Congressman Urges Civil Service for State Police System

CLARK SUGGESTS CAREER FOR MEN IN STATE POSTS

Delegates to the annual convention of the Idaho Peace Officers association this morning heard Congressman D. Worth Clark propose that the state police system be put under a civil service system.

Congressman Clark, addressing the convention briefly this morning, reiterated his suggestion of civil service for the state police system which he first proposed at the convention of the association at Idaho Falls four years ago when he was serving as assistant attorney general of Idaho.

"Youthful police officers give some of the best years of their life to law enforcement, but have no assurance they will not be dismissed without a pension by some politician," said Clark. "By placing the state police system under civil service, it would be made a profession," he said.

Reaches Highest Peak
"Under J. L. Balderston, commissioner of law enforcement, the state police system has reached its highest peak of efficiency since Idaho was given its statehood," continued Clark. "It is the best law enforcement I have ever seen. This is mainly due to excellent cooperation between the state and local law enforcement, federal, state, county and city departments," he concluded.

Clark is scheduled to address a luncheon tonight, and depart Wednesday.

Haven, chairman of the vehicle section of the state police, said that the Continental was principal "driver" of the driver's session.

"His rubber rods not autos, but his human being that counts," said Haven. "Get the right man behind the wheel, using the best safety device known—from the ears up to the feet, and you can take any kind of vehicle anywhere. Not even the finest driver."

AMERICANS URGE PROTEST BY HULL

SHANGHAI, June 21 (UP)—Forty-five senators and congressmen adopted a resolution today urging Secretary of State Hull to renew protests to Japan against continued and increasing Japanese military interference with foreign rights.

Meanwhile, nine Japanese airplanes landed in the American and British property at Wuchow, treaty port 180 miles west of Canton on the Sinking river. One bomb struck a military general and a Standard Oil company tank. Another fell on the property of the Texaco company and a third on a Standard Oil company property. Another bomb dropped in the river nearby.

The new American request to Hull was made after Japanese military authorities failed to fulfill assurances that they would permit doctors to return and reopen the American hospital at Soochow. The population was 20,000 by 15 American doctors and 15 nurses.

It said a protest should be made, demanding the immediate return of American property and permission for American doctors to return to inland posts where they should be permitted to care the civilian population without Japanese military interference.

YOUTHS HELD FOR EASTERN MURDER

SALT LAKE CITY, June 21 (UP)—Detective Captain A. E. Brennan of the Salt Lake City police department said today that authorities from Southerly, Mass., will fly west immediately to care the bodies of two radio patrol officers as they sleep in an admirably strewn cot.

The cot, Scott Trevel, told detectives, was found in a clearing between a Medford, Mass., automobile dealer last month. A wallet, identified as belonging to the dealer, Edward Churchill, was found in the youth's possession.

When arrested, Scott and Richard were carrying loaded pistols. Scott declared that he could not identify the killing of a Bostonville variety store owner when he failed to take his hands during a holding by two armed bandits.

Both youths denied the murder but, when notified by telephone, Massachusetts police requested that Scott and Richard be held until they could arrive here to question the suspects.

Federal authorities were also called into the case to investigate the possibility of filing Dyer act violation charges against the youths for driving the stolen car from Medford to Salt Lake City.

Both youths denied the murder but, when notified by telephone, Massachusetts police requested that Scott and Richard be held until they could arrive here to question the suspects.

Passengers Deserve Credit

The passengers deserve all the credit they believed when I told them to move quickly and be careful. I got brushed up a little bit when we got that first bump but I really don't think I did anything. Survivors of Train Wreck Reach Seattle; Tell Story

SEATTLE, June 21 (UP)—Survivors of the wreck of the Milwaukee crack freight train in which scores of people were killed and injured Thursday near Miles City, Mont., arrived in Seattle today and related details of the tragedy.

BODIES REPORTED SWEPT AWAY BY SWOLLEN RIVER

MILES CITY, Mont., June 21 (UP)—Sheriff's men in boats patrolled the Yellowstone river at Glendive and Terry today in search of bodies from the Olympian, crack Milwaukee road flyer smashed in the station of a Custer creek Sunday as a flood-bent bridge gave way.

Three railway porters told officials they saw seven people swept away as the train struck.

Thirty-nine were known dead and railroad officials said they expected to find at least 16 more in a mud-filled tourist sleeper upended last night from its position at the creek bottom.

Four bodies have been recovered from the sleeper.

Railroad repair operators estimated each car contained about 50 tons of mud which filtered through vestibules and around windows. All windows were intact except one in a washroom.

Two 100-ton cranes holding the car were being braced against the heavy load. Removal of bodies was halted until the operation was completed.

Removal of its bodies will provide a "dry" material sample of the dead. Some bodies, however, may have been washed downstream or buried in the mud. The body of one woman passenger was in Glendive, 30 miles down the Yellowstone river where it was washed by the "flash flood" which swept down the dry bed of Custer creek and up the tracks.

The outstanding hero of the disaster, Lewis Williams, Negro stevedore, was in the train with company officials for a new assignment. Credited with having saved the lives of many passengers, he was recovered from a slight injury, a modestly dodging persons who wanted to praise him.

Williams' car littered for perhaps five minutes on the brink of the flood before it plunged in. He had the choice of saving himself or trying to herd out his passengers, who had all retired for the night, and proceeded to do so. He chose the latter course and got all his passengers out and even rescued some of their baggage. A second or two later the car went under.

"I can't see why everyone is making a fuss," Williams said. "I just carried out a few bags and told the porter to take care of the passengers. I do that every time the train stops."

"Anyway, when we got that bump I really don't think I did anything wrong. I could hear the water and knew we must be in a river or wash-out. I just went to the low end of the train and woke up the passengers that weren't already awake and picked up what luggage I could and told them to get out of the car as fast as they could."

The car was submerged in about four feet of water.

ENGINEER MAPS LIBERATION PLAN FOR IDAHO PHOSPHATES

WATER PROJECTS WOULD FURNISH ELECTRIC POWER

BOISE, Idaho, June 21 (UP)—H. F. Taylor, engineer for the state phosphate commission, said today he believed that electric power sufficient to aid liberation of Idaho's huge stores of phosphate rock could be derived from supplemental water projects.

Taylor said in that manner the farmer could benefit from cheap water for irrigation purposes, as well as to reduce the cost to the landholder of supplemental water projects a market may be found for the potential electric power the projects are capable of generating.

In addition, Taylor claimed that "the benefits thus received" by the farmer in the western regions from cheap supplemental water would be increased through the ready supply of phosphate fertilizer made available through development of the state's resources.

To Present Argument Taylor planned to present to a meeting of a joint congressional committee scheduled in July at Pocatello his argument for the development of Idaho's phosphates.

The committee was called for by Senator Roosevelt in a recent message stressing the need for additional development of the nation's phosphate resources in July 1932. The committee at that time already had reported.

The state of Idaho, Utah, Montana and Wyoming possess about 6,500,000,000 tons of high grade phosphate rock, according to conservative estimates.

The few cents of Total Of this total, Idaho holds more than 5,500,000,000 tons, approximately 35 per cent of the world's supply.

The vast supply centered in the four western states is virtually untouched, only slight development having been undertaken by the Anaconda Copper company.

Most of the nation's developed phosphate supply comes from the Tennessee Valley Authority's workings and from Florida fields.

Of the nation's rock supply, the four western states hold 80 per cent.

CLARK SUGGESTS POLICE 'CAREER'

The machine will help the wrong man behind the wheel," he said. "The Continental Baking company has 12,000 employees, and my job is to reach the individual. That year, our 4,000 salesmen-drivers drove 63,566,000 miles, and I don't think a single fatality. Although 3,100 accidents were reported, persons were slightly injured in only about a dozen of them," he pointed out. He said 50 per cent were the fault of the truck driver.

"Our success is due in a large measure to the cooperation we get from law enforcement bodies without whose assistance we could never hope to achieve such a record," he said. "However, we ask no favors, and ticktixing in our organization is practically taboo."

Had Bad Record
"There was a time when our record was so bad that no insurance company wanted to take the risk of reporting that year every company sought our business," said Haven.

The system is simple. We select our salesmen-drivers for driving ability rather than for salesmanship. They are carefully selected, physically correct, and thoroughly trained and supervised. We build pride by awarding a medal for perfect records. The plan was started January 1, 1932. Last year we awarded 893 pins for perfect records for a period of five years, and 583 pins for six years records, said the safety engineer.

He said he favored the three "E's" of safety—engineering, education and enforcement—with the emphasis placed on education.

Haven conducted the first school for women drivers in Minneapolis in 1929. He said about 150 women took this course.

"Women are just as good drivers as men," he said, "but both women and men have to learn to drive."

"24-Hour" Man Here Today As 1938 Circus Day Nears

The curious who happen to pass the Loutous street and Highland avenue show grounds today may wonder what men are doing there with lapelins and stakes. It is the 24-hour man of the A. G. Barnes and Sells Floto combined circus, which will exhibit here tomorrow.

No time can be lost in the morning when the circus arrives, so this gentleman, known in the circus world as the 24-hour man, is in town today making final arrangements. The grounds must be laid out to designate where the many tents will be placed, the siding at the Union Pacific railroad yard must be cleared, the local firms who will supply the food for over 400 circus players and 1,000 animals must be prepared to make early delivery. In fact, every detail must be attended to before the long circus trains roll into town at dawn tomorrow.

The local committee men and women booters made their first ceremonial appearance in their official rodeo uniforms Thursday evening at the dinner and the decree is that they are to be the regulation apparel until after the rodeo.

Clark Lashes Appraisal on Bridge Here

Requests for an independent appraisal of the Twin Falls-Jerome inter-county bridge was interpreted here Monday by Gov. Barilla W. Clark as an attempt to delay purchase of the span by the state rather than a sincere objection to the terms under which the bridge company had agreed to sell.

Upon his return to Boise today, the governor indicated he would do everything possible to avoid unnecessary delays in completing the bridge transaction.

Although the state had already entered into a formal contract with the owners of the bridge, the deal was suspended when Ira E. Masters, secretary of state, and Attorney General J. W. Taylor refused to approve the transaction and asked for an independent appraisal of the structure. Clark, third member of the state board of examiners, favored the purchase of the bridge. An appraisal of the bridge would be comparatively simple, indicated Clark.

"Buying this bridge and opening up traffic between the north and south would be one of the finest business deals the state could enter into," said the governor.

He said it was still possible for the state to take over the bridge and remove toll fees in the near future.

BUHL, June 21 (Special)—"An Original Idea of a Love Ship" was the theme carried out Wednesday at a special bride's shower given for Miss Laurene DeMoss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed DeMoss who will be married soon to Roy Smith of Coeur d'Alene.

80,000 TO WITNESS LOUIS-SCHMELING FIGHT

Million Dollar Gate Looms for Bout In Yanks' Stadium

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—One million dollars for defense. That's what more than 80,000 customers will pay to see Joe Louis defend his world's heavyweight boxing championship against Max Schmeling in Yankee stadium tomorrow night.

And every cent of it will be tribute, too—tribute to the heart-stopping savagery of their first battle two years ago when the German, thought to be a sacrificial lamb, turned tiger and hammered Louis to the floor, senseless.

Slays in Seclusion
Tucked away in the home of friends, the Black Titan will stay in seclusion until tomorrow noon when, in Madison Square Garden, he will step on the spot-lighted scales for the first time in 1938.

Louis, the champion, would leave his camp in the New Jersey hills until tomorrow. Like the black panther his backers say in St. Joe will stay in the woods until the last possible moment, and will not reach Madison Square Garden until a few minutes before he is scheduled to smile, shake hands, and be generally agreeable with the man who covets his title—the man who conquered him in fighting's biggest upset in 1936.

Discuss Plans to be Used
Consensus of good men money-makers glances today to attend the weekly meeting of the New York boxing commission, whose three members are affectionately known as "The Three Dumb Dicks" and "Winkler, Blunkem, and Nod."

The commissioners, under the gaze of Gen. John J. Egan, were scheduled to reach a decision on what type of gloves Louis and Schmeling would wear. Serious when nothing more important than a wrestling semi-final is involved, the commission was expected to set an all-time high for pompous high-links when faced with an important problem as choice of the gloves for a heavyweight title fight.

Both men reached the end of their training in top shape, nothing broken, nothing cracked, nothing aching or ailing.

The champion was a 1-2 favorite.

Mac Picks Schmeling—But Don't Ask Him Why

BY HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Joe Louis is champion of the world, and one is supposed to string along with a champion, until he falls.

Therefore I pick Max Schmeling to win.

Joe Louis is younger, and they say youth must be served. Therefore I name Max Schmeling to win by a knockout.

Joe Louis hits harder, and providence is supposed to be on the side with the heaviest artillery. Therefore I say Schmeling will finish off his man inside of 10 rounds.

No former heavyweight champion has ever regained the title. Therefore I say Schmeling will.

Owled by promoter Joe Louis is an American, is partly owned by the promoter of the fight, will have his own gloves, and will receive his own money. Therefore I choose Schmeling.

Why? That's just what I want to know, why?

This refusal of mine to follow the dictates of common sense as troubled me that yesterday I visited at the last of my contacts—my renowned physiologist and submitted my head to a clinical survey. For three hours the doctor explored my organs to get any accompaniment of many "wides" and "land snakes" and "my my, my!"

Admits Failure
But as the finish he had to admit failure. He had found bumps which explained why I liked DeBarnas pinches better than French puddles, preferred shrimp creole to waiting a friend conduct with chicken, and refused to remove my shirt in the presence of Italian postulates whose middle initial was "L." But for the life of him he couldn't find a bump which would explain why I liked Schmeling over Louis or why, after liking the German, I insisted on putting my clothes down in black and white for all to see.

The best the doctor could do was to advise that I wear a helmet lined with wet leaves for the remainder of the summer, and that I stop my sessions at the punchboard board.

So, finding myself beyond medical aid and thrown on my own resources, I set down and tried to figure out the thing for myself. Was it because Schmeling liked me? No, that couldn't be it because I don't think he does like me. He never called me anything nearer to my real name than "Harry McKechnie" which would indicate I am an Italian.

Bill Likes Schmeling
Was my pick based on the rumor that the first fight two years ago? No, I reasoned (laughter), because I happen to be one of the few sports experts (laughter) who thought Schmeling took a worse beating in that fight than Louis did.

Dahl Tops Softball Hitters with .624

Elmer Dahl of the second division Ford Transfer-Home Lumber team today held first place in the Twin Falls Softball league batting average, with five safe singles in eight trips to the plate for an average of .624. He had been up to the plate just over the minimum times to have his average count.

Last week's leader, Walt Riggert of the Utah Chiefs, slipped from .623 in four games to an average of .611 in five hits—which is still a hunky average. Jerry Price, also of the Chiefs, had 11 hits in 19 trips to the plate for an average of .579, which just topped Chandler of Vagels, with four out of seven for .571. Other leaders: House of Wileys, three out of five for .600; Reed, Texaco, seven out of 15; 466; Weaver, Wileys, six out of 13; 462; Westergren, Wileys, eight out of 15; 444; Ford Transfer-Home Lumber, five out of 12; 416; Gish, Wileys, four out of 10; 400; Wagoner, Wileys, two out of five; 400.

Besides second place in the hitting department, Riggert also led the home run parade with four circuit clouts in the five league games his team has played. Dale Gibson, also of the Chiefs has three homers to his credit, while his brother, W. Gibson, of the Glass and Paint club has three. In fourth place in the homer department is Jim Ballard of the Glass-Paint crew, with two homers.

Riggert kept his record intact in the pitching department with five wins to his credit, while Max Croft was still in second with four wins and a defeat for the Idaho Power crew.

NAZI PARTY ORDERS JEW CAMPAIGN VIOLENCE ENDED

POLICE CONTINUE CHECKUP WITHIN LEGAL CHANNELS

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE, JR.
Copyright, United Press

BERLIN, June 21 (UP)—The high-ranking Nazi party quarters, it was revealed authoritatively today, have given orders that violence in the campaign against Jews must cease.

The police checkup of passports and general Jewish activities as well as the steady organization of German business under the economic ministry will continue, it was stated, but will be held within "orderly and legal channels."

Independent Action

Best-informed Nazi quarters said the painting of Jewish shops and smashing of windows was independent action of certain party elements and not inspired by police.

The violence got out of hand, it was declared, leading to strict orders for a halt. It was not expected that disciplinary action against the party members responsible would go beyond a mild reprimand "because of the difficulty of establishing who committed the acts."

Shops Closed

Nazi quarters admitted that the violence made difficult the program of "orderly organization" of German business. It was estimated that 40 to 50 Jewish shops, restaurants and cafes in Berlin had been closed under the pressure of anti-Semitic violence.

Oil mixed with some amelly substance was smeared around the entrances and terraces of three well-known west end Jewish cafes, resulting in their temporary closing.

Simultaneously with the orders against violence, the Nazis relaxed stern orders affecting German Jews living abroad.

Report Holdings

Many American Jews came under the decree of several weeks ago requiring all Jews, whether living in Germany or abroad, to register their property under penalty of a heavy fine.

Jews were told they had to report their holdings by June 30.

The decree brought protests from abroad, including one from Secretary of State Cordell Hull. The protest was never answered. Today, however, it was disclosed that the government has exempted all Jews of foreign citizenship from reporting their holdings in Germany unless they also live in Germany.

Must Register

German Jews must register regardless of whether they live here or abroad.

Moscow, informed persons predicted that the lull in the anti-Jewish campaign over the week-end was a calm before a new storm. It was reported that Adolf Hitler himself intended to confer with advisers on new measures against Jews.

Plans Progress For Elks State Beauty Contest

Preparations are getting under way in most cities of the state for the Elks bathing beauty contest to be held in conjunction with the state meet at Idaho Falls commencing July 28, according to Earl Bauhman, in charge of the local section of the event. Successful bathing beauties from each town will be assembled at the state convention.

Ten Twin Falls merchants have agreed to sponsor a local girl providing her with a bathing suit, to appear on the Orpheum theater stage July 15, where the local elimination will be held. Any girl interested in entering the contest should make her application with Mr. Bauhman at the Orpheum theater.

A local prize will be given the Twin Falls winner, in addition to a prize for each entry going to Idaho Falls. Expenses for the local girl while in Idaho Falls will be provided by the local Elks lodge. The young ladies participating at Idaho Falls will be given an opportunity to appear in the grand parade and also at the roundup.

First prize in the Idaho Falls contest will be a screen at Hollywood, the trip to be made by airplane with all expenses paid.

Second prize will be $75 in cash and the third $25 in cash.

Five public houses in Whitehall, the government-office section of London, got their licenses to sell beer and liquor from a "board of the green cloth" which sits at Buckingham Palace.

BORAH SEEN AS POSSIBLE GUEST

Although William E. Borah, senior Senator from Idaho, wired he was "uncertain" whether or not he could attend the "Idaho on Parade" celebration here July 18 to 25, officials in charge of the American Legion sponsored event said this afternoon there was "still hope" that the veteran statesman could attend.

Fact that Borah was "uncertain" as to whether or not he could be here was revealed by J. Edward Warner, general chairman, after a communication had been received from the senator.

Gov. Barilla W. Clark and Rep. D. Worth Clark have accepted invitations to be present. Gov. Clark will crown the winner of the "Miss Victory" contest. The crowning ceremony will be held the night of the "Bless of the Argonne" spectacle, July 23.

Official vote standings for the girls participating at Idaho Falls will be given an opportunity to appear in the grand parade and also at the roundup.

The Story of OD and AD and the 2 STORES

OD and AD wanted to go into business for themselves. They decided to open retail stores. But they had different ideas as to how they should get customers. This is the story of what happened.

How OD and AD Opened their Stores

as possible in fixing up his store. He said he was not going to "waste" money on "crick lighting" and a "fancy front." He bought large quantities of a few lines of merchandise, because that way he got them cheaper.

Then he put an assortment of his goods into the windows, but because he had done so little to make his store attractive, few people noticed that it was a new store, and few came in to buy.

AD decided that the first thing he must do was to make his store attractive to customers. So he had it painted throughout in cheerful colors. He completely changed the windows and front, and he put in fixtures that flooded the whole store with light.

He chose merchandise well-known by name to the public, and bought smaller quantities of many lines, thus giving customers a greater selection. He arranged his stock in the store, to make shopping convenient. He put in window displays of his most interesting merchandise—and changed them frequently.

Because his windows and his store were so attractive, many people stopped to look, and enough people came in to buy so that AD's goods sold quickly and he was soon ordering more of many items.

How OD Failed and AD Succeeded

He concluded that since people bought newspapers to read the news, he should tell them the news about his merchandise and his store. As a result, AD's advertisements were read as eagerly as any other part of the newspaper. Soon every one in town knew that AD had the newest things.

AD did not make exaggerated statements in his advertising. He just made the most interesting. Repeatedly AD had to enlarge his store, and employ more people to take care of his increasing business. And, although his expenses were now very much greater, he sold so much merchandise and turned his stocks so rapidly that his store was very successful and was known far and wide for the values it gave its customers.

AD Tells OD How Advertising Serves the Store and Its Customers

ONE DAY OD came to AD and applied for a position. He asked AD how he had built such a fine business and obtained so many customers.

AD said, "First, by making the store an attractive and convenient place to shop."

"Second, by having the kind of merchandise our customers want."

"But these are not sufficient without Advertising to tell the people about them. So we continuously publish interesting, informative, truthful news about our service and our merchandise. And we tell it in the way that reaches the largest possible number of people quickly—through newspaper advertising."

The more electricity you use—

The lower your rate "Steps Down"

• As you STEP UP your Electrical Standard of Living, your electric rate STEPS DOWN. The electric range you've wanted so long—the water heater—refrigerator—each will help reduce your rate.

But if you economize on the use of electricity, your rate begins to "step back"—for the saving is at the lowest rate you have earned.

Idaho Power's "Step Down" rates have been among the nation's lowest for many years—and they were reduced again this year. Your electric service is one of your greatest bargains—and it grows better as you use more.
