BARKLEY CHOSEN TO CONTINUE AS DEMOS' LEADER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 (UP)—Senate Democrats, in a harmony rally, today re-elected Sen. Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., as the majority leader for the 76th congress. Barkley's reelection came a few minutes after another party solidarity action—the election of Sen. Hamilton Latta, Ill., to retain his party whip post. Latta's election was influenced by President Roosevelt, who asked after Latta had indicated a desire to quit the job because of differences with some Democratic politicians and a desire to sponsor legislation of his own. Short Session In striking contrast to the bitter Democratic battle over Senate leadership last session, Barkley won the post today by a unanimous vote, in a session that lasted only 20 minutes. Last year, he was named to succeed the late Sen. Joseph T. Robinson, D. Ark., by a single vote margin in a contest with Sen. Pat Harrison, D. Miss. Harrison removed the last obstacle to Barkley's selection when he urged his friends not to place his name in nomination. Work Together Barkley said he felt the harmonious meeting was "an indication we are going to work together" during the 76th congress. Sen. Sherman Minton, D. Ind., was named assistant whip.

Nazis Map Plans For Constructing Submarine Fleet

By GEORGE KIDD BERLIN, Dec. 31 (UP)—British-German naval negotiations may result in the construction by Germany of a submarine fleet almost equal in number, if not in total tonnage, to that which terrorized the seas in the World war. A semi-official communique said conversations between admiralty experts and a British admiralty mission which arrived here Thursday ended last night and an official announcement of the result of the talks would be published soon. Experts estimated that Germany, in her program disclosed yesterday of partly with Great Britain in submarines, could build about 130 U-boats. At the peak of her unrestricted U-boat warfare in the World war, Germany had 140 submarines. The difference between the new submarine fleet and that of 20 years ago would be that Germany now is expected to build a fleet that is constructed under any party program would be between 500 and 750 tons each. These submarines might be small for warfare on the high seas but they are regarded as ideal for combat in the North sea and the Baltic—and observers here were inclined to believe the Nazi government is expanding its program was thinking of Soviet Russia and her Baltic outlet. The Republican leaders said they were satisfied with a surprise move by Gov. Barzilla Clark in appointing Tom Boise, Lewiston Democrat, to the state three-man liquor control commission. This kept control of the commission in the hands of the Bourbons. Prospective legislation to build a new building for the Idaho state penitentiary was approved by the legislature today. The new building would cost $200,000 and was proposed by Brig. Gen. M. G. McConnell.

DETWEILER SEEN LEADER OF RACE FOR SPEAKERSHIP

By WILLIAM MCMENAMIN BOISE, Dec. 31 (UP)—W. H. Detweiler, Jerome county Republican, held the favored position today in the race for the speakership of the Idaho house of representatives as a caucus scheduled for Sunday night. The legislature will convene Jan. 2. The powerful Twin Falls delegation backed Detweiler, a Legionaire, for the job. Other outstanding candidates appeared to be, their strength in the order named: M. L. Horsey, Soda Springs, and Edward Gaffney, Clearwater county. The position of the various candidates on the proposal for a four-year curriculum at the University of Idaho, southern branch, at Pocatello, may have a strong effect on the selection. The matter is scheduled to come before the legislature early in the session. Detweiler was reported early of 15 votes. Horsey of nine and Gaffney of six. See Liquor Change? Meanwhile, Republicans expressed satisfaction with a surprise move by Gov. Barzilla Clark in appointing Tom Boise, Lewiston Democrat, to the state three-man liquor control commission. This kept control of the commission in the hands of the Bourbons. Prospective legislation to build a new building for the Idaho state penitentiary was approved by the legislature today. The new building would cost $200,000 and was proposed by Brig. Gen. M. G. McConnell.

Taylor Attacks State Officials Following Acquittal of Stemmer HOPES TO GET BETTER AID FROM BOTTOLFSEN

BOISE, Dec. 31 (UP)—Atty. Gen. J. W. Taylor of Idaho lashed out at state officials today for failure to cooperate in the prosecution of grand jury indictments charging fraud against the state and said he hoped for better cooperation when Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen and appointees go into office, Jan. 2. "Now that men indicted no longer will be in complete charge of documentary evidence and complete control of witnesses upon whom the state must rely for evidence, the situation may be materially changed," Taylor said. "Taylor said he would continue to prosecute two more indictments against Highway Director J. H. Stemmer and District Engineer Richard Pearson of Coeur d'Alene, charged with fraudulently obtaining payment of salary to J. J. McCready, Pearson's predecessor, when McCready allegedly was not working. Fair Acquitted Stemmer and Pearson were acquitted by a district court jury on one similar indictment after one hour of deliberation yesterday. "There may be some grand jury indictments we won't go ahead with because we haven't sufficient money to continue investigations," Taylor said. "But we by no means are finished." "I am hoping that in the next administration we get cooperation in such questions," he believed. Gov. Bottolfsen will give us the cooperation Gov. Barzilla Clark will give us. Ample Improvement Taylor said he had a recent conversation with Gov. Clark in which he had suggested that the highway investigation caused an improvement in department operations. Gov. Clark told me Friday that there is no comparison between the quality of roads built in Idaho during the past two years since the highway investigation, I believe that in the last two years are infinitely superior in all respects to those constructed before. And the cost has been less, simply because someone was watching."

JOHNSTON LOSES NEW TRIAL PLEA

Judge James W. Porter today had denied "in all respects" a motion for new trial for Duncan McJ. Johnston and, as announced at the time the motion was filed in district court here, defense attorneys this afternoon made plans for an appeal to the Idaho supreme court. The appeal, it was announced, will be made as soon as possible but not before a transcript of the case, as heard in district court, is completed by the court reporter. Johnston, convicted of slaying George L. Olson, Salt Lake City jewelry salesman, is now in the state prison where he is serving the rest of his life at hard labor. Findings Evidence Sufficient In ruling on the motion immediately after arguments for and against the granting, an given by defense and prosecution counsel, Judge Porter expressed the opinion that the evidence was sufficient to support the verdict and added that it was of such character that the court would not be justified to change the finding of the jury. During the arguments the defense had maintained that questioning of Johnston by Lt. Verne McCullough, Salt Lake City lawyer who assisted the prosecution, was out of order and that it was pressed merely to sway the jury and to mislead jurors. Regarding his argument, Judge Porter said: "The state permits cross examination on matters testified to in direct examination or matters tending to explain or be connected with matters testified to on direct examination. "Council on either side cannot know exactly where the court is going to draw the line. The real point here is were these questions deliberately asked for the purpose of prejudicing the jury and are they of a prejudicial nature themselves. Directly Connected "The court has reviewed each one of these questions and each attempted to gain information directly connected with this case. The only objection was on Page 2, Column 3."

Skating Star Defendant in $100,000 Suit

CHICAGO, Dec. 31 (UP)—Saula Heale, Norwegian skating star, was sued for $100,000 today by a Chicago attorney who was beaten Thursday night when he attempted to serve her with a summons in a $300,000 plagiarism suit. Alvin H. Katz filed the suit in Cook county superior court against the blond skater and Arthur M. Witz, vice-president of the Chicago stadium, where Miss Heale has been presenting an ice carnival. In his complaint, Katz said he had gone to Miss Heale's hotel with a U. S. marshal Dec. 20 to serve a federal court order naming Miss Heale co-defendant with 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. in the suit. The attorney complained Miss Heale "through her agent ordered certain luxury hoodlums unknown to the plaintiff to throw him out of the hotel."

Man, Accused of Coal Theft, Has $1,100 in Wallet

To say the least, police were "flabbergasted" when they searched a prisoner at the city jail last night for a connection with an alleged theft of coal. In his wallet police found $1,100 in negotiable securities. The security certificates of deposit in postal savings. They showed that the first deposit made by the man was $1 and that less than a month later he had put in another $1,000. Police said the man has a tent in the Rock creek area. He was driving an old model machine. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Elaine Armstrong, Pocatello, and Miss Nina Jean Huntman, Oakley, and two brothers, Owen Huntman, Watsonville, Calif., and Max Huntman, Ely, Nev.

BOISE, Dec. 31 (UP)—The Idaho pardon board today was in recess until Oct. 4 after getting to continue until the next session of the board. The board also continued cases involving Idaho bootleggers, Twin Falls police allege; Mrs. Mary Curran, Missola county, second degree murder; and Henry Hinkley, Nez Perce county, manslaughter. The board next session will have a new presiding member, Charles C. A. Bottolfsen, secretary of State-st. George Curtis and Atty. Gen. J. W. Taylor.

Griffin, 45, secretary of Alaska and Alaska governor during the absence of Gov. John W. Troy, died of a heart attack last night while flying to the state to deliver a guest book address at a community gathering. Other committees also have expanded their facilities. Early in 1939 the Twin Falls and Twin Falls high school basketball teams won co-championship at the south central Idaho 4 tournament. Glenn Perry won the Class B crown with Hotley as runner-up. 1938 PASSES IN REVIEW FOR TWIN FALLS

It's history now, the parade of 1938. But today the editors of the Idaho Evening Times offer you, on the threshold of a new year, a glance backward over a variety of news crammed with a 12-month period from Twin Falls and southern Idaho. In the files of the Times Old 1938 lies the record for Twin Falls. Across the pages upon which are written the local events of the past year, the editors found outstanding highlights which constitute the highlights. National and world news is printed elsewhere in today's edition and carried in the Times. From present scene of the Twin Falls high spots you'll want to remember. From the thousands of stories printed on the pages of your Evening Times, 1938 passes in review. SENATIONAL. The arrest of Duncan McJ. Johnston, ex-mayor and Twin Falls Jeweler, charged with the slaying of George L. Olson, Salt Lake City jewelry salesman, shocked the state. For the better part of six months this story blazed across the front pages of all Idaho daily papers. Readers followed each word of the drama of this case from the moment of Olson's slaying on May 24, when the body of Olson was found stuffed into the back seat of his car parked near the side entrance of the Park hotel, to Dec. 14, when Johnston was sentenced to spend the rest of his natural life in Idaho state prison at hard labor. It was sensational. Johnston was found guilty of murder Dec. 20 to serve a life term. Today the fight to release him from prison was completed. John W. Porter, who sentenced him, refused the offer to grant a new trial and the case now hangs toward the state supreme court. Johnston pleaded not guilty to the charge. The complaint charging him with murder was signed by the chief of Police Howard Christie on June 2. Two preliminaries followed before the case entered the district court. Another spectacular event abating out in Twin Falls memory was the fire that gutted the top stories of the old Bickel school. Firemen battled several hours to check the flames; a crowd of thousands watched the battle. AVIATION Under aviation four things about during the year. First is the purchase from which was developed the Twin Falls municipal airport. The land, located on the Salmon tract, was formerly held open as an airport on the basis of a year-to-year lease. Purchase price was $4,400, or $10 an acre. Second comes the first aerial flight plant ever to be held in the United States. The plant was at Bull and approximately 300 flying hours were dumped into Clear Lake from 100 to 200 feet. All survived. The plant was arranged by the Frontier club and the flight was through the air from a plane piloted by Lionel A. Dean. Third is the construction of a second hangar at the local field and fourth is the state of an airport that will be developed on the Twin Falls municipal airport. The land, located

By H. O. THOMPSON
TOKYO, Dec. 31.—The United States today rejected Japan's program for a Japanese-dictated "new order" in China and at the same time offered to join in an international conference to discuss China's future.

other yields good. Although the Idaho bean yields are poor the crop in this area was generally high. Cash returns from the crops, however, showed a drop from 1937 as low prices prevailed on beans and potatoes. Growers of contract beans made a good return; but producers, although their base payment was maintained, were still losers in this area with expectation that subsequent payments would bring the total up to that of 1937. Farm price forecasts from the University of Idaho's experts indicate a somewhat more cheerful picture for 1939.

IMPROVEMENT

CAMPAIGN OPENS TO ADD FLAX TO SOUTH IDAHO CROPS

CASH YIELD FOR FARMERS SHOWN AT BURLEY MEET

Campaign to add another cash crop to south central Idaho is being vigorously underway today after 120 ranchers of the area had jammed Burley's courtroom yesterday to consider recommendations in favor of growing flax.

Substantial cash returns, a hardy seed stock resistant to rust and mildew, and no more labor than is involved in wheat production were held up as the lures urging south Idahoans to plant trial plots "to see for themselves."

Former Carey Woman Passes in California

CAREY, Dec. 31 (Special)—Emma Britton, former resident of Carey, died in California Christmas day, according to word received here by relatives.

Survivors include four children, Everett, Quincy, Carey, and Viola; Myrtle and Earl all of California; and her brother, Everett Dix, Carey, Interment was in California.

It is the desire of the sponsors of this program to try small acreages here as trial plots.

Facts about the flax crop, as outlined by Jackson:

It is a 90 to 100 day crop. It follows alfalfa, clover, beans, peas and spuds "very well." It is "not so desirable" to have it follow grain because of weed control; better to follow cultivated crop. Plant in March and harvest about middle of July. General yield is about half as much as wheat; the straw can be fed but is not too good a feed, especially for broad animals. No harder on ground than spring wheat. Plant with ordinary grain planter; harvest with grain binder or combine.

Government bulletins recommend 45 to 50 pounds per acre for planting. Local experience, Jackson said, indicates it is better to use from 50 to 60 pounds for the reason that there is a heavier stand, better shade for alfalfa or clover seeding and better control over weeds.

Good Prices

Jackson cited actual crop prices that impressed the capacity through with the fact that wheat would have to sell at 70 cents a bushel to equal the revenue from flax on today's prices.

"The present price of flax is $1.84 per bushel at Portland," he said. "Freight is 23 cents per 56-pound bushel, bought on state weights and inspection. The domestic price practically assured never to be less than $1.70 per bushel. There is a duty of 65 cents on imported flax to protect U. S. growers.

Good Prices

Some will list about five cents a pound laid down. Companies in Portland expect to contract the seed at the market price at the time the grower wishes to sell, but it's not necessary to contract at all. There will likely be a three months free storage at Portland if the grower wishes to ship at harvest time and sell later.

Plan on Agent

Jackson, field man sponsored by Archer-Daniels-Midland company and Empire Oil and Fuel Products company, Portland, said that a local agent will take care of distribution of seed, and will help in the growing and harvesting season.

He explained that the U. S. is an importing nation as regards flax, and imports about three-fourths of all flax used in the nation. Annual imports are from 20 to 24 million bushels, largely from the Argentine with a few imports from China and Canada, Russia, Lithuania and Poland are large producers but their output is mostly consumed in Europe.

See Profit Here

"Any increase in U. S. planting," Jackson said, "must come from the three states in the Pacific northwest. The Columbia river basin area is not adaptable to flax production, but the remainder of the region is well suited.

"I am certain that south central Idaho can grow flax profitably, and

In HOLLYWOOD Today

By United Press

Everything but standing room was gleefully sold out for New Year's eve celebration in the film colony's famous night spots. Prices ranged from $1 a couple at Slapstick Maxie Rosenbloom's, to $15.00 at the swank Coconut Grove in the Ambassador hotel. Earl Carroll charged a moderate $12.50 at his new $500,000 super-cathedral theater with its turn-of-the-century stages and 76 girls. The Trocadero reopened with a $10 price.

Much of the New Year's eve nightery business was coming from out-of-towners, here for the Rose bowl football game. Many of these will be disappointed at having paid fancy sums in hopes of dining and dancing among the film stars. The Hollywood stars, for the most part, will be passing the week-end quietly, as usual, holding parties in their homes or going out-of-town to some resort to avoid the crowds.

George Brent, movie actor, who arrived on the coast from Honolulu aboard the Mastonia, sailed right back again on the same vessel. He is on a sea-going vacation.

Edna May Oliver, who found riches weren't what they were cracked up to be, has offered her handsome wife, Rose, for sale at a bargain. She can't be happy in it. What she wants is a small bedroom where she can feel at home.

Gleim Cameron, 26, movie bit actor, killed himself with a shotgun blast, police said, because of a blighted romance with a cabaret dancer.

Robert Cummings, film actor, who lost his walled white Christmas shopping had it back, via the mails, minus only $15 of the $100 cash it contained, and with $1,000 in checks intact.

HARTSHORN WILL DIRECT BENEFIT

JEROME, Dec. 31 (Special)—Postmaster A. H. Hartshorn has been appointed county chairman of the President's Birthday Club. His appointment was received directly from Keith Morgan, national chairman of the committee for the celebration of the President's birthday.

The Lions club was named by Hartshorn to sponsor the dance in Jerome and cursey Paine, Hazelton newspapermen, was named to make arrangements in the east section of the county. Glen Bates' Nighthawks have been engaged for the Jerome ball on Jan. 30. It was announced.

The President's balls are annual events in the communities throughout the United States in an international fight against infantile paralysis.

GRANGES DEBATE $5-CAR LICENSE

GOODING, Dec. 31 (Special)—The long scheduled and anxiously awaited debate between the Gooding and the Hagerman Grange was held Wednesday in the district court room with about 100 persons in attendance.

The question: "Resolved, that no law should be passed by the legislature and signed by the governor providing for a flat tax of $5 or in any other amount, to be assessed against all cars," was upheld in the affirmative by Hagerman, the challenger. Gooding defended the negative.

On the Hagerman debate squad were William Glauner, Ervin Condit and Elias Mariner. Warren Thornton, author of the bill, Miss Lois Brown and Mrs. William Bryan debated for Gooding.

There were no judges for the debate. W. E. Palmer from Blakes acted as timekeeper and William Bryan was chairman.

Man, 28, Sentenced On Morals Charge

Pleading guilty to a charge of indecent exposure, Leiden Cato, 28, who resides near Hansen, yesterday was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail as he appeared before Justice of the Peace Guy T. Swape.

Cato was arrested by local police after several complaints had been received that a man was attempting to entice young girls into his automobile. The girls ranged in ages from 10 to 12 years. The man was arrested Thursday and started serving sentence yesterday. He was held in the city jail Thursday night.

POT SHOTS WITH The Gentleman in the Third Row

New Year's Resolutions It is a queer habit, when you stop to think about it—this thing of casting up our accounts at the end of each year and making high resolves to do better in the year which is to come.

But with all its queerness it is a pretty good sort of habit; for the human animal is a confirmed backslider, and unless he reminds himself of his ideals every so often, and sets himself to make a new drive for them, he isn't likely to get very close to them.

We are pretty hopelessly earthbound, but we still live by the stars. We are on a puzzling sort of voyage, and much of the time our destined landfall seems to be in a good deal of doubt; and our only recourse then is the traditional recourse of the mariner—to look at the stars, remind ourselves of our charted course, and be guided accordingly.

If man is, as we like to believe, a perfect creature, the perfectibility assuredly begins at home; and this New Year's custom of casting out old failings and pledging allegiance to better modes of conduct is a good way to begin working for it.

Whatever friend or foe of the New Deal may say for or against, there would seem to be one point upon which accord is easy: The government at Washington isn't bothered much by inhibitions.

Uninhibited That's pretty healthy behavior. Mr. Hopkins as WPA czar worked zealously at the task of providing for the unemployed, incurred considerable wrath from private enterprise. But that doesn't seem to cramp his style in his new job.

Representative Dies doesn't want any "Corcorans or Cohens inserting the stiletto from the rear." That Corcoran guy probably would use a shillalah.

Lavish Preparations Made to Observe Arrival of New Year

The biggest night of the year, from the standpoint of celebration, is practically here, and if any one in Twin Falls doesn't participate in the festivities of this New Year's eve, he's just anti-social. Ballrooms, theaters, hotels and coffee shops will be hilariously high spots, and the smaller watch night parties in private homes are beyond counting.

There will be reverence as well as revelry. At the Immanuel Lutheran church the congregation will assemble this evening at 8 o'clock for the devotional services closing the year. Rev. M. H. Zagel will deliver the sermon on "God's Abiding Presence," and there will be special music.

Other churches of the city will conduct special services tomorrow, New Year's day, dispensing with the watch party services since the eve of the new year falls on Saturday.

From the witching hour of midnight, and for several hours before, until the last "Auld Lang Syne" has been sung, and all the scrambled eggs and little porkers have been consumed at mid-morning breakfasts tomorrow, Twin Falls and vicinity will salute the New Year with a fanfare of elaborate entertainment which has been excelled since 1929.

Cafes, coffee shops and restaurants are making preparations to simplify their work and menus as they serve the early-morning patrons, following the numerous dances and parties.

Big Elks Dance
Center of interest for Elks, their wives and partners, will be the New Year's eve dance, a semi-formal affair, from 10:30 until dawn at the Elks ballroom.

Among the larger and more elaborate celebrations of the evening, will be the no-host dinner dance at the Park hotel, arranged by 80 Twin Falls residents who desire to have observed New Year's eve in similar fashion. The entire party will join the dancers at the Elks later in the evening.

At the Rogerson hotel, Claude Gorden has made reservations in the private dining room for a New Year's eve dinner for 12 guests, beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Sibley Frazier party house will be the scene of a New Year's eve dinner for 10 this evening, with Mrs. Ella White presiding as hostess. Later she will entertain her guests at her home.

Radio Power auditorium, ever-popular spot for private parties, has been engaged for the evening by members of the Leitch-Hand club, who will entertain their husbands at a watch night party and box supper.

Special Shows
Special New Year's eve celebrations are being staged at two local theaters, the doors to be opened at 11 o'clock, and 1939 to be greeted with noise-makers and serpentine at the stroke of 12, the favors to be distributed by the management.

Dance devotees will assemble at Radlond and the Odd Fellows hall, Twin Falls, and the Ringling Club ballroom, Kimberly, for several hours of New Year festivity. The orchestra will continue to play until 3 o'clock tomorrow morning at Radlond, although the dance begins at 9 o'clock. Favors will be distributed.

Twin Falls contingent to Sun Valley is unusually large this weekend, numerous local residents having made reservations at the Inns and hotels. Still other Twin Falls couples are opening their resort homes in the Ketchikan vicinity to house parties for the week-end.

Many to Boise
Boise is attracting more than the usual number of Twin Falls residents in that city this week-end because of the state legislature. Many of those who will be present at the new governor's reception Monday in the rotunda of the capitol, and the inaugural ball following at the Elks club, have already gone to the capital city, and will attend New Year's eve celebrations there.

The camaraderie of the New Year was anticipated in advance by several groups, and many pre-New Year dances were held last night, including the annual holiday dance of the Twin Falls-Jerome division of the Idaho Power company; the Woodmen of the World, dance and strill; the North Carolinians' winter festival, and the M-Men and Gleaner Girls' annual dinner dance.

Mount Helmer's glacial system greatly exceeds that of any other peak in the United States. Twenty-eight rivers of ice creep down its sides throughout the year.

Contributing to the gaiety of the holiday dance at which the Idaho power company staff and their guests from Twin Falls and Jerome were entertained at the Elks ballroom, was the demonstration of the Lambeth Walk, afterward taught to a number of guests.

The students of Marie Dunn Heim demonstrating the Walk were Miss Virginia Taber and Wayne Stokes, Miss Ethel McCleary and Eddie Westlund, Miss Leonore Stewart and Glen Boren, Miss LaDean Stokes and Gordon Gardner, Miss Peggy Cavanaugh and Frankie Lawrence; Miss Elizabeth Nichols and Dudley Driscoll, and Miss Priscilla Peck and Warren Wiley.

Music was by Chuck Helm and his Continentals. Refreshments were served.

Miss McAtee, who has been spending the holidays with her parents, will return Monday to Ogden.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Beamer, Filer, were hosts at a smartly appointed dinner Thursday evening for a group of Twin Falls friends.

Stewart-Willis Rites Performed

GOODING, Dec. 31 (Special)—In a single ring ceremony performed at one minute past midnight Christmas eve, the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Willis, Glenn Ferry, became the bride of Cecil Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart, Gooding.

Frank Beatty led the performance of the ceremony at the Baptist parsonage in the presence of a few close friends. Miss Lillian Willis, sister of the bride, and Francis Marlett, attended the couple.

The bride chose for her wedding ensemble, a wine wool suit trimmed with Persian lamb and wore black accessories.

Other guests at the wedding were Miss Allen Stewart, sister of the groom, Cleland Johnston and Miss Mary Ruth Berger.

Immediately after the ceremony, the young couple left for a short honeymoon trip. They will be at home in their apartment at the Lenker building after Monday, Jan. 2.

BLANDFORD NAMED PRESIDENT OF BETAS

J. H. Blandford was elected president of the Beta Alumni association last evening at the Rogerson hotel. The election followed a banquet attended by 25 Twin Falls, Buhl and Rupert members and pledges of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Wellington Pierce was elected secretary, and Thomas Bucklin, treasurer. Honored guests were Armour Anderson, Ed Bennett, Leonard Johnson, Richard Reynolds and Robert Sutcliffe, pledges of the University of Idaho chapter.

Frank Beatty led the singing of college and fraternity songs. Pink and blue flowers and matching tapers, reflecting the fraternity colors, formed the table trim.
