CHARLEY KIX (continued): They went to the window, clung close to the roof next door. Gravel or tarr, it showed no trace of a recent occupant. The knife wielder could have walked for miles over sidewalks or could have gained the street in a dozen places down his escapes.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW (continued): 'This is it,' Tail said to Danielle. Freddie as the latter drove his car alongside. Feasley eyed it with distaste. 'A fine spot for murder, all right. D'you know, Bob, if you'd come here alone and they'd done you in it might have been days before anybody found out about it. Nobody comes down here but the last of the bums, and it hasn't been on the patrol chart for five years.'

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW (continued): 'You're forgetting that there was a noise like that snowing, and the odor of perfume. "I don't keep forgetting it even if I'd like to. Feasley shot Tail a look of disgust. "Tail leaning about some crows. All you give me a small and a found. A fine couple of clews." Feasley yawned prodigiously. We've got to get something, and I've an idea you could use some.'

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW (continued): 'In the days that followed, dinner for the trio became a regular thing. And sometimes they noticed that Myrna's spirits were up, they would drop into the Pacific-Plaza to hear the band. At times Myrna would even sing against the memory that came rushing when she entered the Golden Bowl. But gradually she

'BATTLER' OF 'UNBEATEN' FEATURES GRID PLAY
Lewis Keeps Crown Before Smallest Title Crowd in History

Pitt-Fordham, Army-N. D. Top Contests

By HARRY FERGUSON (United Press Editor)
NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (U.P.)—That greatest of all football dramas, "the battle of the unbeaten," was played on three grids today in games involving six of the nation's top teams.

It is a bang football you want, you should have arranged to spend the afternoon in either Fort Worth, Tex., Pittsburgh, Pa., or Evansville, Ind., where...

Pitt is favored over Fordham. Fordham has a slight edge in the betting over Northwestern and Texas as a Christian, with a whirling dervish named Davey O'Brien in the backfield...

Other Unbeaten Teams Among the other teams with unbeaten records which risk everything today against worst defeated schools are California which plays Oregon State, Iowa State which meets Minnesota...

EAST—Brown-Tulsa; Columbia-Cornell; Harvard-Princeton; Holy Cross-Colgate; Navy-Penn; Syracuse-Penn State; Michigan-Midwest; Illinois-Michigan; Indiana-Wisconsin; Iowa-Virginia; Kansas-Kansas State; Nebraska-Montana...

BALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 29 (U.P.)—Bill Martin, the Boston middle-man, last night lived up to his name in the local squared arena as he ran around like the proverbial bull in a china shop.

Filer Upsets Jerome Club In Night Game

JEROME, Oct. 29 (Special)—Led by Red Gilmer, Filer's sensational batsman, today's football game in the stadium when the band played "Cigarettes on Old Army Tent" and the lights on the chink marks on the field.

The Tiger loss, coupled with Filer's win Thursday, gave the Indians undisputed possession of first place in the league.

As the fourth period opened, Hamlett of Jerome scored again to knot the count, but then Gilmer started to lead the Wildcats.

Substitutions: Jerome—Clayton, Peterson, Washburn, Meyer, Peters, Flaxino, Filer—Caster, Ehler.

I doubt it. Before you know it the sports pages are likely to be filled with such dispatches as "Louisville, Ky.—The 99th running of the Kentucky derby was halted for five minutes while the horse but a furlong from the finish line today when Jockey Billy Andrus, who was up on the favorite, War Signal, remembered that he had to go to the bathroom."

Forest Hills, N. Y.—With the score at match point against him in the final round of the national tennis singles championship today, Edward Hightower, America's No. 1 player, suddenly recalled an item he had forgotten to put on the entry account for the match in last night.

SKIERS REHEARSE ON SAND DUNE FOR PLANNED WINTER U. S. TOUR

By HARRY GRAYSON (Sports Editor, NEA Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Rigo Quist, manager Donk Merril, announced that the Olympic Sports club and National Ski school, quietly organized by him, will tour America starting late next month in a new and gigantic ski and skating show.

It will operate independently of Miss Merril's skating company, which again will appear in several key cities, with the first performance once more slated for Chicago around the Christmas holidays.

The most spectacular dunes of the Long Island coast would not have been more picturesque had it been staged in the highest setting in the Rockies.

Other Olympic Sports club members who proved that slalom, downhill races, jumps, and even double jumps could be successfully and expertly held and done on sand were Trudy Hazel, Dorothy and Maxine Graves, Ole Hegge, Casey Jones, Jimmy Palla, Cliff Saire, Walter von Neudager, and John Erikson.

Down to the sea on skis. Trudy Hazel skied down a 170-foot Southampton sand dune.

that other experienced exponents of winter sports wouldn't attempt on snow. Miss Hazel was an Austrian national downhill and slalom champion. She is a graduate of the famous Norwegian Grand Old Skiing School at Grindelwald, N. H., is a daredevil and a great Irish personality on the wooden boards.

Rejuvenated Twin Falls Bruins Hand Caldwell 19-0 Drubbing

GEORGE CAFEGO VOLUNTEERS FOR ALL-AMERICA BIRTH.

Coach Hank Powers of the Twin Falls Bruins had a better outlook on life today—caused largely by the rejuvenation of the local team in a game against Caldwell yesterday afternoon that turned out to be a rout, but not for the favored team.

The Bruins, with the backfield sparking like none had done here in the past two years, handed a 19-0 lacing to the invading Cougars and performed like an all-around outfit.

Only 3,000 See Al Gainer Drop Decision
By JACK CUDDY
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 29 (U.P.)—Light heavyweight champion John Henry Lewis picked up his "penalty" today after last night's bitter title defense against Al Gainer, and dolefully scanned the fight horizon to an opponent who can draw some money.

"Penalty" is virtually all that the Arizona Negro received for his 15-round win over Gainer. Gainer's heavy ducky brackler, before less than 3,000 persons—the smallest crowd that ever witnessed a modern crown defense in any division—lost John Henry's slice of the $7,000 gross gate amount to less than $2,500.

"I gotta make some money," said Lewis. "I'll fight anybody in the light or heavyweight division who can beat me at the rate of $100 a fight. Tiger Jack Fox. He won't fight."

Tiger Fox, Spokane Negro, is the New York commission's No. 1 challenger. Lewis' previous refusal to meet Fox caused the New York commission to vacate his title. Hence Lewis' fight with Fox was regarded as a championship affair only by the national boxing association.

Lewis said he would pare down to the 175-pound limit, and if any worthwhile opponent could be found, his parring down to 174 for Gainer apparently took away much of his snap, timing and judgment of distance. He was missing patently in most of the rounds.

However, John Henry's stamina and fighting heart enabled him to come through with a strong finish in the 15th round. He won the unanimous decision of Judge James Melvin from Waterbury and Bill Press gave the champion seven rounds, Gainer five, with three even.
