder case were proceeding late this afternoon in "startling manner," the Evening Times learned.

The Evening Times also learned sensational developments would be forthcoming in the immediate future. At the same time the Evening Times found that police yesterday evening made a trip into Snake river canyon to the famous Shoshone falls. This latest move by police in all probability shifts the supposed scene of the slaying of Olson from Rock creek canyon, which skirts the city on the south and west, to the Snake river canyon in the vicinity of the falls.

Regarding Johnston, Chief of Police Howard Gillette heading the "quieting" investigation, said: "Police department investigation took us into the Snake river canyon in the vicinity of Shoshone falls yesterday evening. No comment can be made or the results of the trip at this time."

What? Say Where Although the latest move by the police shifts the supposed slaying scene, Chief Gillette said he would not say where the murder was committed.

Chief Gillette also said that the department had secured a safety deposit box at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company for the purpose of preserving what was termed as "valuable evidence." As to what was placed in the safety deposit box, Gillette would not comment.

It was confirmed by the Evening Times that William LaVonde, who will face charges of murder with Johnston on Monday, is in connection with Olson's death, had his "bags packed" when he was arrested by local police as he was walking across the city park en route to the Johnston Jewelry company store where he was employed.

Pictures Removed Many pictures which had been on the walls of LaVonde's room on Monday were removed today. In connection with Olson's death, had his "bags packed" when he was arrested by local police as he was walking across the city park en route to the Johnston Jewelry company store where he was employed.

LaVonde's Only Condemn is Over Dog Pet, Patsy Although he is confined in county jail and will face murder charges which will be filed Monday, William LaVonde, 30-year-old Twin Falls jeweler and agent, showed concern this afternoon for only one thing—his dog pet, Patsy.

LaVonde showed no worry over himself. And when he found that the matter is safe, he chuckled.

Counsel's Statement W. L. Dunn, counsel for the man now being held together with Johnston on Monday, said that LaVonde is absolutely innocent of the commission of any crime at all.

Concern for Dog "His chief concern seemed to be over his dog, Patsy. The dog he asked me when I went to see him whether or not I had seen him. Finally, when I returned yesterday evening to tell him that the dog had been located and was in Dr. Croome's care, he expressed his gratitude. He seemed very happy to know that the dog was being well taken care of."

"I wondered, from his attitude, whether he had retained me to represent him or take care of the dog. "He seemed to feel no concern over himself."

Arraignment of Ex-Mayor Will Follow Swiftly

Murder charges will be filed here Monday against Duncan McD. Johnston and William LaVonde, County Attorney Edward Babcock announced this afternoon. Johnston, ex-mayor of Twin Falls, and LaVonde, former police desk sergeant, are being held in county jail in connection with the slaying of George L. Olson, Salt Lake City jeweler whose body was found here May 24 stuffed into the rear seat of his sedan.

"I will file charges of murder Monday," Prosecutor Babcock said. "The charges will be in the form of a joint complaint, against both Duncan Johnston and William LaVonde, charging murder."

The charges will probably be filed in probate court, he said. Murder charges as filed in Idaho do not specifically cite first degree, second degree or manslaughter, but encompass all three.

Directs Probe Johnston and LaVonde will be arraigned "at times immediately" afterward," Babcock said.

The time of filing Monday was not announced. Asked whether he has any reason to believe that the murder charges may also be filed against a third person, Babcock said that "at present" he has no basis for such belief. He approved, however, the Evening Times story today that extensive investigation is proceeding and that suggestions of developments may be forthcoming soon.

No Bail "No bail will be permitted for Johnston or LaVonde," the prosecutor said.

It was pointed out unofficially that the man brought here was limited only to second degree, bail is permitted under Idaho statute. Babcock's statement that neither man will be released on bond points (Continued on Page 8, Column 3)

Johnston is Cheerful in Initial Chat

Looking cheerful and admitting with mock sorrow that "there doesn't seem to be any currency available here," Johnston, 30-year-old Twin Falls jeweler, talked to reporters today for the first time since his arrest.

Johnston—dressed in trousers, a dressing robe and slippers, and looking highly comfortable in his shirt-sleeve in the lobby of the Blue Hotel—said he had been helped him while away from county jail, Duncan McD. Johnston, former mayor now held in county jail here, told reporters today for the first time since his arrest.

Defense Fights EDWARDS CHARGE BOISE, Ida., June 4 (AP)—Defense attorneys today fought a charge that the alleged slaying of George L. Olson, Salt Lake City jeweler, was committed through the presentation of evidence.

Defense chief Frank Hepburn, former attorney general, said he did not believe he would rest his case until the middle of next week. The trial was nearing completion of its second week today.

REBELS BOMBARD BARCELONA CITY

BARCELONA, June 4 (AP)—Twelve insurgent planes bombed the city heavily today. The last lasted 12 minutes.

It was estimated that 15 were killed and 40 injured in the raid. Two squadrons dropped most of the bombs in the harbor section of the city.

Anti-aircraft guns functioned frantically with a furious rain of shells and the raiders were driven off. One insurgent plane was brought down by a Loyaltist pursuit plane.

The raiders appeared in a bright blue summer sky, dodging in and out of the white clouds. Boom explosions were heard through the city as they dropped a heavy load of bombs. The sky was darkened by white smoke and puffs of smoke from anti-aircraft shells.

RELEASE LOOMS FOR GIRL KILLER

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Donald Garet, Jr., is said not probably will be released in his own behalf by tonight, it was indicated today. The 16-year-old high school student, who was acquitted of murder in the slaying of his 18-year-old sweetheart, has been undergoing psychological tests since his acquittal last Saturday, the day after his acquittal.

EVANS TO SEEK STATE POSITION

BOISE, Ida., June 4 (AP)—Karl B. Evans, former director of the state bureau of public accounts, today obtained 44 nominating petitions from the office of Secretary of State Ira H. Mackay.

Evans, discharged by Governor Barzilla Clark as the result of a disagreement over an audit of the pension fund which was submitted to the Ada county grand jury, did not say what office he sought.

The number of petitioners he secured are requisite for a state office. It was said he would seek the office of state auditor.

Henry Parsons, incumbent auditor, obtained nominating petitions yesterday but would not say whether he would seek reelection or run for Democratic nomination as second district congressman.

The later possibility has been widely rumored.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES APPROPRIATION, AUTHORIZATION BILL

LEND AND SPEND PROGRAM SET TO HALT DEPRESSION

By JOHN E. BEAL
WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—The senate gave President Roosevelt the $20,000,000 appropriation and the authorization bill today to finance—and extend—his $50,000,000 lending-spending program against depression.

Senate approval of the bill, which had been passed by the house, came a few minutes before midnight last night by a vote of 80 to 10. It made possible the adjournment of congress by next week. Senate Majority Leader Albert W. Barnes, D., expected a quick conference agreement on this bill and the wage and hours bill. They are the two major pieces of legislation remaining.

After 11 days of attack in the senate by the combined forces of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats, the recovery bill emerged unscathed. No restrictions were placed on the spending and lending of vast sums which will bring the total approximately 4,000,000 of the unemployed army which, Mr. Roosevelt said, has increased since he requested the money six weeks ago.

FDB Triumphs
As approved by the senate the legislation is a triumph for the President, who had demanded a free hand in spending the fund, and a stinging defeat for the anti-New Deal coalition which had sought to make the money flow in a safeguard against political reprisals.

Although the heaviest barrage of opposition was based on the charge that only three Democrats and two Republicans voted against it. Only one limitation was placed on Mr. Roosevelt's spending authority, and that was the requirement of a three-fourths majority consent. The President will be permitted to divert only $125,000,000 of the proposed $1,425,000,000 works program administration funds to direct relief.

Despite it also the bill is not the largest appropriation of the administration since the 1935 relief appropriation topped it with a total of $480,000,000.

Political Philosophy
The measure represents a broad political philosophy and virtually all the major activities of the Roosevelt administration. Its funds will be used to provide direct relief to the unemployed in works and building projects; to rehabilitate needy farmers; to aid youth unable to get a foothold in private industry; to clear slums and establish low rent dwellings for wage-earners; to carry out public works projects; to carry out public works projects; to carry out public works projects.

Technically, the bill is now back in the house, but only a formally remaining before it goes to conference. Sen. Alva B. Adams, D., Colo., its floor manager, had the senate conference appointed before last night's adjournment. In his place, in Mr. Adams' stead, Kenneth McKellar, D., Tenn., James P. Byrnes, D., S. C., Frederick E. Steiwer, Jr., R., Del., were appointed.

Everglades Searched for Boy's Kidnapers

Held in Probe

Agents of the federal bureau of investigation, taking complete charge of the search for kidnapers of James Cahn, Jr. of Princeton, Fla., took into custody M. F. Braxton, 55, above, a local carpenter. Picking Braxton out of the crowd for an interview, the men hustled him to Miami headquarters for questioning.

Florida's greatest man-hunt went on in full cry when kidnapers of James Cahn, Jr., failed to return the boy to his Princeton, Fla., home after $10,000 ransom had been paid. Over 5000 volunteers, in small parties of five to 10 men, were sent out to search the Everglades for a trail of the kidnapers. The search party of M. F. Braxton, 55, a local carpenter, picked up the boy on June 2. Braxton, who had been arrested on suspicion of kidnaping, was taken to Miami headquarters for questioning.

TORNADIC WINDS SPREAD DAMAGE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 4 (AP)—Tornado, rain and lightning lashed the southwest today, taking the lives of at least four persons and inflicting property damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The winds leveled brick business buildings and residences; the rains set streams surging from their beds, inundating thousands of acres of rich farm land; lightning killed four men, two of whom were in the Kansas City Open Golf tournament and two of them oil field workers at Wharton, Tex.

More than 50 injured were injured by winds that swept through southwestern Oklahoma and northern Texas. Three others were injured by lightning when one reported in serious condition.

Wichita Falls, Tex., bore the brunt of the 60-mile-an-hour wind. Fourteen persons were injured, several critically, at the KMA oil field, on the outskirts of Wichita Falls. Evelyn Longmire, 44, and Beatrice Longmire, 40, were killed. Several other persons were injured. Their homes were damaged by wind. Other persons were taken to hospitals at Valmy View and Low Park, near the oil field.

The wind was of such velocity that it moved southward and wrecked six brick buildings and several residences at Grandfield, Okla., in the southwestern part of the state, and inflicted damage estimated by night-watcher Joe M. Brown at $100,000.

Steel derricks were twisted and slacks were blown over in the KMA field. Authorities said that the total damage in the Wichita Falls area might amount to $1,000,000.

The wind was powerful. There were no other reports. Injury to two men and injury to two others at the Hillcrest Country club near Dallas.

Water delivery in the Salmon tract's first irrigation run of the year has been extended to a 30-day period instead of 20. W. M. McLean, manager of the Salmon River Canal company, had announced to the directors of the concern voted the 10-day addition because ditch rider surveys showed that ranchers needed the extra water and that the supply in Salmon reservoir is at a low level.

Inflow at the reservoir lately has been only slightly under the output under the delivery which started May 26, McDaniel indicated. On that date the gauge showed 25.50 and 80.610 acre feet of water. Friday the reading was 25.15, with only 50,272 acre feet still in the reservoir.

WALLACE SLICES QUOTA ON SUGAR
WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace acting under powers granted him under the sugar act today reduced by 81,105 short tons the official estimate of domestic sugar consumption.

The automatically reduces by that amount the volume of sugar from both domestic and foreign sources, which may be marketed in this country in 1938.

Wallace's action came after the New York sugar market dropped to its four-year low of 2.65 cents per pound.

The new estimate of domestic consumption is 7,780,567 short tons compared with the December estimate of 8,601,781 short tons. Quotas compared with the December estimate of 8,601,781 short tons. Quotas for the various sugar-producing areas will be revised downward, Wallace said.

At the same time the secretary announced that the department will request to other sugar producing areas the 53,883-ton deficiency in the quota originally allowed for the Philippine Islands.

Ira Masters telling Seen Today that Twin Falls news is putting the Ada grand jury in the shade these days... Sign offering auto parking with the ground in question being covered by three-foot dirt heaps... Onlookers getting the litter from watching one driver dog with one eye that "pops out"... Man wearing nice new hat because friend accidentally took his old one—leaving one eye blind when he expected him to wear it for 10 days... Doe Price, at packing house, looking very sad because he only got one girl when he expected many boys... And that same tiny wildcat—lynx cat, to you—stalking an entire small town—same as ordinary cat, look on but refuse to join the game.

"IDAHO PARADE" SLATED LOCALLY
A "Miss Victory" beauty contest, a "Million Dollar" baby contest and a highly pyrotechnical spectacle, "Elegance of the Argonne," will feature in Twin Falls during the week of July 18 to 23 as Twin Falls part of the American Legion sponsors the first annual Idaho on Parade.

The spectacle will be the "greatest ever staged in Twin Falls," according to W. W. Noble, post commander of the Argonne post, arrangements for the show had been completed by Vernon Newcombe, who staged the highly successful "Days of Old Fort Hall" celebration in Pocatello for several years. Newcombe this year is staging a celebration in Pocatello in connection with the American Legion convention.

Must Be Sponsored
In regard to the "Miss Victory" contest Noble said that each candidate must be sponsored by the Legion post members. There will be no entry fee charged and the girls will receive tickets to sell the "Elegance of the Argonne" spectacle. First award will be a round trip ticket to the national convention of the American Legion in Los Angeles or the San Francisco and World's Fair. If the winner does not wish to make either trip she may make $125 in cash, Noble said.

Offices Given
Offices for the celebration as well as registration offices are located at 131 Second street east in Twin Falls and entries for this feature of the program can be made starting next Monday morning. Girls do not have to come from Twin Falls to be eligible.

Full particulars regarding other features including the "Million Dollar" baby parade will be announced in the immediate future.

The Gentleman in the Third Row
 CHAPTER XXIV
 THE telegram that Jackie had received was from Beryl. It stated that she was returning at once and that she was bringing with her a famous surgeon in whom she had the greatest confidence. "I told her it was no use," Roger said. "Dr. Watson ought to know his stuff—what can you know your doctor do? But you know how Beryl is—she seems to take the blame for all this on herself—she simply won't give up."
 "She's a wonderful person," Jackie said. "Poor Beryl. . . of course she was taking it on herself. Had she told Jackie that if anything serious happened to Roger she never would forgive herself? But as for giving up, well Jackie would not let that either. She would never surrender the hope that Roger would be made well, that he would walk again. Maybe her faith, her prayers, would help him in this as they had before."
 The surgeon and Beryl arrived that next morning. Beryl herself had piloted the ship back. She had felt that there was no time to lose. Jackie never knew to what he had only gone to see the great doctor to accompany her, what amount of money she must have paid to secure his service. She did not know that Beryl would leave Roger for entire fortune, gladly, if that could have made Roger well.
 "Do you really think there is any chance?" Jackie asked. Beryl looked at him for a moment, then said that the two spent together. Perhaps it would have been easier, for Roger at least, not to have given this new spark of hope. If it would blaze but a brief moment only to sputter and burn into dead ashes of despair again.
 BERYL did not answer at once; perhaps she was thinking the same thing. For if the verdict this time was that Roger never would be able to walk, then hope would indeed be lost.
 "There is—just a chance," she said. "It lies in the fact that Roger was able to crawl all that distance after the plane crashed. He must have been injured, but that if his back had been injured as Doctor Watson believed it was."

Behind the Scenes In Washington
 BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 Evening Times Washington Correspondent
 WASHINGTON, June 4.—One of the most important and controversial questions in Washington is on the question whether the forthcoming investigation of monopoly will delve into the affairs of the insurance companies.
 President Roosevelt in his monopoly message urged that these companies be looked into, pointing to their huge investment funds as possible instruments of economic power. But Congress hasn't seemed anxious to start such an inquiry. Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who has been framing what appears to be a more or less official monopoly investigation bill, thus far is keeping the insurance companies out of the bill's scope.
 New Dealers, however, are hoping. They want to find out whether insurance funds are being invested on the basis of monopoly, whether or are controlled by big New York banking houses. They want to know who elects the trustees, what appears to be a more or less per cent interest on policy loans and other things. There has never been any investigation of insurance companies, they say, and the vast power possessed by those who control billions of funds for investment is such as to require public scrutiny.
 Insurance company executives are busy trying to keep the inquiry out of the bill's scope. They have been hoping madly ever since the President sent his monopoly message.
BLESSING ON BILBO BILL?
 Senator Theodore Bilbo of Mississippi, who is promoting a bill to move American degrees back to Africa, is still known in his home state as "Patentmaster General Bilbo" or "The Mississippi Clipper." This is because early in the New Deal Bilbo had an A.A.A. job, wanted for him by Senator Pat Harrison, which meant his $5000 a year for clipping newspapers.
 "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform," Bilbo told Senator Brien before he left for Africa. "That may be the reason why the senator and I are here on this job."
NO PEACE IN SIGHT
 Earnest John Hance, new assistant treasury secretary and former director of the Federal Reserve, succeeded earlier in his campaign to conciliate business and the Roosevelt administration. But most of his friends are willing to concede it for him.
 Very little progress has been made by the new secretary. He has persuaded 16 big business men to sign a qualified promise of co-operation with the government's business recovery program. The effect of that manifesto was sooured almost immediately when "Winnipeg" Aldrich of Chase National bank, one of the signers, demanded a "cooling spell" for the rest of Roosevelt's term and four residents of New Deal reformers.
 There were four presidents of mutual life insurance companies among the signers. Roosevelt's assertion of an insurance company investigation made them furious. And lately the administration, after previous indications that it would force insurance to municipal power plants in its new P.W.A. program, decided against accepting an amendment which would forbid such investigations.
 The Hance task was a herculean one in the first place. Neither side was willing to co-operate except on its own terms. "Then came Senator Pepper's victory in the Florida primary," Hance would foretell. "It was Roosevelt's confidence, less feeling, ever since."

Father's First Obligation

Nothing could more clearly illustrate the failure we make in the simple business of living than do some of the stories about the "gains" which have come out of the depression.

An example is a recent speech given before the annual convention of sheriffs and police chiefs of Missouri. The speaker—Chief of Police Andrew McDonnell of Webster Grove, Mo.—said that the depression has actually brought about a reduction in juvenile delinquency.

Here is how it has worked out: Fathers have less work to do—in some cases no work at all—and so have spent more time about the house. In the spending of that time they have been able to get better acquainted with their sons and have given them companionship and guidance which the youngsters would not otherwise have had.

Said Chief McDonnell: "At the start of the depression, economic worry caused many fathers to neglect their sons. But now both fathers and sons have re-adjusted themselves, and the happy results are reflected in police records."

To prove his case, he pointed out that in 1933 there were 453 boys serving terms in the Missouri reformatory at Boonville. Last year the number was only 278.

Which makes about as interesting a sidelight on the depression and its effect on human behavior as you would care to find. And it would seem to constitute a pretty severe indictment of the great American Dad, when you stop to think about it.

Getting acquainted with his own son ought to be Number One on Dad's list of regular duties. If he can't establish the understanding and comradeship which make the lad turn instinctively to him for guidance, and can't use that situation to give the youngster the direction which will take him away from dangerous paths, he hasn't even begun to do his job as a father.

Yet it seems to be pretty clear that in a great many cases Dad hasn't been doing that. He is too busy, or he has too many worries, or he has let some kind of barrier develop between himself and his son; and until the hard hand of an economic collapse knocks him loose from some of his regular work he doesn't make himself take the time to do the thing which he should have been doing from the beginning.

That isn't true of all fathers, of course. But it is true of enough fathers to make this little speech by the Missouri police chief worth pondering over.

Have you, as a parent, been doing your most important job the way it ought to be done—or is it going to take a disaster to open your eyes to your own failure?

Thesis on Theses

It used to be great sport looking over the annual list of subjects chosen for scholarly theses by the college boys gunning for degrees.

The notion that the choice of a subject of general interest automatically barred the author from the claim to true scholarship resulted in some wonderful specimens. You found subjects every bit as silly as "The Evolution of the 4-in-Hand Knot During the Hundred-Year War," or "Study of the Reaction of Shell-Fish to the Congressional Record."

The signs are now that there isn't going to be half the hysterics in theses that there used to be.

First crop of 1938-model theses to come to attention is Princeton's. The newspapers, public opinion, and current affairs prove to be the most popular subjects among the theses that are outstanding. A survey of the whole batch, outstanding or not, shows a revival of interest generally in matters of concern to the rest of the world.

It suggests that in the near future the public mind won't be distinguishing between the scholar and the practical man of affairs. It suggests, too, that the scholar's contributions to human welfare may be more immediately valuable.

FAIRY TALE WITH SOME KIND OF A MORAL!

Dear Pops: This is a fairy tale that Hans Christian Andersen never wrote but nevertheless, it's one way of winning (if hope) the 50 cents in your pocket.

THE STORY OF THE VERY GENEROUS HUSBAND
 One day Archibald read in a magazine that the best way to please a wife is to let her do as she wishes. Then he read in the magazine, the wife soon tires of doing as she pleases because there's no opposition, and she then is overjoyed to do what her husband wishes.
 Now, Archibald's wife had threatened to leave him because he was always opposing her desires.
 So Archibald came home with a new resolution. His wife had just bought a $30 dress and was ready to battle if he yipped about the price. Archibald checked and said not a word about price. The lady's face dropped.
 His wife said she had arranged a bride date. Archibald pleasantly agreed.
 His wife said she hadn't had time to cook dinner and all she'd fixed was a salad and sandwiches. Archibald hated. Archibald fixed and ate the salad.
 His wife asked for $10 for spending money. Archibald dashed it over.
 His wife said defiantly, fearing a howl, that she was going to hemm her dress. Archibald checked and said reddish hair would make her even more charming.
 This went on for a month. Archibald began to think that the magazine writer really knew all about women.
 And then Archibald's wife ran away with another man, leaving a note telling Archibald that he was weak and spineless and she wanted a man who could order her around. —The Wooden Horse

OUNDS LIKE YOUR WIFE

Dear Pop Shots: Seeing as I am the man of the house, yet I sometimes wonder who really wears the pants. I have never heard it possible to please my wife entirely.
 However my advice is: Never complain about the cooking, although it generally gives you indignation or worse.
 Give her all your pay check and never ask where it goes.
 And dress, hat or what have you, for Peter's sake don't ask how much it cost for that'll do one of two things, either you lose heart failure or start a row.
 At least all stay out of the house at least three-fourths of the time. —Hopless

EUREKA: AN IDEAL WIFE!

Dear Pop Shots: I find the best way to please my husband is to fill his stomach and let him do as he pleases the rest of the day. —Marilyn Too Long

 Then up spoke Ed Perrine to clinch the matter:

THIS IS TYPICAL!

Popster: We are getting ready for vacation. This was a million and one thing to do.
 I am all worn out already.
 I guess I'll stay home and spend my vacation here.
 We are making for the vacation I do not think I will take.
 I'll go to the beach. —Youngling

He fell in love—hard—once. He got married—once—not to the same girl. Follow his rousing story in the new serial, "This Man, Joe Murray."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

COMMON EXPRESSIONS:
"BLIND AS A BAT"
AND
"BLIND AS AN OWL."
BUT NOT ONE OF THESE CREATURES IS BLIND.

FRED LINGMEYER, BLUE SPRINGS, NEBR., KEPT A BALE OF HAY 30 YEARS BEFORE FEEDING IT LAST WINTER.

IN SCOTLAND, GOLF GREENS ARE SO LARGE THAT ONE GREEN SOMETIMES CARRIES TWO FLAGS... THEREBY SERVING FOR TWO SEPARATE HOLES.

Perhaps bats, owls and beetles were believed to be blind because of the fact that they fly mostly at night. At any rate, we now know that these creatures are not blind, even in the daytime, and have very special senses of sight. Bats, however, seem to be little handicapped by the loss of eyesight, as scientific experiments show.

EDITOR IN ARM FOR VERY OLD MAN

Editor, Evening Times: Indeed, I readily admit that the profound financial problems promulgated by the United States Banking commission, Mr. Patrick Finn of Buhl, are beyond my limited comprehension. All one can say is that our grand old man who is the only one that congress has approved of since we have been living and it is running this nation today.

We, the American people, are dependent upon it for our daily material existence. It seems to have the approval of the American people. If he is running this nation today, it seems to be a logical conclusion that the system as it is, is none of my business. If Mr. Finn can change it and do something better, more power to him.

It is logical that one man way out here in Idaho cannot do much when the power is centralized in the hands of a few in vain for years to buck the money barons power in the financial and governmental fields of this country. I am sure that the administration has been able to do what it has to keep the thing running at all. When they will their power and money, they will, why bark at me when I refuse to make the question of money my religion.

The system as a whole can be likened to a very sick old man who is being kept alive by shots in the arm. They call it pump priming. The next question before the country is, will they survive? You answer that one. The Townsend people wish to prolong his agony by a transaction tax and compulsory spreading and circulation of money. Pump priming does the same thing in a different way. It WP's the unemployed at a price as those whom cash surely will circulate if he (cash) to pour their wildcat mite into the maw of the industrial system to keep it machinery going and the government in operation. The whole shebang is getting nowhere so fast that the air is thin around you when you mention Mr. Finn. I again make the statement that I do not care a tinker's hoot where the money comes from to feed the unemployed. I would like to remind you that it had better be kept coming if we are to protect the democratic form of government from the evils of dictatorship. The underlying problem is so gigantic and far reaching that a mere book-keeping question will not solve a pigmy by its side. The whole answer must soon be found. The question is, will it be solved by evolution or revolution? I prefer evolution.

DUNSHEE LEAVES FOR ARIZONA JOB

BOISE, June 4 (AP)—Dr. J. D. Dunshee, former director of the Idaho public health department, left today for Arizona following his arrangements for the use of public funds during his term of office here.

Dunshee, at present an official in the Arizona state health department, was indicted by the Ada county grand jury on charges of misuse of public funds and the use of public funds for unauthorized purposes.

He pleaded not guilty to the charges yesterday, along with his former secretary, Miss Echo Dell Watson, who was indicted with him on the misuse count.

The two will face trial during September and are free on bond. Before he left, Dunshee described the action as "public trial" and said "Attorney General J. W. Taylor must have had something to do to while away his time."

It was as a result of a fit with the attorney general that Dunshee left his Idaho position for the Arizona department.
