FDR HALTS CZECH REARMEF FOLLOWS SPENDING

HELP ASKED TO SETTLE CZECHS' BORDER DISPUTE

BUDAPEST, Oct. 13 (UP)—The Hungarian delegation negotiating with Czechoslovakia for settlement of Hungary's minority demands declared tonight that the problem would be submitted to Great Britain, Germany, France and Italy for a decision.

The declaration by the Hungarian representatives came after a threatened breakdown in the negotiations due to charges that the Czechs were stalling, a demand by Hungarians that Prague "to terms by this evening and a series of Czech charges that Hungarians were fomenting terrorism in Ruthenia and Slovakia.

Hungary had demanded negotiations at the frontier town of Komárom that the Czechs give up a large area on the southern frontier of Czechoslovakia and that Ruthenia, at the eastern end of the Czech republic, also be surrendered. The Czechs insist on a settlement which was rejected and Budapest newspapers began agitating for use of force to attain a settlement.

The declaration by the Hungarian representatives came after a threatened breakdown in the negotiations due to charges that the Czechs were stalling, a demand by Hungarians that Prague "to terms by this evening and a series of Czech charges that Hungarians were fomenting terrorism in Ruthenia and Slovakia.

Rail Leader Presents FDR with 4-Point Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UP)—George M. Harrison, president of the Association of American Railway Labor Executives, today presented to President Roosevelt his four-point plan for rehabilitation of the $230,000,000 railroad industry.

Harrison's program called for:

1. A genuine attack on the problem of competition.
2. A rate policy, taking into consideration both good and bad times.
3. Financial reorganization.
4. Consolidation.

Harrison, who is a member of President Roosevelt's management advisory board on the railroad problem, said the President has promised to assist in obtaining congressional approval of a board scale rehabilitation program.

The initial meeting of the special advisory board, comprised of equal representation of management and labor, ended in an impasse when both sides agreed no substantial program could be evolved until the railroad wage controversy is settled.

Carriers are demanding a flat 15 per cent reduction in wage rates. A cut which would represent approximately $250,000,000 annually.

"The railroads," Harrison said, "in my judgment, should withdraw this request for a 15 per cent wage cut and ought to begin an attack on the present financial situation since we now have a promise from President Roosevelt himself that he will sympathetically assist in getting a broad-scale program for rehabilitation of the railroads."

Director of the question of competition, he said all forms of transportation—land, water and air—should be subjected to substantially the same character of federal regulation, with favors for none and handicaps for none.

"That portion which cannot stand this cut is not a social asset and not an economic necessity," Harrison said.

The railroads, he said, should be required to accumulate reserves three times the amount of fixed charges before declaring dividends. He said the interstate commerce commission should be authorized from approving funded debts exceeding 60 per cent of the value of the property for rate making purposes.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA CENTER OF NEW TERRORIST REIGN

KOMAROM, Czech-Hungarian Frontier, Oct. 13 (UP)—Official dispatches today disclose a reign of terror in Ruthenia by organized bands equipped with foreign arms and led by Hungarian reserve officers. The news caused a grave crisis in Czech negotiations for settlement of Hungary's minority demands.

"Terrorism also was reported from Bratislava, where a number of Hungarians were arrested in the Pecen district of Slovakia, part of which the Budapest government is demanding in its drive for return of more than 700,000 Magyars in Czechoslovakia. Those arrested were charged with terrorism.

Center of Terrorism
Mukaevce, a city of 28,000, was the center of the Ruthenian terrorism which official statements described as "murder, manslaughter, robbery and crimes endangering the public."

While the frontier, Ruthenia, increased relations between Hungary and Czechoslovakia were strained by threatened breakdown of negotiations for peaceful settlement of the minority question.

In many ways the terrorist activities resembled the outbreaks in Poland. Poland is still under attack by Germany.

Policeman Killed
Czech police enlisted bands of terror which were active in the Ruthenia district and reported that a Czech sergeant named Ondrej Ryba, was killed in fighting with the bands. The sergeant said the terrorist bands had appeared in strength during the last 48 hours and were organized on a military basis. They carried arms. The terrorists were equipped with foreign arms and munitions, according to official messages, and dispatched from Bratislava, said that alleged Hungarians creating disturbances in the area were four feet tall, well-armed, carrying revolvers, hand grenades and dynamite.

WHEELER BLASTS WPA; SAYS 'PURGE' STILL ON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UP)—Sen. Wheeler D. Mont., charged today that in some instances the works progress administration has become "little less than a racketeering organization."

Wheeler, who broke with the administration over the supreme court bill, said in an interview that so-called administration "purge" of conservatives did not stop with the primary elections, and still is in progress.

"It is regrettable," Wheeler said, "to see some of the departments resorting to the same type of politics that was played during the dark days of Harding and Daugherty."

He said he found dissatisfaction among western farmers and relief workers.

"Economic conditions in the west are not picking up, due to farm prices not rising as much as Montana takes a bustle of wheat to buy two loaves of bread. The farm policies of the administration are completely breaking down as I predicted they would."

For Reaching Legislation
"There has got to be far reaching farm legislation at the next congress. We have to get mass production in industry. Mass production in industry cannot succeed without mass consumption. You cannot have mass consumption here when your grow cotton are unable to buy clothes made of cotton."

Wheeler said he had a basket of wheat to buy two loaves of bread. It is evident that we have not solved the farm problem. We see are dissatisfied because they see so many political claims being appointed to white collar jobs and they will become a political racket."

Will Become Liability
"While it may be an asset to a political organization to control WPA, it won't be long before it is a liability. In some places the WPA organization is not only being used for political purposes—it is little less than a racketeering organization."

Wheeler said that the "purge" issue will become stronger. He said that his friends in Montana who hold government jobs "are marked down for local political offices and in the national party service, the Indian service, WPA or the department of justice."

TELLS WILLIAMS TO KEEP WITHIN REGULAR BUDGET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UP)—President Roosevelt today instructed Aubrey Williams, deputy works progress administrator, to hold expenditures within the $700,000,000 balance of emergency funds until next March 1.

Mr. Roosevelt issued the instructions during a White House conference with Williams.

During the conference, Williams presented a breakdown of the relief agency's expenditures since July 1, when congress made available $1,455,000,000 for its use. The breakdown showed the following outlays by months:

- July—$201,000,000.
- August—$201,000,000.
- September—$191,000,000.

"We have hopes of stretching the money out as desired by the President," Williams said.

"Employment is increasing everywhere but the country's expenditures are more than at any time in a year. There is a steady increase in employment all over the United States and in all industries."

He said WPA rolls now total 2,130,000.

The last congress, in providing relief funds for the current fiscal year, made provisions for only the eight months—a period ending March 1. President Roosevelt plans now to make a survey of the situation at that time, and present a recommendation for a supplemental appropriation to finance the relief operation until the end of the fiscal year.

Stray Bullet Strikes Local Truck Driver

LLOYD Lehman, 24, a Twin Falls truck driver, had a bullet wound in his leg today as the result of a stray bullet from a truck driver last night in Sacramento, according to a United Press dispatch received here today.

Joe Grey, 33, Sacramento, was jailed for assault with a deadly weapon after police said he fired a shot at Lester DeWalt, who dropped unhurt to the driveway of a service station in the California county. Lehman was standing in an adjacent service station when hit by a stray shot. Clyde Rouse, 39, and his son, Russell, 19, also both Twin Falls truckers, were endangered by the shot. One bullet pierced the trouser leg of the elder Rouse. Grey fled but was captured in a few minutes.

Clyde Rouse formerly worked for Twin Falls and Winemucca, Nev., trucking until he was newly hired to start a private haulage business here from California.

New Deal Works on 'Two-Price' Program for Food and Clothing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UP)—The New Deal developed plans today for a "two-price" system to help the food and clothing industries. The plan is to finance the sale of food and clothing to low-income groups at reduced prices.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau today endorsed the plan proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for the sale of surplus cotton and food products in this country at low prices to increase domestic consumption.

"That will be the best money ever spent for the people of this country where it could be spent to better advantage," Morgenthau said.

Morgenthau said several congressional committees were studying the U. S. public health service, and himself were held on the proposal in May and June.

Emphasis Shifted
Wallace said emphasis had been shifted in recent weeks from export subsidies to the "subsidizing" of domestic production in an effort to flood markets with surplus quantities of wheat, cotton and dairy products.

There is to be a two-price system and if there is to be dumping, I would much rather see American consumers the beneficiaries of a program of surplus management," Wallace told a press conference today.

The discussion, he said, include a proposal that the government sell cotton and other products on which it has made loans to processors under an agreement that the products would be resold at a low price "the lower one-third of the population."

No Added Appropriation
He said the loss to the government program would be covered by an additional congressional appropriation. It apparently would be charged against loans already made for similar products.

Under the proposal being studied ordinary consumers would pay the regular market price. Families in the low-income group would be given cards which would entitle them to a lower price made possible by government subsidy operations.

Under an earlier similar plan put into operation in New York City by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia under which low-income families received cards entitling them to milk at a price less than a quart, Wallace said "I think he has got something there."

ODGEN, Utah, Oct. 13 (UP)—Police here today are hunting for kidnapers of a young girl who was taken from her home in Boise, Idaho, from the Boise business district and forced her to drive over a roundabout route, according to police today.

Carver said he does not attempt to rob men, but did describe him as tall and dark-complexioned. He said he was kidnaped Tuesday evening about 11:30 p.m. and was taken "drive every which way, acting like a maniac, so that it took us nearly 17 hours to reach Odgen."

When Carver was released, he stated the man handled a ride with another motorist, Carver said.

Homer Martin, president of the union, announced that an agreement was reached with the company. The agreement would be held over for later negotiation while the plant operated and a new contract was being drawn.

Narcotics, Cameras in $300 Loot at Pharmacy

Local police this afternoon were following several clues in their search for the person or persons who early this morning broke into Traylor's pharmacy and removed various articles, including narcotics, valued at approximately $300.

The break-in, police records show, was the first major burglary to be noted in Twin Falls for more than a year.

Cameras Gone
Aside from the narcotics, police investigators removed several boxes, including a motion picture camera, a quantity of cigarettes, some cash and five pen and pencil sets before cutting a search for the break-in "knew what they were looking for." Entrance into the store was gained by cutting a hole in the wall over a window of the Mason Beauty shop, occupying a balcony at the rear of the building. The thief or thieves evidently left the building in the same manner.

Police believed a wooden ladder, which was kept at the rear end outside the store, was used to reach the window although a fire escape passed within a few feet of the window entered. The basement of the store did not show signs of disturbance and the cameras and pens the intruders found it necessary to go to the front of the building.

Don't Still Locked
Joe Ryah, high school student who sweeps out the store each morning, reported to police the back door was locked when he opened it at about 7:30 a. m. He did not notice that anything was disturbed.

"Fact that the store had been entered was discovered," Mrs. Traylor, "beauty operator, who noted that the screen had been cut and the window split open.

In order to get into the compartment where the narcotics were kept, the thief broke a padlock, using a hammer and pair of scissors to do the work. Both implements were stolen properly and the scissors were broken during the operation.

$10,044 TOTAL ON BEET CHECKS

Total of $10,044 has been received by growers in Twin Falls county sugar beet growers as benefit payments from the federal government for compliance in 1937 with terms of the present sugar act.

Mr. Lincoln said that the total sugar payments for Idaho for 1937 which have been made to date is $1,102,218. Only 85 of the 4,000 applications anticipated from Idaho farmers are yet to be submitted for payment. The average amount of money received by each grower in Twin Falls county is $207.10.

Every effort will be made to have the preliminary office work finished so that the payments may be made without delay. The payments for 1937 will be computed on the basis of the total weight of recoverable sugar at 60 cents per cwt., which is the basis upon which payments were figured for 1937.

$500,000 OIL BLAZE IN EAST IS EXTINGUISHED

LONDON, N. Y., Oct. 13 (UP)—The fire which broke out in the 11th hour through the 12-acre Citicorp office building, started by lightning, had been put out today.

Approximately 500,000 gallons of gasoline, kerosene, oil and fuel oil were stored in the building. The fire was extinguished today and it had caused more than $500,000 damage.

Firemen, who had waged a losing battle most of the night, gained their first advantage early today when four feet of foam covered the burning area.

A fire tank that had threatened to explode and spray the whole area in 2,000 gallons of flaming crude oil, was doused.

Numerous pools of oil, boiled over from unexploded tanks, were still burning, and men of steel were busy today to pump the tanks that had blown up or split their seams and spilled their contents in the terrific fire.

Some of the thundering explosions broke windows in houses three miles away. At its height, the fire appeared to have reached a height of 100 feet.

The fire started at 1 p. m. yesterday when a lightning bolt struck an 800,000-gallon tank. A three-ton mass of molten iron, dislodged by that blast, was hurled 100 yards into the street of the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

ADMINISTRATOR APPEALS FOR END OF LABOR STRIFE

TELS AFL MEN UNITED FRONT IS NEED OF UNIONS

By ARTHUR F. DEGREVE

BOISE, Oct. 13 (UP)—Hour Administrator Andrew J. Wainwright today in an appeal to the American Federation of Labor convention for prompt settlement of organized labor's civil war.

"Look at the gains organized labor has made in this country in the last few years and think what it could do for itself and the nation if it were again on the great united force," Andrews declared.

He touched upon a point troubling both him and the nation—the split in labor ranks complicates their work and brings charges from both sides that they are unfair to the other.

Friends on Both Sides

"I have good friends on both sides of these arguments," he said. "I am able to see the advice of both of them without each feeling thinking I'm going to get the wrong end of the stick."

He pointed out that when friends are often found to reconcile their differences.

"I am fully aware of the fact that the labor standards act which the administration is defending is against Federation criticism."

He quoted Federation President William Green as saying that "the law contains every major feature and principle originally sponsored by the American Federation of Labor," and specifically answered charges of "dictator" leveled by John P. Frey, head of the Federation's metal trades department. Andrews said:

"Mr. John Frey, who has done much for the cause of labor, and whose sincere interest in the welfare of his country cannot be questioned, has been quoted as saying in connection with the administrator's power to appoint a new industry court: 'I wonder if his differences with the first one become irreconcilable.'

"I see it, that is similar to a judge telling a jury that its function is to pass on the facts, but if the verdict is not satisfactory to him, he cannot change the case or impeach a new jury."

Essential Difference

"The essential difference is that when a judge sends a case back or imposes a new jury, the defendant remains in jail or the plaintiff must wait for his money, but when the administrator differs with an industry committee and appoints a new one, there is no wage order. The administrator cannot issue a wage order except as the result of a committee recommendation.

"The committee cannot change a recommendation. Neither the administrator nor the committee can act without the consent of the other. The administrator cannot issue a wage order except as the result of a committee recommendation."

AFL REAFFIRMS GERMAN BOYCOTT

CONVENTION HALL, HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 13 (UP)—The American Federation of Labor convention today reaffirmed its boycott of German products, condemned the "brutality of dictators" but opposed united action by the democracies to quarantine war-makers as "not the ways to peace."

The delegates branded as "unsound," "unworkable," and in some cases "undesirable" proposals made in two resolutions which would have placed the convention on record as favoring United States participation in any joint move by the democracies to quarantine aggressor nations.

Pointing to the recent European crisis, the committee on international relations, which recommended non-concurrence in the resolutions said:

"Would the United States have joined other democracies in such a war? We cannot feel sure; and if we cannot feel sure about a war, how much more doubtful must we be about a future incident of the facts of which are as yet unknown. We regard the resolutions as unsound, unworkable and there may be cases in which it would be likewise undesirable. These ways are not, we feel, the ways to peace."

Pheasant Dinner Looms for D. A. V.

Next social event of the Disabled American Veterans and auxiliary will be a pheasant dinner and special luncheon according to announcements made when the groups met this week at the Legion Memorial hall. The date will be announced later.

The auxiliary will meet Oct. 25 at the home of Mrs. Lydia Graybill for a hostess luncheon. Mrs. Emma Stone, commander, presided. A report was made on the cooked food and apron sale conducted last Saturday. Mrs. Edith Knight served refreshments.

Next regular meeting of the D. A. V., falling on Nov. 8, has been cancelled, since it falls on election day. An outside speaker will be engaged for the next meeting, William H. Weller, post commander, announced.

MRS. ELDER SEES DEMO TRIUMPH

Idaho voters will give the Democratic administration the same mandate to "go ahead" as that received in the overwhelming landslide in 1932 when ballots are counted. Nov. 8, Mrs. Robert H. Elder, vice-chairman of the Idaho Democratic party, predicted here today while on an organization tour. She conferred with leaders of women's organizations.

Visiting local Democratic club women, Mrs. Elder predicted "an almost total rejection of every Democratic official in the state and in every county so the far-reaching, beneficial program can be carried to completion."

"Idaho voters are intelligent and they also know which administration has offered the best public service," Mrs. Elder declared. "Our state administration has given the federal program the sympathetic cooperation which has brought Idaho more than $120,000,000 in benefits and loans.

"Idaho's state administration has reduced the value of the state property more than $112,000,000 in the past six years to bring benefits to every property owner in the state. The bonded debt has been reduced from $6,000,000 to a small amount and by the end of next Democratic term the debt left by the Republicans will have been wiped out.

"Filing of more than 2,000 miles of state highway in the past six years, building of hundreds of bridges, work accomplished by the CCC program and reclamation benefits did not happen by accident.

"This decade is the first time in the history of the world that the people have really had a voice in government and the first time that they have gotten the kind of government they want."

APPEAL FILED IN ADOPTION BATTLE

Legal battle for possession of a girl not yet four years old swung back into district court today when Ben Lilleck and Mrs. Julia E. Lilleck appealed a probate court decree vacating the order by which they had adopted the child, Margie Jane Orr.

The Lillecks appealed Judge Guy D. Kinney's order of Oct. 4 in favor of Mrs. Anona Carr, mother of the girl. The appeal was filed by Chapman and Chapman and Lionel T. Campbell on questions of law and of fact. Witham and Walker are counsel for Mrs. Carr.

In Court Before

The adoption fight was in district court recently when Judge J. W. Porter upheld jurisdiction of the probate court to consider Mrs. Carr's motion to vacate the adoption order. Following such consideration, the probate judge issued an order terminating the adoption decree of Nov. 26, 1935 "ab initio."

He listed as grounds the fact that none of the parties involved was in the presence of the probate court when the petition for adoption was made and executed. Judge Kinney ruled that as a result of the probate court's jurisdiction, the sufficient to enable it to make and enter a valid order of adoption.

Was Infant Then

At the time the petition for adoption was filed by the Lillecks, Margie Jane was three and one-half months old.

NO TALK OF CUT IN SILVER PRICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UP)—Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau today said he has not considered reducing the domestic price of newly mined silver on Dec. 31, expiration date of President Roosevelt's proclamation setting the price at 64.84 cents a fine ounce.

"He was asked if his price conference about reports he was considering an order to reduce the price, now almost 22 cents an ounce above the world quotation.

He replied he has given no thought to the domestic price, and pointed out that he has until midnight Dec. 31, to recommend revision.

Didn't Refer to Silver

His attention was called to his testimony last year before a house committee in which he expressed opposition to government subsidies.

He emphasized that he was not referring to subsidy on domestic silver, but added:

"If we're going to do away with any subsidies, let's do away with all subsidies."

Chinese Trade

Morgenthau said that conferences with the Chinese financial mission which is seeking a broad agreement with this government, still are in progress. It was understood that in addition to the silver sale which China has been making to the treasury, the Chinese are seeking to purchase large quantities of wheat, flour and cotton on a credit basis.

Morgenthau said representatives of the agriculture department have participated in some of the conferences with the Chinese officials.

EDUCATION TREND THEME OF TALK

Teaching the individual to live each day of his life as successfully as possible, is one of the modern trends in education, Mrs. Rose Murray North, dean of girls at the Twin Falls high school, told 100 Kiwanians and Lions at a luncheon this noon at the Park hotel.

PHEASANT FACTS

(The survey you've been waiting for)

Pot Shots: When pheasant season opens Saturday, your readers will be highly concerned with an expert summary of the situation. After extensive surveys I have discovered these facts about the 1938 season:

1. Just as many pheasants as ever will fly in the wrong direction.
2. Just as many pheasants as ever will be discovered by this unportant-mankie action.
3. There will be an increase of seven per cent in the number of farm windows peppered by buckshot.
4. There will be an increase of 19 per cent in the aggregate temperatures of indignant farmers.
5. There will be an increase of eight per cent in the number of farmers puzzled over just how the blankety-blank so many blankety-blank hunters could mistake a chicken for a pheasant.
6. There will be no change in the number of ducks flying just out of reach while you're hunting pheasants in a field where there does seem to be any pheasants.
7. There will be a 30 per cent increase in the number of proud hunters smirking beside a string of deceased pheasants.

FIRST CALL FOR WINTER DRAWERS!

Gooseflesh on my shoulders. On my thigh bone lean and lank. Gooseflesh on my ankles. Gooseflesh on my shank.

The weather's turning colder. Windy in the street. The beans and hay are piled. And autumn's on the clock.

Again the chilly breezes Roar in treetop channels; Its gooseflesh-ling, my hearties— Get out your heavy— The Wooden Horse

IF WE HAD a silver derby, we'd award it to the Jerome gem who sent us a Pot Shot's contrib in an envelope bearing the most unusual address method that's been used on us in the three years more or less of Pot Shot's existence as a column. This ingenious north side personage wrote the word "Jerome" on the envelope, and a drawing of a pot that had been hit by a lot of buckshot. Then he put "Twin Falls, Idaho," that's all—but Uncle Sam's postal people were shipped it to us so fast that we got it three hours after it was postmarked in Jerome.

Pheasants Must Obey Law—If We Get Law— Says Flery Snowball

Promulgating the most important political plank that ever popped into the head of an office neophyte, Mystery Candidate Snowball Latham today is making a plea for legislation to be required by law to tell when a hunter shoots.

"Each of those 15,000 will waste 20 shells, which makes 300,000 shells lost," said Snowball, scratching his head. "If each of the 15,000 hunters, the waste shells would total 1,000,000. It staggers the imagination. And if each went out 10 times that's 10,000,000 shells you can't count up. It's waste no more!"

He pledged himself to favor legislation making it a felony for pheasants to exceed their limit.

"Under this law," said Snowball, "if a hunter misses, the pheasant won't be required to speed up and fly into the pattern of a flycatcher. Snowball's newest plan supplements his earlier promise to favor legislation that would require the Friday to every south Idaho resident, Campaign Manager Frank Magel, according to the Idaho write-in campaign, informed Pot Shot today that the Latham label badges are about ready to go to the printer. He urged a united front with Snowball for constable in Twin Falls and invited other communities to do the same thing to show that elections can sometimes be a lot of fun.

Ho for the frontier life! Except in Europe.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
MYRA DOMBEY—baroness, wife of the sensational aviator HOBBITT MARRAGE. Neighborly. DANCY LESTER—Myra's classmate. ANNIE FREELY—Myra's friend. YESTERDAY—Tait and Anne start out for the country where Myra says she has a gun.

CHAPTER V
Tait turned quickly to see how Anne would receive the news that there had been a revolver in Myra's bag. Even in the dim light from the instrument panel he could see her face blanch.

"That's not true!" "It is, though," Tait said. "Did Myra own a gun?" "Never that I know of," Anne answered quickly. "Someone was trying to make her seem the guilty one." "I hope you're right. But shooting Ludden Dombey and getting that gun into Myra's bag before the lights went on would be a neat trick. And, if she wasn't implicated in some way, why has she run away?" Anne sighed. "Heaven knows why. But it isn't because she had anything to do with it. I know that. It's not my silver and gold. Bob hit pressed the coupe hard. Tait had long since left gasoline stations and roadside stands. Earmuffs were growing fower. Soon they were in a country of vast rolling hills, with an occasional tree standing eerily in the darkness.

"I'd forgotten there was country like this," Tait said suddenly. "Reminds me of when I was a kid. But I liked it better in the daytime, then—and I think I still prefer some light on it." ANNE shuddered involuntarily. "It is lonely. I wonder if I haven't been wrong, getting us out here." "I'm afraid you have, pal. I can't imagine Myra rushing out here in a rented car or a cab— to stay alone in a shack." She wouldn't be afraid. Oh—I hope we're right—about the fact that she had been hit by a lot of buckshot. Then he put "Twin Falls, Idaho," that's all—but Uncle Sam's postal people were shipped it to us so fast that we got it three hours after it was postmarked in Jerome.

HISTORY OF Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

OCT. 13, 1923

Miss Helen A. Thompson will arrive Sunday or Monday from Hawaii and California, where she has spent the last year. She will be with her sister, Mrs. Tom Mott, in the Colorado apartments. Miss Thompson has spent much time in Twin Falls with her sister and has many friends who will learn with pleasure of her arrival.

Edwin Sigline, last year's yell leader for Twin Falls high school, will not be permitted to lose any practice in notes-making. He has been elected by an overwhelming majority as yell chief of the Idaho Tech. "Sigline's" popularity with Tech students was shown by the fact that he was elected yell chief over the fact that he will have an assistant to do most of the leading during the series.

Joe Putnam, a former Twin Falls boy, is visiting here from California.

Pheasants Must Obey Law—If We Get Law— Says Flery Snowball

Promulgating the most important political plank that ever popped into the head of an office neophyte, Mystery Candidate Snowball Latham today is making a plea for legislation to be required by law to tell when a hunter shoots.

"Each of those 15,000 will waste 20 shells, which makes 300,000 shells lost," said Snowball, scratching his head. "If each of the 15,000 hunters, the waste shells would total 1,000,000. It staggers the imagination. And if each went out 10 times that's 10,000,000 shells you can't count up. It's waste no more!"

He pledged himself to favor legislation making it a felony for pheasants to exceed their limit.

"Under this law," said Snowball, "if a hunter misses, the pheasant won't be required to speed up and fly into the pattern of a flycatcher. Snowball's newest plan supplements his earlier promise to favor legislation that would require the Friday to every south Idaho resident, Campaign Manager Frank Magel, according to the Idaho write-in campaign, informed Pot Shot today that the Latham label badges are about ready to go to the printer. He urged a united front with Snowball for constable in Twin Falls and invited other communities to do the same thing to show that elections can sometimes be a lot of fun.

FAMOUS LANT LINK ... Honest, Lant Link him because he said his pop was handsome than the other...

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

(This is the third of seven articles in which Dr. Fishbein discusses the latest uses and accidents in traffic in the home and at work.)

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBIEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

In 1938, 4,800 people died in America from the effects of automobile accidents. Several hundred thousands others were injured.

Some people seem to be more accident-prone than others. It is because they are out of touch with the high speed machinery, the electrical hazards, and some of the other causes of accident so common in the city.

The man in the city must be constantly alert in crossing streets, in going up and down stairs, in using the facilities of the great buildings in which most city dwellers live and work. In the country, the mere presence of a great amount of space seems to make people more careless.

In the country, as in the city, one of the chief dangers is the speed of the highways. Cars are driven at night in the rural districts much faster for the lighting conditions which are available.

Around the cities a great deal of attention is given to this question of enough light on the highways, but in the more remote rural districts, light, except that provided by the moon, is not available.

Modern cars are capable of speeds from 60 to 100 miles an hour, and speeds of 60 to 80 miles an hour on country roads are not unusual. In traveling faster than 50 miles an hour at night, drivers equipped even with the very best lights and brakes cannot stop in time to avoid hitting the object of their haste.

On the farms, many thousands of people are injured every year by falls. They fall from ladders, from hay mows, from hay racks, windmills and roofs.

Ladders are used far beyond the time when they are safe. Every ladder should be inspected before use. The things should be tight. The sides of the ladder should be solid. Ladders kept outdoors in the presence of moisture will rot.

Anyone working on a windmill or a roof ought to have a safety belt or a rope tied to some stable permanent object to take care of him in case he slips.

In the farm home, as well as in the city, people are injured by slipping on loose rugs, slipping on soapy linoleum, falling down stairs because of toys, marbles, or other loose materials left on the stairway.

There should be a hand support in every bathtub, and children should be taught to use the hand support in getting out of the tub.

The machinery in the cities is usually subject to regular inspection by inspectors. Today the machinery in the cities is full of regularity.

The farmer must be his own safety inspector, to make certain that people who do not "monkey with the hazards" will not "monkey with the

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Roosevelt appeal for C. I. O. A. F. L. peace hasn't brought it a bit nearer.

There's just not any peace in sight or even in the wind.

The chief reason is that no one can devise a formula by which the two unions can reunite without giving one or the other an upper hand. A. F. of L. leaders would have every reason to expect an end to their control if they took O. I. C. A. millions in an equal voting footing. C. I. O. leaders are sure of many of their unions and carried over if they joined A. F. of L. on any other basis.

Neither side, in the words of one labor leader, wants to "put its head on the chopping block."

John L. Lewis stands on the assertion that C. I. O. would move into the A. F. of L. tomorrow. If each C. I. O. unit is promulgated a charter similar to those of other A. F. of L. units, with the same provisions that jurisdictional disputes be settled by the unions involved.

Millions of an early merger would mean the loss of a large measure of name-calling and warfare between the two groups, as suggested by Mr. Roosevelt. But events at the A. F. of L. convention indicate there's no immediate prospect of that.

A GOOD EXAMPLE

Labor's chief victory in recent months has been the success of Sidney Hillman, widely known as "labor's statesman" long before C. I. O. days, and Philip Murray is recognizing the success of the United Automobile Workers. That struggle threatened to damage C. I. O. even more than it has been hurt by the depression and might easily have gobbled up the C. I. O. convention scheduled for Pittsburgh Nov. 14.

An important expected result is elimination of both Lovestone Communists behind President Homer Martin and Stalin Communists, who have been a group of suspended officials now reinstated, from the union's policy-making councils.

When C. I. O. Vice Chairman Hillman and Murray went to Detroit few believed the break between Lewis and Martin over U. A. W. peace would be healed. They were threatened with physical violence and gunplay. Arguing with individuals one at a time and supported by the press and public, Hillman and Murray were able to bring about control of the dispute to Murray and Hillman. Lately a united board

SENIORS WIN IN TICKET SELLING

Senior class students won the citizenship award for season ticket sales with 61 per cent of the members purchasing them, Dale Wakem, faculty manager announced today.

This sets a record for the school as the seniors have won three consecutive years. They purchased the greatest number of tickets as sophomores, again as juniors and repeated this year.

Faith Maddy, senior, won the prize for selling the most tickets. She disposed of 72 to break all school records for individual sales. Loreita Belle Lopez, also a senior, was second high with third award going to Gordon Gardner, Junior.

Total number of season tickets sold approximates 618 with 385 in the senior high school, 230 in the junior high and the remaining 40 in the grade schools, according to Mr. Wakem.

In the class percentage competition the juniors trailed the seniors 61 with 58 per cent while the sophomores had only 44.

Speaker Stresses Four-Year School

SHOSHONE, Oct. 13 (Special)—The only matter of import transpiring at the Chamber of Commerce meeting was discussion of a matter presented by M. Craven, a businessman of Pocatello.

He advanced a plan to benefit the Idaho Southern University at Pocatello by creating a four-year college course instead of two as at present. He cited the growth of the institution and had claim to the fact that the college now serves a great proportion of students who are thus enabled to attend school near their homes.

The speaker sought support for the program, and the project was discussed thoroughly, there being some opposition on the basis that two inadequate universities would not fill the place of one good school. Sentiment generally favored the plan, though no action was taken by the chamber.

Furore Caused By Attempt at Liquor Pledge

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Oct. 12—Stanford University, recovering its composure after a recent student "exposure" of drinking conditions at taverns near the campus, bobbed up today with another liquor controversy.

The latest campus furore, it was reported, concerned a strong protest by some members of the varsity football team over the question of "taking the pledge."

Assume Responsibility

The pledge required abstinence from drinking but also, the story goes, demanded that members of the football team and prominent students assume the responsibility for drinking in their fraternity houses or halls.

Failure to sign the pledge, it was said, carried such penalties as no "sponsor's job" if an athlete had one; no help from the university in obtaining employment; and no right to drive a car on campus.

The question came up before the Santa Clara football game, which Stanford lost by a wide margin, but rebellious players on the squad who felt they were being discriminated against were persuaded to withhold any action—such as turning in their suits—until after the game.

Alumni Enters Picture

Later, influential alumni entered the picture, the question was discussed further and all who were asked were reported to have signed a modified pledge in which they assumed individual responsibility.

Bunn was quoted as saying "it wouldn't be ethical" to discuss the matter and Coach Thuy Thornhill's statement was that "I don't think it seriously affected the team's play against Santa Clara."

If you could inquire into every statement about quick winter starting and oil economy you'd get more than mere say-so from Your Mileage Merchant, for he gives you engine OIL-PLATING

CONOCO

FIRE YOUR QUESTION What IS this OIL-PLATING? HE DOESN'T HESITATE TO STATE My Conoco Germ Processed oil joins right up with the cylinder walls, rings, bearings, etc., as if they were magnetized. The oil's fastened on like any good plating, so we call it OIL-PLATING.

BUT YOU DEMAND What makes it? HE'S GLAD TO EXPLAIN Conoco scientists patented the Germ Process of making an addition to this oil... an addition Nature can't make and refining can't make. After perfect refining they add methyl-dichlor-something... methyl-dichlor-something! Makes my Germ Processed oil really good to the engine parts—a rich, lasting OIL-PLATING.

YOU EXCLAIM That would mean OIL-PLATING can't drain down! What, not even with the engine stopped all day? EMPHATICALLY HE STATES You're right! Change to OIL-PLATING now and even if you park days or weeks this winter your engine can't get un-PLATED. Before you're ever ready to start you've always got advance lubrication—slippy OIL-PLATING lets your starter slide into action fast. And where's the chance of bad starting wear?...

YOU INTERRUPT How about mileage?... oh, sure, saving on wear saves on oil... more mileage! And it must be a help never losing OIL-PLATING. All right, change mine right now.

YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT HUSTLES, ADVISING I've got your correct winter grade of Germ Processed oil recommended for your car. In a flash your engine's WINTER OIL-PLATED.

STORAGE WATER INCREASE NOTED

Water stored in the three principal reservoirs serving this section of Idaho is, at the present time, far above the amount recorded on the same date last year. It was shown today in a report received from Lynn Grandall, Snake river watermaster. The American falls reservoir, the report shows, at the present time has 672,000 acre feet of water impounded against 422,800 acre feet a year ago. A similar gain is noted at Jackson lake where the storage total is now 388,110 acre feet against 252,200 a year ago. Lake Walcott shows 77,600 acre feet at the present time against 34,100 acre feet a year ago.

All cases the total amount of water stored at the present time is slightly less than that of a week ago, with some irrigation still being made to it.

Precipitation during the last week was also noted in Grandall's report. Total for the week was 1.2 inches. Forecast for the week ending Oct. 20: Moran, 30 inches; Ashton, 78 inches.

Grandall also reported the gates at Jackson lake are now closed, but did not indicate whether this was a temporary closing or was for the balance of the season.

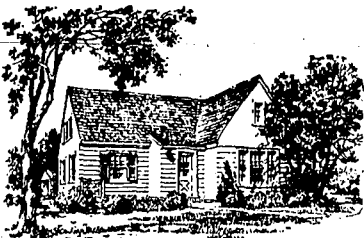

Today's Dollar Buys 30 Per Cent More House Than in 1926

1926

The houses illustrated here were built for approximately the same amount of money. They are five-room bungalows. The 1926 house was built for $4,832; the 1938 house for $4,896—44 dollars more. For the additional $43 you receive in today's home, electric lighting fixtures, gas service and shades—none of which were included in the 1926 house.

The home of 1938 is larger and better designed, embodying values that are superior to the 1926 bungalow. Such values include built-in plumbing fixtures of improved design and quality, combination stove faucet, standard wiring, modern and more complete built-in cabinets and fittings, time-tested and more exacting qualities in materials throughout to insure lifetime service, improved architectural design and stronger and better construction due to building code improvements, precision lumber and improved building methods. The 1938 home is more than 30 per cent ahead of the home of 10 years ago in its equipment, conveniences and all around serviceability.

Getting more house for your money today is not an opinion held by the building industry but it is a proven fact.

NEGROES CROWD TO URBAN NORTH

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Negro population of the United States during the past quarter century has been on the march from the rural to the urban centers of the north, a report on the national resources committee discloses.

The northward movement began sometime after 1910 and was sharply accelerated during the World War years when the heavy demand for industrial workers to replace those who had gone into military service.

In 1910, the proportion of Negroes in the south to the total Negro population was not much smaller than it had been in 1880. By 1930, however, about one-fifth of all the Negroes in the country were living in Northern states.

City Halls Allure

According to the report, the northward trek has been almost entirely to the large urban centers. In 1930, 88 per cent of all Negroes in the north were living in cities.

This is in sharp contrast to conditions in the south where only 12 per cent of the Negroes live in urban centers.

Contrary to the tendency of white citizens at various times to migrate to the far west in large numbers, few Negroes have moved to this area. In 1930, only one per cent of the entire Negro population lived in the far west.

Prior to the outbreak of the Civil War, 82 per cent of all Negroes lived in the south. When the war was over and the Negroes had gained their independence, however, a movement to the newly-settled lands west of the Mississippi began.

By 1910, the proportion of Negroes living in this area had increased to 20 per cent of the total population. A decline set in, however, and edly on the wrong side of the street. He was fined $25 in police court for reckless driving.

Worth Clark Urges U. S. Market and Price Guarantee for Farmers

BOURBON CHOICE IN SENATE RACE MAPS NEW PLAN

By G. A. KELLER
 BUHL, Oct. 13 (Special)—Terming the farmer a member of the only major organized group in the United States, which tends to place him in economic inequality with other classes, Cong. D. Worth Clark last night advocated the American market for the American farmer "at a profit."

Clark, Democratic candidate for the United States senate, was principal speaker at a rally held in the high school auditorium. Speaking briefly on the program were: E. Wright, candidate for state auditor, and Arthur Campbell, candidate for state inspector of mines. More than 200 attended the meeting, chaired by R. C. Wilson, Kimberly, chairman of the county central committee, president.

Along with advocating the American market policy, Cong. Clark also outlined a program for farm aid which he said should be meeting info or would replace the present system of farm aid in the next five years.

"Why not, directly and simply, guarantee the farmer a profitable price?" Clark asked. "This could be accomplished in a number of ways. For instance in wheat, where the government would purchase from the farmer his allotment each year. Say the government would purchase for $1 a bushel. The government, in turn, would sell the wheat to the miller and other classes at a profit. Those outlets the $1 a bushel paid the farmer, plus the handling cost."

"In this manner the farmer would be guaranteed a price, a profitable price, for his products. He would be paid in cash—no government bonds in the granary. Cost to the government would be almost nothing compared with present costs of the farm program."

"Under this system the farmer, if he so wished, could plant as much wheat as he wanted, but only his allotment would be purchased by the government. The balance he could sell on the open market, taking what he could get for it."

"Over a period of years this method would result in almost voluntary crop control because the farmer would not want to take the chance of getting perhaps a low price at the market. In other words, the farmer, of his own free will, would plant his allotment, knowing that he could sell it at a fair and profitable price for it."

"Other industries know almost exactly what they are going to get for their products when they manufacture them, so why not have a program whereby the farmer would know what he was going to get for his products before he plants them?" Clark asked.

Quit Borrowing

During the fore part of his address, Clark defended government spending although he said "the time has come to quit borrowing money and get a balance economy program." Government spending filled the gap which the lack of private spending caused, Clark said as he deplored the present government administration. "The national debt, although I admit it is too large, really isn't as bad as it is being made to appear. The federal dollar spent on public improvements by the federal government, a burden has been lifted off local government, while the result local debts have decreased sharply during the past five years. When you analyze the federal debt you must deal with these national and local improvements and the lowered local debts."

Frances Roosevelt

Although Clark said he didn't agree with all New Deal policies, and would continue to differ with them if elected senator, thus continuing to act in the "best interests" of the people who sent him to Washington, he nevertheless, said for things which Roosevelt did would "stamp him as one of America's immortals."

"These four points included the CCC, bank deposit law, social security act and the group of agencies including the WPA and the PWA."

Turning to county level, Clark predicted that Europe would be plunged into the "greatest war the world has ever known" within the next eight months "or a year at the outside."

He termed European countries, including England "without honor" and cited the method they used to "throw Czechoslovakia to the wolves."

Trouble Cheers Demands

His demands that America "mind her own business" and "avoid all entanglements," brought sustained applause from the audience. Among other things, he called on the United States government to "declare open peace" and a "free world" for that not one soldier would be dispatched to protect the interests of the "great corporations who have established business abroad as a means to make more profit."

"Thank God we have a President who tries to keep us from working instead of working to keep us fighting," he concluded.

All three of the speakers who were heard here last night were expected to appear at a similar rally which will be held in Jerome tonight.

Jacobs Asks $500,000 for Title Match

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (Special)—Max Jacobs, the New York fight promoter, today offered to match Joe Louis with the No. 1 heavyweight challenger during the 1939 Golden Gate International exhibition here if the exhibition will guarantee $500,000.

The fight would be scheduled during April, 1939, and probably would pit Louis against the winner of the Nova-Columbia fight unless Max Baer enters the picture in the meantime as the logical opponent.

Harris Connick, chief director of the world's fair, said in no opinion it is within the possibilities for the exhibition to meet the demands of promoter Jacobs.

It was reported exhibition officials immediately after formation of a committee to raise part of the $500,000 guarantee through pledges.

It was understood Louis wanted $300,000 of the $500,000 guarantee, and that Jacobs intended to take a 10 per cent cut.

Jacobs conferred with Baer and his manager, Arnie Hoffman, yesterday prior to Baer's sailing for Honolulu, but they were unable to come to terms on a match. Hoffman declined to accept a proposal for Baer to battle the winner of the Nova-Columbia fight.

BOX CAR'S DOOR CAUSE OF DEATH

RUPERT, Oct. 13 (Special)—Quincy R. Fish, about 47, transient from New York City, died from a fractured skull sustained when his head was caught in the door of a box car, according to Coroner Allen G. Craig of Minidoka county.

Coroner Goodman, who was called to the freight yards late Tuesday night when Conductor Knowles of the freight train found the man dying on the box car floor, investigated the accident.

In reconstructing the mishap Goodman said that Fish had apparently been looking from the door as the train was switching, a jerk causing the door to close on his head. Blood and hair on the door and door post were indicative of this, he said.

Craig, acting sheriff, identified the man by means of a social security card.

GASOLINE

Sombody ran out of gas at a lonely spot west of Rogerson last night.

In plain view of that somebody were the isolated Continental Oil company tanks which stand in solitude in the meadows.

A STARTLING TESTIMONY

Oct. 10, 1938

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I used to suffer from a chronic ailment—but one which was the none-the-less painful—stomach trouble. For years after almost every meal, I felt as if I had a hard knot in the pit of my stomach and which naturally caused me a good deal of pain. I was also bloated constantly and suffered from gas on my stomach. This condition made me unable to work... as it was extremely painful. Nothing I was able to eat seemed to agree with me and I had about given up hope of finding relief when I read a Chan & Wing advertisement. After a talk with them and a two weeks course of their herbs I am really a well man once more and I am happy to recommend this firm and their herbs to anyone who suffered as I once did.

Electric Service

"The MORE Electric Service You Buy—The LESS It Costs!"

★ Unusual isn't it? But it's true.

★ Unusual isn't it? But it's true. As you add electrical appliances and make freer use of electric service your average electric rate goes down. The famous "step-down" rate makes this possible. That's the reason why Idaho Power's customers are among the largest consumers of electric service in the nation... at rates among the lowest in the country, too. It's false economy to limit your use of electric service. It costs little to add appliances in your home because increased use brings DECREASED RATES. Let electric service carry the big burdens of home-making... water heating, cooking, cleaning, laundry and dozens of other jobs you can readily think of.

ENTHUSIASM KNOWS NO HOUNDS AS CUTE QUINTS MEET PUZZLED PUPPIES

Beauty and the beast! Yvonne Dionne hugs closely her first puppy, one of five red cocker spaniels presented to the famous quintas.

Now there's a puppy who's going to have a soft life! Yvonne feeds the remaining red puppy from one of the nursing bottles no longer needed at the nursery.

First lessons in how to pick up two puppies at a time are being learned by Cecile, left, and that's a hard task even for a grownup.

Jean Heraholt, a veteran movie actor, gives Marie practical instruction in how to hold a puppy, and now she's anxious to try it herself.

ADDICTS OF DRUG CROWD SEA PORT

HONG KONG (AP)—The authorities concerned are noting with misgiving the considerable increase in drug trafficking cases in Hong Kong, an evil which has been thrust upon the colony by the war in China and the consequent influx of refugees from all parts of the interior.

Scarcely a day passes without its proceedings for drug possession and in most of these the defendants are keepers of employes of heroin divans.

Quasi Opium According to the revenue department heroin seems to be outsting opium in its popularity, a fact indicative of the increase in the demand for the drug from North China where heroin is most extensively used.

Despite maximum fines and prison sentences, the evil not only goes on but is increasing which police and revenue officers attribute to the estimated 750 Chinese refugees now in Hong Kong.

TOURISTS SCAR Rock Carvings

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Modern name and initial scratchers are ruining important records left by early inhabitants of Texas. A. T. Jackson, field archaeologist of the University of Texas, reports that the colony by the war in China and the consequent influx of refugees from all parts of the interior.

Most are found in the semi-arid parts of the state where there is little rainfall. These are better preserved and likely were most numerous to start with as guides to water supplies.

Red, black, yellow and white are used in the pictographs. Red appears in many shades. Most of the pictographs appear to have been pecked out with a sharp stone implement, but carvings are found in sandstone and soft limestone formations.

Sizes of the pictures vary greatly. Human figures have been found less than 3 inches in height. Some are 10 feet tall. Animal figures range in length from 2 inches to 7 feet, and pictures of insects from an inch to 7 feet.

Indian picture writings have been responsible for the names of many present-day Texas communities and places. Paint Rock derives its name from pictographs on a bluff near the townsite on the Concho river. Turkey Bluff has its name from a turkey painted on the wall of a shelter in Val Verde county.

Other examples are Indian Hand Bluff in Nolan county, Hawk Hand Cave in Terrell county and Bloody Hand Bluff in San Saba county.

BARGE TRAFFIC RISES ON RIVER

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The project for maintaining a 9-foot channel on the upper Mississippi river from St. Louis to Minneapolis, Minn., virtually will be completed by the end of 1938, according to Major Gen. Julian L. Schley, chief of the U. S. army engineers.

Schley pointed out that by the end of the year all but one of the 20 dams in the upper Mississippi system will be in operation. He explained that the dam at Clarksville, Mo., will not be finished for another year, but its absence will not affect navigation on the river.

He predicted that the Missouri river channel from St. Louis to Omaha, Neb., will be completed by 1940 and by the following year will be extended to Sioux City. Schley asserted that although at present the Missouri river is navigable to Kansas City, lack of confidence on the part of shippers had kept river traffic at a low ebb.

Schley said the Illinois river channel will be completed in 1941, providing a waterway to the Great Lakes.

Cancer Takes Malayan Toll

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cancer, the dread disease to which the Malayan was once thought immune, is taking its toll in the Philippines as it is elsewhere in the world, and steps must be taken to fight it, according to Dr. Rodolfo P. Gonzalez, Filipino scientist who is doing research here.

CCC Attracts Younger Boys

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civilian conservation corps' enrollees now are younger and better educated, and more than one-fifth of them have never had a job.

The labor department, which selects enrollees, reported that 35.5 per cent were 17 years old during the fiscal year ended June 30, a larger proportion than during any year since the program began. The year before, 30.26 per cent were 17.

W. Frank Persons, labor department representative on the CCC advisory council, advised the conservation and training agency that nearly one-half of the youths selected for enrollment completed at least one year of high school. The preceding year the percentage was 38.39.

"They are eager to be able to approach private employers with the statement that they have previously had a job and did it well," Persons wrote Robert Peckner, CCC director.

Acting Director James J. Moenick attributed the larger percentage of 17-year-old members in part to a reduction in age limits from 17 to 23 to 17 and 24. Approximately 50 per cent were under 19 and 75 per cent under 20.

SPED DRIVER AT FAIR

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Capt. George E. T. Eyston, who recently established a new world record of 345 miles an hour with his Juggernaut, "The Thunderbolt," has agreed to exhibit the car at the Golden Gate International exposition next year.

The racer will be surrounded with all its cusp, flags and plaques symbolic of its conquest.

On leave from St. Thomas University, where he is an associate professor of medicine, Dr. Gonzalez has studied medical methods and technique at the University of Paris, and at the world-famous Pasteur Institute, since he left Manila.

With the spreading knowledge of medicine, and the developing skill in diagnosis, physicians in the Philippines in recent years have discovered more and more cases of cancer, Dr. Gonzalez said. It is generally agreed today, he said, that the prevalence of cancer in the Philippines is approximately the same as anywhere else in the world.

As the services of skilled and well-trained physicians become more and more available to the Filipinos of the "barrios," and in the distant provinces, large numbers of cancer cases, formerly undiscovered, have come to light.

Hagerman Library Benefit Planned

HAGERMAN, Oct. 13 (Special)—A library amateur night, sponsored by the local library board, will be held Oct. 21 at the Legion hall. Organizations promising to complete are the churches, Rebekah lodge, Olive club and high school.

First second and third prizes will be given for the best stunts given. The program will begin at 8 p. m. Proceeds will go for library expenses.

HOPE TO MEET THREAT

How to treat these cases, and how to meet the threat of this scourge is one of the problems which Dr. Gonzalez is studying.

Johns Hopkins University is considered to have one of the finest medical centers in the world. Equipped with every modern device of science, and staffed with the most eminent authorities in the world, Johns Hopkins represents the last word to medical science.

In the midst of these ages of modern healing, Dr. Gonzalez, who in the Philippines is recognized as an eminent authority on bone diseases and bone surgery, has dedicated himself to collecting data and descriptions of medical practices for application in the Philippines.

COUNTLESS LIVES OF TRAPPER

MONTREAL (AP)—A Belgian countess who lived alone seven months in a trapper's cabin in the wilds north of the Pacific, has arrived here to rest and recuperate from a burn, mosquito bites and an injured leg before sailing home to Belgium.

She is the Countess Anne de Mischagen, explorer, trapper, writer and stepdaughter of a Canadian, the late Rev. H. H. Island. Despite the hardships she encountered in the wilds, she said she was sorry she was leaving Canada. She prefers hunting her own trap line in the north and living entirely by herself to the civilization of city life in Europe, she said, and intends to come back to Canada.

Laura North "I have spent several winters in the Canadian north country, and I love it," she said.

Before establishing herself in a trapper's cabin at The Pass, she spent some time hunting in the Creston valley of the Rockies, where she heard tales of lost gold mines, found that the only grizzly bear in the country preferred to charge her guide and die under his rifle before she even caught sight of the beast, and where she gathered material for her writings. The countess has written three books, all in French, on her North country and hunting experiences. She cut her leg while chopping wood.

Plan Return The countess plans to come back to Canada to get one more shot at a grizzly.

U. S., BRITISH BOATS MAY BE TRAPPED BY JAPANESE DRIVE

CHINESE INTEND TO THROW BOOM ON PEARL RIVER

By Harold Guard
HONG KONG, Oct. 13 (UP)—The American gunboat Mindanao and three British gunboats may be trapped in the Pearl river at Canton during the Japanese south China drive, it was feared today.

British naval authorities received information that the Chinese intended to throw an obstructive boom across the river today, to keep out Japanese warships.

Above the place where the boom would be constructed are the Mindanao and the British gunboats Ocala, Moth and Tarantula.

Four boatloads of refugees arrived from Canton today, including 30 foreign women and children of whom 12 were Americans.

Railways Bombed
 Sixty Japanese planes, "eyes" of Japan's new south China Army, bombed railroads and highways between Hong Kong and Canton today while the Cantonese army moved toward the coast to challenge the invaders.

British authorities here mobilized the special constabulary reserve to take care of the heavy flow of refugees into the colony.

Japanese troops moved inland on a path paralleling British leased territory on the mainland, but about 40 miles away.

Japanese navy sources asserted that already the Japanese had severed the Canton-Hong Kong railroad, life line of supply for all southern China.

It was asserted that Japanese met little serious resistance and that a force of 2,000 Chinese was wiped out at one point along the line of advance.

Economic Combination of Western States Proposed

RENO, Nev., Oct. 13 (UP)—An "invincible" economic combination of the 11 western states will be proposed at a governor's conference in San Francisco late this year.

Manager George W. Malone of the Industrial West, Inc., told the annual convention of the National Reclamation association today.

"States on the Pacific slope are interdependent to a greater degree than is generally realized," Malone said. "Coast states furnish the larger markets and shipping facilities, while the large mountain states can furnish a large amount of raw materials and products."

"The industrialization of the west forms the new 'industrial frontier,' and the large steam and hydroelectric inter-connected power systems, pointing toward an all-western hookup, furnishes the lower-priced power. Raw materials are here in abundance."

Malone urged a balanced irrigation and industrial development program.

"Industrial trends show that as long as irrigation was developing, irrigation expanded," he explained. "Recently irrigation again has started on the upgrade. It is the logical opportunity for industry to follow."

The Industrial West is now engaged in preparing an industrial report on all 11 western states to include a complete review of all raw materials, a discussion of transportation and a study of power, trade balances, population trends, and possibility of expanding domestic and Oriental markets.

A relief map, 100 by 110 feet, being built by the organization with the aid of WPA labor, will be displayed at the San Francisco World fair next year.

Blind Boy Scout

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 13 (UP)—Harold Benson, 14, refused to let blindness stop him from becoming a first class Boy Scout. He now displays his badge.

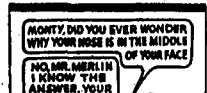

The map of the United States, which he carried with him, was a compass he could read with his fingers. He made his map in braille.

Battle Two Fires

KENYON, Minn., Oct. 13 (UP)—Firemen from Fairbault rushed to attack a blaze in the Lambert Lumber yards here in a blazing truck. After they extinguished the flames, they joined in battling the lumberyard blaze.

WHAT NEXT?

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 13 (UP)—Officials of the Golden Gate International Exposition, Oct. 13, 1939, have contracted for a giant crane that will hoist visitors 166 feet into the air for a bird's eye view of anything they want to see.

JAYCEE BOARD TO ELECT CHAIRMAN

Reorganization of the board of directors of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce will be carried out next Tuesday noon at the board session in the Park hotel. President George Detweiler announced this afternoon.

The directors were elected this week. Three other directors are hold-overs, although one of these must be replaced by appointment because he has moved away. In addition, newly elected officers are members of the board.

The directors elected this week are Bob H. Warner, John S. Robertson and Loyd Perry. Hold-overs are W. C. Swain, Jimmy Mullen and W. R. Reed. Because Reed was transferred to Boise recently by Idaho Power company, his post will be filled by appointment.

New officers who will fill out the board with the six directors are Detweiler; Robert Werner and Lionel T. Campbell, vice-president; Tom White (re-elected), treasurer; Tom Peavey, secretary.

At the board reorganization Tuesday, members will select a chairman. Robertson was elected chairman by the directors when Stanton Hale left Twin Falls for Salt Lake City.

HELLO FOLKS! THIS IS "CHICK" HAYES

FOR MEN ONLY
 You know it's a lot easier to talk to a bunch of men than to a mixed audience so today's clubbing are to you men. Now that the are here, I wonder if you've heard the story about the traveling man who was working the rural territory selling a new-fangled kind of correct. It sure is good, in fact it's the funniest one I ever heard. If I could remember how it goes I'd sure tell it to you. If any of you fellows are experiencing any of the troubles I might prove helpful if you would kindly suggest to friend wife the next time she needs something for the home, that according to guspy, "chick" Hayes must be putting out some pretty hot bargains. If she comes down and finds something she likes I'll buy her best lot get her to spend all I can but the more she spends you know the more I save for you. All it takes is just a little conversation.

Did any of you fellows ever wonder why women talked so much more than men and with most women they little effort? I have and just recently found the explanation. According to recent scientific psychological experimenting it has been determined that the average woman actually exerts only one-eighth as much physical energy in talking as the average man. With the other 7 to 1 fellows, it's hopeless. We may as well give it up (Notes) In applying this bit of information I'd advise that you be ready to dodge.

When out driving in the evening come down by and see our place. Our lights are on until 9:30 and often someone is here. If you want in, just rattle the door. If anyone is offering a better bargain than we are just speak up and tell us and watch what happens.

I just now thought how that story goes but I am out of space. See me personally at.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UP)—The following questions and answers on what the fair labor standards act mean to the average employe and board section in the Park hotel. President George Detweiler announced this afternoon.

When does the law become effective? Oct. 13, 1938. It is an interpretative bulletin issued by wage-hour administrator Andrews.

When does the law become effective? Oct. 13, 1938. It is an interpretative bulletin issued by wage-hour administrator Andrews.

What are the hours provisions of the law? The statute does not limit the number of hours which an employe can work in any one week, but during the first year, workers must be paid time and one-half for all work in excess of 44 hours per week.

How is the act enforced? By Administrator Andrews and his aides, or by individual employes who may file suit for back pay due them because they were paid less than the minimum or because they did not receive time and one-half for overtime.

What are the penalties? If the government prosecutes through the department of justice, a convicted employe may be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than six months. Imprisonment cannot be imposed except for convictions after the first offense. If employes sue, they will receive back wages plus an equal amount as liquidated damages. In addition to attorney's fees and court costs.

Can an employe be discharged for bringing suit against his employer to recover back wages? No. The act specifically protects these workers.

Who is covered by the law? That has not been determined definitely.

IMPORTANT ARAB SPOKESMAN SHOT

JERUSALEM, Oct. 13 (AP) — A leading Arab lawyer and nationalist spokesman, Hassan Sikki Daljany, was found shot to death in a field today.

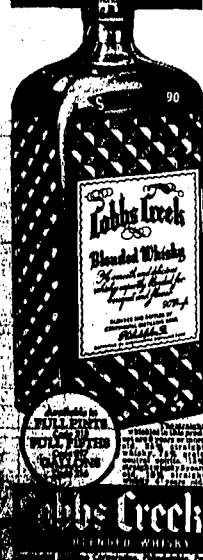

He was the first high ranking Arab leader slain during the current rebellion. Jews and Arabs alike were shocked by the crime.

He had been councillor of the municipality of Jerusalem, a former candidate for mayor, and unofficial representative in Palestine of the Emir Abdullah of Transjordan. Before the British conquest during the World War, he had been an officer in the Turkish army and was a member of a notable Arab family identified with the Hussein faction, whose bitter political and religious feud with the Hashemite faction prevented Arab soldiers in Palestine until their compromise in 1935 for joint action against British troops.

Warfare throughout Palestine rages and murders continued despite the daily arrivals of British reinforcements. Murders of Arabs and looting of government offices were reported from Haifa, Samaria and Jaffa. The government had resorted to a system of identification cards for Arabs to effect rebel strategy in ordering all Arabs to wear the Beqadin headgear. In their identification headgear, troops could not distinguish rebels from peaceful Arabs.
