40,000,000 VOTERS TREK TO POLLS KING GEORGE ACCEPTS INVITATION TO VISIT U. S.

Journey to America Will be Made During Canadian Inspection
By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, Jr.
LONDON, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—King George announced to parliament today that he had accepted an invitation from President Roosevelt to visit the United States during his Canadian tour next spring.
The probable date of the king's visit to the United States is about June 20.
Addressing the houses of lords and commons from his throne in the lord's chamber, he opened a new session, the king announced:
"I have been happy to accept an invitation extended to the queen and myself by the President to visit the United States of America before the conclusion of my Canadian tour."
"I warmly welcome this practical expression of the good feeling that prevails between our countries."
It will be the first visit of a reigning British monarch to the United States.
The Daily Mail asserted that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain might accompany the king and queen.

Drafted by Cabinet
The king's announcement that he would visit the United States came immediately after a reference to his Canadian tour.
"The queen and I are anticipating with the keenest pleasure the visit we are hoping to pay to my friends and to the people of that country."
The speech from the throne at the beginning of a session of parliament is drafted by the cabinet and thus is the greatest statement in that it carries the weight of king and government.
Today the king covered a wide range of subjects.
He announced the British government's readiness to do anything it could to help in ending the Chinese civil war.
He said that the government would promote a friendly relationship with Germany.
Kennedy Present
He expressed hope that the enforcement of the British-Italian friendship treaty would aid the cause of peace.
He said that the government would speed up rearmament.
Approval of his announcement received enthusiastic applause in the House of Commons.
Joseph P. Kennedy, American ambassador, attending his first state opening of parliament, sat in the front row of the gallery.
Dr. Allan Roy Dufour, the girl's guardian, said they had been suffering from colds at frequent intervals and that the doctor attending the operating room and both will leave before the twins regain consciousness.
Dr. Dufour has not yet told the babies about the operation which they will be given a general anaesthetic. The order in which they will be operated upon has not been decided.
Neither Dr. Dufour nor Dr. Brown will allow the twins to know they have any connection with the operation. The anaesthetics will be administered before either doctor enters the operating room and both will leave before the twins regain consciousness.
Dr. Dufour has not yet told the babies about the operation which they will be given a general anaesthetic. The order in which they will be operated upon has not been decided.

Quintuplets To Undergo Operations
TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 8 (U.P.)—The Dionne quintuplets all will have their tonsils and adenoids removed tomorrow to stop a spreading throat infection, which their physician doctor said today might endanger their lives unless it is checked.

BOMBED STEAMER IN OAKLAND DOCK
OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 8 (U.P.)—A black powder time bomb, probably exploded from the ship, was responsible for the blast which tore a hole in the hull of the steamer Vancouver in the Oakland estuary, according to investigators.

DETAINMENT CAPTURED
PARIS, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—The Spanish nationalist press agency reported today that a machine gun detachment of the international brigade, fighting with the loyalists, had been captured while trying to swim the Bay of Biscay. The agency said the prisoners included Americans, French, Belgians and Dutch.

Chinese, Japanese Claim Fight Wins
SHANGHAI, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—The Japanese reported today that their forces had captured Tientsin, 300 miles south of Hankow.
Chinese sources reported that the Chinese striking back at the Japanese west of Canton, had recaptured Peking and Peking, just outside the city.

ELECTIONS WILL TEST REACTIONS TO FDR POLICIES
By FRANK R. McNAUGHTON
NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—Congressional elections in 47 states today will test grassroots reaction to six years of the New Deal and to Republican bids to strengthen their forces propelling the 1940 presidential fight.
Republicans are making their strongest challenge in 10 states. They hope to reverse the trend which in each election since 1928 has whittled down their house membership.
Republicans said they hoped to gain 50 to 60 seats in the House. Such a gain, party members believed, would indicate a definite O. O. P. resurgence. Democrats anticipated losses but hoped to hold them to a minimum.
Won't Oppose Control
Republicans held 58 seats in the last house to go for the Democrats and 13 for minority parties. One was vacant. Republicans have not controlled the house since 1926 and do not believe they will upset Democratic control today. They do, however, hope to add sufficient votes to give them opposition to executive effectiveness, administration proposals.
Fifty-six Democrats, largely in southern districts, and eight Republicans, are assured of election because of lack of opposition.
Spectacular Fight
The most spectacular congressional fight was in New York's 16th district, where Rep. John O'Connor, chairman of the house rules committee, termed by President Roosevelt as "outstanding obstructionist," sought reelection as a Republican after losing the Democratic nomination in the primary.
O'Connor's opponent was James H. Pate, one-legged World War veteran, backed by the New Deal. In the primary, O'Connor had both a Democratic and a Republican and his combined total vote exceeded the combined vote polled by his primary opponents.

BUHL HUNTS FOR ROBBER SUSPECT
BURL, Nov. 8 (Special)—Local police today had called the aid of other southern Idaho officers in a search for an unidentified man who last night audaciously eluded Hyrum Brown, a farm hand, and robbed him of $180 and his automobile keys.
William Hoppie, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoppie, Sr., residing on a ranch five and one-half miles southeast of Buhl, was with Brown at the time. Hoppie, who was the driver and was wearing a tan clothing and pulled the trigger. The gun, apparently not loaded, failed to fire. Hoppie then secured aid of police but the man was not seen.

CONVENTION OF FLORISTS OPENS
With three speakers, two being from out-of-state, scheduled to appear on the program, members of the Florida Florists' Association tonight opened their annual convention at the Flamingo Hotel in Miami.
The convention will be held at the Koza ballroom, 150 Main avenue north. Speakers will include Dr. Wm. L. Delaney, regional director, Portland, Ore.; J. J. Brennan, district representative, Buhl; Thomas Hoggins, Buhl; and Dr. A. S. Brown, Miami.
Approximately 100 persons are expected to attend the convention. All attending the P. T. D. unit meeting will receive a complimentary dinner and tomorrow morning will start on a tour of the annual convention of the Florida State Florists' Association which runs through Thursday, Nov. 10.
Registration for this convention will open at the Kolo building at 8 p. m. with the program starting at 9:30 a. m. Highlights will include a public flower show which opens in the Kolo building Thursday at 2 p. m. An auction sale of plants and flowers will be held at 7 p. m. that day. The general public is invited to attend both of these special events.

REAR END VALENCIA
VALENCIA, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—Four were killed, 30 gravely wounded and 37 buildings destroyed in an air raid on Valencia today. The raiders dropped 60 bombs on the city proper.

IRISHMAN DIMITRIEN
MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 8 (U.P.)—The tropical disturbance swirling through the Bahamas Islands in the Atlantic gave indication today of decreasing intensity and the federal hurricane warning system announced "no precautionary apparatus necessary on the southeast Florida coast except for small craft."

THREATENING TO EMPTY THEATERS
New York television station WABD has threatened to empty theaters of movie patrons unless television movie production is permitted.
"It's hard to tell just how it will turn out," said the station's president. "We are just groping our way and I only wish I could see five years into the future for some indication of what television will have on the entertainment field."
"Most of our own questions" still are unanswered. We do not yet know how television entertainment will be paid for, nor what kind of action will be best suited to the medium, nor what the future will have on picture production.
"Other studios seem to feel that television will hurt the theater business. We feel just the opposite. Allen B. Dumont, head of Dumont Laboratories, Inc., our subsidiary, owns patents making possible the piping of actual television scenes into motion picture theaters."
"This audience throughout the country will see a prime time night in Madison Square Garden while it was being fought, and the Army-Navy football game while it was being played. The possibilities seem limitless. People, we believe, always will attend picture theaters."

Luck of Rain or Shine May Determine Many of Winners

Highlight Idaho's Election
NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—The nation voted today in an off-year general election in which vital-scattered races were so close that the luck of rain or sunshine may determine the winners.
Weather forecasts were moderately unfavorable to Republicans along the mid-Atlantic coast and westward into the plains states. The forecast for these areas included clouds, rains, and snow.
New York Republicans were especially weather conscious. In rural upstate, rain might keep many of a G. O. P. vote away from the polls and perhaps determine whether the Democratic party retains or wins the governorship. That is the grand prize in the election sweepstakes.

STATE POLITICAL CHAIRMEN BOTH FORECAST WINS
By DAVID N. JOHNSON
BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—From the Canadian border at the tip of the state to the Utah line in Cache Valley, Idaho's voters went to the polls today to decide whether the state's administration and a national referendum would be decided by rain or shine.

Prime Interest of the evening settled around the governorship contest between G. A. Bottolfsen, Republican, and C. Ben Ross, Democrat.
The local race overshadowed the senatorial and two congressional seats that are also at stake.
Bottolfsen predicted that his best chance in the election rested in the governorship, and some members of that party predicted that although the race of the elect would be lost, Bottolfsen would take the lead in the race for chief executive.
Predicted GOP Victory
But Tom Heath, chairman of the state's G. O. P. didn't take that attitude. He predicted a full Republican victory and in a speech last night to 1,200 persons at the party's headquarters he said he was "confident" his party would win.

The "voice of the people"
was speaking in Twin Falls today, silent and unanticipated under the fanfare and furor of confident claims by rival political headquarters.
Waiting in the city for the 1938 general election was proceeding at a rapid pace at 3:30 p. m., with the bulk of the rush expected to come later this afternoon. Final surge of voting will probably flood the polls between 5 and 7 p. m., precinct officials forecast.
Survey of the seven polling spots between 1 and 1:45 p. m. showed that 2,347 ballots had been cast in the city since the polls opened at 8 a. m. That was already one-sixth the entire total for all of the county in the 1938 voting for GOVERNOR.
Voting will continue until 7 p. m. at which time counting judges will release the count up to that time. Official count of the ballots began in each precinct as soon as five votes were cast, but no announcement was permissible under law until closing of the polls at 7 p. m.
Exactly 217 absentee ballots had been received at the county auditor's office up to noon. Distribution of these to the various precincts in the county was being made today.
First voters today in Twin Falls were:

PRECINCT ONE: Lind's Auto service, Justice of the Peace H. W. Holler; Precinct two, court house, John H. Ship; Precinct three, Mayor's, Victor Melton; Precinct four, Firestone service, Tom Davis; Precinct five, Hotel school, H. L. Gannon; Precinct six, Lincoln school, E. H. Brownfield; Precinct seven, Washington school, J. A. Cedenoval.
Headquarters of Democrats and Republicans were scenes of intense activity throughout the day as party chiefs rounded up transportation for voters and made arrangements to secure results tonight. Campaigning was at an end, but "button-holing" tactics continued on the part of individual workers. Cardholders were stationed at all polling spots in a final move to influence the vote as ballots filled in to cast their ballots.

Some Confusion
Considerable confusion was evident among judges in several precincts during the morning, unofficially.

CRISP, CLOUDY
In Idaho the weather was crisp and cloudy. The forecast was "chilly and possibly snow flurries in the mountains" for tonight. South central Idaho voters went to the polls under a clear sky but no moisture had fallen at 3 p. m. today.
The thermometer dropped to 22 below zero here this morning in Twin Falls, but it was not cold enough to keep any prospective ballot-casters away from the polls.

SNOW, COLD, RAIN BLANKET NATION
By United Press
Cold, and heavy rain prevailed between the Rockies and the Mississippi today as the nation voted to decide congressional and state elections. The weather was unpropitious in some eastern states.
U. S. Forecaster C. A. Donald said the cold was moving rapidly toward the North and might reach eastern states in time to interfere with voting. He reported cloudy weather in the mid-Atlantic states. Eight inches of snow was reported in sections of Colorado, Wyoming.

Governor Post Of N. Y. Termed Election Prize

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—The nation voted today in an off-year general election in which vital-scattered races were so close that the luck of rain or sunshine may determine the winners.

FOUR MEN TO GET SPOTLIGHT
in Idaho voting. Ross, seeing a fourth term as governor, is opposed by Bottolfsen, a Republican. D. Worth Clark, youthful representative for the last four years in the U. S. congress, seeks to return as a senator. He is faced by Republican Callahan, called the "silver orator of north Idaho."

ASKS HONEST GOVERNMENT
And that is the chief election issue from Attorney-General J. W. Taylor, Democratic candidate for reelection, came out today.

FIGHTS ENLIVEN JERSEY'S VOTING
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 8 (U.P.)—Pittsburgher punched the voting tonk in Jersey City where W. Warren Barber, Republican candidate for senator, visited polling places after charging that the Democratic machine of Mayor Frank Hague was planning to stuff the boxes with fraudulent ballots.
The first report of violence came from the fourth district of the first ward where Charles Hagan, Republican election board member, charged two of his Democratic colleagues of beating him. Hagan said he was beaten because, over the course of the election, he had given his opponent the assistance he asked in marking her ballot.
The chief interest for the state's 2,100,000 registered voters was the U. S. senatorial race centering on the race between the New York and New Jersey.

New York Television Broadcasts Start in January
By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8 (U.P.)—Major studios announced today that in January they will begin broadcasting to the homes of New Yorkers—and later to other areas throughout the land—relaxed movies of Hollywood stars.
Blanton Griffith, chairman of the studio's executive committee, said that movie fans would need only a television receiving set.

Literary Trend Seen In American Drama

"The American dramas of today are far more literary than they were a few years ago," Mrs. M. E. Shotwell told members of the Drama and Literature department of the Twentieth Century club this afternoon, as a preface to the reading of "Our Town," the Thornton Wilder Pulitzer prize play for 1938, by Mrs. George Warberg.

The department meeting took place at the American Legion Memorial hall, and Mrs. H. L. Hogsett, department chairman, presided. In her discussion of drama trends, Mrs. Shotwell also told of how the Federal theater movement has brought good drama to the under-privileged.

Wilder's prize-winning play, the story of a township in New Hampshire during the winter of 1901, and most of the action of the play is in pantomime. Mrs. Warberg explained to her audience.

She commented that many believe that in "Our Town," Wilder has written the first really great radio play for what is seen is not so important as what is heard. Unusually human glimpses of daily life in New Hampshire are portrayed in the play and views of some of the town's people for one year or another in the course of time, are revealed as the drama unfolds.

Another singular factor in the play is the stage manager who appears from time to time, interrupting the middle of a scene, explaining, interpreting the actions of the various players.

Minimizing the stimulating discussion on the drama, tea was served by the hostess committee, from a smartly appointed table.

Hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. V. C. Ballantyne, Mrs. Dean H. Aftleck, Mrs. Metta Belsch, Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. C. P. Bowles and Mrs. O. B. DeWitt.

GOVERNMENT STUDIED BY GROUP
Mrs. J. E. Carr, Deep Creek, discussed "Hidden Injuries" and Mrs. H. Krenzel spoke on "The Social Security Act" at a meeting of the study group sponsored by the Women's Republican league of Twin Falls county yesterday afternoon at the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Miss Izetta McCoy, county chairman, presided. Announcement was made that the next meeting will be held Nov. 21 in the auditorium, and that Mrs. W. C. Brown, Castleford, would direct a program on "The Neutrality Act."

BRIDGE DINNER ARRANGED AT HOTEL
Mrs. and Mrs. Glen Jenkins presided at a smartly appointed dinner being given recently at the Park hotel for 24 guests. Bridge was played later, honors going to Mrs. C. C. Kingsbury and A. F. Oslund.

Factors Named In Determining Right Vocation

"Directing students in wise selection of vocations, is definitely the job of the public schools, and more and more are curriculums being adapted to comply with this requirement," Edward Rogel, Twin Falls high school principal, told members of the Business and Professional Women's club last evening. His topic was "Finding the Right Work."

"One of the most difficult factors we have to combat in helping students to determine what they can do best in life, is the over-ambitious goal set by parents, who are not equipped to best judge their children's aptitudes and limitations," he added.

Filing System

He expressed the hope that more vocational courses would be included in the school curriculum in the near future, and approved the giving of credits toward graduation to boys and girls for apprenticeship work in industries when it was known that they would not continue college educations. Mrs. Rose Murray North and Gerald Wallace are counselors on these matters.

The local high school has begun a system of filing information concerning every student in the school, as their aptitudes, interests, resources, limitations and other factors which will influence their progress in the business and professional world, he said.

Miss Jessie Fraser, program chairman, introduced Mr. Rogel. Mrs. Rogel, who was a guest at the dinner meeting, which was held at the Park hotel.

Mr. Rogel distributed booklets outlining educational objectives of the American Veterans and their work with the American Education week observance locally.

Miss Marilyn Briscoe, pupil of Mrs. Effie Bilton, played "The Pompadour Fan," a piano solo by Charles Wakefield Cadman. Mrs. Bilton led the community singing, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Peck.

Buffet Supper

Mrs. Iris Smith invited the club to attend a buffet supper at her country home, one mile north of Twin Falls, on Saturday, Nov. 12, at 7 o'clock. The "miser bags," in which the club members are saving for the state convention and will be given to the club members. Mrs. Ella George, Miss Bertha Tice and Miss Merle Newell were appointed in her honor and served at the home of Mrs. J. J. Shields.

The tables were centered with Dresden vases, holding a cluster of small yellow chrysanthemums. McDonald was during the evening a lovely corsage of rose buds and chrysanthemums presented her by the chapter.

Following the dinner hour, the club women exemplified the ritual of the pledge of the honored guests of the McDonald chapter of the work gave a short talk.

Other visitors were Mrs. J. H. Murphy, Twin Falls, a member of the club, Mrs. Margaret Peck, Mrs. Glenn Bacon, a member of the Pifer chapter.

Mrs. McDonald left Sunday for Nampa, where she will visit chapters of that district.

Organizer Feted By Buhl P. E. O.

BOHL, NOV. 8 (Special)—Mrs. J. A. McDonald, St. Anthony street, P. E. O. organizer, paid her annual visit to the Buhl chapter 2 of the Silverton, Saturday. A dinner was prepared in her honor and served at the home of Mrs. J. J. Shields.

Trim and Tailored

Rosemary Lane hits a new high in tailored chic with her crisp wool frock, squared off at the shoulders and slashed to the waist in front to show the white gilet. With its semi-flared skirt beautifully out to mimic the hips and a crisp belt marking the trim, highlight, it's the kind of frock that rates top billing with active young moderns.

Travel Background for Girl Reserve Gathering

Girl Reserves in Magic Valley district are busy this week making final plans and preparations for the annual fall conference which is to be held during the week-end at Buhl, from 250 to 300 girls are expected to attend the Saturday and Sunday sessions.

Details of the plans for the conference are being supervised by Mrs. Helen Henderson, district Y. W. C. A. secretary, and advisers in each of the clubs in Twin Falls, Buhl, Piler, Kimberly, Eden, Hazelton and Burley. A number of the towns have two or three Girl Reserve clubs.

A REAL MESSAGE to the Discouraged Sufferers

IF YOU ARE SICK

No matter what stage of disease you have reached or what other remedies or treatments you have used without success, do not give up, as Chan & Wing Herbs will relieve your ailment where others failed.

... and Chan & Wing Nature Herbs Do Get Results ...

The Following Statements Speak for Themselves

June 1, 1937

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I had rheumatism in every joint of my body. I was always stiff and never without some kind of ache or pain. Every morning I awoke with swollen feet and a numb feeling all over. I could hardly walk. I suffered for two years and never went to work. It was after taking Chan & Wing's Herbs for eight weeks that the numbness and pain in all gone and I have gone back to work.

Yours truly,
JOHN H. MITCHELL,
Route 1,
Blackfoot, Idaho.

January 20, 1937

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am over 60 years old and for the last seven years I've had to go through tremendous pain and cramps caused by rheumatism in my shoulders, arms, hands and legs. Some of my neighbors kept telling me about Chan & Wing's Herbs and recommended it so strong that I finally consented to try it. So I did and, after only four weeks of using herbs, I felt well and normal for the first time in years and now I want to recommend it to my friends and to everyone. I can't say enough good things about Chan & Wing's Herbs.

Sincerely,

MERCURY LEVELS DIP DOWN TO 22

Marching steadily into winter, temperatures in the Twin Falls area slumped this morning, for the second successive day to 22 degrees above zero.

The 22 degrees last night was not the lowest of the fall season. Minimum reading Sunday morning was 17 degrees.

Spitting drizzle, halted by heavy rain last week, was going forward today as ranchers sped up operations in order to get their potatoes out of the ground before the thermometer brings a ruinous freeze.

Forecast for tonight and Wednesday calls for unsettled weather, with warmer temperature tonight. Warmest mark reached Monday afternoon was 49 degrees.

Color Prints Of Noted Art Works Coming

An exhibit of fine pictures will be presented in Twin Falls from Nov. 14 thru Dec. 16. This exhibit, which is being brought here by the school system from the Practical Drawing company of Dallas, Tex., will furnish an educational art exhibit composed of 150 masterpieces. They will be prints but of the exact size of the originals and as near as possible the exact replica as to coloring.

Because of the advance in the improvements in color photography, printing it is possible now to have these paintings true to the originals in most respects. Even the most delicate variations in color are maintained. It is reported.

Famed Masters

Among the pictures to be exhibited here are copies of "The Cleaners," a well-known study by Millet of the fields of France; Raphael's "The School of Athens," which is also to be included in the collection with the "Madonna of the Chair." Expected to draw much favorable comment is the reproduction of the "Mona Lisa," by Leonardo da Vinci. Many varieties of paintings are in the collection, landscapes, portrait studies, still life, historical and religious are among the masterpieces.

A few of the artists represented are: Van Gogh, Durer, Wiegand, Vermeer, Corneille, Rembrandt, Courbet, Reynolds, Botticelli, Murillo, Rembrandt and many others, including a number of contemporaries.

—Special Feature—

Only a nominal fee will be charged the students and public, just enough to cover the minimum cost in securing the exhibit, officials said. Pupils in the first six grades will be assigned five cents, junior and senior high school students will pay 10 cents and the charge for adults will be 15 cents. The collection will be at the Lincoln from Nov. 26 to Dec. 5, at the Bichel from Dec. 12 and at the Lincoln from Dec. 12 to 17.

Marie Wilson accents her frail blond charm with a two-piece black taffeta dinner frock. Innocent little flowers, spaced on the blouse, suggest a flower without actually being one, and the high cut skirt is holed in at the waist to give the flat waist effect that fashion deems so essential.

Camp Fire Group Elects President

Dona Jean Johnston was named president of the Tawanka Camp Fire group at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the new guardian, Mrs. John Klimes, 203 Ninth avenue east.

Other officers elected by the group are: Patsy Kelly, vice president; Katherine Roache, treasurer; Hazel Leighton, scribe; Pat Kelly, song leader.

This Camp Fire, which is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club, is meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of the new guardian, Mrs. John Klimes, 203 Ninth avenue east.

CHAPTER XXVII

Apparently Harris Rogers had crossed the door into his apartment, for Tait could hear their voices clearly just beyond the door.

"Why shouldn't I come here?" Tait heard a voice say. "I've been pulling chestnuts out of the fire for you long enough."

"Of course, of course..." Rogers' voice was conciliatory. "But think of the danger, Weika! We're on the spot. Can't you get that through your head?" Rogers stopped a moment, and Bob Tait strained at the doorway. "Is she there?"

"Sure, she's all right. But I'm not guaranteeing you that she will be all right if you're going to treat me like a tramp just because I happen to come here."

It was difficult for Tait to restrain himself, there in the hallway. Trembling in every nerve fiber, he held out against the door. Presently he heard Rogers say, quietly, "Is she still at the Belvedere?"

"Yes," George Weika said. "You don't need a worry."

"How do you know she won't read the devil and get you into trouble?"

Tait heard Weika's merric chuckle. "I've been over that with her. She doesn't know when I leave the other room. And I showed her the picture of the door I'd let her have it. Don't worry, Rogers. She's all right."

"Thank what are you here for, anyway?"

Weeks' voice grew indolent. "Just to see how you're getting along. I'm not sure you're getting used to let me have a hundred."

"You'll get what you have coming for your job is finished. You'd better get back to the Belvedere and see how the girls are all right. What's wrong with you, Weeks? Have you been drinking?"

Again that morose chuckle. "No, Rogers. But it might interest you to know that I'm going to be featured tonight with The Swingsters."

"What—what do you mean, you fool?"

"I mean that I'm going to play 'The Cat's Meow' in a feature spot. And what's more, a song picture is going to give me ten thousand for the rights to a new song I wrote."

Tait heard the shuffling of feet behind the door. He could visualize Harris Rogers excitedly grabbing the speaker. "Stop babbling! What have you been monkeying with The Swingsters for? And what new song did you write that would sell Mother Goose to music?"

"They think I can, though," Weeks said. "And what's more, don't forget, they believe I wrote 'The Cat's Meow'."

"Get out..."

Without further word, Tait turned sharply back, then reached his bulk dead against the flimsy door. The lock gave, shattering the door frame. Even as he pushed open the mangled door he could hear the woman's hurried steps on the stairway. But he was not interested in the escape of the frowsy keeper of the Belvedere.

There was a knock on the door. "There's a hotel by that name on Laurel street," Tait called.

"Is that the only one you know of by that name?"

"Yes," Tait said. "I don't know of any other."

"Then let's get there as quickly as you can. There's a healthy tip in it."

The taxi driver took Bob Tait to the hotel. He had been through the city on some wild rides—in police cars, in fire trucks, and even in the limousines of suspected gangsters—but this was the wildest ride he had ever settled himself in the seat when the driver leaned back and called, "Here you are, mister. Belvedere Hotel."

Tait looked out. It was a brown building with a sign that read "Belvedere Hotel."

BOTH POLITICAL HEADS SEE WINS
The first mention of the grand jury investigation and highway audit which accused Ross, his companion on the ticket, of condoning irregularities in the conduct of state politics.
Tyroler, deploring suggestions that he violate legal ethics by discussing the case here, said he would not, nevertheless told a radio audience that he would continue his fight against allegedly corrupt government officials and honest government.
Go to Home to Vote
The attorney-general has not appeared on the lecture platform with Ross at any time during the campaign. They have audaciously denied each other. The tone of the campaign threw them into a forced cooperation without connection.

40,000,000 TREK TO CAST BALLOTS
Jorly vote for various plans to hike old age pension payments. There are 496 major offices—congressional and gubernatorial—at stake of which Democrats now hold 383 and Republicans 94 with other party members accounting for the remainder.
Maine's September election did not change party standings. Republicans retained the governorship and the house delegation of three. There was no senatorial contest.
Today's election will set up the 76th congress which will meet Jan. 3.
Republicans Gain
Principal Republican gains are forecast in New England, middle Atlantic, and north central states. Depressed, crop prices, the 1937-38 business slump, continued large scale unemployment and a possible reaction against New Deal plans to reorganize the judiciary and methods of dealing with acute labor problems are factors suggesting that the G. O. P. may find the beginning of the comeback trail.
But more than mere gains will be necessary to establish a significant Republican upturn. The average off-year shift in the house from the majority to minority party is 59 seats.

9.5 Favorite
NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (UP)—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman was a 9.5 favorite today over Thomas E. Dewey, Republican, in Wall street wagering.
seats. The G. O. P. must thrust well beyond that number and gain a handful of senate seats to justify claims of being made to receive those on relief rolls."
Governors offer a better field for conclusive Republican victories. Subsequent election of the president would mark a spectacular turning of the 10-year tide which has all but submerged the G. O. P. since the presidential election of 1932.
Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee predicted another Democratic landslide, but conceded limited republican congressional gains.
Polling Day Instruction
Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee, today issued polling day instructions to all state chairmen to "keep a close watch for evidence of coercion of relief beneficiaries" because an "order" was being made to "coerce those on relief rolls."
He said there was a Republican trend among persons receiving relief and that the Illinois vote predicted a republican election for Gov. Alf M. Landon, a few hours before voting started two years ago, made no specific claims today.

WORK SPEEDED ON GIANT LINER

CLEVELAND (AP)—Work on the installation of the machinery in the Cunard-White Star liner Queen Elizabeth is proceeding apace.

The fitting out of the vessel is six months in advance of the work in the Queen Mary at the time of launching in 1934. The passenger accommodation in all sections is nearly complete. Woodwork is set and the public rooms are in a more advanced state than has ever been attained in a big ship at a similar state of development.

Powerful cranes are hoisting sections of the boiler and engines, which are being built up by an army of skilled engineers.

The task of furnishing is also proceeding apace. Many miles of curtains, carpets, hangings and floor coverings are being installed. Tons of blankets and towels have arrived.

Facilities for the passengers include a theater and three cinemas, an elaborate shopping center, banks, tourist bureau and telephone and telegraph services. Special rooms are to be provided on one of the upper decks, where passengers will be able to make and receive calls to and from any part of the world.

Public rooms in the tourist section include a dining salon, lounge, smoking room, club, bar, gymnasium, swimming pool, library and drawing-room. There also is a well-equipped nursery for young children. The theater has been so arranged that it can be used by tourist and cabin passengers.

Third-class passengers will have lounge on the forward end of the main sports deck. A lift will lead to it. Third-class rooms are exceptionally large and well ventilated, and all will have hot and cold running water.

The Queen Elizabeth will be an all-electric ship. About 4,000 miles of wire and 80,000 lamps are being fitted. All the tanks in the galleys will be performed electrically.

MISSION BOMBED

HANKOW, China, Nov. 8 (AP)—The American government missionary society asked the American consulates today to protest against the bombing of the mission at Kingmin, in Hubei province, by Japanese airplanes.

The society said the mission displayed the American flag and Japanese authorities had been notified of the site of the mission. There were no casualties in the raid, it was said.

CHINESE MAKES 'ODD LIFE BELT'

DUNCAN, B. C. (AP)—A combination suitcase and life preserver has been invented by Wah Sing, Chinese, Canadian-educated Chinese business man of Duncan.

The invention developed from an idea he had while visiting China some years ago. The cost of suitcases there, he noticed, were inadequately equipped with life-saving apparatus.

Wah Sing, who received word from the Chartered Institute of American Inventors that his device has decided possibilities, has obtained a patent.

He made it convertible into a life preserver. The suitcase is equipped with sections of cork or other buoyant material in the lid and bottom. It serves as an ordinary suitcase until emergency.

The lid and bottom are detachable, and the sections of buoyant material are fastened to the body with the suitcase straps. Small indentations in the material provide space for valuable articles.

Tests have shown that one pound of bonded cork will support 5.18 pounds in water, and it is calculated that six pounds of cork would be sufficient to act with the buoyancy of the human body to hold up the average person in water for an indefinite period.

Wah Sing, now a member of the Chartered Institute of American Inventors, has been 39 years in British Columbia, coming here as a boy of 10.

NEW NAZI ANTI-JEW WAVE SPREADS AFTER SHOOTING

GERMAN PAPERS OUTLINE PLANS OF REPRESSION

BERLIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Anti-Jewish demonstrations in Vienna, and a torrent of anti-Jewish comment in newspapers, marked Nazi reaction to the shooting of Ernst von Rath, third secretary of the German embassy in Paris, by a Jewish youth of 17 years.

Retaliation against Jews in Germany was forewarned in editorial headlines.

Dispatches from Vienna said that demonstrations started late last night in Jewish districts in connection with the shooting. Crowds assembled in front of synagogues, smashed some windows and beat Jewish passers-by.

Vienna newspapers carried the headline: "Jews will bear the consequences for the cowardly reaction."

Adolf Hitler paid close attention to the incident and sent personal physician, Dr. Brandt, and Prof. Georg Magnus, head of the surgical clinic of Munich university, to Paris to tend the victim.

It goes without saying that the German people will draw conclusions from this new deed. It is impossible that within our boundaries hundreds of thousands of Jews can be deported to the storm-ruined lands of the east.

It is self evident that Germany will reply to these shots, but direct retaliation is not what we desire. We do not shoot, but at Judaism which shot.
