SEN. POPE WITHHOLDS DECISION ON WRITE-IN RACE

U. S. SOLON GOES TO CAPITAL FOR 'AID FOR IDAHO'

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 15 (UP)—Senator James P. Pope, defeated New Deal candidate for nomination as senator in the state's primary election, may return from Washington in a few weeks with a decision on the matter of running as a write-in candidate for reelection as senator in Idaho's general election, his friends said today.

Senator Pope left by train last night for the national capital and said he was returning to "discuss matters pertaining to Idaho's development." He had no other statement.

His decision to go to Washington, however, followed National Democratic Chairman James H. Farley's action in telegraphing "heartiest congratulations" to Rep. D. Worth Clark, conservative Democrat who won the senatorial nomination from Pope by approximately 4,000 votes.

Would Seek New Deal

A "board of strategy"—headed by former attorney-general Frank McCall—had suggested to the senator that he seek to recapture lost New Deal prestige by running in the general election as a write-in candidate.

While Farley's telegram indicated to some Democrats that the administration preferred to let Clark's election ride unopposed, Pope's backers said the write-in was merely routine—that probably Farley hadn't even seen it before it was sent.

"Sound Out" Trip

If, they said, Farley had known that "12,000 Republicans caused Pope's defeat by interfering in the Democratic primary for the avowed purpose of electing Clark, an enemy of the New Deal," he probably wouldn't have sent the wire.

Members of the "board" indicated that Pope's trip may be primarily for the purpose of sounding out administration sympathy with a write-in attempt.

Scandinavians Band Together For Sociability

In holiday mood, 50 persons of Norwegian birth or descent assembled yesterday at Banbury restaurant for a picnic which featured Norwegian dishes, and a program which emphasized Scandinavian activities.

The event was sponsored by the Norsk group.

Because of the success of the affair, it was decided to form a Scandinavian association, and to invite Swedish and Danish descendants to attend the outing next year.

Men: Here's List of What Women Don't Like!

WOMEN LIKE . . . men who don't always let us have our way . . . like Clark Gable.

WOMEN LIKE . . . tall, strong-looking men . . . like Gary Cooper.

By RUTH MILLET

Prophets has us all convinced that only women are concerned with being attractive to the opposite sex. Whereas anyone who has ever seen a man smooth down his hair before tugging his girl's doorknob ought to realize that men are just as interested in making a good impression on women—only they try harder to appear unobtrusive.

So—even though they would never think of asking us what we like—we'll tell them, knowing good and well they'll make use of the information.

We like:

Tall, strong looking men.

Men who think we ought to be taken care of.

Men who don't stumble over introductions.

Men who aren't timid about unexpected situations.

Men who make us feel cute (Men may not like the word, but there is no other way to express the feeling).

Men who don't always let us have our way.

Men who can be counted on in little things—to send us flowers when all the other girls will be wearing them; to notice a new dress; to make us feel that we are lovely looking, when the sun or a cold has wilted us completely.

Men that other girls try to take away from us.

We could very well get along without:

Men who are sassy.

Men who make us feel like we're being teased.

Men who have dirty fingernails.

Men who listen absent-mindedly.

Men who bore us with windy, oration-like conversations.

Men who have no more to recommend them than that they are "steady and reliable."

Middle-aged men who think they are irresistible—but aren't.

ADOPTION BATTLE FLARES IN COURT

Hearing to determine whether or not a previously granted decree of adoption will be revoked by Judge Guy L. Kinney was underway today in probate court.

At stake is the adoption of Margio Jean Orr by Ben Lilleck and Mrs. Julia E. Lilleck. Mrs. Anna Orr, the girl's mother, is contesting the adoption decree on grounds that her proper consent had not been given.

Today's probate court session marked a new turn in the legal battle over the child, since the district court several weeks ago upheld Judge Kinney's jurisdiction in further considering the adoption decree. Judge J. W. Porter handed down that ruling.

The hearing was to reconvene at 1:30 p. m. today after a mid-day recess. The firm of Chapman and Chapman and Lionel T. Campbell are representing Mr. and Mrs. Lilleck, and Witham and Walker are counsel for Mrs. Orr.

FOREIGN OBSERVERS SEE U. S. WITH HUGE 1940 AIR ARMADA

MOST POWERFUL STRIKING FORCE LOOMS BY 1940

BY GRATTAN MCGROBRY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—The U. S. armaments program, costing hundreds of millions of dollars, will be the most modern and powerful military striking force ever known by the aggressors of the consensus of foreign military observers here.

By June 30, 1940, the army is scheduled to have a complement of 2,325 "first line" fighting and bombing planes. In addition there will be more than 700 other planes of the "second line" type, which are advantageously pressed into service in an emergency.

One of the outstanding features of the "second line" division will be its inclusion of at least 52 "flying fortresses" of the type which recently made a record one stop flight from Miami, Fla., to Buenos Aires.

These streamlined, all-metal monoplane fighters, with a gross weight of more than 20 tons, a wing span of 105 feet and length of 70 feet, have established themselves as one of the most important types in the American defense machine.

Super-Bomber Evolved
 The army is experimenting with a much more powerful bomber than the "flying fortress," known as the "super-flying fortress," but has not yet put it into production. Experiments have shown that the latter type — said to be the most powerful military plane ever constructed — needs some changes, but generally has a gross weight of more than 20 tons and will be produced in increasing numbers next year.

The war department recently placed an order for 15 additional "flying fortresses" of the B-17 type. Thirteen of these ships were delivered to the army in 1937 and 26 more are in process of production, with deliveries scheduled to begin early in 1939.

Hughes Plans Significant
 The recent record-breaking round-the-world flight of Howard W. Hughes, millionaire sportsman, may have an important influence on the future of military aviation. Aeronautical information obtained by Hughes on that flight was made available to the war and navy departments and is expected to prove highly valuable. The sportsman-aviator's "flying laboratory" was equipped with many other instruments which had never before been thoroughly tested.

FREY PROMISES TO BACK CHARGE

 Communist "hatred" in Pacific coast states "has been the case" with both Communist groups have obtained funds.

"No part of these funds," he said, "had been obtained from those engaged in the motion picture industry, evidence shown, and the American public should be informed as to the individuals, both native and foreign born, who use the large salaries paid to them which come from the American public, engaged in supplying these radicals with funds."

Would be "bitches" He did not identify any of the Hollywood celebrities whom he charged with supporting such activities, but said that one "very prominent star" had told him that if he should speak "out loud" about the situation, he would be ditched by the studios.

A certain portion of Sullivan's report dealt with labor unrest and violence on the west coast. It charged that "Harry Bridges, west coast director of the CIO, is responsible for over 80 per cent of the strike" and, without naming the individuals, that high government officials had aided bridges during the labor department's recent deportation proceedings against him.

FOR LOYALIST AID HOLLYWOOD, AUG. 15 (AP)

Motion picture artists announced today that they raised almost $200,000 last night to buy medical supplies for the Spanish loyalists.

The movie stars declined however, to be drawn into or to comment upon a controversy over charges that members of the motion picture industry were financing Communist activities. Edward Sullivan, investigator for the house committee studying un-American activities, charged that film stars were financing Communist movements.

The funds last night came from 300 members of the movie colony who paid $10 to each ticket to see a series of anti-fascist sketches. The 27 sketches ridiculed European dictators.

Insurgent dispatches also reported loyalists had been driven from strategic points near Gandesa, but Gen.  and trial, ask dismissal of the defendant's bail. That meant Hines would not have a general audience during the trial in Tombis prison.

At the outset of the trial today the case of Martin Weintraub, "mouthpiece" for the pro-Nazi policy operators jointly indicted with Hines, was severed from that of the Timmamy leader, leaving the main figure to face trial alone.

Hines and Weintraub were the only defendants when the case was called, although eight were indicted.

Three of the others pleaded guilty and will testify for the state. Among them was J. R. (Dixie) Davis, young lawyer who gave Schultz legal advice and became the operating head of the mob after Schultz's rivals dispatched him in a Newark, N. J., bar-room three years ago.

Two Others to "Bat"
 The other two who will "bat" on the mob are Harry Schoenhaus and George Weinberg, "organizers." The others indicted but "missing" are Bo Weinberg, George's brother, who according to underworld legend, is in a cement block at the bottom of the East river, and Billy Grich, John Cooney and Harry Wolf, whose closest friends don't know whether they are dead or alive.

Hines, free under $20,000 bond, spent the week-end in the swank Lido club at Long Beach, N. Y., demonstrating slight concern. He plans to run for reelection to the Democratic state committee and has arranged to have his name filed with the election board for the primary Sept. 20, when he is likely still to be on trial.

Warrent Du Bois, Los Angeles, finds the dream of every philatelist came true. When he purchased a stamp collection for $500 some months ago, a one-cent Civil War postage stamp was included. Scrutiny disclosed the stamp to be a first-day cancellation, Aug. 17, 1861, at Baltimore, Md., and stamp collectors value the item at $50,000.

DAMAGE IS MILD FROM HURRICANE

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 15 (AP)—The weather bureau today warned coastal city residents of Louisiana and Texas that rain squalls might intensify locally following the hurricane which blew itself out in the Lake Charles area last night.

The hurricane that swept toward the Louisiana and Texas coasts last night provoked the gravest warnings from the weather bureau.

The hurricane did not reach the intensity expected when it hit the coast. It inflicted mild damage in this area.

The body of an unidentified man was found in the west fork of Calcasieu river. He was believed to have drowned. The hurricane apparently took no lives.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND IN WOODS

KAMAS, Utah, Aug. 15 (AP)—Bernice Noville, 23-year-old daughter of a wealthy Salt Lake City automobile dealer, found her way into a lumber camp near here early today after being lost all night in the vast wilderness of the Lake Mirror region, 10,000 feet up in the Wasatch mountain range.

Lumber-jacks brought word down the mountain this morning to CCC Camp Soapstone, base of operations for an extensive search, that the girl had been found.

"She was unharmed but too upset to talk," Frank Hyde, CCC supervisor, said.

"She was unharmed but had maintained contact with the tiny CCC outpost while rescue parties composed of more than 100 forest rangers and CCC cutters searched the area, prepared to drive the girl home.

PARTIES' CHIEFS CONVENE FRIDAY

Reorganization of Twin Falls county Democratic and Republican central committees will be carried out here next Friday when precinct committees meet in that week's primary gathering for their initial session.

The Republican group will fill vacant posts which were not determined by the primary, and will present a vote for Twin Falls precinct No. 1.

Chairmen and secretaries will be named by both Bourbons and G.O.P. These need not be chosen from among the committees, but will select their representatives on the state central committees. W. B. Lawrence, Twin Falls, is the present Democratic state committee man and E. M. Rayborn, Pler, is Republican member of the state body.

Both county committees are to meet at their respective headquarters of business slated for late afternoon.

One Spot for Seeing All of City Schools

Although few people know it—there is one place in Twin Falls where a person, standing on the ground, is able to see all of the public schools of the city by just turning around.

This spot, it was revealed today, is located on a man hole cover at the intersection of the alley and Shoshone street near the Drive-in market.

Looking down the alley the observer sees the Bickel school. Turning to the left the same observer can see the Washington building and a little further to the left the high school is visible. Making a half circle after viewing the Bickel school, the Lincoln school is visible.

Aside from the roofs of buildings or from an airplane, this spot is believed to be the only one from which all four public school units are visible.

U. S. SOLON GOES TO CAPITAL FOR 'AID FOR IDAHO'

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 15 (AP)—Senator James P. Pope, defeated New Deal candidate for re-election in Idaho's primary election, will return from Washington in a few weeks with a decision on the matter of running as a write-in candidate for re-election as senator in Idaho's general election, his friends said today.

Senator Pope left by train last night for the national capital and he was returning to "discuss matters pertaining to Idaho's development." He had no other statement.

His decision to go to Washington, however, followed National Democratic Chairman James Farley's action in telegraphing "heartiest congratulations" to Rep. D. Worth Clark, conservative Democrat who won the senatorial nomination from Pope by approximately 4,000 votes.

Would Seek New Prestige
A "board of strategy," headed by former attorney-general Frank Marshall, had suggested to the senator that he seek to recapture lost New Deal prestige by running in the general election as a write-in candidate.

While Farley's telegram indicated to some Democrats that the administration preferred to let Clark's election take precedence, Pope's backers said the write-in race hadn't even been decided before it was sent.

"Sound Out" Trip
If, they said, Farley had known that "12,000 Republicans caused Pope's defeat by interfering in the Democratic primary for the avowed purpose of electing Clark, an enemy of the New Deal," he probably wouldn't have sent the wire.

Members of the "board" indicated that Pope's trip may be primarily for the purpose of sounding out administration sympathy with a write-in attempt.

Scandinavians Band Together For Sociability

In holiday mood, 50 persons of Norwegian birth or descent assembled yesterday at Banbury restaurant for a picnic which featured Norwegian dishes, and a program which emphasized Scandinavian music. The event was sponsored by the club group.

Because of the success of the affair, it was decided to form a Scandinavian association, and to invite Swedish and Danish descendants to attend the outing next year.

Officers Named
C. H. Burwick, Wendell, was elected president of the Southern Idaho Scandinavian association. Theodore Henson, Bull, first vice president; Mrs. Belle Nelson, Twin Falls, second vice president; Mrs. B. Crawford, Twin Falls, third vice president; C. Hesselholt, Castelford, fourth vice president; N. A. Jackson, Los Angeles, secretary, and Mrs. E. F. Schjorblad, Piler, assistant secretary.

Purpose of the organization shall be to promote sociability among Scandinavians; to call the history and culture of Scandinavian ancestors, and live to be as worthy American citizens as they were Scandinavians, the organization reported out.

Speakers' Roster
At the invocation, N. A. Jackson verified the prayer for peace he had read at a child in Moscow. The impromptu music preceding the informal speeches, included the singing of the national anthem, "Prayer of Norway," and "The Fatherland Song," and closed with the singing of "America."

Mr. Jackson spoke on "Swedish and Norwegian," Mrs. Burwick discussed Scandinavian characteristics; Mr. Hesselholt commented on Danish characteristics; Mr. Henson on Norwegian characteristics; and Mrs. Westby, Bull, on "Happiness of Norwegians."

Mrs. A. C. Hultstrand, Twin Falls, spoke on "The Three Little Swedes of Norway," naming Hanko, Olofson and Jofso, resorts famous for skiing, and all types of winter sports, as well as ice skating.

Mrs. Olson, who has been in America but two years, explained the Norwegian custom of every home having a fire pit situated in an attractive spot in the front yard, and fenced off. The logs are placed for all special occasions, and holidays, for the disabled visitors who visit the home, and come in for the heat when they enter the fire.

Norwegian Menu
Appropriate to this custom, a small Norwegian flag on a standard to represent the characteristic food-in plot, was the centerpiece for the long table at which the elaborate picnic dinner was served. It was contributed by Mr. Jackson.

Entire picnic dinner, the typically American picnic dishes, including Pattinson's wafels, a rich dessert cake, Krans Kaker, (candy cookies), milk kake, thudaly cake; Norsk meat balls and rye bread, and Norsk Ankers salad, cucumber salad.

Revival Topic
Rev. Valmond will preach at the white tent revival services today at 4 p. m. on the subject, "The Mark of the Heart" or "The Mark of Calvary," originally scheduled for Thursday night. Due to the wind storm, no services were held Saturday. Music will be furnished by Rev. Oland Pratt and the Pentecost Trio. The public is invited to attend.

Men: Here's List of What Women Don't Like!

WOMEN LIKE . . . men who don't always let us have our way . . . like Clark Gable.

WOMEN LIKE . . . tall, strong-looking men . . . like Gary Cooper.

Propaganda has us all convinced that only women are concerned with being attractive to the opposite sex. Whereas anyone who has ever seen a man smooth down his hair before turning his girl's doornail ought to realize that men are just as interested in making a good impression as women—only they try harder to appear machinelike.

So—even though they would never admit of asking us what we like—we'll tell them, knowing good and well they'll make use of the information.

Tall, strong looking men.
Men who shave often enough, and close enough.
Men who think we ought to be taken care of.
Men who don't stumble over us in introductions.
Men who aren't timid about unexpected situations.

Men who make us feel cute.
Men who are just as interested in making a good impression as women—only they try harder to appear machinelike.

Men who can be counted on in little things—to send us flowers when all the other girls will be wearing them; to notice a new dress; to make us feel that we are lovely looking, when the sun or a cold has wilted us completely.
Men that other girls try to take away from us.

We could very well get along without:
Men who are stinky.
Men who wear baggy-kneed trousers, and have dirty fingernails.
Men who bowl out waiters and taxi cab drivers.
Men who listen absent-mindedly

Men who gossip. (A lot of you do, too).
Men who bore us with windy, oration-like conversations.
Men who have no more to recommend them than that they are "steady and reliable."
Middle-aged men who think they are irresistible—but aren't.
Men who don't know that three "busy" signals in a row mean they're out.

ADOPTION BATTLE FLARES IN COURT

Hearing to determine whether or not a previously-granted decree of adoption will be revoked by Judge Guy L. Kinney was underway today in probate court.

At stake is the adoption of Margie Jean Orr by Ben Lilleck and Mrs. Julia E. Lilleck. Mrs. Anona Orr, the girl's mother, is contesting the adoption decree on grounds that her proper consent had not been given.

Today's probate court session marked a new turn in the legal battle over the child, since the district court several weeks ago upheld Judge Kinney's jurisdiction in further considering the adoption decree. Judge J. W. Porter handed down that ruling.

The hearing was to reconvene at 1:30 p. m. today after a mid-day recess. The firm of Chapman and Chapman and Lionel T. Campbell are representing Mr. and Mrs. Lilleck, and Witham and Walker are counsel for Mrs. Orr.

SERIAL STORY HAY WIRE HOUSE BY EDWIN RUTT

CHAPTER II SHE was tall and slim. Her hair was rusted and gold and she had wide, blue eyes...

'Listen, lady,' said Kink, 'it was this or nothing. I rang all the bells...'

'Oh, for heaven's sake,' interrupted the girl impatiently. 'don't you tell it without all this fuss.'

'I'm telling it,' said Kink, 'in a gripping and graphic manner, repeating, through these doors and keyholes...'

'What are we going to swap names? Well, when you come right down to it, I don't know who you are...'

'I'll tell you,' said the girl. 'And maybe it will stimulate your imagination. I'm Sally Pennington.'

'SALLY PENNINGTON? It was a swell name,' Kink thought. 'Just the right one for this slim lady with the eyes like a couple of blue dreams.'

'Today was a big day for Robertus in Twin Falls. They all took their annual swim from going around. It seems that interest was highest in the long distance swim between Bill Selley and Left Wright.'

GLASS-PAIN'T CLUB WINS SOFTBALL CROWN

Giants' Drive to Out Pirate Lead in National Chase

Team Tips Chiefs in Final Game Of District Meet

Two Twin Falls softball teams today were preparing to enter the state tournament at Boise following a routing of invading teams from seven other communities at Lincoln field.

Champion of south central Idaho is the Twin Falls Glass and Paint club, which won a thriller from the Utah Chiefs in the final game of the meet by a score of 6-5 in a game that required five extra innings of play. At the end of the regular season, the count stood 5-1, but in the last half of the ninth, Jim Mullen scored the winning run after he was safe on a fielder's choice that took Glen Patrick off the bases. Tramminger singled to put men on second and third and then left-handed Curt Floyd came through with a line drive just out of Johnny Wells' reach to tuck the game away.

Wins Title, Medals
The victory gave the Glass-Paint club its first win of the year over the Chiefs, but it also brought them the regional title and the gold medals presented to the winners. The Chiefs were awarded the runner-up silver medals, which were presented at ceremonies after the game by President Fred Stone of the Twin Falls Softball association. The Chiefs, heavily favored to win the title, went into the championship play with Walt Rigger on the mound after he had pitched two other complete games in two innings of the opening ball and the Glass-Paint hitters pounded him all day, but left him stranded on base.

Patrick Stables Down
Gene Patrick, pitching his second game of the day for Glass-Paint, gave up one run in the first inning, but was pitched down after that and pitched shut-out ball the rest of the way.

The Giants pushed across a run in the first inning on a double by Haynes and a triple by Johnny Wells, but the Glass-Paint club came back with a single by Mullen, a double by Floyd and Jim Ballard's sacrifice. The Chiefs took a lead in the third when an error made possible a single by Mullen, a double by Floyd and Jim Ballard's sacrifice. Lead Attack
Curt Floyd, Jim Mullen, Art Tramminger, Al Westergren and Sherrill Guttery were the main men in the game of Rigger's offerings. Johnny Wells was the big gun in the Chief attack, with triple and home-run hits safety by Steve Brown and hit safely twice in three runs up.

Angels Head to Pennant in Pacific Race

(By United Press)
Five weeks from the end of the 1938 campaign the Los Angeles Angels, rejuvenated in mid-season, appeared the winners of the Pacific Coast league pennant chase, with a mad scramble among four other clubs for the three remaining first division berths.

The Angels held a three-game lead today, with the second-place club, the Sacramento Solons, apparently a distant second.

Eight games away from the Angels were the San Francisco Seals, an in-and-out aggregation. They came San Diego nine games away, and Seattle, nine and one-half out of first.

Battle for Second
These teams seemed certain to battle down the stretch for the right to enter the four-team playoff series with the fat cash bonuses. The Angels, however, Seattle and sixth place Portland are five games. Although far out of the race, Portland, Oakland and Hollywood were the strongest.

Portland stepped Sacramento twice Sunday to win the series, five to three. Al Liska held the Solons to eight hits and pitched the series eight innings to win the series, five to two. In the opener a six-run inning in the eighth, Liska pitched a perfect game, with each team getting 14 hits. John Lindell, Yankee rookie of the day, pitched and batted the team to a 2-1 win in the windup.

San Francisco defeated Seattle twice yesterday, five to one and four to one. The Seals' victory, with each team getting 14 hits. John Lindell, Yankee rookie of the day, pitched and batted the team to a 2-1 win in the windup.

Divides Series
Oakland divided with San Diego yesterday to win the series, five to two. In the opener a six-run inning in the eighth, Liska pitched a perfect game, with each team getting 14 hits. John Lindell, Yankee rookie of the day, pitched and batted the team to a 2-1 win in the windup.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (UP)—About this time every year, Bill Terry rubs his mug limp and starts the New York Giants on their way to another National league pennant.

Terry rubbed it just in time this summer. The Giants were playing just about the poorest baseball in the majors until whatever happens to Giant teams in August began to happen. Now they are only four and one-half games back of the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

HITLER WATCHES AS ARMY TESTS RESERVE POWER

By GEORGE KIDD
 BERLIN, Aug. 15 (UP)—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler personally participated today in the opening of army maneuvers which were expected to bring more than 1,000,000 under arms during the next six weeks.

Thousands of reservists quit their daily routine and marched off in uniform to camps throughout Germany. Hitler went to Huterberg, 40 miles south of Berlin, for the semi-official news agency DNB announced. He watched troops open exercises.

On the surface life was normal. But to all purposes, the largest and most impressive war maneuvers since the World War were being held in all parts of the country army reserves left their jobs and homes for 30-day training camps throughout the country.

To Be Held in Series
 A war ministry spokesman explained to the United Press that the maneuvers would be held in series, at different dates in different parts of the country depending on the completion of harvesting in each area.

"The maneuvers in east Prussia will be held on a larger scale than in any other part of the country this year," he said.

This was particularly notable in connection with the assurance that Germany was maintaining a normal kind, their size being explained by the fact that Germany has had compulsory service only since the fall of 1935 and needs to keep all her reserves in trim. East Prussia borders on Poland, Lithuania and Danzig free city.

There was no public fanfare, no marching or trumpet blowing to mark the start of the war games.

"Test Mobilization"
 The expression "test mobilization" is officially deprecated as incorrect. However, the maneuvers will affect civilian life to a greater extent than previous post-war maneuvers. One of the objects seems to be to test how production and general economic life may be carried on under war conditions.

Two recent laws enabled the government to require greater cooperation with the army—conscription of labor and requisitioning of such things as buses. The army is making effective use of the laws by drafting labor for formations and requisitioning vehicles and horses for the maneuvers.

Separate Maneuver
 Last summer there were mass maneuvers. But this year there will be separate maneuvers in each of about 10 corps areas, including three in Austria, especially in frontier districts.

Requisitioning of private trucks and housing is proceeding at an increasing pace for several weeks. Groups of as many as 20 to 40 trucks, requisitioned from vegetable, fish and other dealers have been sent on country roads for several days.

Local Schoolmate Hails Barkley Victory

Happiest man in all Kentucky over the victory of U. S. Senator Alben Barkley over Happy Chandler, was T. E. Mott, shown here with the victorious senator. Mott, whose necktie was as conspicuous by its absence as his galluses were by their presence, went to Hebron school, near Lovelock, Ky., with Barkley 50 years ago. They met at the polls, just before the beginning of the count which indicated a handy victory for the administration leader.

From Behind San Quentin Walls This Writer Expresses His Appreciation

Editor, Evening Times:
 Permit me, as a member of the staff of the San Quentin Sports-News, to express my appreciation for the splendid write-up which appeared in the July 27th issue of your sheet. Encouragement of this nature is indeed heartening to those of us who strive to accomplish something worthwhile within these walls. Coming from a paper of such standing as the Times, it is doubly appreciated.

I am enclosing a copy of our latest edition and trust that it may interest you. I have checked my articles therein and if it is not imposing too much upon your time, I would esteem your frank and honest criticism as to my style, etc. It is my intention, upon my release, to secure employment if possible along this line of endeavor. I might say here, that Mrs. Inez Puckett McQueen forwarded me the copy of your paper, as an instructor in Journalism at the El Monte high school, she became interested in my editorial efforts, which resulted in a most interesting and inspirational correspondence.

Naturally, in writing for a prison paper we are more or less limited in scope and subject to censorship, which is, of course, necessary. Under such circumstances as reasonable and liberal so we experience very little trouble on that score.

As to copy... there is always plenty available in this Wallied City with its population of 5,000. We do our best to inject as much humor as possible in our columns. A sense of humor is necessary to keep one's mental equilibrium while "pulling a bit," and unless we could find something at which to laugh, the population of this Wallied City would be materially increased. This holds especially true for those of us who have wives and kiddies "out there" who are suffering for the bare necessities of life... those innocent victims who are really "doing time."

The coming field meet is the outstanding event of the year. Visitors come from far and wide to witness the various sports. Competition is keen and excitement is at a fever pitch. It is only natural that among 5,000 men there is considerable talent as men from every walk of life are represented here. Our Glown Alley this year rivals that of any Big Top that I have ever seen. Acrobats, tumblers, high-wire artists, etc., will be in evidence. The carnival spirit will prevail and for one day at least the men will forget the heartaches and worries that beset them throughout the long days and longer nights.

There is copy enough behind these walls for a dozen newspapers. Comedy and tragedy sink side by side. Stories that rival the wildest tales of fiction... stories that would never be believed... the actual life stories of the Men in Gray.

CLARK STRESSES "MIDDLE" POLICY

Necessity of a "middle of the road line of thought" had been emphasized today for Grangers of Twin Falls and Gooding county by Rep. D. Worth Clark, Democratic nominee for United States senator. Clark was major speaker at the joint intercounty picnic Saturday at Banbury's natorium.

Two Trends
 Nearly 300 Grange members and their families heard the youthful senatorial nominee point out that at present there are two chief trends in America—the "radical stand-patter" and the "visionary dreamer."

He stressed his belief that a safe course between these two extremes is vital to achieving farm and economic stabilization.

Clark was introduced by Mrs. Frankie K. Alworth, filer, one of Twin Falls county's three Democratic nominees for state representative. Mrs. Alworth was presented by E. L. Metz, Twin Falls Pomona master who announced the program.

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 15 (UP)—Everett E. Moss, 20, Boise, drowned early yesterday in the Boise river near Diversion dam when the car he was driving left the road and sank in 10 feet of water.

Moss, returning from a dance with three companions, apparently fell asleep, the right wheels of the car went into loose gravel, the car swerved to the left and went into the river.

His companions, Ray Holland, 18, Clarence McIlveen, 20, and Clifford McIlveen, 17, all of Boise, swam to shore. They received minor injuries.

FORD CO. CLAIMS RIGHTS VIOLATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (UP)—The Ford Motor Co. asserted today that its constitutional rights had been violated in a national labor relations board hearing at St. Louis.

The assertion was made in a bill of exceptions on the basis of which Ford asked the board to overrule a trial examiner's report holding that the company had violated the labor act.

The bill contained 873 exceptions to trial examiner Tifford E. Dudley's intermediate report and requested another 60 days to prepare a brief and present oral arguments in the case.

Dudley had ordered the Ford company to restate 192 workers, 96 of them with back pay, and to place another 57 workers on a preferential employment list at the company's St. Louis plant.

He also ruled that the United Automobile Workers of America, a committee for industrial organization at St. Louis, had been chosen as bargaining agency by a majority of the Ford St. Louis workers and recommended that the company grant sole bargaining rights to the UAW.

The company claimed that it never had refused to bargain with the UAW "as the representative of its members."
