GOP GAINS NEARLY 80 SEATS IN CONGRESS

Survey Shows Democrats Beat C. Ben Ross Candidacy

Democrats Lose 8 Senate Posts, 11 Governorships

IDAHO GOP GAINS POWERFUL GRIP ON LEGISLATURE

By DAVID N. JOHNSON
BOISE, Ida., Nov. 10 (U.P.)—A survey of nearly complete election returns from the state's 803 precincts indicated today that Democrats had done as much to defeat their own candidate for governor as had a resurgence of Republican power in the balloting.

C. Ben Ross, three-times former governor who succeeded to a fourth term, was defeated by C. A. Bottolfsen, Republican, whose victory in the chief executive contest marked a win in his first major office contest.

GOP Gains Give President Grounds for Alliance with Conservatives

ROOSEVELT SEEN AS BEST MAN IN 1940 ELECTIONS

By LYLE C. WILSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (U.P.)—An abrupt national swing toward the Republican party gave President Roosevelt good ground today either to close ranks with left wingers or form an alliance with conservative Democrats for the 1940 presidential campaign.

Wednesday's general election out down promising administration political timber. It left Mr. Roosevelt still more emphatically the strongest man in sight to head a 100 per cent New Deal ticket in 1940.

Stocks were in a business apparently reassured by the Republican victories. Left wing leaders at once saw the danger of their disunity and set about to consolidate.

New York Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, Fusion leader and American Labor party statesman, summoned outstanding progressive leaders to meet in Washington next week—object, coalition. La Guardia called the election a "decided setback."

Roosevelt: "Happy"

President Roosevelt, at his Hyde Park, N. Y., home, was less specific. Spokenmen said he was "feeling very happy and very grand."

Former President Herbert C. Hoover raised the conservative coalition and called for an executive order to stop the New Deal.

The returns add up to something considerably short an exciting landslide. The administration retains large congressional majorities. But the opposition has come out of its coma. Furthermore, not all the legislators tagged "Democrat" will be found in New Deal ranks. There is a sizable bloc which may be ready to bolt the President.

Rebels now from Democratic conservatives and alliance of the left wing New Deal with so-called "moderate" parties might draw Mr. Roosevelt into another race and the issue two years hence would be a third term.

Decision "Around Corner"

His decisions are just around that corner. Factors favoring a return of conservative Democratic influence in administration councils include the practical possibility that anti-New Deal Democrats may join with the reinforced Republican party in congressional session to junk new Roosevelt legislation and reshape that which already is law.

Compromise has not been a major part of the New Deal program since Mr. Roosevelt took over in Washington on March 4, 1933.

There will be diversity of judgment whether Tuesday's swing materially reduced Mr. Roosevelt's personal popularity or added to his stature in the New Deal-Democratic party by fortifying the weaknesses of some of his colleagues. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, 1940 presidential candidate, or aspirations—if any—were in at least a morning-after slump as farm belt voters were tabulated in haphazard order. He was not the only politician of dissatisfaction with his agricultural program. Crop prices are off and Wallace is far from the top list of the "available" list until the prices bounce back more than a little.

Not In Favor

Old line Democratic leaders, including Chairman James A. Farley of the national committee, looked kindly upon Wallace for 1940, anyway. They regard him as a Johnny-come-lately former Republican to whom they would not offer the White House without a real fight.

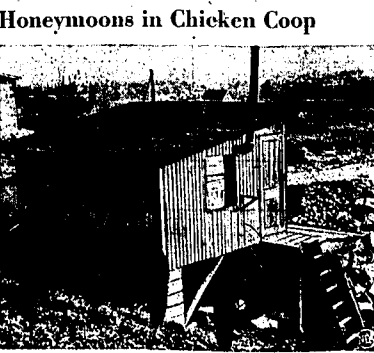

Something happened on Tuesday to the carefully adjusted political machine with which Farley in full partnership with Mr. Roosevelt delivered the amazing pluralities and majorities of 1932-34-36. There have been rumors that the Roosevelt-Farley partnership has been falling apart and that the New Deal medicine was being prescribed by the Corcoran-Hopkins-Cohen brain trust, assailed by conservatives as the "Palace Guard." Their practices began a retreat some months ago when New Deal primary "purge" bullets began blowing out through the breeches of some of the members of administration guns.

Vigorous Return

All these reverses and defeats—still far short of shifting control of Congress and considerably less than a clean sweep of Democratic officials from their jobs—represent a vigorous return toward the two-party system and, probably, a split or two in Washington as conservatives yank the brakes on the New Deal. But the long view interpretation of the new trend is that Mr. Roosevelt finally to oblige new administrative approaches to national problems rather than an abandonment of the primary machinery, reform organization and restrictive powers established since Mr. Roosevelt took office.

FORD ATTORNEYS RAP LABOR ACT

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (U.P.)—Ford Motor company attorneys had contended before the national labor relations board today that the Wagner act was unconstitutional if it forbids an employer from expressing anti-union opinions to his workers.

Chas. Shea, the intermediate report of Trial Examiner Francis M. Shea concerning alleged labor-law violations at the Buffalo, N. Y., assembly plant, Ford contended that it had discriminated against employees because of membership in the United Automobile Workers' union or committed unfair labor practices.

Challenge Order

It challenged Shea's right to order reinstatement of 50 discharged workers with back pay, and declared that 36 of this group had refused an unconditional offer of reinstatement by the firm on Jan. 10, 1938.

Shea, chief of the Buffalo law office, ruled that the company had violated the act by distributing alleged anti-union propaganda, including the "Ford ultimatum." Ford gives viewpoint on labor and Henry Ford's "Fordisms," and said:

"Direct Appeal"

"These ultimata and pamphlets constitute a direct appeal to the working men to avoid labor organizations and a threat that the consequence of organization will be that their wage level will decline, consider that the distribution of these materials was a deliberate effort on the part of the management to interfere with and restrain employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed by section 7 of the national labor relations act."

Ford replied to this by declaring that "neither the ultimatum nor the pamphlet contains any statement, which, by any reasoning, may be considered as interference with or restraint or coercion of employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed to them."

C. OF C. INSTALLS NINE DIRECTORS

Nine newly-chosen directors had taken office today on the board of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce following last night's general membership meeting at the Park hotel.

The nine men, with three hold-over directors, will convene at 8 p. m. Monday at C. of C. headquarters to reorganize the board, name 1938-39 officers and decide on several important policy matters.

The installed

Those inducted into office at the general session included J. A. Cederquist, Coe Price, Charles Shirley, George Warberg, Ed Thicker, Cecil Jones, Mel Belling, Lawrence Cio and H. P. Fajen. The first six of these were elected for regular expiration of terms in 1939, and Cio was elected to fill two vacancies. Mr. Fajen was approved by the membership last night for the directorship resigned by Grant Padgett.

Resolution urging improvement of the road from Clear Lake grade to Wendell offered favorable vote. The resolution, offered by Claude H. Detweiler, said that improvement of the road "would be of tremendous value to residents of both sides of Snake river adjacent to Clear Lake grade," and "would complete the connecting link between U. S. 29 and highway 25 from Buhl to Wendell."

Skywrites Plea

In her first attempt as a skywriter, Mrs. Grace Liebman, above, took her plane up over New York's midtown area and wrote "Vote Liebman" across the sky in letters of smoke. It was a campaign plea for her husband, Walter H. Liebman, a New York Democratic candidate for congress. Commercial aviators expressed amazement at the perfect success of Mrs. Liebman's first skywriting attempt.

DEMOCRATS HOLD POSTS IN UTAH

BALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 10 (U.P.)—Republican political gains which highlighted the national election picture, were not paralleled in Utah, although a reflection of the G. O. P. upswing was seen today in an increase in the state legislative minority body.

Unofficial election returns today revealed that Democrats won 21 of the state senate's 23 seats. Democrats had 10 hold-over members in the upper chamber, with one additional member to be appointed by Gov. Henry H. Blood. Ten candidates were elected by the Democrats Tuesday.

The Republican senate minority will consist of two—double the G. O. P. representation last year. Both were elected this year.

In the state house of representatives, where the Republicans last year had four, unofficial returns indicated that at least 14 of the 60 members will be Republicans.

Democrats retained their strong grip on the legislature by electing at least 42 representatives. Outcome of three races still was in doubt today. Democratic net loss in the lower house was at least 10.

OREGON RETURNS TO GOP COLUMN

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10 (U.P.)—Oregon was back in the Republican column today after the voters, with the exception of two congressmen, "went down the line" for GOP state and congressional nominees.

Returns from more than two-thirds of the state's precincts showed the end of nearly 10 years Democratic rule. The only Bourbon candidates to survive were Walter D. Pierce, D., incumbent congressman from the second district, and Rex Putnam, D., state superintendent of public schools.

Elected were Charles Sprague, Salem publisher, governor; Rufus C. Holman, full-term senator; Alex G. Barry, short-term senator; James W. Holt and Homer Angell to congress; Earl Snell, state secretary of state; and C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner.

Of the 12 initiative measures on the ballot, seven were approved. These included bans on gambling, means to have compulsory health examinations for both men and women before marriage; and a picketing regulation measure.

D. E. Riggs, executive secretary of the Oregon Federation of Labor said legality of the picketing initiative would be challenged in the courts.

UNEXPECTED

Elected as one of the two justices of the peace in Twin Falls today was a Republican who didn't seek the office in the primary, who won a place on the G. O. P. ticket because the official primary count showed that exactly two persons voted in his name—and who didn't pay any particular attention to the whole matter.

He is J. N. Boland, 69-year-old local resident, Boland ran second to Justice H. M. Holler. Both were elected, with Boland moving out the incumbent Democrat, Guy T. Swope, by a narrow margin.

In winning his write-in nomination in August, Boland was one vote ahead of Swope, the Democrat, on the Republican ticket. Swope got one G. O. P. write-in vote after living about eight years in the Rupert and Paul areas. His name was blown out by the station operator but is now retired.

He was still "pretty surprised" today over his election.

FARMER, 48, DIES AT RANCH HOME

Rupert Alma Tegan, 48, died at 12:35 a. m. today at his home northeast of Piler. He had been a resident of Piler community for 26 years. Death is attributed to a sudden heart attack.

Funeral arrangements are pending. Burial will be in the Piler cemetery, Washington, Utah, and a son, Warren Tegan, student at the University of Idaho, Moscow. Mr. Tegan was born April 30, 1890, in Washington, Utah. He had engaged in farming all his adult life, and came to Piler from Washington. He was affiliated with the Latter Day Saints church.

Surviving Mr. Tegan are his wife, Mrs. Ella Tegan; four children: Rodney, Howard and Lillian Tegan, of Piler, and Warren Tegan, Moscow; two brothers, James Tegan, Burley, and Earl Tegan, Washington, Utah; and one sister, Miss Belle Tegan, Washington, Utah.

Interment will be in the Old Fellows cemetery, Piler. The funeral home of the Drake and Reynolds funeral home.

CRUELTY FIGURES IN DIVORCE SUITS

Claims of cruelty and non-support figured today in three divorce actions which had been filed in district court by one husband and two wives.

The suits:

J. Bann against Mrs. Lolita E. Bann on charge of cruelty. They married Sept. 6, 1929 at Pasadena and has one son, 6.

Mrs. Gollie Rice against Twil L. Rice on charge of cruelty. They married March 24, 1929 at Hazelton. Mrs. Rice asks custody of a son, 6, and daughter, 6.

Mrs. Amy Baldwin against John Baldwin, on assertions of cruelty and non-support. They were married in Kansas and have a son, 14. The judge ordered O. G. Hall, represents all three plaintiffs.

KIND FRIENDS AND VOTERS OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY

I wish to take this method of expressing my appreciation for the splendid support given me on Nov. 5.

I will earnestly endeavor to give my best efforts to the office to which you elected me as your County Treasurer.

Dictators Warn the Weak

Sing any song often enough and people will get tired of it. The peril to freedom represented by the triumph of the Fascist bloc in Europe has been chanted so much lately that a number of good Americans are getting a bit weary and are asking why someone doesn't put on a new record.

That reaction is only natural. It is natural, too, for Americans to wonder if the peril isn't pretty much exaggerated. After all, the Atlantic ocean is still wide, and what goes on inside the borders of such a country as Germany, for instance, isn't any of our business. Why should we lose any sleep over the fact that Fascism grows stronger rather than weaker on its own home grounds?

A good part of the answer to this kind of question is being supplied these days by the Nazis themselves.

You may have noticed the other day how Josef Terboven, a Nazi district leader and governor of the Rhineland, let off a blast warning Germany's neighbors that they must mind their p's and q's.

Germany, says Herr Terboven, not long ago publicly warned certain small states that they were getting too cocky and aggressive. One of these small states, Czechoslovakia, refused to listen—and paid the penalty. Other states might profit by her experience.

"If, for instance," continued Herr Terboven, "one looks at certain newspapers here in the west, in Luxembourg or the Netherlands, one is surprised anew at the impudence with which the press meddles in the most private matters of Germany, an impudence coupled with ignorance and an attitude of superiority.

"We say to responsible statesmen of these states: 'Either you take measures soon, which are calculated to bring the nations closer together or these nations must some day pay for having extended freedom of the press to a small clique.'

It is impossible to read that without feeling that what happens inside the borders of an aggressive totalitarian state is most decidedly a matter of concern to citizens of a democracy.

For this statement is simply a blunt warning: muzzle your press and curtail your own freedom, or expect trouble from us.

Today the warning is directed at weak states. Is there any reason to suppose that it will not be directed at stronger ones, as soon as the Nazi strategists feel that it is safe?

There can be no international harmony as long as one nation claims the right to order the domestic affairs of other nations. And that is where the real menace in the rise of the Nazi-Fascist bloc lies. If these states were willing to operate on a live-and-let-live basis it would be different—but they aren't. Because they aren't, Americans cannot remain wholly indifferent to what happens overseas.

Sportsmen and Conquest

What sounds like the best idea of the year has just come from a gathering of London sportsmen which called for moral rearmament through sports.

Those present included Bunny Austin, tennis star; the Duke of Beaufort, master of hounds; Marquess of Clydesdale, boxer, and Sidney C. Wooderson, who holds the world record for the mile. But the details of the plan are lacking and so permit a little cogitation on what world news might be if international troubles were settled by those regally armed sportsmen.

From the east might come word that a Henry Pu-Yi, shortstop for the Tokyo Nippons, had fanned three times and lost 8,000 square miles of territory to a bush league team called the Chiang Red Sox. Of from Europe that Edouard Daladier had been ordered off the field at Godesberg for pulling hair out of the mustache of Heavy Hitler, fullback on the Bavarian Bears. Even news from Mexico could be readable if it were reported that President Cardenas had ridden his horse into the clubhouse after missing a goal at polo and losing 40 new oil wells to a third string team from Meadowbrook.

Asia for the Asiatics seems to mean Japan for the Japanese, Manchukuo for the Japanese and China for the Japanese.

What the country is waiting for now is to find that the recent war-like broadcasts from Europe were simply old works of a British novelist.

The pathetic condition of Germany's military system becomes apparent. They are down to their old-fashioned bay.

MURDER TO MUSIC BY NARD JONES

COPYRIGHT, 1938, NEA SERVICE, INC.

"I think so," said Donnie.

"Oh, yes," said Harry unhesitatingly. "Fecley and I have a lot in common."

"Well, I don't know what it is," said Fecley, "but a millionaire and I'm not even close."

Macy laughed. "I referred to our interest in crime."

Tait dove into the breach and requested that everyone be seated. "Let's come on and let's hear my pardon me." He went forward to meet the two girls. His breath caught a little, seeing Myrna. As though anticipating his purpose, she went forward the same way she had worn the night that Donny was killed. She had then, however, lover than she had then, and he was something especially for him.

"You know, Tait," Myrna Rogers said casually when Harry and Anne had joined her. "I don't think you're very curious. Why have you invited this particular group to hear The Swingers tonight?"

"I don't know," he said. "It's not so mysterious. We all have a connection with the band except perhaps Mr. Fecley here whom I invited simply because he's a very good friend of mine. Myrna, of course, has the greatest interest in all the success of The Swingers—and Anne is her best friend. Mine, too. I hope Mr. Macy has an interest which is somewhat theoretical, but nonetheless real. Swing music is a modern phenomenon which has always intrigued me. As for Miss Starr, I think she's perhaps the band's most confirmed fan." Tait paused. "As for yourself, Rogers, I don't think you're very friendly. The presence of The Swingers over a long period."

Rogers raised his glass. "Thank you."

Tait sipped awkwardly in his stride. "I'm sorry, Myrna. I'm afraid I'm not a wonderful dancer." Then he added casually, "Tell me, Nella, did you ever live in London? I should swear I've seen you there."

Nella shook her head. "No. The Clarendon? I don't believe I know the place."

"Yes, that was lying, Tait knew—but why?"

He danced off the band, nodded to "Torchy," the band swung to the music. He stepped up, and a silver spot bathed the leader.

"Tonight," he said, "we have a special treat for you. A new member of our band—George Macy is going to play—'The Cat's Meow'."

An excited murmur swept through the crowd.

FINAL RESULTS

The Pot Shots sleuths had inside the keyhole at the official canvassing room over at the courthouse, and then popped out today with the full, complete, official and very final results of the write-in campaign for constable.

The last-minute switch by part of Snowball Latham's campaign committee, which had mysteriously inserted Snowball's campaign manager, Frank Magel, into the race against Latham, split up the write-in vote. But Latham was far ahead of any write-in names on any ticket for any office.

Here's the canvass result:

LATHAM
Precinct one, 10 votes; two, eight votes; three, four votes; four, three votes; five, 21 votes; six, six votes; seven, 28 votes. Grand total, 83 votes.

MAGEL
Precinct one, 10 votes; two, four votes; three, no votes; four, three votes; five, four votes; six, two votes; seven, 28 votes. Grand total, 51 votes.

All of which—based on expert estimates that it's as hard to get one write-in vote as to get 100 when your name is printed on the ballot—makes the moral total of Snowball's votes 8,200. No candidate actually polled that much, so it's a moral triumph.

CALL FOR SOME NO. 1 SPUDS!

Dear Pot Shots:
Do not know whether this had anything to do with the election or not but it is peculiar anyway.

A prominent Tacoma physician was in town Wednesday and he wanted to take 100-pound sacks of potatoes home with him. We tried every produce house in the city and couldn't get two sacks of the No. 1 spuds he had to go to Buhl to get them for him.

VERSE TO A COQUETTE

If I were an angel,
And you were you,
I'd give you what the angel
Would wish to do.

Even an angel,
In such a case,
Would feel in fear
When you are near.

If the angel came down
From far up above
He'd fall for the vision
With lips ready for love.

But the angel, I know,
Would argue with me,
That you should be spanked
Across the back.

Commenting Saturday morning, Nov. 4, the Western Union telegraph company, in keeping with its policy of free delivery service on all messages to points within the city limits. This applies to both residence and business deliveries. It will give the patron living at a great distance from the office the same free service as is afforded near Western Union office.

Street Commissioner Spencer left tonight night of this week for Salt Lake City in response to orders received from the city council. While in the city he will investigate a new street flushing machine which is being used there. The points for the new apparatus are that it will do away with a great deal of the labor which is now necessary to keep the streets free from dust and mud.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, Chicago, Ill., and the Health Magazine

More and more attention is being paid to a disease which occurs frequently in the young, and is in the past, commonly called Burger's disease, but also known as thromboangiitis obliterans. That long neglected name means the condition which exists in the blood vessels, by causing them to become inflamed so that clots form and pass into the arteries. Usually the disease starts with pain in one leg, but later appears in the other. The legs get cold, there are aches and pains in the blood vessels in the legs. Later there is swelling and even ulceration or gangrene. The extent of the symptoms depends largely on the extent to which the condition in the blood vessels has progressed.

While the disease involves the legs far more often than any other part of the body, it may occasionally involve the arms and sometimes both arms and legs. A scientific study of the condition affects the blood vessels of the heart, in which case the symptoms are more serious in their effect.

It is customary in this disease to put the patient promptly to bed, to apply heat, which is an aid in improving the circulation, and to give various alternate hot and cold water treatments, and changes in position of the limbs so as to help circulation.

A new device has been developed which produces alternate pressure and suction for four or five minutes of about three to five minutes. In some cases injection of salt solutions or similar substances is made into the blood vessels, but this is not a new condition and to ease passing of the blood.

In the belief that the condition might be like an infection, an attempt was made to bring about stimulation by the injection of a foreign protein substance. About the time, however, that the condition, and certainly it is impossible for anyone to treat himself in this manner.

Not long ago it was stated that a cure had been found in one of the western states, and that bathing in a lake near Salt Lake City was specific in curing people who suffer from Burger's disease. The widespread publicity given this method of treatment, which has never been tested scientifically, encouraged hundreds of people to travel to the lake with the hope of being easily and inexpensively cured. A scientific study of the exact value of this method of treatment showed absolutely that it does not have any curative effect and cannot be depended on to relieve cases of Burger's disease.

In the worst cases, the blood vessels become entirely blocked, cutting off the blood supply to the affected limb and finally resulting in amputation. It is for this reason, therefore, that the condition should cause consultation of a doctor at once. He will do his utmost to prevent progression of the disease to this stage.

Illinois Boom In Oil Grows

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U.P.)—Booming oil production in southern Illinois has sent the state's output from 400,000 barrels to nearly 2,600,000 barrels a month, over 50 percent of the total for the entire state, and the period and has flooded the southern half of the state with a speculative fever.

Production of new fields early in 1937 disclosed great untapped reserves of oil in the state and the completion of many producing wells has since then kept the boom going. In the first nine months of the year, 1,284 wells were completed according to data compiled by the state geologic survey. Of that total, 967 produced oil.

First available production figures for the month of July were 2,500 barrels compared with 453,000 barrels for the whole state. An increase of this magnitude was reported each succeeding month.

In September, production in the new fields was estimated at 2,085,000 barrels, or 43 percent of the total for the state. Figures were fixed at 2,500,000 barrels.

Output for the first nine months of the year was approximately 21,000,000 barrels, enough to supply the nation's needs for four and four-tenths months. The figures were 19,400,000 barrels for the first nine months of 1937, when the 7,426 barrel total included 2,084 barrels from new fields.

The boom centers around Springfield in Marion county, about 60 miles east of St. Louis. Hundreds of producing wells have been completed in that area.

Recent experiments reveal that the prolific sugarbeet of Idaho has a potential commercial value. The blossoms and leaves of this plant, when distilled, produce an excellent compound containing cyanolip, pinene and terpentine—essentials of the perfume industry.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—This country's first major maneuvers in international politics since the Munich conference will begin at the eighth international conference of American republics at Lima, Peru, Dec. 9.

With a picture of Nazi and Fascist triumph in Europe vividly before the eyes of the delegates, the United States will try to mislead no German and Italian propaganda which has accomplished a penetration of Latin American markets.

Most of the really heavy work will be done behind closed doors by personal conferences with representatives of individual nations. Some South American countries and their ruling politicians are diplomatically shrewd and can be talked with more chumminess. One can only guess how much of this will be achieved through private understandings, but it will be more important than results publicly ballyhooed.

UNITED STATES A "SOFTY"

In the face of an expensive propaganda campaign by American oil companies to prove that Mexico is Communist and that this government is supremely treacherous to our national honor when it preserves diplomatic relations with Mexico's unsatisfactory delay in paying for appropriated American holdings, this government obviously has been further softened by the fact that the reason is that Hitler and Mussolini, like the oil companies, want to make trouble between the two countries and would exploit any hard-boiled tactics by Washington in every Latin American capital with the hope of making up the balance conference. That doesn't mean Washington doesn't expect a face-saving retirement.

What the Washington attitude is that the Mexican government is no more Socialistic than certain other Latin American governments and that their forms of government are their own business right up to the time European warlords threaten to take them into camp.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 18 Millions of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisons

If you have a case of acid waste in your system, you should know that your kidneys are the only organs that can remove these poisons from your system.

It is the duty of your kidneys to remove these poisons from your system and to keep your blood clean and healthy.

When your kidneys are weak, they cannot do their duty and your blood becomes impure. This impure blood causes all kinds of kidney troubles, such as backache, headache, dizziness, and general weakness.

To keep your kidneys strong and healthy, you should use a kidney tube that will flush out your system and remove all excess acids.

Such a kidney tube is the only one that can do this. It is the only one that is made of a material that is safe and effective.

It is the only one that has been used for many years and has proved itself to be the most reliable and effective kidney tube ever made.

Get it today. It will help you to keep your kidneys strong and healthy and to remove all excess acids from your system.

KRIEGER REFUSES TO MEET N. Y. 'CHAMP'

Manager Plans Non-Title Fight Tour

By LESLIE AVERY
 NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Midweight champion everywhere except in his home state, Solly Krieger, and his manager, Eymie Caplin, today snapped out a lengthy tour of the hinterlands after refusing to accept a New York athletic commission plan for unifying the middleweight division in the 160-pound division.

Krieger is recognized by the National Boxing association as a result of his 15-round victory over Al Hostak in Seattle last week. The New York ring body yesterday refused to recognize and approved the Fred Apostoli-Young Corbett III crown Nov. 18, as far as the world crown is concerned. Krieger, 29, agreed to meet the winner.

Champs in 41 States
 "We're champion in 41 states," Caplin said. "We won the title on the ring, and now they get a couple of guys here from California and call it a championship fight. I don't see the Apostoli and Corbett will be fighting for the New York state title."

Commission Chairman John J. Fila explaining why the official thumb was turned down on Krieger's claim, said "we have recognized Hostak as champion because Solly's victory means nothing here." The commission did what it considered the "right thing" by Krieger, offering to approve him as the No. 1 challenger after the Apostoli-Corbett bout. They ordered him to appear by Nov. 21 and sign to meet the winner before then.

When Krieger refused to accept the match, Caplin said, "We were already going to defend his crown. We've already got 10 over-the-weight matches in prospect where Solly can make a few dollars, and we won't defend the title before we're ready." Eymie said he had chosen for non-title matches in Philadelphia, Cleveland, Milwaukee and Chicago.

It was Apostoli's knockout over Freddie Stone in a non-title match last January that won him New York approval as the No. 1 challenger.

Kept in Fledgling
 Eymie Caplin refused to give Apostoli a spot at his title and when he signed to fight Young Hostak in New York, he was knocked out in the third round. Meanwhile, Apostoli dropped a 10-round decision to Young Corbett, former welterweight contender, further scrambling the standings.

"When Apostoli fights Jacobs and Corbett for the New York title, I am going to see if I can get them to agree to it as far as the title, but I did not recognize Hostak as champion."

Eymie's victory over Hostak was recognized as a head, and the commission, Caplin says, approved the fight because it was the only one recognized by Solly, twice beaten by Apostoli in 1937.

Making it nine straight over the Vandals, Oregon's football squad treated University of Idaho to a rough time at Eugene, winning 18-0. A Webfoot has landed on Idaho ball carrier No. 5, causing him to drop the ball. Bill Fosket (88), Oregon tackle, rushes in to recover for Oregon.

Tennessee Can't Understand How Vols Continue to Win

By HENRY McLEMORE
 KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 10 (AP)—This is the home of the undefeated United University of Tennessee football team, but there are no Rose Bowl letters here.

"Tennessees had that Pacific coast plague in 1929, and has been immune ever since. That was the year that McEver, Hackman, Dodd and Co. took the field against Kentucky in the last game of the season knowing that their coach, Major Bob Neyland, had an invitation to the bowl in his pocket, and that victory would make it binding.

More than one Knoxville citizen still is crying over what happened. Lemm suits, brought for the expected trip to the coast, had to be turned over to the moth. Children, sent to grandmas for safekeeping while mama and papa were in California, had to be recalled. Hundreds of stay-behinds, who had been promised boxes of oranges, were disappointed.

Because Kentucky, with a team scarcely worth the sweaters on its back, up and tied Tennessee, and rendered void the bid to the biggest of all post-season games. That cured Tennessee. Since that time it has made a business of looking no farther than the next game, and the fact that it has only to hurdle Vanderbilt, Kentucky, and Ole Miss to achieve a perfect season has not caused it to look toward the future through rose (bowl) colored glasses.

I saw Tennessee, conqueror of Alabama among others, work out yesterday. As I walked down the field with Major Neyland I made a casual reference to the Rose Bowl. He drew himself to his full West Point height, froze up like Washington at Valley Forge.

"Our next game," the major said, "is with Vanderbilt, and not out on the Pacific coast."

It was not until late in the evening while sitting around a campfire, listening while mama and papa were in California, had to be recalled. Hundreds of stay-behinds, who had been promised boxes of oranges, were disappointed.

Rupert-Burley, Filer-Bruin Games Friday

The last really "big" week-end in football will pit 18 south central Idaho teams against each other in games that hold outstanding educational interest to followers of the destinies of the various clubs.

Ancient rivalries will be renewed when Filer moves onto the Twin Falls gridiron, and the Burley Bobcats take on the neighboring town of Rupert. But those two all-important games will be no more important than the Jerome-Buhl contest, which may have a bearing on the Big Six championship.

The Twin Falls-Filer battle will bring together a pair of fine teams, mentorship by a pair of fine coaches—Bill Powers of the Wildcats and Hank Powers of the Bruins.

The Bruins are going to enter the game without the services of Bill Polson, who has a badly sprained ankle in practice earlier in the week and may not play again this week. But to take his place they will have Fred Garnery, a hard-tackling veteran who will be returning from the injury list. Otherwise the team will be in fair shape.

Two Regulars Hurt
 Coach Bill Powers of the Wildcats has a couple of regulars in notable good shape in Chet Brunst, and Ronald Krohn, center, the latter with a bad leg, but he expects to be able to use them both.

Element weather forecasts indicate a wet field, which may be an aid to the Filer club.

If the field is wet, I think we stand a better chance of upsetting the Bruins," Coach Bill states. "My club is light and speedy, and as they are playing last week in drubbing Oakley, they are good mudders."

The Burley-Rupert game is another "average" battle, and coaches of the two schools invariably "point" for the game. The Bobcats have been holding the edge in recent years and again will be favored to win, despite the fact that both schools have been having rather disastrous seasons. The Pirates have a good, hard outside of the Oakley game, have been unable to click as well as early-season dogs predicted.

sophomore sensation, who has been hampered by injuries the last couple of weeks. If he can click, it will be a tough day for Buhl. Otherwise, the Indians should win handily.

In class B games, Declo tangles with Dietrich, and in the Little Four Shoshone travels to Wendell for the Armistice day in the only league game of that organization. That will be another loss-up, with the Shoshone club holding a slight edge. Fairfield of the Class B loop travels to Halley and you can pick your own choice on that one, also. The Wolverines have displayed new power in recent games and may win handily, although the Frailettens are always tough.

Coach Kenneth Barrett and his Glenns Ferry team entertains St. Joseph's of Boise in an annual encounter, which the Ferrymen should win.

Kimberly doeses the ranks of the six-man teams and travels to Aberdeen for an intercollegiate game with the powerful Aberdeen club in an 11-man contest. The eastern team will be favored to win as this is the Bulldogs' first 11-man game this year.

Sego Milk and Lumber Take Bowling Tilts

Sego Milk of Buhl took two out of three games from Idaho Power in the Commercial league, and Twin Falls Lumber edged Brookfield two out of three in the City League in last night's bowling.

The City loop encounter was a battle of low scores—with the Brookfield club turning in the lowest pair of games. Ruth Rogers led the winners for three-games total with 482, while Miller had high individual game with 184. For the losers Filer was tops with 472 and Hancock had high single game with 153.

"Rip" three-games total in the Commercial league won to Nelsy of the Idaho Power with 543, but NOT on the evening's single game honors with a 223 his first hit. A. Kirshy led Segos with 531, but Filer had high single with 222—just a "p" short of high score for the evening for one game.

Sneed Leads in Golf Tourney

WHIT SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—Stimmy Sneed, hot hometown favorite, held a one stroke lead as 66 survivors teed off in the final 36-hole round of the $3,000 White Sulphur Springs open golf championship today.

Sneed, who carried his year's earnings over the $17,000 mark when he grabbed the $5,000 first money in the Westchester open, had a super 66's on each of his first rounds for a 138 total.

Closest to him was steady-shooting Henry Clark, Hartsley, Pa., with 68—167. Jules Roth, former Canadian open champion from Quebec, Que., who led with a brilliant 66 on Tuesday, slumped to a 75 yesterday for a 138 aggregate and a tie for third place with Ky Lafoon, Ontario, and Chandler Harper, Ontario, Va.

Snows Hamper Grid Practice

PULLMAN, Wash., Nov. 10 (AP)—The Washington State Cougars faced poor practice conditions today because of snow and cold which sent the squad into their field house for practice yesterday. Coach Babe Holmgren was giving special attention to his kickers and safety men in the hope of capitalizing on any fumble punts in Saturday's game against the University of Idaho at Moscow, Ida.

SOFT MAY START

MOSCOW, Ida., Nov. 10 (AP)—Milo Anderson, sophomore end, may start on the University of Idaho varsity against Washington State Saturday, it was indicated today. The squad scrimmaged yesterday in a blizzard.

PORT QUIBS

(By H. J. W.)

Just to show you we're not boasting around the bush (as some of our readers have hinted) we'll give you the results of the Armistice day football games as we found them written on the sand at the bottom of the Snake river while duck hunting:

Hank sounds like a tougher man than Bill, so we'll take Twin Falls to turn back Filer in the "battle of the brothers."

Burley should be able to continue its recent jinx over Rupert and edge the Indians club in the traditional grudge battle.

We'll take Buhl over the Jerome Tigers on general all-around balance—and a much better record.

Dietrich should turn back the Declo bid for victory, despite the fact that the Declo team hasn't lost a game this season in the Class B league. Dietrich has power, but has been wasting most of it on teams of bigger schools.

Halley can edge Fairfield on class B level, and Wendell—looka like a toss-up so we'll guess a tie—just for fun. (Come to think of it, that's not good, because Shoshone was in a tie game last week, so we'll pick the Indians.)

And Glenns Ferry over St. Joseph's of Boise because Coach Kenneth Barrett's team is the best Class B club in the state—and can be relied alongside the better Class A organizations.

In the collegiate circle, we'll take California over Oregon, USC to stop Washington's one-game streak; UHIB over College of Idaho; Utah to stop the Washington State jinx and win its homecoming game; Utah over Colorado State; Stanford to beat Wyo; Oregon State; UOIA to beat Wisconsin in an upset; Notre Dame to continue the Minnesota decline and bring it back to the top.

Colorado is win over BYU, and Luskman and Columbia to come back and edge the fine Navy team; Cornell to split in the great and defeated Dartmouth club; Fordham to defeat North Carolina; Methodist to stop the Southern Methodist Mustang; Tennessee to continue on its victorious way with a win over Vanderbilt; Michigan to ban the badly-beaten and western Wildcats another pasting; Missouri to triumph over Oklahoma and Tulane to beat Georgia.

CLUB OWNERS OUBSY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Night club owners apparently are the world's greatest fans of night clubs. When the Night Club Owners' Association of this city held its first annual convention and round-up, it put on, as amusement for themselves, a floor show.

Deer Attacks Auto

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California deer are definitely taking on some of the characteristics of goats, according to Will Hammerson. While driving up from Santa Cruz, he said, a big three-point deer came from the forest, butted both of his headlights, damaged the motor, and then ran for the protection of the forest.

WOMEN WITNESS MEAT PREPARING

Some 400 farm and city housewives of south central Idaho today were armed with expert knives on preparation and serving of meats.

The throng of women crowded the new demonstration room for the new demonstration by Mrs. Charlie Mae Elliott, San Francisco, representing the national livestock and meat board. Mrs. Elliott demonstrated six meat dishes, and the meats were then given to Mrs. Pearl Brown, Mrs. Ruth Miller, Mrs. E. B. Brogme and Mrs. Fern McGoffin.

Mrs. A. C. Victor was assistant to Mrs. Elliott, and Miss Margaret Hill, district home demonstration agent, and Harvey B. Hale, county agent, cooperated in arrangements. The extension service was co-sponsor with the meat board.

STORY WRITING CLASSES URGED

MONTREAL, Nov. 10.—Leslie Roberts, Canadian author, would make every student a short-story writer if he had his say. Roberts suggested to the Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec at a convention here that pilot schools of short stories should be substituted for the usual essay themes as a means of teaching English composition in schools. Pupils would fill in details of the plot.

"I have often wondered why teachers, and those behind the teachers, insist on elaborating young minds with such chores as an essay describing spring in the eastern townships," he said.

"Our spring may possess some of the qualities of which poets sing, but obviously the adolescent boy or the teen-age girl is not going to commit such delirium on paper. The result is an essay that establishes an all-time high for woodenness."

Nightly Rat

PITTSBURGH, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Myrtle Ewald, proprietor of the Alpine hotel, is authority for the statement that Mercy, the hotel's 4-year-old Persian cat, has brought home a rat every night for the past two years. The only variation has been the occasional night when it brought back two rats instead of one.

Runaway Girls

CLEVELAND, Ohio—Margaret, Alaska and Rose Anne Stebbens, 10-year-olds running away to New York, were particular with whom they would ride, but accepted a ride with a kindly-looking middle-aged man. He was Police Capt. Jesse C. Van Buren, who drove the runaways to a police station.

NAZIS ROUND UP JEWS AS GANGS BURN SYNAGOGUES

SHOPS SMASHED AS CROWDS RUN WILD IN BERLIN

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE, Jr.
BERLIN, Nov. 10 (UP)—Nazi authorities began rounding up Jews throughout Germany and Austria today after a night of terror during which mobs roamed the streets of cities and towns, smashing Jewish shops and setting fire to Jewish synagogues, in vengeance for the fatal shooting of a German embassy secretary at Paris by a 17-year-old Jew.

An official news agency dispatch announced that anti-Jewish outbreaks occurred in countless towns and that synagogues were fired in most towns.

As regards the arrests, the official news agency explained that owners of Jewish shops in many towns were taken into custody "for their own protection."

A 3,000 Jew arrested in Austria, a United Press dispatch said, it was estimated that from 2,000 to 3,000 Jews were arrested in Vienna alone, as part of a national round-up of Jews whose identification papers were not in order.

An American physician, Dr. Laurence K. Eber of Los Angeles, was arrested and held for two hours at a precinct police station here because he tried to take miniature motion pictures of smashed shops.

Many others, including several "Wanderers" and Danes, and numerous Germans, were arrested merely for possessing cameras.

One German was arrested because it was charged, remarks of the anti-Jewish riots were shameful.

The outbreaks started at 2 a. m. today, continuing in a subdued and broke out again at 8:30.

Causes Indignation
The official news agency, after carrying only fragmentary comments on the outbreaks, issued the following communique at noon:

"The death of a young German diplomat at Paris and the international indignation throughout Germany in view of the criminal provocation by international Jewry."

Spontaneous anti-Jewish demonstrations occurred in countless towns. The populations set fire to Jewish synagogues in most towns. The fire spread in many cases was only able to protect neighboring buildings.

In many cities in the reich, windows of Jewish shops were smashed and Jewish shops were occasionally set afire.

Owing to the extraordinary excitement, the population, and the merchandise contained in shops was partly destroyed.

In Berlin, Jewish shops in the neighborhood and other districts were destroyed.

Held for Own Protection
Owners of Jewish shops in many towns were taken into custody for their own protection.

A crowd of several hundred stood in mid-morning watching a synagogue in the Kurfurstendamm burning. The building was afire in several places and the roof had collapsed.

Crowds stood in front of wrecked shops. Apparently watchers were scattered among them. A United Press correspondent saw one woman taking down names of destroyed shops. A non-uniformed man approached her and warned her to stop taking notes or she would be arrested.

At 12:30 p. m. (6:30 a. m. EST) gangs were still destroying shop windows and their contents in the Uhler den Linden section in the heart of Berlin.

Philatelist by Luck
NEW ORLEANS, (UP)—Herman Herst, Jr., of New York City said during the American Philatelist convention here that it was luck that put him in the stamp collecting business. While working for a bond firm, Herst, an amateur stamp collector, was looking over a dealer's collection and found a valuable stamp. He bought it for $3, paid $100 more for a bill of sale and later sold it for $3,450.

Torch to Burn

A torch of peace, lighted at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington, will be shipped to France for that country's observance of Armistice day. Left to right, James Brady, American Legion department commander; Col. E. E. Lombard, French military attache, and Lieut. H. W. Lindsay, chairman of the Legion's national pilgrimage committee, officiated at the Arlington cemetery.

KIMBERLY LEGION PLANS EXERCISES

KIMBERLY, Nov. 10 (Special)—Kimberly Post 76 of the American Legion today mapped a full day's program in celebration of the 20th Armistice on Friday.

Starting the day's activities, Judge Hugh Baker of Rupert will give an address in the assembly room of Kimberly high school at 9 a. m. Second gathering on the program takes the Legion to Hansen where commemorative services will be held at the Hansen high school, with Marshall Chapman, Twin Falls attorney, as the principal speaker.

There will be other speakers, the Legion will carry out its regular ritual, and students of the Hansen high school will present a 20-minute program of appropriate music and speeches.

Following the Hansen meeting, members of the Legion and their wives will meet at the Carl Emerson home in Kimberly for a pot-luck dinner. In the afternoon the Legion will finish up a membership drive and the day's activities will be brought to a close with a benefit concert at the Rocking Chair ballroom with music by Ray Jennings and his band.

RECRUITING HEAD WILL STOP HERE

Col. C. E. Grey, head recruiting officer for the Salt Lake City district, will visit in Twin Falls next Tuesday evening. In the afternoon the Legion will finish up a membership drive and the day's activities will be brought to a close with a benefit concert at the Rocking Chair ballroom with music by Ray Jennings and his band.

All ex-service men and their wives, as well as public in general, stated Dean Shipley, post commander, "are asked to attend both the Kimberly and Hansen services."

Bang! Bang!

"Roaring Guns," a cowboy-and-Indian slory dripping gore from every page, was written by David Stalter of Memphis, Tenn., three years ago when he was 8, and has just been published. In one chapter alone, more than 600 men get shot, tomahawked, stabbed. Here David, at top, looks down at his brother, Anthony, who reads open-mouthed.

WOMEN ADVISED ON LAW RIGHTS

LOS ANGELES (UP)—California has made such extensive efforts through legislative acts to insure the equal rights of women, that the University of Southern California has decided to establish a new course in law to enable women to learn just what their legal rights are and how to transact their own business under them.

The principal difficulty, according to Miss Augusta Rosenberg, local attorney and professor, who will conduct the course, is that all the laws in the state do not apply equally to men and women, despite their intent.

Property Law Fair
On the face of it the California community property law is very fair, said Miss Rosenberg. "It sets forth that both husband and wife have an equal interest in property acquired by gift or inheritance."

"However, the next section of the law provides that the husband shall have full management and control of the community property and therein lies much of the difficulty as regards this special law for the equality of man and wife."

Miss Rosenberg explains that the husband, against the specific law, may sell community property without the wife's consent and the wife has one year after the date of the transaction to set aside the transfer.

"In theory that is all right," she said, "but most wives are so trusting that they do not rush down to the hall of records daily to check up on their husband's possible sale of the community real estate. As a result, if it is rare indeed that the wife discovers such a transaction until a year has elapsed and then, according to the law, it is too late for her to do anything about it."

Miss Rosenberg implies that the fault is more with the husband than with the law and so she proposes in her new course to educate women to look after their own business affairs.

BLOT

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 10 (UP)—At least 29,719 Texans insist that dueling is a blot on the record of a state officer holder.
An ancient constitutional amendment requiring candidates to swear before taking office that they had never engaged in a duel was put before the electorate yesterday. Returns from 198 of the 264 counties, 26 complete, showed 47,009 for repeal; 29,719 against.

Hospital Staff Elects and Eyes Standardization Plans

Dr. M. J. Puendingel had taken over the presidency today of the Twin Falls county hospital medical staff following the regular monthly meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. Puendingel was chosen last year as president-elect and automatically took office this year.

Named at the Tuesday night gathering were Dr. Charles B. Beymer, president-elect to take office in the fall of 1939; Dr. H. L. Stone, re-elected secretary; and three members at large for the executive committee. The trio is Dr. John R. Coughlin, Dr. J. N. Davis and Dr. E. T. Rees. These, with the president, president-elect and secretary, comprise the staff's executive body.

Highlighting the business portion of the meeting, from the standpoint of interest to the layman, was discussion of the steps necessary to make the county institution a standardized hospital. The move to attain standardized ranking, it was explained, would make the hospital eligible when possible to become a member of the American Hospital Association.

Meeting the requirements for admission to the association would automatically meet the regulations set up by the American College of Surgeons for rating as an approved hospital.

The assembled doctors were served refreshments after their meeting by the dietitian staff at the hospital.

WARSHIPS CROWD YARDS IN BRITAIN

LONDON (UP)—British shipyards are so crowded with work for the admiralty that orders for the new ships, 22 cruisers, five aircraft carriers and others have been held back. On the stocks and in the last stages of building are five battleships, 22 destroyers, five aircraft carriers, 22 destroyers, 19 submarines and 29 auxiliary craft.

Contracts for two battleships, an aircraft carrier and about 20 smaller ships have still to be placed. The yards that build regularly for the admiralty have so much work that the contract department is looking for firms which do not normally receive naval contracts.

Shipyards that can build destroyers are already so loaded with contracts that the admiralty decided not to ask for any more vessels of this type in this year's program.

The navy lacks adequate escort vessels, but experience has shown that the existing design is ineffective and until the naval constructors can produce a better type, no more vessels of this class will be built.

Merchant shipbuilding in Britain at present leads the world, but it is not anywhere near the peak of production. Building costs are the cause of the delay in new orders.

British shipyards could launch 1,850,000 tons of new ships in a year. Last year less than 1,000,000 tons were launched.

The British mercantile marine today is 2,000 ships short of its total in 1914. The barrier is the cost of building. The cost per ton of a merchant ship today is 40 per cent more than it cost two years ago.
