POSSIBILITIES OF RAILROAD STRIKE ARE DIMINISHED

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (UP)—Possibilities of a nationwide railroad strike today are so dim that it became apparent that rail executives would abandon their demands for a 15 per cent wage cut in return for administrative support of broad rail aid legislation.

Management leaders rushed plans for settling finally the controversy with their 340,000 workers. Presidents of the 139 class 1 railroads were summoned to a special meeting in Chicago at 10 o'clock today to decide whether to abandon the pay cut fight.

It was indicated unofficially that the railroad men would accept a joint management-labor program for rehabilitation which President Roosevelt's administration will support in the next congress.

H. A. Enoch, chairman of the carriers' joint conference committee, which conducted the wage negotiations on behalf of all the railroads, indicated that the pay proposal would be shelved when he received the railroad strike as far away that there is no reason to get worried about it.

The national bituminous coal commission asked the Interstate commerce commission to initiate an exhaustive general investigation of the operating efficiency and economy of the railroads in filing its request for an inquiry in opposition to the carriers' plea for a continuance of the increase in soft coal freight rates.

DEATH SUMMONS
MOVIE COMEDIAN
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1 (UP)—The motion picture colony today mourned the death of Robert Woolsey, 49, the sardonic cigar-smoking comedian who earned $100,000 a year as a leading actor in films with Bert Wheeler.

He died last night at his Malibu beach home after a long illness that lasted a year. His wife, the former Mignone Reed, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Reed, were at his bedside.

Woolsey, under contract to RKO, was forced to retire a year ago because of a kidney ailment. Hollywood thought that he was recovering and was shocked at news of his death.

CURIOUS VISIT SPOT WHERE "ROCKET SHIP DIDN'T LAND"

GROVER'S MILL, N. J., Nov. 1 (UP)—Visiting motorists were still driving by the old Wilson farm today to see the spot where the monster from Mars didn't land their rocket ship to begin the onslaught against the earth Sunday night.

The radio players, in their horrifying "news bulletins" dramatizing H. O. Wells' story "War of the Worlds" called it the "Wilson farm of Grover's Mill, but sounded like "Wilson" and since it happened that there is an old Wilson farm here it became the scene of the catastrophe that didn't happen.

Village Survives
This village of 200 peaceful inhabitants, four miles east of Princeton, survived the nationwide hysteria better than most other towns. It became a quiet fishing out for the Martians hadn't really come.

On the Wilson farm, where three tenant families live, James Anderson and his wife had been listening to the Charlie McCarthy program and Mrs. Anderson had switched over to the radio. The theater program just in time to hear a "bulletin" about a huge meteor falling in her backyard. She woke her husband, who had retired. He went out on the porch, looked around.

"Durn fools," he said, and went back to bed.

Still Hunting
"They were all dressed up to kill," he said. "I couldn't convince them it must be a fake and two hours later I saw them still riding around looking for whatever it was supposed to be."

Corp. Frank Wilson would like to meet one of the six or eight people who stopped him Sunday night and described in terrifying terms the landing of the space ship that "they personally had witnessed."

Some of the hallucinations were described in detail. There was a fire in the forest 15 miles away, and there was a pall of smoke near the village which might have been the work of Martians.

BORAH ENDORSES TWO-PRICE PLAN FOR AGRICULTURE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (UP)—Sen. Borah, R., Idaho, today endorsed the objective of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's two-price plan for subsidized sale of farm products as a means of protecting the health and morals of the nation.

"There are millions of children in the United States who will not develop mentally and physically because they do not have what they ought to eat and wear," Borah said in an interview. "And at the same time, this material is going to waste in the fields."

Available to Needy
Wallace, confronted with large crop surpluses, has suggested that food and clothing materials be made available to needy persons at a cost less than that prevailing in regular retail channels. The government now supplies relief clients through purchases made by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation.

Meanwhile, the agriculture department advised cotton and wheat farmers not to expect any substantial upswing in prices and demand during the next year.

Surpluses which have depressed prices will continue to influence them in 1939, the bureau of agricultural economics said in its annual report. The principal hope for improvement, the bureau indicated, lies in increased domestic consumption. Prospects for increased exports were said not to be encouraging.

Extensive Study
Borah said that the two-price plan would require extensive study to make it workable, "but the objective is one that we ought to attain."

He denied that he was an administration spokesman and asserted that he did not know until after the fact that the committee had arranged for his broadcast.

He also refrained from directly criticizing President Roosevelt's formal statement regarding the committee last week. He said, however: "If the president is displeased with the way in which the investigation has been conducted, why hasn't he or his department heads furnished us with investigators, lawyers and clerical assistance?"

Dies to Continue Probe On Un-American Activity

Lashes Back At Torrents Of Ridicule

By JOHN R. BEAL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (UP)—Chairman Dies, D. Tex., of the house committee investigating un-American activities, indicated today that he would continue his inquiry into subversive activities after being denounced by high administration officials for a "campaign of ridicule" and "torrent of abuse unthought upon."

In a radio address last night, Dies defended his hearings and read letters from department heads and cabinet members who had refused to comply with the resolution creating the committee by failing to assign investigators and lawyers to help it.

The address created much interest because of his charges, made yesterday, that the speaker who followed him on the Mutual Broadcasting company's network, Paul V. Anderson, Washington correspondent for the St. Louis Star-Times, had been scheduled to answer him after the administration had "intimidated" the local representative of the Mutual system.

Anderson attacked the committee but described his address as a reporter's eye-witness account of hearings at which testimony was given about the efforts of Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan to settle automobile labor disputes. Dies said he had not mentioned Anderson.

According to Dies the senate civil liberties committee assigned two men to investigate the charges. Dies said he believed the men were assigned to "sabotage the investigation."

With only a station identification announcement, Anderson began a critical account of the committee. He described the investigation as "slipshod and shockingly unfair."

Some of the most fantastic yarns ever heard outside of an insane asylum are gravely accepted by the committee without the slightest effort to check whether the witnesses are credible or responsible, or whether they are actuated by ulterior motives.

He said that "serious accusations" are made against public officials who are not present to defend themselves. He said that labor spies testify hour after hour.

ENGLISH LEADER STATES GERMANS IN TOP POSITION

Here's One "Two-Price" System

By SIDNEY J. WILLIAMS
LONDON, Nov. 1 (UP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain conceded in the house of commons today that Germany is the dominant power in central and southeastern Europe.

"Geographically, Germany must occupy a dominant position in central and southeast Europe," the prime minister said. "She does so now."

"As far as this country is concerned, we have no wish to block Germany out of these countries or encircle her economically."

Chamberlain also told the house that Britain will conclude her friendship agreement with Italy as rapidly as possible. Chamberlain declared, "Our sole concern is to see that this country and her imperial communications are safe, and that we shall be as good as enemies of other countries that our diplomats cannot enter into discussion on an equal footing."

"Holding us farther from our minds than entry into a new armaments race."

Chamberlain reassured the house that definite measures would be taken for adequately arming the navy. He said that Sir John Anderson, newly added to the cabinet, would "in substance" minister for civil defense.

No Aggressive Intentions
"I repeat categorically that we have no aggressive intentions against Germany or any other country," the prime minister declared. "Our sole concern is to see that this country and her imperial communications are safe, and that we shall be as good as enemies of other countries that our diplomats cannot enter into discussion on an equal footing."

BLIND CLAMOR FOR EYES OF DEAD MAN

San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (UP)—The blind clamored today for a dead man's eyes.

The eyes came from the body of John W. Deering, murdered executive of the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission, who was killed yesterday by a San Francisco City Police officer.

They arrived here by air express, frozen, and were claimed by an anonymous specialist who has reported to have pleaded eloquently for the eyes to be returned to the chief problem in the case of Deering's eyes, was whether the tissue had been kept alive in their packing. No such long distance shipment had been attempted previously.

Faces in Refrigerator
They were quickly placed in a hospital refrigerator here and kept well below freezing.

"We wish to examine the eyes carefully, at this is the first time any such long distance shipment has been made," said the doctor.

If the tissues were found to be viable, he said, one operation or two would be performed within 24 hours.

Company
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1 (UP)—Old Bill, the chunky buffalo adorned the nickel since 1913, will become a movie star.

Alive to the publicity possibilities, Warner Bros. studio gave the buffalo a film test and arranged with the government to use him in scenes of the picture "Dodge City."

MAN RETURNS AS POSSE ORGANIZES

Fearing a possibly fatal hunting accident to Jack Volt, owner of three tenant families, a posse was all ready at midnight last night to start out in search of the missing man.

A few minutes before the group of friends and sheriff's officers was ready to start the countryside, Volt returned to Twin Falls. He said Sheriff E. F. Frazer had offered an auto breakdown while on his pleasant hunting trip to the Salmon ranch and had to walk several miles for aid.

Left at 3 p. m. Volt had left his car at 3 p. m. yesterday and told employees he expected to be gone two hours. When he did not return last night, the sheriff was notified and a posse was organized, planning to start out at midnight. When Volt suddenly returned the radio station had closed up for the night, and officers couldn't call off their plea for help.

Although Volt had not suffered any serious injury, Sheriff Frazer today pointed out to ranchers having electric fences that such fences "can be a distinct peril in those days of wet weather."

One Hunter Burned
He pointed out that one Twin Falls hunter, with clothing and shoes wet, touched an electrical fence and suffered burns on both hands.

"In damp weather," the sheriff said, "fences of this kind could cause serious accidents." He warned hunters to be careful and urged farmers to consider the peril they offer sportsmen by keeping fences charged during wet days.

Decline Registered In Sugar Receipts
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (UP)—The agriculture department today registered a decline in sugar receipts today. The report showed total sugar deliveries in the first nine months of 1938 amounted to 4,895,252 short tons, a value compared with 5,330,845 for the period last year.

Police Officers Chase a Bunch

Five Young People Missing in Forest
SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 1 (UP)—A posse headed into the rugged Mt. Pinos region of the Los Padres forest today hunting two girls and three youths missing since Sunday.

The missing young people, all of Los Angeles, are June Schaefer, 10; Rosabelle Haddock, 17; and three brothers, Clifford, 21, Richard, 22, and Gordon Garver, 17.

Woolsey
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1 (UP)—The motion picture colony today mourned the death of Robert Woolsey, 49, the sardonic cigar-smoking comedian who earned $100,000 a year as a leading actor in films with Bert Wheeler.

He died last night at his Malibu beach home after a long illness that lasted a year. His wife, the former Mignone Reed, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Reed, were at his bedside.

Lindy Urged To Go Home By Magazine

LONDON, Nov. 1 (UP)—Everybody's, a widely-circulated English magazine, published an article today headed "Better Go Home, Lindy."

Criticizing the activities of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh here and on the continent, the magazine said: "While Col. Lindbergh has employed the hospitality of this country, we have scrupulously refrained from meddling in his private affairs. In the future we will watch him carefully. Though there is no wish to be rude, we would feel happier if he went home."

Referring to a dinner at which Lindbergh is alleged to have said that the German air force could beat the British, French, Czechoslovak and Russian air forces combined and that the magazine said: "Afterwards it came out that Lindbergh had been drinking champagne and that the Russian air force, still, the damage was done."

JURY WILL STUDY BARNETT OUSTING

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1 (UP)—A grand jury today will hear a study of the ousting of Mrs. Louis Barnett, widow of the Indian millionaire, from the Indian trust lands in California.

The government, after a supreme court decision invalidating Mrs. Barnett's marriage to the Indian, had sought to have her ousted from the estate, turned the property over to Indian agents.

Both women said they "didn't" know of the ousting. Mrs. Barnett's attorney called at federal offices where he heard that a grand jury had been called to study the case.

"Gangsters, thugs," she shouted, "they're destroying my property, my home, my life, my children. I'm going back to take possession of it."

"That's what I'm doing," she said. "I'm going back to take possession of it. I'm going back to take possession of it. I'm going back to take possession of it."

On Tenth Day
LANCASTER, Calif., Nov. 1 (UP)—With nearly nine days behind them, two men in a tiny airplane made a nonstop flight from Lancaster, Pa. to Los Angeles, Calif., in 24 hours and 34 minutes.

Oddities

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1 (UP)—Old Bill, the chunky buffalo adorned the nickel since 1913, will become a movie star.

Alive to the publicity possibilities, Warner Bros. studio gave the buffalo a film test and arranged with the government to use him in scenes of the picture "Dodge City."

Old Bill, member of a herd at Cache, Okla., will lead a stampede of 500 buffalo.

Company
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1 (UP)—Missory loves company, and so a traffic cop got a ticket.

A policeman stopped a motorist whose car bore a burned-out headlight and gave the unlucky driver a ticket. The driver pointed to an approaching automobile which also had only one headlight.

"How about that guy?" he asked. "That guy was another traffic officer in a police car. With the grinning citizen looking on, he accepted a ticket in dignified silence."

Utilities Leader Meets With FDR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (UP)—Chairman C. E. Groves of Electric Bond and Share System today met with President Roosevelt and emerged from the White House to say that growing good will between the government and private utilities is "of far-reaching national significance."

Groves spent half an hour with the chief executive discussing the utilities situation.

"The rapprochement between government and the utilities is most heartening," he said, "and its implications are of far-reaching national significance."

We need only recall the negotiations between the national defense power committees and the utilities, culminated at the meeting here last Friday to realize that mutual understanding and cooperation has advanced beyond the theoretical stage."

Mountaineers Dig To Release Dog In W. Virginia Cavern
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 1 (UP)—A crew of burrowed mountaineers today dug a tunnel to a dog held in a cavern in their confidence that Sport, a "community dog," will be rescued from the narrow cavern that he held him for 18 days.

Sport, the pet of 10-year-old Howard Wall, was believed to be alive.

Buggy Upside Down; Outhouse on School Lawn—And Mama's Lambs Turn to Wolves!

By O. A. KELLER
Mama's "little lamb" turned to wolves last night and Twin Falls was the scene of a most unusual incident.

Down on Blue Lake at Fifth avenue east. Moved it over.

10:30 p. m.—Some industrious individual threw an apple into the rear sign of the Morrison store. Result, a broken sign with damages estimated at about $40.

10:45 p. m.—Investigated a WPA sign on Blue Lake at Fifth avenue east. Moved it over.

10:50 p. m.—Looking for hand pump but no find. Finally borrowed compression tank from a local garage and pumped up the tire.

11:30 p. m.—Discovered another car with two flats. We pumped them up then attempted to awaken man who was asleep in the car. He did not favor, finally covered with a blanket, an empty jug nearby told us he wouldn't wake up for some time.

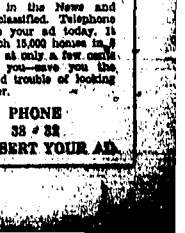

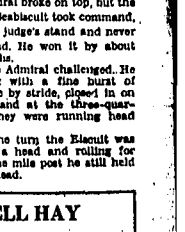

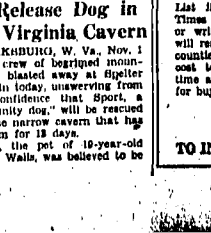

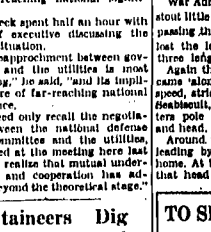

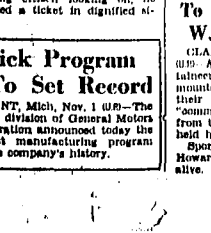

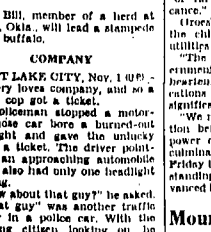

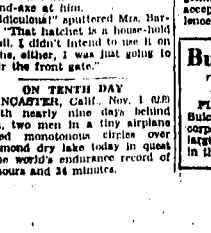

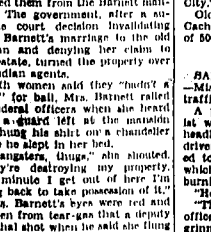

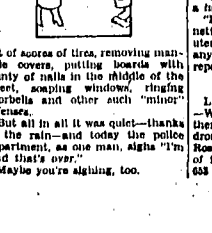

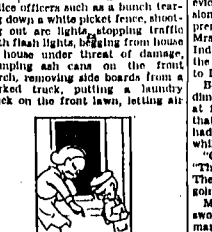

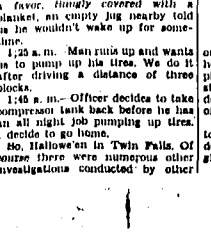

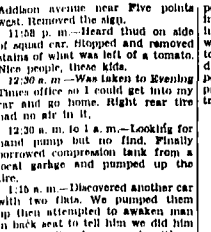

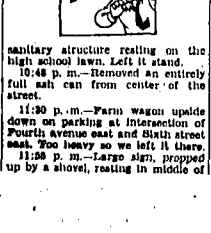

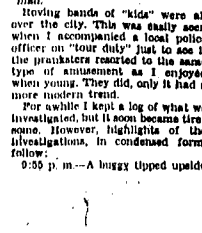

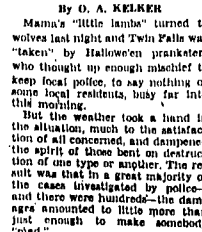

12:00 a. m.—Man runs up and wants us to pump up his tires. We do it after driving a distance of three miles to his home.

12:40 a. m.—Officer decides to take compression tank back before he has done all night job pumping up tires. He didn't go home.

So, I'll have in Twin Falls. Of course there were numerous other investigations conducted by other police officers such as a bunch tearing down a white pick-up, one being out at night, stopping first with flash lights, blaring from horns, and then turning into a house, removing side boards from a parked truck, putting a laundry truck on the front lawn, letting air out of tires.

NAZIS, FASCISTS GATHER TO ARBITRATE HUNGARY DISPUTE

COMPROMISE FOR BORDER AREA IS EXPECTED SOON

(By United Press)

The Nazi-Fascist combination moved further to the front today in Europe's search for a solid basis of international relations.

A Vienna delegation headed by Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Fascist Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano were expected to arrive tomorrow for the minority dispute between Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

There was a definite difference of opinion in the Ribbentrop partnership regarding a settlement, but there appeared to be little doubt that satisfactory compromises would be reached and that some 1,000 square miles of additional territory and a million inhabitants would be cut from the Czechoslovak republic. Hungary, however, was believed unlikely to get a common frontier with Poland.

In London, the British house of commons went back to work and it is believed that a settlement will be a hand in the future negotiations toward stabilization of peace.

But even here the power of the Nazi-Fascist partnership was as the cabinet worked toward making effective its friendship agreement with Italy and toward making Germany demand for return of pre-war colonies. Appointment of Sir John Anderson and Viscount Runciman to the cabinet was expected to show British efforts to lighten defense against future crises.

Sally Army Officers.

In Paris Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet was confined to his home by a cold that interrupted his conference with diplomatic experts on a possible non-aggression agreement with Germany.

In Berlin, the shifting of high rank officials continued with promotion of Gen. Wilhelm Keitel to the rank of general-colonel and the retirement of Chief of Staff General-Oskar Ludwig Zeng.

Promotion—Or 'Exile'?

Londoners are of two opinions over the recent appointment by King George VI of his younger brother, the duke of Kent, to be governor general of Australia. The duke, pictured above with the duchess as they recently arrived in London from Scotland, is seen by some as a binder of empire ties. Others are mindful that the fun-loving Kent has given a gay leadership to London's night-climbing Mayfair society set, and has been involved in miscellaneous (if said openly) incidents. These observers see the appointment as a thinly-disguised "punishment."

CHAMBER SHIFTS MEETING PLACE

Location of Friday night's general membership meeting of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce was changed today to the Rogerson coffee shop. Secretary Eugene E. Clark announced. The meeting was previously scheduled for the Park hotel.

Installation of the eight new directors by the C. of C. of that date will form one feature of the session at the Rogerson. Mr. Clark said. Other highlights will be submission of the annual report covering the past year's work by the chamber.

Directors who will be installed include Mel Dolling and L. Close, elected to fill two vacancies, and J. A. Oederquist, George Warburg, Charles Shitka, Cecil Jones, Cos. Price and Ed Zinker, named to fill the six regularly expiring posts. First announcement had inadvertently reported that R. J. Holmer was named in place of Mr. Dolling.

Editorial COMMENT on the "INVASION"

By United Press

Denver Rocky Mountain News—The nation-wide scare brought a reaction familiar to newspapers. . . Sunday night's episode merely emphasizes the value of the familiar warning: "Don't believe it until you read it."

San Francisco Chronicle—The radio broadcast which caused panic in many parts of the United States by dramatizing an imaginary invasion shows how dangerous the ill-judged use of the air can be. More, it is a warning of what might be the consequences of a deliberately conceived hoax for some sinister purpose.

New York Herald Tribune—Complaints have been frequent that such terrifying radio personages as "The Shadow" (once, by the way, played by the talented Mr. Welles) have frightened children out of their wits, but this time it is the adults who make the hobgoblins. . . The whole performance was monstrous and cruel.

New York World-Telegram—Of course it should never happen again. But we don't agree with those who are arguing that the Sunday night scare shows a need for strict government censorship of radio. . . If so many people could be related intentionally, what could be said of politicians not do?

New York Times—Radio ought to act promptly to prevent repetition of the wave of panic in which it inundated the nation Sunday night. . . What began as "entertainment" might readily have ended in disaster. . . Radio is new but it has adult responsibilities.

Salt Lake Tribune—In some ways the disturbance was unfortunate, but the consensus of opinion indicates how unprepared Americans would be in a similar emergency.

MURTAUGH, Nov. 1 (Special) — While taking part in a swimming, in emulation of the high school football team, Robert Hiltbrand, eight-year-old son of E. G. Hiltbrand, living on Dry Creek, sustained a compound fracture of his left leg.

The bone was broken in two places. The mishap occurred at the afternoon recess period. He was taken from the school grounds to a physician's office by Supt. Lawrence Turner.

The leg was placed in a cast and the boy, a third grader at the Murtaugh elementary school, was taken to his home.

MOTHER GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Berdie Schurr, mother of a daughter, 7, had won a divorce decree today against Ralph Schurr in district court. She charged desertion in September of 1933. The pair married Jan. 27, 1930 at San Pedro, Calif. Mrs. Schurr was given custody of the daughter.

Resignation of Jim Mullen as a member of the board was accepted but the vacancy was not filled. Mullen resigned because of personal business making it impossible for him to attend the noon meetings.

BUILDING GAINS NOTED FOR CITY

Building permits issued by the city of Twin Falls during the month of October showed a total value of $200,000, a gain of $12,000 over the same month during 1937, the monthly report prepared by W. H. Hendrick, city clerk, showed this afternoon.

Total law construction within the city during the month, the report shows, amounted to $28,210, with remodeling and alterations in buildings previously constructed reached a value of $7,227. This compares with permits and remodeling of $4,800 and alterations of $2,400 reported in October of 1937.

Dollar value of construction during the month past brings to $642,250 the total expended in the city for this nature of improvements since the first of the year.

RANCHERS SCAN COLD FORECAST

With a considerable acreage of potatoes and beets still in process of digging, south central Idaho ranchers surveyed weather forecasts this afternoon with a dubious eye.

Official U. S. weather bureau forecasts as formulated at Salt Lake City, indicated southern Idaho temperatures tonight as "normal" below normal." If that forecast is borne out and sends the mercury too low, serious frost damage might result, some ranchers said. But current rains stop, a brisk chill wave would prove so hard providing temperatures don't slump too far.

Hope for cessation in moisture, however, was not supported from the weatherman. Forecast for tonight and Wednesday is "rain or snow."

SAN FRANCISCO CLERKS VOTE TO END 55-DAY STRIKE

UNION ABANDONS 35-HOUR WEEKLY WORK DEMANDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (U.P.)—By the slim margin, 14 voters, members of the San Francisco retail clerks' union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, voted today to end a 55-day-old strike against 25 of the city's largest department stores.

The vote was 10-6 to sign an agreement with the San Francisco retailers' council against 1,014 to remain on strike for the union to provide in any contract to be signed.

The vote was taken at a mass membership meeting attended by an estimated 2,000 union members of which 2,082 members previously employed at the struck stores voted. In addition, some 1,500 members of 20 other unions involved in the strike through sympathy action did not vote.

Improvement Continuation

A statement by Larry Vail, union secretary, said the agreement did not provide for "continuation or improvement of all contract provisions in last year's agreement."

The agreement was reached through mediation efforts of a 10-man business-labor panel presided over by Mayor Angelo J. Rossi and was scheduled to be signed by representatives of the stores and the union at 2 p. m. today.

The agreement embodies a seniority clause acceptable to both sides. It provides for an arbitration board to discuss differences and allows an arbitrator to make final decisions.

Includes Rise in Pay

Other provisions, Vail said, include a rise in the basic wage scale of from $18 to $20 a week, an increase in vacation with pay schedule and a clause designating the union as collective bargaining agent for all employees covered under the contract.

Provision also is made for the discharge of persons employed after Sept. 7 as extra help or to replace strikers.

Official Outlines Institution Needs

JEROME, Nov. 1 (Special)—Burton W. Driggs, superintendent of the state deaf and blind institution, speaking, guest speaker at the meeting of the Jerome health council last week at the L. D. S. church, emphasized the immediate need for more adequate housing facilities at the Gooding school.

Mr. Driggs explained that more effective aid and training could be given to the less fortunate children there, if the overcrowded condition could be improved. He extended an invitation to all interested persons to visit the school and view the accomplishments of the children there.

Miss Harriet Russell, Jerome county public health nurse, announced that following a check-up made of the lighting facilities in the rooms of the Lincoln school, it was disclosed the lights were insufficient and that either rewiring or replacement of bulbs should be done to overcome this condition.

Miss Russell read a letter from the Idaho Power company following the recent check on the meeting in a number of the rooms. It was decided that action should be taken to contact the school board in regard to the situation.

Mrs. O. R. Peterson presided as chairman of the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Dana Messenger, chairman of the health council.

PROVISION MADE FOR BOND FUNDS

Provisions for assuring payment of bonds in the amount of $27,500 for the city's share in construction of a library building were made by the city council last night through passage of a resolution under suspension of rules.

The bonds were recently purchased by two Salt Lake City firms which made it possible for the city to pay the lowest interest rate on any bonds ever sold by the city. Bids for excavation of the basement of the building will be opened by the council Thursday night in recessed session from Monday evening.

Councilmen also approved the October report of Municipal Judge J. O. Pumphrey which showed collections for the month amounting to $268.50.

Radio Learns a Lesson

When the Columbia Broadcasting company's network threw thousands of people all over the United States into a panic Sunday evening with its radio dramatization of H. G. Wells' novel, "The War of the Worlds," it demonstrated very significantly the tremendous handicap that confronts radio from the standpoint of newscasting.

Perhaps the network had no other purpose than entertaining listeners with its realistic enactment of a fictitious catastrophe that was spelling the end of the earth. But it has now learned by experience that it is not the proper medium of communication to trifle with the people's emotions and imagination.

It is common knowledge that unfounded reports and rumors are spread over the country almost daily because of some fragmentary impression gained from radio newscast. Some listener happens to turn on his radio in the middle of a news bulletin and, as is often the case, gains an impression entirely different from what it would have been had he heard the complete report.

And nothing heretofore has better proven this fallacy in radio newscasting than the dramatization of "The War of the Worlds."

Those listeners who were not tuned to the CBS stations just at the moment the announcers were explaining the program was merely fiction would logically become startled by such horrible news. Fantastic as it may now seem, there was nothing to make these excited listeners think otherwise if they had missed the brief announcements of explanation.

Officials of the Columbia Broadcasting company issued the following significant statement after their disappointing experience:

"We can only suppose that the special nature of radio which is often heard in fragments, or in parts disconnected from the whole, has led to the misunderstanding."

The Golden Age of Jails

Jail architecture like many another form of art has been bountifully boosted with both WPA and PWA endowments. The prize for best jail of the year properly belongs or will be awarded until further notice to Pickens county, Georgia.

White marble was the material and the marble was quarried in Pickens county. Doors and windows are, each weighing 1200 pounds. Doors and windows are of saw and file proof steel with all entrances and exits controlled from a central tower.

There are quarters for 100 prisoners, or should it be guests in such magnificent surroundings? Construction of the building, however, violated one of the time-honored customs of public construction. It was expected to cost $40,000 but actually cost one-fourth of that amount, $10,000.

This year has been momentous. Great things have happened at home and abroad. Historians of the future, may ignore the peace of Munich, the shift to the Right in Democracies or the growth of Fascism to record that jail building reached the Golden Age with the construction of a white marble edifice to house 100.

The Price of the Next War

Europe avoided war. But not the costs of war. Some idea of the expense of playing with military adventures is given by these estimates of the cost to Britain of the scare.

British authorities estimate losses in trade and revenue during the period at $200,000,000. Cost of military and naval mobilization was not less than $70,000,000. About 42,000,000 gas masks were distributed free at a half-crown each, roughly $25,000,000 more. At least $16,000,000 was spent for sand-bags and not less than $5,000,000 in preparations to evacuate school children from congested areas.

All that is well over $300,000,000. In addition, hundreds of shops closed in a business slump the like of which had not been seen since 1914. Next year this loss of business will be reflected in the budget figures and the government's income. Countless personal losses add to the toll of the war that was not a war.

Now add to this a similar cost to France and Germany, and lesser losses to other countries involved. And you can guess, this being the cost of a mere scare, the price of the next war.

CHAPTER XXI
ARCHIE MACKAY, the gossip columnist, returned and greeted Bob with cheerfulness. "Well, well, Mr. Tall—and where's the picture book tonight?"

Tall smiled. "Oh, the other's infectious good humor, a good humor which blossomed out at just before midnight and lasted until dawn. "I'm not working tonight, Archie. Are you? With you night spot columnist it's hard to tell."

Mackey sighed dolefully. "That's what everybody says. 'You don't really work for a living, they all say. 'You just play and play—and get paid for it! That's what everybody says, and now you say it.' "The gossip writer motioned to an empty chair. "Sit down and I'll buy you a drink."

"Thanks," Tall said. "Tonight I'll make it ice water."

Archie Mackey shrugged. "I'm not in the Golden Bowl of the Pacific-Ice Ice water costs almost as much as a highball. But if you insist..." Mackey signaled a waiter. Then, carefully, he lit a cigaret and watched Tall over the blazing pocket torch.

"Bob, why don't you give me the inside on the Dombey business?"

"I don't know the inside," Archie said.

anything. Tall fingered the frosty glass of ice water which Mackey's waiter had set down before him. "Do you know that girl over there... the honey blond? Isn't her name Starr?"

"It must assuredly be. And when I say Starr I mean the girl who uses tax tokens for money, Mr. Tall."

"You know her then?"

"Of course. I know everybody."

"Introduce me?"

"As good as done," Archie Mackey said.

When Nelda Starr and her dark partner danced near his table, Mackey said, "Come join us when the number is over."

The blond head nodded almost unperceptibly. Mackey smiled at Tall. "There you are. In a moment you'll be acquainted with Nelda Starr. But I warn you..."

"Of what?"

"Miss Nelda is what is known locally as dynamite. She is a spoiled, unstable, creature who creates trouble for everybody in the neighborhood of the species. May I inquire your interest in the lady?"

Tall grinned. "I'm interested in her perfume."

"The columnist's eye widened. "Since when," he inquired with irony, "since when has a newspaper photographer grown acquainted with you?"

"I can tell you that I know about her perfume. It probably costs $50 an ounce if it costs a cent, and some rumors place it at 175."

"I'm not going to buy her any," Tall said.

"Then she'll have no interest whatsoever in you, Mr. Tall. One buys things for Miss Nelda Starr. It's only perfume, then, you're lucky."

"What did Luden Dombey buy for her?"

Mackey looked coy. "You photographers get your nose stuck in my line. I've never been able to verify that."

"She must have considered Lud Dombey a fine young man."

Mackey shook his head. "Oh, no. Lud Dombey never gave her anything real."

"What was that?"

"A spot in his band. Nelda Starr wanted to be a swing singer, and Lud Dombey's Swingers."

Tall was silent a moment. "Well..." he said slowly. "Progress is made in a straight line. She might make it yet."

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

BY DR. MORRIS FISHEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Every time your teeth come together in chewing they exert about 150 pounds of pressure on the material in between. For that reason, nature has provided shock absorbers between the teeth and the jawbone.

This layer of tissue between the roots of the teeth and the jawbone is an elastic tissue called the periodontal membrane.

Even a child will use as much as 40 pounds of pressure in chewing. If the material between the teeth around the roots of the teeth become infected or inflamed the pressure can produce a good deal of pain. This is called periodontitis.

When the material between the teeth is covered with a thin layer of bone-like material called cementum. At the end of each root is a small opening for the blood vessels and the nerves that enter each tooth.

I have seen a tooth that has just been removed you will remember the little red spot which represents the place of entrance of the blood vessels and the nerve. When inflammation of the gum tissue there is pressure on the nerve, the brain gets a message from the root of the tooth that says "Pain." Pain is warning sign that something should be done immediately.

The teeth begin to form before a child is born. For that reason the prospective mother should be careful of the teeth of her approaching child. The rare which she gives to her own diet will control the quality of the teeth of the child. Moreover, the nutrition of the child immediately after birth will also modify the quality of the teeth.

Food that is necessary for the growth of sound teeth at the right time are calcium, phosphorus, and vitamins.

Vitamin D is especially important, but there is also plenty of evidence that lack of any of the essential vitamins may retard or prevent the development of good teeth. Since milk and milk products are the most important sources of calcium, milk must always be given the damsel substance in the diet of the child.

The crown of the tooth is fully formed before the first little white sign of a coming tooth appears through the gums. The blood supplies the teeth with calcium and phosphorus; thus the enamel of the tooth is developed.

One expert points out that it takes two and one-half years to build the crown of a tooth before it pushes through the gums, and decay can completely destroy it in a few months.

Every child should be examined regularly for the first signs of tooth decay, so that progress may be stopped by removing the cause of the decay and by making the necessary changes.

The teeth of children decay because they have not been properly nourished, because proper cleanliness of the teeth has not been

HISTORY OF TWIN FALLS CITY & COUNTY

As Cleared from Files of THE TIMES

15 YEARS AGO
NOV. 1, 1923
Wild and weird tales of grown-up adventures, some new products of the imagination of the reader and some ancient evolutionary efforts like the adventures of the boy who stood on the burning deck, were told with great effect around the camp fire near the junior high school building last evening by F. Douglas Hawley to a lot of boys and girls who congregated to help celebrate Halloween. As a whole the evening passed quietly with less noise and depression than usual, though windows were marked up, although with debris and there were some more serious infractions to the city ordinances.

The English department of the junior high school (taught by Miss Lee) has just given the "Final Final Show," very successfully at the Junior high assembly yesterday. The characters, Charlotte Vester, Lylo Glick, and the "Final Show" were Bert and Ruth Van Guilder, all acted their parts well.

37 YEARS AGO

NOV. 1, 1911
An effort is being made to secure 500 acres of milk from the Twin Falls tract to be donated to the Children's Home Finding Society at Boise. Announcements of these proposed donations were made in the churches last Sunday and all those who wish to contribute were requested to leave their donations at the Twin Falls Commercial club. So far there has been only a very few who have responded and the people of Twin Falls are urged to forward with one or more quarters of fruit or jelly to aid this worthy help. The financial effort should be sent in per the Nov. 10.

An automobile accident occurred Saturday noon at the corner of Shoshone and Main, which ended badly for the two cars which collided, but fortunately for the occupants, who escaped uninjured. The cars which met head on, were keeping the proper side of the street and had just passed the ladies in purple to pass. The ladies in purple in the cars approaching from both directions became confused and instead of continuing across the street stopped. The driver of the Hippobomb had his choice of stopping or running down the ladies.

OVERLOOKED TRACTOR

JOCKING N. S. GUN—A swarm of mosquitoes stopped a tractor working on the marshland near here. The tractor was being driven by a tractor fan belt in swarms, and as they were crushed they formed a slimy surface, stopping the machine.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By RODNEY BUTCHER
Evening Times Washington Correspondent

DEPOTS OPEN TWO HOURS
Depots open at 6:30 a. m. and remain open until 8:30. A truck drives up and unloads trays of milk bottles. An attendant passes out the milk to the people standing in line. Another checks milk cards to see how much each customer is entitled to. Cards are punched. The man who sells the milk works for the company. The man who checks and punches for the milk is a WPA worker provided by the city. Depots usually are vacant stores or baby health centers. Thus the city incurs no extra cost for handling, refrigeration, rent and so on. Presumably the milk companies lose no money on the deal. They dispatch one truck only to a given spot, sell in very little time without solicitation, suffer no bottle losses because customers must present empties. Inconvenience to the customer is at least partially guaranteed against "cheating" by those able to afford higher priced milk. An average of more than 45,000 quarts a day is sold through about 15,000 families—perhaps 75,000 persons. The biggest day sold 52,000 quarts. In one way or another it may be illuminating to note that persons standing in the night-cold milk line, never well-dressed, often hide their heads at the approach of a photographer. The New York system now has been operated for four years.

What the group of other retailers think of the two-price idea suggested by Secretary Wallace will be told in a subsequent article. (Copyright, 1939, NEA Service, Inc.)

Public Forum

EVERSE ON GOSSIP
Editor, Evening Times:
I submit to your Public Forum column the following appropriate verse:

GOSSIPY EARS
A gossipy tongue is a dangerous thing.
If its owner is evil at heart,
He can give whom he chooses full many a sting.
That will woefully linger and smart,
But the gossipy-tongue would be balked in its plan.
For causing heartburning and tears,
If it were not helped out by the misguided man,
Who possesses two gossipy ears.

Oh, the gossipy ears are the ones that cause
The evil reports they are told.
The shy, subtle tales which they gladly receive
Would furnish the purest of gold.
The cruel "they say" which goes floating about
Like a hidden foe, fostering fears,
Would lose all its force, were it firmly shut out.
By the man with the gossipy ears.

When the man with the gossipy tongue happens by
With his stories of evil and strife,
We ought just to look him right square in the eye
And ask him his mission in life:
"We ought to refuse him a chance to relate."
"The false, idle rumors he hears,
He ought to be locked up somewhere in a jail
With the man with the gossipy ears!"

BRISBANE, Australia (UP)—When a Brisbane socialist found it was too late to keep a downtown street apartment, he was a friend who sent her a telegram addressed as follows: "Mrs. [redacted], short, dark, stout woman, wearing glasses, waiting outside the [redacted] Queen street." The telegram was sent at 11:30 a. m. and at 11:09 a. m. it was delivered to the right person.

Still the same in size and weight, England's cricket ball was invented 370 years ago by a maker whose descendants still carry on the business.

Society

U. S. W. V. Schedules Annual Phasant Feed

Highlighting the social activities of the month for the United Spanish War Veterans and auxiliary will be the annual phasant banquet Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the American Legion Memorial hall.

The banquet will preface business sessions of the post, presided over by M. Lawson, Buhl, commander, and the auxiliary, presided over by Mrs. R. E. Morehouse, Twin Falls, when plans will be discussed for the entertainment of department officers who will be here for a meeting Nov. 18.

Department officers, invited to attend the banquet, but who will not be able to visit the Twin Falls group until later in the month, are Mrs. Anna Wilson, department president of the auxiliary; W. R. McGarvey, Coeur d'Alene, department chairman; and Caryl Wilson, department historian.

Mrs. Morehouse and Mrs. Fannie Clark will cook the birds for the banquet. Mrs. F. W. McRoberts, Mrs. E. M. Sweeney and Mrs. L. E. Whitt are members of the menu committee. Mrs. Nora Falson is chairman of the phasant committee.

Heading the committee from the post on the menu arrangements is Peter Pearson. Other members of the Twin Falls group also assisting are: Mrs. E. M. Sweeney, Mrs. E. M. Sweeney and Mrs. L. E. Whitt.

HARVEST MOTIF FAVORED AT PARTY
A bountiful harvest of harvest fruits on a mirror reflector, between lighted orange tapers, formed the centerpiece for the refreshment table which Mrs. William Brown entertained at bridge last evening.

BOYS ASSEMBLY FOR HOLIDAY DINNER
Gerald Painter was host recently at the Roy Painter home, 1015 G. street, north, entertaining at dinner for 11 guests. Games were played following dinner, prizes going to Jack Gibson, Duane Harder and Robert Bailey.

Covers were also marked for Vernon Murphy, Bobby Thompson, Spafford, Allen Henschel, Harold Drake and Howard Ross.

A Halloween chandelier suspended over the dining table furnished effective illumination, and black cats were the novel centerpiece.

HALLOWEEN FAVORS DISTRIBUTED AT DANCE
Gay among the Halloween observances was the dancing party at the home of Mrs. J. H. Brown, 204 N. 20th street, north, for 18 guests.

Halloween caps and favors were distributed to the dancers early in the evening, adding color to the occasion.

A Halloween cloth covered the refreshment table, which was illuminated by candles. About the home were bouquets of seasonal flowers, the shades of orange and yellow predominating.

WOODMAN CIRCLE PLANS DISTRICT MEET
Twin Falls will be the scene of the district convention of the Supreme Forest Woodman Circle Sunday, Nov. 20. To formulate plans for the district, the local group will meet Wednesday evening at the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Mrs. Edna R. Ross, Boise, state manager, will be present to assist in arranging for the district meeting, which will be held at the Odd Fellows hall.

All members are requested by Mrs. T. J. Lloyd, president, to be present Wednesday evening. Refreshments will be served.

PARTY SET FOR FIRST WARD M. I. A.
The adult class of the first ward M. I. A. of the Lewis and Clark church will attend a party Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alma Wells, 604 Highland avenue.

Arrangements are being made for the entertainment of 40 guests, and the Thanksgiving theme will be featured. E. M. Guest is class advisor.

Prominent Pair Will Celebrate Golden Wedding
DEOLO, Nov. 1 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum B. Lewis, Declo, one of the best-known couples in southern Idaho, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with a "top house" Sunday, Nov. 6, from 1 to 8 o'clock at their beautiful country home. An invitation is extended to their many friends to assist in the celebration.

Song Costumes Hard to Guess

Winning stakes at Michigan poker, bingo and other "midway" games was much easier than fathoming the theme songs represented in the various costumes and headresses worn by members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's club at the hijinx last evening at the spacious country home of Mrs. Frankie Alworth.

Frocked in a beautifully made, authentic model of the lady of fashion, 1880, with which she wore high-top white kid shoes and carried an embroidered parasol, Miss Margaret Beethoff represented "On a Sunday Afternoon." Her's was the most elaborate of the costumes worn.

Mrs. Alice Abt, wearing a hat of plume cones plumed with evergreen and a necklace of giant cones, won the prize for the cleverest costume. Her attire denoted "They Cut Down the Old Pine Tree."

Among those wearing hard-to-guess costumes were: Mrs. Grace Parsons, a pie plate tilted on one side, and tied with a ribbon to her head, "Tippy Tippy Tin"; Mrs. Margaret Peck in a riding habit, "Ride Tenderfoot, Ride"; Miss Isella McCoy, a headband to which numerous streamers and calliope streamers were tied, "Alexander's Ragtime Band"; Mrs. Ella George, an anklet ornamented with white rickrack of sugar, "Sweet and Low."

Most effortless effect of the evening was achieved by Miss Marie Nelson, who attended in an afternoon dress, unadorned by hat or ornaments. Her song representation was "Just As I Am." Mrs. Parsons received the prize for identifying the most costumes.

Bronze and gold chrysanthemums, cats and witches on the draperies, and Halloween shades over the lamps, laid a holiday air to the home. Halloween noise-makers were distributed during the evening, and refreshments, doughnuts, cider and coffee, were served at a late hour.

Arranging the event, highlight of the autumn season, were the hostesses, Mrs. Alworth, Mrs. Ella White, Mrs. Helen Dietz, Mrs. Mae Janke and Mrs. Lillian Callen.

Seven new members were introduced by Miss Marie Aukerman, president of the club, including Mrs. Arlette Jenkins, Mrs. Kristie Dixon, Mrs. Lyle Gardner, Miss N. Lucille Norell, Miss Florence Lusk, Miss Mae M. Brown and Miss Fannie Ames.

Announcement was made that the dinner meeting of the group would be held next Monday evening at the Park hotel.

"Little Co-ed Ridinghood"

Although designed primarily for college girls, this smart wool Jersey dress with a hood which can be worn up as shown, or down to form a soft shawl collar, is ideal for any woman to wear autumn weekends in the country or in an open roadster.

The jersey is soft as an angora kitten. Twisted metal buttons and cleverly concealed pockets are the only trimming. The hood is formed by closing the slide fastener up the center of the two-pail collar.

American designer Marie Perle has created it. Armour created it.

JEROME
Mrs. Owen Davis entertained Thursday at a surprise party given in honor of Mrs. Earl Small who celebrated her birthday. Prizes were received by Mrs. Small and Mrs. Charles Davis.

Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Hawley spent Sunday in American Falls where they visited with their daughter, Mrs. Hawley, who is teaching in the American Falls school system this year.

Twenty women of the golf club were entertained at luncheon at the home of Mrs. M. A. Bishop Friday. Mrs. L. W. Preving was co-hostess. One group of the club enjoyed golfing and the other group played at bridge. Honors in golf and bridge were received by Mrs. Wellbroth and Mrs. W. A. Helas.

Pioneer brides met at the home of Mrs. George Gillespie last week. Guests were Mrs. Park W. Tourtelot and Mrs. William Phoenix. Mrs. Charles White received high honor at cards and Mrs. Tourtelot received guest prize.

Marian Martin Pattern

Where's the smart hostess who wouldn't glory in this very new Marian Martin slenderness pattern? It's factoring in the order of the day, and festive events like Thanksgiving and Christmas are looking up with a scalped neck-line, lace edging, and buttons or tie-downs. Pattern 1988 simply radiates charm and dignity. Shirtings give the bodice extra fullness and flattery, and panels add a lovely flare to the skirt. The long and three-quarter sleeves have special ease-in softness, while the loose short sleeves may be open underneath. So simple to make. Pattern 1988 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 38 requires 4 yards 39 inch fabric and 2 1/2 yards lace edging.

HALLOWEEN WAS 'BEST'—GILLETTE
Chief of Police Howard Gillette trained this year's Halloween celebration "the times as good as any in the past" so far as the destruction of property was concerned.
"Three was a very proper dinner," the chief said, "but it did not even come close to comparing with former years in Twin Falls. There still seems to be a group of young people who don't know the meaning of the word sportsmanship but as a whole the youngsters, as well as the grownups of the city, are to be complimented for the way they observed the day."
The parents and the public in general are to be lauded for their cooperation in making Halloween this year a more or less sane one.

FORGOT
CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (UP)—An abandoned householder who "forgot" his Halloween dinner, fired several shots at a group of young men who were tearing down his fence last night. Two were wounded, one seriously, he is expected to die. The victims are James Durkin, 37, who was in the yard, and John Conlon, 27, his assailant, William Berger, 29, surrendered to police.

CHIEF SILENT ON KNIFE RELEASE
Chief of Police Howard Gillette this afternoon had no comment to make concerning the contemplated release of Ernest Mulholland, 25, from the state prison Dec. 5. Mulholland was arrested here last year on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon in a Twin Falls case. He was held in the county jail until he was released to a hospital. Under terms of the release, granted by the pardon board, the man is to be held in the county jail until he is released to a hospital. He is to be held in the county jail until he is released to a hospital.

ELECTION JUDGE VACANCY FILLED
Mrs. John Heckl was named today as one of the election judges in the Rogers precinct to succeed Mrs. Fred Clute, who resigned. Mrs. Heckl was named by the board of county commissioners.
The injured member of the Rogers election judges, as appointed prior to the primary last August, consists of Mrs. Berry Duncan, Paul Schnell, Mrs. Helen Taylor, Ruth C. Kunkel and Ruby K. Dean.

Rally Postponed When Candidates Get Crash Hurts
POCATELLO, Ida., Nov. 1 (UP)—Four persons were in a hospital and a county political rally was postponed today as the result of an automobile accident on the highway near Pocatello.
The injured member of the Rogers election judges, as appointed prior to the primary last August, consists of Mrs. Berry Duncan, Paul Schnell, Mrs. Helen Taylor, Ruth C. Kunkel and Ruby K. Dean.

Delayed Sentence In Driving Case
CECIL O. DOBBS, Twin Falls, yesterday afternoon pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace Guy T. Swape.
Actual sentence, however, was withheld until the defendant had informed the judge he needed employment which was available during the harvest in order to aid his family. He was held in the county jail until his family was informed of his situation.

Improvement for Victim of Bullet
Mrs. Myrna Davis Harvey, third woman in being treated at the county general hospital for a bullet wound in the head, was reported this afternoon as showing "outstanding" improvement.
The attending physician said Mrs. Harvey was "definitely conscious" since the time, although still unable to get up, and she was able to recognize visitors to her room. The 38 caliber bullet which entered her head is still within the skull.

OKAY
The crisis seemed to be over today for Bobbie, pet lynx cat of Sheriff E. P. Prater and Mrs. Prater. The young wildcat fell off the courthouse roof Saturday. Today Prater said cheerfully: "The cat's okay."

Grange Bridge Victory Seen If Fight Goes up to Solons
Action of the State Grange in requesting speedy steps toward river-bridge appraisal and purchase indicates that if the state legislature becomes the decisive factor, removal of the toll "has a fine chance of success." Grange boosters of the free bridge held here today.
John Troendly, Grange, said that there is no question but that if we get our Granges behind it, we'll have a majority in the state legislature. Any tentative plan of the Grange always has a fine chance of success.
Troendly, William L. Snyder, North side Pomona maker, Fred E. Metz, Twin Falls Pomona chief, carried the brunt of the move which produced the State Grange's resolution at its Caldwell convention last week.
Told the Facts
"Grange's only real plan of action," he said, "is to get a free bridge to just a person who does not understand the facts. We know what they want, the free bridge means to the farmers and to other traffic, they are in favor of it."

Volunteers Inaugurate Concert Sign-Up Drive
Unusual enthusiasm marked the "knockout" dinner of the members of the Community Concert association last evening at the Park hotel, where the executive committee announced its plan for the fall, if directors said last evening.
Mrs. Lewis, representing the Columbia County association, stressed the fact that the organization was non-profit making and that the members were immediately re-invested in the association, making the educational movement tax-exempt.
He called association members' attention to the fact that any of the other associations in Boise, Pocatello and other centers, may be brought to Twin Falls, if the membership are sufficient.

Headquarters Set Up
For convenience of those who wish to ask questions concerning the concert before joining, and for those who wish to purchase membership, headquarters were set up at the Electric Supply Store, Friday, the final day of the sign-up drive. The office will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Mrs. Davis will be here all week to assist in the campaign, and Mrs. Mary Hoover, secretary of the association, will be at headquarters daily.
"Never again will the membership campaign be presented at this time of year, because we do not wish to compete with the Community Concert, Red Cross or any other organizations conducting fund-raising campaigns in the fall," directors said last evening.

JEWIS BEING HELD WITHOUT SHELTER ON GERMAN FRONTIER

3 GO INSANE AS NAZIS AND POLES CONSIDER PLANS

WARSAW, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Jewish relief committee asserted today that four persons had died and three had gone insane among 5,000 Polish Jews held along the Polish-German frontier.

The committee said that the Jews were being held without shelter. They had been taken to the frontier from the interior of Germany, awaiting deportation to Poland due to a dispute regarding Poland's new citizenship law.

Nine thousand Jews, practically without money, clothes or food, who crossed the frontier into Poland, for Germany suspended its deportation order Saturday had been transported into the interior of Poland, it was estimated.

Few Find Friends
Jewish reports indicated that only a few had found friends or relatives and that most were being cared for by the Jewish community and the Polish Red Cross. Most of them were quartered in schools, hospitals and barracks.

The Polish and German governments in exchanges yesterday prepared the ground for new negotiations on the Polish citizenship laws. The German embassy here did the preliminary work for the German government. It was believed here that actual negotiations would be started at Berlin tomorrow.

Agree to Negotiate
New Polish citizenship laws required Polish citizens resident in foreign countries to have passports valid by Oct. 30 at Polish consulates in the countries of residence.

German authorities, asserting that they feared that perhaps 50,000 Polish Jews resident in Germany would be deprived of citizenship, began arresting Polish Jews and sending them to the frontier.

The German authorities suspended deportations when the Polish government began to retaliate by ordering "Aryan" Germans in Poland to leave the country within 48 hours.

LOCAL GIRL WINS DIVISION HONORS

Virginia Wachter, Twin Falls, brought division honors to Twin Falls county in the 1938 Idaho 4-H girls' style dress revue. It was announced here today by Earl R. Stansell, district agent.

But the orchestra also had contracted with the American Guild of Musical Artists, to which all its musicians belong, not to employ any concert artist who was not a member of the guild.

In their dilemma, officials of the orchestra association would make no comment. Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, president, called a meeting of members to obtain their advice before conferring with the executive board of the Los Angeles Guild of Musical Artists. Local union officials endorsed the banning of Menuhin by the guild's national board, would add nothing to his comment.

South central Idaho county champions are Rachel Matthews, Cassia; Marie Thompson, Gooding; Donna Handy, Jerome; Joyce Williams, Lincoln; Phyllis Howard, Twin Falls county; Esther Carpenter, Elmore.

There were 33 counties represented this year with 1240 Idaho girls participating. Mr. Stansell said.

Rebekahs Entertain At Filer Hobo Party

FILER, Nov. 1 (Special)—One of the spook parties of the season was held Friday evening by members of the Rebekah lodge in honor of their husbands and also for members of the Odd Fellow lodge and their wives in the form of a hobo party.

In the grand march to determine the "most awful hobo" prizes were awarded to Mrs. R. T. Graves, Cecil Macaw, Mrs. Robert Penny and W. E. Lancaster. Music for the dance was furnished by a trio consisting of a banjo, guitar and violin.

Some of the "hobos" enjoyed pinocchio and prizes were given to Mrs. Clyde Huffman, Mrs. Abe McKinley, Claude Brown and J. Tucker. A midnight supper was "handed out" to the 100 hungry tramps and then the frolic continued.

The committee in charge of the party included Mrs. Roy Hamilton, Mrs. Cecil Macaw, Mrs. Wayne Eurd, Mrs. Robert Penny and Mrs. James Lancaster.

Photographer Frank Cancellari of the NEA Service (Evening Times) Washington staff was covering the White House the other day, snapping pictures of important men after they had conferred with President Roosevelt. On his way back to the darkroom he happened to notice these little girls, Patricia Freeman and Frances Gross, having fun sliding on the new railing that leads up to the executive offices. He said he thought they made a right cute picture and it showed the new railing pretty well.

"Yes, it's a cute picture—but it's also a very important one because there are very few other capital cities on this troubled globe where it could meet a photographer's eye. It simply wouldn't happen. Imagine Berlin or Rome. Imagine even Buckingham palace. Imagine the palace of rulers the world around. And then try to imagine two little girls having fun sliding on a railing.

ES Croppers in Berlin... Grenadiers at Buckingham... Verboten... You can't do this, you know, Vigoroso "hooked" away from the Palazzo Venezia in Rome.

But at the White House little girls slide down the railing and it doesn't matter to the progress of government at all.

Menuhin Demands He be Allowed to Play Concert

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1 (AP)—Yehudi Menuhin, the violin virtuoso, demanded today that the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra live up to its contract and permit him to play at its concert without first joining a union.

But the orchestra also had contracted with the American Guild of Musical Artists, to which all its musicians belong, not to employ any concert artist who was not a member of the guild.

In their dilemma, officials of the orchestra association would make no comment. Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, president, called a meeting of members to obtain their advice before conferring with the executive board of the Los Angeles Guild of Musical Artists. Local union officials endorsed the banning of Menuhin by the guild's national board, would add nothing to his comment.

Menuhin, through his father, Moshe, announced at his home in Los Gatos, last night that he would not waive his contract which was signed a year ago and which said nothing about union membership. Menuhin had contracted then to play twice with the orchestra for a fee of $3,000 and he will come here tonight to live up to his side of the agreement.

PURSES MISSING AFTER BURGLARY

Taking advantage of activities in other rooms of the house where a Halloween party was in progress, thieves late last night entered a first floor bedroom window at the Bernard Marlyn residence at 850 Ash street and stole three handbags.

The theft was discovered shortly after 10 p. m. and police were called. The bags had been left on a bed along with coats and other wearing apparel but nothing else had been disturbed.

The bags were the property of Mrs. Helen C. Taylor, Rex Arms apartments; Mrs. Arthur Gordon, 122 Second street east and Mrs. Dillard Requa, route three. Aside from personal articles the purses contained money in the amount of approximately $11.

3 K. OF C. UNITS PLAN TO INSTALL

Combined installation ceremonies for the Knights of Columbus councils from Buhl, Rupert and Twin Falls will be conducted here at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the I. O. O. F. hall, Twin Falls council officials announced today.

Although each of the three groups has had its officers elected for some time, the formal installation has not yet been staged at any of the three councils. Wednesday's session here will attract between 75 and 100 K. of C.

John Keenan, acting district deputy, will conduct the installation portion of the program. Harry O'Halloran, recently appointed district deputy, has not yet assumed those duties.

George Seidel, grand knight of the Twin Falls council, will preside throughout the meeting. He will be one of the three grand knights installed.

John D. Leahy, past state deputy, will report on the supreme convention of K. of C. which he attended in Cincinnati, O., this year.

Entertainment program and refreshments are under chairmanship of Frank Miller.

C. C. Anderson Co. THE GOLDEN RULE

Let's Help the Grand Jury "Clean House" in Idaho!

The people of Idaho are already well aware of what the state has gone through because of the bureaucratic policies of former governor C. Ben Ross. No rival political accusations are necessary to reveal the corruption of his three previous administrations. It has been written into official state records by the highway audit and grand jury investigation.

It disclosed a warden borrowing money from convicts, and 1200 irregular signatures on the state payrolls. It resulted in one highway department official being fined $1000, another leaving the country as a fugitive from justice, and still two others being placed under indictment. It brought to light how more than $477,000 worth of major equipment was purchased without bids being asked, and how the governor ordered his purchasing agent to disregard the law.

All of this took place during the three administrations of C. Ben Ross who now seeks a fourth term as governor. And these are but a few of the state governmental irregularities already unearthed. Still more significant, when the grand jury adjourned Aug. 23, it declared: "We have but scratched the surface."

Never Was Idaho in Greater Need of a "House Cleaning"

Idaho's present state highway department, created and controlled by Ross, has been revealed as the state's strongest and most corrupt political machine. It has remained in power since Ross was last governor and will continue in power if he is again elected. The highway audit and grand jury investigation have already accomplished much in the way of a housecleaning, but it remains for the people of Idaho to complete the job by voting the Republican ticket at the Nov. 8 election. The Republican candidates are pledged to clean house in the highway department. If they are elected, and to put all of the department's expenditures under legislative control. There was never greater need for a general housecleaning in Idaho and the Republicans, under the circumstances, are the only ones who can be depended upon to do it.
