IDAHO HOUSE PASSES SPECIAL RELIEF BILL

Final House Action Friday on Federal Relief Act

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (UP)—The house agreed unanimously today to give the $725,000,000 relief bill right of way tomorrow and end general debate at 2 p. m. Friday. This made final action likely late Friday.

By JOHN R. BEAL.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (UP)—A house appropriations sub-committee prepared today to fight President Roosevelt on two relief issues and to attempt to pass by late Friday a $725,000,000 bill for continuing the works progress administration until July 1.

As has been expected, a request for more money for relief precipitated the new session's first duel between congress and the president.

The sub-committee, headed by Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum, D. Va., drew first blood by cutting $150,000 from Mr. Roosevelt's request for $750,000,000 to keep approximately 3,000,000 unemployed at work until the end of the current fiscal year.

It scored a second time by defying his executive order to put 24,000 WPA administrative employees under civil service and providing that no WPA funds be used to pay them.

Usually Accepts Proposals
Although the full appropriations committee, expected to meet today, has authority to reject the sub-committee's recommendations, it usually accepts its proposals. If such is the case, house leaders plan to bring the bill to the floor Thursday and seek a final vote Friday.

Despite the sub-committee's deft, Mr. Roosevelt was quick with a counter thrust. Shortly after the committee's action he was asked at his press conference to comment on the $725,000,000 figure.

He said that the figure was not a final one. He said that the figure was not a final one. He said that the figure was not a final one.

Smuggler Named with Benny; Pleads Guilty

Says 'Not Guilty'

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (UP)—Albert N. Chaperau, confessed smuggler, pleaded guilty today to indictments naming him on smuggling and conspiracy charges with Jack Benny, radio and screen comedian. Sentence was deferred until after Benny's trial which is scheduled for Jan. 24. Chaperau and Benny were accused of transporting and concealing two diamond chips and a diamond bracelet worth $12,121. Chaperau smuggled the gems into the country in the guise of a commercial attaché of the Nicaraguan legation which gave him immunity from search by customs agents. Chaperau was to have gone on today to another indictment which named George Burns, of the radio and screen team of Burns and Allen. Burns has pleaded guilty and expected to testify for the government. The trial was postponed until Friday.

Unlike his fellow comedian Burns, Benny said he was not guilty and he was "utterly amazed" that he should have been accused. They, and Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

Germans Deny that Hitler Has Offered Italy Military Help

By STEWART BROWN
ROME, Jan. 11 (UP)—A denial that Adolf Hitler has promised full support to Benito Mussolini in his drive for concessions from France was made today as Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain arrived in Rome for an official visit. Italian newspapers had tried for weeks to give the impression that Hitler would support any Italian demands.

There was some doubt in diplomatic quarters how far Hitler had gone. The report published abroad today that Hitler had promised Mussolini his full support, including military aid if necessary. This report brought from a German embassy spokesman:

"We haven't promised anything to anybody. It is a pure invention." An Italian spokesman said: "It is untrue. It is only speculation."

To Outline Demands
Mussolini was reported to be preparing to outline his demands on France at his first talk with Chamberlain today. He was said to be confident of his own strength and the test came of the British visit. Inspired newspaper editors warned that Mussolini's mind was not a Communist's and that he would not be a puppet of the British.

Hundreds of British and Italian flags were displayed on buildings. The British and Italian flags were displayed on buildings. The British and Italian flags were displayed on buildings.

Italy expresses her thoughts and intentions without hesitation and with the greatest clarity, and advances straight ahead on the path she has chosen.

At the same time they welcomed Chamberlain and Halifax cordially. They called Chamberlain "the voice of all Britons" and Halifax "a man of good will."

The Popoli di Roma, thinking Chamberlain for his part in the Czechoslovak crisis in September, commented:

"It has been said that Mussolini is the only man who could appeal to Hitler. It must be added that Chamberlain was the only man who could appeal to Mussolini to intervene."

As regards France, the tone of the newspapers was openly threatening.

Mooney Returns to Receive Mighty Welcome

Twenty-two years after he left San Francisco for San Quentin prison, sentenced to die in connection with the 1916 Preparedness day bombing, Tom Mooney made a triumphal return. After his pardon by Governor Olson, Mooney walked up Market street, preceded by a band, and followed by 40,000 laborers. At extreme left is Harry Bridges, CIO leader. The women beside him are Anna (left) and Rena Mooney, Tom's sister and wife.

CROWDS CHEER AS BRITISH LEADER ARRIVES IN ROME

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (UP)—The special train carrying Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Lord Halifax and others, arrived in Rome this afternoon and was met by Premier Mussolini and Count Galeazzo Ciano. As Chamberlain reviewed the Italian guard he was greeted by a heavy black wreath. Great crowds came out to welcome Chamberlain.

As he stepped from the train, Mussolini shook his hand warmly and Count Ciano likewise greeted Lord Halifax. Mussolini wore the Fascist uniform under a heavy black wreath. The party passed through the front entrance of the station, where nearly 1,000 British residents were gathered, shouting:

"Long live Chamberlain! Long live Mussolini!" and the test came of the British visit. Inspired newspaper editors warned that Mussolini's mind was not a Communist's and that he would not be a puppet of the British.

State Senate's Approval Looms On Bott Request

BOISE, Jan. 11 (UP)—A bill appropriating $292,000 to meet the relief emergency, requested by Gov. C. A. Bott, passed the Idaho house of representatives today. The bill went to the senate where it was expected to pass later in the day.

Designed to tide the state over an emergency caused by an adverse state supreme court decision that tied up state and federal funds, the bill was pushed speedily through the legislative mill. The money would be used for relief during January.

The senate also passed another phase of the relief matter by passing a bill for consolidation of the departments of public assistance and public welfare under a five-man, non-partisan board. The vote was 14 to 0.

The measure was key point on Gov. C. A. Bott's "must" program of consolidation. It was designed to remove much of the load of responsibility for relief from the shoulders of the governor.

Single State Agency
The proposal also was constructed to meet with federal demands for creation of a single state agency to handle Idaho relief claims. Sen. Bennett, who introduced the bill, said the bill met with approval of the state security board officials in Washington, D. C.

The public assistance department would be abolished under terms of the bill and its functions taken over by the department of public welfare. The department would be changed into a bureau of public health and a bureau of public assistance.

Members of the state board directing the department would be appointed by the governor for staggered terms of three years each. The bill also would increase the tax levy from 15 to 17 1/2 mills also was passed by the senate.

Referred by Elliott
The rebellious cattle men and sheepmen representing the livestock industry at the caucus were headed by Dr. T. A. Elliott, Boise, former state veterinarian. A spokesman said they represented four cattle organizations of northern Idaho. They asserted they represented individual county organizations throughout the state.

The bill creating a five-man board composed of two range livestock operators, two dairymen and one swine grower, will be drafted by a special committee and presented to the legislature.

The committee included: A. J. Hall, Clatskanie, chairman; Murphy, Emmet, Kootenai; Hill City, Andrew Smith, Idaho City; J. L. Bash, Hill City; C. A. Luther, Gooding.

Refused to Cooperate
The Idaho Cattle and Horse Growers' association has refused to cooperate in the proposal because it does not give the industry a balance of power on the proposed board. The state department of agriculture opposed the plan which would remove vital functions from under its control.

The board would function principally to prevent livestock theft and handle disease problems.

House bills introduced included: a bill to amend Idaho law prohibiting terms of "doctor" or "professor" to be used unless person is qualified to practice medicine, a bill providing for a $25 to $300 fine for persons violating the act; an amendment of a 1922 statute increasing the number of jurors in probate, justice courts and coroners inquests.

The house passed a senate joint resolution calling for a joint committee of four members from each house to study the work of the department of public assistance and report. The committee will be named tonight or tomorrow.

SHEEP BUYER, 50, DISCOVERED DEAD

James Gallagher, about 50, a sheep buyer well known throughout this section of Idaho, was found dead here this morning in his room at the Pettine hotel.

Dr. James W. Greed, county coroner, said death was due to natural causes.

Gallagher, employed by the Swanton Packing company of Sacramento, Calif., visited Twin Falls recently in the interests of his company. His body was found this morning by a maid as she prepared to make up the room. He had evidently dropped dead only a few seconds after he entered the room and shut the door. He was face down on the floor and his head was partly under his hand. He was fully clothed including an overcoat.

The Greed expected the upland the man had been dead for more than 12 hours.

Other buyers, who knew Gallagher, said he collapsed at Laramie, Wyo., and was carried to the hotel by several children. Names of survivors could not be immediately located. Local police advised a coroner's inquest after the body was discovered.

The body was taken to the White Horse hotel where it was held for members of the family who were to be notified through the Sacramento company.

INSURGENTS RUSH REINFORCEMENTS

BUNDAVE, French-Spanish frontier, Jan. 11 (UP)—Thousands of insurgent troops were reported rushing to the Batafren front in southwestern Spain today in an effort to halt what was developing into the largest local offensive of the war.

The insurgents, hoping to end the conflict by taking the Batafren front, claimed they were meeting the insurgents at every turn, and in many cases preventing them from reaching the front.

Official nationalist reports indicated the importance of the Batafren front and told of the great success of their offensive in Spain.

The insurgents reported at least three insurgent divisions had been withdrawn from the Catalan front to bolster insurgent troops in the Batafren front.

Francisco Franco's headquarters reported "not one division" had been taken from the Catalan front to the Batafren front.

Reinforcements were reported on route by airplane from Valencia, D. C., after public health officials advised that the disease was spreading to scores of persons during a 48-hour period.

CONGRESSMEN STUDY REPORT OF U. S. AMBASSADORS

TWO WAYS TEST OF EUROPEAN AIR FORCES' POWER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (UP)—President Roosevelt prepared his special message to Congress on the national defense today while Congressmen debated privately the report of two key diplomats that a general European war before summer was inevitable.

What effect the gloomy prediction of Joseph P. Kennedy and William C. Bullitt, ambassadors to Britain and France, respectively, would have upon congressional action on the President's $2,000,000,000 program was unknown.

Reaction to the almost unprecedented appearance of two ambassadors before a joint session of the house and senate military affairs committees was divided. Several members were not impressed by the speakers' announcements, asserting they had "learned nothing new."

Others, however, including Chairman Andrew May, D., Ky., of the committee, said the ambassadors' reports carried more weight than the usual reports of the state department.

Reasons for Capitulation Kennedy and Bullitt reportedly told the committees that the great air forces of the totalitarian states were a major factor in the capitulation of France and Great Britain.

They were said to have stated that the relative air strength of France and Britain was said to be hopelessly inadequate.

"DONKEY" PROPOSAL REARS HEAD IN IDAHO LEGISLATURE

SENATOR URGES SUBSTITUTE BILL ON JOBS TAKING

By WILLIAM McMENAMIN
BOISE, Jan. 11 (UP)—A new-fangled donkey bill reared its head on the Republican majority side of the senate chamber today as a substitute for one introduced the other day by Sen. Fred Reynolds, D., Camas.

The bill was proposed by Sen. Harry Harn, Clark county publisher and insurance man.

It would provide that beginning with 1941, and thereafter no state legislator could hold an appointive state office for the term for which he was elected.

Holds His Bill Is Fair

Reynolds' bill would prohibit legislators from holding appointive jobs from the time of its passage. Harn holds his bill is fair. Legislative candidates up for election in 1940, said Harn, would go into the election fully realizing they could not possibly secure an appointive job from the governor after the legislative term.

"Reynolds' bill," said Harn, "is retroactive. It isn't just exactly the thing I do propose. A donkey bill which would affect them. If any of the present legislators are expecting jobs during the next two years, one could hardly expect them to vote for the measure."

Harn also proposes the introduction of a constitutional amendment for approval of the legislature and later the voters which would provide for election of county and state officers for four-year terms. Harn said his amendment would divorce national issues from state issues in years of general election.

Flat 35¢ Automobile License Fee

The flat 35¢ automobile license fee proposal was before the legislature in the form of two bills introduced yesterday in the senate.

One provides for reduction of passenger automobile license fees to 35¢. The other would allocate one-half of the five-cent state gasoline tax to the counties for distribution to highway districts.

The gas tax money would be apportioned back to the counties on basis of percentage each county shared during 1938 in fees for licensing all passenger automobiles not primarily used for hire.

It is provided that counties must first use the gas tax money to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on unpaid highway district bonds before any can be used for highway construction and maintenance.

Other Bills

Other bills introduced would provide:

Increase of maximum tax levy for century districts of two mills; give highway districts the right to dissolve without first being indebted; force owners and operators to list their names and addresses on all motor trucks, trailers and automobiles; permit an auctioneer to auction in any county of the state on one license; permit county commissioners to levy for Boy Scout fund; validates agreements made by the state for construction and maintenance of state roads; appropriates $22,500 to the bureau of public health to continue a survey of industrial health hazards.

IDAHO'S MINING OUTPUT DECLINES

BOISE, Jan. 11 (UP)—Idaho metal mines produced approximately $28,742,000 in gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc during 1938, the U. S. bureau of mines estimated today.

The figure was a drop from the $37,600,000 produced in 1937. Silver production decreased 89,829 ounces, copper 204,000 pounds, lead 28,422 pounds, and zinc 21,309,000 pounds.

Gold Shows Increase

Gold production showed an increase of 10,120 ounces to the largest total of any year since 1929. Total value of the five metals in 1938 decreased 24 per cent from 1937.

Most of the decrease in value was in lead, silver, and zinc and resulted from a combination of lower metal prices and curtailed production by the large mines of the Coeur d'Alene region.

Sale Prices Lower

Market prices dropped off with copper declining from 12 1/2 cents in 1937 to 8 1/2 cents in 1938, lead from 5 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents, and zinc from 6 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents. Silver prices dropped to 64 1/2 cents an ounce in 1938 as compared to 77 1/2 cents in 1937; and the price of gold remained at $35 an ounce.

Idaho's gold output was 101,000 fine ounces valued at $3,535,000 in 1938, compared with 81,861 ounces valued at $2,865,125 in 1937.

Extempore Talks Feature Program

PHILIP, Jan. 11 (Special)—Preston University had an interesting program in charge of Mrs. Raymond Thomas at the Grange hall Friday. Two members were initiated into the Grange.

During the lecture hour, Mrs. Thomas distributed five farm safety pamphlets, including "Chicken," "Sugar Beets," "Honey," "Buckwheat," "Young Poultry," and "Potatoes," and had extempore speeches which proved a success.

A stunt between the men and women was played. The men being winners.

A girl called "Getting There" was enjoyed with Mrs. Clifford Thomas, H. Edwards and Myra Edwards being the performers.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Ernest Pock, Mrs. John Lundin and Mrs. Elmer Harding.

Tetons Traded For Himalayas

Paul K. Petzoldt, of Twin Falls, and Jackson Hole, Wyo., is now a resident of India.

Reason: He found mountains that he liked even better than the Tetons, and so he sent for his family and is now an "easterner."

Most intriguing of all the mountains in the world is Petzoldt's Himalayas, hidden in the heart of the Himalayas.

Petzoldt was a member of a mountain climbing party that last year got within 2,000 feet of its summit. A graphic account of that expedition is contained in the New York Times magazine of Nov. 27, 1938, received by Mrs. G. H. Self.

The article is authored by Charles S. Houston, leader of the American Alpine club Karakoram expedition.

MOVEMENT AIMS FOR NEW ORDER

A new national movement, designed to uproot poverty and end depressions as well as war, is gaining momentum in Idaho and in the near future, local study groups will be announced, members here said this afternoon.

For operations in this section the new movement is known as "United World" and is based on the Golden Rule.

Local members announced the main objective of the movement is to "free the world from the power of the money changers, greed, hate and inequalities and to bring to all a plenty of this world's goods produced from the earth."

At a later date, local leaders of the movement announced, study meetings will be arranged and the general public, at that time, will be able to acquaint itself with the movement.

Coogan Property Brings Tenth of Total Valuation

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 11 (UP)—Jackie Coogan, who lost his fortune, his job, and his bride, became the original tough kid today when sale of the furnishings from his love cottage brought perhaps a tenth of their value.

The 22-year-old Coogan, who is suing his mother and step-father for an accounting of the $400,000 he said he earned as "The Kid" of the silent movies and whose bride has left him because he couldn't support her, ordered all furniture sold to the highest bidder.

A guy has got to eat, hasn't he, he said.

When the first session of the sale had ended and perhaps 200 curious people had filed from the curtained Beverly Wilshire art gallery, Auctioneer Benji Coogan, shook his head. He said Jackie might realize hundreds of dollars when he should have received thousands.

The bidders didn't seem much interested in Jackie's two grand pianos, oriental rugs, oil paintings, ornate chandeliers, furniture, toys, miniatures and—gas—jewelry. It—other articles too numerous to mention.

Betty Grable, Jackie's movie actress bride, was home with mother Jackie also was absent as Coogan sought for bids on some of the most luxurious furnishings movie money ever bought.

Mooney Wins His Freedom

Thomas F. Mooney, erstwhile firebrand among class conscious workers of a past generation, is finally a free man, after serving more than 22 years in prison on conviction of murder in connection with the 1916 Preparedness day parade bombing.

It marks the end of a long fight significant in the history of American labor, for ever since the former labor leader was convicted those sympathetic with labor have carried on an unrelenting fight to free Mooney from prison.

One can readily understand the strain under which Governor Culbert L. Olson of California labored in finally arriving at a decision to pardon Mooney—a request which four previous governors of California and two presidents of the United States had refused.

Governor Olson is well aware of the labor difficulties we have experienced in this country during recent years, particularly on the west coast, and of the antagonism that has been aroused throughout the country by new federal legislation affecting the present day relationships between capital and labor.

He knew that those who assisted in the prosecution of Mooney still contend he is guilty. Under all these conditions and the pressure that was being brought to bear, it is not surprising that Governor Olson collapsed from nervous exhaustion after turning Mooney loose.

But whether guilty or innocent, Mooney comes out of prison, saying:

"I shall dedicate the rest of my life to work for the common good in the bond of democracy. Dark and sinister forces of fascist reactionism are threatening the world.

"The present economic system is in a state of decay—not just here, but throughout the world. It will be replaced, and I hope, by a new and better social order.

"To that end I pledge my efforts, and to work for the common good."

That coming from a man once known as a "direct actionist, dynamite, assassin and murderer"—a man who might easily have grown bitter after serving a quarter of a lifetime in prison—is certainly to his credit.

How conscientiously he follows out this pledge will determine in the public mind whether or not Governor Olson has made a mistake.

Mooney's future activities can serve as a real moral.

Secretary Perkins' Report

There is a pleasant surprise and numerous words of commendation in the annual report of Secretary of Labor Perkins. Madame Perkins has not been the most popular individual in the cabinet but she is deserving of applause for her report.

The surprise note is that in 1937, which will be remembered as a year of many strikes, the total of strikes and lockouts was only 8 per cent greater than the total of 1927.

The commendation in madame's own words follows: "We cannot arrive at a perfect way of life overnight, but the signs are clear in American life that intelligent, patriotic and far-sighted employers and informed, forward-looking labor are already building the structure of an American way of labor relations of which we will be proud, because it will be effective, productive and democratic."

That paragraph is something to be repeated and remembered.

Depressions Normal?

At 80, suffragist Carrie Chapman Catt tells Writer Marian Young that she has decided "a depressive state of affairs is normal and that a boom is not."

Mrs. Catt, who saw her long fight to enfranchise women climaxed with the suffrage amendment in 1920, makes this observation not as one who herself is depressed or disillusioned but as one who has watched closely the nation's economic and political workings for 60 years.

"Only four times in my 80 years have I seen what we are pleased to call 'good times,'" says Mrs. Catt. "There have been depressions of one sort and another through all the remaining years."

Certainly no one could with reason accuse Mrs. Catt of resignation to the inevitability of things as they are—her whole fighting career gives the lie to that. So her comment on depressions probably carries a goodly share of mellowed wisdom.

Gracie Fields, England's favorite comedienne, doesn't want to run for Parliament. Probably couldn't stand the competition.

"The Shih of Persia is incensed again because the French word for 'cat' is pronounced like the ruler's title. That ought to make the cats mad too."

If Wally Windsor ever does get a title, it must be admitted that she earned it.

POT SHOTS

WITH
The Gentleman in the Third Row

JUST TO SHOW you what Twin Falls and the rest of our south Idaho are like, the Pot Shots sleuths have borrowed an application letter that wandered in at the center of education in our fair town. The letter came from San Francisco. We reproduce it—although it's a bit long—because we don't think you've seen anything yet when it comes in a gent like himself. Here it is addressed from 1405 O'Farrell St., San Francisco.

"I can solve any problem in any arithmetic by the analytic process. I am an elementary principal and hold a life certificate to teach."

"If you desire to offer me a contract to supervise the subject of arithmetic in your city, I will consider the same."

"I will demonstrate to your superintendent and school board that I have the qualifications I represent herein free of any charge."

"After I demonstrate to your satisfaction these qualifications then I will with a 5 year agreement (1935 note)—Even the superintendent doesn't get that much."

"For a salary of $300 per month I will supervise the teaching of every child in the schools there. I mean individual instruction. I will need an office typewriter and telephone, and stationary."

"If I am employed by your city superintendent and board in one year from the date of my employment Twin Falls, Idaho, will have pupils WHO RANK HIGHER THAN ANY CITY OF THE WORLD IN ARITHMETIC."

(Ed's note: Wow! The caps are out. Ed's note No. 2: Maybe Pot Shots should hire him.)

"I was a pupil in public schools of Marengo, Ind., I never failed to solve any problems assigned. The same was true at Central Normal College, Danville, Va. "I can solve any problem in any arithmetic by the analytic process. I am an elementary principal and hold a life certificate to teach."

"If you desire to offer me a contract to supervise the subject of arithmetic in your city, I will consider the same."

"I will demonstrate to your superintendent and school board that I have the qualifications I represent herein free of any charge."

"After I demonstrate to your satisfaction these qualifications then I will with a 5 year agreement (1935 note)—Even the superintendent doesn't get that much."

"For a salary of $300 per month I will supervise the teaching of every child in the schools there. I mean individual instruction. I will need an office typewriter and telephone, and stationary."

"If I am employed by your city superintendent and board in one year from the date of my employment Twin Falls, Idaho, will have pupils WHO RANK HIGHER THAN ANY CITY OF THE WORLD IN ARITHMETIC."
