Despondent Buhl Resident Wounds Wife, Kills Self

BUHL, Oct. 12. (Special)—Clarence Harvey, 38, prominent in civic affairs of Buhl, was dead today and his 34-year-old wife, Myrna Davis Harvey, was near death in the local hospital as the result of what police term an attempted murder and a suicide.

The body of Harvey, who had evidently been dead since early Tuesday evening, as well as Mrs. Harvey, who was unconscious, was found this morning about 11:30 a. m. by J. M. Shank, Twin Falls probation officer and a close friend of the man and woman. Harvey, according to Chief of Police By Barron, evidently shot his wife through the mouth and then turned the gun on himself, inflicting a fatal wound. He, too, was shot through the mouth, the bullet going through his head, striking the kitchen ceiling, and then falling on the floor beside him. The bullet which entered Mrs. Harvey's head also entered and was embedded there a close range from the front door of the modest dwelling.

Discovers Tragedy
Shank discovered the tragedy when he went to the home this morning, while on route to Boise to pay his respects. Receiving no answer from the front door, he looked into the living room and found the bed evidently had not been used. He returned to the front door and found it unlocked. He immediately notified the local officers.

The tragedy had evidently occurred, according to Chief Barron, as the couple sat down to breakfast last night. The dinner, set on the table, was untouched. The gun used was a .38 Colt pistol. Two shells were exploded in the cylinder.

Found on Floor
The body of Harvey was lying with the head through the kitchen door opening into the living room. Mrs. Harvey was unconscious and was on the floor of the front room, only four feet from her husband. Although physicians for little chance of recovery.

No motive was given for the act although investigating officers said Mrs. Harvey had been in poor health some time and was often despondent because of this fact. The man's parents had been concerned over the health of the son for the past several months, friends said.

Dr. George C. Halley, county coroner, investigated and indicated that no report would be left.

The body of Harvey, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harvey, prominent pioneer ranchers of this section, was taken to the Evans-Johnson funeral home.

College Graduate
Harvey is a graduate of Pomona college in California and married Mrs. Harvey at that time. They have been married about 10 years, according to friends. They had three children. Mrs. Harvey's parents live in Pasadena, Calif.

Aside from his parents, the deceased man is also survived by a brother, Harold Harvey, secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

SWELEY LASHES SHERIFF'S OFFICE

CASTLEFORD, Oct. 12. (Special)—Conditions which he claimed exist at present in the Twin Falls county sheriff's office were flayed last night by Everett M. Sweeley, Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney, who called on voters of the county to "cause a complete turnover" in that particular department.

In his declaration, spoken here before a GOP rally, Sweeley made particular mention of recent incidents in Twin Falls relating to several local women being stopped and pushed by a man while they were walking in the vicinity of the courthouse and the junior high school.

"The man who was causing the trouble was in custody of the sheriff's department and the disturbances were not acted on by that department until the local police department called their attention to it," Sweeley said.

"After this man's freedom was checked by the sheriff's department the department ceased. For this and other reasons, a complete turnover in the sheriff's office would be to the benefit of the people of this county," Sweeley declared.

Sweeley's declaration that the man believed responsible for the series of incidents was in custody of the sheriff at the time they occurred, climaxed a "stirring" discussion, during which the man was a trusty at the county jail.

Sweeley mentioned no names, as he told the Castleford audience of the circumstances surrounding the occurrences.

'TRUSTY' PROWL REPORTS DENIED

Reports that a county jail trusty is the night prowler who pushed Mrs. Duncan M.D. Johnston last week in California, Sheriff Pratt, who said that Mrs. Johnston knows the trusty in question and "is positive" that it is not the man.

Mrs. Johnston injured an ankle in falling after the prowler pushed her. He had been in the "dorm" street north between Sixth and seventh avenue north.

Nie Saw Man
"Mrs. Johnston has had an opportunity to see the man in question," Sheriff Pratt said and also is positive in her identification in this matter that it is not the man."

Reports that the jail trusty had actually pushed several women on streets in the same general section of the city had been current for more than a week.

Trusty System Widepread
Pratt said that "we have used trusties here ever since I have been a member. They do odd jobs and assist in minor ways around the institution. A similar system is used all over the United States. The Idaho prison farm, for instance, is manned by trusties."

The sheriff declared the young man in question is serving a minor term for petty larceny and that his home and his relatives are in Twin Falls.

STRIKE CLOSES PRODUCTS PLANT

DETROIT, Oct. 12. (AP)—A strike of 2,000 men had joined the Motor Products company plant, officials of the United Automobile Workers union said today.

The demonstration started an hour after the day shift began work. Strikers locked the gates and announced that no one would be permitted to enter or leave the plant.

UAW officials said the strike was to negotiate a new contract. The old agreement, according to both management and union spokesmen, was "liberal to dislocate labor markets and assemble vast numbers of men dependent upon them for work to sustain life."

Jackson spoke before the national conference of Catholic charities.

Chest Funds Reach Almost One-Third as Drive Speeds

Hungary, Czechs in New Border Dispute

Total Goes To $2,686

With contributions pouring into the Twin Falls Community Chest headquarters at the city hall, and chest generals and workers covering the entire city as well as nearby farming districts, nearly one-third of the $2,000 asked had been collected by 2 p. m. today.

Announcement of the collection was made at that time by Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds, chest secretary, who said a total of $2,686 had been formed in.

With the second day of the drive set over it was deemed impossible that the halfway mark might be reached by tonight or at least tomorrow noon, observers said.

Meanwhile a group of women, under the direction of Mrs. O. C. Hall, continued to tour the residential sections with the purpose of knocking on every door and asking for contributions that all would have a chance to contribute.

A group of male workers are blanketing the business district as well as the wholesale district as the campaign gets actively underway. Fund collection is being carried out by Grand Park.

The drive started officially yesterday morning immediately after a check-off breakfast held at the Park Hotel and over which Mayor Painter, drive chairman, presided.

A grand honorarium on the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company building is receiving proceeds of the drive for benefit of the general public.

CLARK 'DOUBTS' ACTION ON SPAN

BOISE, Oct. 12. (AP)—Governor Clark today said he doubts whether the present state board of examiners could take action on purchase of the Twin Falls-Idaho Intercity link bridge unless the price of the structure is reduced.

Governor Clark said he believed the "present agreement" concerning the purchase of the bridge "is a good deal as far as the state is concerned" but that Secretary of State Ira Madsen and Attorney General J. W. Taylor felt that about 25 percent of the price "is a contribution which should be allowed."

"The present appraisal policy," said the governor, "includes the approaches which make the bridge usable. I doubt if further review of the one would result in cutting the price, for figures do not indicate that any contribution is allowed."

An appraisal drawn by the state highway department at the request of the board of examiners showed the structure to be worth approximately $400,000, varying with the amount of the bridge.

The appraisal on valuation of the bridge and approaches on which an agreement was reached with Consolidated of Public Works, A. C. Merritt for lease and subsequent purchase of the bridge was approximately $400,000.

It is in this latter figure that Governor Clark referred.

The grand duke had long suffered from an ailment of the arteries and a fatal infection to the right leg set in.

He was 62, a grandson of Emperor Alexander II and a cousin of Grand Duke Nicholas II, the last of the czar, slain by the Bolsheviks in 1917.

In 1918 he proclaimed himself emperor to the throne and was recognized by the surviving royalists as "emperor of all the Russias" in a declaration today.

Great Britain's duchess of Kent is his niece.

JAPAN REQUESTS POWERS TO QUIT FAVORING CHINA

TOKYO, Oct. 12. (AP)—Japan today officially urged foreign powers in China to avoid indications that they favored China and to refrain as far as possible from activities within the war zone.

Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, acting as foreign minister, made the request in a note that was sent to all foreign diplomatic representatives in Tokyo as military authorities announced the landing of Japanese forces for an invasion of the rich commercial area in south China. Japanese stock exchange prices shot upward.

The note recalled the difficulties Japan experienced in Shanghai and Kiangsu campaigns in protecting the properties of third powers and because the Chinese built defenses and military works and to use their own resources to protect their own interests.

It appears as warning that foreign governments adequately and effectively enforce the neutrality laws by making similar moves during the present hostilities in south China. While the suggestions were made in the form of a request they also appeared to be a warning to foreign powers to aid in avoiding international complications.

Konoye urged that foreigners refrain from any actions tending to indicate they favored the Chinese and asked that foreign governments refrain as far as possible from moving their vessels and troops or aircraft within Chinese territorial waters or through the air between Swatow and Pakoi.

Notify of Movements
He requested that Japan be notified 10 days in advance when any troop movements by foreign powers were contemplated. He asked the powers not to permit Chinese to use their properties or to permit foreign vessels to approach Chinese military establishments. All foreign properties, he said, should be provided with markings for guidance of aviators.

In event Chinese occupy foreign properties the Japanese must place them, he said, under Japanese control, leaving the use of facilities in order to prevent "unfortunate incidents" overlooking them.

5,000 Watch as Crew Digs for Slide Victims

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12. (AP)—Crews under arc lights, digging frantically into a cave-in while 5,000 persons watched, reached two buried men tonight, but it was too late to save their lives.

Earthshakes started by passing trains buried Chrysal W. Wellman, 24, foreman, and John F. Peeney, 45, laborer, under 40 feet of earth in a deep water pipe excavation.

Wellman's 12-year-old son Gerald saw his father disappear and watched, dry-eyed, with a puppy in his arms, while rescuers dug for two hours. Not until pulmonary squads gave up hope for the men did he burst into tears.

One of the men was buried to the chest, the other was seen to struggle desperately to free himself. But a second cave-in covered him.

MYSTERY CLOAKS DEATH IN RUPERT

RUPERT, Oct. 12. (Special)—Shrouded in mystery, the death of a transient, believed to be Quincy Kelly, was no longer a "Mystery" after a coroner's inquest today, when he was found in a dying condition in the freight yards of the Union Pacific Railway company here.

He was discovered lying on the floor of an open box car by an employee of the railway company who notified the night watchman. The car had just been switched on the tracks.

Coroner Allen Goodman, who was summoned to the scene immediately after his body was discovered, arranged for a medical exam and before the doctor could reach him.

Examination by a Rupert physician disclosed that the man had suffered a fractured skull. He had bled profusely from a deep wound on the base of the skull.

200 means of identification in a social security card, issued in New York City. Officials were today tracing the man through this medium.

It was whether he had any relatives.

It was wearing a brown coat, overalls and a dark shirt when found.

VANDEMBERG HITS TREND OF DEMOS

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 12. (AP)—U. S. Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan today railed on Republicans for their "trend of democracy" and their "plouge forefathers" and turned back at the polls a New Deal invasion that threatens to destroy the "freedom of the free."

The watershed for Kansas should be now, as it was in the earlier days, "they shall not pass." Vandenberg said in a speech prepared for delivery before a Republican rally here last night and broadcast nationally.

The goal of the Roosevelt administration, he said, is a totalitarian state—total authority at Washington, over everything and everybody. The issues to be decided in the November elections "transpire" will be whether the country is to be ruled by Vandenberg said, and the Republican party "impious to be the instrumentality of protest which must be removed at the moment in most states."

Delegates Turn Down Blast on New Deal Trend

CONVENTION HALL, HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 12. (AP)—The American Federation of Labor in a heated session today upset its policy makers and sidetracked a report charging that the present policies of the New Deal are pointed toward "Socialism."

The report, which did not cut sharply against the trend of New Deal policies toward increased state control over the lives of the people, was referred to the Federation's executive council.

There is no likelihood that it will come again before the convention here it adjourns sine die on Friday.

Virliolo debate preceded the first-day reversal which the powerful resolution committee, headed by Matthew Wolf, which prepared the report, has suffered in years.

Leads Attack
George Q. Lynch, head of the pattern makers, led the attack. He shouted from the floor that the report would be construed as a sneer at the New Deal and that it represented only the views of Wolf and John Z. Frey, head of the metal trades department and secretary of the resolutions committee. He demanded that it be referred to the executive council.

President William Green showed his displeasure. He described the report as a "philosophic analysis of economic, legislative and political" and as a "study of the resiliency of the American people." He complained that the report sought to place the federation on the opposing side to the Borah-O'Mahoney federal licensing act which the A. F. of L. previously had endorsed.

President Frey said that Lynch was in error and that the report represented the views of the majority of the delegates. He vigorously denied that it was an attack on the licensing bill and that it sought merely to recommend a policy of "self-defense."

With delegates milling about the hall and with the convention in turmoil, William McGowery, Cleveland, and secretary of the A. F. of L. offered an amendment to the report which would shut the report out of the executive council room which it will not emerge until next year, if then.

Again Wolf took the floor, not to oppose the amendment, but to warn that "there is new philosophy in government today."

This report is not and was not intended to be an attack on the administration," he said. "It is not criticism of what has gone before, it is a warning to all of what may come because of the New Deal. It is a plea to think about the government philosophy of the day."

BRITISH BATTLE BIG ARAB BANDS

JERUSALEM, Oct. 12. (AP)—(Despatch by censor)—Sandbag barricades were erected in the sacred city of Bethlehem today and heavy fighting was in progress between British troops and Arabs.

The air force sent out planes to aid troops in a clash with Arabs in the hills to the south of Bethlehem at dusk yesterday. Heavy casualties were reported but their number could not be estimated to date because British officers felt the Arabs removed many of their dead and wounded.

In another clash between a military patrol and an armed Arab band near Bethlehem, one soldier was killed and one wounded. The Arabs fled with an unestimated number of dead and wounded.

The outbursts were increasing despite a heavy influx of British reinforcements to the area. British and the British legion. Eight Arabs were killed yesterday in a battle in the Mahlan area. Native police were hunting terrorists who threw four bombs from the city wall of Jerusalem yesterday at a convoy of cars carrying the British high command. The British said the bombs exploded but caused little damage.

At Nazareth, the assistant manager of the Barclays bank was shot.

JAPAN OPENS BIG SCALE OFFENSIVE IN SOUTH CHINA

INVASERS HOPE TO 'DISILLUSION' CHINESE PEOPLE

HONO KONG, Oct. 12 (AP)—Japanese troops started an invasion of south China today in an effort to crush the last great Chinese center of resistance.

Tens of thousands of troops were landed from 70 transports on the shores of Blas bay, the notorious pirate port on the coast east of Hong Kong.

They entrenched themselves, established a base, and sent advance units inland toward Canton, 90 miles northwest of Blas bay.

Within a few miles of the coast they met the first organized resistance of Chinese. Foreign military observers here received reports that heavy fighting was in progress.

The opening of a new drive extended the Japanese theater of operations in China to a total area of 74,000 square miles, including 1,200 miles from north to south and about 600 miles from the coast to central China.

Japan had contemplated advisability of a big scale drive for many months. For several days past, their units had been moving along the coast toward Hong Kong.

At dawn today, the Japanese began pouring ashore at the village of Hoang, 40 miles inland from Blas bay. Within 48 hours of the landing, word reached Hong Kong first that there were 50 transports in the bay and that 30,000 men had landed. Then the figures were raised to 70 transports and 50,000 men, and the landing continued.

Massed Planes

Massed Japanese planes coincidentally made a devastating bombardment in the Swatow area, 150 miles inland.

It was expected that the first strategic problem of the Japanese would be to cut the Canton-Kowloon railroad which runs 110 miles from British Hong Kong to Canton, and thus cut off one of the most important Chinese sources of war materials from abroad.

The Japanese navy commander in chief in the southern zone said the purpose of the new invasion was to "disillusion the Chinese people."

He warned that though they would not molest non-combatants, they would, no mercy would be shown to those who challenged the Japanese.

Get Hankow Drive Back

Knowing the expense of a Canton drive, the Japanese had sought for many months to impress the independence-minded Cantonese with the "hopelessness" of the Chinese government cause, and effect a separate understanding which would lift the south effectively neutral.

On the Hankow front, the Japanese had not yet been able to reach the date when they would occupy Hankow, the provisional Chinese capital.

Each new advance met fresh Chinese resistance.

AF-TURNS DOWN NEW DEAL SLAP

"Voice" came the cry from all sides.

Pula Question

Green put the question. There was a chorus of "aye" to the motion to amend, to delete the word "sincerely" and called for a louder vote. A moment later the room echoed with the demand that the report be sidetracked.

The ill-fated report in addition to failing to criticize the President, twice emphasized that the committee did not question the "sincerity of motive" involved.

"Without any intention of using a label as a means of conveying disapproval, we must say that it should be clear to every American that the philosophy which is being developed in this bill is an ever-increasing domain is being given to the state, is expressive of the philosophy and the practice of Socialism," the report stated.

It attacked "too many reactionary judges" but defended the judicial system as "eminently the right system."

Reports of Bias

Complaining that there are too many federal reports "of bias and prejudice to business men," the report said that men and women in industry itself must come together in orderly manner to work out a self-protective, self-government, self-elimination of abuses and self-regulation in the common good.

"This is our refuge from state supremacy and we call upon industry, upon management, upon finance, to join with us to that end," the committee said.

"We have come to a time when there must be a halt, or we fear there can be no progress. We do not do raise the question of present day trend and tendencies. Most of this trend has developed out of a lack of consultation with labor in the affairs of state."

CHILD STRANGLES IN SWING NOOSE

A four-year-old Twin Falls girl was dead today—victim of a strange accident that overtook her at play last evening.

She is Marilyn Moyes, who was strangled to death when her neck became entangled in a noose hanging inside a home-made swing made out of an old auto tire. The accident occurred in the yard of a residence across from her home.

Accident Verdict

The death was caused by "negligent hanging," Dr. George C. Halley, coroner, said today.

The child was found hanging by the neck when her brother, Howard, 7, went to call her to dinner, according to Chief Howard Gillette. The father, Elmer A. Moyes, ran across the street when his son screamed. Mr. Moyes tried to revive the child after freeing her from the rope, but a physician pronounced her dead.

The swing was in the yard of the Thomas Campbell home on North Washington street. The Moyes family resides at 158 North Washington.

Couldn't Reach Ground

The make-shift swing, which hung by a single rope, had a noose overlapping within the tire which formed the swing proper. The child, evidently sitting on the inside of the tire, became entangled in the noose and was unable to touch ground with her feet, officers said.

Survivors of the child include the father and mother, three brothers, Clifford, 15, Howard, 7, and Leon, 2; two sisters, Betty Ruth, 11, and Pauline, 10. Mr. Moyes is a worker at the local Chevrolet garage.

The accident victim was born Feb. 10, 1934. She and her family are members of the L. D. S. second ward church.

Funeral arrangements were still tentative today. The body rests at the Twin Falls mortuary.

Mrs. Alworth is already one of the three Democratic nominees in the county election, and a special session would call for relief matters the county would have only two representatives in the legislature. Appointment is made by the governor.

Certain If Needed

Recommendation by the central committee is virtually certain to bring Mrs. Alworth's selection by the governor if he calls a special session.

Power is believed to be in Democratic hands after losing in a primary race for renomination.

Alexander toward selection of Mrs. Alworth as coroner. Democratic candidate for superintendent of public instruction was started by the committee today after Mrs. Alworth's selection. Democratic leaders she does not wish to run. Mrs. Alworth was nominated by write-in ballots, since no Bourbon candidate was on the primary ballot.

FDR PLANS GAIN IN NAVY BUDGET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt's announcement that next year's naval expenditures will be increased to a new peacetime level today sounded any hope yet held by officials for a reduction in armaments.

Many officials for some time have seen no immediate prospects of an international conference looking to disarmament. With the European situation still uncertain and renewed activity in the Sino-Japanese conflict, they were understood to believe the time inopportune for such discussions now.

Mr. Roosevelt's announcement was made at his press conference late yesterday. He said that rather than retard its national defense program the United States would speed it up and that an increase of $100,000,000 in next year's naval budget would be necessary to carry on new warship construction.

Such an appropriation for the fiscal year 1940 to more than $700,000,000. In addition there may be larger expenditures for the army, especially coastal defense and anti-aircraft batteries. Army officials at maneuvers in North Carolina this week claimed that these expenditures were insufficient for national security.

Salesman Strikes Rich Vein of Gold

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Edward B. Boomer-shine, San Francisco book and pencil salesman, started digging where a badger left off today he had a gold mine. He says many miners believe he is one of the richest strikers ever made in Nevada.

Boomer-shine and a prospector friend, George Butts, who believes badgers unwittingly are among the world's best prospectors, already have taken out more than 100 tons of ore worth from $30 to $300 a ton.

"One day Butts was out on the hill and noticed a badger digging. Boomer-shine said, 'Badgers may dig in limestone, an iron ore powder, because it is soft. Limestone that contains gold. This particular badger had dug up a pile of limestone, and Butts examined it. He saw yellow gold and sent a sample to the bureau of mines.'"

"The sample assayed at about 805 a ton."

Aiding or helping to locate is considered murder under the English common law.

HUNGARY, CZECHS IN BORDER FIGHT

Hungary was adamant and that the Czechs must capitulate fully and within a few days.

A "symbolic" occupation of two zones of Czechoslovakia by Hungarian troops yesterday, according to an advance by the Czechs, did little to restore harmony among the delegates here.

No Comment

Czech officials made no comment on the proceedings. The government at Prague was more concerned today with reconstruction of the country under the German orbit. It was reported that a customs agreement was being worked out in Berlin to cover a three-year period. The accord was said to cover three points:

- 1) Free trade between Czechoslovakia and Germany in Sudetenland.
- 2) Normal tariffs between Czechoslovakia and the rest of Germany.
- 3) A signing of a Franco-German exchange probably at 820 crowns to the mark.

COMEBACK SEEN FOR GHOST CITY

SHOSHONE, Oct. 12 (Special)—It seems that Kimmama, a somnolent whistling station several miles east of Shoshone, and at one time boasting of the reasonable population of a village, appears due for a comeback from its ghost period.

A CCC camp is being located at the spot and every effort will be exerted toward reviving its past industries. It at one period being a bustling dry farm section, and located near and just within the eastern border of Lincoln county. Roads and water holes for livestock are being created and it is stated that most of the roads now being extended radiate south toward Mendota.

A road constructed some years ago extends from the east side of the site and ends not far from Dietrich. It is located on what was at one time a projected highway from Pocatello to Boise, the project never having gotten under way as yet.

The region provides fine spring grazing, but it is somewhat hazardous for livestock because of the absence of water. It is considered feasible, over a proposed three-year program, to develop a system of water conservation that will settle the issue, and in this work CCC men will be employed, so it is asserted by Herb Sprenger of Shoshone, who is assistant superintendent at the camp. The nearest town of any import is Rupert.

About 11 years ago the village was made up largely of railroad construction crews at that time engaged in double-track work, the farmers who had previously located having flitted when dry farming dried out.

For a considerable period there has been nothing but a school house at the point, its pupils coming largely from the railroad families stationed there. Thus, over night, so to speak, Kimmama will become a bustling desert center of more than 200 people, and the jackrabbits will have to move to more congenial territory.

CANAL COMPANY ELECTION NOV. 8

SHOSHONE, Oct. 12 (Special)—The annual meeting of stockholders and election of directors of the Big Wood Canal company will be held Nov. 8, general election day, it was decided at the recent meeting of the directors.

During the high water of last spring some damage was done the spillway, apron and bumpers at Magie dam, and it will be necessary to repair about $1,500 expense on this item in addition to the regular full maintenance work, states Manager S. T. Baer. When the gates were shut down Sept. 30 there was in storage 133,000 acre feet in the Magie Impound, or 81 per cent of a full season's supply, and at American Falls to the credit of the local project 212,500 acre feet, or 61 per cent of a season's supply.

The board passed a resolution commending Ed Dayton, who for 22 years was gatekeeper and custodian at the dam, and who recently resigned because of ill health. He was voted a full month's pay for September, though resigning in the spring. No representative of the canal company will be appointed to the Revo reclamation meeting this month, it was decided.

GETS TORCHBEARER HANK Kathleen Orr, member of the Aokiya Camp Fire group at Buhl, has been awarded a torchbearer rank in nature here. She also received a special honor from national headquarters for the excellence of the project, which was kept for district at national Camp Fire headquarters in New York City. Mrs. Pauline Weaver is the guardian.

Idaho has a City of Rocks, two of them. One lies about 25 miles north of Gooding and is not the object of this sketch. It is said to be good for about one day's observation by people who have time to pause for study at each wonder.

P.T. A. Gives Vital Aid to Pupils Here

(Editor's note: This brief article explains concisely what the Parent-Teacher associations are doing in the Twin Falls school system. The assistance received some of its funds from the Twin Falls Community Chest, which inaugurated its 1938 campaign this week.)

By MRS. ROY EVANS
Slate P.T.A. Vice-President
Parent-Teacher associations comprise one of the largest groups in Twin Falls working to promote the welfare of children and youth through home and school and community cooperation.

Of the more than 6,000 P.T.A. members in Idaho last year, 673 were in Twin Falls. Each school has its own association working as a unit of the Council of Parents and Teachers.

The major portion of our Community Chest funds go for the hot lunch and milk program, while coal, liver oil, shoes and dental and optical work account for the balance. The number of children needing help is constantly increasing.

I would that every contributor to the Community Chest know the joy his money brings to less privileged children served by the P.T.A.

5,000 BATTLE MINNESOTA-ONTARIO FOREST BLAZE

17 KNOWN DEAD AS FIRE SWEEPS BORDER SECTION

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Oct. 12 (AP)—Five thousand volunteers and CCC workers, aided by observers in airplanes, were gaining control today of brush and forest fires which have raged for two days over 700 square miles along the international border. Seventeen persons already were dead and provincial police said many more were missing. It was not known whether those missing had fled to safety, were trapped or had perished in the flames and there seemed little chance of determining their fate until searchers could penetrate the stricken area.

The fire region extended from a point north of Fort Frances southward across the border to Rosseau, Lake of the Woods and Koochiching counties in northern Minnesota.

Fort Frances and International Falls, the only large communities in the area, were threatened for a time but the danger abated when a 30 mile an hour wind, which had driven the fire out of control, died down.

Situation Eases

The situation had eased today, fire fighters reported. They said several small fires had burned out and they believed they would be able to prevent other fires from spreading if winds did not rise again.

Hardest hit section was in Dance township, province of Ontario, 50 miles northwest of Fort Frances, where 13 of the victims were found. Twelve were members of the families of William, Frank and Noah LaBelle, brothers.

The brothers were working on the fire line when they were set out in a horse-drawn wagon to remove themselves and their children from the danger. But flames and fallen trees blocked the roads. They abandoned the wagon and continued on foot.

Hours later the bodies of Mrs. William LaBelle and her five children and of Mrs. Noah LaBelle and her four children were found a few feet apart.

Overcome by Smoke

"They must have been overcome by smoke before they got far," Constable Dayid Hamilton said. "The mothers' bodies were found over those of their smallest babies. Apparently they had attempted to use their own bodies to shield the children."

Maxine LaBelle, 11, daughter of Frank LaBelle, was found alive but died at a Fort Frances hospital.

Other known dead were Orville Williams, Little Falls, Minn.; Fred Service, International Falls; Joe Dardin, International Falls; Benny Falls, Dance township, and an unidentified settler near Fort Frances.

Ed Blackbird and Pete Acobee, Indian guides, prevented a flaming woodland near Watroud, Minn., last night and rescued Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ambire, an aged couple whose home was surrounded by fire. The couple had been given up for dead.

Ontario province had approximately 1,500 men—nearly every able-bodied male in the outback—were bottled around Fort Frances—fighting the

DIPLOMATS DOUBT CHANCE OF PERMANENT EUROPEAN PEACE

(Editor's note: Is it peace? That is the question all Europe is asking today as a result of the Munich conference. Returned to London after following the last phase of the European crisis, Webb Miller, United Press European correspondent, reports in the following dispatch on his impressions of the Munich "peace in our time.")

By WEBB MILLER
(Copyright, 1938, United Press)
(LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP))—After Europe's first explosion of joy in the belief that dismemberment of Czechoslovakia under a four-power agreement had avoided war, a definite reaction has set in. There are now doubts that permanent peace has arrived.

I am personally convinced, after following the crisis through every phase, that the men responsible for Europe's major nations do not place nearly as much confidence in the possibility of "peace in our time" as the general public did immediately after the Munich conference.

Hitler Determined
Adolf Hitler convinced Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, I learned, that his policy was that Germany is determined to become the predominant power in Europe. In their conversations leading up to the partition of Czechoslovakia, the Nazi Fuehrer felt absolutely no doubt in Chamberlain's mind that the third Reich expects to achieve political, military and economic domination on the continent.

He was understood to have indicated to Chamberlain that he regarded

SOCIAL SECURITY TASK SIMPLIFIED

Another step in simplifying social security procedure for employers has been made by a treasury decision abolishing one of the forms affecting employers under the act. It was indicated today in a message received here from Charles H. Cannon, manager of the southeastern Idaho field office for the social security board.

All employers subject to "title VIII" of the act were advised that the number applies to "form SS-3," entitled "Employer's Information Return," which employers have been required to file with local collectors of internal revenue when an employee reached 65 or died before then.

According to the treasury decision, form SS-3 should not be filed by employers "for any employee who dies after Sept. 30, 1938, or whose 65th anniversary of birth occurs on or after Oct. 2, 1938."

At the same time the board emphasized, Mr. Gordon said, that abolition of form SS-3 has no bearing on the filing of form OAC-1001 entitled "Statement of Employer"—the final employee wage report under the federal old age insurance system. Employers should continue to file this form with the nearest social security board office when an employee reaches 65 or dies before reaching that age.

Long Lived The King ... But It Was a Hard Life

All Europe marvelled at the pomp and splendor of Louis XIV. Yet, in all his 77 years, the French King had no refrigerator, fans or telephone... no radio or movies... no inflated tires on his gaudy coach. So, it appears that we Americans don't live like Kings at all. We live better... far beyond the dreams of our pioneers... in a land of peace, coddled by science and invention... strengthened by the knowledge that this land of ours will always offer ample rewards to those with faith in the foundations laid down by our forefathers... faith in our national destiny... faith in themselves.

CINDERELLA OF INDUSTRY OFFERED SUCCESS RECIPE

By JEAN DINKELACKER

Cinderella had a fairly godmother to solve her problems. Snow White had to lure forest animals to help her work out her difficulties. But what help has the girl who was graduated from school or college during the summer and is still jobless?

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, according to officers of the Twin Falls B. P. W. unit, has decided to come to the rescue of these modern Cinderellas by finding out what makes for a happy, well-rounded life, with economic satisfaction.

The pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, and so provide a fine success formula for those who will apply it.

Seek Success Formula Accordingly, the federation headquarters queried every one of its 48 state branches and asked for a list of the 10 most "successful" women in the state. And by success the federation makes clear that it does not mean earning capacity, or a place in the day's headlines. The federation emphasizes that it means women who have achieved success by making a contribution to their life and time, who have found time to help others and to be happy in the midst of economic pressure.

The response was universal and was dispatched to each woman asking her to give the secrets of her success. The results of the confidences will be made public throughout the country during National Business Women's week, Oct. 9-15.

First-Lady Speaks Meantime, America's No. 1 all-around woman, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, has anticipated this survey by telling the Business and Professional Women's club of Washington, D. C., her own formula for success, which is certain to prove helpful to the Cinderellas and Snow Whites of this day and age. Mrs. Roosevelt's five-point recipe for success is:

1. A background of adequate training, preferably professional or business.

2. Ability to consider her job important rather than herself, and not to take herself too seriously.

3. Capacity to feel happy though not in the limelight.

4. Willingness to accept blame when justified.

5. Courage to speak her convictions.

That formula would be as helpful to the older woman who is seeking a new field, as to the young woman just starting out in the business world.

Quiz Books for Screen Contest Go Above 3,000

More than 3,000 "quiz" books have already been given out at two of the three Twin Falls theaters for the $250,000 motion picture contest underway throughout America. Earl Baughman, local manager for Intermountain Theaters company, announced this afternoon.

The booklets are issued on request of patrons. Questions concerning designated motion pictures are listed, and answering of the questions plus a brief statement as to the content of the picture, the movie customer thinks is best, are the only tasks involved. Top national award is $50,000.

The contest will end Dec. 31, but since entries are based on any 30 of the designated pictures, contestants may start sending in their replies as soon as they have seen the necessary 30. Baughman indicated that local theater men expect to see many of the smaller cash prizes coming to south central Idaho, and feel that the prize to come this way.

Although the contest was designed primarily to stress the importance of motion pictures as an entertainment medium, Baughman said that word from New York headquarters shows box office returns from all parts of the country indicate theater business increase of 10 to 25 per cent over last year.

Number of movie quiz booklets given at the third Twin Falls theater had not been compiled today.

During 1937, nearly 90 per cent of the new-car sales transactions involved trade-ins.

Migration of Waterfowl Not Hindered

By ART SUBOTT
(NEA Service)

Wild ducks are finding their annual trips between their northern breeding grounds and southern winter spots much easier than they did a few years ago.

The danger of being taken by duck trappers, commercial hunters, and illegal gunners has been lessened as a result of the incessant warfare the U. S. biological survey is waging against these law violators in administering the regulations of the migratory bird treaty.

Starting South

Thousands of ducks will be winging their way south again, but the prospects of a large migration may be tempting to game poachers. Federal restrictions on the length of the hunting season and methods of taking the birds during the past three years have permitted more birds to return to their nesting grounds in the northern United States and Canada.

This season duck hunters will have a 45-day season, 15 days more than in the three years. But other restrictions such as the prohibition of baiting and use of live duck decoys, and the use of repeating shotguns are continued.

Few, But Efficient

Few, but efficient, directs the biological survey's drive against illegal waterfowl gunners, has stationed his game-management agents, known as "D-men"—the "D" standing for ducks—at strategic points along the main flyways that take birds instinctively from the north to the south.

The agents are organized into small squadrons so they can reach scores of reported violations quickly. In the Canadian mounted police, the "D-men" are few in number; the entire force numbering only 41 agents and 19 deputies. But in the past few years an effective system of cooperation with state game wardens has been worked out.

Beak Backed

"We have broken up the duck bootlegging racket in many places," says Crouch, "and by the end of the season there are probably no more men who will be wiped out several more of the more daring bootleggers who have been able to escape us thus far."

Not so long ago thousands of ducks annually fell victim to the commercial hunters and trappers, and through organized rings of duck bootleggers found their way into restaurants and night clubs in large cities. The bill-of-fares the birds commanded fancy prices.

The "D-men" have not found it easy to check these illegal practices, but on the west coast, in the timbered west, and in southern Louisiana the commercial hunters, trappers, and bootleggers aren't as bold as they were a decade or two ago.

Southern California Too Hot for Ohio State Footballers

The old line that has prevented Ohio State from ever beating a Pacific coast football team was working full blast when the Buckeyes met the Southern California Trojans at Columbus, Ohio, on the statistics, outgaining their western foes, and making fourteen first downs to their five. But the final score read: Southern California 14, Ohio State 7. In the photo above, quarterback Oliver Day of the Trojans says he has a hot time in the center of the Ohio line. But a second later he was stopped in his tracks as the five dark-shirted Ohio tacklers converged on him.

180 Deer Shot Since 1938 Season Opened

SUN VALLEY, Oct. 12 (Special)—State game department attendants located at the big game checking station between Idaho and Utah reported today that an even 180 deer has been reported at this point since season opening October 5.

In addition, five bear and one elk have been checked at this station. The elk was taken in the Selway area.

Game officials believe this number is slightly ahead of last year's count for the first five days of hunting.

While many deer have been reported as having been seen in the Cape Horn and Sea Foam districts beyond Stanley, most of them have been thus far killed in territory nearby, particularly in Trail creek, North fork and other canyons tributary to main Wood river. Practically none have as yet been reported as killed in the Selway. Middle Fork hunting grounds, an area better in late season than in early.

"Most deer killed so far," said District Game Warden Tom Jenkins, "have been small. The larger bucks are still ranging high and are difficult to handle. A few more seasons will be necessary before prize heads are checked in."

Jenkins Will Abandon Race

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 12 (AP)—The 1938 racing season on Dixie's famed Bonneville salt flats was definitely over today with the announcement of Ab Jenkins, Salt Lake City driver, that he would not attempt to shatter any endurance or measured mile marks this year.

Jenkins, who had brought a new car here from Indianapolis, had been recent rains had drenched the saline surface, 123 west of here. He added that the course was in no condition to run at the speeds I planned this year.

The Utah speed pilot, present holder of most of the world's endurance marks, arrived here with his Mormon Meteor II less than a week ago, intending to take a crack at his own long distance records. He also planned to experiment on the machine with the view of developing a car that could break the measured mile record.

Rest Following Elbow Operations

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Wesley Perrell and Spurgeon Chandler, New York Yankee pitchers operated on for elbow injuries, were reported resting comfortably in St. Elizabeth's hospital today. Both had bone chips removed. Perrell, acquired when the Yankees signed him as a free agent by Washington, had two fragments extracted, and Chandler, who won 14 and lost 4 in his freshman season, had one piece removed.

Trojans Hit by Injuries as WSC Tilt Nears

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12 (AP)—Bad leg resulting from the Ohio State game probably will keep Mickey Anderson, Bob Penning and Howard Sticker on the sidelines when Southern California plays Washington State Saturday.

The Trojan lineup to get some of the better of the scores of injuries they have come out in the last two meetings with the Cougars.

VALET

DETROIT, Oct. 12 (AP)—Lord Plumber, the grunt and groomer claiming titled ancestry, defeated Stoney Hall here, Monday night, but his sale, says, failed to meet the bidding.

Jeans bounced into the ring to hold his master's job in the best valet fashion after Lord Plumber had won the bout. Hall took one look at the tiler, and then had delivered a fast right to Jeves' waist to the dressing room file.

Important News! Ace Parker of Pro Gridders Has Mustache

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Out of the welter of rumors and counter rumors that has swirled this last week, I found one that was not only true, but also of great importance. It was that Ace Parker, the professional football player, had a mustache.

He is quarterback of the Brooklyn Dodgers, leader in the National Professional Football League.

News of Parker's mustache reached me by a motorcycle courier who had ridden north from Brooklyn, stopping only for rest lights, traffic snails, and a flat tire. He spent and was, his face lit with a faint smile, as he told me, partly from being in the mood, partly from being in the mood, partly from being in the mood.

"Parker is superstitious about making changes when the team is winning."

"I only hope," Parker said, "that I don't lead to a penalty for a necessary pass."

Ties Mark Standings In Grid Circuits

First unofficial standings of the southern Idaho football leagues show teams in every race, except the northern division of the Six-Man loop, in ties for first place.

In the Big Seven conference, Boise and Pocatello are tied for first place with a single victory and no defeats each. Caldwell, with a victory and a tie, is in third place and Nampa in fourth with one loss and one win. A tie counts for a half-game victory in most grid standings of the state of Idaho.—Burley and Twin Falls are tied at the bottom of the race with a single defeat each.

Big Six standings show Butte and Jerome tied at the top with a victory each. Rupert and Piler are in second place as a result of a tie game, with Oakley and Gooding bringing up the rear with one loss each.

In the Class B circles, Declo shows the way with three consecutive victories without a loss, although Fairlie has an unofficial record of a lone win against no losses in the Class B league competition.

Distich is in third place with two wins and one loss, while Hagerman and Albion stand at the 500 mark with a victory and one loss each.

There have been no league games played in the Little Four, which is composed of Wendell, Glens Ferry, Shoshone and Hiley.

The conference schedule will be under way tomorrow (Thursday) when Glens Ferry journeys to Shoshone for an afternoon tilt, and Wendell takes on Hiley Friday.

In the Six-Man loop, Castleford and Kimberly are tied for the top in the southern division with split results. Each team has won two games with no defeats. Eden, Hazelton and Hansen have one victory and one loss each, while Murtaugh and Acquia have a pair of defeats each.

The northern division of the same league gives King Hill a mark of two wins and one loss, while other three clubs have at least one defeat each.

Dell's Bowlers Set New Season Marks

Dell's bowlers moved back into the spotlight of the commercial league last night as they broke a few seasonal records and took three straight games from the Sego Milk crew of Butte.

With Rolly Jones rolling 605 for three games, the winners chalked up a seasonal record total of 2,684 for the three tilts. Jones is the first man to pass the 600 mark this year.

All of the Dell's bowlers except one were over the 500 mark, with Cap Brinegar hitting 568. Al Kircher topped the losers with a three-game total of 596, and the high game for the evening in singles—223.

Bill Hartfelder topped the losers for the evening with a three-game total of 567 and a high single game of 202. Roy Weller led the losers with three games of 504.

RED CROSS TELLS ROLL CALL PLANS

Annual roll call of the American Red Cross in Twin Falls county will begin Nov. 11 and continue until Thanksgiving, the board of directors of the Twin Falls chapter of the American Red Cross, announced today. The canvass will extend to all business houses and homes in the jurisdiction of the chapter.

Rev. Mark C. Cronenberg, pastor of the First Christian church, has been appointed as the roll call committee for Twin Falls county. He will be assisted by Ray Beachamp and C. P. Fowler, aides. They will work in cooperation with Dr. Charles R. Scott, Twin Falls, widely known throughout the state and the Pacific Northwest, who has accepted the appointment of chairman of the Idaho state roll call committee of the American Red Cross.

Relief Needs Heavy

Roll call relief has been unusually heavy over the entire United States this year, and the Twin Falls chapter has an unusually generous support of the roll call this year, Mrs. D. L. Alexander, chapter chairman, pointed out.

"Heavy shipments of flour and other food stuffs are now being sent into the war zones of foreign countries by the National Red Cross for civilian relief."

Plans for the roll call were completed at a meeting this week. Standing committees made their reports, and Mrs. Richard Smith, supervising nurse of the Twin Falls chapter, made a comprehensive report of the local Red Cross chapter's contribution to the health of the community.

Loan Closet Maintained

The local chapter maintains a loan closet of supplies, which the visiting Red Cross workers use in their field work. The closet includes linens, towels, blankets and numerous sick room necessities which are loaned to needy persons.

"During the past six months, Mrs. Smith announced, 56 families had been supplied with these supplies. Cases included 46 maternity, two accidents, one typhoid fever, three smaller, four tuberculosis, and one furnished to families needing them."

"The annual swimming campaign, which was held in observance of the occasion, valuable information will be distributed throughout the county in homes and schools. Mrs. Doris Bradley, county superintendent of instruction, and Twin Falls county Granges are cooperating in dispensing this educational material."

Accident Prevention

Next week is Home Accident Prevention week and in observance of the occasion, valuable information will be distributed throughout the county in homes and schools. Mrs. Doris Bradley, county superintendent of instruction, and Twin Falls county Granges are cooperating in dispensing this educational material.

The Junior Red Cross, which is maintained in all local grade schools, has also been organized in the local schools. Mrs. Cecil Jones, chairman, announced that the children are working on the annual Christmas exchange of gifts to children in foreign countries.

"Particular attention this year is being focused on children in war-torn Europe. Cash and material will be handed out, will be included in the gift boxes."

Clark Raps Politics in Prison Buys

BOISE, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governor Barilla today said that politics were mixed up with purchase of personal supplies for penitentiary inmates, and accused Attorney-General J. W. Taylor of influencing acceptance of purchases of tobacco and candy.

In a written statement, Governor Clark quizzed former deputy warden Rex Smith as saying that Attorney-General Taylor had instructed him to accept the highest of three bids in lot-purchase for political reasons.

Politics Mixed Up

"There seems to be some politics mixed up with purchase of personal supplies for the inmates at the penitentiary—things like tobacco, candy and materials for handwork," the governor said.

"The prisoners have no money to waste, so acting warden Smith tried the plan of getting bids from three Boleys firms on one purchase lot."

The governor said that a certain tobacco firm was the high bidder, but he refused the order for the purchase and now acts as purchasing agent for these supplies.

"Political Reasons"

"When Warden Smith was asked why this firm got the bid, he replied that the attorney-general had instructed him to award it for political reasons," the governor said.

"I am not trying to tell the attorney-general who his political friends must be, but political patronage should not be practiced at the expense of a group who cannot help themselves. The principle is sound and it applies to this relatively small amount of the large amounts involved in disclosures made by the highway audit."

New Staff Takes Over Junior Chamber Helm

Under guidance of a new official staff, the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce began clearing the decks today to press ahead with conduct of an energetic program focused on development of the 20-acre community recreation grounds near Harmon park.

George Detweiler was elected president of the Jaycees at last night's annual election meeting. The other presidential appointees chosen by the executive committee, John Gardner, withdrew from the race.

Other officers chosen: First vice-president—Robert Werner. Second vice-president—Lionel T. Campbell. Treasurer—Tom White. Secretary—Tom Peavey. Directors (two-year terms)—Bob H. Warner, John B. Robertson, Loyal Perry.

Top List

Detweiler and Bob Warner topped the vote totals with 43 each. Closest race for office was between Tom White and Al Westergren, which was decided by a 26 to 21 margin.

Prior to the election, the Jaycees had voted down a by-law amendment which would have made each outgoing president ex-officio chairman of the board of directors without a vote. The amendment lost by a small margin after Gardner outlined reasons for opposing it.

Robertson, the retiring president, presented his annual report showing at least one Jaycee project for each month of the past year. These included Christmas kids party, ski run at Maggie basin, Big Apple party, anti-spelling campaign, Kimberly Gooding boxing matches, purchase of the recreation grounds, demolition of old Bickel school, benefit auction, pet parade, softball, curling and sidewalk project, recreation program for youngsters, all-state swimming meet.

Others Probed, Dropped

Three times as many projects as these were considered, investigated and dropped, Robertson said. He recommended more active general membership interest and proposed non-active "courtesy" memberships for businessmen at higher dues.

Frank Rettig, Jerome, state president of Idaho Junior Chamber Jaycees, spoke briefly and urged Twin Falls representation at the next state board meeting in November at Jerome. William Churchman, Jerome Jaycee president, was introduced as well as Earle B. Williams, who spoke on traffic safety. F. G. Thompson, now of Jerome and president of Jerome Lions club, spoke informally.

Past-presidents' pins of the National Jaycees were presented by Robertson to R. B. Tofflemire, Claude H. Detweiler and E. W. McRoberts, who headed the local unit in that order.

Cash Balance

Tom White, treasurer, presented the annual financial report showing a cash balance in both general and park funds.

Lawyer Urged in Estate Handling

Request that E. M. Rayborn, Piner and Twin Falls attorney, be named administrator of the estate of the late J. E. Mulvihill, Piner, had been filed today in probate court.

Mrs. Lucinda Mulvihill, widow of the late resident, authorized appointment of Mr. Rayborn. The estate consists of $400 in Piner property. Mr. Mulvihill died Dec. 5, 1932. Heirs at law are the widow, two sons living in Twin Falls, and one daughter at Clatsop Falls.

Judge Guy L. Kinney set hearing for Oct. 21. Rayborn, Rayborn and Smith are attorneys in the action.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her prime (usually from 38 to 42), who fears that she is losing her attractiveness. About 80% of men, say, are attracted to women in their 40's. The suit concerned labor in a mica mine at the City of Rocks, near Oakley.

IT'S THE 'JUICE' IN THE WIRE THAT DOES THE WORK

You can't tell the difference by looking at the wires, because a "hot" one looks the same as a dead one. But you can tell when you try to make them work for it's the "juice" in the wire that makes the sweeper sweep, the toaster toast, and the washer wash.

Advertisers can buy space that looks the same, but it takes the spark of real reader interest to produce results. It's the "juice" in the wire that transmits millions of words every day from every country in the world to newspapers. Newspapers provide intensity of interest because they supply news and entertainment features that appeal to everyone. It is that interest that gets results for advertisers.

If you have a sales story to tell, a product or service to sell, make connection with the power contained in this newspaper's advertising columns.

DEDICATION WILL OPEN 'EXPLORING'

Dedication of a monument marking the site of the Battle of Almo creek, in which more than 300 white pioneers lost their lives when their wagon train was wiped out by Indians, will officially open activities Monday marking the first annual exploration of the City of Rocks. It was announced here this afternoon by Charles Brown, Oakley publisher and president of the Oakley Valley Chamber of Commerce. It is expected that Gov. Barzilla W. Clark and other men prominent in Idaho will be present at the dedication, scheduled to be held near the town of Almo.

Matta Band Plays
Brown also announced that the Matta band had been secured to play for various events planned throughout the exploration day, which is expected to see more than 1,000 visitors in the area, contemplated as a national monument.

The caravan, Brown said, will leave Oakley for the City of Rocks at 1 p. m. Monday and will be led by geologists Alfred L. Anderson, University of Idaho, Moscow; Alfred Raasor, Idaho Southern University, Pocatello; and Fuller Woodie, State Normal school at Albion. Accompanying the leaders will be Edmund B. Rogers, superintendent of Yellowstone National park.

The City of Rocks includes an area of four square miles of unique granite formations adjacent to camping grounds of the Old Oregon Trail and the Old California Trail, both followed by the early pioneers.

Banquet Monday
A City of Rocks banquet will be held at Oakley Monday evening. Because accommodations can be secured for only 250, Brown requests that reservations be made not later than today, with all requests being addressed to him at Oakley.

In traveling to Oakley, Brown suggested that the visitors take particular note of the sagebrush area which lies between Burley and Oakley. It is over this area which the proposed South Side Extension homesteads will develop.

With the endorsement and support of the Oakley Valley Chamber of Commerce, the Oakley Herald is offering cash prizes for the most interesting articles on the proposed national monument and also the proposed homesteads. Photographs suitable for half-inch reproduction and maps and drawings may be included as part of the writings.

Prizes will not be limited to articles published only in the Herald, according to Brown, but those published in any other newspaper or magazine will be eligible for awards. Visitors at the exploration are urged to take part in the contest.

Aside from Gov. Clark, Cong. D. Worth Clark is also expected to attend the exploration and to speak at the banquet that night.

MILK SUPPLY IN GOOD CONDITION

One year of milk supervision in Jerome, Gooding and Cassia counties has been completed under the south central district health unit, according to a report of activities for the first quarter of this year which was completed by Dr. Robert Stump, director.

In the report, Dr. Stump notes a "great deal of improvement" in the milk supply of Gooding, where the city ordinance is rigidly enforced with the active assistance of the city authorities. At this time, the four dairies are operating under approved methods, and there is practically no "bootlegging" of milk in that town.

In Jerome, according to the report, such little improvement as has been shown has come about largely through the individual efforts of part of the larger dairies. In addition to these recognized dairies there are 40 or 50 cows in and around Jerome. This condition necessarily places a great deal of unimproved milk on the market at low price, which makes enforcement of good methods in the district difficult until such time as the city takes a more active part in ordinance and enforcement, Dr. Stump said.

The city is now contemplating moves to eliminate unimproved milk and give the health unit the authority to improve or enforce their present ordinance.

Burley has six dairies, five of them producing milk under satisfactory conditions. The other has not been encouraged to undertake changes that would be necessary to meet even minimal standards and it is possible that this dairymen will sell his entire dairy to one of the other five operating individuals in the immediate future.

A majority of the dairies in this district, according to the report, was found to be operating in a very satisfactory manner.

LINKS MONEY ABUSE TO PENSION QUESTION

Editor, Evening Times:
Why don't the Townsmites and Ham and Eggs really get your dander up when all the wise guys start the chorus, "lifting yourself by your bootstraps, can't get something for nothing, crackpot, etc." make the fur fly? Blow the lid off!

Who gets something for nothing in this set-up?

Here's the farmer with five thousand dollars worth of property back of him, the automobile man with millions, the radio and refrigerator men with more millions. They can't buy, they can't sell for they have no medium of exchange. Barter being out of the question in such a modern complex society, they go to the debt shop where they are credited with so many dollars—in pen and ink, not money. This is the black magic where everybody borrows from a man who hasn't got it in the first place, and leaves him richer than he was before the borrowing started.

Eventually when the stage is all set for the big shakedown the bankers get their orders from higher up to call loans and refuse new ones.

Exact the country is in the lurch. Pension plans blossom and bankdom lays down a barrage of propaganda that laughs them off the map, completely fooling the 90 per cent who would indignantly deny that they believe anything in the papers, except maybe Pot Shols or the sport page.

Despite some undesirable aspects of pension plans every one of them will take from banking the power to create money out of nothing and lend it as a debt to society. With that weapon gone banking's only method of contracting and expanding the money supply and thus juggling prices so that a select few clean up will go to more than a siphon American wealth off for speculation in European wars and revolutions.

Then add up the bill that America always pays when somebody else fights and the interest on the medium of exchange, the national debt—which would be non-existent with honest money—the money it takes to support a bureaucracy, millions on rent and marketing fees in the WPA, people who would be producing new wealth as well as consuming it, and you can see that these cute little arithmetical illustrations designed to show how utterly impossible "Ham and Eggs" or the "wonder" plan is, are dust in the eyes.

A country that can still stagger along after being about the way it has ought to be able to support a lot of old folks in style—if the abuse stops.

Very truly yours,
PATRICK FINN.

FINDS PROTECTIVE TARIFF DIDN'T PROTECT

Editor, Evening Times:
The tariff—much talked about, little known about—after hearing a belligerent but all informed citizen abuse the President, the reciprocal trade treaties, during which trade has made many millions of statements, I took counsel with some available information compiled by the U. S. tariff commission, and offer some of the salient figures found therein. The figures are all taken from years that had Republican Presidents and had our so-called protective tariff, which was presumed, in the local mind, to tax every commodity that entered our country.

During 1902, under Theodore Roosevelt, free imports were $408,040,000; taxable imports $506,677,000; our exports—goods sold—were only $301,363,000 above all imports.

In 1905, under the same President, free imports were $501,000,000; taxable imports $723,700,000. These were the good old days when the advocacy of a high tariff was a passport to public office, but you will observe that nearly half the imported merchandise paid no tariff tax.

In 1912 under Taft, himself an advocate of trade treaties, our free imports were $522,000,000; taxable imports $1,575,030,000; who was being protected then?

That apostle of big business, who seemingly believed in a dear dollar but a cheap man, was President in 1912, and who or what did Mr. Hoover protect? The tariff record for 1922 shows free imports of $685,000,000; taxable $439,000,000; he was not trying to build up our domestic trade with reciprocal treaties either. It appears that if a high tariff on imports is protective, we certainly got along for many years with only the most favored part of our producers protected.

Probably the original advocates of reciprocal trade treaties in this country was James G. Blaine in 1884; then McKinley in 1901; Taft in 1902; the list is neither new nor dangerous. It seems our only chance to do business with the world, for the foreign nations have seen our tariff fence; who they have built fences just like ours, so what.

It's either "hose-trade" or no trade, whichever our producers prefer.
