AAA PLANS 1939 FARM PROGRAM TO COST OVER 750 MILLION

450 MILLION TO BE PAID IN SOIL CONSERVING AID

By FRED BAILEY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (U.P.)—The department of agriculture announced plans today for a 1939 agricultural adjustment administration program expected to be the most expensive yet undertaken by the New Deal. It will cost more than $750,000,000.

This will include an estimated $450,000,000 in soil conservation benefit payments; $120,000,000 in price-adjustment payments; $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 in surplus commodities removal; $50,000,000 in direct and indirect agricultural administration and the financing of crop loans.

Name as This Year
Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace announced that the program would be planned along virtually identical adjustment administration plans. His announcement came after 100 farmer-representatives meeting here with AAA officials recommended that the 1939 program "should not be changed materially."

AAA Administrator H. B. Tolley said, however, that the new program took into account the mounting surpluses of farm products and urged farmers to "make full use of marketable surplus." He also pointed to the situation of farm prices and farm income.

Extensive Loan Program
Department officials planned an extensive loan program for this fall to enable farmers to hold 1938 surpluses of the most important commodities. An announcement of cotton loans would be made after Wallace has conferred with President Roosevelt and surplus commodity corporation officials.

Payments for soil conservation and soil depletion charges are the same as this, Wallace said.

JURY WILL ISSUE REPORT ON ROSS

(From Page One)
The jury re-indicted Charles R. Ross, superintendent of the Nampa state school and colony, on a charge of perjury arising from testimony he gave in the trial of Harry Abendroth, former state purchasing agent, on a charge of embezzlement.

Lowe's testimony resulted in Abendroth being found not guilty. Less than five hours after the verdict, the jury indicted Ross. The indictment had been drafted on the contention insufficient jurors were present when it was brought.

Max J. Kusser, prominent Idaho and Washington contractor, was indicted on three counts alleging perjury and false certification of vouchers.

J. H. Stemmer was indicted again on charges of false certification of a voucher, and named with him were E. A. Johnston, Fyrene McAttee and Richard Pearson, all highway engineers.

121 indictments brought 11 cases to an already crowded docket. Numerous cases have not been disposed of. Out of the 64 indictments dealing with state officials, four of the charges have been tried.

Most of the forthcoming trials will be set during September and if they are all tried the cases may last until late December.

TICKET SALE FOR JAMBOREE OPENS

"Tickets, which sell for a penny each are being placed on sale this week for the first annual jamboree of the city recreation department, according to Miss Verne Richards, director.

The tickets will be good for use in buying refreshments and entertainment side shows at the jamboree, which will be held on Friday, Aug. 26 at Lincoln field. The gates to the park open at 7 p. m. at which time the side shows will be open, but the big show will start at 8 p. m., Miss Richards stated.

There will be no admission charge to the field, and the only cost to see the "big" event of the program will be if spectators wish to buy refreshments, which will be put on sale for 10 cents.

Anyone with an original act is invited to participate in the main event, according to Miss Richards. They are asked to list their act with her at the city recreation department's headquarters in the rear of the P. O. Graves and Son offices.

The jamboree is the final event on the year's program for the Twin Falls playground.

SCHOOL IN FILER OPENS SEPT. 12

At the recent board meeting, tentative plans were under consideration for the new recreation hall, which will include music accommodations, musical instruments, and provide a place for the regular daily physical education classes. Revised plans will then be submitted for public approval and a bond election.

BACK HOME

The urge of an 11-year-old Jerome girl to travel had taken her just as far as Twin Falls today—but her journey stopped right here.

The girl, described by local police as having blond hair and blue eyes and small for her age, was picked up here early this morning at a hotel.

She had purchased a ticket on the bus leaving Jerome last night, she wanted to go to Salt Lake City, she said, but only had enough money to get this far and she came to Twin Falls. All she carried was a bed quilt, of course said.

The afternoon she was back in Jerome and home.

One of the last recorded cases of violence in Jerome took place at Dudley in 1890, when a woman changed hands for six cents.

CROP CONDITIONS VIEWED AS GOOD

BOISE, Aug. 16 (Special)—Crop conditions for the state as a whole continued favorable during July, but some crops were damaged by larger crops of wheat, dry beans, sugar beets, peaches, pears and cherries than were forecast on July 1, but to smaller crop of barley, clover and timothy hay, apples and prunes. The forecasts for corn, wheat, hay, potatoes and grapes were the same as a month ago.

Rainfall during July was above normal for most of the state except northern Idaho, where it was below. The latter part of July was winter hot and dry. Yields of winter wheat were set somewhat in that section but the forecast of the crop in eastern Idaho. The crop on Aug. 1 was forecast at 17,672,000 bushels, about 23 per cent larger than the crop last year. Corn, which was indicated to be about 13,585,000 bushels on Aug. 1, is slightly lower than the forecast of last month and about three per cent smaller than the crop of 1937.

The hay crop this year will probably be just a little larger than last year although the first cutting was damaged by rain at harvest. Alfalfa weevil has been prevalent in some areas and the infestation appears to be more serious than for several years. Good sugar beet yields are expected with the acreage considerably larger than last year.

Growing conditions continued favorable for beans and a crop of 1,450,000 bags is now indicated. If a crop of this size materializes it will be just a little larger than average but about 25 per cent smaller than the large crop of 1937. The potato crop is forecast at 28,200,000 bushels, the same as a month ago and about three per cent smaller than last year's crop. Prospects for the apple and prune crops declined during the month. The total apple crop is indicated to be about 100,000 bushels, which is about 18 per cent less than the crop of 1937. Prunes have been damaged by aphids and the drop was heavy during July. The crop as forecast on August 1, was expected to be about 17,500 tons, which is about 2,000 tons or about 10 per cent short of an average crop, although larger than the crop produced last year.

ESSENTIAL INFORMATION ON SANDWICH EATERS!... Dear Pol Sholis... It seems to me that one important phase of life has been sadly neglected in the literature of our nation. I refer to the matter of sandwiches. Sandwich eating is an art. When you stop to think that at least 107,716,118 sandwiches are consumed annually, excluding those eaten on picnics, you see how important this matter really is. There are many types of sandwiches. The sandwich is the corner chewer. This person always turns his plate to another angle no matter how the waitress looks at him. Then he cuts the corner of the sandwich. Next he cuts across to the other corner. After that he scans the sandwich carefully and bites into whichever remaining spot looks most like a corner. And follows that procedure to the end, being careful to bite the angles and never the curves. Another major type of sandwich eater is the sandwich devourer. This specimen first bites a huge chunk out of the middle. He follows that line of attack until he cuts the sandwich into the middle. Then he goes on getting rid of what's left. He might sum numerically as the right-hand-attack sandwich eater. This specimen divides the sandwich into right side of the sandwich, and continues clear around. He gradually trims the sandwich down to a single bite, and gulps that forthwith. The left-hand-attack is self explanatory. Members of this group divide the sandwich into three equal parts, and eat each part in order of getting rid of the lower east side of New York.

Which is just another way of saying that we who live in North America never realize how lucky we are—until we see what we would be up against if the European system prevailed over here. But perhaps it isn't entirely luck, after all. When you stop to think about it, there is nothing to prevent the United States and Canada from distrusting each other and glaring sullenly across the border in the European manner—nothing except the fact that each nation uses good sense and neighborly forbearance. The United States, for instance, could easily claim that it "needs" the raw material which Canada has. It could argue that unless it "controlled" the supply of these things its whole economy would be endangered. And it could go ahead and lay plans for the conquest of the Dominion.

at noon with Rev. Brown officiating. He was back in 1869 that Julius, a mere lad, met and fell in love with Sarah G. Rice at Raymond, Pa., when, while in his army uniform, he later Mr. Drake went to Asheville, N. C., and a lost letter for a time, ended the love affair. The years drifted by and Mrs. Rice, because the wife of George Newton, but Julius remained a bachelor. Mrs. Rice was invited to Twin Falls. This spring he came for a visit with his mother and learned the address of his former sweetheart and called upon her. Mr. Newton had passed away and the old courtship was at once taken up where it was dropped long ago. The wedding today was a happy event.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT I, James P. Broderick, at the next regular meeting of the Idaho State Board of Pardons, to be held at the State House, Boise, Idaho, on the 17th Wednesday of October, 1938, make application for a Pardon and/or commutation of sentence from that certain Judgment of conviction of Grand Larceny made and entered in the Court of the County of Blaine, Idaho, in and for the County of Twin Falls on or about May 21st, 1933. (Signed) LOUIS J. STEPHENS. No. 6716 Pub. Times: Aug. 16, 23, 30, Sept. 6, 1938.

The situation that would result would be every bit as logical as the situation which is commonplace on almost every European border. That peaceful boundary between the United States and Canada is, as the young traveler remarked, an immensely thrilling thing. But it doesn't exist by accident. It is what it is because the people of the two countries have chosen to act sensibly.

Carte du Jour... The Italians seem to be getting all kinds of bright ideas these days. First it was the liberation of the neck from the tight-fitting collar, and now it's the liberation of the restaurant-gor from the menu studied with foreign words and phrases. The Fascist policy-formulators in the field of public feeding have declared that "exotic and foreign names" must go. The official explanation is the government wants to discourage snobbishness, but it looks from here more like a simple move to intensify the affection of the people for its government. The "exotic" names that fall within the scope of the new edict include "hot dog," "roast beef," and the extraordinary labels that have been affixed to various cocktails. The thought of a hot dog going under any other name is a little distressing, and what Italian names "Manhattan," "Bronx" and "Planter's Punch" will assume staggers the imagination. "Roast beef," of course, might be changed to the international label, "ross-biff."

Philadelphia custom officers confiscated 600,000 soapstake tickets the other day. Think that? 600,000 millionaires lost to posterity!

Rosenbloom did the bulk of his training in night clubs. He walked a few times off the floor of the old Rendezvous club on Broadway one night, explaining: 'Listen, honey. I've got to run over and fight a guy. I've stepped Leo Lenzki around at Madison Square Garden, returned to the club without as much as taking a slower, picked up who he left off.'

A recommendation for a five day open season for the Mindoka forest special deer hunt, from Friday, Sept. 30 to Tuesday, Oct. 4, was route to Boise today to the state fish and game department.

The resolutions to the state association also requested that the 500 limitation used last year be retained again this season, but no provision was made for the division of the Albin and Mindoka sections of the forest.

Revenue Shortage. It was brought out at the meeting that in the past two years between 90 and 92 per cent of the deer had been taken during the first two days of the special season.

Drawings will be held in the office of State Game Warden William McVey at Boise on Friday, Sept. 16, at 2 p. m. If the recommendations of the south central division are accepted, the drawing will take place on that date.

Hunting would be permitted in the Cassia and Albion mountain divisions, but Bluff, Black Pine and East Idaho. There is no area would be closed. The only difference between the recommendations of the southern Idaho and game sections was the location of the gun club in the area of the fee.

Pennant Jitters Hit Pirates

By GEORGE KIRKBY
CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today appeared to be entering the secondary stages of 'Pennant Jitters'.

Noted for their collapses in the past just when it seemed they would win the National league title, the Pirates have been losing enough games the past few days to lead to trouble, unless they shake the slump.

The unpredictable Cubs lost the first game of their long home stand to the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-4, and lost the services of their Catcher, Manager George Hartnett, for three weeks.

Mystery Surrounds Fight Plans of Lou Ambers

By LESLIE AVERY
NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—There was mystery in the air today as Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers and his dusky challenger, 'Hurricane' Henry Armstrong, rested at training camps, aiming to fling lathered fists at each other tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden.

Armstrong, who was the challenger, said he was in the ring for a long time. He has fought and lived like a professional, he believed in keeping in shape by fighting. 'The product of New York, the East Side, didn't go near a gymnasium for years, and once when I asked him about his neglect of training, he explained: 'The last time I was in a gym I've never blackened my eye. I've never been back to a bad place, that gym.'
