Endorsement of Sen. Thomas in Oklahoma Seen

ABOARD PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO OKLAHOMA CITY, July 9 (UP)—President Roosevelt was expected to endorse this afternoon another New Deal senator seeking renomination in a bitterly contested primary. Yesterday he assisted Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky and Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, and today, in a major speech in Oklahoma City, he was expected to speak out for Sen. Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma. Mr. Roosevelt arrives in Oklahoma City at 4 p. m. (MST) and will be taken by automobile to the fairgrounds where a large crowd will be waiting for him. He was expected to endorse Bulkley, Thompson, and the Democratic nomination, Rep. Gomer Smith, who supports Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy. "Right," said Gov. E. W. Marland, who is a "100 per cent Roosevelt man." They were expected to be on the platform when Mr. Roosevelt gives his approval to Sen. Thomas. Third Major Speech Mr. Roosevelt's speech will be his third major one in 24 hours. In addition, he spoke informally from the platform of his train in Louisville, Elizabethton and Bowling Green, each time giving endorsement to Sen. Barkley as he had in his major speech yesterday afternoon in Covington where Gov. B. Hays Carter said, smiling, on the platform while the President extolled Barkley as a man beloved by all the country. Mr. Roosevelt was greeted by his reception in both Ohio and Kentucky, particularly by that which regarded the apparent endorsement of his endorsements of Barkley. 50,000 Listeners From a stand in the middle of the platform at Covington, the President told 50,000 listeners that while he was not interfering in the primary campaign, he was making a good senator, "I would like to have many, many years to match the national knowledge, the experience, the wisdom, the leadership in the affairs of our nation of that son of Kentucky, of whom the whole nation is proud, Alben Barkley." To Chandler's campaign slogan that he had balanced the state budget, Mr. Roosevelt said he had done it. "Your governor," he said, "deserves due credit for getting his state on a sound financial basis. He secured a majority in the legislature and went away empty-handed. And I say to him, and I say to you, that I have conferred with a friend of mine out in Washington who has done a good job as the chief executive of the state." Speeches Back Barkley At Elizabethton, Tenn., and Bowling Green, Ore., operating stops on the tour, the President talked to thousands. Those speeches were made out in a similar vein, stressing that he believed it important to Barkley return to the senate. (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Among those backing a reform proposal in Atlanta, Ga., is Gov. E. D. Rivers. The governor, however, another chicken tender, is prohibited from cutting chickens into only two pieces before they're fried. Holt, another chicken tender, is considering introduction of an ordinance—"chicken soup to contain chicken." "If you don't come along well charge you with stealing chickens at night," the sheriff threatened. Hoyle was charged with stealing at night in a felony punishable by prison; chicken stealing by daylight is only a misdemeanor. Gov. Frank Merriam did not permit extradition.

GRAFT PROBE SET IN QUAKER STATE HARRISBURG, Pa., July 9 (UP)—Judge Paul M. Schaeffer prepared today to conduct a graft investigation of charges that a "system of crime" has existed in the conduct of government since the year Pennsylvania's first Democratic governor in nearly half a century took office. The charges originated during the turbulent Democratic primary campaign last spring, when Gov. George H. Earle was a candidate for the U. S. House of Representatives. Charles Alvin Jones was a candidate for the governorship. They included accusations that brewers paid $60,000 for beer in 1935; that 200 jobs were required to make political contributions and that construction contracts were given to friends when they did business with the state.

He was taken to a hospital but died in his own bed. Barnes was a Salt Lake City, Utah, stockman. His wife left him three months ago. During his vacation Barnes followed her to seek a reconciliation. The argument broke out yesterday in the rear of the liquor store in Dallas where Mrs. Barnes was employed.

YOUTH HITCH-HIKES OVER U. S. ON BET WITH DAD Ever since the United States, starting out without a cent, and arriving home with several new articles of clothing, the youth has been in your pocket? Well, one youth who visited in Twin Falls last night is doing it his old-fashioned way. A young man, Mass. physician, said it couldn't be done. The youth, 17-year-old Robert Brown, had come to Twin Falls last night as guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Simpson, 461 Fourth avenue north. Mr. Simpson picked the youth up at Twin Falls and was just going to give him a ride into the city. After hearing the youth's story, however, he said he even learned the boy should sleep at least one night in a bed. Brown agreed but refused to accept charity. He was refused a bed in his own home. Brown arrived at his job around Simpson's home to "rain his job." Two months ago in Huntington youth hitch-hiked up a hitch hiker. His father didn't approve of the youth's job. "What would happen if I were a hitch hiker?" "You couldn't like out of town without my help," the father said. "Well, we'll see," his son said. "I bet I can hike around the United States."

Officials said that conditions since June 1 were "spotted," with too much rain in some sections and too much drought in others. Black stem rust damaged wheat. Boll weevils were reported unusually numerous in cotton areas. The general crop report, to be made Monday on the basis of July 1 conditions, was expected to reflect the effects of the growing conditions in June than May. Department officials predicted a bumper winter crop of between 850-900,000,000 bushels, but a possible serious June damage in some sections. The June 1 estimate was 1,023,000,000 to 1,045,000,000 bushels. July Chicago grain estimates averaged 979,000,000 bushels. The six leading Chicago grain dealers forecast a corn crop of 2,045,000,000 bushels last year compared with 2,045,000,000 bushels last year, compared with 1,148,000,000 bushels last year. The crop board forecast Monday will determine whether the Commodity Credit Corporation will make a loan to the farmer to help him farm act made loans mandatory if the July 1 estimate was above 750,000,000 bushels.

Reed, chief clerk for the department of public assistance. Social security payments during June, the report shows, amounted to $48,000. Neutral Nations Asked to Paint River Ships Red

SHANGHAI, July 9 (UP)—Japanese navy authorities asked United States and other warships to evacuate immediately a specified zone of Yangtze river east of Hankow today and ordered foreign shipping generally out of the upper river until the Japanese decide it is "safe" for navigation. A previous demand that foreign war ships be painted in distinctive colors—red was suggested—and repeated and it was asked also that they fly streamers from their mast heads to permit identification by Japanese airplane pilots. The new Japanese demands, made in a note to foreign authorities, stated that all foreign warships at once get out of the zone between Iwangshihang, 60 miles east of Hankow, and Kiukiang, 80 miles further down the river. Chief Above Wuhu It was reported here that there was one United States gunboat at Kiukiang, and that a British gunboat also was there. It was stated generally, the note asserted that it was closed, by Japanese order, to all foreign shipping above Wuhu, which is 80 miles past the Yangtze, until such time as the Japanese navy decided that it was safe for foreign ships to proceed. Explaining its renewal of the demand that foreign warships be painted in bright colors, and in addition fly streamers, the Japanese navy expressed regret at the previous refusal of foreign navy commanders to comply with the Japanese request. It said that expert pilots were unable to distinguish the flags painted on awnings of foreign ships without descending low enough to be endangered by Chinese anti-aircraft gun fire. Met Curt Refusal When the Japanese first made their demand that foreign warships be painted, preferably red, they met a curt refusal by Japanese warships in China. It was announced officially at Hankow that Chinese airplanes were making a series of operations, three times yesterday, in a fourth raid at an unspecified point. It was asserted, the Chinese navy said, that Japanese warships were unable to distinguish the flags painted on awnings of foreign ships without descending low enough to be endangered by Chinese anti-aircraft gun fire. Solons Gain in Pacific by Win Over Seals

Sacramento took a tighter hold on the leadership of the Pacific Coast league Friday night by winning a close, 3-2 game from San Francisco when outfielder Marshall hit a homer in the last half of the ninth inning.

The Solons took a 2-0 lead in the first three innings and Walker blanked San Francisco for seven innings. The Seals tied up the game with runs in the eighth and ninth, but Marshall's homer ended it.

Portland split a doubleheader with Hollywood and Los Angeles. The Seals tied up the game with runs in the eighth and ninth, but Marshall's homer ended it.

Los Angeles took a lopsided opening game from Oakland, 11-3. The Angels put the game away with a seven-run rally in the fifth. Thomas controlled Oakland with six hits. Oakland squeaked past the seventh and eighth innings when Jones blanked the Angels, allowing four hits.

Kelley Pitches Shut Out. Harry Kelley pitched Washington into a fourth place tie with Detroit by beating his former teammate in the Philadelphia Athletics, 11-0. He allowed only seven hits. Cecil Traversing, Senators' shortstop, led Washington's 12-hit attack with three singles and a double.

The New York Giants held their 9 1/2 game lead in the National League by beating the Philadelphia Phillies in the last 11 played. They beat the Boston Bees, 4-2. Harry Gumbert held the Bees to two hits on outpitching Turner, Lou Chiozza and Alex Kampouris hit homers for the Phillies.

Pittsburgh kept pace with the Giants by winning from the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-2. Bob Klingner kept the Cardinals down to their fourth victory over the Cards. Billy Myers' tenth inning home run defeated Cincinnati Reds to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 7-5. He snapped a six-game losing streak. The Cubs had come from behind to tie the score in the ninth when Wally Berger hit two homers and Al Goodman hit a tri-ple.

Brooklyn nudged out a 13-2 triumph over the Phillies with a 15-hit attack on four pitchers. Vito Marciano's eighth inning home run scattered the Phils' ten hits scattered to win his third game as a Dodger.

Lawlin and Dasher, originally expected to compete for this prize, remained in their stables. Both the Kentucky derby winner and the Frankness victory have bowed tensions.

Baer Raps Galento Choice As No. 1 Challenger

By HENRY McLEMORE. NEW YORK, July 9 (U.P.)—He wears clothes very few. Few men look better in an English dress and none better than he in an American one.

Max Baer, I mean, who has the type of build that goes well with almost anything. But there is one outfit he cannot wear, one get-up that makes him look as outlandish as a scarecrow. This is the robe of the reformer, the regalia of the reclused, the scrupulous of the saved, and the cutaway of the cured.

But this has not kept him from doing such heavy boxing as all of us who read his recent dispatch from Little Rock, Ark., informed that Tony Gato, who had been placed above him in the list of challengers for the heavyweight title, Max put the best of all boxes to wear before boys and pointed the finger of scorn at Galento as a horrible example.

"He drinks beer!" Max gasped to the reporters. "He keeps late hours, he refuses to train, and I don't know how long he will last. How can such a Galento be placed above me as a challenger for the greatest title in the world?"

"I don't know," Max gasped to the reporters. "He keeps late hours, he refuses to train, and I don't know how long he will last. How can such a Galento be placed above me as a challenger for the greatest title in the world?"

I agree with Baer that he should rate above Galento as a challenger, but he certainly is off on the wrong track in his search for a reason. Let him come out and say he is a better fighter, a harder hitter and a better record than Galento. But, in the name of Carrie Nation, let him cease to brag and let the public decide.

"Dark Horse" Net Pair Meets Test. The "dark horse" favorites in the tennis crown were to meet their first test this afternoon and singles competition was also scheduled to get underway in the city championship net tournament.

Scheduled for Sunday are two matches, both in the singles division. At 10 a. m. Dr. Harry Alban, Kimberley, opposes Al Westergren, Twin Falls. At 1 p. m. Fred Stevens and Hal Dibble will do battle. Other matches may be arranged for Sunday.

The tournament is sponsored by the Twin Falls Tennis club, with club members acting as judges and with matches played on the club court at 10th and Locust. Club officials will close Thursday evening, and feminine play probably will start late next week.

Averill, Lombardi Pace Batters In Two Leagues

NEW YORK, July 9 (U.P.)—Earl Averill, Cleveland's most potent batsman, lost 11 points during the past week but continued to hold first place among American league sluggers by a comfortable 26-point margin, according to averages released today.

Ernie Lombardi of the Cincinnati Reds and the hardest hitting catcher in the majors, paced the National league batsmen with an average of .360, two points lower than his last week's mark. Eighteen points behind Lombardi was Joe Medwick, St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder, while in third place with .337 was another outfielder, Ival Gooden of the Cincinnati Reds.

Wendell, who dropped into a cellar-hole with Hagerman and Tuttle last week, will attempt to improve its standing against the strong Shoshone team which thumped Jersey last Sunday.

Eden, who along with Gooding last week, returns to the war and will have to win to keep its first division standing. The Eden club takes on Hagerman, victor over Wendell on Sunday.

PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS FEATURE HEALTH WORK REPORT

DIRECTOR CITES ENROLLMENT AT McCLUSKY UNIT

Outstanding community health activities during the past three months have been children's clinics generally throughout the district, and also the enrollment of children for the McClusky health center at Buhl, according to a report of the district health unit which was released this afternoon by Dr. Robert Blum, director.

Both enterprises, including the clinics and the enrollment for the camp, were carried out largely through the activities of interested lay groups and individuals, the report reveals.

The clinics are aimed at physical defects of major or minor physical defects. The aim is to have the child will enter school in the best possible physical condition. In a majority of the cases the clinics were conducted by P. F. groups. Clinics were held in Buhl, Piler, Twin Falls, Murtaugh and Castleford. Number of children examined in an additional clinic was held in Jerome.

Regarding communicable disease control reports states: "With the termination of the school year numbers of known cases of communicable disease has fallen sharply. We believe that two factors are responsible for this phenomenon—actual seasonal diminution in incidence and still closer closure of the avenue through which many cases of the minor disease were discovered.

"Smallpox continues to have a sporadic incidence in Twin Falls county, in Gooding county a minor epidemic started in June and still continues. The number of cases is difficult to estimate. The report continues to list the health work in various sections. Tuberculosis control, venereal disease control, maternal and child health, school hygiene, child education in public health, sewage sanitation, milk sanitation, and laboratory work.

In general, the report explained, direct sanitation work has centered largely around routine work such as dairy, market, restaurant and barber shop inspections. In the quarter water sanitation has been given increased emphasis, this being the season when public response to this phase is best assured.

Casualty Stressed As regards milk sanitation, the report shows that Casia county, and every other county in Idaho, received the most attention in this work. Periodic inspections, including sanitary public health, sewage sanitation, milk sanitation, and laboratory work.

Work in Gooding has been a continuation of the enforcement of the ordinance as passed last winter. The high quality of the milk produced is being maintained in a satisfactory manner.

Being laboratory work the report shows that range and volume of work completed "shows a steady increase." With increasing emphasis on direct sanitation, expansion of control of dairies and seasonal importance of water supplies, the amount of laboratory work in these areas has been unusually heavy.

Health Speeches In addition to the work listed as completed during the three-month period, the report shows that scores of talks have been given by staff members, including nurses, at a majority of the points served by the unit. The talks embraced all phases of health work and hundreds of persons were present.

The district unit, was recently selected as the fifth best health unit in the western states. The selection was made after the unit entered a nation wide contest.

Nothing New Under Sun? Here's a 'Musical Bank'

If you think of a bank as a place dominated by the dollar sign and frowning on anything but saving of steel business, you ought to drop in on the First National bank of Pikesville, Ky.

The financial side of the First National isn't neglected despite the scope of its good-will activities. The institution's assets and deposits are steadily growing. The bank is equipped with bandit barrier fixtures with bullet-proof glass and steel and an over-volt protection charged with 15,000 volts of static electricity.

The First National at Pikesville is America's unique musical bank. Mr. Peck told the Evening Times today, "Individual and distinctive ideas have been incorporated into its program, and these combine with efficient business methods to produce an institution unrivaled anywhere in the world."

Just how can a bank be unique? Here's how the Pikesville bank does it, as explained by Mr. Peck: "The bank has music throughout the day. It has a Hammond electric organ and also a combination radio and phonograph."

The staff begins its day's work with a song service in the morning, in charge of a member of the staff who selects the music. The staff picks out a verse from the Bible, and who chooses one current event topic. After that service, the workers begin their day's work.

Other unusual facts: "The music, from the books, is played in the bank's auditorium. The music, from the books, is played in the bank's auditorium. The music, from the books, is played in the bank's auditorium."

In winter, the bank keeps a large coffee percolator in operation, and workers and patrons may stop for a cup of coffee. Often, during banking hours over the day, guests and employees take "time out" for refreshments served by the bank.

The Pikesville National maintains its own flower-garden. These include several acres and produce every type of cut flower known in eastern Kentucky, and grow 15,000 gladioli each year. Every office room of the bank is supplied each day with fresh flowers.

"The addition of hot use for the flowers," Mr. Peck pointed out, "the bank remembers sick residents in hospital or at home with bouquets from its gardens."

Flower Show Also along the flower line, the bank conducts two to four flower shows each year in which the public participates. It gives away huge quantities of hollyhock seed throughout the Pikesville county.

Statutory and works art decorate the rooms of the impressive white-stone building. At Christmas, the bank conducts a Yuletide service in which the crowds overflow onto the street. "The presiding genius behind all

James Roosevelt Will Answer Saturday Evening Post Story

ROCHESTER, Minn., July 9 (AP)—James Roosevelt, the President's secretary-son, said today in a formal reply to a recent Saturday Evening Post article that Collier's magazine has agreed to publish all the data on his insurance business.

The Post, in an article written by Alva Johnston and entitled "Jimmy's Got It," had asserted that young Roosevelt's earnings would make him one of America's richest men. Youngest Roosevelt said that "with a view to correcting improper conclusions drawn from statements so drastically dressed up to resemble a factual account," he had offered Collier's "the facts and access to all my personal and business files and records concerning my operations in the insurance business."

Publication of the article tentatively was scheduled for the Aug. 27 Collier's. Young Roosevelt's statement, issued through Mayo clinic where he is a patient, said that Walter Davenport, Collier's staff writer, will write the article. Davenport has been here for the past few days conferring with James.

MONSTER NEW YORK, July 9 (Special)—Times Square is all agog over a new "spectacular" sign—a block long and carrying the tallest electric letters in the world.

The sign, which advertises Four Roses, first flashed out last week high above the center of the northern end of the Great White Way. It covers more than 10,000 square feet, has 4,000 individual bulbs and 4,000 feet of neon tubing, and burns enough electricity to light up a town of 10,000 people. Fifty miles of wiring is used in the sign, and there are 11,458 soldered joints. A sidereal clock, which changes daily with the movements of the sun, is timed to start the sign every evening at exactly 14 minutes after sundown.

The letter in the "spectacular" (trade name for a monster sign) are 30 feet high. JURY DUTY TOPIC OF JUDGE'S TALK Subject of the address by Judge J. W. Foster tonight before the Twin Falls county Pomona Grange at Piler will be "Jury Duty," according to a corrected announcement made today by Carl Leonard, Piler, secretary.

Previous announcements had said Judge Foster would discuss "Duties of a Jury." His actual subject, however, will stress jury duty of the citizen and will emphasize the relation of the citizen to the courts. A throng of several hundred is expected at the meeting, Mr. Leonard said. Resolutions will feature the business portion of the program.
