CONSERVATIVES MOVE TO CHECK NEW DEAL IN 1940

GARNER IS SEEN AS CANDIDATE IN NEXT ELECTIONS

By Lyle C. Wilson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (U.S.)—A conservative Democratic movement to check the Roosevelt legislative program in the next congress and prevent the nomination of a 100 per cent New Dealer for President in 1940 appeared today to be developing among southern and western party leaders.

Southern conservatives are reported to be turning to Vice President Garner for leadership in the legislative skirmishes which will precede the battle over a presidential nomination. The vice president has been a bitter but cautious critic of some Roosevelt policies. He objected, especially, to the unbalanced series of unbalanced budgets which may be climaxed at the end of this fiscal year by the largest New Deal deficit.

Garner was represented last spring protesting sharply against the New Deal spending program in which the administration recognized the seriousness of the 1937-38 depression and resumed pump priming to overcome it. As deficits accumulate, pressure increases on Garner and other conservatives to bring their opposition to certain of Mr. Roosevelt's policies into the open. The next session may bring a showdown.

Directed at 1940 Convention
Whatever legislative strategy may be developed, it will be directed as much toward the 1940 national Democratic convention as to the actual drafting of programs affecting agriculture, relief, business, the railroads and the national economy in general.

Whoever among Democratic legislators may now be counted among the Roosevelt opposition, it is at least certain that the President has them guessing about his own 1940 plans. Postmaster General James A. Farley wrote last month in the American magazine that Mr. Roosevelt probably had not confided in anyone whether he would be a third term candidate.

Mr. Farley Announcement
When legislators make up their mind he probably will delay announcement until the convention is considerably closer. Farley believes next August would be about the right time.

But the search is on, nevertheless, for prospective conservative presidential nominees whose election in 1940 would restore party control to the more traditional wing of the Democratic party.

The so-called New Deal "purge" efforts during the recent primaries afforded the conservatives an opportunity since Mr. Roosevelt proposed reorganization of the supreme court.

Failure of the "purge" to dispose of the three ex-communicated Democratic senators—Tydings, Mr. Smith, S. C. and George, Ga.—convinced many anti-New Dealers that Mr. Roosevelt will not be able to pass on to a successor his own extraordinary popularity. To some persons, the purge results meant that if Mr. Roosevelt wants to be sure of having a complete New Dealer in the White House for another four years he will have to run again himself and be re-elected.

Can't Handpick Successor
Sen. Wheeler, D. Mont., told the United Press that Mr. Roosevelt would not be able to hand-pick his successor, although he conceded that the President would control the 1940 convention and might be re-nominated by a slanting "job-holding" delegates. And Wheeler thought it "quite likely" that Mr. Roosevelt would be re-elected if nominated again. Wheeler led the fight against the supreme court reorganization bill and is now a leader of Democratic anti-New Deal forces.

"If he wants the nomination himself," Wheeler said of the President, "he undoubtedly will receive it. But, in my judgment, he will not be able to nominate anyone else."

The fact that the President lost in his attempt to defeat senators in various states does not mean that he couldn't carry those states. It simply means that the people resisted dictation from Washington in those instances and that they felt they knew their candidates and what they wanted better than the President did.

SNOW AND RAINS HALT EXPLORING

Snow and rain which combined to make roads leading into the City of Rocks a mass of water and mud had caused suspension of the actual exploration but scores of prominent visitors nevertheless attended a special meeting at the Oakley high school auditorium this afternoon and were scheduled to be on hand this evening at a banquet featuring Gov. Barzilla W. Clark and others.

Cancellation of the actual exploration was announced this morning by Charles Brown, president of the Oakley Valley Chamber of Commerce in a telephone conversation with the Evening Times.

"I guess we will have to hold our exploration in the high school auditorium," Brown said, "but we are going to have a good crowd and everything will be run off as a schedule to the position of the caravan which was to have invaded the City of Rocks area."

Because exploration of the area was impossible, a discussion of the possibility of designating the City of Rocks as a national monument headlined the high school meeting. Speakers during the afternoon were to include Supl. Edmund B. Rogers of Yellowstone park; Alfred L. Anderson, geologist, University of Idaho; Moscow, Alfred Raso, of Southern University, Pocatello; Fuller Woodie, State Normal school, Albion.

Jamerson as Pa Bloom, Mrs. George Potter as Ma Bloom, Mrs. Howard Schaub as the young daughter, Marjorie and Mrs. Clifford Thomas the young sutor, Dick Piler, brought many laughs from the crowd, especially when Pa Bloom appeared in a long white nightgown.

Miss O. E. Klass accompanied her son, Eugene, at the piano and they sang several German folk songs in the native tongue.

Dr. J. W. Creed talked to the club about apples and told of the history and spread of the disease.

Serious trouble may be averted and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel germiniferous phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Roy Wells of Declo, district adjutant, announced. These schools, Mr. Wells states, are designed to help post officers become more familiar with their duties, and thus better able to serve their veteran members and communities.

Urging cooperation of potato growers, potato shippers and the general Idaho citizenry, Gov. Barlow W. Clark today issued a proclamation emphasizing the national advertising campaign for Idaho russets.

The proclamation, received here today, said:

"On the eve of the launching of our national advertising campaign in behalf of Idaho russet potatoes, it is fitting that we ask the cooperation of every grower, shipper and citizen of this state who may need to consider the influence of national advertising in every moment of our own daily lives to realize what this great publicity program will do in increasing the demand for our Idaho potatoes, the quality of which is already well known throughout word of mouth advertising."

"On Oct. 21, in approximately 80 leading cities of the middle west, the far east, and the south, great metropolitan newspapers with a combined circulation of over 7,500,000 will carry the opening message of our campaign. A few days later 17 of the leading radio stations will begin a weekly broadcast reaching millions of homes. Tens of thousands of the leading chain and independent grocery stores will be flashing Idaho banners and Idaho display cards."

"In inaugurating an advertising campaign, Idaho growers are following in the footsteps of the growers of California, Washington, Texas, Florida, Maine, and other states who have demonstrated by years of experience that advertising on a good product builds up permanent markets—without return higher prices to the farmer."

FIRST SNOW OF WINTER HITS IDAHO, UTAH, MONTANA

NATIONAL PARKS GET SIX INCHES FALL IN STORM

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—The first general storm of the season that brought rain and snow to most of Utah, Idaho and Montana began to move eastward today, with weather forecasters predicting clearing weather for tomorrow.

Heaviest precipitation of the three-state area was recorded yesterday in Salt Lake City with 5 1/2 of an inch of rain. Rain was still coming down here today. There was 5 1/2 of an inch moisture at Twin Falls, Ida.

Snow was general throughout Montana, the weather bureau said, with eight inches falling yesterday in Lewistown. In Idaho, the moisture was in the form of mixed rain and snow. The storm also brought rain and snow to Wyoming, with Yellowstone national park reporting six inches of snow on the ground this morning.

On Western Fringe
"Utah, Idaho and most of Montana in the western fringe of the storm area today," a Salt Lake City weather bureau official said. "The low pressure area is moving eastward and we should have clearing weather tomorrow."

The rain and snow made highway conditions dangerous and numerous accidents were reported in the three states.

FIRST SNOWSTORM

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 17 (AP)—The third day of Montana's first big snowstorm of the winter covered the state from the continental divide as far east as Billings today with fear, felt for the lives of an aged woman and a young hunter lost in sub-freezing weather.

Lewistown recorded eight inches of snow and the blanket ranged from six inches in Yellowstone park and Helena to over a foot deep in the mountains.

SPEAKER FLAYS MONEY SYSTEM

WENDELL, Oct. 17 (Special)—B. B. Wilson, candidate for governor on the Progressive ticket, spoke before about 75 persons Wednesday in the L. D. S. ward house pointing out his arguments against the present money system, gave the Republican credit for committing political suicide and gave a tongue lashing for C. Ben Hess.

On the money question he stated that the social progress had not kept pace with material progress and that the increase of machinery had retarded economic conditions.

In referring to the state highway department he charged that Hess had fostered a corrupt condition instead of crushing it as he promised. He mentioned, without naming, 32 new taxes imposed while Hess was governor.

William Gould, Wendell, acted as chairman of the meeting.
