Fair tonight and Sunday. Little work day or work week when it goes into effect Monday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (UP)—Wage-hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews and his staff worked overtime today on rulings for the guidance of businessmen in running their factories, stores and offices in accordance with the fair labor standards act.

CHINESE LEADER READY FOR PEACE TALKS

CHONG KONG, Oct. 22 (UP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was said on high authority today to have arrived in Hong Kong, probably to meet the British Ambassador and discuss peace between China and Japan.

The military leader of all China was accompanied by his talented, American-educated wife; by Wang Chung-Hui, China's foreign minister, a Yale graduate, and by Wang Ching-Wei, president of the executive council until the wartime reorganization of the government, when he was stripped of all posts.

He will enforce the act if his staff will enforce it uniformly and compellingly, with forbearance but without partiality.

Handicapped by a small staff, Andrews and his aides worked late last night preparing the last of a series of important rulings. They planned to work tonight and all day Sunday to prepare for enforcement work and to supply information to industrialists and workers.

Two rulings to inform employers the type of records needed to show compliance with the law, and another, setting up regular machinery for partial exemptions from the hours provisions—were anticipated today.

Andrews pointedly warned employers not to attempt to raise hourly wage rates in excess of 25 cents an hour because "it is not safe to assume that a section of an act of Congress is meaningless. Many persons had pointed out that section 18, which declares that 'no provision of this act shall justify any employer in reducing the wages of any employee below the minimum wage under this act.' It is interpreted by a specific enforcement of the law.

HUNGARY READY TO USE TROOPS AGAINST CZECHS

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 22 (UP)—Hungary may take armed action against Czechoslovakia within 48 hours unless the Prague government makes an offer enabling resumption of negotiations over its Hungarian-populated territories, informed politicians said today.

More than 500,000 Hungarian troops were massed along the Hungarian-Czechoslovak frontier as a result of the latest call to the colors. Radical elements in the army were said to be impatient and would not be held in check long.

These elements demanded that Czechoslovakia offer immediately to resume negotiations, hanging chiefly upon the cession to Hungary of the border towns, Komorn, Kaschau, Munkacs and Seregszaz. The government and Hungarians generally rejected Czechoslovakia's pious offers. It was asserted that the Czech offer would give Hungary less than half her due rights.

The original Czech offer of 10 per cent of the Hungarian demands rose to 40 per cent during the course of four fruitless days of negotiations at Komorn. It was asserted. Now, according to quarters usually well informed, Czechoslovakia must give at least 60 per cent of the Hungarian demands before Hungary will consider re-opening the negotiations.

President Kemal Ataturk of Turkey, who was near death from a liver ailment, was reported recovering in a hospital in London, Daily Herald.

President William Green of the United States was rebuffed by action of the central labor council of San Francisco in endorsing Culbert L. Olson as its choice for governor of California, and repudiating Green's endorsement of Frank Merriam.

Nazis Trapped Photographing

Federal authorities are investigating a possible link between four Germans recently arrested in the Panama Canal Zone for photographing strategic fortifications and the defendants in the important German espionage case being tried in New York federal court.

The man, identified as James Pierce, Edgar Pierce, his half brother, and Howard Mckelson, all of Portland, engaged in a quarrel with Night Marshal Frank Hendricks after he ordered them to leave the streets of Mountain Home. During the quarrel, one of the men tried to stab the marshal.

The man who attempted the stabbing fled and hid at Glenn Ferry, John O'Malia, city policeman, accidentally shot and killed a transient whom he mistook in belief he was the man who tried to knife Hendricks.

The party camped east of Mountain Home in a vacant lot after leaving their car parked, and James, Edgar and Howard came to town. They drank and caused a disturbance, and were ordered off the streets.

That was bad enough, but the studio made it worse by affixing her a cellophane skirt and the champion of all the Hawaiian Islands certainly does not lack for admirers.

CHINESE TROOPS SILENTLY LEAVE CITY OF CANTON

CANTON, Oct. 21 (UP)—(Delayed)—The bright flames from burning buildings and a city almost strangled in its silence greeted the Japanese conquerors.

A column of tanks and armored cars which clanked through the city heralded the occupation by the vanguard of United Press correspondents who preceded the main body.

Witnesses affirmed that a flying column of tanks passed through Canton. There was no sign of them in the city at large. Chinese soldiers were still passing along casually with their arms.

The gates of the foreign quarter were closed and the water front was heavily to be pedestrarian. Heavy machine gun fire in the Tungshan district of the city's east side heralded the entrance of the tank column. Tien a number of Japanese planes flew low over the city. They dropped no bombs.

The Chinese army marched steadily through the city toward the waterfront with civilians following in their wake. Fire brigades began leaving the city and the flames burned unchecked.

Acquitted

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (UP)—Rudolph Sikora, 31, the "perfect" husband acquitted of murder last night for killing the man who was his wife's lover, indicated today he would make no attempt to win her back.

"I can never feel the same towards her again," he said, "and I don't suppose she can feel the same toward me."

He called the state patrolman Solon Ellis, who took the automobile to the police station, a "bastard."

Officers suspected the car, said that two brief cases and some associate pump parts belonging to William Brockenridge had been thoroughly ransacked.

The car was out of gasoline when recovered. The car was out of gasoline when recovered.

DAIRYMEN FACES LICENSE CHARGE

V. W. Scribner, local dairyman, said yesterday to appear before Municipal Judge J. O. Pumphrey to be arraigned on a charge of distributing milk in Twin Falls without a city license.

The charges against the dairyman were filed this morning with the court after a complaint had been signed by Dr. E. R. Price, city meat and food inspector.

The article follows: "It shall be unlawful for any person to bring into, or to receive into, or to offer for sale or delivery, or to sell or deliver, any milk or milk products without a permit from the city of Twin Falls therefore."

BUH MEN FIGHT LIQUOR PADLOCK

Action to appeal to the Idaho supreme court against a civil judgment of last August ordering a Buh men establishment, many of whom claim of whiskey sale was taken to court by attorneys for Harry Hoedler and Charles Indowen, operators of the Hawaiian Beer garden, and Maud Waldridge, owner of the Buh premises.

The suit is the only one of three civil liquor actions now being fought by defendants. Operators of two Twin Falls bars, also accused of selling whiskey by the glass, were enjoined to obey Idaho liquor laws on penalty of being shut down.

Criminal Cases Appeared Three criminal liquor actions are pending on appeal before the supreme court. They are by Twin Falls, Kimberly and Buh civil operators, all facing possible penalties. A fourth criminal case was dismissed when the defendant died as result of a fall.

JERUSALEM, Oct. 22 (UP)—Two British soldiers of the Coldstream Guards were killed and three wounded by snipers in the old city of Jerusalem today.

A lance corporal and a private of the Royal Scots were wounded Thursday near Nabulis. Four soldiers of the Great Howard's were injured in a road accident.

At least 24 Arabs were killed in the fighting in the city of Nabulis when Royal Air Force planes, Royal Navy Air Force planes, and a column of Huswars went to the aid of the beleaguered column south of South Wales border troops.

Idaho Plans to Spend $35,000 on Frisco Exhibit

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 22 (UP)—Idaho plans to spend $35,000 on the new exhibit on the Frisco in the Golden Gate exposition, opening in February at San Francisco.

The contract for construction of the state's exhibit, a re-creation there was laid yesterday in Albert E. Mang of San Francisco, a Morrison-Knudsen affiliate.

Providing the best specimen of the legislature does not make an appropriation, the amount will have to be gathered from the various counties.

Idaho Officers Hunt Murderer

POCATELLO, Ida., Oct. 22 (UP)—State and county police converged on southern Idaho roads today in an effort to capture four men who were believed to be in the area.

The car belonged to K. C. Wicklizer, Rexburg, Montanan, who was found brutally murdered in his Butte, Mont., hotel room last night.

The automobile, his motor burned out, was found in a ditch near Pocatello. It was driven, was abandoned at one a. m. today in a residential district.

YOUTH KILLED BY SHOTGUN MISHAP

JEROME, Oct. 22 (Special)—Accidental discharge of a shotgun had brought death today to a 16-year-old boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Standley, who live three miles west and a mile and one-half south of Jerome.

Young Standley fatally wounded himself when he fired a shotgun while home at about 6:30 p. m. He had been returning from work in a spud field, and was carrying the gun in his coat pocket. As he entered the ranch yard, he discharged the shotgun accidentally.

The shot struck him in the back of the right leg below the knee. As his mother ran out the door of the house, she called out "I'll be all right, mother. I shot myself!"

South America Learned. South America has accomplished what Europe could not do. It has peacefully adjusted its most troublesome boundary dispute, a dispute as acrid as any Europe has seen.

Europe, boasting of itself as the centerpiece of civilization, may well watch this example in wonder and envy. For Europe has been able to do no better than arm to the teeth, glower, and adjust Czechoslovakia's boundaries by pressures that were scarcely less a war than if the fighting had really begun.

The presidents of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, the United States, Peru, and Uruguay have sealed four years of difficult peace negotiations by delineating the boundary between the countries.

People in the United States seldom recognize the bitterness of this dispute. Paraguay and Bolivia have fought in the past as few countries have ever fought.

Natural recognition of the futility of all this by the people of both countries was aided by kindly and impartial offers of other South American countries to mediate.

It is doubtful if American diplomacy can show anything more to its credit in many years than its part in this victory of peace.

Bolivia and Paraguay hated, and fought, and almost died. But they learned the lesson of war's futility. And they applied the lesson in a sane, civilized settlement of their differences.

Perhaps a lamp has been lighted in the jungles of the Chaco which may lead Europe to a better world, much as it was led forward in 1776 by the lamp lighted at the little bridge in Concord.

Novelty in the Air. There may be something missing from the nation's news columns this winter. It's a type of story that hasn't appeared for a number of months now, but appears regularly when the snow is flying.

That's the account of domestic aviation disaster. If the winter's news columns lack it, the credit will be largely the newly-created Civil Aeronautics Authority's.

Something has just been done at that body's insistence that needed doing years ago. The country's airlines have got together and drafted an agreement covering flying operations in periods of difficult weather.

There are seven sets of twins now attending San Jose college in California. Both members of each pair look as alike as two college students.

Those Mexican travel posters advertising the place as a sportsman's paradise seem a little superfluous. Everybody knows by now about the wonderful golf of Mexico.

Mr. Farley has praised Governor Lehman for "getting New York state out of the red." Unkind people now want to know from Mr. Farley, who got New York state into the red?

Under the influence of funny money politics a time-worn slogan has become "A chicken for every man."

POT SHOTS

The Gentleman in the Third Row

The Prize Hunting Yarn of 1938!

Dear Pot Shots: I don't really know—you see I only found out—but I believe Bryan Wall deserves membership in the club formed for those fellows who were "taken in" on some pretense or another.

Anyhow, here's the story: It seems that Bryan and another guy were out pheasant hunting when all of a sudden Bryan spotted one in the field.

They were in the third row of the audience at the prize hunting event. Bryan's dog brought back the prize, being the head of a pheasant mounted on a stick.

The inquiring reporter by L. S. OP. Our question today is: Would you prefer a toro to an earthquake? Well, don't you think that's a fair question?

TEETH! Whoops, m'boy! Pipe the case of the Gooding man who now has a toothache out on you ain't you? Well, you know the answer. Here's what the doctor had to say.

SAYS FLOOGIE. It is proper to say when someone speaks a lie to you that you should not believe it. Well, don't you think that's a fair question?

POOMERANGI. A word spoken in anger is like a stone thrown against a glass—it shatters and cracks you with the same force as it hit the glass.

FAMOUS LAST LINE. Their little minds? Well, don't you think that's a fair question? Well, don't you think that's a fair question?

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW. The gentleman in the third row of the audience at the prize hunting event was Bryan Wall.

MURDER TO MUSIC

THE yellow sheet. "Does it give the guy's name?" Tait nodded. "I take that signature to be George K. Weeks."

FEELY grabbed for the telephone. "They ought to have his address at the musician's union." Tait nodded.

CHAPTER XIII. TAIT laughed at Dannie Feeley's reticence to the flowers which Dannie had ordered.

"This guy Dombey certainly let loose of a lot of change whenever his creditors caught up with him," Feeley said.

"I've had a darned lot better than this crate. Of course right now I'm renting one." Feeley said.

"Say—" Feeley began hesitantly. "That is, I probably could get you on the payroll, photographing evidence and that stuff."

"Just what about it?" Dombey was supposed to have written the song. It was a big hit. But he didn't write it.
