BREAK YEARS IN RELATIONS WITH GERMAN YURY RECEIVES STEINER FRAUD CASE Nazi Officials Say Conciliation Hope is Futile

STATE, DEFENSE END ARGUMENTS IN ROADS TRIAL

BOISE, Dec. 30 (UP)—The trial of Highway Director J. H. Stemmer and District Highway Engineer Richard Pearson of Coeur d'Alene on charges of criminal fraud against the state went to a jury at 12:50 p. m. today.

In final arguments before the jury, the state charged that the two highway engineers had intentionally signed Stemmer's salary claim with intent to defraud the state of $285. They referred to J. J. McCredy, former Coeur d'Alene highway engineer.

Based on State Law
Main point of the argumentative plea before the jury was based on the state laws which provide that all state employees are entitled to 14 days vacation without pay each year and that there must work seven hours a day. The state contended that McCredy did not work the seven hours a day.

The defense argued that McCredy was entitled to the $285 salary and that therefore, the claim could not have been falsified. Their money either and should return it to the state.

Should Return Salaries
"McCredy is not entitled to his salary," Stephen said. "I say that those who were campaigning for reelection should pay their money either and should return it to the state."

Washington, Dec. 30 (UP)—Germany moved nearer to a definite break in diplomatic relations with the United States today with an official announcement that "hope of improvement in German-United States relations is futile in view of the United States' reaction to Germany's protest against the speech of Secretary Loh."

The ambassadors of both countries already have been recalled for "consultation" and today's statement, distributed by the official DNB news agency, indicated the possibility that Dr. Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff may not return to Washington.

To date the German public has not been apprised of the force of Germany's protest against an anti-Nazi speech by Harold I. Ickes, secretary of the interior, and its curt rejection by European allies, acting secretary of state.

First Official Reaction
The DNB declaration was the first concrete official reaction to the United States rejection of the formal Nazi protest against the speech of Ickes.

Previously the controlled Nazi press and state radio spokesman Pitman D. Nev., chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and other Americans who had criticized Germany's protest.

Speaks for Government
The DNB agency, however, is viewed as speaking almost directly for the government. It frequently forecasts or clarifies government policy in important matters.

Ickes' speech, delivered to a 20-man meeting at Cleveland, assailed the anti-Nazi program in Germany as a revision of brutal practices of past centuries. The Nazi press called it a war monger attempt to stir up European antagonism against Germany and to bring about a break in relations between Berlin and Washington.

The DNB statement said: "The United States Secretary of Interior Ickes made a statement in Cleveland, Ohio, on December 23, 1938, in which he attacked the German program in a manner which is completely unjustified."

No Hope
"The United States foreign office, however, has not dissociated itself from the statement of Secretary of Interior as obviously is customary in international relations in such cases and has attempted to justify those statements."

NO CHANCE SEEN FOR BOOST IN FEDERAL SILVER PRICE

1938 PAY RATE WILL BE EITHER CUT OR RETAINED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Treasury officials were reported today to be studying two alternatives in dealing with the domestic silver purchase program for 1939.

Reliable sources said the present price of 64½ cents an ounce either would be maintained or reduced. They said it was certain the price would not be increased.

The decision will be revealed Saturday night when President Roosevelt issues a formal proclamation setting the price the treasury will pay for newly-mined silver during the next 12 months. That proclamation will be based on recommendations made by Secretary of the Treasury, Hugh B. Clegg, who, a year ago, succeeded in effecting a reduction in the 1937 rate of 71½ cents an ounce.

24-Hour Secret

Morganthau's recommendation will be kept secret for the next 24 hours to prevent speculation on the metal market.

There has been considerable pressure from the western silver bloc in congress for retention of the existing price. It is generally believed it would not exceed 10 per cent. Such a decrease would bring the price down to $1.14 per ounce, or 64½ cents, the basis of this year's domestic silver production, such a reduction would cut producers approximately $4,000,000.

The President's annual proclamation, fixing the domestic price, is in accordance with a provision of the war relief act of 1937 designed to stabilize commodity prices through monetary adjustment.

Program Falls

Treasury officials including Morganthau, long have contended the domestic silver program has failed to fulfill the economic promises made for it by its sponsors.

Meanwhile, Sen. Key Pittman, D., Nev., one of the leading silver state senators, said the program has failed. "That is what it ought to be," he said. "It is a disaster."

Key said the price of silver is only 77/100 of an ounce of gold, which is less than $1.20 an ounce in purchasing power. I believe the price of silver is too low, and that it is an undue profit at the expense of the producers."

They Plot New Route to Alaska

There were indications a serious international incident might result from one of the Spanish civil war. Gun fire from nationalist warships did severe damage to the British village of Catalan Bay. Of the British subjects wounded one, a policeman on duty at the time, was in serious condition.

Set Out

For weeks the Jose Luis Diaz had been sheltering at Gibraltar. Long ago, it had been refitted as a Spanish port on the Bay of Biscay. It sought to run the straits of Gibraltar and, in the open Mediterranean, to attack the British fleet.

At 11 a. m. today the Jose Luis Diaz got up steam, moved off, put on all the speed it had and laid down a smoke screen to conceal itself.

A nationalist warship which had been stationed just east of Gibraltar was first to take up pursuit. It closed with the Jose Luis Diaz as it rounded the tip of the cape.

Five more nationalist warships joined. Gun fire.

In the village of Catalan Bay, on the east side of the cape, nationalist shells began to fall. Two of them wrecked the electric light plant and the village was plunged into darkness.

The British destroyer Yanac was ordered out.

Goes Into Action

As it raced around the corner of the "rock" the land batteries at Ceuta, across the straits on the Spanish Morocco coast, got into action.

Out in the Mediterranean, the Jose Luis Diaz was fighting gallantly against the seven ships which encircled it. A shell struck the destroyer's forecastle and killed four men and wounded 11.

The nationalist ships began circling and firing at the destroyer. The Jose Luis Diaz began firing its machine guns at the enemy fleet. One of the machine guns exploded and more men were wounded.

The nationalist destroyer Jupiter moved in between the Jose Luis Diaz and the British fleet. It was to escape impossible. The Jose Luis Diaz's captain realized his fight was hopeless and he ordered his ship to be scuttled. The nationalist destroyer with terrific force—and made for safety of the British shore.

Makes for Shore

The crippled Jupiter made for the shore near Europa Point, as the Jose Luis Diaz grounded near the village of Catalan Bay.

Crews of both ships began crying for help.

Within a few minutes two British destroyers, the Yanac, and the French destroyer Basque were standing by the Jose Luis Diaz.

Five wounded men and the bodies of two dead, were landed from the Jose Luis Diaz.

The nationalist cruiser Canarias then attacked the disabled ship from the way to Algiers on the bay.

Early reports were the Jose Luis Diaz suffered little damage in the fight.

Damage to the Jupiter was not known.

There is no ship named Jupiter in official lists of the nationalist navy units and it was believed it might be one of the warships "sold" to the nationalists by Italy.

COUNSEL ARGUES RE-TRIAL MOTION

On May 24, stuffed into the rear seat of his machine and covered with a canvas. It was badly decomposed.

Charges Misconduct

The defense today contended that there was "enough misconduct" on the part of the prosecution in cross examination of the defendant when he was on the stand during the trial to entitle Johnson to a new trial "if for no other reason." The defense also claimed that the prosecution, by persistent questioning of the defendant, sought to mislead the jury.

The misconduct blast was aimed at Verne McCullough, Salt Lake City attorney who assisted in the prosecution of the ex-mayor. McCullough was accused specifically of asking questions which he knew would be overruled but which would leave an effect on the jury.

Defense argument on the retrial motion entered concluding phases as Judge Porter reconvened court at 2 p. m. after the mid-day recess. The state then was to present its arguments as to why the motion for new trial should be denied.

Decision Time Uncertain

Whether Judge Porter would give an immediate decision on the motion or would take the matter under advisement was not announced.

Representing the prosecution today were Prosecutor Edward Babcock and his deputy assistant, George M. Paulson. McCullough did not come here for the motion argument.

Representing Johnson were William Dunn and T. M. Robertson, Jr. They were preceded by Johnson's attorney to take the place of E. V. Larson and E. L. Rayburn who represented him during the trial.

Woman Pioneer Dies at Burley

BURLEY, Dec. 30 (Special)—Mrs. Mary Catherine Craner, widow of George Craner, and pioneer resident of Cassia county, died at her home one mile west of Burley yesterday, following an illness resulting from injuries sustained when she fell about four years ago.

Arrangements have been made for funeral services Sunday at 11 a. m. at the L. D. S. tabernacle, Bishop Art Olmstead officiating. The body rests at the Payne mortuary.

Body may be viewed at Payne mortuary until Sunday and from 10 a. m. Sunday until services at the funeral home.

Mrs. Craner was born at Tooele, Utah, Oct. 10, 1860. She was married at Salt Lake City in 1880 to George Craner, sr. They lived on a ranch near Oakley for many years, and later moved to the ranch near Burley.

She was a member of the L. D. S. church and a member of the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers, the first ward chapter.

Surviving are the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Mary Harding, Dr. G. E. Craner, Mrs. Ruth O. Judd, Arthur E. Craner and John T. Craner, all of Burley; Dr. H. E. Craner of Portland, Ore.; William Craner of Moscow and Mrs. Annie C. Allan of Los Angeles. A son, Howard Craner, died about six years ago in California and her husband preceded her in death three years ago.

Appeal Filed in Farm Wage Suit

Appeal against a probate court judgment denying a farm worker's claim for wages was taken today to district court.

The appeal was filed by counsel for Dolen Stigall, who had sued Mrs. Alice Denardis, west end ranch owner, for $470. Civil trial was held Nov. 22 and Dep. J. Judge Guy L. Kinney ruled against the claimant and in favor of the defendant. The defendant's costs of $8.40 were assessed against Stigall.

The farm worker had claimed a year's contract and said he was dismissed after three months. Mrs. Denardis denied a contract and asserted he was ousted because of unsatisfactory work.

Silver Gift Presented to Clark, Wife

BOISE, Dec. 30 (AP)—Statehouse employees will present Gov. Bertell Clark and Mrs. Clark with a set of Sheffield silver as a token of esteem at an informal reception to be held in the governor's office late today.

The set consists of a coffee urn, creamer, sugar bowl, water pitcher, cake or stick holders and a silver tray.

The tray was engraved with the words "To the Honorable Bertell Clark from the state house employees. We have enjoyed serving with you during the past two years."

Reception will be given by the Democrats in most of the state capital offices on Jan. 2.

LEADERS CONFER ON WEED PLANS

Leaders of Idaho's war on noxious weeds conferred here today with the Twin Falls county weed bureau director in connection with proposed new legislation for weed control.

They were H. L. Spence, state seed commissioner and extension agronomist; Paul Kohout, WPA state weed supervisor, and Frank Thomas, WPA weed supervisor for district No. 3. The trio conferred with J. P. Hunt, who has charge of the Twin Falls county bureau in a campaign that has drawn nationwide agricultural attention.

The proposed new weed legislation, the group said, is now being drafted and will be presented at the Boise meeting of the Idaho Association of County Commissioners Jan. 11. Support of the commissioners will be sought in placing the law before the state legislature.

Under the 1934 program, the state participated to the extent of $100,000 in materials for the battle on harmful weeds, according to Hunt. The federal government helped on part of the material and labor through WPA. Farmers shared in cost of materials. Distribution of remaining state materials for 1938 was also discussed at the payee here.

Three Crops

YUTON, Ill., (AP)—A field on the farm of F. J. Basting near here has yielded three crops in the past 30 years with no cultivation. Basting harvested a crop of bridge posts this year and a figure set by him was $6 to $7 an acre. It was the third yield since 1870.

NEW ANTI-FRENCH DEMONSTRATIONS STAGED IN ITALY

MOVIE SHOWING CAUSES BOOING AND DISORDERS

ROME, Dec. 30 (AP)—Anti-French feeling reached new heights today after a disorderly demonstration at the premiere at a leading theater last night of the Italian motion picture, "Ettore Pieranoni," based on a legendary tournament between French and Italian knights in the 16th century.

The film depicts the siege of Barletta during the war between Louis XII of France and Ferdinand of Spain. During the siege, there is a challenge to a knightly tournament in which the Roman Prince Prospero Colonna defeats the French knight Bayard.

The tournament scenes were shown, the audience became frenzied in its enthusiasm and held an anti-French demonstration. Boos and cat calls greeted every appearance of the French knight while the Italian knight was applauded.

A trustworthy political source said the program for the visit to Rome next month of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, had been completed and handed to the earl of Perth, the British ambassador. The informant said the program was:

"Jan. 11—Chamberlain and Halifax arrive on the P&O express at about 5 p. m. and proceed to the Villa Madama, their official residence; evening banquet by Benito Mussolini at the Venice palace.

Place Wreaths
 "Jan. 12—Chamberlain and Halifax place wreaths at the tombs of the kings, the monument to the unknown soldier and the altar to Fascists killed before Mussolini's accession to power. About 10:30 a. m., the British visitors attend a conference with Mussolini and Count Galeazzo Ciano, his foreign minister and son-in-law. Luncheon by the king at the quiral palace; reception by Prince Colonna, governor of Rome; dinner by Count Ciano at the Army and Navy club.

"Jan. 13—Pope receives Chamberlain and Halifax in private audience; luncheon at the British legation by the Holy See; second conference of principals at the Venice palace in afternoon; dinner and reception at British embassy.

"Jan. 14—Chamberlain and Halifax leave for London by train."

WHEAT SEEDINGS DECLINE FOR '39

BOISE, Dec. 30 (Special)—Seedings of Idaho winter wheat for 1939 are estimated to total 445,000 acres. This is 15 per cent less than the 520,000 acres planted for harvest in 1938 and five per cent less than the 470,000 average of seedings in the period 1928-1935.

Cotton of the crop on Dec. 1 was better than average, though considerably lower than on Dec. 1 a year ago.

The area of winter wheat sown in the United States in the fall of 1938 for harvest in 1939 is estimated at 46,172,000 acres. This is 18 per cent below the 55,555,000 acres sown in 1937 and 20 per cent below the record acreage seeded in the fall of 1936, but it is still about one per cent above the average acre sown in winter wheat during the 10 previous years.

In most of the important producing states the acreage sown to winter wheat is substantially below the acreage sown in 1936 and in 1927.

TRIBUTE

Unique honor was paid by newspaper co-workers this month when James R. Minnerly, cousin of E. A. Minnerly of Twin Falls, died at Yonkers, N. Y.

James Minnerly, 60-year-old veteran printer, succumbed to a sudden heart attack. The foreman of the Yonkers Herald Steamship composition room decreed that Mr. Minnerly's typewriter chair be left vacant until his burial. And the paper itself printed a lead editorial headed: "Minnerly, No. 1—And Immortally."

The veteran printer had been employed by the Yonkers paper for 53 years. He observed his 60th birthday two days before his death.

Experts Pick 'Eleven Glamor' 'Kings and Queens' of 1938

NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (AP)—A jury of glamor experts looked over the news and views today and gave the '38 to 11 "glamor kings and queens of 1938."

The selections ranged from Brenda Frazier, who made her glittering debut Tuesday night, to Orson Welles who made his in a Martin radio broadcast two months ago. The list also included the duke of Windsor because "he has given dignity to the always slightly ridiculous love of a man head over heels in love."

Hedy Lamarr, movie actress, found favor because she has made blondes take a back seat. Zorina, star of "I Married an Angel" was chosen because "her well-covered little body has brought青春 back without encouraging fat."

"Three Belshazzars" Glamor, according to these experts, encompasses three well-known Britshers but passes American men by. In addition to Windsor the experts selected Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Anthony Eden, but for different qualifications.

Eden, they discovered, "impressed America with his sensational whirlwind campaign of charm more than a dozen solemn treaties could have done; Chamberlain because "he made America conscious of preparedness, whether for rain with his ever-present umbrella, or for war with his unshakable British calm."

The jury demonstrated it followed the news carefully with its inclusion in the glamor file of Alice Marble, Barbara Hutton Renton, Danielle Darrieux and Bette Davis. The experts were Elsa Maxwell, society's favorite hostess; the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia; Toke Collier Davis, style counselor; Gloria Bristol, beauty authority; society photographers Toni Frisell and Horst; Veronica Daniel, feminine psychologist; Lilly Dache and Paul Ganz, fashion designers; Dorothy Shaver, department store executive; and Julia Coburn, president of a fashion school.

A few of the tributes:
 Brenda Frazier—Because she has made the American debutante the most attractive young woman alive.
 Athletic Type
 Alice Marble—Because in a year of look-alike sophistication she kept the freshness of the athletic girl before the public mind.
 Barbara Hutton Renton—Because she encompasses the three greatest glamor angles—the allure of great wealth, great beauty and great sadness.
 Danielle Darrieux—Because she proved that high hair was becoming. Her influence was slow to be felt, but will hold over into 1939.
 Bette Davis—Because she had the courage to look beautiful but in the time and ugly the other half.
 Orson Welles—Because his clean-cut ugliness created a new standard for masculine attraction.

IDAHO PIG CROP SHOWS ADVANCE

BOISE, Dec. 30 (Special)—The total 1938 Idaho pig crop, estimated at 434,000 pigs, was about two per cent larger than the total 1937 number. The spring crop of 273,000 head was about the same as produced in the spring of 1937, but the fall crop of 161,000 was about four per cent larger than the 1937 fall crop, according to the bureau of agricultural economics.

Litter sizes averaged very nearly the same in both years, but the number of sows farrowing this fall was larger than last fall.

Present intentions reports point to a material increase in the number of sows to farrow in the spring of 1939. If these intentions are realized about 48,000 sows will farrow between Dec. 1, 1938, and June 1, 1939, compared with 42,000 sows farrowing during the same period this past year.

The upswing in nationwide hog production which started in the spring of this year will continue into 1939 at an accelerating rate, according to the December pig crop report of the bureau.

The fall pig crop of 1938, estimated as 18 per cent larger than the fall crop of 1937, follows an estimated increase of 12 per cent in the spring pig crop, making the total crop in 1938 about 15 per cent larger than in 1937. The number of sows indicated to farrow in the spring of 1939 is 21 per cent larger than the number that farrowed in the spring of 1938.

Jerome Children Treated at Show

JEROME, Dec. 30 (Special)—Jerome children were not overlooked or forgotten and in addition to the many gifts many probably received at home they were treated by the management of the Vesta theater when they were guests at a morning matinee Monday. Each child attending was presented with a sack of candy, nuts and an orange upon emerging, through the courtesy of the local Jaycees.

On Saturday Santa Claus was present at a downtown building and distributed 1,800 toys and a quarter of a ton of candy to children who presented him with a gift card which had been given them by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Many otherwise careless homes were remembered by the Jaycees on Christmas eve when gifts of toys and candy were distributed in various homes throughout the town.

BARITONE OFFERS VARIED PROGRAM

SUN VALLEY, Dec. 30 (Special)—Bruce Boyce, Canadian baritone who has recently finished a successful London concert tour, and who is giving a concert at Sun Valley Opera house Sunday evening, Jan. 1, has selected an international group of compositions which will likely appeal to a holiday audience.

Boyce, well known on oratorio and concert stages, reputedly prefers a lighter type of folk music to heavier concert offerings. On his Sun Valley program are three English, four German, three Scotch and two Negro songs, all of characteristic national and racial flavor, in addition

INTERCOLLEGIATE SKI MEET UNDER WAY

Slalom, Downhill Events Held in Baker Creek Area

SUN VALLEY, Dec. 30 (Special)—The national intercollegiate ski championships got under way here today with 100 contestants from 17 colleges participating in the three-day meet. The tourney started today and ends Sunday afternoon.

While slight flurries of snow fell all during yesterday, the events this morning were being held on Baker creek, and unless added snow arrives, the slalom and downhill meets will also be held there.

The nearby ski-jumping site, however, will be used for the meet, as snow has been hauled and put on it and is in good shape. About four inches of powder snow fell in the Baker creek area yesterday.

A journey officially got under way today with the eight-mile cross-country event. The downhill meet will be held Saturday on a one-mile course which drops 1,500 feet. Slalom events, in which women and men will both compete, will be held Sunday morning with slalom competition on the 40-meter Ruid hill as the closing event in the afternoon.

People from coast to coast—including far away Dartmouth—are entered in the tourney. Included are several Colorado and California schools, University of Oregon, Colorado, and Washington State.

SPORTS QUIBS

By HAL WOOD

Now that the football season has been tacked away for another season (barring the numerous bowl games), the sports fans of this area are settling down to a good winter of basketball that will reach its peak next March when the district and state tournaments are played.

But while these two major sport activities are monopolizing the attention of the sports fans, there are the games, men in all lines of sport—the promoters—are always a season ahead.

So today we find the scouts for the Spokane Hawks and the Twin Falls entry in the Pioneer baseball league busy preparing for the opening of the 1940 season. The gent handling the top scouting assignment for the two clubs is Howard (Roly-Poly) Maple, an athlete with a nationwide reputation in both football and baseball and at present a coach at Willamette university.

Maple has had a career that ranks him as one of the top-notch athletes of the Pacific northwest, despite the fact that he is reputed to be nearly as wide as he is tall. Here's a thumbnail sketch of his athletic career:

Graduated from Oregon State college in 1922 where he was an outstanding football player. He was signed that year by the Chicago White Sox and farmed out to the Boston Braves.

In 1920 and 31 he was with Bloomington in the Three-I league. In 1922 he went up to the big leagues and played with the Washington Senators. In 1923 he was with Ottawa, Canada in the Southern league and in 1924 with Albany in the Eastern league. In 1925 Maple managed teams at Rock Island, Ill. and Keokuk, Ia.

Every fall since that of 1926 and through 1933 Maple coached at Willamette. He was freshman coach in 1926 at OSG and then went back to Washington State where he was assistant coach last year and this year. This season he is also head basketball coach.

Since his coaching at OSG in the Washington club in 1932, Howard has acted as a scout for the Senators until signing with Bill Jurich, owner of the Spokane and Twin Falls clubs.

So it appears that the No. 1 scout in the system has a fine record. His first official act in his new capacity was to sign Bill Beard, 29, a catcher, whose home is in Oregon. Dr. Beard is ranked as such a fine prospect that he was sought by several big league clubs and at one time had his share of the Washington contract (re Mr. Maple) but refused to report to a Class D league in the east.

That night the Savages won a "warm-up" that threatened to be a defeat when they edged the Oakley All-Stars by a count of 43-41 in a four-inning game. The local club came to come from behind, trailing 21-16 at the half time.

Scoring honors for the evening went to Moon Simpson, a Savage guard, who connected for 14 points, while Bill Powers had 13. Martinello led the losers with 10.

Durrance Out

SUN VALLEY, Ida, Dec. 30 (Special)—Dick Durrance, famed Dartmouth skier who twice won the national title, will be unable to compete in the national intercollegiate meet to be held here this week-end, most officials announced today.

Durrance suffered leg injuries during a spill while practicing high speed turns on Dollar mountain recently.

Steve Bradley, another Dartmouth squad member, will carry the attack on high hills in the eastern slopes in place of Durrance.

Washington, Idaho and Nevada and Stanford, with the oriental skiers to the west, Kansas City, Kansas and the top entries include Wolfgang Lert, son of Vicki Baum, famed novelist, who represents UCLA. Lert has a very famous background, his college will be represented by Miss Kathleen Harrison, daughter of W. A. Harrison, chairman of the board of the National Football League. Back members of the University of Utah.

All student entries in the meet have been receiving instruction from Friedl Pfeifer of the Sun Valley staff and have been staying at the student rates of $1 per day—about one-tenth the minimum rate at the Sun Valley lodge, just a few steps away.

A shortage of snow has been reported by hills beyond the scene of competition in mountainous reaches several miles away from the resort.

Shoshone Redskins Defeat Jerome Cage Club, 46-38

JEROME, Dec. 30 (Special)—The powerful Shoshone Redskins continued on their unbeaten way here tonight by handing the Jerome Jaycees their second defeat of the season in the Snake Valley Outlaw cage loop.

The Shoshone triumphed by a score of 46-38 in a hard fought battle, with Haddock and Lee Bell leading the scoring.

The Shoshone and Durley clubs lead the league with undefeated records. Tonight the Shoshone team journeys to Murtaugh to take on the state amateur champs, which they have already defeated once this season.

Jerome's next game is also with the Murtaugh club on Jan. 6 at Murtaugh.

Bounty

Rabbits Baled Out

GALLIPOLIS, O. (U.P.—Armed with a dip net, D. O. Taber, executive secretary of the Ohio Valley Game commission, has been hunting rabbits at his home near Kananga. The bunnies, frightened at light by passing automobiles, hop into a large ornamental pool at the Taber home by mistake. Taber fishes them out and lets them go.

Another "Whizzer"

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (U.P.—Vigil Hunter, Belleville Township high school star left halfback, carried away only six times against Col. High last night but he led up and scored three touchdowns.

He threw a 36-yard pass for a touchdown. Belleville coach says Hunter is a "whizzer."

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (U.P.—Utah coach says he will take it easy on the team by watching them play on the 30 to 30.

Here's Thrilling Sport

Slack and picturesque is this three-lane toboggan slide in Quebec.

Toboggan Slide Furnishes Thrilling, Cheap Sport

By EARLE W. GAGE (NEA Service)

Speeding like a joyriding young meteorite, you reach the bottom of the snowy slope.

Twenty seconds after shooting off at the top, you have experienced all the thrills of alpineing along at the fastest gait known to winter sports.

Tobogganing is enjoyed throughout the world, embracing stretching areas in 36 states and Canada.

Community toboggans are now very popular.

Some runs are a mile in length where topography permits. Single and double slides, from 1,000 to 2,000 feet in length, are the rule.

Although you can toboggan in soft snow, on hillsides, ice shutes are necessary for high speed.

The sport is safer on good chutes than with proper sleds balanced by a load of passengers.

If you live in level snow country, you can easily erect a starting platform, using rough lumber to provide the incline needed to start the toboggan.

It is best to lay the course in a straight line. Curves are dangerous to high speed.

The easiest and quickest way to form the run is to use a special form, made of two 1-inch boards, 12 inches wide, which make a run 14 inches in width, the boards being parallel and 10 feet in length, secured together with crosspieces.

Build Starting Platform

A starting platform may be erected on top of a garage, poultry house, or other convenient building, making a slope at a pitch of 20 degrees.

In making the toboggan chutes, which are fastened to the platform, use dressed lumber, 10 or 12 feet long. Space to make sections 22 inches wide at the lower end of the chute and 24 inches wide at the upper end, to permit alpineing on section into the ether to form a secure, continuous run. The slides should be 8 inches high, with a 4-inch flare outward.

Use four 4x4s as crossbars to tie the boards securely together, each extending 8 inches outward on either side to provide space to attach brackets to support the side boards. Space the crosspieces to permit bracing tightly against the ends of the next section, and plane off all rough edges to eliminate splinters.

Desired Speed

Fill the wooden chutes with snow and pack it until a layer at least 2 inches deep is formed on the bottom and sides.

In freezing weather, sprinkle the snow with water so it is solid, and allow it to freeze solidly. Do the same to the out-runs the entire length.

If holes form in the ice, patch them with snow and sprinkle until 4 inches is formed. This should be packed into the depressions, and allowed to freeze.

Do not have the chutes too icy, or the run may be too speedy for safety.

To slow down a slide, mix equal parts of sawdust and sand and spread evenly by sprinkling through the fingers.

To bring the sleds to a safe stop, allow a 50-foot chute that is sprinkled gradually.

Allow 10 seconds between starting sleds.

Sale topography dictates that only two passengers can ride on a 5-foot sled, four on an 8-foot and six on the larger types. No rider should attempt to stand or kneel, or put the hands or feet out.

Tobogganing is one of the more thrilling and inexpensive sports.

Leo Rodak (rated by the national boxing commission as No. 1 featherweight) was somewhat tainted today because of the news of Chicago fans. Rodak was forced to the limit to gain a 10-round decision over Leone Elliott of St. Louis. Rodak rallied in the first two rounds to gain a unanimous but unpopular verdict.

Hollis Thurston, former major league pitcher, has succeeded where several others as Pacific coast scout for the Pittsburgh National league club.

Tom Cannonier, one of the greatest little fighting men the ring has known, reaches the cross-roads again tonight. He goes in against Eddie Zito of Pittsburgh in a 10-rounder in New York and victory might open the way for Tony to add the welterweight title to a list that has included the bantam, welterweight, featherweight and light weight crowns. Tony has won the last four matches of his comeback campaign.

The Texas Christian-Carnegie Tech Sugar bowl game at New Orleans is expected to attract 20,000 fans. Coaches of both teams are satisfied they have 50-50 chances of winning.

A record crowd for intercollegiate basketball is expected to jam Madison Square Garden in New York tonight for a doubleheader pitting University of Southern California against Long Island university, and University of Colorado against UConn St. John's of New York.

The National Semi-Pro Baseball association has appointed Olie Anderson, Los Angeles veteran minor league umpire, to head instruction in 48 state umpire schools to be established by the association. The schools will be for the benefit of 5,000 amateur officials who will be trained by the association to officiate in the 818 tournaments.

Dick Metz of Chicago and Jimmy Sumner of West Virginia were rated the men to beat as the professional golfing brigade started play in the $3,000 Houston, Tex. tournament at the Houston Country Club and pro started play in the $2,000 Southern California open at Pasadena, Calif.

Everett Vines, world's pro tennis champ, plans to feed Donald Budge plenty of forehead shots when they open their nation-wide tour of the happy days in New York. Vines emphasized he didn't think Budge didn't have a forehead, but comparatively he believes it isn't as strong as his backhead.

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 30 (U.P.)—Two trainloads of Duke rooters came roaring into town today, just in time to hear the happy news that the skies will be blue and the sun bright when their Blue Devils march against the Southern California Trojans in the Rose bowl football game Monday.

The usually staid citizens of Durham, N. C.—400 of them accompanied by the now legendary pairs of lace pants—celebrated the good news briefly but enthusiastically. Then they broke ranks and declared open season on all native sons who yet were offering odds of 2-5 or 10 points and taking the Trojans.

The weather prediction was greeted with hilarity at the entrance of both Duke and USC. Neither coach, Wallace Wade or Howard Jones, genuinely seemed to be affected by both squads turned out for their last workout of consequence under the warm sun. Guards stood a night-long vigil outside the two hotels, and more guards followed the players to the practice fields and discouraged potential on-lookers. Only three fans will be held tomorrow and on Sunday both camps will respect the Sabbath and permit their toll-worn youths to rest.

With every member of the club easily rolling over the 500 mark, Dell's took a postponed match from Studebaker in the Commercial building league last night in three straight games.

The winners were led by Charley Bruggemann, who had a 600-pin total for three games and a high single game of 223.

For the Studebaker club, Ted Erick was tops with a 538 total for three games. B. McCracken was the only other Studebaker regular to go over the 500 mark.

Henry Armstrong Saves Money; Plans to Quit Fight Game

By the United Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30 (U.P.)—As a fighter, Henry Armstrong is as free and relentless as of man river, but unlike of 'man river' he's not gonna 'go' 'em rollin' along.

By this time next year, the dark little fighting man told me yesterday, he hopes to have a $100,000 annuity paid up in full, and that sum, he figures, will be enough to keep him in corn and 'take the rest of his life.

The annuity will pay him off at the rate of better than $400 a month, and the brain that directs his fighting savvy has told him he had better quit when the quitting's good. He knows the sort of up Lou Ambers gave him doesn't make for a comfortable old age, and he knows that for all the hundreds of punches he rolled with there were a few that rolled with Armstrong.

When a fighter is reminded of when he's through, Henry is sharp and keen and has made up his mind to see to it that he stays that way.

His manager, Eddie Mead, sees eye to eye with Henry, and is so fond of the Negro boy that he doesn't want him to throw one punch too many or take one too few. Mead says he'll see to it that if he doesn't quit at the end of next year, "he's going to stop in two years at the most. Then, if he still wants to stay around boxing we will go on exhibition tours, and give talks about boxing to the young men.

After Armstrong finishes with

HENRY ARMSTRONG

Baby Armstrong had early in life probably will go to Cuba to fight a 20 round fight.

under the promotion of the Havana Jockey club, Bobby Pacheco probably will be the opponent I asked Henry what he thought about 20 round bouts.

"Mister," McElmore, he answered, "I like 'em. I give a damn time to warm up. When I'm feeling good I like the thought of a thirty or forty round fight, the kind that you get to fight before I was born. If you're a fisherman, you like to fish all day, and if you're a fighter you like to fight."

When I suggested that there was a possibility of his burning himself out, what with his frequent fights and the terrific pace he had, Armstrong kind of grinned.

"I like my fighting regular," he said, "Two years ago I fought almost once a week, and I did better than I did this year. 'Course I won those three titles this year, but that wasn't because I fought any better. Next year I plan to keep a cool busy."

Armstrong thinks John Henry Lewis will knock out a manager and give Joe Louis a share of a fight in Madison Square Garden next month.

"Joe is the hardest hitter I ever laid my eyes on," Henry said, "but a punch ain't much good to a fighter unless he has something to put it in. And Joe is taller and John Henry a hard one to hang a punch on."

Mead dissented. He thinks the bomber will knock John Henry out. Take your choice. Do you like a fighter who gives a lot of people and I (Copyright by United Press)

Burley Cage Club Wins Outlaw Tilt From Rupert Team

BURLEY, Dec. 30 (Special)—The Burley entry in the Snake Valley Outlaw Cage league kept its record intact here last night by drubbing the Rupert club, 48-18.

The game, originally scheduled for the Rupert floor, was moved here after the Rupert club had failed to arrive for the new Rupert gym.

The visitors were not completely organized and the speedy Burley team was in front from the start, chinking up an easy victory.

Burley already holds a one-point victory over the Murtaugh Savages. The Burley club is the defending champion.

Ute-New Mexico Sun Bowl Tilt Looms 'Hot'

By WILLIAM F. DANENBERGER EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 30 (U.P.)—If the records of Utah university and New Mexico university mean anything, their Sun bowl football game this season will be one of the "hot" ones.

For New Mexico, more than a football game is at stake. The athletic officials have been trying to convince the Big Seven that New Mexico belongs in that conference, and as part of that campaign the New Mexican won games this season from three Colorado opponents.

Utah, travel weary from a junket to Hawaii, will try to turn on the lights in the Idaho game and the undisputed championship of the Big Seven.

Both teams have good, but not perfect, records. New Mexico led to Texas College of Mines, 7 to 6, and to Texas Tech, 17 to 7.

In its regular season, Utah lost to Idaho 16 to 0, tied Colorado Young, 7 to 7, and tied Colorado university 0 to 0.

Both teams are into the game with handicaps. Halfback Paul Shaw of Utah, one of the best punters in this section, suffered a broken collar bone in the regular season game, and whether he will start the game here is uncertain.

There is doubt, too, about the condition of Bill Day, the big threat back of the New Mexico team. He suffered a knee injury last week and is expected to be out of action in many of the regular season games.

He had a special brace fitted to his knee and took up bicycling in an effort to get his knee back into the Sun bowl game.

Greenberg and Foxx Capture Hitting Honors

NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (U.P.)—Jimmy Foxx, the No. 1 comeback player of the American league's home run king, captured all the 1939 slugging honors, official league averages showed today.

The two first basemen finished in one-two order in runs batted in, the most important slugging department in baseball.

Foxx drove in 175 runs for Boston, the best total in his 12-year major league career. Greenberg drove in 148.

Foxx also ran his bases on 107 balls in time to hit 120 runs in 107 passes. It was the 11th straight season in which he has reached 100 runs in 100 passes, a record he set in 1937.

The Yankees sixth in team hitting, led the other clubs in total passes with 740; hit batsmen with 145; and runs scored with 81.

Foxx and Greenberg tied for the most passes with 119.

Injuries Hamper East, West Teams

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30 (Special)—San Francisco caught cold and west teams today as the date passed for the season to begin on Jan. 3 in the annual pitchers' benefit game for crippled children.

Bill Cramer, Holy Cross fullback, and Bill Paulsen, Washington state, were the only sound fullbacks, both had lame shoulders after arming practice against pickup teams.

Inspector Finds Deadliest Army Tanks Pulling Plows!

DENVER, Dec. 30 (UP)—The army found two of its deadliest war tanks pulling plows today. They were most efficient at it and drew enough praise from workers on a WPA project.

But that wasn't the reaction of an eighth corps army inspector, C. T. Wilson of San Antonio, Tex. when he saw the demonstration at the Colorado national guard's rifle range.

Two of the guard's seven-ton, 3,000 horsepower tanks were rumbling over a parade ground-to-be dragging plows. Behind came new army trucks, also furnished the states milliamperes by the government to haul away dirt loaded into them by 500 workers.

Uncomplementary Remarks
 Adjutant-General Apohase P. Ardoureil of the Colorado guard, admitted Dec. 29 that he was made pious for such weapons of destruction and was not an ardent regulator.

He said the inspector made some very uncomplementary remarks. "I was instrumental in obtaining $500,000 in WPA funds for this rifle range," he promised to provide the equipment to carry it out," he said.

In HOLLYWOOD Today

The Great Dane which Comedian Nat Pendleton has been training these last 10 months to be a movie actor went back to the dog-house today.

Pendleton devoted four hours a day to the dog, Sandow, and finally the pooch obeyed his every command. The pooch was crowned Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer he had an actor in Sandow, who reported for work on a picture yesterday. His master took the dog to his room. Three hours later Sandow was returned to his master. The dog had refused to act for anyone but Pendleton.

"So help me, I can't give up my career for his," the comedian yelled.

William Powell, screen actor, was in a hospital for another operation which was described as "not serious." He was expected to be back at work on film sets next week.

Funeral services for Florence Lawrence, one of the first great stars of the silent pictures, were held here today. The 82-year-old actress, who was Mary Pickford's predecessor as the original "Biograph Girl," ended her life with poison. Interment will be in Hollywood cemetery.

Aileen Brown, actress, charged to a divorce from her husband once tried to drive their automobile off a New York bridge in order to drown her. He is Joseph H. Graham, movie dialogue director.

BUHL OVERRULED ON WATER FIGHT

BOISE, Dec. 30 (Special)—The city of Buhl has been overruled today on its protest against an Idaho Power company water allocation in Clear Lake.

R. W. Park, reclamation commissioner, decreed that the company is entitled to 526 second-feet-of the lake water in Gooding county. The flow is for power purposes.

Charged Lapsing
 Buhl's protest had charged that the Idaho Power permit lapsed, and that the city of Buhl is entitled to the water under a permit it received Nov. 29, 1937. The lapse was claimed by Idaho because of alleged failure of the company to apply said water to a beneficial use.

Fair's said that he was following long-time departmental practice in his decision that the company had shown proof of the beneficial use. He said the proof of application was not shown until after the expiration of the six-year time fixed in the permit. The statutes, he asserted, permit acceptance of such proof after the expiration of the period.

Cites History
 In his ruling the commissioner pointed out that Idaho Power acquired the water permit July 31, 1933 from the First Security Trust company. That firm got it from the Blankens Trust company, to which it had been transferred by William C. Hazzard, Clear Lake. Hazzard received the permit originally July 8, 1914. The Buhl application for use of 1,000 second-feet of water for power purposes was filed March 12, 1937 and approved Nov. 29 of the same year.

It was unofficially indicated in Boise today that Buhl may carry its fight further after inauguration of the administration of Gov.-elect C. A. Bottelstein.

FIVE IN RACE FOR SPEAKER'S POST

BOISE, Dec. 30 (UP)—Five leading contenders for the speaking of the Idaho house of representatives appeared today as the legislators began arriving in Boise for the opening session of the 25th legislative act for Jan. 2.

The candidates most prominently mentioned included: Edward Gaffney, Orofino; H. H. Hanzley, Soda Springs; William H. Dewisher, Hazelet; Elias L. Wright, Bear Lake; Hyrum B. Lewis, Cassia county.

BOTT INVITED
 BOISE, Dec. 30 (UP)—Gov.-elect C. A. Bottelstein said today he had been invited to attend a meeting of the Republican national committee in New York City, Feb. 13 but that he feared duties in the state-house during legislative would prevent his attendance.

Sales of general merchandise in small towns and rural areas were higher in October than for any previous month of 1938, but about 12 per cent lower than October, 1937.

Superstition Upheld

ADELAIDE, Australia (UP)—Because of the superstition among jockeys against wearing death cloths, the Victoria Racing club has refused to register a white skull and crossbones flag as a jockey's death cloth.

The jockey who wore the flag was fined by the club for wearing a local owner. They wanted them for the jockey who would ride his steeple chaser named Hal-Bear.

Fly Sought

LONDON (UP)—The almost unlimited resources of the Queen Mary, Britain's luxury liner, fated to be on the coast of the Atlantic in the event of an emergency, was sought by Mr. Grey Wormum of London as part of the diet for a frame of ants

Babson Forecasts 20 Per Cent Business Climb in 1939

Sees Gain Looming for Jobs, Pay, Sales, Farms

By ROGER W. BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 30—Total business by the end of 1939 will be as good as—perhaps even better than—that of any year since 1929. There may be periods when business will mark time, but the average volume for the year will be around 20 per cent above the 1933 level. Jobs, wages, retail sales, stocks, and even farm prices should all chalk up good-sized gains. It is even possible that the sharp peaks of early 1937 will be topped—but this is a pretty long shot. Considering all factors, I forecast that 1939 will be a year of moderate prosperity.

There are no "hedges" tacked on to my forecast as there were in several years past. In 1937, I feared that the side-downers would upset the up-movers. A year ago, Washington's inertia worried me. But today, I can see no reason why the ideas of recovery should not carry us vigorously forward—perhaps even to new highs since 1929! This will merely be a continuation of the upward swing which began in 1932. I do not consider the 1937-1938 recession as anything more than a temporary, but sharp, interruption of the upward swing.

I emphasize this bit of "back history" because I believe it has an important bearing on confidence at the moment. Here, it is not so much as we get further and further away from 1929—look upon that year as setting a record which can never again be touched. It is the fact of the sharp ups-and-downs of the past decade, they have come to be regarded as the new normal times in America. I disagree. I think that those people have lost their horizon! I do not believe that 1929 necessarily represents the pinnacle of American business.

It is true that some factors are less favorable than in 1929. Among them are taxes, bureaucracy, and lack of faith. We have, however, the following favorable items today:

1. Our population has grown 7,000,000 since 1929.
2. Thousands of new products have been invented.
3. Production efficiency has increased 40 per cent in 10 years.
4. A huge deferred demand for goods has piled up.
5. Credit reserves are at the greatest in history.
6. Production costs are lower than last year.
7. Wholesale and retail inventories are relatively low.
8. Confidence is returning as "business hating" lessens.
9. Billions will be spent on armaments and navy.
10. Building is on the threshold of a real boom.

For these and other reasons, I believe that the forces of recovery are still predominant. Right now business stands at 90 on my Babson chart compared with 44 for 1933. In 1939, it will be 110. Therefore, with activity 18 per cent above the early days of 1933. Indications are that, if we work our way through the first half of the year, business will re-attain a slow but healthy gain over the January levels. The entire first half of the year should show a 25 per cent increase over the slowest months of early 1933.

The second half of 1939 should see a continuation of the gains. My forecast, however, is contrary to the expectations of many people. They are for business to taper off and even to slide backward. My government pump priming ceases next May or June. Nevertheless, I am glad to predict that the second half of the year will be better than the early months and will run 15 per cent above the last half of 1938. The entire year's gain should average around 20 per cent. This would put the Babsonchart at 105 to 108 by next Christmas.

No Disturbing Legislation
 The absence of disturbing new legislation will well speak this advance. Since 1933, the cuts for my annual forecasts have been found on Pennsylvania avenue. This year, we face a new set-up. The marked increase in the Republican delegation on Capitol Hill, plus the victory of the Democrats, can lick any further New Deal reform. On the other hand, the President still retains enough "100 per centers" to block any serious revision of existing laws.

The Wagner act, for instance, may be amended, but only if the President agrees to the amendments. Many tax law changes will be proposed, but few will go through. The biggest fiscal reform may be the elimination of tax exemption on new government bonds. Moreover, it is possible that public employees will be put under the same income tax laws to which other individuals are subject. A lot of talk about "incentive" taxes to foster profit-sharing plans will be heard. Some change in farm legislation is in the wind.

Responding to the On
 As a result of my recent poll of reader opinion on the Putnam chain store bill, I predict its defeat. The defense program will go ahead full blast after a slight debate in congress, but I doubt if any special taxes will be levied to support it. There will be a drive to abolish the big Social Security reserve fund, and put the program on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. The only change I see in this program is the halting of stepping-up of the benefit minimums and the applying of the act to more people.

Because of the heavy defense program, the spending faucets at Washington will be wide open. Although the average citizen wants economy, his wishes are not heeded by congress or state legislatures. I think that public extravagance in one of our three biggest long term problems. History proves that once spending starts, it is almost impossible to stop. Our experience so far has not been in the least in line with this.

Gradual Gains
 For these and other reasons, I believe that the forces of recovery are still predominant. Right now business stands at 90 on my Babson chart compared with 44 for 1933. In 1939, it will be 110. Therefore, with activity 18 per cent above the early days of 1933. Indications are that, if we work our way through the first half of the year, business will re-attain a slow but healthy gain over the January levels. The entire first half of the year should show a 25 per cent increase over the slowest months of early 1933.

The second half of 1939 should see a continuation of the gains. My forecast, however, is contrary to the expectations of many people. They are for business to taper off and even to slide backward. My government pump priming ceases next May or June. Nevertheless, I am glad to predict that the second half of the year will be better than the early months and will run 15 per cent above the last half of 1938. The entire year's gain should average around 20 per cent. This would put the Babsonchart at 105 to 108 by next Christmas.

Cheers Business

year for salesmen. As one prominent business man recently put it, "1939 is going to be a salesman's year. It is going to be a year when the things are ahead for salesmen who have been patiently doing their spade work through the last four or five years. Many of the things that were killed by the recession should "break" in 1939. Salesmen in the automobile, machinery, building materials, real estate, advertising, real estate, household equipment, and other lines can look forward to a real year.

Best sales areas should be the industrial sections. Cities like Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Birmingham, Toledo and Buffalo may show the biggest percentage gains, but trade in the agricultural sections should also be favorable. The 400,000 acre and some-odd farm areas look particularly favorable. I advise stepping up advertising budgets and sales quotas by at least 15 per cent in reaching 1939's good market advertising managers should not forget that newspaper coverage is still the best and cheapest medium.

ROGER W. BABSON

To Pace Industries
 Nearly all industries can look ahead to better business in 1939. A possible 25 per cent in building (with costs creeping slowly upward) will be the most important. A sharp increase—around 40 per cent—in auto assembly will stimulate activity in many related industries. Railroad material and equipment buying should improve as the current year's construction continues. Gasoline consumption, electric power output, and aviation manufacturing will all-time records. Steel output should average around 60 per cent of capacity for 1939. Textile mills, mines, shipyards, office equipment plants, building supply houses, rubber goods, and tire factories should all be from 15 to 25 per cent busier than in 1938.

Stocks to Rise
 With industrial activity rising, it is logical to expect higher stock prices. Increased business, better earnings, and healthier trends at Washington should all help to strengthen the market. How far the advance will go, I am not prepared to say. There is an outside chance, however, that the March, 1937, recovery highs can be broken during the coming year. Naturally, reactions on the stock exchanges should be much more active than in 1938.

Readers ask that I name those stock market groups which should have the best outlook. I do not like to do so. I will mention the chemicals, oils, electrical equipments, rail equipment, and steel as having good prospects. For 10 years, I have never recommended a railroad common stock. I do not intend to do so now. However, I believe that the rails may have the best chance of all groups in 1939 for percentage gains, especially applies to certain defaulted bonds.

Sharp Profits, Divided Gains
 During early 1939, I would prefer to buy securities of companies in strong financial condition, without fixed charges if possible. But no security can be put away in a safe deposit box and forgotten. Sharper control over operating costs, brought about by the recession, should produce the best profits since 1929, excepting only late 1936 and early 1937. Only higher taxes and labor costs will prevent gains from being the best since the boom. With the big jump in profits, investors can expect many pleasant dividend surprises as the year progresses. The same factors which will help stock prices will also rule bonds. Second-grade issues may be the best of the market. For those who seek high-grade bonds steady—but by year-end the pressure will be on the downward side of the market. Investments in 1939 in our abnormally low money rates. We are one year away from the time, however, when those who have over-concentrated in low-coupon, high-grade, long-term corporate and government bonds will be very sorry!

Farm Treasures to Leave Foreign
 I urge investors to leave foreign bonds alone because international relations will continue in a turmoil. The Munich Pact merely postponed war—for how long, no one knows. I am more optimistic than most observers, but I am not willing to predict—I did a year ago—that there will be no war in Europe during the New Year. I feel, however, that Great Britain, France, and the United States will be better than in 1938, but not as good as

JEROME ROTARY STAGES BANQUET

JEROME, Dec. 30 (Special)—One of the most successful holiday parties to be held in Jerome was enjoyed Tuesday evening by over 100 people when the Jerome Rotary club entertained for their wives and guests at the Wood cafe with a seven o'clock banquet followed by an entertainment.

The occasion also marked the 16th annual Christmas party of the Jerome Rotarians.

Program Numbers
 During the program Rotary singing was enjoyed and was led by William Spaeth, chairman of the music committee. Miss Winifred Zeller was club pianist. A toast to the ladies was given by President H. Maine Shown followed by the response given by Mrs. William Spaeth, Frank Reddy, vice president, gave a presentation. Miss Marcia Beddall sang a vocal solo, "Star of the East." A string trio composed of Gustav Flechter, Alfred Flechter, Mrs. James Hartshorn, and Miss Muriel Achenbach, pianist, offered, "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice."

Long-Term Outlook
 The above is a good outline of what I figure the New Year has in store for us. While 1939—and perhaps 1940—should be better, we must not think that I believe we are out of the woods. Our standards of living must sooner or later be adjusted to actual conditions. Subsidies and other forms of government relief must some day cease. Many communities are now living in a fool's paradise. Ultimately, we must get back to fundamentals.

I am convinced that we cannot have any lasting prosperity in America—nor peace throughout the world—until we have a rebirth of character, a revival of unselfishness, and a renewal of our love for our fellowmen. When this takes place we will have truly "Happy New Years."
