BUS-TRAIN CRASH KILLS 20 UTAH STUDENTS

QUERY PRODUCES CORONER DENIAL OF ANY MESSAGE

BULLETIN At prosecution request, a complete diagram of the Dewitser building basement on Main avenue was accepted as state's exhibit 13 this afternoon at the trial of Duncan Johnston. The defense did not object. The diagram, drawn by Harold W. Merritt, civil engineer, and explained by him to the jury, pays particular attention, by a separate drawing, to the location of the concrete walk where the state will contend that a gun, George L. Olson's car keys and two rings were found.

By O. A. KELKER Mention of a mysterious telegram which the defense asked Dr. George C. Halley if he received—and which apparently might have directed the coroner where to look for the wound on the body of the man who later was identified as George L. Olson—provided a major highlight today in the trial of Duncan Johnston on charge of murder.

The trial went into its fourth day before Judge J. W. Porter. Johnston is accused by the state of having murdered Olson, a Salt Lake City jewelry salesman, on or about May 21 of this year.

First, and only, mention of the mysterious message was made this morning by E. V. Larson when he was leading cross examination of the defense with Dr. Halley on the stand.

Larson had been questioning Dr. Halley as to any powder burns on the body of the dead man.

No Powder Burns On further examination and answers on cross examination were whether or not powder burns were there: "Did you determine whether or not powder burns were there?"

Halley: "I looked but saw none." Larson: "Did you make any other examination which would have disclosed powder burns?"

Halley: "No. However, I did make a superficial examination of the entire body."

Larson then mentioned the telegram. Larson: "Was anything given you that day as to where to look for a wound on the body?"

Halley: "No sir." Larson: "Did you receive a telegram that day from one of these?"

Halley: "No sir." Larson: "When he looked into the rear of the car what did he do?"

Larson: "He raised up the back seat." Larson: "Did he find anything there?"

Halley: "Yes, he did. I found a toy gun. I assumed it belonged to one of the Olson children but, of course, I have no way of knowing definitely." Larson: "Did he examine the front of the car?"

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1 (U.P.)—An aircraft plant employee was indicted today on charges of trying to sell to Japanese agents of secret fighting planes for America's remnant.

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 1 (U.P.)—At least twenty persons, all but one high school student, were killed and 20 others were injured today when a school bus was struck by a Denver & Rio Grande Western fast freight train at a grade crossing 15 miles south of here.

The accident, worst in Utah in recent years, occurred during a snowstorm which made visibility poor. Of the injured, 15 were in serious condition. Five were released from Salt Lake general hospital after treatment.

The division superintendent's office of the railroad said that 26 had been killed, according to information from their representatives at the scene of the crash, but the figure could not be confirmed at hospitals and mortuaries.

The bus belonged to the Jordan school district. School officials made a tentative estimate that there were approximately 40 students on the bus. F. A. Silcox, driver of the bus, was travelling north, parallel to the railroad tracks.

He turned to cross the tracks and the train struck the school bus squarely in the middle. The bus was demolished and the boys and girls sitting in the middle portion were ground to death under the train.

The 85-car freight was reported travelling at full speed and although Engineer E. L. Reymore applied the brakes immediately the caboose reached the crossing before he could bring the train to a stop.

Many bodies were cut to pieces by the train's wheels. Ten of the injured were readily identified, but the dead were so badly mangled that none was immediately recognizable, even to the parents.

The accident occurred at 9 a. m. at a level crossing near the intersection of the bus and the railroad tracks. The bus was struck along the right-of-way for a quarter of a mile. Some of the bodies were cut to pieces by the train's wheels.

The injured were sent to the hospital 15 miles away, and four more died in the two-hour trip. Survivors Wounded Away

The terrific crash bent the frame of the bus into a narrow horseshoe shape. Broken and mangled bodies and lunches were scattered along the track.

The few students who were not injured or killed were in the rear of the bus, which was the only part of the machine that was left intact. The engine applied its brakes immediately but could not stop the heavy freight for a quarter of a mile.

DEMOS HOPE TO HIT LAFOLLETTE

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 (AP)—Wisconsin Democrats today demanded federal patronage control as the key to the fight to unseat U. S. Sen. Robert M. LaFollette in the 1940 election.

State Chairman W. D. Carroll, Prairie du Chien, made the formal demand to National Chairman James A. Farley. He charged that thousands of federal jobs have gone to the LaFollette progressive organization.

Tired of LaFollette

"There is not the slightest chance of a Democratic victory in 1940 without proper recognition of deserving Democrats by the national committee," "Front of the LaFollette Progressive party on Nov. 8 proves that Wisconsin has grown tired of LaFollette and anti-American activities."

Farley arrived yesterday to talk with party leaders of middle west and western states on state political conditions and to arrange Jackson day dinners to be held throughout the country Jan. 7.

Wants United Front

"You must point for an administration victory in 1940 by getting your house in order," Farley said. "Inter-party disputes must be cleared up to smooth the machinery for 1940 and to present a united front."

He said the popularity of President Roosevelt has not diminished despite results of the recent election.

"In their best days," he said, "the Republicans never have had the majority the Democrats have now in the United States senate."

POLL SHOWS CONGRESSMEN FAVOR LABOR ACT CHANGE

INCREASES SEEN FOR BUDGETS OF ARMY AND NAVY

By Harrison Salisbury

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (UP)—A poll congressional vote by the United Press today revealed that the nation has elected a new congress with strong sentiment for amendment of the Wagner labor act, increase of old age pensions and a larger national defense budget.

The sampling of congressional sentiment covered both house and senate members who were willing to commit themselves on nine major political issues. Returns from as many as two-thirds of the new houses were received in response to several questions. Senate replies were scattered but, significantly, indicated virtually the same trend as replies from new house members.

The poll, although not conclusive, indicates that a strong move to obtain amendment of the Wagner labor act can be expected, although members are not agreed on the form such amendments shall take.

Support for larger old age pensions was such as virtually to insure serious consideration for more liberal grants. The same was true of the larger national defense program now being prepared by the Roosevelt administration.

Return Relief to States
Other replies revealed no conclusive trend of Democratic opinion with regard to a third term for Mr. Roosevelt. Opposition was noted to plan for a national referendum before declaring war on a foreign power. Democrats supported the present works progress set-up. Republicans urged return of relief to the states.

Both parties revealed sentiment for stricter anti-trust laws. Repeal of the controversial neutrality act was opposed by a majority of those responding to the questionnaire. Congressional opposition to President Roosevelt's government reorganization scheme continues.

GOP Unanimous
On the Wagner act Republicans were virtually unanimous in opposition. Democrats were divided. Of the small group willing to commit itself to favored change for each one supporting the act as now written.

The prospect that the 75th congress will liberalize present old age pensions seemed enhanced by reference to the United Press poll. Of 122 congressmen replying to this question only 11 favored lower old age pensions while 11 supported larger payments. Republicans were virtually unanimous for higher pensions with 64 supporting and only four opposing a pension boost. A small group of senators expressing themselves on this issue all favored larger pensions.

Strong National Defense
Sentiment for stronger national defense was so general as apparently to assure congressional support of army and navy increases. Democratic opinion was overwhelmingly in favor of defense boosts. Republican opinion was opposed by a narrow margin. Favorable increases were 200 Democrats, 44 Republicans. For a smaller budget were 51 Republicans, 14 Democrats and 10 no party members. Some 24 house members favored "adequate" defense but did not indicate whether they required present expenditures as less than adequate. Senate sentiment, reflected in fewer replies, duplicated that found in the house replies.

Few Democratic expressions on the desirability of President Roosevelt running for a third term were received. Republicans opposed a third term unanimously. Among the handful of Democrats the vote was two to one in favor of a third term.

POWER OF ROAD LEADERS RAPPED

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 1 (UP)—State Auditor Harry C. Parsons today recommended budgeting of the highway department's funds "to clip its wings and put it where it belongs."
Parsons alleged in his biennial report on state finances that the highway department, through its practice of allocating funds, had been able to "wind a power in state affairs out of proportion to its actual importance."
He said the department had "controlled legislators, dictated appointments and prevented passage of certain legislation."
The auditor also reported that the departments of public health and public assistance were violating the state constitution because they handled their own disbursement of funds instead of clearing expenditures through the treasury and the auditor's office.
In his financial report, Parsons said the state had received $55,425,794 and had spent $34,238,193 during a two-year old period ending Sept. 30, 1938.

Battle Wages on Plan to Honor Old Indian Chief

LEWISTON, Idaho, Dec. 1 (UP)—Mex Perce Joseph's body lies today in a neglected grave where they bells fastened to stakes stand guard and tinkle brightly to drive away the "evil spirits."
There have been many snobs since Mex Perce Joseph went to the neglected grave where they bells fastened to stakes stand guard and tinkle brightly to drive away the "evil spirits."
His face crinkled with the lines of age, Mitchell lives at Whitebird near here, where, in 1877, Joseph's warriors annihilated 100 government soldiers. Mitchell has not forgotten, nor forgiven.

John L. Rooke, a pioneer who still remembers when the dread sound of Indian warriors led by Joseph chilled the hearts of cut-throat soldiers and government troops, says a memorial stone should be erected on the chief's grave.
Rooke has his supporters as does Lenn Mitchell, another pioneer, who says:
"Joseph's friends are worshippers of murderers. They should raise funds to erect a monument to Jesse James!"
"It is commendable to erect a monument to Joseph," Rooke said. "Such a move should be supported by all liberty-loving people."
And that's where the controversy stands today: long years after Joseph and his warriors ranged over parts of Oregon, Idaho, Washington, Montana and Wyoming.

less Indian "dictator" harassing pioneers and ruling his tribe on present-day Fascist theories of racial supremacy and power politics but as a "great democratic leader."
Revising the controversial old question of ethics in the taking over of Indian lands by the early settlers, Rooke and his friends contend that Joseph fought only for his rights and those of his people.
"It is commendable to erect a monument to Joseph," Rooke said. "Such a move should be supported by all liberty-loving people."
And that's where the controversy stands today: long years after Joseph and his warriors ranged over parts of Oregon, Idaho, Washington, Montana and Wyoming.

LINEMAN MEETS ISSUE
RHEIN, Sask. (UP)—Dave Graf, telephone lineman, had to fight to do his work. He was instructed to move a number of rural telephones because of unpaid bills. Five hardened farmers fought him on the issue.
Exile, not death, was decreed for Joseph after he told Gen. Miles that "from where the sun now stands, I shall fight no more, forever."
He was sent to the Nespelem reservation in the state of Washington where he died and the tiny bells were set tinkling about his grave.

FRENCH STRIKERS SENT TO PRISON AS PUNITIVE MEASURE

120,000 THROWN OUT OF WORK BY DALADIER ORDER

By RALPH HEINZEN
PARIS, Dec. 1 (AP)—Strikers were sentenced to prison today and an estimated 120,000 throughout France were out or discharged from factories in government punitive measures for yesterday's general strike.

As the government cracked down on strikers in nationalized industries holding armaments contracts, labor warred Premier Edouard Daladier not to interpret his victory over the strikers as an invitation to establish a dictatorship.

3 Months Imprisonment
The Valencienne court condemned six strikers to three months imprisonment. Another court session was to be held later in the day. The jail at Valencienne was crowded with strikers and 20 were transferred to Douai prison pending a hearing.

Confederation of Labor Leader
A confederation of labor leader, glass workers and Communist assistant mayor of an industrial village near Valenciennes were arrested today charged with rebellion against officers of the law.

Trouble Expected
Trouble was expected at Denain when steel mills start employing workers to replace those discharged on the grounds that they broke their contracts. A heavy detachment of guards surrounded the mills. Work was not resumed this morning due to the presence of the guards.

The nation returned to normal activity except for certain arsenals and nationalized arm factories which were closed.

Despite the collapse of the strike former Socialist Premier Leon Blum announced that he would not hold a rump parliament tomorrow as a protest against Daladier's delay in reconvening parliament.

Special Meeting
The confederation of labor called a special meeting of its national committee Monday to study the consequences of the failure of the general strike.

A few minor demonstrations in industrial centers was the only echo of the strike to which less than 10 per cent of the laboring population and less than 20 per cent of the membership of the confederation of labor responded.

KRIER ASSUMES THEATERS' POST

John Krier, who has been managing the Utah theater at Salt Lake City, took over general direction today of the Orpheum and Idaho theaters in Twin Falls.

Mr. Krier has also formerly in Iowa and Illinois. His wife and two sons accompanied him.

The new manager said that there will be no changes in personnel at the two local playhouses. He said the progressive policy instituted under Mr. Saughman will be maintained in all respects.

Ray Hendrix, general manager of the company, was in Twin Falls today as the change in management was placed in effect.

SPUD COMMITTEE CONVENES FRIDAY

Additional session coincident with the Idaho cooperative council meeting in Twin Falls Friday will be a meeting of the Idaho potato growers committee. It was announced here today.

Recruiting of Twin Falls county into the movement will be one aim of the spud gathering according to Eugene Whitman, Jerome county extension agent, Cassia and Jerome counties and the two south central areas already in the act. All spud-growing counties of the upper Snake valley are included.

Paul L. Best, Idaho Falls, is chairman of the committee. He is secretary-manager of Potato Growers, Inc., an Idaho Falls co-op marketing unit.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The federal trade commission demanded again today that congress broaden anti-monopoly laws to prohibit any single corporation from obtaining control of more than 10 per cent of the output of any one industry.

The recommendation was made in the FTC's annual report to congress. A similar one was made by the commission in its report for the fiscal year 1938-37.

Cassia Ranchers will Hold Meeting Dec. 6

BURLEY, Dec. 1 (Special)—By line with similar gatherings being held throughout south central Idaho, a meeting open to all Cassia county ranchers will be held at the courthouse at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 6, it was announced here.

Hinkie W. Cox, representing the state committee of the AAA, will attend and will discuss the 1939 agricultural conservation program.

The 35 community committees will be in session the morning of this date to discuss the holding of community elections for commiteemen for the 1939 program. Election meetings will be held throughout Cassia county in the seven different communities on Dec. 12, beginning at 2 p. m.

The seven different communities in Cassia county are: West Burley, East Burley, Dick-Jackson, Albion, Edna-Almo, Heglar, Sublett-Raft River, and Oakley.

A committee of five farmers will be elected on the 12th for each community and will take office on Jan. 1. At each community election meeting farmers must elect a delegate to a county convention. Delegates then elect a committee of five, a secretary and a treasurer.

The responsibility of commiteemen has been increased materially with the introduction in 1938 of several new phases of governmental programs. Some of such phases are: Crop insurance, wheat loans, various acreage allotments, and in 1939 it may be, if marketing quotas are voted in, that commiteemen will be responsible for the administering of such program.

Forms Prepared
Forms for payment in connection with the 1938 program are being prepared daily in the county office. All field checking has been completed. Thirteen hundred and eighty-five farms have been measured or checked for compliance out of 1411 farms signed under the program.

payment for sugar beets this year will be the same as that of last year, or $1.95 per ton, less administrative expenses.

Any irregularities with respect to the growing of sugar beets that might not be on record in the county office should be turned in by farmers as soon as possible. Also any farmers who feel that they are due deficiency or abandonment payments should file an appeal in the office immediately.

Abandonment or deficiency payments are possible only where in a community destruction of beets has been community wide due to such unavoidable causes as drought, flood, storm, freeze, diseases and insects. Deficiency payments are based on 80 per cent of the normal yield and abandonment yields upon one-third of the normal yield.
