Idaho Lawmakers Commence Labor; Bills Introduced

Idaho Lawmakers Commence Labor; Bills Introduced

BOISE, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Idaho's 25th legislature whipped into action today with the introduction of three major pieces of legislation in the house, one in the senate, and the opening of a legislative investigation.

The house bills, backed by administration support, would provide coordination of the state public assistance laws with federal statutes, a moratorium and repayment plan for delinquent taxpayers and a provision to meet expenses of the session.

Tom Heath, president pro tem of the senate, introduced a bill to create a department of public welfare, defining its powers and consolidating the departments of public welfare and public assistance.

Both bodies passed a resolution authorizing a joint committee to investigate the state school and county atampa. The house appointed P. M. Blittie, H. P. Beckman and Hyrum S. Lewis to the committee.

Five-Man Board

The bill creating a public welfare department provided it should be presided over by a five-man, non-partisan board, appointed by the governor. The board then would appoint a commissioner of public welfare and the department would be broken into two divisions, public health and public assistance.

The house tax moratorium bill would be pushed through both houses before next Monday. Since delinquent taxes for 1932, 1933, 1934 and 1935 will go to tax deed then, the bill would provide for a temporary moratorium. Republican leaders drafted a bill that would suspend payment of delinquent taxes over a five-year period and reduce interest plus penalty rates on delinquent taxes from 12 to eight per cent.

3 Per Cent Discount

Under terms of the bill, all those with their taxes in full and promptly on schedule, after 1940, would be given a three per cent discount. The bill would enable delinquent taxpayers to pay first half taxes for 1932 along with the last half of 1933 taxes and the last half of 1933 along with the first half of 1934, and so on until the arrearage was cleaned up.

Meanwhile, a bill to provide for a $5 automobile license fee was expected momentarily.

Fleet Sails For Start of War Games

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Jan. 4 (U.P.)—The fleet sailed today for elaborate war games designed, it was believed, to test its ability to defend the western hemisphere.

Operations will be in the Caribbean, where the "black fleet" will protect the Panama canal against the "white fleet." Then will come off the Atlantic coast, the protection of the north Atlantic shores from attack late in February.

At the end of the first week, the greatest mass, fleet in naval record, 531 long-range patrol bombers will fly non-stop from Diego to Panama.

While the Atlantic exercises are in progress, 60 vessels and 200 warships will engage in fleet battle in the California-Hawaii-Alaska triangle of the Pacific.

Six days and nights of battle practice will be carried out by 140 warships and submarines en route to Panama. Sailing from San Diego and San Pedro, the fleet will hold a rendezvous off San Clemente Island before dawn. Secret, radio sailing orders had crackled from the fleet's headquarters and the ships sailed with doused lights.

TORNADO KILLS MONTGOMERY, ID.

Two persons were killed by a tornado which caused several thousand dollars damage to the little Grant parish town last night.

Times Offers New Health Series to Help South Idahoans Fight Ailments

Because health—in terms of a healthy body—is the most important factor in the life of every citizen, the Idaho Times today offers another health feature to its list of special offerings.

The new feature will be the first release in a weekly series of health articles designed especially for Idaho. The author is Dr. Alan J. Hart, Boise, consultant for the Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis Association and the state division of public health.

Dr. Hart, who has published three health articles in the Times, said, "To inform the people of this state of some things they ought to know about their own health conditions."

First release will deal with an Idaho problem that has not confined to this or any other one state.

Topics of following releases will be the first (for months of 1939) will be influenza, pneumonia, smallpox,

Warns Nations CONGRESS OPENS STUDY OF NAVAL PACIFIC DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Congress began today a study of recommendations for extension of United States naval defenses designed to build up territorial aspirations of Japan in the Pacific and to forestall possible European encroachment upon the western hemisphere.

A five-man naval board, headed by Rear Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, member of the navy's general board, reported to congress that funds are needed for establishment of new fleet facilities in the Caribbean, Alaska and for western Pacific areas.

Urges Defense Improvements

The board declared American security and territorial integrity might eventually depend upon greater air, surface and under-sea strength in Alaska, Hawaii and farther west toward Japan in the Pacific and of Guam in the Pacific and of Alaska in the Caribbean and Atlantic coast sections, regarded as the first step in President Roosevelt's program for a "continental defense system."

Officials indicated the United States has definite information Japan "will develop" any program to increase defenses in the western Pacific and likely will "realize" with efforts to strengthen her own position, particularly near Alaska.

Relations Strained

United States-Japanese relations already have been strained by a series of sharply worded notes protesting Japanese activities in China.

Officials said, "It would be extremely difficult" for the United States to defend Alaska under present conditions against a nearby major power, such as Japan.

The proposed program, it was said, also required for protection of a large section of the Pacific north-west.

6 HELD FOR QUIZ IN BUHL ROBBERY

Six local residents, two of them women, were arrested today on suspicion of having committed a robbery in connection with the burglary Monday night at the Buhl clothing store.

The six were arrested last night and early this morning by members of the Twin Falls police force.

Those arrested were:

Mrs. W. P. (Ethel) M. Jones, Mrs. Gordon Lucas, John Borch, Gordon Lucas, Harry Borch and Jess Merion. The first four named are being held in the county jail while the latter two are at the city jail.

Converted Probe

City police, members of the sheriff's office and "Kluge" officers.

Lindsey, Buhl, had been together in trading clothes after the Buhl burglary.

Chief of Police Howard Gillette said that Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Lucas, Borch and Merion were arrested at 12:35 a. m. today while seated in a car located in the South Park section of the city. In the car, at the time of their arrest, was asserted to be a majority of the stolen goods. Many articles of clothing were in a trunk while several overcoats were found on the seat.

The six were identified as having been in the Buhl store at the time of the robbery, and Mrs. Ethel M. Jones, who operates a women's apparel shop in the New York store.

At the time of his arrest about 11 p. m. yesterday in a local cafe, Lindsey, according to Gillette, was wearing a jacket which was identified as one stolen from Buhl. Merion, arrested at about the same hour in a local beer parlor, was said to have in his possession a lady's nightgown and also several pairs of men's shoes.

The six were identified by the two Buhl robbers.

The Buhl store was entered some time before 11 p. m. the night of the robbery. The store was discovered by Hal Cunningham when he went into the store after finding a car parked outside.

The six were valued at approximately $400.

NEW BOARD FOR PARDONS MEETS

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—The new pardon board met for the first time today, terminated Chairman's resignation granted by former Gov. Harold Clark to the position, and adjourned at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Atty.-Gen. J. W. Taylor urged the board to clean up the case-file pending "in a light season if necessary, to relieve the pressure." Visitors in behalf of prisoners have crowded the halls and the first session of the statehouse intermittently for weeks.

NEW STORM FOR COAST PREDICTED

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 4 (U.P.)—A fresh winter storm, centered 600 miles off the mouth of the Columbia river, moved inland today, due in strike about midnight, and battered north Pacific coastline, and almost certain to lead to death and destruction, wreaked by gales and floods the last four and a half days.

This far, four lives have been lost. Property damage has swelled into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Beach resorts and towns along the Oregon and Washington coast are in a state of alarm.

The U. S. weather bureau in Portland, ordering wide scale warnings issued from the California line to the Columbia river, said the new storm was a "monumental disturbance." Barometers were falling fast. The bureau said it was "a blow of from 25 to 35 miles an hour."

Insurance Executive Sentenced to Prison

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—James C. Hays, 49, former president of the American Insurance company of North America, today was sentenced to 10 years in prison for conspiracy to defraud the company.

Judge Charles C. Holt, Jr., imposed sentence yesterday on Hays, who was charged with having directed $200,000 from his company to his own use.

Economic Sanctions Face Dictators, Says President

The Big Show's On

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt today threatened reprisals stronger than "moral words" against aggressor nations whose ambitions and brute force confront democracies with a "deadline of danger."

He gave an unmistakable indication that those reprisals might take the form of economic sanctions.

There is danger from within and without, he said in his annual message to congress, personally delivered. He called upon congress to arm the nation militarily and socially to survive and promised more detailed national defense proposals Friday.

He announced the government would continue to spend—prime and pump—and in the face of that statement the assembled congressmen cheered and whooped for economy. That incident was the spark of a flaming controversy which promises to crackle through this session.

His message, delivered in the house chamber before a joint session of congress, was a vigorous, brilliant challenge to dictatorship. He said America rejects the dictatorial order of things which has challenged three indispensable American institutions—religion, democracy—international good faith.

"We rightly decline to intervene with arms," he said, "to prevent acts of aggression."

But then he said there were ways short of war and more effective than mere words in "bringing home to aggressor governments the aggregate sentiments of our own people." It was those words that carried the threat of sanctions.

HIGHLIGHTS OF FDR SPEECH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Highlights of President Roosevelt's message to congress:

A war which threatened to envelop the world in flames has been averted, but it has become increasingly clear that peace is not assured. All about us are charged with aggression—military and economic.

Storms from abroad directly challenge three institutions indispensable to Americans now—religion, democracy and international good faith.

The first is religion. It is the source of the other two—democracy and international good faith.

The world has grown so small and weapons of attack so swift that no nation can be safe in its will to peace so long as any other state powerful nation refuses to settle its grievances at the conference table.

We stand on our historic offer to take counsel with all other nations. To the end that aggression among them be terminated, that the race of armaments cease and commerce be renewed.

If any government bristles with implements of war insulate on policies of force, weapons of defense are the only safety.

Survival cannot be guaranteed by arming after the attack begins and by the new rage and speed of offense.

There are many methods short of war of bringing home to aggressor governments the aggregate sentiments of our own people.

When we deliberately try to legitimize aggression, our neutrality laws may operate ineffectively and unfairly. We may actually aid an aggressor.

"Adequate defense" (means) armed forces and defenses strong enough to ward off sudden attack against strategic positions and key facilities.

Time is of paramount importance. The deadline of danger from within and without is not within our control. The danger is not within our control. The danger is not within our control. The danger is not within our control.

Our nation's program of social and economic reform is... a part of our defense against aggression.

We are a new and tougher nation than we were in 1929, or 1932.

If another form of government can present a united front in the attack on a democracy, the attack must be met by a united democracy.

2 Beet Plants End Run; Shutdown Here Jan. 10

Two of three major beet factories of the Ammanahm sugar company located in the Twin Falls area had closed today marking the end of a successful pioneering run.

Fact that the factories had ended work was announced by Harry Elcock, Idaho manager of the company with headquarters at the Twin Falls plant.

The Elcock factory closed at 2:30 p. m. yesterday, marking a run of 90 days. During that time, Elcock said, there had been 100,000 tons of beets processed.

Beets of the Rupert plant came at 8:30 p. m. last night, 85 days after the start of operations. Total number of tons of beets processed during the run was 130,000.

The Twin Falls plant, Elcock announced, will cease operations for the season on Tuesday, Jan. 10. By that time more than 125,000 tons of sugar beets will have been processed and the run will have continued 91 days.

Records of the Ammanahm company show that the campaigns at the Twin Falls and Rupert plants were the second longest in the history of the factories while the campaign at Rupert set an all-time record. These records were set both as to the length of time the factories operated and also the number of tons of beets processed.

Oddities from Here And There

DIGNITY

CHICAGO, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Count dignity was maintained when George (Bugs) Moran, former Chicago beer baron, went on trial today for the slaying of James P. Fawcett, a defunct politician, and was referred to as "Mr. Moran" not "Bugs."

INVITATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Chairman Martin Dies of the house committee on un-American activities, was invited to a mock house resolution to arrange for the "hotties" and Communists to meet each other in deadly encounter on the road to Mandalay. Circulated by Rep. Kent E. Hoyer, D. Ill., the resolution also called for a $50 appropriation to enable Dies to produce a "novel" on highly colored film "the better to show the gore, if any, that may be applied in dead encounter."

ANNOUNCES PLAN TO CONTINUE HIS "PUMP PRIMING"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt today announced the government would continue to spend—prime and pump—and in the face of that statement the assembled congressmen cheered and whooped for economy. That incident was the spark of a flaming controversy which promises to crackle through this session.

His message, delivered in the house chamber before a joint session of congress, was a vigorous, brilliant challenge to dictatorship. He said America rejects the dictatorial order of things which has challenged three indispensable American institutions—religion, democracy—international good faith.

"We rightly decline to intervene with arms," he said, "to prevent acts of aggression."

But then he said there were ways short of war and more effective than mere words in "bringing home to aggressor governments the aggregate sentiments of our own people." It was those words that carried the threat of sanctions.

Gallery Filled

Jan-packed galleries looked down on the crowded house chamber. Mr. Roosevelt got an ovation when he appeared and was stopped from time to time during his address by cheers of the first session of the 75th congress.

At the President described the alternatives of spending to bring property or cutting federal expenditures drastically to balance the budget there was a "burst into a whooping tumult—in favor of economy." It was largely Republican noise.

Mr. Roosevelt hardened his voice and took the other side of the argument with an abrupt warning to congress that to economize now to balance the budget would be to "invite disaster." He said it would be the responsibility of congress to dare such a program.

Delivered in Person

Mr. Roosevelt delivered his message in person before a joint session of house and senate in the former's chamber on the second day of the first session of the 75th congress.

He spoke not to congress alone but to the federal, state and local. His words were broadcast in Europe and Latin America as he uttered them.

PRESIDENT LISTS 'MUST' CHANGES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt in his message to congress today, said to put the United States' house in order, it would be necessary:

For businessmen more widely to support the federal income tax.

For the world and technological conditions upon our economy in the past 20 years.

To perfect the farm program to protect farmers' income and consumer purchasing power.

To establish a whole-hearted acceptance "of new standards of honesty in our financial markets."

To secure economic and social stability in the railroad and general transportation field.

To re-examine labor relationships between federal, state and local units of government and consider "relatively small tax increases."

To perfect labor organization and obtain universal understanding of the rights of employers toward the labor movement.

HAIRDO

LONDON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—The Daily Express and the Daily Mirror today displayed large New Year's day photographs of the duke and duchess of Windsor at the Ritz in London.

The duke, in white tuxedo, paid attention was paid to his "new" hairdo. The duchess, in a "new" hairdo, was also paid attention.

The duke's "new" hairdo was a "new" hairdo. The duchess's "new" hairdo was a "new" hairdo.

Community to Participate in Hobby Event

Arrangements for a community-wide project, a hobby show, were made when the Girl Reserves outlined spring activities yesterday afternoon at the high school, with Miss Josephine Throckmorton, adviser, and Mrs. Helen Henderson, V. W. C. A. district secretary, in attendance.

The date was tentatively set for Jan. 28 and 29, the place to be announced later. In addition to exhibits that can be displayed, proposals for descriptions of other hobbies are being planned for both afternoon and evening.

A letter offering will be taken and refreshments will be sold by the members of the two clubs, J. O. V. and Blue Triangle.

To Name Committees
Miss Josephine Throckmorton, president of the Blue Triangle club, presided at the meeting of the two clubs.

Committees to work out details for the event in connection with Miss Throckmorton and Mrs. Henderson will be appointed by the presidents, Miss Slack and Miss Lillian Laubenstein.

For the Feb. 7 meeting a birthday event has been planned. Each member will bring pennies, family her age and candles will be lighted on small cakes. Miss B. Marie Aukerman and Miss Dorothy Call will present talks on the famous birthday of the month.

Valentine Form
Also planned for the month of February by the two Girl Reserve clubs is a formal Valentine ball. The exact date and place will be told later.

Yesterday's entertainment program was built around the theme "The Story in Your Face" and employed an article appearing in the current "American," by Nancy Van Court. Fourteen girls allowed six-hundred profiles to be drawn on large sheets of paper and there were analyzed by the group. Mirrors were used for full face study.

NEW EDUCATION METHODS DISCUSSED
Advanced methods of education which are being effectively carried out in the Twin Falls high school were explained by Mrs. Rose Murray North, guest speaker, at a meeting of the chapter at P. E. O. Sisterhood, last evening.

Mrs. T. C. Bacon was hostess to the chapter at her home on Maple street.

Mrs. North, dean of girls and head of the English department at the high school, stressed particularly the channels through which high school boys and girls are directed toward more successful living.

Mrs. Harry Benoit, president, was asked to preside at the refreshment hour, which was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a noted plant.

Doctor Decries Disinterest in Mental Illness

The superstitious attitude which continues to prevail concerning mental illness, and the tremendous economic loss in the United States because of mental illness, were emphasized by Dr. J. O. Cromwell, medical director of the state hospital at Blackfoot, when he addressed the Twentieth Century club at a luncheon meeting yesterday afternoon at the Park hotel.

More than 50 per cent of all hospital beds in the United States today are occupied by mentally ill patients and for each of the 500,000 mental patients under treatment there are at least four who are being seriously handicapped in social relations, and four mildly handicapped by mental illness, according to Dr. Cromwell.

Conditions at Blackfoot were called "deplorable" by Dr. Cromwell, who used as his authority a report by a member of the national hospital survey committee. He attributed present conditions to general ignorance of what exists and which is needed, a general feeling that attempted cure of the insane is futile, and an "impossible" decrease in expenditures.

Essential to the successful functioning of a state hospital such as Blackfoot, is an enlightened system which would provide scientific treatment, an endeavor to reach early cases, compulsory research work by physicians, tolerance of mentally ill patients, and trained personnel, the selection of institution heads after careful consideration, and the functioning of a state hospital as a center for all state mental health problems, according to Dr. Cromwell.

Mrs. Dean Affleck was chairman of the afternoon's program.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

HISTORIC RANCH CHANGES HANDS

SHOSHONE, Jan. 4 (Special) — A really transfer during the past week proved of interest to a great many residents of this and neighboring counties, in the sale of the well-known Baugh ranch, four miles north of town. The transfer was from Mrs. Maude Baugh Cummins to Dr. H. G. Baugh, brother of the late Dr. W. H. Baugh, who died nearly three years ago.

The property consists of something over 300 acres and is located on the Shoshone-Richfield highway, and is considered one of the most valuable holdings on Wood river, the water-right being one of the earliest priorities, and the river traversing the ranch.

It was owned by Dr. W. H. Baugh since the early days, and was a favorite haunt for sportsmen seeking ducks or pheasants. During the last two years it was tenanted by Walter Quenell. The acquisition of the land supplements holdings of Dr. H. G. Baugh several miles further down the river. The consideration was not divulged.

They Entered Burglar-Proof Mint

Uncle Sam spent many thousands of dollars in special devices to protect the new San Francisco mint and its contents safe from invasion. William Gallagher (left) and Paul Francis, each 15, wanted to "see if it could be done," climbed past a barred window to one partly open, and were inside and out again before discovered.

How Youths 'Raided' U. S. Mint

They said it couldn't be done, but here's the path traveled by two San Francisco youngsters to gain admittance to Uncle Sam's newest mint where millions are stored.

Uncle Si Says...

This spring weather is probably just a flash in the pan—but there's no reason why the farmers can't take advantage of it and get machinery lined up ready for spring work. Probably all of you have some old machinery you would like to trade or replace with new. Try classified. You may be able to trade what you don't want for something that'll just suit you. Even if you can't trade, you can sell it and use the money to buy more.
