

BORDER CLASHES CAUSE CZECHS TO CALL MEN TO COLORS

NEW ULTIMATUM PLACES DEADLINE FOR NOVEMBER 1

By REYNOLDS PACKARD
FRAGUE, Oct. 25 (Special)—New ultimatum to which Hungarian terrorists killed, wounded and kidnaped Czechoslovak frontier guards were reported in army dispatches today as the government conferred on settlement of minority demands made by Hungary.

The army dispatches from Ruzhena said one policeman was killed, five were wounded and two were seized and carried across the frontier into Hungary by a band of 50 terrorists near Kosinay arch, in the Svalaya district.

Tom Bombs
Terrorists were dressed in civilian clothes and had Hungarian officers also in civilian clothes, the report stated. The street in Ruzhena was opened fire on a Czechoslovak patrol as it marched through a ravine. Other terrorists damaged a bridge in the village of Poplyar with a bomb.

Meanwhile, Slovak Premier Josef Tiso arrived to confer with government leaders on Hungary's latest ultimatum. The street in Ruzhena to the army could not be determined. It was understood the call was issued because of fear scare reports not only from Budapest, but from Poland.

Verbal Ultimatum
The new Hungarian demands were a verbal ultimatum, some persons said, because they were called for occupation of disputed areas by Hungarian troops and complete withdrawal of Czechoslovak forces by November 1.

This procedure was followed when American troops were ordered to Poland. The time limit it was said, brought the negotiations between Hungary and Czechoslovakia started once and abruptly suspended, to a new, acute phase.

SOUTHERN CONCERNS SHUT DOWN TO FIGHT WAGE LAW

TOBACCO, PECAN INDUSTRIES LET OUT THOUSANDS

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (UP)—Scattered shut-downs in low-wage industries, a "slowdown" Sunday, communications, and unsettled demand for exemptions faced administrators of the new wage and hour law today.

Despite these difficulties, wage-hour administrator Elmer F. Andrews was confident that the law, effective since midnight Sunday, would become a national cooperative movement benefitting industry, labor and the public generally.

As the second day of the operation of the fair labor standards act began, the following major problems existed throughout the country:

NEW YORK
Postal Telegraph company announced the lay-off of 1,000 messengers "to protect the company's financial position." Andrews has not yet ruled on the company's petition to pay messengers less than the 25 cents an hour minimum wage.

Western Union announced compliance with the wage provision, affecting 10,000 messengers, pending Andrews' ruling. American Communications association, claiming to represent messengers of both companies, threatened a strike if the wage-hour provisions were not abided by.

SAN FRANCISCO

The American Communications association ordered a "slowdown protest" by telegraph operators against the Postal company because of alleged "chickening" under the 44-hour-a-week provision. Union officials said that operators throughout the country were refusing to send more than 20 messages an hour; threatened to use same tactics against Western Union.

Union contends that company has arranged schedule under which employees are working 46 hours, 15 minutes a week at same hourly rates formerly received for 48 hours of work.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

More than 15,000 workers reported to have lost their jobs as result of shut-downs in pecan shelling and garment industries. All 60 plants of pecan industry closed; between 2,500 and 5,000 garments workers reported idle.

Owners of pecan shelling companies contend that they do not earn enough to meet the 25 cents an hour minimum wage.

Shelling plants in other Texas cities were expected to follow the example of San Antonio owners. The industry employs between 30,000 and 50,000 workers in the state.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

Heads of independent exporting tobacco companies estimated that 30,000 Negroes, mostly women,

Sally Says She Won't—But She Does

"I'll pose any way you want—even stand on my head—but I won't pose with a policeman," cried Fan Dancer Sally Rand, but it was too late. Here is Sally, left, sans fans, in a Los Angeles court with Policewoman Cheryl Goodwin, center, and a reporter. Sally was in court to explain why she hadn't appeared earlier in connection with a suit brought by one Hazel Drain, who claims a Rand bit her during a scuffle in a Los Angeles theater.

will lose jobs permanently; predicted that between 50,000,000 and 75,000,000 pounds of flue-cured tobacco, now stemmed in the United States, would be stemmed abroad as result of 25 cents an hour minimum wage. Exports predicted increase in use of stemming machines, now used widely by domestic companies.

Andrews did not appear greatly concerned with these difficulties. He said that he was "sorry," but explained that congress had established a 25 cents an hour minimum wage for all interstate industries which could not be suspended.

In a nationally broadcast radio address concerning the law last night, he outlined the following benefits:

For employers: "American industry does not have to face unfair competition based on low-wage and hour standards from across state lines."

For workers: "American workers in every section are protected from the effects of sweated labor from other parts of the country."

For the public: "The American public and those apparently not directly affected by the wage and hour law can expect more stable industrial conditions and a price structure that will enable their fellow citizens who labor to live as decent human beings should live."

As yet no legal attack on the validity of the act has been reported. But officials considered it almost certain that it would get to the supreme court quickly. Many congressional opponents of the law have declared that it was unconstitutional.

Color Week Started by Pupils Here

Color week, boosting the blue and white of Twin Falls high school, was inaugurated yesterday as high school pupils began to wear small white and blue roper caps.

Under the sponsorship of the Boys' club, headed by Bill Moon, a number of activities to boost consciousness of the school colors will be conducted during the week.

Highlight of all school observances this week will be the special stunt assembly planned for Thursday in which the Caldwell team will bear the brunt of all jokes and activities. Twin Falls tangles with Caldwell on the football field Friday at 3:15 p. m.

Stunts are being arranged under the direction of the class presidents and sponsors with entire secrecy prevailing as to the program being worked out. Winner in the contest will receive points on the citizenship cup. To fill the vacancy left by the transfer of the freshman class to junior high school the faculty will present a stunt. Miss Eunice Ewer is in charge of arrangements.

When you just do this:

Massage VapoRub on the throat, chest and back. This spreads a thick layer on the hot-skin-over with a special cloth. (No drying, no stinging, no sticking.)

VapoRub's positive and specific action goes right to work—direct through the skin like a poultice, while its medicated vapors released by the body warmth are inhaled direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This recovery action (inhalation and stimulation) loosens phlegm—clears the air-passages—checks tendency to cough—eases muscular soreness or tightness—relieves local congestion—and in soon feels comfortable again.

Long after he releases himself from sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working. And often by morning the worst of his cold is over. No wonder 3 out of 5 mothers put faith in VapoRub whenever anyone in the family has a cold!

The "New Dealers" Have Played A Losing Game

It's The People's Turn To "Shuffle"

There's no disputing that the "New Dealers" have showed us a lot of new tricks in their "sky's-the-limit" game with billions of dollars of the American people's money.

They've used a lot of wild cards that have revolutionized the game completely—even to the inauguration of three-eyed jacks. To them it's crack-pots instead of jack-pots, and the money they've showered down in "bucking the house" would make Monte Carlo look like a beer joint in Stanley Basin.

You'll have to give them credit for one thing. They put their cards on the table when they said they were going to take a gamble on changing the whole complexion of the United States.

But now the boys who have been putting up the money, and will be putting up the money for the next 25 years, are beginning to wonder just when, if ever, these "New Dealers" will start bringing home the bacon—or importing it because of curtailed domestic allotments.

They told us laboring conditions would improve, business would show a strong and healthy increase, and that the farmers would live in a virtual utopia, but apparently it is too early in the game to be expecting anything in the way of results. They figure they'll have to go on dealing to really demonstrate their ability as gamblers—even if they lose their shirts.

But that's the rub. The American people are beginning to wonder just what they're going to use for chips and where it will end unless they start taking a hand now and then themselves. And if they don't take a hand before the boys really settle down to playing for high stakes, just...

Architecture, History Linked In Discussion on Fine Arts

Tracing the history of architecture, which he described as "the mother of all art," Andrew McQuaker, local architect, gave an inspiring address at the initial meeting of the Fine Arts department of the Twentieth Century club this afternoon.

His address was an auspicious beginning to a season of excellent programs of various forms, and his graphic descriptions of the world-famous cathedrals which he has visited in his travels, were especially enjoyed, particularly as he linked them with the development of various periods in history. St. Peter's cathedral was described in deterring detail.

Methodist Missionary Groups Convene Here

Approximately 100 women, residents of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon, will assemble in Twin Falls Wednesday and Thursday of this week for the 18th annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Idaho conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Extensive plans are being made for the entertainment of the delegates, who will be guests in local homes during their stay in Twin Falls.

Inspirations to the delegates will be the presence of Mrs. J. R. Wilkinson, Bellingham, Wash., who will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting.

Mrs. Wilkinson is en route to her home from Indianapolis, where she acted as the national convention of the society.

Mrs. R. P. Tyler, La Grande, Ore., will also interpret the national convention for the women attending the conference.

Opening session will begin at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Methodist Episcopal church. The Thursday morning session will begin at 9 o'clock, and a special luncheon will be served at noon.

WHEAT GAINS ON LATE PURCHASES

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (UP)—Late scattering of wheat on the Chicago board of trade advanced an early decline because of weakness in foreign markets. A little of the wheat was up 1/2 cent, and some unchanged to 1/4 cent. The market was irregular, but scattered selling of wheat after the start. Volume of trading was small. Northwest interest was weak. Some wheat was traded in commission at 2 cents difference. No particular feature of the market was evident. Commission houses selling burdened the corn market and resulted in a fractional decline.

STEEL, AVIATION REACH NEW HIGH

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (UP)—Steel and aviation moved into new high ground today in a quiet but firm stock market. The advance followed occasional resistance but selling was not sufficient to set off a downward movement. Gains in general shares generally were a point or more, while some special issues had advances of three points or more. Newark wire markets gained nearly seven points.

Uncle Si Says ...

My nephew, young Si who's named after me, lives in Buhl. He's pretty much of a progressive and sensible young fellow even if I do say so, and the other day he was telling me, he says, "You know, Uncle Si, I know how you always use those Gladflex Ads when you want to buy or sell or rent or hire, so I decided to try them. I wanted to sell some hay and used machinery right away, but I was waiting to get to Twin to get my ad in when Miltie (the young Si's wife) noticed that Varnery's Candy Store in Buhl took classifieds. Well I went right in there and the next day my ad was in the paper and I had the stuff sold before the week was out. Pretty good service is what I'd call it."

WOMAN INJURED BY GUN'S BLAST

Student Carnival Date Postponed

Student Carnival Date Postponed

Due to the illness of the student body president, the student carnival committee of Kimberly high school has voted to postpone the carnival from Thursday, Oct. 27, to Saturday, Nov. 5.

WOMAN INJURED BY GUN'S BLAST

Mrs. Melba Caldwell, Twin Falls, after recovering at her home today from a bullet wound in the leg. She was not seriously injured. The mishap occurred when Mrs. Caldwell was driving a car near the site of the carnival. A gun in the back seat of the machine accidentally discharged. The shot tore through the seat, some of it striking the woman in the calf of the leg. A direct blow of the shot would have probably caused the loss of the limb, those who witnessed the mishap said. It is understood that Mrs. Caldwell and her husband were hunting at the time the accident happened.
