JOHNSTON CASE READY TO HAND TO JURY

FDR SEEKS GOVERNMENT REORGANIZATION

President Plans to Ask for Program in Message to Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt said today that he would seek a government reorganization program from the new congress and would embody his ideas on the subject in a special message.

The president said that he made good progress in his discussion of reorganization yesterday with a group of experts on the subject including Sen. Byrnes, D. S. C.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement came as anti-administration Democrats displayed confidence that they will be able to defeat reorganization legislation in the new congress unless the chief executive offers further compromise with their objections.

Asked whether there would be any fundamental changes in the bills as distinguished from those of the last session, Mr. Roosevelt replied that he did not know, adding, however, that the point was a simple one inasmuch as all admit, even including some columnists, that we do need improvement in government.

Responsibility of Congress That is the big salient point, he declared. He asserted that congress has information on the subject covering the past 40 years. He said that the responsibility of effecting improvement in government rested with the congress. As to the number of bills needed in connection with reorganization he said that was entirely a congressional matter.

This remark was believed to indicate that the administration may be prepared to allow congressional reorganization legislation to be taken up in a series of related bills instead of in one omnibus measure, which was the plan in the house last session.

Congressional spokesmen have indicated belief that several non-controversial phases of reorganization could easily be enacted if submitted separately.

Rejected by House The reorganization bill as passed by the senate last March would have provided Mr. Roosevelt to reorganize the executive departments with his orders automatically effective after 60 days unless they were rescinded by two-thirds vote in each house of congress. The bill passed in that form after the senate barely defeated an amendment providing that an executive reorganization order could become effective until congress specifically approved it by joint resolution. The bill finally was rejected by the house.

Byrnes, who managed the legislation to senate passage, announced that the house should take the initiative this time.

Anti-New Deal Democrats, however, were confident they could beat a resolution providing that the president should be empowered to reorganize the executive departments with his orders automatically effective after 60 days unless they were rescinded by two-thirds vote in each house of congress.

'MISQUOTING' BY PRESS IRES BOTT BOHE, Ida, Dec. 9 (U.P.)—Governor C. A. Bott, by what he called "misquoting" by the press, issued an emphatic denial today of a report he endorsed the resignation of Franklin Girard as Idaho state treasurer.

The governor said he had not committed himself on the possibility of any appointments or reappointments and "could not have any announcement concerning the resignation of his administration" until their selection had been determined finally.

There will be an announcement of major appointments today, the governor said.

Appeal Made for Negro Killer, 18 CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (U.P.)—Attorneys for Robert Nixon, 18, Negro, prepared an appeal in a final attempt to save him from death in the electric chair for the slaying May 27 of Mrs. Florence Johnson, Chicago housewife.

Attorney John Stein granted him a fifth reprieve yesterday to permit the attorney to make the appeal. He set Dec. 16 as the date for the execution. Nixon had been scheduled to die early today.

DEMONSTRATIONS HALTED IN ITALY

ROME, Dec. 9 (U.P.)—Hundreds of policemen and carabinieri swept down on students holding an anti-French demonstration today, dispersed them after scuffles in which noses were bloodied, and arrested several.

Observers expressed belief that the apparent change of official policy regarding demonstrations might be of some significance, and that authorities might have decided to prevent further manifestations.

Several hundred high school students gathered this morning, as other students had done in past days without discouragement. They marched down the Via Nazionale, shouting "Unitalia Corsica!" and tried to reach the Venice square to hold a demonstration before the office of Premier Benito Mussolini.

To their surprise the police and carabinieri quickly broke up their procession.

There was a good deal of uncertainty in foreign diplomatic quarters as to the future of Italian-French relations. Well-informed sources had expressed belief previously that the anti-French demonstrations really meant nothing very much and that Mussolini was unlikely to risk any critical situation with France.

Experts Confer at Trial in Twin Falls

Experts from the federal bureau of investigation, Capt. T. F. Baughman (left) and I. W. Conrad (right) confer with Everett M. Sweeney, local attorney and ballistic expert shortly after they completed their testimony at the murder trial of Duncan McJ. Johnston. The three are looking at pictures which Capt. Baughman took of the bullet found in the neck of the slain George Olson and of the empty shell found in his ear. The experts agreed that the empty shell came from the gun which was found in the basement building basement but, because of the condition of the gun barrel at the time examination, could not say whether or not the bullet came from the gun. This is the first picture of the three experts together. (Idaho Evening Times Staff Photo).

Solon to Ask Presidential 6-Year Terms

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (U.P.)—Sen. Burke, D. Neb., said today that he would introduce a constitutional amendment on the first day of the next congress limiting Presidents of the United States to one term of six years each.

Burke's announcement came with expansion of the controversy over the possibility of a third term for President Roosevelt. Although the President has made no statement, some of his friends, both in and out of congress, have indicated that they would urge him to seek a third term.

Fear Too Much Power Burke, on an occasion of new New Deal legislation, and opposed to a third term, said that his "compelling reason" for proposing such an amendment was that he saw as a

Death Penalty Plea Forecast By Prosecutor

BULLETIN Shortly before he began final arguments before the jury, Prosecutor Edward Babcock told the Evening Times this afternoon: "We will ask the jury to give Johnston the same consideration that Johnston gave George Olson."

In his opening statement, the prosecutor told the jury that the prosecution has been "no pleasure" to him or to officers and said: "We are confronted at this time, as we were on May 21, with the coldest, bloodiest and most deliberate murder in the state of Idaho." He said the prosecution believes that from the evidence, you find a citizen of this county guilty of this murder. He added: "This case has been presented to you with no dramatics but with cold, hard facts."

Defense argument and closing state arguments were still to follow.

The Duncan McD. Johnston murder case will go to the jury either late this afternoon or early Saturday morning. Assurance that the jury would soon receive the fate of the former mayor of Twin Falls was made possible by a series of swift-moving events in district court today, including numerous and energetic flare-ups by defense counsel against cross examination of Johnston by Verne McCullough, associate in the prosecution.

Johnston is charged with the murder of George L. Olson, Salt Lake City jewelry salesman. The defense rested its case shortly after the defendant, Johnston, had been cross examined by the prosecution. The cross examination proved to be a major highlight of the trial with E. L. Rayburn, defense attorney, rising to his feet frequently to protest questions which had been asked at Johnston by McCullough. Rayburn at one time, jumped to his feet and turning to the court, said this attorney (McCullough) should know the rules. He is continually disobeying or paying no attention to the court's rulings and I ask your honor to admonish him as being improper."

Judge Porter twice warned McCullough to "refrain from the line of interrogations you have followed."

The judge had reference to the ruling that, on cross examination of a witness, questions directly connected with those he testified to under direct examination are the only ones which can be asked.

For that reason Rayburn objected nearly every time McCullough asked Johnston a question during cross examination and Judge Porter sustained the objection.

These Overruled Questions which were asked Johnston but which he did not have to answer were:

- 1—On May 20, did you have in your possession a .38 Smith & Wesson automatic pistol?
2—Is it a fact that on Friday, May 20, the day before George Olson disappeared, you gave your car to him?
3—Isn't it a fact that during the period between May 16 and 27 your bank balance did not exceed $8 at any time?
4—Showing you state's exhibit 30, I will ask you if you had these pieces in your possession on May 20, 1938?
5—I will ask you if you had these pieces in your store at any time between May 20 and the time of your arrest June 27?
6—State whether or not you stopped and studied the area around the break in the sidewalk of your basement June 2, 1938, shortly after 9 a. m. of that day.
Basement Query
7—State what you did in your basement June 2, 1938.
8—Have you seen the two Elgin wrist watches in exhibit here in your store prior to your arrest June 27?
9—Isn't it a fact that you took these two watches out of George Olson's brief case and hung them on your watch rack?
10—Isn't it a fact that the first seven pages of exhibit 27 (the cash book with pages torn out) contain both yours and LaVonne's handwriting?
Regarding whether or not Johnston had given the 25 automatic in question to Olson a day or two before he was murdered, Johnston said under questioning of McCullough:
Q—Isn't it a fact that on or about July 20 you told J. N. Terry that you had given Olson a gun a couple of days before he disappeared and that for that reason it might have your fingerprints on it?
A—I may have told Mr. Terry that. I had a habit of agreeing with the boys.
Q—Please answer yes or no.
A—Believe that in the record.
Q—Isn't it a fact that you told Gillette and Prater that you had given your automatic to a junk dealer two years ago?
A—It is a fact.
Q—Also that you didn't know the name or whereabouts of this man?
A—Yes, I did.
Q—Did you ever see the diamond and bracelet case again after Olson left your store on Saturday, May 27?
A—No, sir, I did not.
(McCullough then handed Johnston the cash register tape which police found in his store.)
Q—Will you show me where $763.30, a disbursement, is shown any place on there? Is it Gillette's receipt?
A—No, I have a receipt for that.

The cross examination of Johnston ended at this and then the state asked that two witnesses of the defense be recalled for more cross examination of Johnston. The two witnesses, supposedly had been notified twice to appear but he could not be found in the city. Yesterday Gilman testified that he saw Olson at the carnival Saturday night, May 21. The other witness was H. C. Edmonds, accountant, who testified briefly saying that he had seen the bracelet and that he made a statement, and to make this statement had used available records from the Pugetly bank in Twin Falls.

Defense Recalls Culer The defense then recalled H. Culer, Denver investigator, and he testified he had purchased a .25 automatic (which Rayburn produced from his pocket carrier in the trial) at Ogden, Utah. The defense exhibit was admitted "for purposes of comparison."

At this point the defense rested its case and the state was set for rebuttal witnesses on the part of the prosecution.

The witnesses called testified briefly. They were Kenneth Barclay, local patrolman; Howard Gillette, chief of police; E. P. Steiner, assistant cashier of the Pugetly National bank; M. L. Matheny and Mrs. Matheny; Myron L. Roundtree; Richard Hunt; Marjorie Beebe; Mrs. Dorothy Denton. Kenneth Lock Barclay testified that he examined the lock on the front door of the Johnston Diamond shop and that it could not be opened from the inside after it was locked. Gillette had, that he had never, up to June 1, 1938, advised the defendant that he had any suspicions of him in connection with the murder case. Bank Ledger Sheet Mr. Steiner produced a daily ledger of the Johnston account from May 20 to June 27, 1938, and the bank showed a balance of $8.00 on May 20 and $21.00 on June 27. The ledger also showed that the defendant had a balance of $8.00 on May 20 and $21.00 on June 27. (Continued on Page 1, Column 2)

CONGRESS OPENS AT LIMA TODAY

A single treaty or document, and the performance of each treaty for consultation among the republics on problems of mutual concern.

It seemed increasingly likely that the conference would approve some sort of declaration informing the world that the American states would resist any one outside aggression. Many delegates believed that some European nations might try to affect the conference through propaganda and political action in the western hemisphere.

A desire already expressed by various delegates for the promotion and simplification of existing treaties and peace securing machinery caused prediction that early progress would be certain.

Delegates said that the many separate treaties and agreements concluded in the last 20 years duplicated or overlapped each other with the result that the machinery for maintaining peace among the republics was cumbersome.

Then it would be possible to take up, after one real accomplishment, the proposals for continental solidarity. There are several among the United States delegates that believe in the peace treaty and peace machinery which they met to discuss. It is their desire for continental solidarity was courting war with a European or Asiatic power into which Latin American republics might be drawn.

Must Maintain Peace Hence for the first time United States delegates talked little of continental solidarity, in order to prevent the growth of any suspicion. This in speech he stated that the American republics were determined to maintain peace in this hemisphere and that any measure to peace was a matter of concern. However, members of the United States delegation generally were disappointed that the United States would be content if the conference resulted in some general agreement or understanding among the republics, leading to the signing of lateral agreements for actual strengthening of defense works against possible foreign aggression.

Young Cast Scores Hit In Dictatorship Drama

An attentive audience filled the high school auditorium to witness the unfolding of the story of the rise and fall of a dictatorship in America as the Sinclair Lewis drama, "It Can't Happen Here," was presented for the first time on the stage of an American high school last evening.

The director, Miss Florence M. Rees, and members of the senior class today were receiving calls of congratulatory appreciation for the production of this play dealing with a program now interesting residents of the United States as they watch the struggles of the various dictatorships. Many expressed the opinion that the play ought to be shown in every high school in the nation and witnessed by every high school pupil.

Capable Cast A cast of capable actors, each maintaining character, selection of a newspaper editor and his fight to free the country after the election of a dictator.

Establishment of the patriotic tempo was made as the pep band, directed by Harley B. Smith, paraded to the auditorium at the entrance of the American flag. This group provided patriotic airs and melodies between scenes and played as a finale, "The Star Spangled Banner," while Democracy, symbolized by the editor, trained the gun of freedom on the military oppression of the dictator.

Bert Sweet, taking the part of the aged editor, Doremus Jessup, further established himself as one of the best young dramatic personages of Twin Falls. Sweet, by maintaining the voice, actions and expressions of the signs presented by the American family, demonstrated his facile ability at interpreting many and varied roles. He was seen best in "Robin Hood," as the title character.

Domis Peterson, as Clarence Tibbs, the drug store keeper, captured the applause of the audience during his appearances in the first act. Through his prophesy of the turn of events he became the martyr of his role in the first casualty under the dictatorship.

Mildred Black, as Lorinda Pike, the society editor, was the embodiment of the actions of an American thinking woman wishing to aid their country. Interpretation of Adelaide T. Gimmick, the sentimental foolish woman in politics, by Mrs. V. Jones, Maynor and Mrs. Len A. Chapin, Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Clark and Mrs. and Mrs. C. P. Larsen.

Good Villain Bob Stradley made a good villain as Shad Lude, the rustic ignoramus who is elevated to a high military position under the new order by earning the hate and loathing of not only the characters upon the stage but of the witnesses across the foot-lights. Many a sign of relief and approbation was heard as the "fool" met his untimely end.

Richard Sweet, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sweet, was captured by the police of the city after a younger brother of the leading man, captured the hearts of his hearers with his clear recitation of lines and songs from the play.

ROTARY DONATES LAND TO JAYCEES

Twin Falls Rotary club today had decided to give the Junior Chamber of Commerce the Rotary-owned tract of land in Rock creek canyon to assist in raising funds for final retirement of the purchase price on the Jaycee 20-acre community recreation grounds.

Officers of the Rotarians announced that members have voted to cede the property to the Jaycees at no cost. The Junior Chamber then will seek a suitable sale of the land and will use such funds for the recreation project.

Two or Three Acres The Rotary property consists of between two and three acres, located on a quarter-mile east of the Shoshone street Rock creek bridge. The land is the site originally intended for a community swimming pool, according to Dr. Charles R. Scott, secretary of the Rotary club.

He contended that President Andrew Jackson, in each of his messages to Congress, in his opinion of a single term. He also said that the Democratic national convention in 1912 placed a plank in its platform calling for a single term.

What is true of that time is clear beyond any doubt at the present, he said.

BUSINESS TALK FOR TOWN HALL

Twin Falls Town Hall club will wear away from international situations and will take a look next week at problems nearer home—business and industrial problems.

And the speaker for the meeting Wednesday, Dec. 14, will be Carl Taylor of Milwaukee, Wis., a young business man only 32 years old and with a real "Horatio Alger" story of success back of him.

At 8 P. M. He will speak at 8 p. m. Dec. 14 in the high school auditorium. He is to arrive in the city on the afternoon of that day, according to a letter from him today to J. A. Cedergaard, Town Hall president.

Born in a sod but built by his parents in a single day on the wind-swept plains of western Oklahoma, he attended rural schools, then worked his way through college. He says that "it took more than one college to teach me anything so I attended Kansas State Agricultural college, the University of Oklahoma and the University of Wisconsin."

However, he finally got his degree. In fact, two of them, both B. A. and M. A. Then he taught in a school, graduated to the University of Oklahoma teaching staff (teaching public speaking) then was promoted again to a better job at the University of Wisconsin—where he went as he says, "along with the depression in 1932."

Runs Two Farms The next year he resigned and formed a League of Building and Loan organizations with over 200 member associations and a quarter of a billion dollars in mortgages on Wisconsin homes. He is a director in the Northern bank of Milwaukee, a member of the mayor's housing committee and the mayor's executive committee.

He operates two farms on which there is a net profit before the government soil conservation checks arrive.

Mr. Taylor is not a professional public speaker, but he is said to be one of the most brilliant orators in America. His classic, "What Made America Great," can never be forgotten by anyone who hears it. Town Hall letters have been informed.

He says it recently before the Executive's club of Chicago, and the secretary declares it was one of the best addresses ever delivered before that great club of Chicago business men, who for 20 years have been listening each year to the greatest speakers of America and the world.

WESTERNERS DEMAND SILVER PRICE LEVEL BE RETAINED

SEN. KING URGES THAT TREASURY CONTINUE PRICE

By SANDOR S. KLEIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (UP)—The vainguard of the western silver bloc in congress demanded today that the federal government continue next year to pay at least 64.64 cents an ounce for newly-mined domestic silver—the price established for 1938 by presidential proclamation.

The demand was voiced by Senator King D. Utah, as treasury monetary experts prepared data which will help President Roosevelt decide what price the treasury should pay in 1939.

Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation of Dec. 31, 1937, lowered the domestic price from 77.70 cents, which had been in effect since April 24, 1935, to 64.64 cents. The proclamation expires at midnight Dec. 31 this year. Opponents of the government's silver policy contend that the treasury is paying domestic producers a 21.64 cents subsidy over the world price of 43 cents.

Should Be Left Alone

"I think the domestic silver price had better be left in status quo," said King. "If an attempt is made to lower the price it might reopen the entire, highly controversial monetary question."

The present silver policy does not have the full support of President Roosevelt's monetary advisers. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who will recommend to Mr. Roosevelt the future domestic silver price, is one of those known to have little sympathy with the silver purchase program. He recommended last year's cut.

Under the silver purchase act the treasury must purchase silver—both domestic and foreign—until the monetary value of the government's silver stock is equivalent to one-third the monetary value of the gold reserve. Foreign silver is purchased at a price set by the treasury, which has been the world price plus small handling, insurance and shipping charges.

Nothing Wrong

The projected statutory ratio of silver to gold is far from achievement as a result, primarily, of the flight of gold from the United States in recent years.

King insisted there was nothing seriously wrong with the silver program. He contended the fault lay in the administration's gold-buying policy. Some countries, he argued, mine gold for about $12 an ounce and that eventually it is sold to the United States for $35 an ounce.

Of Dec. 6, this country's gold stocks stood at an all time peak of $1,083,728,000, almost 57 per cent of the estimated total world's monetary gold reserve.

The treasury's silver stocks on Sept. 30—latest available figures—totaled 2,440,000,000 ounces, which had a monetary value of $184,000,000. The monetary value set by law is $189 an ounce.

Cost Treasury Less

Between June 30, 1934 when the silver purchase act went into effect and Aug. 31, 1937, the treasury acquired 1,728,000,000 ounces having the monetary value of $2,234,000,000. However, this silver actually cost the treasury $1,000,000,000.

Between Jan. 1 and Oct. 31 this year the treasury purchased 49,128,511 ounces of newly-mined domestic silver at the 64.64 cent price.

The price for domestic newly-mined silver originally was established at 64.64 cents on Dec. 21, 1933 when silver was nationalized. On April 10, 1935 it was boosted to 71.57 cents. Two weeks later the price was raised to 77.70 where it remained until it was cut to its current price last Dec. 31.

OFFICIALS HOLD 2 BANK ROBBERS

LEBANON, O., Dec. 9 (UP)—Two admitted bank robbers and their two women accomplices were in custody of authorities today after kidnapping state policeman and slaying one of the greatest mobilizations in the history of the Ohio state patrol.

The men, captured in the Washington Court House after a five-hour fight, were registered as David I. Cross, 29, Hamilton, Pa., and Coy Russell, 29, Houston, Tex. They were charged with kidnaping, armed robbery and automobile theft.

Women Held

The women, held in the Warren county jail here, were booked under the names of Naomi Hayes, 25, Steele, Mo., and Marie Day, 25, Greenup, Ky.

Sixty patrolmen, directed by Col. Lynn Black, state patrol superintendent, concentrated their search in southwestern Ohio. They were aided by dozens of sheriffs' officers and 10 Indiana state patrolmen.

Cross and Russell were captured by Capt. Fred Ellis and Patrolman Long, 34, on a Columbus-bound bus at Washington Court House after they had abducted Corporal Parker W. Powell near Wayneville and left him bound and handcuffed in a field near Ridgeville.

Admit Robberies

They were taken to the state patrol sub-station at Wilmington where they confessed to Col. Black that they had obtained $2,700 in a holdup of the bank at Scribner Thursday morning. Cross was said to have admitted robbing a bank in Columbiana county of $7,000 early in 1937.

When captured, the men had $1,300. The two women, captured in Kuhn Mills earlier by Sergeant Harvey Kurth and Patrolman Pat Clark of the Middleton police, had $300.

FDR PLANS TO 'SPY ON SPIES'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (UP)—President Roosevelt said today that he will ask the new congress for additional funds so that the American intelligence services can check up on the secret police and spies of other nations.

The chief executive outlined his plans in a discussion of the spy situation. He announced that Lamar Hardy, U. S. district attorney for New York who has been prosecuting spy cases, has resigned effective in January.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that the spy system was by no means cleared up by the ending of the recent trial in New York City. He said that the roots go down pretty deep.

He said this nation needed no OGPU or a secret police to watch the American people but it did need to watch the secret police of other nations. This, he said, was a fine distinction.

The president told newspapermen that the coordination of U. S. intelligence services had been achieved at his direction and was functioning efficiently and smoothly.

He asked newspapermen to refrain from speculating on the various agencies involved, pointing out that such speculation might tend to nullify the work now being done.

Mr. Roosevelt said that Hardy did an amazing job. He remarked that it was very easy for any district attorney to try petty criminals but to go to the source of the criminal problem involved in espionage was another matter.

Free Movies for Jerome Children

JEROME, Dec. 9 (Special)—Arrangements are now being made by the management of the Vorex theater here to stage a free show for children at 9:30 a. m. Monday, Dec. 26, as part of Jerome's civic Christmas program for the youngsters.

The free show will come in with the C. C. and the Jaycees plans to make it a merry Yuletide for the children of this county.

Name of the picture for the special show has not yet been announced. The management said, however, that the picture will not be Jane Withers in "Keep Smiling," that will be the regular feature. A different picture will be arranged for the kid show.

'Purge Means Doom,' States Sen. Wheeler

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (UP)—Sen. Wheeler, D. Mont., predicted today that efforts to continue the "purge" in the Democratic party during the next two years would "doom" the party in the 1940 election.

Wheeler, prominent member of the anti-administration wing of the party, urged those interested in constructive, liberal legislation to work during the next two years for "unite rather than divide the party."

"This election," he said, "has demonstrated that this still is a middle-class country and you can't take the people any further than you can take the middle class with you."

"If the attempt is going to be continued to proscribe those senators who think occasionally for themselves, and are not mere mouthpieces, the Democratic party will be doomed in 1940."

Buhl Baptists to Stage Dramatics

BUHL, Dec. 9 (Special)—"I Heard His Call" a three-act play, will be presented Sunday at 8 p. m. at the Buhl Christian church. The cast was selected by the director, Mrs. Roy Smith, from the Women's Missionary society. Special music and entertainment during the intermission will be furnished by the Young Matrons' Missionary society.

The play will take the place of the regular Sunday evening service. Rev. J. D. Harden has arranged to show a number of stereoscopic slides entitled "The Sons of China." The public is invited.

Gay Holiday Setting Awaits Attendants at Charity Ball

All the appurtenances of the holiday season—holly wreaths, Christmas bells, brilliantly decorated and illuminated Christmas trees, cedar boughs, icicles and icebergs—will be in evidence this evening when members of the Twin Falls Elks lodge, their wives and women guests, assemble at the Elks' ballroom for the annual Charity ball.

The affair will be informal, and dancing will begin at 9:30 o'clock. In addition to providing dancers with one of the gayest events of the holidays, proceeds will furnish approximately 100 Christmas dinners, and will finance other philanthropies of the organization.

Advance ticket sales have been especially satisfactory, according to the committee in charge. Effective Setting. Particularly effective will be the illumination of the ballroom for the event. An overhead canopy of alternating red and green lights, entwined with chenille rope in the Christmas colors and a large silver icicle, is one of the distinguishing features of the decorations.

Decor boughs garland the balcony and the entrance to the ballroom. Wreaths and Christmas bells mark the windows, and huge Christmas ornaments, on either side of the orchestra platform.

Chuck Helm and his Continentals will be stationed in a dazzling setting of silver and white crystals, with the Northern Lights, lavish in color, as a background.

Committee of Ten. Supper will not be served, nor will there be favors for the women guests, all of the funds available being concentrated on the program of benevolence for underprivileged families of the community.

Supervising the arrangements for this important social event is Chairman Charles Older. Members of the committee are Joe Datta, Mrs. M. C. Orr, L. O. Cowan, John Ford, Robert Minslow, Dallas McCutcheon, John Egan, John Wagner and F. C. Schaefer.

BEAVERBUSH BUNNY ENTERTAINMENT. The home of Mrs. Arlene Hanson was the scene of a jolly party Wednesday evening. Following a beaverbush hunt, programs were given and lunch was served.

Guests were Miss Laura Lamb, Miss Anna Dodd, Miss Lois Lambert, Miss Edith Boyer, Mrs. Edithson and Miss Edith Lambert.

Knights of Columbus ENTERTAIN AT CARD PARTY. Knights of Columbus entertained at a delightful Ladies' High Entertainment Wednesday evening at the parish hall. Cards were the principal feature of the evening.

Pinocle and bridge were played, and 20 tables were arranged for the games. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

Prizes. Committee on arrangements included A. C. Carter, Harvey Quastad, Frank Giese, Frank Miller and Paul Kraft.

PUPILS PRESENTED AT PIANO RECITAL. Mrs. J. D. Beamer presented a group of piano pupils in recital last evening at her studio, 217 Buchanan street.

Mrs. Matheny and her husband testified that they had seen Johnston between 9 and 9:30 p. m. the evening of May 21 walking on the street across from the Evening Times and that he had continued up to the laundry on Second avenue west and was going down the north side of that street. Mrs. Matheny testified that she noticed Johnston because she remarked to her husband that "the Johnston" isn't but looking with his hat on.

Roundtree, who said he was "going" with Lucille Bagley, a telephone operator, during May of this year, testified that at no time, although they discussed the murder frequently, had she told him she saw Olson at the carnival grounds the night of May 21.

Mr. Hunt testified that he was a member of the party of which Paul Gilman was also a member, and which visited the carnival grounds the night of May 21. He said that at no time had Gilman mentioned the fact to him or to any of the other members of the group, that he saw Olson there that night.

"Perfect Gentleman"
Miss Bess testified that Olson was a "perfect gentleman" during the time she was with him and that they had gone to the De Luxe cabin, where he stayed, merely to get his keys and his other coats. Mrs. Denton also testified to this effect, saying that Olson and Miss Bess had picked her up in the car and they went to the dance, but that Olson had left them there.

Most of the witnesses were cross examined briefly by Rayburn.
This concluded the trial of the state. The defense did not enter into rebuttal.

After the jury had been dismissed, the state's defense co-attorney, addressed the jury with a motion which called on Judge Porter to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. He claimed that no testimony had been produced which, in any way, connected the defendant with the crime.

Motion Denied
Judge Porter, in an immediate ruling, denied the motion.
Both sides were then asked as to the time they intended to take in their final arguments to the jury. No agreement could be reached between the lawyers and so Judge Porter said that the arguments would be set although he "reserved the right" to end such arguments "if they went beyond reasonable bounds."

Attorneys for both sides informed the Evening Times that they anticipated the arguments would last, (total) for both sides, approximately four hours. In this holds true the jury will take the case before 5 p. m. adjournment today. If this time is not enough, the jury will go to the jury before noon Saturday, as to how long the jury will deliberate, no one could answer.

When the jury reaches a verdict the judge will be informed and representatives of both sides will be notified. After the verdict is reached in the court room the members of the jury will file in and the verdict will be given. Judge Porter's instructions to the jury will be given after both defense and prosecution have concluded arguments to that body.

Court room was filled this morning and a score or more persons was in the hallway outside the court room. More scores were turned away at the court by a special officer who has been instructed to permit no additional persons on the third floor after the court has closed unless they have business there.

Mrs. Johnston
Mrs. Virginia Johnston, wife of the defendant, was called to the stand by the defense shortly before her husband started his testimony. A running account of Mrs. Johnston's testimony follows, under questioning of Rayburn:

She testified that her husband left on Saturday, May 21, between 8:30 and 9 a. m. in the new Buick sedan, 3 p. m. at the Trojans pharmacy. She saw him again that evening for dinner and he left home and returned to the store about 7 p. m. Little after 8 p. m. he came home accompanied by Dan Cavanaugh, left shortly with the Buick sedan and returned to the store and came home accompanied by Dan Cavanaugh.

He returned home again sometime around 10:30 p. m. and shortly thereafter Mrs. Johnston then retired and stated that she occupied the same room with him and that he didn't leave home anymore that night.

Played Golf
The first morning (Monday, May 22) she said he got up about 8:30 a. m. and then after a little while went out to the golf course with a party of friends and played golf. He returned home that morning and remained around the house for the afternoon. In the evening her husband, son and herself went to the carnival there. They returned home and in went to the store, May 23, he left home at the usual time to go to work.

Philippine Envoy

After the payment was made Olson and I stepped outside on the sidewalk.
Q—You had a bank account?
A—Not very active.
Q—You were checking on it?
A—Yes.
Q—Why didn't you pay Olson with a check?
A—I was in the process of closing out my account at the Fidelity National bank. They had previously refused my request for a loan.

Q—You made deposits in that bank up until the time you were arrested, didn't you?
A—I did. I would write a check and then cover it.
Remembers Talk
Q—Do you recall talking to Howard Gillette and Sheriff E. F. Prater on June 1, 1938, at the office of the sheriff in the court house?
A—Yes.
Q—Do you recall the various questions given to you?
A—Yes.
Q—You didn't say anything then about Charlie Taylor being present when you paid Olson the money, did you?
A—No, I did not.

Q—It was called to your attention then that it was very important that you remember anyone who had come to be in the store at that time, wasn't it? Tell the jury why you didn't tell Prater that Taylor was there to see that payment made?
A—I suppose I was more or less grasping for memory at the time I made that statement. I phoned Babcock several times in the weeks which came after my memory.

Says Chief Accused Him
Q—Howard Gillette, on June 2, hadn't accused you of the crime, had he?
A—I beg to differ with you, he had. (End cross examination on this part of testimony.)
Q—You drove to the service station incident, in which a state's witness (the station attendant) has testified Johnston did not come to the station on May 21, McCullough questioned Johnston and the questions and answers follow:
Q—Did you see Johnston at the station?
A—He did not.
Q—He did not?
Q—Did Olson go into the station and sign the credit slip for the gas?
A—He did not.

Q—Did he get any oil?
A—No, sir.
Q—How much gasoline?
A—I don't know.
Q—He wiped the windshield.
Q—No one else in the car but you and Olson?
A—No, sir. (McCullough then asked again to the money payment.)
Q—When you walked out of the store after making the money payment, did you go directly to the bank?
A—Yes, sir, I did.
Q—Where did Olson go when he left the store but when I came back from the bank after talking to Betty Leonard (Miss Leonard testified for the prosecution that day) he was asleep or dozing in his car. I knocked on the window and woke him up.

Q—Did he have any conversation with him in the car?
A—Do you want me to tell that conversation?
Q—Yes, sir.
A—Mr. Olson asked me if it would be possible to put a bid of not less than $1000 on the merchandise for sale and I told him I wasn't interested. (End of questioning.)
McCullough then went into great detail to ask Johnston the route he had taken on his trip from his store to the Evening Times office to purchase the papers. Johnston testified that he took a street car and was in front of the Times office.

Johnston emphatically said that he traveled a direct route from his office to the paper and return.
McCullough insisted Johnston the top of the car was closed and the case and asked Johnston if he could identify it.
He said to say "Well," Johnston said, "It's kind of hard with just the top. If you had the whole case I could tell you in a minute whether or not it was mine."
McCullough then started to hand the defendant the two record books which were found in the store but he changed his mind for the court came and the matter was postponed until this morning.

Other witnesses called by the defense yesterday afternoon included Mrs. Alma Hannagan, manager of the Hudson Hotel for the past four years; Jacoby Hiles, a resident of the hotel; and Roy Culler, a special investigator from Denver working with the defense. Culler told of all the questions asked Johnston and pictures which he had taken at the time were introduced as evidence for the defense. He said that, contrary to state testimony, fingerprints could have been obtained in the basement of the hotel. In his examination, he said that he was "not a fingerprint expert" but had tried to find one in Twin Falls without success.
Culler testified that Olson had come to the hotel on Friday, May 13, at night and had tried to borrow $100. He asked for money and Olson started to write out a check but then said "I'll come back and give you my diamond ring. He said that he never returned. Mrs. Hiles told a similar story, stating that she was there at the time.

FILM STARS ASK GERMAN BOYCOTT

By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9 (AP)—The names of Hollywood movie stars, known the world around, today were injected into a proposed economic boycott of Nazi Germany with the hope that the power of these names will make the drive successful.
All the Hollywood touches will be applied, with the movement clamored by the filming of stars as they sign a "1938 declaration of independence" calling upon the government and the people of the United States to break off economic relations with Germany until that country returns to the family of nations.

The apparently spontaneous movement reached its formal meeting stage last night at the home of film star Edward G. Robinson when approximately 60 leading members of the film industry gathered to form an organization to sponsor the boycott.
Calls Meeting to Order
Melvyn Douglas, who called the meeting, informed the assemblage that the time had come for "the power of humanity of the film industry to join in a mighty protest against German oppression."
The preliminary draft of the document was read and then distributed to the members of the film industry and congress of the United States.

"In 1938 the people refused to submit to Germany from a despot abroad. Today a new tyranny has arisen abroad. Leaders of Nazi Germany have threatened the security of the world through their despotic rule. They have abolished freedom of speech, press and assembly. They have degraded women, enslaved labor and made cannon fodder of youth. We have waited patiently for sanity to return to Nazi Germany, but it has not appeared."
Because 1500 stars aligned the original declaration of independence, the film leaders decided that the 1938 declaration should be signed by 50 members of the movie industry, including actors, directors, executives and writers.

Preliminary plans call for circulation of the document in theaters throughout the world.
"We also will get definite pledges from the stars to boycott what ever they sign, regardless of how necessary they may have been to them," Douglas said.

CLARK RETURNS MONDAY
BOISE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Gov. Bazzulla W. Clark will return to the Idaho capital Monday or early next week from New York City where he attended an Idaho food dinner given by William A. McGowan, president of the Idaho Pacific railroad, James Shinn, his secretary, said today.

TINKER CHOSEN TO C. OF C. POST
E. M. Tinker, Twin Falls lumber executive, was appointed today as president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Tinker, already a board member, was appointed by President H. C. Jones, president of the chamber, after C. G. Jones, local realtor, submitted his resignation as director and as treasurer because of the present unpopularity of the chamber's new policy of throwing open the directorial meetings to the general members wishing to attend.

The board authorized appointment of a committee to formulate the chamber's objectives for 1939. The committee will be named later. The C. of C. directors discussed possibility of Twin Falls sponsoring a basketball team to represent the city. It was understood that John Savage's Mutual game, Idaho "out-law" champions, would be willing to become the Twin Falls representative if backing were granted.

SELF-SUFFICIENCY PLANNED IN U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—With the United States dependent upon importation from all parts of the world of the kind of "strategic minerals" necessary for the carrying on of modern warfare, a campaign has been launched for making the United States self-sufficient in nearly all of these minerals by the development of known deposits and the use of the western States.

This development is declared to be all the more necessary at the present time for the reason that the world's supplies of tungsten, which is indispensable in the hardening of all iron and steel, is passing into the hands of Japan and Great Britain, and it is feared that mercury, is still too embroiled in war to make it certain that America could import enough for its needs in the near future.

Eleven States Enlisted

The campaign has been undertaken by a private non-profit organization. Its objective is the development of all resources of the western States.

The nine minerals that are indispensable for the manufacture of modern war materials are antimony, chromium, manganese, mercury, mica, nickel, platinum, tin and tungsten. With the exception of mica, the United States is exceedingly poor in the production of these minerals, although deposits of all, with the exception of tin, are said to exist in the western States.

Metals for Many Uses

The minerals or metals are necessary for the manufacture of all types of guns, ammunition, armor, and other war materials. They are also used in electrical equipment, cutlery, structural steel, tool and machine tools, hardware, and in building material.

At present the United States is dependent upon importations from all parts of the world for a bulk of the tungsten comes from Mexico, China and South America; sheet mica from British India and also Madagascar; tin from the East Indies; nickel, platinum and chromium from Great Britain; tungsten from China and mercury from Spain.

Officials from the State Dept. have been ordered to show that the United States' consumption of these materials is as extraordinarily large but the production is small.

For the first step in its campaign to make the United States self-sufficient in these minerals, the complete inventory of the situation, aided by state administrative officials, federal departments dealing with raw materials, industry, agriculture and privately and publicly owned electric utilities. As soon as the survey is complete, the State Dept. will determine who are to be developed and by whom for the development of all domestic sources of these minerals.

You know lots of you folks use classified regular to rent houses and rooms and other sorta of things, and sometimes you wonder why it takes 2 or 3 weeks to get them rented. Lots of times you won't even get an answer the first week.

The other day I saw a man and his wife lookin' in classified for a house. They scanned down the column past all the ads that said just "House for rent. Ph. 2" until they came to an ad that described a house. The wife says, "That house sounds like what we want. The others must amount to much of they would have described them."

You can save money by putting in a target ad and renting your houses quicker.

Dworshak Pledges Promotion of Reclamation on Snake

Newest Idaho Solon Hits at AAA Rulings

BY WILLIAM KEMENAMIN
HOUSE DEC. 9.—Promotion of reclamation in the Snake and Boise river valleys and protection of the interests of Idaho farmers will be the key purposes of Gen.-elect Henry Dworshak when he goes to Washington, D. C., Dec. 20, for the opening of congress, he pledged today.

Dworshak said he would bend every effort toward securing a position for himself on the reclamation committee of the congress in order to promote the water conservation projects of Idaho's second congressional district. Cong. Commission White of the Idaho territory is chairman of that committee.

"I have conferred with Idaho reclamation leaders carefully during the past month to ascertain their needs," Dworshak said. "I shall do my best to promote such proposals as the Twin Springs project.

Plans to Cooperate
"In order to do this, I intend to cooperate with the state's entire congressional delegation, regardless of party."

Dworshak lashed out at the federal reclamation department and insisted he would make an effort to protect the interests of farmers from "harmful experimentation."

"The Idaho farmer believes that five years of AAA have failed to produce parity prices," Dworshak said. "He wants profitable prices rather than having to depend upon subsidy payments involving complete surrender of his liberties."

Ramp Trade Treaties
Dworshak scored the reciprocal trade treaties with Great Britain and Canada signed recently at "a waste to the interests of western farmers."

"I believe we should repeal legislation that gives Secretary of State Cordell Hull the right to negotiate trade treaties without ratification of either house of the national congress," Dworshak said. "The congressman favored gradual retrenchment and balancing of the budget, consolidation of gains made during the past few years and preparation of a sound economic basis and a policy of strict neutrality."

MEETING LASHES AT WPA LAY-OFF

Speaking an emphatic manner of re-opening the fight for WPA workers facing a dreary holiday season because they have been laid off, jobs, the Twin Falls Workers Alliance will hold a mass meeting at 8 p. m. today at the protheat court room.

Perry Morris, chairman, said the local workers laid off Tuesday and Wednesday was between 125 and 130. He said that "mass political action" is the only effective way to stop continuing threat of such unemployment. He invited all jobless workers on WPA lists to attend the protest meeting.

Leaders in the local unit rapped at reports saying the President may "lap off government spending after next year's election. This is being called a 'serious matter' to thousands of workers the WPA work slash since the election, and declared that those who stock government spending on WPA and PWA projects at "reactionaries and conservatives."

Parents of Young Vom Rath Killer Discovered in Poland

By RICHARD C. HOTTELET
(Copyright, 1938, United Press)
POSEN, Poland, Dec. 8 (AP)—The family of 17-year-old Herschel Grynszpan was located in a small town near here today, working in the fields. They were the indirect, unknown cause of the violent anti-Semitic campaign in Germany and of the 400,000,000 fine levied on German Jews. Herschel, in Paris, heard that his family had been expelled from Germany and he assassinated the German diplomat, Ernst vom Rath.

David Grynszpan, the father of Herschel, had just come in from the fields where he and other Polish Jews expelled from Germany, once had an existence. A small man, his long hair turned gray, he pulled the tattered bathrobe which serves him as an overcoat, closer around his bent shoulders.

"Maybe it was Despair," "I don't know how Herschel could have done it," he said. "Maybe it was despair. Maybe it was because he had received a letter from his mother and he saying we were being expelled from Germany. My wife and children were treated very roughly when we were expelled from our home at Hanover. I was badly beaten by a Gestapo agent."

"Herschel told Paris police that this motivated him—"
"But Herschel was always a quiet boy."

I found the Grynszpan family only after a long search among Polish Jewish refugees from Germany. But after I found them it was not easy to get them to talk. They were afraid of making things worse, worried about Herschel and wondering what their own eventual lot would be. They spoke hesitantly even after a long scrutiny of my credentials convinced them that I was an American newspaperman.

Normal Toy
Father Grynszpan is 53 years old. His wife stood stout as she spoke with me. Herschel's brother, 10, and a sister of 21, stood by their hands frequently moving to nervous gestures as the father spoke, apparently fearing he would be indiscreet. Sometimes they would yawn their heads in agreement with what he said. Both of the youngsters were

Made No Progress
"My brother who is in the clothing business in Paris, had suggested that Herschel go there."
"But he was not able to get permission to work in Paris and so he helped his uncle in his business."
"We had not heard from him for about a year except on a few occasions. We knew he was unhappy because he had not been able to make progress. Once he wrote to us and said he was about to make us unhappy with his troubles and suggested that perhaps it would be best if he stopped writing to us. After that we heard nothing more from him."

Grynszpan said he had been in Germany for 28 years as a tailor at Hanover.

Humans Without Work
"Then suddenly the new government came and overnight we were pariahs," he continued. "My other son and daughter, both older than Herschel, were unable to get work. And human beings without work are only half alive."

"Since 1933, life for us has been a succession of tragedies. And now this has come upon us."
"I have heard nothing from Paris," he said, "but I sent a lawyer the power of attorney."
Grynszpan tugged at the old bathrobe and looked at his wife. "I hope it turns out all right," he said.

MINIDOKA LOSES NO-DEATH RANK

Minidoka county in November stepped out of the Idaho "honor roll" of counties which have had no auto deaths in 1938, thereby leaving only nine such counties, according to state totals received today from Boise.

The state summary shows two deaths in Minidoka county for November. Still on the honor roll are three south central counties—Blaine, Lincoln and Gannaw. The other six are Butte, Caribou, Clark, Custer, Madison and Valley.

Butte county stands far and away at the top of the honor list. It hasn't had a single highway accident death in almost four years during which the state department of law enforcement has maintained records.

Boise and Ada county show the most highway deaths with 18. Bonneville is next with 15. Bingham has had 13 and Bannock county 11.

Here are the totals for other counties, as listed by the department.
Shoshone 8, Twin Falls and Jefferson 7, Fremont and Canyon 6, Gem, Kootenai and Nez Perce 5, Coconino, Gooding and Latah 4, Jerome, Adams, Benewah, Clearwater, Elmore, Idaho, Owyhee, Shoshone 3, Bear Lake, Bode, Bonner, Lewis, Washington 2, Boundary, Franklin, Lemhi, Owyhee, Payette, Power 1.
