NINES IDENTIFIED AS VISITOR WITH SCHULTZ IN 1935

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—Charles W. Hughes, former hotel manager in Bridgeport, Conn., testified today that he saw a man who identified himself as J. Hines in Bridgeport in 1935 with Dutch Schultz, whose $20,000,000-a-year racket Hines is accused of having protected.

Steyler brought out the fact that he had seen Hines, with Schultz and Lulu Rosenkranz, Schultz's bodyguard, at the hotel coffee shop. He placed the time as August or September, 1935.

Called by Dewey
Hughes was called by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey in an effort to strengthen the prosecution's contentions regarding alleged associations between Hines and Schultz.

Justice Ferdinand Pecora took over the questioning on this point, asking Hughes "You weren't sure you had seen Hines?"

"That's right," Hughes said, "I was sure I had seen Hines."

LEWIS ATTACKS GREEN FOR RAP AT MINER PACT

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—Chairman John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers today attacked American Federation of Labor President William Green in a speech before the House, charging that Green had broken the pact with the United Mine Workers which he heads operated completely within its relations in negotiating the contract.

Green charged that Lewis was "a traitorous renegade" and that the United Mine Workers which he heads operated completely within its relations in negotiating the contract.

The UMW has organized the Hagan county coal fields and negotiated with the coal operators a standard wage agreement, Lewis said. "Peace has come to the long-tormented district," he said.

The agreement—the first in Hagan county in many years—is the standard Appalachian contract, Lewis said. It provides for a seven-hour, five-day week with a basic daily wage of $5.60. It is not a specific closed shop agreement but provides for checking out union dues from the pay envelopes of the county's 15,000 miners.

Signings of the contract resulted in the dropping of Wagner act violation charges against 40 companies. Lewis' intimation that the justice department had agreed to drop charges of criminal conspiracy against the operators as a result of the contract was denied by Assistant Attorney General Brien McMahon.

Death Takes Noted Madcap Of Gay '90s

BOSTON, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—To the humble back Bay apartment of a 116-a-week WPA clerk today came a telegram of condolence from persons the world over who remembered her as May Yorie, madcap of the gay nineties and once known as the ill-famed but celebrated Hope diamond.

Funeral services for Miss Yorie, who died of a heart attack yesterday, will be held Wednesday at a florist's funeral parlor, followed by cremation.

"I don't know what I'll do with her ashes," said her husband, Capt. John A. Smith, 37th Infantry, veteran of the Boer war, the nephew of the famed Gen. Jan Christian Smuts of the Boer army.

Near the deathbed of the 72-year-old woman who once likened her life to a roller-coaster, rested the choice of her late years of obscurity. It was a photograph of a bearded man who had inscribed it "To May, who had shared with me the greatest hazard in our modern life. I therefore appeal to the motoring public to drive with every consideration for the safety of our school children."

"There is a small percentage of drivers who will not heed an appeal for safety. They make it necessary to carry out a policy of rigid enforcement. State, county and city law enforcement agencies are working together to make our streets and highways safe.

Attempt Made To Enter U.S. Army Airport

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—An unexplained attempt to break into buildings at Crissy field, in which a sentry was slugged after he fired two shots at his assailants, alarmed the San Francisco army post today.

Shortly after midnight it was discovered that someone had broken open the door of the garage at Crissy field, an army airport bordering San Francisco Bay.

Later, the night Jack Hopkins, 29, saw two men tampering with the door of a shed behind the main hangar. He drew his pistol, fired a shot into the air and called on the men to surrender.

Instead, they rushed him, clubbing him over the head with a weapon. As he lay on the ground Hopkins fired another shot but said afterwards he did not think it struck either assailant.

Hopkins was taken to Letterman general hospital where physicians said he was suffering from a possible skull fracture.

IDAHO EDUCATOR DIES AT OAKLEY

OAKLEY, Aug. 29 (Special)—Jared Alma Mercer, 59, principal of the Oakley high school since 1922, and officer in the southern Idaho division of the Idaho Education Association, died this morning at his home. He had been in the hospital for a year, and his condition became critical this summer.

Well-known in Idaho education circles, Mercer had served on the village board of trustees, and had been released this spring after residing as bishop of the Oakley first ward of the B. C. church for the past 10 years.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Oakley L. D. B. tabernacle. Bishop John A. Clark of the first ward will officiate. The body rests at the Payne mortuary.

Mr. Mercer, who was born Feb. 15, 1882, in American Fork, Utah, left in 1898 with his parents for southern Alberta, Canada, where that section of the dominion was being colonized.

The youth drove a team of horses on the six weeks trek which took the colonizers to Cardston. In 1900 he moved with his parents to Magrath, Alberta.

Roumania, Jugoslavia and Russia Join to Attack Nazi Czech Crisis Stand

Hacks Off Arm, Gouges Eye
ENVOY RECALLED FROM BERLIN BY ENGLISH HEADS

By RICHARD D. McMILLAN
LONDON, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—Great Britain and France have warned Germany directly of the possible consequences of an aggression against Czechoslovakia, it was said today in an authoritative quarter. The same sources said that Russia, Roumania and Jugoslavia had told Germany that they would support Czechoslovakia.

The information as given here was as follows: Britain on more than one occasion has warned Germany of the possible consequences of an attack on Czechoslovakia over the situation in the Rhineland. This warning was conveyed by Sir Neville Henderson, ambassador, now here after being called home from Berlin Saturday to receive secret instructions.

France follows terms of staff of the French air force—formed by Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Germany's air chief, in response to Goering's inquiry that France emphatically would carry out the terms of the French-Czech military pact if Germany marched on Czechoslovakia.

Russia, Roumania and Jugoslavia have also been urged to German diplomatic inquiries, that they would defend Czechoslovakia.

This put the Czechoslovak crisis on a somewhat new basis. It would indicate that the episode in which Sir John Simon warned Germany (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

Expense Lists Show Little 'Glad-Handing'

Six more campaign expense statements remained to be filed this afternoon by primary election candidates before County Auditor Frank J. Smith. All who ran for legislative and county posts must file, Justice of the peace and constable candidates need not do so.

The bulk of candidates, successful or otherwise, had presented expense statements to County Auditor Frank J. Smith. All who ran for legislative and county posts must file, Justice of the peace and constable candidates need not do so.

Little "Glad-Handing" There wasn't much "glad-handing" in the form of refreshments of any kind given out by hopeful aspirants during the primary campaign, the statements show. George W. Dean, successful Democratic nominee for county commissioner, is the only one to date who listed anything but a few cents for a candidate in expense of $1.50 for "rigars and tans."

However, items listed as "miscellaneous" on at least two statements might have covered that matter. What-traveled of any candidate was Miss B. Elrod, who didn't get the primary nomination as sheriff. Her item of $38.50 for "gas and oil" was the largest for that type of expense.

Dr. A. McDonnell, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for representative, listed "meals." But the total cost was only 70 cents for the entire campaign.

DEMOS PROCLAIM UNITY, HARMONY

BOISE, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—Proclaiming unity and harmony, and with a platform which presented no controversial issues, delegates to the 1938 Democratic convention in Boise were en route to their homes today, ready to begin the November general election campaign.

The convention called by Ben Davis of Pocatello as state chairman to succeed Ira J. Taylor. The only floor battle arose over the vice-presidential nomination of Mrs. Cour d'Alene, opposed by Mrs. Alice Lyon of Lewiston, won the office by a vote of 14 to 10.

In the platform, the convention pledged the state party to general support of the national administration, especially in connection with agriculture, especially where agriculture is a vital factor in the state's economy.

As to state plans, the platform pledged development of the phosphate fields, more money for care for indigent sick and victims of tuberculosis, changes in prison administration to effect segregation of prisoners, better roads, reestablishment of the state department of labor and appointment of a labor commissioner, a shorter work day and a state minimum wage law.

The final platform draft contained no mention of a sitting cabinet, but recommended that the national administration be made subject to the state's industrial compensation law.

TEN INJURED IN CANADIAN CRASH

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 29 (U.P.)—A train wreck on a mountain line north of here causing serious injury to 10 persons, resulted from the failure of an electric locomotive to stop at a switch half way down the slope, investigators believed today. The engineer, whose name was withheld, was ejected from his cab a moment before the crash.

The engine and two coaches, apparently out of control, sped down the mountain and rolled over another engine which was standing idle on the main line tracks.

The wreckage contained nine workmen and their families who were going on a Sunday outing by boat to Vancouver.

Five passengers who suffered most serious injuries leaped from coaches when it became apparent that there would be a crash. Those who remained suffered shock, cuts and bruises.

Warden Rapped for 'Roastings' at Jail

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—Coroner Charles H. Hersch said today "we feel" that Superintendent William B. Mills was involved in the "roasting deaths" of four convicts at Philadelphia county prison.

The coroner said he understood that Mills took John J. Schroeder, one of the victims, to the "kondlike" cellblock Friday. The men were found dead Monday morning.

Twenty-five others who had been placed in the super-heated punishment cells later required hospitalization.

Mills was said to have told investigators that he turned off the steam in the radiator-like cell block but that it was turned on again without his knowledge.

"When the superintendent discovers a man personally in the lock-up, he is to be taken to the hospital," Hersch said, "we feel that he is very much involved in the case."

James McGuire, guard captain, and two guards were summoned to the district attorney's office.

Sweeping Drive Opens to Secure Safety In Traffic for South Central Idahoans

Sweeping drive to secure traffic safety had been launched on a wide front today in Twin Falls and south central Idaho.

Headed by 80 Twin Falls merchants, and by the Idaho Evening Times and Twin Falls News, the concerted effort seeks to pledge south Idaho motorists to observance of safety rules—with special reference to school children.

Initial appeal in the campaign was relayed by Chief of Police Howard Ollivette in a full page advertisement carried Sunday in the News and today in the Idaho Evening Times. The advertisement, one of a series sponsored by the 80 merchants and the two newspapers points out the need for considering safety of school children.

Drivers outside Twin Falls may designate the safety "region of honor" for school children.

Details were being furnished today for an essay contest among high school and grade school children in the safety drive.

The greatest hazard in our modern traffic I therefore appeal to the motoring public to drive with every consideration for the safety of our school children.

STATEMEN SET NEW PEACE AXIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—Statemen today set a new peace axis—prepared today to show the world a new shaft for its peace machine—an Ottawa-London-Washington axis.

Officials indicated that the core of this shaft—the reciprocal trade treaty between the United States and Great Britain—would be ready for public inspection in about two weeks. The long-promised pact will make possible the exchange of tariff favors between the world's largest trading powers.

European diplomats here suspect that the treaty is ready now but that state officials will delay its publication until after Adolf Hitler's annual Nazi meeting in Nuremberg next week. The treaty would be a background to show Europe new signs of that axis.

Canada is involved because it is expected to relinquish some concessions to make possible the British-United States pact, and to obtain at the same time a new pact with the United States. France also has a pact, according to this theory, as a democracy closely aligned with Britain and because it already has a trade pact with the United States.

FDR Resumes Personal Charge in 'Purge' Drive

PLANS INVASION OF MARYLAND TO OPPOSE TYDINGS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt resumed personal command today of his drive to reelect conservative Democrats from congress.

Postmaster General James A. Farley returned to the capital today and Mr. Roosevelt will arrive tomorrow.

Late developments included:

1. Mr. Roosevelt renewed and made more emphatic his wish that South Carolina Democrats reject conservative Sen. Ellison D. (Colton) Ed Smith in tomorrow's vital primary.
2. He announced he would invade Maryland with a Labor day speech which inevitably will oppose the re-election of conservative Sen. Millard E. Tydings in the Sept. 12 primary.

New Dealer Losses

3. A run off primary in the 13th congressional district retired another Texas New Dealer and revived speculation whether Vice President Garner in his home state is engaged in preliminary maneuvers to break Mr. Roosevelt's hold on the Democratic party. Rep. W. D. McFarlane, "My old friend," to Mr. Roosevelt, lost in the 13th to Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls lawyer.

4. Col. Theodore Roosevelt endorsed John J. O'Connor, Democratic incumbent, for Republican nomination to congress from New York's 16th district. O'Connor, denounced by Mr. Roosevelt as a "traitor" to the New Deal, seeks both Democratic and Republican nominations.

Regular Republican candidate is Allen W. Dulles, New Deal favorite James H. Fay, seeking Democratic and American Labor party nomination. Primary day is Sept. 20.

FBI Supports McAdoo

5. California candidates wound up their campaigns for nomination in tomorrow's primary. Mr. Roosevelt indirectly has supported the re-nomination candidacy of Sen. William G. McAdoo.

Immediate interest centers on tomorrow's South Carolina polling and the Labor day offensive against Tydings. The President already has stated in detail to Georgia voters why he wants Sen. Walter F. George, another of the conservative group, retired to private life on primary day, Sept. 14. U. S. District Attorney Lawrence Camp is the New Deal candidate in Georgia.

The South Carolina situation changed unexpectedly over the week-end when State Sen. Edgar A. Brown, seeking senatorial nomination as a New Dealer, retired from the contest. That left a two-man battle between Gov. Olin D. Johnston, the White House candidate, and the veteran conservative Cotton Ed.

Have Their Choice

"Voters of the state (South Carolina) now have their choice," Mr. Roosevelt told questioners, "between two candidates representing entirely different political schools of thought."

"One of these candidates thinks in terms of the past and governs his actions accordingly.

"The other thinks in terms of 1938 and 1939 and 1938 as well."

Mr. Roosevelt's invasion of Maryland will be in response to Farley's urging. Rep. David J. Lewis, an aging progressive who was proposing New Deal ideas long before Mr. Roosevelt became a major political figure has White House endorsement against Tydings.

For bituminous surfacing of 33.2 miles of the Old Oregon Trail between Carey and the Power county line in Cassia and Blaine counties to the Western Construction Co., Inc., Portaville, with a bid of $18,246. The engineer's estimate was $18,200.

URGES CITIZENS TO SECURE UNBIASED FACTS

Editor, Evening Times:

One of the most important duties of good citizenship is the assembling of adequate, dependable, unbiased information as the first essential step in the process of political action. Dependable information, gathered from a wide field, carefully tested in the laboratory of reason, constitutes the mental tools with which we carry on the work of real citizenship.

In order to do our full duty as good citizens it is as important that we equip ourselves with fair, intelligent, and complete information on every subject and policy affecting the general welfare as it is that the fine carpenter or mechanic equip himself with a full and complete set of dependable tools in order to make his workmanship the most effective.

It is indeed a sad commentary on citizens when the bitterness and bias of party regularly takes precedence over calm and intelligent consideration of the vital problems concerning not only the general welfare but in many cases the very life and comfort of many of our people.

The man or woman that goes into an election booth to vote on the vital questions of policy and supporting a man to carry out those policies with no better preparation for that responsibility than the meager, biased information gathered from a single partisan paper, would be parallel to a highly skilled mechanic attempting to demonstrate the effectiveness of his skill with one tool when a number of tools would be necessary in order to bring into full play the maximum of his ability.

I admire people of strong convictions and positive philosophies, people who can stand firm in the face of strong and critical opposition, but the men or women who set themselves firmly against change in a fast-going, fast-changing world, who still hang to the old theory that "it was good enough for father and it's good enough for me," automatically disqualify themselves as effective co-workers in the great national endeavor.

Every worthwhile citizen should make every possible effort to place themselves in the most thorough and effective manner to do their full and complete duty, first as a citizen, second as a party member. The welfare of our country, the happiness and well-being of our fellow-citizens, should always be considered first above party victory or private gain. This old world is changing fast; are the social and economic forces really making the grade?

If the buying power in the hands of our people is inadequate to purchase the products of industry, the fair and intelligent citizens must surely ask themselves, just why this is the case. On every side we see stores and warehouses literally filled to overflowing with fine merchandise. On the streets we see many of our fellow-citizens in dire need of the very merchandise these stores display. Just what is the barrier that keeps the merchandise from passing into the hands of those who so desperately need it?

I have been taught all my life that the law of supply and demand was the supreme and determining factor in our social and economic order. If that is the case, the loaded shelves of merchandise must surely represent the supply in every essential detail. If that is so, human necessity as represented by hungry and poorly clad people must, according to all standards of human fairness, represent demand in its utmost form. Now just why are ample supply and pressing demand kept apart?

I must occur to every fair-minded person by this time that there is a third element; in fact it is the determining factor in bringing the law of supply and demand into functioning relationship. The third element is money. It is as absolutely necessary and vital to a smoothly functioning economic system as the circulation of the blood is essential to a healthy body. It must be constant; it must be dependable; it must be adequate. It must total in mass buying power the market value of all merchantable products combined. Surpluses are then avoided and human demands are supplied.

Until a money system of this kind is provided, scarcity will be our share when abundance could be supplied. The Progressive party of Idaho stands for and advocates a money program that will meet this need.

Wendell, Aug. 28, 1938.

PUBLISHER RAPS CENSORSHIP BILL

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Col. Robert L. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, charged in a nationally-broadcast address that Sen. Sherman Minton, D., Ind., had sought passage of a press censorship bill "for fear that a free press would continue to expose an alleged alliance between politics and crime in Indiana."

McCormick spoke over the NBC Red network in reply to a speech entitled "Freedom of the Press" which Minton delivered over the same station Aug. 13.

The publisher stated that the "McNutt-Minton Democratic organization" was responsible for the denigrations of the late John Dillinger and that Dillinger was killed "because, if taken alive, he would have exposed the alliance of crime and politics in Indiana."

Minton's animosity as it relates to the Tribune and to me is inspired by resentment against our newspaper because we are publishing the truth and constantly exposed the alliance between crime and politics in Indiana—politics in Indiana being constituted by the McNutt-Minton machine which under the McNutt regime in the governorship and the present Townsend administration has penetrated and with spoils into every corner of the commonwealth.

Paul V. McNutt, former Indiana governor and now U. S. high commissioner to the Philippines, Gov. M. Clifford Townsend, and Minton, are the recognized leaders of Indiana's Democratic party.

When is a mile not a mile?
Ask your SHELL DEALER

STOP AND GO, a mile STOP

In low and second, your engine makes up to 3 times as much work as in high—uses 3 times as much gas.

STOP AND GO driving fools your speedometer—while your car is going a mile, your engine may go the equivalent of two.

The number of extra revolutions your engine makes depends on how many times you stop and start—how much of your driving is in low and second gears.

You can't avoid it, and you can't avoid it, but you can't avoid it, and you can't avoid it.

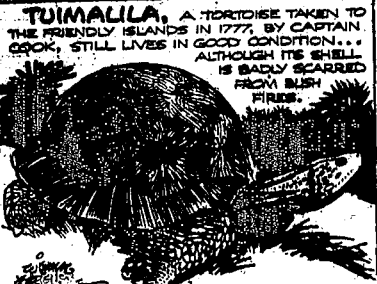

Shell engineers found that from a traffic stop, Super-Shell 'digested' gasoline as fast as any other.

To put this truly vast difference in the chemical structure of gasoline in a nutshell, Super-Shell is 'digestible'—every drop used in stop-and-go driving.

There is a Shell Super-Shell and you can't avoid it.

A plea for safety from POLICE CHIEF GILLETTE

School Days are here again. Soon our streets will be filled with boys and girls going to and from school. Their greatest hazard is our modern traffic. I therefore appeal to the motoring public to drive with every consideration for the safety of our school children.

There is a small percentage of drivers who will not heed an appeal for safety. They make it necessary to carry out a policy of rigid enforcement. State, county and city law enforcement agencies are working together to make our streets and highway safe. I appeal to each driver to co-operate by observing the traffic laws

HOWARD GILLETTE,
Chief of Police
