Democrat Convention Pledges Support to D. W. Clark

Speaker States All Men on Ticket Will Be Backed in Race

By DAVID N. JOHNSON

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 27 (UP)—The Democratic state platform convention heard in its keynote address today a pledge that the party would stand united behind the candidacy of Rep. D. Worth Clark for the U. S. senate.

While he mentioned no names, the speaker, Frank James of Gooding, made it clear that Democratic leaders had spoken through his address in an effort to set the party solidly behind the entire general election ticket.

"The primary battle is over and the Democratic party, through a primary fashioned and set up by itself, has spoken and we must bow to its decision," James told convention delegates.

"Today and throughout the coming campaign, we stand united behind the entire Democratic ticket and we pledge our undivided support and allegiance to that ticket.

"Thus united, victory is sure and certain in the coming campaign."

The reference to solid support of the ticket was interpreted as meaning that party leaders would have little sympathy toward any possible independent campaign by Sen. James H. Hays, New Deal star who defeated in the primary by Rep. Clark.

Guards Accused in Prison Deaths

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (UP)—Disgruntled Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's agents today requested several persons from Connecticut expected to testify next week that James J. Hines, attorney general, and the late Dutch Schultz, lottery racketeer, consorted together with prison guards to murder a man.

The witnesses, none of whom were reported to be under guard in a hotel, were expected to substantiate the testimony of Dudley Briwlied, Fairfield, Conn., riding master, who said Schultz and his bodyguard, Lulu Paerkrantz, frequently found solace from gang wars on Connecticut bridge paths, and that one Sunday in August, 1935, Hines was with them.

After George Weinberg, who managed the racket for Schultz, had admitted four days of testimony against Hines, court was adjourned for the week end. Dewey announced he has 37 more witnesses including Hines, Hines' attorney, and his attorney, J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, "attorney general" for the mob, who like Weinberg pleaded guilty to the same Indiana murder. Hines, 21-year-old Los Angeles airplane worker, and Erna Follock, 16.

May Robson, gray-haired "grand old lady" of the movies, friend of Hines, was in a hospital because of a broken arm.

Sir John Simon Says His Nation Would Enter War

By RICHARD D. McMILLAN

LONDON, Aug. 27 (UP)—Great Britain, as her fleet prepared for maneuvers in the North sea, called pointedly on Germany today to avoid violence in Czechoslovakia which might precipitate a general war in which Britain would have to join.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, in a speech at Lanmark, Scotland, laid down the principles of British policy—Britain is determined to make every effort for peace, but she might be forced to fight.

Sir John called on European nations to reflect on the consequences of war and expressed his conviction that it can be avoided if the nations co-operate.

"It repudiates altogether the outlook which is being set by the world today," he declared.

Sir John significantly warned of the personal responsibility of any leader who provoked war. He said: "Great, indeed, is the responsibility that would rest upon anyone who by his action brought upon humanity the evils known to accompany war."

Britain's general policy, Sir John said, is "a positive policy of peace."

Rearmament for Peace

"Our rearmament" makes no distinction in other nations," he said, "is essential to the world peace. Our arms will never be used for any aggressive purpose and Britain is making herself strong in order that she may be a safe and effective friend of peace."

Just before he spoke, the government showed the lengths to which it is prepared to go when a semi-official statement was issued declaring that the British government would not accept the German leaders in Czechoslovakia to release their followers from fighting back if attacked.

The statement was regarded as of great significance, because it was the first time since the outbreak of the present European crisis.

While the chancellor was laying down Britain's principles, Frank T. A. Ashton-Oswin was flying to Czechoslovakia to meet with the British mediator there, Ashton-Oswin is a member of the mission and came to report on the results of his mission.

DEWEY TO CALL 37 MORE PEOPLE IN GRAFT TRIAL

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (UP)—Disgruntled Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's agents today requested several persons from Connecticut expected to testify next week that James J. Hines, attorney general, and the late Dutch Schultz, lottery racketeer, consorted together with prison guards to murder a man.

Good Loser

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 27 (UP)—Gov. Barzilla Clark was described today by Frank James, keynote speaker of the Democratic platform convention, as a "principally good loser."

Governor Clark was defeated in the primary by former Gov. Ben C. Ross for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"We all always remember that the primary was a good loser, and a primarily good loser," James said in his keynote address.

Charged Sical

Democratic backers of Pope had charged that Republicans conspired to win the election from Pope and elect Clark who has bolted several New Deal measures.

James told the convention that the primary voters who entered the last Democratic primary have entered to remain in the Democratic party.

"Thousands of the rank and file voters have for the past six years in this state been permanently transferred to the Republican party and there is no good reason for Republican leaders to believe such transfer has ceased."

BIDS VOTED FOR FIRE INSURANCE

First step toward a coordinated fire insurance program for the entire Twin Falls school system had been taken today as the board of trustees voted to proceed with advertising for bids on a total of $72,812 worth of insurance.

The board, which met in a special session at the home of Mrs. J. H. Stenerson, director of the school system, was instructed to draw up specifications for the insurance plan. These would include an alternative plan for a supplemental contract protecting against many other hazards including explosions, riots, aircraft, motor vehicles, hail and windstorm.

Extensive Report

Decision to call for bids followed presentation to the board of a comprehensive report by the Twin Falls Association of Insurance Agents. The report was presented by a delegation headed by J. H. AFL OPENS DOOR TO CIO MEMBERS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27 (UP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor today extended the "open door" to all C. I. O. unions or members who want to enter the federation.

The old newspapermen at a press conference that the federation seeks to extend its organization and "will accept those who are willing to come in and promise to work on a broad basis of both industrial and craft unions."

Green's invitation was made when he was asked whether the federation would attempt to take in either of the warring factions of the United Automobile Workers union, a C. I. O. affiliate.

"We are saying," he added, "if you want to come in, you can come in."

Asked whether the federation would accept C. I. O. members as representing their organizations or whether they would be required to join as individuals, Green said:

"If they want to come back as an organization they can. If not we will accept them as individuals through the workers can come back."

WALLACE STARTS EXPORT SUBSIDY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace initiated a far-reaching wheat export subsidy program today designed to meet competitive prices in world markets.

In the first step toward subsidized exports, he directed the federal surplus commodity corporation to begin immediately the purchase of wheat for export. He did not reveal plans for disposal of the wheat, but he left no doubt that subsidies would be used.

Speaking at St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, Canada, today, Wallace outlined a series of new initiatives by other nations, but said that their action had forced the United States to take up an aggressive program to secure her full share of world trade.

"In the realities of 1938 we find numerous countries purchasing their wheat from us at a price which is far above the world market," he told the international conference of agricultural economists.

He did not mention the Canadian, the United States' chief competitor in world wheat markets, but warned that this country was prepared to do as far as any of the nations in the subsidizing of wheat exports.

Following the death of four prisoners in what an official statement called "killing to death" at Philadelphia county prison, two prison guards were held on charges. Pictured above they are Alfred Brough, left, and Francis Smith, right. At top is shown the corridor in the prison's "horror block" of punishment cells, with cell doors at left and the long row of steam pipes at right. State investigators plan to subject the members to the conditions under which the convicted died, with ventilation shut off and heat on full blast.

NAZIS' LEGATION ENTERS PROTEST AGAINST CZECHS

By REYNOLDS PACKARD

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 27 (UP)—The German legation protested strongly to Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta today against an "affront" to the German army and the German people contained in a newspaper article about the military parade held in Berlin in honor of Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian.

The protest demanded punishment of those responsible for writing and publishing the article. It declared such a great campaign is poisoning the atmosphere.

A copy of the article, which was published in the newspaper Marav (Slovakia), was sent to the legation. It described alleged atrocities committed by German soldiers when they captured Lisle, France, during the World War. It said:

"Mustered Women

"When the Germans took the French city of Lille they began to plunder. Their commander ordered the mustering of all women between 18 and 30 and sent these unfortunate women into the trenches as prostitutes."

As the protest was delivered, tension and war talk increased notably in cafes and on the street.

The Sudeten German party, representing that part of the German minority which seeks autonomy, had announced its inability to assume responsibility for attacks against members of the German minority and withdrew orders to members under which there was to be no fighting back.

Revere Demanded

Authoritative sources had denounced this decree as unlawful and had warned that police would deal energetically with any who attempted to publish such proclamations as a means of endangering peace.

Today leaders of the Sudeten party expressed themselves as skeptical that negotiations could be resumed on a new program of minority concessions which the government is about to offer.

High Court Grants Plea For County Appeal Move

Approving the application of Twin Falls county to appeal a hospital damage suit to the United States supreme court, the Idaho supreme court today had apparently blocked temporarily further action by Marie Henderson to force the board of commissioners to pay her claim of $4,364.51.

The Idaho tribunal, in approving the county's plea for appeal to the highest bench in the nation, also granted a "superedeas" against enforcement of the judgment granted Mrs. Henderson March 1, 1937 in the highest court here and upheld by the Idaho supreme court last July 5.

Slays Judgment

The superedeas stays execution of that judgment until the matter is determined by the U. S. supreme court.

Answering an alternative writ of mandamus issued here Thursday by Judge T. Halley Lee to Mrs. Henderson, (now Marie Henderson Peters), the county will file answer pleading that the supreme court's approval of the appeal and its superedeas staying proceedings, if it was announced today by J. H. Hootch, chief justice of the state, that this has been retained by the commissioners to handle the appeal.

Court attorneys and local attorneys indicated that the superedeas will halt action on the alternative writ, for which Judge Lee had set hearing for 10 a. m. Sept. 9.

The claimant's application for the writ of mandamus would either force the commissioners to pay the claim or to show cause for the contrary—was filed Thursday after the board had said she request for (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

MONTANA SOLOMON OFFERS POPE AID

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (UP)—Sen. James E. Murray, D. Mont., member of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, offered today to support Pope Pius XII, if James P. Pope if the defeated Democrat decided to run as an independent.

Murray offered his help despite the fact that Chairman Prentiss Brown, D. Mich., has announced that the committee officially supports the nomination of primary opponent, Rep. D. Worth Clark, unless it is convinced there was some "fundamental principle" in the Democratic party. It has been charged that Republicans voted with Democrats to defeat Pope.

Murray said he was an independent, and I can help him," said Murray, "I will get to go into the state and do everything I can for him. I know the sincerity of his work, and how hard he worked, and what service he has rendered for his people."

"I would do everything I could for him. That is no slur on Rep. Clark. I know his father years ago. But it is more a personal feeling for Sen. Pope."

"This is What It is All About—"

Sometimes, surveying this confused world of ours, it is a little hard to figure out just who is kidding whom. The line that separates the charlatan from the statesman gets awfully thin, at times.

A few days ago the New York Times went to the trouble to print a verbatim stenographic report of a speech delivered by Father Divine to a flock of the faithful in one of his "Heavens" near New York City. To a nonmember of the cult, it makes weird but interesting reading.

A sample paragraph goes like this:

"Permit me to be transmigratable, permit me to be reincarnatable, permit me to be reproducible. When this is done you will see God in all mankind. . . . This is what it is all about, beloved ones, and when you build upon this foundation you will be lifted above the underprivileged and will ascend the height of perfection and go above the overprivileged and put them in their places. That is what I am doing. I am putting the overprivileged in their places."

Read through a couple of columns like that, trying earnestly to figure out what it means, and you get a tantalizing feeling that you have heard something very like it before. It's hard to place, but you think and think—and then, at last, you have it: It sounds just like a speech by one of the more strident European dictators!

The technique is much the same; the emotional appeal is the same, and the intellectual content of the message is the same.

That, probably, is really an insult to Father Divine. He preaches peace, and by and large his career probably has made for less unrest rather than more. But the broad lines of the appeals are much the same.

For the dictator has the same technique of aiming his appeal at the emotions rather than at the reason. He knows, too, the trick of appealing to discontent, of pouring forth a string of high-sounding but fundamentally meaningless phrases, of reiterating that he and he alone holds the secret—and, finally, of pointing to some sort of promised land which will be entered if people will just follow him and say nothing.

Is that an unfair comparison? Read some of the dictators' speeches some time and see for yourself. The parallel is uncanny.

And that is a measure of the utter confusion of our time.

That a group of underprivileged colored people should follow Father Divine is not at all surprising. But that whole nations should flock after these assorted Father-Divines-in-uniform, surrendering their destinies to them and empowering them to go forth and destroy the peace of the world—that is nothing less than appalling.

Strike Without Sides

It's a rare thing when a strike bobs up that has the blessings of all parties concerned, aggravates no one, and raises cheers besides from all the unconcerned parties on the sidelines.

Such a strike was called in New York City the other day. It was a sitdown strike, and what a sitdown! The strikers—more than half a hundred of them—installed themselves in the middle of a street on the east side, and let the automobiles shift for themselves.

The autoists weren't mad, the merchants weren't mad, and the police weren't mad. And neither was anybody else. The strikers were persuaded by the law to move to the sidewalk after a while, but the persuasion was good-natured, and the motive was consideration for the strikers' safety. The strikers' average age was about 10. The strike was for a street sprinkler such as the city had provided for the heat-weary kids on other streets. The boys and girls on East 21st street felt they'd had a bum deal.

At latest reports a conference with the mayor was being arranged.

Let the poor kids on the nation's east sides, caught in a quagmire, trapped by stone and steel and beaten by the sun, strike seven days a week and twice on Saturdays. Society needs strikes like that.

Comes news of a man in Australia who has just ridden 578 miles on a child's tricycle. Now what office do you suppose he's running for?

Uncle Sam merchandise at a recent postoffice sale included two grass skirts and a derby. It looks as if vaudeville is dead all right.

"Austro-Hungarian Ties Stressed," reads a late news headline. And whose necks are inside the ties?

It is disclosed that women's feet are constantly bigger. On the other hand, "doll-hats" are coming into style.

JOURNALISM AS SHE SHOULD BE CONDUCTED!

Dear Editor:

I have often pondered in deep thought over a little matter I see every day in the papers. In fact, it seems to be there more frequently than ever lately, government statistics to the contrary notwithstanding.

It is the tiny item that says, "To Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Glump, a son, at the Oakhurst Maternity Home," or "To Mr. and Mrs. Xophonous Blower, a daughter, at the Blessed Event Hospital."

Don't your newspaper reporters ever long to do more than that with such items? Doesn't their imagination fret at the strict bonds thus imposed? I bet they do and it does. But whereas the boss says no to them, their boss means nothing to me. Try this on your birth report column sometime:

"A son was born today to Mrs. Jacob Glump, at the Oakhurst Maternity home, with Mr. Glump assisting by wearing a hole in the wedding room carpet. The baby was a squalling little brat, over a pound and the usual infant. He equaled twice as loud when they took his formula, as though anybody else could possibly mistake him for their child. Mr. Glump visited his wife briefly but was in a state of nervous semiparalysis from a long wait. His column became committal when the maternity home superintendent told him the bill should be paid in 30 days.

Or try this one on your birth report:

"They didn't want a daughter. But Mr. and Mrs. Xophonous Blower got one today. It happened at the Blessed Event hospital. Mr. Blower was because he'd wanted a son who could out the grass, care for the furnace, love his money, get a license, 'What another daughter! That makes four girls! Mother and daughter are doing well, but not so Mrs. Blower. She got to grind and pay $8 to the stenographer to whom she'd donated her positive he'd get a son this time."

Nick the Ferret

CHAPTER XIII
"KLEPTOMANIAC!" cried Sally in dismay. "Well that's the last straw. What on earth are we going to do with her?"

Kinky pondered.

Sally's agitation might have been increased had she known that, at the precise moment when Mr. Bull Griffin was informing them of the loss of his revolver, an unlovely individual was sneaking into the Preston grounds. He wore a cloth cap pulled over his eyes and his pitted face bristled with a three-day's growth of rust-colored stubble. The red wax was a henchman in the gang headed by the Little Cheese. And he had driven the car which had pursued Messrs. Griffin and Spaldini into the Pennington-Parker Restoratorium.

Because one Nick the Ferret, his companion on that occasion, had been so impudent as to stop a bullet with his right shoulder, they had been obliged to retreat. But after driving Nick the Ferret back to the city, Mr. Scala had returned to Connecticut the following night. Mr. Scala had an excellent reason for wishing to track down Bull Griffin.

Aently, due to one or two peccadilloes that smacked of the doubtful, Mr. Scala and he incurred the displeasure of the Little Cheese. Wherefore, it behooved him to get back into the good graces of his legs lord. And good he was, for Mr. Scala knew, was to assist materially in the rubbing out of Bull Griffin.

From a minor and disloyal member of the gang, he had become a full-fledged member of the five-foot-three and the Creator might have had a rain-barrel in mind when he designed him. His shoulders were broad, but rounded. His chin looked like one of the Florida keys. His skin was swarthy and full of furrows. In the dictionary sense of the word he was cocked. And to add to the general nightmare, he wore a bristly mustache of gleaming black which he habitually caressed with a forefinger the size of a clothes-pin.

"You say you see that mug Griffin?" he inquired of Mr. Scala.

Mr. Scala told all. At the end of his recital the Little Cheese uttered a "yah" of disgust.

"Why'n't you give him da wolks den an' dere?" he demanded.

Mr. Scala, no mean self-executor, would have lengthened explanation as to why he had not given Bull Griffin the wolks 'den an' dere.

"Anoder ting," said the Little Cheese, when he had done. "Youse 'ers didn' ought to let him spit irritably into a brass cuspidor. 'Youse jus is a bunch of youse. Der stink of youse c'n shoot fer nuts."

There was unexpected opposition to this doctrine. It came from a small, dark-eyed man.

"Says who?" quoth the small, dark-eyed man.

"This darning soul was none other than Nick the Ferret. Nick the Ferret was pretty fed up. Not content with the failure of his Griffin, he had driven the car which had pursued Messrs. Griffin and Spaldini into the Pennington-Parker Restoratorium. He had driven the car which had pursued Messrs. Griffin and Spaldini into the Pennington-Parker Restoratorium. He had driven the car which had pursued Messrs. Griffin and Spaldini into the Pennington-Parker Restoratorium.

The Family Doctor

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association

Ryega, the Health Magazine

Some questions which are constantly in mind concerning disturbances of the heart have recently occupied the attention of the medical circles in the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease. Recently a distinguished biometrical found that heavy smokers do not live as long as non-smokers. Now, it is known that this means that tobacco is to blame or does it mean that people who smoke to excess also do other things which shorten their lives?

Dr. Paul D. White has asked the question, "Is it simply so-called 'wear and tear' that is responsible for the increased mortality among our young and middle-aged men from coronary disease, or are there not other causes at work? In some manner result from our modern way of life?" He asks also "Why is it that under the age of 40 the incidence of coronary disease is 24 times greater among males than among females?"

Dr. White is concerned with a number of other questions which are of interest to the general public. He wants to know if it really harms the arteries to eat diet rich in cream, butter, and eggs. He wants to know if there are any feeding young people in developing a robust generation of girls and boys. He wants to know if there are any factors of undernutrition, particularly for sedentary workers, have been responsible for bringing about an increase of heart disease.

Another question which Dr. White asks has to do with exercise. Thus he inquires "Are there any exercises which are beneficial to our muscles and pocketbooks and city dwellers? Is it really necessary for our legs either in walking or cycling, with the relegation of motor cars to some special occasion when it is really necessary to drive to town?" Finally he wants to know what influence the weather has on the incidence of heart disease.

It is not possible at this time to give an absolute answer to all of these questions.

But specialists as could be determined in order to find out the answer would involve a great number of people under varying conditions. All the we have at present on which to make answers are impressions based on years of practice or observation by men who have specialized in the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease.

It is general impression that there has been great increase in hardening of the arteries among the Japanese during the last two decades. Japanese observers ascribe this to adoption of the occidental mode of living.

These are questions which definitely concern the life and health of everyone of us.

BURLEY PLANS BOOSTER TOUR

BURLEY, Aug. 27 (Special)—Burley Chamber of Commerce Board of directors Wednesday heard Ben Mahoney and Dale Pustay detail plans for a ballroom trip to advertise for burley. The trip is to take in Oakley, Albion, Rupert, Hazelton, Elmer, Jerome, Buhl, Twin Falls, and Boise. The tour will be made next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The board also considered the purchase of additional store front decorations by fair air at present buying or rental of decorative banners by such firms as decorative sign prevention work, set for Oct. 5 to 15, was approved.

No doubt the health section of the League of Nations will attempt a worldwide study to settle some of these points, because it is only by a worldwide study involving great numbers of people in different parts of the world, that the answer can be found.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

As gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

AUG. 27, 1923

A number of the younger girls gave a party Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. L. White. Mrs. Wilson in honor of some out-of-town guests who are here for brief visits before taking up school duties. The party was given by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Droudale, Idaho Falls; Miss M. M. Long Beach; Miss Katherine Barmela, Boise; John Maxwell, Melchior, priest; Harold Carlisle, Hayward, Barrett, Frank McAttee, Frank McMaster, Howard Berg, Rusk, Potter, Edwin Deas and Nelson Laubenstein. The hostesses were Miss Peggy Wolf, Miss Beth Dwyer, Miss Barbara Wolfe, Miss Alice Taylor and Miss Patricia Wilson.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Marguerite Lenore Pickett was married to William Secord. The ceremony was held at 10 a. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pickett. Mr. and Mrs. Secord will make their home in California.

27 YEARS AGO

AUG. 27, 1911

This afternoon was moving day for the county officials of Twin Falls county and this usually busy place was a swirl of bustle and confusion getting the records and the old fixtures moved to the new courthouse on Shoshone street, which was completed and turned over to the county last week. While the new furniture was not yet in place, the officials were getting along nicely with the old.

Twin Falls taxpayers cannot help but be proud of the new county home, whatever may have been wrong to the manner of its construction. For the basement to top floor absolutely fire proof conditions prevail, and loss by fire is eliminated.

The first floor contains the offices of the county superintendent, county attorney, sheriff and farmer's assembly room. The second floor contains the auditor and recorder's office, the office of the tax collector and the county commissioner's office. The third floor contains the office of the probate judge, district judge's chambers and the courtroom.

The fourth contains the jail and jailer's quarters.

TERRIFIC STORM SWEEPS WENDELL

WENDELL, Aug. 27 (Special)—A violent thunderstorm here Wednesday uprooted trees, shattered windows, wrecked a store awning and broke a chimney. The storm struck the town at 10:30 p. m. and was over by 11:30 p. m. The force of the storm was so great that the ground, two sections of sidewalk were ruined, and the ditch was broken by the force of the falling trees.

An awning was blown from the Tingwall department store, and a big plate glass display window was shattered. The awning was reported to be blown down to the ground, two sections of sidewalk were ruined, and the ditch was broken by the force of the falling trees.

Smaller trees were also damaged by the storm, and minor damage was reported from all parts of town. A brilliant lightning display accompanied the storm.

With the exception that the molecules are arranged differently, diamonds are of the same material as the soot of a lamp chimney, or the lead of a pencil.

NEW MINORITY SITUATION CAUSES EUROPEAN TREMORS

GERMANY PRESS CAMPAIGN HITS CZECH RULINGS

Editor's Note: Events in Europe took a new turn for the worse today in the following dispatch from the London Times. It is a situation which has covered every big European newspaper since it came to the attention of the world as it is at the moment.

By WEBB MILLER (Copyright, 1938, United Press.) LONDON, Aug. 27 (U.P.)—An ominous combination of events caused tremors in European capitals today. The British cabinet was more disquieted than it had been for a month for the following reasons: 1. Treaties between the Sudeten German minority party in Czechoslovakia to its followers to exercise the "right of self defense" against attacks in the Sudeten region. 2. The right of the most dangerous of recent developments, and highly likely to result in critical incidents. 3. The Czechoslovak government's inspired systematic German press campaign against Czechoslovakia.

3. Reports from Viscount Runciman, British adviser in the Czechoslovakia situation, indicating the possibility that the Sudeten German minority could not be pressed into making sufficient concessions to meet the demands of the British government and Adolf Hitler today. 4. The Czechoslovak situation was entering another period of acute tension which would reach its climax during the next congress at Nuremberg commencing Sept. 8. Government officials admitted to British diplomats correspondents that another period of strain was approaching. As a discreet precaution, 42 British warships will be ordered to the North sea theater of operations early next month. The move is partly a cold business precaution and partly for moral effect in Germany.

Key men of the cabinet, breaking their almost sacrosanct holidays, will gather in London for a huddle Monday.

Alfred Duff Cooper, first lord of the admiralty, after a cruise in the Baltic and a long talk with King Christian X of Denmark at Copenhagen, is hurrying back to London. For the moment, with 1,000,000 men under arms and several hundred thousand under high pressure of fighting fortifications facing France, Adolf Hitler had the diplomatic initiative.

Future developments depend on whether Hitler and the German general staff consider a genuine intervention in Czechoslovakia, when a suitable occasion arises, is too great. Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, German minister of propaganda, once publicly admitted that previous Nazi coup entailed gambles which were weighed when a decision was taken. The Times Berlin correspondent warned today that incidents might "culminate in a grave incident which Germany would not be content to meet merely with newspaper polemics."

UNEMPLOYED AID OFFICE TO OPEN

Arrangements had been completed here today for the start Sept. 1 of work in connection with the unemployment compensation division at which time all employable persons "covered" by the compensation may register for benefit payments. Heading the local compensation division as deputy examiner will be Harold A. Salisbury, Twin Falls, former N.Y.A. field representative and one-time local high school instructor. Assisting Mr. Salisbury will be Audrey Dennis, Hagerman, and William Turnbull, Shoshone. Individuals who have been unemployed in work covered by the benefits may register for such benefits Sept. 1. A three weeks waiting period is necessary before benefit checks can be drawn, however. The office of the compensation division will be located in the Idaho State Employment service headquarters in the new addition of the Rogerson hotel.

CALFRIDE

Arthur Albertson, 12-year-old Ogden, Utah, resident who is vacationing in Twin Falls, this afternoon was reported by the attending physician to be in a "fair condition" following an accident near here yesterday afternoon as he attempted to ride a calf. The youth was thrown to the ground and against a fence. The blow opened his chest on the left side. The mishap occurred on a farm near Eden. At the same time hospital attaches said the condition of Billy Joe Annin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Annin, Kimberly, was good. The six-year-old boy sustained a broken arm while at play near his home yesterday afternoon.

SCORE OF BOATS TO ENTER RACES

More than a score of boats are expected to participate Sunday during the motorboat regatta which will be sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Eagles on Clarks lake near Shoshone falls. It was announced this afternoon by Victor Pratt, past grand worthy president of the Twin Falls organization. The races will get underway at noon and a complete program of entertainment, including free dancing and swimming, will be held at 8 p. m. are planned to keep visitors busy until midnight. Picnic lunches will be available for purchase throughout the day and the only admission charge will be 10 cents to enter the grounds. With Luid Drexler, president of the Southern Idaho motor club in charge, events on the lake, aside from races including an Idaho polo race, will include surf board riding and swimming. The lake is reached by going down the grade toward Shoshone falls and then turning to the right at the first road.

C. OF C. HEARS BASEBALL, RADIO

Two out-of-town speakers were featured during the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce at the Grand Hotel yesterday at noon. The two speakers were R. O. Torrance, vice president and general manager of the Seattle Gas and Electric Co., and O. P. Soule, president of Radio Broadcasting Corp., owners of KXTV in Twin Falls and KZZI in Pocatello. Torrance told of the consideration being given the advisability of the Seattle ball club sponsoring a team in the proposed league to be organized throughout this section of Idaho next spring. He pointed out that the Seattle club is in need of a "home spot" for young players. Mr. Soule announced that the NBC red and blue networks should start programs over the local station by Oct. 1. In recognition of Twin Falls joining the national airways, he said, a special salute will be given this community in the form of a national broadcast by the Chamber of Commerce to cooperate in the matter by providing interesting highlights of local scenic and beauty spots.

GROUP PLANS TO SEE PLACER SITE

Delegation of approximately 15 or 20 businessmen and farmers of the Twin Falls territory will stage an auto caravan to the Gold Creek, Nev., to inspect what has been termed one of the richest placer deposits in the United States. Announcement of the caravan jaunt was made here by Byron Des. Salt Lake City, one of the investors interested in Gold Creek Placer Mines company. He said that the 5,000-acre placer project has an average gold content of better than $1 per yard; has a water project three miles long, one mile wide and all paid for, and has more than $100,000 in machinery on the ground—also paid for. The possibilities in the Gold Creek placer site were discovered only three years ago, Mr. Des said.

Eagles Dance at Buhl Hall Today

Buhl, Aug. 27 (Special)—Buhl Eagles will hold a public dance at 8 p. m. today at the Buhl hall. Tickets for the benefit dance planned for Sept. 1 will be distributed to members at that time. It was announced by L. A. Larsen, worthy president.

Buhl Man Heads Young Bourbons

Paul B. Boyd, Buhl attorney, today was president of the Young Democratic club of Twin Falls county after members of that group last night in Twin Falls declared the post held by Duncan McD. Johnson to be vacant because the congressman reaches the 40-year age limit next October. Aside from selecting a new president, members of the organization also went on record to the effect they endorsed the entire Democratic ticket as nominated at the primary election by the voters of Idaho. While no mention was made in the motion concerning the present status of the Sen. James F. Pope and Cong. D. Worth Clark "row," observers nevertheless said the vote indicated that the organization was not in favor of Pope seeking his office again by running independently. Final arrangements were also made last night which will see six official delegates from the county's club attend the state convention of Young Democrats which will be held at Sun Valley lodge at Sun Valley Sept. 3, 4 and 5. Delegates named were Kermit Allison, Filer; Ray Wilkinson and Paul B. Boyd, Buhl; J. R. Bothwell, jr., and T. M. Robertson, jr., Twin Falls. The delegation will operate under the unit rule, officials announced. Lewis F. Jones, past county president, presided at the meeting last night in the absence of Mr. Robertson, vice president.

TAYLOR PRAISES STAFF AT POOL

W. E. Taylor, city parks commissioner, this afternoon lauded those in charge of the municipal swimming pool at Harmon park for their "untiring work" during the summer months in making the season, which will close Aug. 31 at 9 p. m., "the most successful to date." "I want to thank the public for its fine cooperation this year and also want to take this opportunity of pointing out the very fine manner in which Bill Powers, pool director, handled the pool this season. Assistance given him by Kermit Allison, Filer; Frank Carpenter and Art Pranta, life guards, was of the best. As substitute life guard, young Bill Poisson proved an asset to the swim campaign," Taylor said. Because the pool will close next Wednesday night, it will not be kept open Monday as has been the practice during the rest of the season, Taylor said. The pool will be open to the public each day until closing date from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. The closing date of Aug. 31 coincides with the close of the city recreational program under the direction of Miss Verina Richards, WPA recreation leader.
